

"The Edelweiss" Club Formed; Has Kaffeeklatch

A newly formed German Club has been added to the number of organizations available to Cerritos students this year. At the initial meeting held in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Margaret Bluske, the club unanimously accepted a constitution drawn up by Patricia Burton and Earldine Wilton. The club has decided to meet twice a month; German will be spoken and German songs will be sung.

Plans for semester activities were discussed and these will include a theatre party to the Tosca Theatre to see a contemporary German film, talks in German by prominent persons, and a big Christmas party with folk dancing and a student choir.

Kaffeeklatch

A date was set for the first on campus meeting. This is to be a Kaffeeklatch, and will be held in the Student Center Tuesday, September 27, at 11 a.m. All students of German are invited and students presently taking German I will be considered honorary members. The highlight of this meeting will be the election of officers for the new club.

Edelweiss

In the future the club will be referred to as the "Edelweiss." This is the name of a lovely white flower that grows high in the Alps where only the most skillful of climbers are successful in gathering it from the steep inclines and glacial crags of its natural habitat. The black and white coloring of the Edelweiss flower became the choice for club colors, and John Fornay was placed in charge of designing the club insignia and motto.

COUNSELING

John Blakemore, Dean of Counseling and Guidance, urges all students to avail themselves of the extensive counseling facilities at Cerritos College.

Students are urged to make an appointment to see a counselor for the purpose of making academic plans for the future. Recent university studies have shown that those students who made decisions about their majors early attain greater success scholastically and financially.

VETERANS!!

All veterans who are attending school under Public Law 550 should contact Mrs. Doris Crutcher in the Counseling Office in order that she may verify registration records.

The Man Can't Help it

THOSE COLLEGE WOES—Ron Garcia, left, a freshman student from Sierra High, finds out the story behind college attendance at the Book Store. As Book Store Manager Bob Beauchamp tells him that's how it is . . . Garcia forks over the dough. The cash register? Oh, that really isn't right . . . though sometimes you wonder. Enrollment Goes Up, Up, Up

What goes up must come down! This applies to everything but college enrollment figures and they just go up and up and up. Cerritos is certainly no exception. Exceeding the anticipated enrollment by one, the final figure, including full and part time students, comes to 5201. This compares with a total of 4,262 students at this same

Job Placement Tells New Hours

Cerritos' job placement service has set new hours, according to Mrs. Madge Coto of the placement office. The office, located in the business administration building, will be open every day between the hours of 1:30-4:30 p.m.

A student may fill out a job application which will be kept on file by the office. However, a new form must be submitted each semester due to schedule changes, in order to aid the service in locating the student as readily as possible.

time last year. Broken down into full and part-time figures they fall like this: Last year 1,096 full time and 3,166 part-time students as compared to 1,630 full-time and 3,571 part-time students this year. This is a 19 percent increase in overall enrollment and a 33 percent increase in full-time students.

More Classes

The close approximation of the enrollment figure has lessened many problems and made classes more adaptable to the student's schedule. A total of 553 classes are being offered this semester; an increase of 68 classes. To meet the increase in classes 28 additional instructors have been hired; this brings the total to 149.

Age-Old Problem

A problem still lies in the bookstore, even though the enrollment figure was so well anticipated. A severe shortage of books has caused many headaches, not only to the student but for the manager Bob Beauchamp. It is his job to take into account the amount of texts which will be sold between students and order from there, using his last year's figures to guide him. Because of the amount of money he has to work with, Beauchamp cannot overstock texts and has to take a chance of guessing right the first time. When Cerritos gets out of its growing pains and more money can be allotted for this purpose, the problem will be alleviated. Nearly 4,000 books were re-ordered to meet the demands of the students.

Frosh Petitions Due Monday

Election of 1960-61 Freshman Class Officers will be conducted on October 4th and 5th in the Student Center. All members of the Freshman Class holding full-time ASB cards are eligible to vote in the elections and are urged to do so.

A nominations assembly to introduce the candidates will coincide with the Football Rally on September 30th in the Student Center at 12:30 p.m. All of the candidates running for elected offices will either give one or two-minute speeches.

Those candidates running for the appointed offices of Publicity Chairman or Activities Chairman will have a final selection made by the elected class president and the ASB Council as to who will hold the offices.

Petitions for any of the offices may still be picked up at the Student Personnel Office, but all petitions must be turned into the office by September 26. To be eligible a candidate must carry at least 10 1/4 units for the first semester and possess an ASB card. Also, they must all abide by the rules set up in the Student Constitution governing elections. A five-dollar limit is imposed upon campaign expenses, including donations, and only five posters may be posted on campus plus the other election rules which are listed in the back of the Student Handbooks.

According to Gerald Bolt, ASB Vice-President, who is in charge of this year's Freshman Class elections, this is to date the best Freshman election at Cerritos; it even exceeds last year's ASB year's ASB elections.

Stewart Named Editor As 'Marks' Begins 4th Year

Sophomore Pat Stewart was named editor-in-chief of the fall Talon Marks as staff appointments were made recently by Clive Grafton, journalism advisor. Sixteen students form the roster of the weekly college tabloid.

Editors Named

Stewart has previously served as sports editor of the Talon Marks and edited a column in the Artesia high school newspaper before attending Cerritos.

Position of news editor will be held by Rita Watt, a sophomore and transfer student from LBSC. A graduate of Bellflower high school, she held editorial positions on the school's newspaper and was active in other campus organizations.

Bob Pollock, a Santa Fe high school graduate, will serve as features editor. Pollock, a sophomore, is employed by the Whittier News.

Campus Organizations page will be edited by sophomore Georgia Oakes, last year's editor-in-chief. She is also active in the Falconettes.

Jim Ennis, also a sophomore, will be in charge of sports. Last year he served as assistant to this position.

Named as assistant news editor was Sara Middleton, a freshman. She was graduated from Bellflower high school, where she was editor-in-chief of the newspaper and recipient of the Scholastic Press Association Award and the Earl K. Smith citizenship medal.

Chris Van Houton, also a freshman, will act as assistant to the Organizations editor.

She is a graduate of Whittier high school where she was on the staff of the newspaper for two years, and was also one of the district winners in a local journalism contest.

Experienced Staff

According to Grafton, this semester's staff represents a group of experienced and capable students, and hopes are high for an All-American rating.

Photography will be under the supervision of Ray Highfill, a sophomore. The Santa Fe high school graduate was photo editor last year for the Talon Marks and helped the newspaper to win its first photography award.

ACTIVITY CALENDAR

As a regular feature, the Talon Marks will present a list of the coming activities to keep students posted and ahead of the times. The coming week shows plenty of activity to get us off to a good start.

Today in the student center at 12:30 a kick-off rally will be held to get the football season started on the right foot.

The first football game of the season will be here tomorrow night in the stadium at 8 p.m. against Long Beach City College. An after game dance is scheduled.

Monday petitions are due in the Student Personnel Office for freshmen interested in running for a class office.

Next Friday another rally is planned along with an election assembly. The Student Center is again the site and 12:30 is the hour.

October 1 is the date for the second game, this time against Fullerton and again here. An after game dance will be held in the Student Center.

'How's Your Football?'

"I'm new here. How's your football team?"

Mike Pklodistinovertowski was in his glory. Mike, president of every club on campus besides being the greatest tackle on the football team, stood with his arms folded toward the young freshman while he sized him up.

With his trunk-like legs showing off a manly growth of hair from his bermudas, Mike began to snore the new student with a story of academics that would put Anthropology A&M to shame.

"As you probably know, my good man, the American college is established with academics in mind and Textbook Tech is one of the real leaders in this field."

"See there," he continued, pointing to the construction of the gymnasium, "We are only now getting our own facilities to play basketball."

"But isn't it true that your locker room was the first building completed on this campus?" The newcomer was now becoming extremely interested.

"Well, that was just a matter of coincidence, but we are really trying to de-emphasize athletics in this school." Mike, a solid "D" student with a solid "B" average, couldn't understand this fellow's concern over athletics.

"Don't you people realize the importance of a good football team here? Why, if you put just a little more into your athletic program and paid a little more attention to football players around campus, you could really put this school on the map."

"It's not so important that you win just for the sake of winning, but the reputation that you gain from it can be invaluable."

"But don't you think that academics are what we come to school for?" Mike was becoming aroused with the upstart's point of view.

"Academics are fine—in their place. But a college is particularly designed for football and that is what I came here for. Don't you think that you can be of more value to your school by having a winning football team than by pulling a "B" in some useless class?"

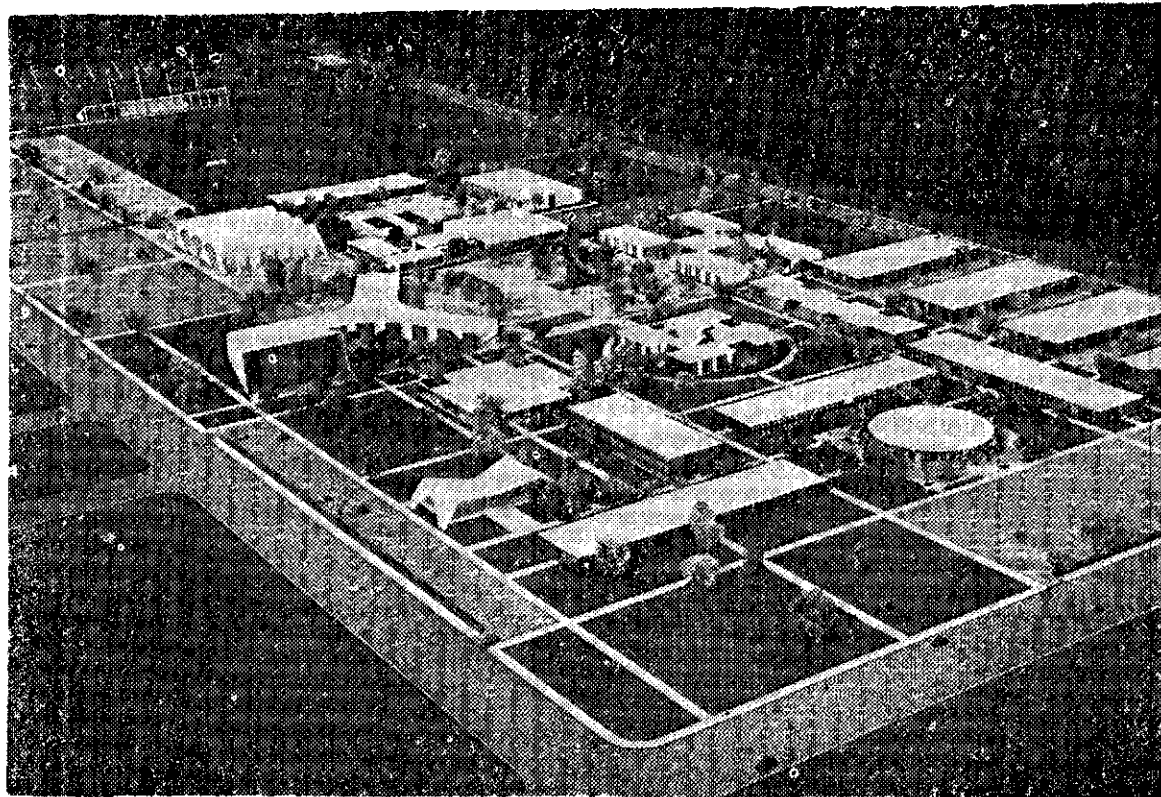

Mike was stupefied. After all this time being so engrossed in academics and now have someone come along and tell him that football is more important. Could this freshman be right? Is the whole academic outlook of Textbook out of focus with the rest of the college system? Perhaps we should set our sights on more football, more football, and more football.

Mike was not alone in his disillusionment. Remember Smorgasboard Kelly, ex-halfback and geology classroom flash? He flunked his sports officiating class and his advanced games for the elementary school and had to be sent to USC to bring up the old grade point.

But don't look now, all is not lost in the football fortunes of Textbook. There is big Mike now, down in the student center, arranging a little rally for the football team.

Now the academic contingent grabs Mike by the back of his bermudas and throws him out the door. Mike is temporarily discouraged in his attempt to bring football to Textbook.

But Mike is still a fighter and Textbook will have a football team to be proud of one of these days, but for now it's just a long bitter fight against academics.

LOOK TO FUTURE — The Cerritos campus of the future has been already tabbed as one of the most beautiful and functional in the country when it is completed in about two years. According to College President Ralph Burnight, at that time we will be far ahead of any junior college in California.

Campus Slated to be One Of Finest in United States

by POB POLLOCK

Right now Cerritos College is an educational plant in the rough, but in a very few years it will be one of the largest and best equipped two-year schools in the country.

Already more than half done, construction-wise, the Cerritos campus will eventually be one of the most complete in the area and will house nearly 10,000 students, including both daytime and extended day classes.

"When our facilities are completed in about two years, we won't have to take our hat off to anyone," according to Dr. Ralph Burnight, president of the college.

When we get all of our buildings and all of our equipment, about the beginning of the 1962 school year, Burnight said, we will be ahead of any junior college in California.

Even now, what equipment the college has is as good or better than any JC in this area, according to Burnight.

Given Award

Cerritos buildings have been given awards for architecture. Visiting architects have said that one day this will be the most beautiful campus in the country, and schools that are now being planned have requested blueprints of the science building and the electronics facilities available to the Falcons.

The buildings that house Cerritos are, truly, the finest that are possibly available and the facilities in those buildings are also the finest.

The geology laboratory recently finished is reputed to be one of the most complete in the country. The electronics labs have equipment which few junior colleges in the country have.

By the time all of the facilities in the present plan are completed, there will be more than enough students to make it worth while.

1965 Enrollment

In 1965 it is estimated that there will be from 3500 to 4000 full time students at Cerritos and about 6000 to 7000 part time.

Since the buildings and equipment will eventually be able to handle 4000 day students and 8000 part time, facilities at Cerritos will never be going to waste.

The initiation of new districts in the area, however, may have a definite effect on the projected enrollment of Cerritos.

Right now the Whittier District, one of the major areas of Cerritos enrollment, is considering a junior college and will vote on it in a very few weeks.

The Dairy Valley area, however, may some day provide a great amount of students, if it were ever to be opened for subdivision and increased population as a result.

This year's enrollment, set at 1629 full time and 3569 part time, shows a considerable increase over last year that will continue until further junior college facilities are provided.

The full time figure is a 60 per cent increase over that figure a year ago and the part time students have increased at a rate of about 12 per cent.

The total figure of 5198 may increase as high as 5500 when all of the part time students come to school, according to Burnight.

More Construction

Construction currently under way will be completed in a matter of months and further construction begun at that time.

The library, located directly east of the student center, is slated to be completed in early February, while the gym, southwest of the center, is supposed to be finished in April.

The metallurgy building, located at the northeast corner of the campus, will probably be finished in July.

Cerritos' Purposes And Objectives Told

The purposes and objectives of Cerritos College, as stated in the college handbook, are in direct relationship with the ideals of the American College System.

In keeping with the philosophy of the school, Cerritos is concerned with the educational needs of every high school graduate and adult in the community.

Cerritos, believing in the dignity and worth of every person, helps the student to understand himself, his physical environment and his cultural heritage; the college believes in the importance of spiritual and moral values, and, therefore, encourages the student to formulate goals and values for the enrichment of his life; and throughout the educational program the American heritage and the unique quality of our democratic way of life are emphasized.

Accomplishes Objectives

Because the specific needs for education vary greatly among individuals the college provides facilities to accomplish the following objectives.

lowing objectives.

A. Two year curricula which are the equivalent of the freshman and sophomore years at a university or college. These programs permit the student to transfer to a senior institution with full junior standing.

B. Two year curricula in preparation for immediate employment in a number of semi-professional, industrial, business, or technical fields. These programs are designed to meet the employment needs of Los Angeles County and Southern California.

C. A general education program for personal enrichment and cultural development. The courses in this area will help the student to increase his individual ability as a citizen and improve community, home, and family living.

General Education

D. Courses designed to make up high school deficiencies permitting further education and training at the college level.

E. A program of guidance and orientation, making the individual aware of his special abilities and aptitudes so that he may make a wise choice of vocational goal and secure the maximum benefits from his college experience.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE OFFERED

The Counseling Office has several scholarships available to deserving students. The requisites for such scholarships are:

No less than a "B" average

A financial need

Greetings and such from the TALON MARKS!

What can you expect from this year's MARKS staff in the way of production? Well, I'll tell you. Our staff may be small and inexperienced but we're crummy. Actually, such a view as that should be taken only by a pessimist, which I'm not (a pessimist). Therefore, I'll raise my sights a little and warn you to expect one of the finest junior college weeklies in the country—which is our aim.

We've got a tremendous advisor in the person of Clive Grafton, graduate of Emily Post Finishing School for Fashionable young Men (EPFSFFYM). Yessir, he really cracks the whip. Doesn't do a whole lot more, but he really cracks a mean whip. Sometimes we wonder about him.

Over in the sports department we're really set with Jim Ennis, transplanted boy wonder from Kentucky, who has authored such famous autobiographies as, "Psycho," "How to Win and Influence Friends," I was a teen-age Ed Sullivan," and others.

Bob Beckner, stand-out member of last year's baseball team doesn't write sports, but will be doing a great job of distributing the papers. Just thought you'd like to know. Ennis says that a terrific addition to this year's sports page will be the publishing of Falcon football scores weekly. By golly, I've got to hand it to you, Jim.

We don't have Ann Landers on the staff but we do have Georgia Oakes. You'll notice the difference right away.

Wendy Sandler does a great job in advertising, and as soon as she gets up enough nerve to talk to other people we know she'll sell lots of ads.

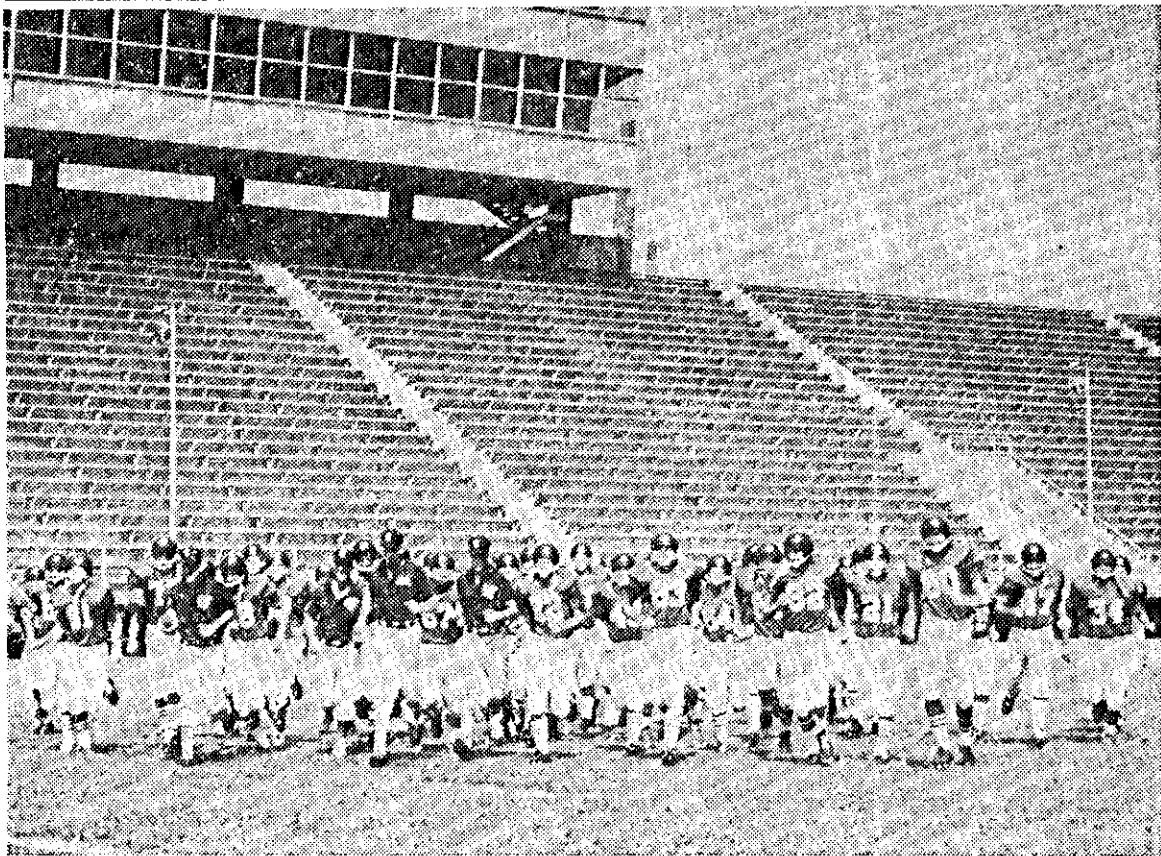

Well, that gives you a pretty good idea of what to expect from the holdovers from last year's staff, and I'm sure we'll have equally competent freshmen and transfers, so look out!

By the way, if you have any "smilers" or "just for funs" you'd like to pass on to us—forget it. I wouldn't like them anyhow.

As a parting shot, let me remind you in the words of the immortal Cerritos grad, William Bogdanoff, "A bird in the hand makes blowing the nose difficult."

FALCONS CHARGE TOMORROW — Pictured above are the members of the Cerritos football team that will open its season tomorrow night at Cerritos College Stadium. The Falcons will host Long Beach City College in a game that is already being classified as the "game of the year." The two teams have met only once before, Cerritos winning a 6-0 decision last year. Sportraits

by Jim Ennis

To coin an old phrase, "All that glitters is not gold." And this could very well be Long Beach City's epitaph as they invade Cerritos Stadium tomorrow night against our local heroes.

It's well known by now that the Vikings are loaded—with material, that is. The big question is whether Coach Stangeland can unite this material into a cohesive unit worthy of their advance praise. Hotshot prospects alone do not necessarily conjure up winning football teams. Of course, they don't always hinder the operation, either.

Bad Year

A good case in point is that of the 1959 Rams. The material and potential was most decidedly there. Also there was a competent coach, well oriented to the pro game, yet everyone knows how LA fell on their face.

Don't be surprised this season if you notice a bit more shuffling around of players into the lineup than was seen last year. California's junior college are returning to the two-platoon, unlimited substitution, all of which promises a more wide-open game. The move was made to bring Western jaycees in line with the rest of the nation's two-year schools.

Tomorrow night's game, however, will be played under the NCAA-type rules which call for the wild-card substitution system, introduced last year.

Every year 'bout this time, amateur prognosticators are racking their brains trying to outguess fate by picking conference finishes.

Not wishing to perhaps establish an ugly precedent, we hereby submit our choices on the WSC race: Cerritos, Pierce, Phoenix, Compton, Glendale, Los Angeles City, Pasadena and Ventura, in that order.

Unlike the politicians, we do not stand on our record. Why?—it's lousy.

Loop Members In Weekend Action

Only two Cerritos football opponents were in action over the past weekend, both taking shut-out losses. Pasadena City College opened its 34th season, losing 13-0 to Palo Verde. For new Lancer coach Bob Bastian, the result continued the Pasadena drought of victories, winning only one game in the past two years.

Another Falcon foe, Fullerton JC, took a 15-0 loss at the hands of Fresno JC. Cerritos meets the Hornets on October 1.

Full Slate

A full week of action is set for Western States Conference schools this weekend, three games being played tonight, Santa Monica City College will be at Ventura College, San Diego JC traveling to Glendale College, while Pierce rounds out the Friday list with another non-conference tilt at East Los Angeles JC. Only Pierce is a favorite in the trio of games.

Saturday Schedule

Three more games will be highlighted with Cerritos' Saturday game with Long Beach City College at the Falcon campus stadium. A lone WSC game will officially open the league season, Compton College making the trek to Phoenix tomorrow night. Pasadena will be a big underdog at Bakersfield College, as both teams meet for their second contests of the season. Phoenix is tabbed to swamp the Tartars, although Compton has never lost a game to an Arizona team, dating the series back to 1936. The Falcon-Viking tiff is rated as a tossup by grid raters.

A record-breaking assemblage should witness a titanic struggle. Both teams are, potentially, both offensively and defensively potent.

According to Falcon Head Coach Don Hall, the Vikings have "the finest jaycee squad I've ever seen assembled." Backing up this statement is a formidable group of gridiron giants headed by Dee Andrews, all-everything at Long Beach Poly in 1958. Teaming with Andrews are such breakaway threats as Willie Martin, Lonzo Irvin and Kelton Reese. Quarterbacks Ed Reddick and Chris Dawson, who doubles at halfback, also are rated top-notch prospects.

Good Showing

In pre-season workouts, including a scrimmage with Pepperdine College, the most explosive combination teamed Andrews and Martin at the halves, Irvin at fullback and Reddick at quarterback. Against the Waves, Reddick, ex-Jordan High ace, combined with end Ernie McBride on a 73-yard scoring play. Irvine displayed his pile-driving tactics to good effect and averaged nearly nine yards a carry.

Another effective backfield includes Jim Jerauld and Jerry Orcutt at the halves, letterman Mickey Castricone at fullback and Dawson at quarterback.

Despite this imposing array of talent facing them, Cerritos appears just as strong as the Vikes.

Holds Key

To Falcon followers, halfback Bob Bagwell apparently holds the key to Cerritos' success. Bagwell returns to the scene of his phenomenal season of 1958, when as a freshman he led the nation in scoring with 132 points. Whether Bagwell retains his scoring touch is definitely a major factor in Cerritos fortunes.

Rounding out the backfield are returnees Mario Mendez, last year's most valuable back at halfback, converted linemen Andy Cuccio at fullback and Grant Owen, a member of last year's "Blue Bandit" squad. Another possible starter is halfback Paul Sallinger.

Second Game

To date, Cerritos holds a 1-0 edge over the Vikings, having scored a 6-0 triumph in last season's opener. This contest marks the second edition of a four-year home-end-home series.

To predict an outcome at this stage of the game would be crawling too far out on a limb. Long Beach would appear to have the edge offensively, while Cerritos should boast an equally strong defense.

Starting Lineups

Following are the tentative starting lineups:

Falcons Invited to Join Big "C"

Vacancies still exist in the Cerritos College "Big C." Interested students are urged to contact John Jackson, faculty sponsor.

The Big C is an organized rooting section for promoting school spirit at all home football games. Members of this group wear white sweat shirts and the Big "C" badge and sit in a reserved section on the fifty-yard line at all home football games.

Membership is open to all members of the Associated Student Body. Members are required to attend all home football games and participate in as many Big "C" activities as possible. Those attending all home games will receive points toward the Golden Falcon.

The group will make their first appearance of the 1960 football season at the Long Beach City College game tomorrow night.

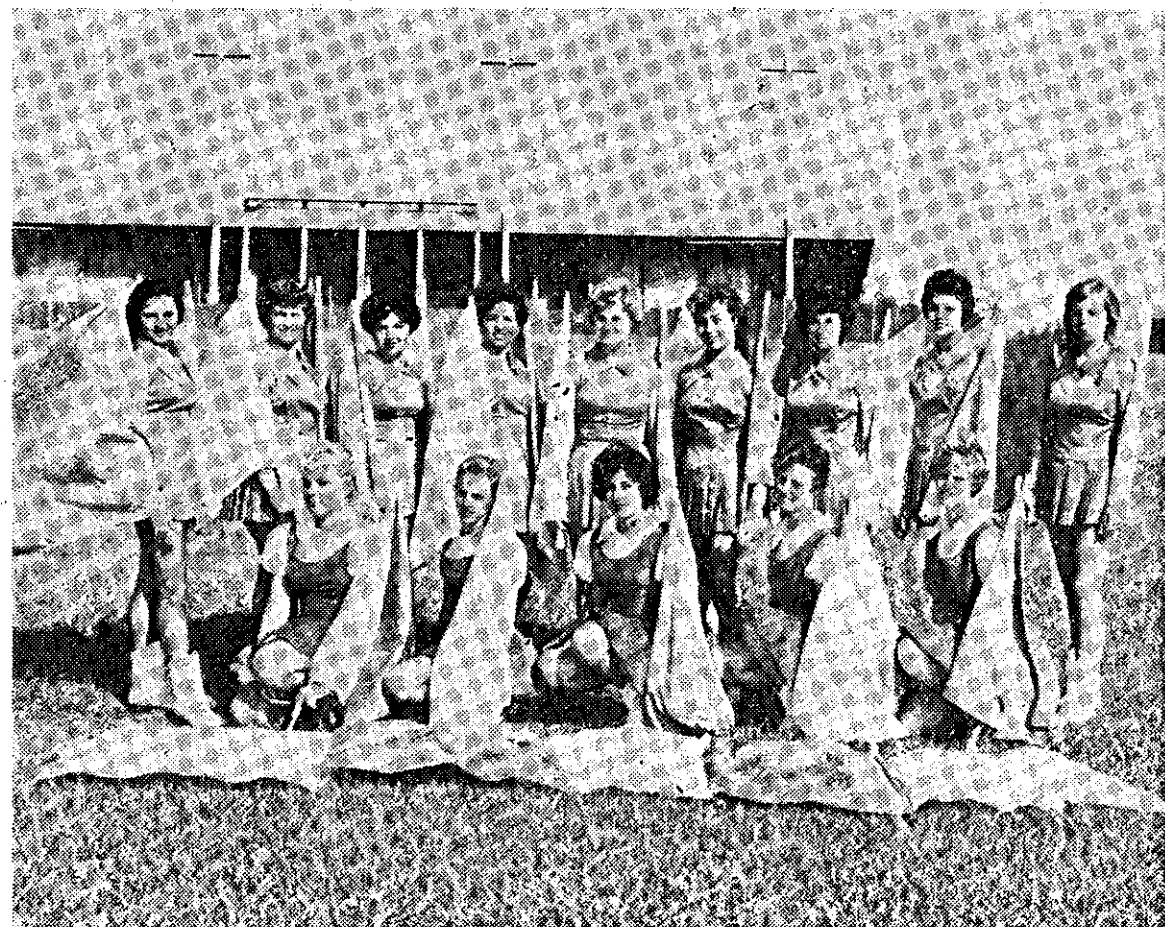

SURROUNDED—Yell leader Bob Melton is surrounded by lovely ladies as he leads a yell to drum up spirit for the Long Beach City College game tomorrow night. On either end Falconettes Nancy Salvage and Georgia Oakes, while songleaders Kay Stahl and Nola Kessler stand next to Bob.

Falcon Band Has Color, Excitement

The Cerritos College Falcon Band will march into the 1960-61 fall sports season. The organization will be marked by the "new look"; new faces, new uniforms, new music, new routines, and new shoes. In its first appearance tomorrow night at the Long Beach City College game, the Falcon marching crew will do a salute to Cerritos, in a program featuring Cerritos College school songs. Subsequent shows will include music from the Broadway musical "Music Man," and a salute to other colleges. As is tradition, the highlight of the season will be the special Christmas Show at half-time of the November 19 game with Glendale College.

Freshmen or sophomores interested in joining this, one of the school's most active groups, are urged to contact either Mr. Jack Wheaton, adviser, Lou Gross, drum major, or Gail Talan, secretary.

Pepsters Ready For Long Beach City College Grid Contest

Sparkling spirit, pert pep, and new color and excitement will mark the beginning of the fall sports season for the 1960-61 Falconville pep squad. Each of the groups has added at least one member to their total personnel. Last year's veteran pepsters will be joined by a galaxy of bright, new faces.

New Faces

The songleader, under the leadership of sophomore Nola Kessler, step out in new royal blue uniforms with white trim. Their new uniforms feature white gloves with blue music notes on the palm of the hands. Veteran songleaders Kay Stahl, Nola Kessler, Yvonne Brower, and Donna Boyd will be joined by newcomers Pat Kildow, a third semester student, and Kathy Zimmerman, a freshman graduate of Bellflower High School.

Last year's primary female yell team has been supplanted by a nearly all-male group. The only "letterman" on the squad is Bob Duncan, last year's Head Man. He will be the group's primary spokesman; although under a new system, the yell leaders will have no director and pass the mike chores around.

The four freshman in the group are Kirk Kirkwood, Gary Lindstrom, Bob Melton, and little Linda Coulter, the only distaff member of the squad.

Falconettes Debut

Although the entire Falconette team was not chosen until after deadline, the group as selected last spring is bigger than last year's team. The spring team will perform in the Long Beach City College game, and will be joined by the newer members for the season's second game with Fullerton.

For the first time, the girls will have two sets of uniforms, and alternate them for the various games. The first uniform is a pleated cotton one-piece costume, with silver trim. The second uniform is a blue corduroy jumper with a blue and white polka-dot blouse.

The team is short on veterans, Nancy Salvage and Georgia Oakes being the only returnees, but long on new talent. Wendy Sandler, Chris Van Houten, Sharon Peters, Sara McAntyre, Anita Jimenez, Nan McCoid, Sandi McPherson, Pat Coelho, Barbara Rendall, Sherron Scott, and Charlotte Alric add their skills to the twirling team.

Experienced Sophs Bright Frosh Share Pep Chores

Keeping in step with the football team, our band has something new in the form of uniforms. Adding color to the game will be their new outfits, which are blue and white with gold braid and trim. A golden falcon on each shoulder completes the picture.

The band, along with the other pep groups, will be making its first appearance of the 1960 football season. Taking part in the first football game will be the songleaders, yell leaders, Falconettes and band.

Alternate Uniforms

The Cerritos Falconettes, the only flag-twirling drill team in the United States, will make their appearance in pleated uniforms. During the season, the Falconettes will alternate between corduroy uniform with polka dot blouses and the pleated ones. The falcon capes will be worn during pre-game activities only.

The pre-game show consists of the band and drill team uniting to march onto the field, after which follows the flag salute. Following the salute, the spectators will join the groups in singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Half-time Show

In addition to the pre-game show, the band and Falconettes will also present a different half-time show at each home game. Starting the season off will be the band marching out onto the field to the tune of "Across the Field." Following this, the band will play "Sounding Brass" during which the Falconettes will do a routine which consists of twirling, marching and various dance steps.

After "Sounding Brass" the band and drill team will interlock to form the blue and white block C's. They will march off the field to the Cerritos College Fight Song.
