

China Aide Blasts Red Aims In Campus Talk

spoke to an overflow crowd on the campus in a special meeting set up by the International Relations Club.

"Peace is not the intended goal of Communism. Krushchev wants to bury us."

These dynamic statements are only two out of many made by Dr. Mong Ping Lee, Counsel General of the Republic of China, in a talk sponsored by the International Relations Club.

American Support

Dr. Lee stressed the importance of the United States' continued support in China. "If the US gives up the fight against Communism it will become a communistic country." He went on further to say that the US must help China fight communism by supporting them and helping them to adopt democratic ways. The Chinese people will always choose freedom rather than slavery, if there is a choice.

Russia is not interested in peace, Lee continued, they use it as a weapon to undermine and divide the united front of the US. "There is no possible chance of peaceful co-existence between Russia and the US."

"Leaving a communist country is like traveling in an airplane—high altitude, broad horizon, sick at stomach—and can't get out." This humorous statement was Dr. Lee's way of illustrating the immense size of Russia's holdings.

Questions Asked

After his brief but powerful talk, Dr. Lee turned the floor over to questions. One asked for an opinion on the cause of the rise of communism in China. Lee replied that both World War I and II contributed to this rise. Without these wars communism would have died out in China. World War II enabled Russia to spread its doctrine throughout Europe. Nationalism, poverty, economics, and Russian propaganda, have all contributed to the rise of communism. "The Chinese people have been influenced by communism for . . . years, just as you have been influenced by Christianity."

"Years ago," continued Dr. Lee in response to a question, "Chinese communists were considered more Chinese than communist. Like a radish—red on the outside pure white on the inside; but now everyone is beginning to realize that the radish is red all the way through."

Change to Liberal

Will a change in communist personnel mean a change in the system? Will a more liberal leader mean a more liberal system?

To this, Dr. Lee replied, "We want to destroy the system, not personnel. Marx died, Stalin is gone, Krushchev may be going, but the system is still here."

Lee concluded the session with a quote from John Foster Dulles, "We owe it to ourselves, and to our allies, and to the Chinese people to contribute."

Third ASB Council Winds Up Year Of Campus Work

This past year's student body officers have helped make the 1959-60 school year a great one. The council has accomplished many things and paved the way for next year's ASB Council.

Outdoing President, Dallas Moon, headed all the governmental meetings. Among many of Dallas' accomplishments, he was honored as "Athlete of the Year." Bill Pope, ASB Vice-President, acted as parliamentarian for the meetings. He was also in charge of the elections committee. Secretary to the council was Kathi Lewis. Kathie was named "Woman of the Year." Taking care of money matters and balancing the budget was ASB Treasurer Jim Wolfsberger.

Active Members

Arranging the activities, planning the rallies and assemblies, making posters, working with the newspaper, and working with the athletic department were Commissioners Barry Adams, Doreen Nunley, Bill Axline, Carol Streets, and Dick Roche.

AWS President Polly Olivas was in charge of the spring fashion show and co-chairman of the first dance in the student center. Tom Artiz, AMS President, helped with many activities and started the plans for next year's Spring Swing.

A new seat on council was taken over by Sandy Walberg, Inter-Club Council Representative. Sandy related all the club problems to the ASB Council.

Introducing next year student b joined Sigma Phi and is now President, so he is qualified to hold the position.

His major is law and he hopes to continue his studies at the USC Law School in preparation for his chosen career as a corporation attorney. It what little spare time he has left over, Allen is interested in cars, sports and all outdoor activities.

Nola Kessler, who ran unopposed for the office of secretary, is a 1959 graduate of Sierra High in Whittier. Currently a songleader at Cerritos she is a secretarial major, a fine recommendation for this office, and her abilities in this field qualified her for Alpha Gamma Sigma. While attending Sierra Nola served a drill team captain, flag twirler, members of the Girls' League council, member of the class council, and a member of the California Scholarship Federation. At Cerritos she is active in Theta Phi.

The program, after being approved at a recent meeting, is being planned for the mutual convenience of both tutors and students wishing to benefit from the additional studying.

Service To College

The tutoring project was sponsored by the organization as a service to the school, aid for students with class difficulties and for the extra drilling afforded the honor students.

Members who have already volunteered to participate in the program include: Judith Bosser—Life Science, English I, and French I; D. Edlund—Basic Algebra, College Algebra, Trigonometry, Geometry, and Calculus; Linda Feut—Office Machines and Shorthand; Jerome Haydter—Economics, Psychology; Marianne Linville—English and French; Maureen Pigott—English, German, and Math 50; Marge Ratcliffe—Accounting, English, and Health; Kenneth Voak—Electronics and Fundamentals; Marjorie Clark—English, English Literature, and Composition; Bonner Day—Spanish.

Western high school in Anaheim finished second in the Senior team division and Downey high school took Junior second place.

Sponsor

The event was sponsored by the Cerritos College Mathematics and Engineering Club under the supervision of the college science, engineering and mathematics division and club faculty adviser, Jack Randall. President of the club is Nick Iammarino.

Competing high schools were Anaheim, Western, Bolsa Grande, Rancho Alamitos, El Rancho, Downey, Warren, Excelsior Bellflower, Norwalk and Mayfair.

Donna Harper WAA President

Donna Harper has been elected president of the Cerritos Women's Athletic Association for the next college year.

An active participant in student activities at Cerritos during her freshman year, Harper served as chairman of publicity on the organization's executive council.

During the year, she also attended a number of athletic and recreation conferences as a Falcon representative.

THE BIG DITCH—For the frustrated Cerritos student looking for a parking place, the awesome sight of Alondra Boulevard torn up has become a particular heartbreaking scene. This is the typical scene . . . a big hole . . . plenty of trucks . . . no no parking . . . dirt . . . and the future isn't bright. Best bet for completion: Some time this summer. Any one got a shovel???

Campus Club Capers Set Pace For Future

by Georgia Oakes

A large Midwestern college recently posted a sign: "It is a tradition here not to walk on the grass. This tradition is effective at noon today."

Cerritos, like this Midwestern college, is trying to grow both grass and traditions. Although, due to construction, it has had limited success with the grass, tradition is another story.

Many traditions have been established during the past two semesters, by the Cerritos College club program. Two of these that stand out are expansion and accomplishment. Expansion can be illustrated by the fact that since last September, the number of campus clubs has increased from a mere eight to over 20.

The best way to show accomplishment is to simply turn back the pages of the calendar and review the activities of the past year.

September

The 1959-60 school year started with only eight clubs, WAA, AWS, AMS, Big C, Theta Phi, Sigma Phi, Forensics and Falconettes held a club day, decorated for dances, and provided entertainment at the Falcon football contests. The most active group at this time was the Falconette flag team, who worked six days a week to perfect stunts and routines.

October

On October 10, Omega Delta Chi, the Cerritos Business Club, was formed. This group pushed off to an active start by taking care of the football program, selling, and sending representatives to a business convention in Santa Monica. The month of October, also saw Delta Phi Omega come into existence as the second sorority on campus.

November

The month of November was a big one on last year's activity calendar. A tragic accident during a fraternity initiation left its mark on many college campuses around the country, including Cerritos. A fraternity and sorority were suspended for "hazing" and returned to the activity program as service clubs, and the day of the fraternity and sorority at Cerritos was gone forever.

Homecoming week proved to be the biggest joint club effort to date. AWS held a fashion show November 4, the Wednesday of the week, to start the ball rolling. The organizations hosted and ushered at open house on Friday night, and held a rally that afternoon. Homecoming Night saw nine groups enter the Homecoming Parade competition. Prizes went to Big C, Omega Delta Chi, and Theta Phi.

Beta Tau entered the activity picture in November, as the second mens' service club at Cerritos. Omega Delta Chi, ever active, toured C.B.S. Television City on November 17.

December

In addition to the now-famous freshman class party, December was also the month of the Omega Delta Chi Christmas present drive, in which money for presents was given to Norwalk State Hospital.

As of this semester, Cerritos College officially has a chapter of a national organization on its campus—another "first"—after the charter banquet of Phi Rho Pi, national honorary forensic society of junior colleges. It will be officially known as The California Psi chapter.

The charter was received from the national president, Virgil Bergman of Palomar College.

Cerritos, Phi Rho Pi, has joined 24 other junior college chapters in California and approximately eighty national chapters. Charter officers are: John McLaughlin, president; Billie Bradbury, vice-president; and Carol Kuwada, secretary-treasurer.

Group Members

The following students are also charter members of California Psi Chapter of Phi Rho Pi; Kathleen Anderson, Viola Bouma, Marjorie Clark, Dale Harrell, Barbara Hoffman, Josephine Mancuso, Dolly Randall, Georgia Works and Mrs. Juliette, sponsor.

The climax to the banquet evening came with the announcement of award winners in the forensic program. The outstanding speaker of the year trophy was won by Billie Bradbury. The outstanding service to the squad as a whole was won by Josie Mancuso. The most improved speaker of the year trophy was won by Viola Bouma.

The bullthorower of the year trophy was won by John McLaughlin. The squad members capped the evening by presenting to their coach, Mrs. Venitsky, a desk pen set in appreciation of her work with the members of the squad during this year.

We're late, for a very important date . . .

Seven Baseballers Named For WSC Diamond Honors

For the second consecutive year, Cerritos College's baseball team dominated selections for the All-Western States Conference team. The Falcons, last year's co-champions and this year's runner-up, placed four players on the first team, one on the second, plus two honorable mentions.

Repeaters

Repeating for the second time were Falcon Infielder Lou Sanchez and Outfielder Dallas Moon. Both were 1959 choices. Other first team selections included Pitcher Dick Wantz and Infielder Ken Roberts. All four are sophomores.

Cerritos' hard-hitting Third Baseman Bob Beckner was named to the second team.

Pitcher Butch Hughes and Outfielder Gene Neri were named to the honorable mention list.

Top Record

Cerritos completed the season with a 26-10 overall record and an 8-4 WSC mark. The Falcons won both decisions from the conference winner, Ventura College.

Other season highlights included clean sweeps in pairs of games from State Champion Orange Coast and Metropolitan Conference titlist, Los Angeles Valley College. Cerritos also won the College of Sequoias Tournament in Visalia.

Cerritos Track Finishes With Ranked Field

Cerritos Track and Field team summed up an inspirational track year at the state junior college finals at Modesto last weekend.

Kamanski

Dave Kamanski led the cindermen to a successful track season in the history of the college. Compiling a 4-3 Western States Conference dual meet record, the Falcons were outrated on several occasions. Such was the case when they upset powerful Long Beach City College, at the onset.

The speedsters were honored by being invited to the Santa Barbara Relays, the Mt. San Antonio Invitational, the Southern California Relays and the Fresno Relays.

Showdown

The WSC finals at Cerritos College's lightning fast track was the showdown of some of the best Junior College trackmen on the coast. The Falcons missed a third place birth by one point, behind last year's champion Glendale College.

Field Day

It was a field day for Cerritos as they traveled to the Southern California Finals at Santa Ana. Norm McMillan went 13'6" in the pole in the pole vault, Ken Reed put the shot 49'7 1/4", Paul Stuber cleared the bar at 6'7", and Paul Sallinger's 136'10" effort in the discus. All of these efforts were new school records and all efforts accept Sallinger's qualified for the state finals.

PRESIDENT'S TROPHY—At the recent awards assembly, Dr. Ralph F. Burnight, left, made the annual presentation of the College President's trophy to Dallas Moon, center. Also pictured is Cerritos Athletic Director Gene Martin. The trophy is annually awarded to an outstanding student in athletics and academic ability. Moon served as 1959-60 ASB president, in addition to lettering in both football and baseball. The former Downey High star was the first athlete in the history of the Western States Conference to be named to two All-Conference teams in two major sports.

Sportraits

by Jim Ennis

Cerritos' baseball team presents an interesting problem! The Falcons managed to blow the Western States Conference title despite shellacking the champions, Ventura, in both of their meetings this year.

If you saw either of the contests, you no doubt had feelings that here was a team headed anywhere but first place.

Yet, excepting Cerritos, the Pirates mutinized every club in the league twice.

The Falcons' plight can be likened to that of the 1959 Los Angeles Dodgers'. The pennant-winners fared admirable against first division opposition, but were rudely bumped around by the also-rans. The Dodgers, though, had a few more games (142) to equalize things, where as Cerritos had to make the most of 12 contests.

Had another round of play been tacked onto the schedule, Cerritos might well have successfully defended its crown.

Of course, this suggestion has been the after thought of many a second-place finisher for years in all sports. For Cerritos, the old adage, "Wait'll next year," will have to do for now.

On examining conference scores, we find that Ventura poked out three victories by the scantest of margins—one run.. Several other of their contests were nearly as close.

On the other hand, both their losses to Cerritos were by five tallies, a fact that is perhaps more representable of the former club's ability.

After winning the WSC, the Pirates went to the state playoffs and promptly lost their initial contest to Los Angeles Valley.

After beating Orange Coast, Valley then proceeded to drop two straight games to the same team, putting Orange in the semi-finals.

Ironically, Cerritos had beaten both Valley and Orange in regular season's play, two times each.

Oh, well, the Falcons can always schedule 154 games next year.

Who said Pasadena College was athletically dead? The Lancers, after dwelling in the cellar through the three "major" sports, finally managed to bring home a WSC championship—golf. This feat marked their first title since tying Cerritos for the baseball flag last year.

Cerritos' athletic teams compiled a combined 67-51 record during the past sports year. Not bad considering the tennis squad dropped 22 straight.

Athletic Awards Gain Honors For Cerritos

It was a banner year for Cerritos College in athletics. Highlighting the year was Cerritos' College second straight Western States Conference championship in football. Five players from Cerritos were honored with first team berths: Ken Ariail, End; Dick Mosley, Tackle; Harold Gray, Guard; Dallas Moon, Halfback. Receiving Honorable Mention Award were: Earl Coleman and Joe Gibbs, End; Nifo Lille, Tackle; Lou Valdespino, Guard; Allan Roman and Bob Lyons, Backs. Further honors were bestowed on Harold Gray who was selected on the first team of the N.J.C.A.A. All-American Team and Dallas Moon who was selected on the second team. On the Los Angeles Times All-American Team, Harold Gray was placed on the third team. Receiving Honorable Mention were: Dallas Moon, Mario Mendez, and Nifo Lille. Team awards on this years football team were as follows: Dallas Moon, Most Valuable Player and Captain; Harold Gray, Most Valuable Lineman; Mario Mendez, Most Valuable Back; Bob Lyons, Most Inspirational Player; Reney Simmons, Most Improved Player.

Intramurals Draw Top Attention In First Year

Cerritos college enjoyed its first full year of intramural sports in 1959-60. Under the leadership of Dave Kamanski and Amy Kozier, the intramural and Amy Dozier, the intramural and ran through June.

Starting in September, volleyball and touch football were started. Also co-ed tennis and volleyball tournaments were held. Moving into November, basketball took over as the number one sport. Teams were formed by clubs, former high school groups and other groups. The competition was good enough to have head basketball coach John Caine take two of the boys participating in intramurals and place them on the varsity basketball team.

Spring sports came along and also the highlight of the intramural season when the first annual intramural track and field meet was held in April.

Competition was open to all Falcon men students who were not members of this year's track team. Participants were all looked to perform in any number of events. Ribbon awards were made to first, second, and third place winners, while a high point trophy was awarded to the person with the most accumulative points.

In basketball this year Cerritos College had its best year in the short history of the school. Highlights of the year was the second place finish in the Chaffey Tournament and handing Los Angeles City College its only league defeat of the season. All five members of this years starting quintet received league recognition. Scott Iverson was named to the first team with Jerry Dotson being named to the second team All-Western States Conference. Honorable Mention Awards went Dick Roche, Bill Bogdanoff, and Tony Rosales. Team awards on this years basketball squad were as follows: Scott Iverson, Most Valuable Player; Bill Bogdanoff, Most Improved Player; Jerry Dotson, Most Inspirational Player; and Dick Roche, Team Captain.

Falcon Gym To Be Ready in April, '61

If the contract date runs true, Cerritos College's basketball teams will have their first permanent home by April, 1961. The Falcons, who will have played in the Artesia High Gym for one year, and in Norwalk High's for two, should be able to open up the '61-62 campaign in the friendly confines of their own ultra-modern gymnasium.

The design of the structure will be a new and different one, featuring four rolling archs for the roof, whose supports will form handball courts in the back of the gym.

Trophy Case

The front of the gym will face Alondra Blvd., and will have two ticket offices and entrances. Between the entrances and the court will be a lobby, which will contain a trophy case, along with concession areas, rest rooms and storage rooms at either end.

The structure will seat 2,200 people, with collapsable bleachers of 20 rows each, on both sides. There will be no balcony. On special occasions, small temporary bleachers may be added at the ends, for additional seating. There will be no pillars to obstruct view. The bleachers will begin on a platform raised 18 inches from the playing floor. An excellent feature of the bleachers are that they will be electrically operated, and when folded up will accomodate another basketball and volleyball court.

Maximum Size

The playing court will be the maximum 94x50 feet. On the west side will be two press boxes, which will be raised platforms surrounded by railing. There will be one scoreboard.

The dressing and shower rooms will be unique in that they will be located upstairs, with the home and visiting rooms on opposite sides of the gym. There will also be two enclosed handball courts upstairs, sided handball courts that will to go along with the ten three-be situated on the west and east ends outdoors.
