

CERRITOS NEWS

CERRITOS JUNIOR COLLEGE CERRITOS COLLEGE LIBRARY
NORWALK, CALIF.

Vol. 1, No. 3

Myer Louis Schwartz - UN 5-5226

February 4, 1957

MADGE COTO

OUR LITTLE MADGE

Your first contact with Cerritos JC, in all probability, was Madge Coto. She's the girl with the smile in her voice who answers questions about registration. Madge, who is the JC office secretary, lives at 11340 Taddy St., Norwalk. Her husband is service manager of the Vernon branch of Gaffers-Sattler.

With Spring registration now in full force, Madge is a dynamo around the office. She's there to assist in making out class schedules, in registering, tallying registrations, filing and, between tasks, serves also as switchboard operator. Quite a job.

Her warmth and gracious charm come naturally. She is an eighth generation native daughter, her family having roots in the California rancho days.

Many registering for junior college classes, she says, are those seeking advancement in their jobs. Algebra, trigonometry, shorthand, typing, are among the courses most avidly sought by this group of registrants.

"I love this job," she says. "Every crazy minute of it."

* * * * *

WANT TO STRETCH YOUR BUDGET?

Businessmen and housewives are flocking to sign up for the Spring semester course in Personal Finance. It's a honey of a course. It is designed to help in budgeting and running the financial end of a household, so you can get a full 38 cents worth of goods and services out of every 1957 dollar you spend.

Douglas Waide, the instructor, is a wizard, we understand. He's organized and operated credit unions, been a consultant on social security, retirement pensions, and income tax problems. He has also been an appraiser for a large savings and loan association.

* * * * *

Hi-Fi enthusiasts are going for the course in Music Appreciation. It covers the gamut from classical to modern music. Instructor Robert La Master is himself a concert violinist.

REMEMBER, SPRING REGISTRATION ENDS FEBRUARY 10.

NEWLY REGISTERED — Gale Swan, of 9029 E. 162 St., and Marilyn Hayes, 16119 Bonfair Ave., Bellflower. Both are enrolled in shorthand and math courses.