Note: I track about 42 college newspapers, but only these 24 had posted anything. It is important to note that while we have had two full weeks of class, some schools either started just this week or will start next week.

On this page I look at the stories posted on other community college online newspaper sites like talonmarks.com. You can see above that we are one of the most prolific college papers in the state. Good job! When I review the pages I look for a variety of stories that I think may mean something to us. Maybe the stories I focus on are stories we are working on or should be working on –giving us ideas and comparisons— or stories or other presentations that are just plain interesting. It will be easy for you to scan this page and learn nothing from it. But if you click on some of the links (which should be live) you may learn more about how other college journalists are covering their communities.

There is not much to cover this week because so few colleges have begun publishing.

Enrollment numbers fall short of target (Citrus) - <http://bit.ly/1PYjQ7C>

(What are Cerritos' enrollment numbers? I know that the headcount is about the same, but that area community colleges seem be down. But are students taking full loads? If you cover this story there are two numbers you want to compare to previous years: head count and full-time equivalent student (FTE). Be sure you ask/understand what FTE is.

Slow Internet plagues campus (El Camino) - <http://bit.ly/1F4VH8M>

We had this problem last school year. See how others are covering it.

Buzz: Were you able to get the classes you needed (Diablo Valley) - <http://bit.ly/1JCATLi>

We asked a similar question of our readers? Did we get responses?

Associated Students seek to enrich student life (Moorpark) - <http://bit.ly/1WYlhaJ>

I will include a number of stories about student governments. How do others cover them compared to us?

A glimpse ahead: RCC football scrimmage hints at troublesome season - (Riverside) - <http://bit.ly/1KT70TD>

I thought the headline was intriguing. Don't be a "homer" in your reporting of sports teams.

'American Ultra' blows smoke (Riverside) - <http://bit.ly/1Eqqr9B>

Loved the headline.

SBCC looks to hire new full-time staff for first time in 10 years (Santa Barbara) - <http://bit.ly/1N1Ktdi>

Wow, that is a lot of years to not be hiring full-time teachers. How many new teachers did Cerritos hire this year? And in what subjects?

Enough with the man bun (Skyline) - <http://bit.ly/1N1KCxj>

Student reports rape at SRJC (Santa Rosa) - <http://bit.ly/1N1LaDm>

Cougar video attracts national attention (Cuesta) - <http://bit.ly/1Jrz4zF>
