Patti Roberts, AS president, was recently elected parliamentarian of the California Junior College Student Government Association.

Miss Roberts will serve on the executive board, which consists of five officers from all over the state. She is the first student from Cerritos to hold an office in the state student government organization. She was elected by a combined faculty-student committee.

Her duties, scheduled to start about the third week of January, will include presiding over the order of the state assemblies. She will be required to attend many planning meetings in addition to the state conference which will be held at Disneyland in the middle of March.

"I was very pleased to be honored this way," Miss Roberts said. "Being interested in student government and the junior college movement in relation to the master plan, this gives me an opportunity to work at the state level of organization. I am also happy about my appointment, because it gives even more prestige to fast-growing Cerritos College."

The CJCSGA meets twice a year to discuss and take action on problems that affect students in student government.

Students Can Sell Used Textbooks Starting Jan. 28

Students interested in selling their textbooks will have an opportunity to do so on January 28, 29, and 30.

The representative from the College Book Company of California will be on the Cerritos campus on those days, according to Mrs. Wilma Maughan, student store clerk.

He will be buying books for the Cerritos book store and for outlets all over the state. Books which will not be used next semester at Cerritos may be sold to the College Book Company.

R. L. Beauchamp, manager of the student store, reports that all sales will be conducted at the side door of the store. It is hoped that this will prevent any confusion over the ownership of the books. Therefore, students are asked not to bring books they wish to sell into the book store.

Fifty per cent of the original cost will be offered for all books, except paperbacks, that are in good condition.

LBSC JOURNALISM DAY

'Marks' Takes Sweepstakes, Places in Eight Categories

By LEAH WALKER

Talon Marks walked away with the Sweepstakes award at Long Beach State College's third annual J-Day last week. The newspaper captured first and second place awards in eight out of the twelve categories of competition.

Sports editor Bill Kelley was awarded second place certificates in sports columns, and on-the-spot sports writing, and a first place trophy for sports coverage and makeup. Gloria Day, editor, won a second place certificate for her Beakins column.

Summer Students Win

awarded second place for on-the-spot news writing, and a first place trophy in the caption writing contest. Summer students Bill Reed and Sandra Shelley won second place awards for features and cartoons, respectively.

Green Speaks

Television newscaster Maury Green addressed the general assembly to begin the day's activities. Green discussed the opportunities and pitfalls of television journalism and gave the group a few pointers on how to be a good reporter. His speech also included several of his experiences as a reporter on the Chicago Tribune and the Los Angeles Times.

Bill Jones, assistant city editor of the Long Beach Press-Telegram, spoke at the J-Day luncheon. He gave an account of the many roles he had played as a reporter for the newspaper.

Workshops Conducted

The greater part of the day was taken up with workshops conducted by professional journalists and students at Long Beach State, and with the on-the-spot writing contests. A tour of the journalism facilities and the awards assembly rounded out the day.

Cerritos Plans Registered Nurse Training Program

By DEAN McLEOD

Elwyn C. Saferite, Dean of the Technical Arts Department, has announced plans to implement a registered nurse training program here at Cerritos.

The two-year program, which will provide more extensive training, will run parallel to the vocational nursing program, according to Saferite.

The program needs much planning and perfecting before it will go into effect, he said. Due to accept students in September of 1964, the program will provide a means of filling a critical shortage at the registered nurse level, according to Saferite.

The vocational nurses are doing more bedside care in the hospitals, and the present need is for leadership. He said that this work demands more detailed training and experience. This gap is filled by registered nurses.

Saferite said that all of next year will be spent completing the related details and problems. Once the program has been completed, approval must be granted from the administration and the State Board of Nursing Education.

Many local junior colleges have similar programs, including Pasadena City College, Mount San Antonio College, Fullerton Junior College, and Long Beach City College.

Summer Jobs

Job Placement Secretary
Mrs. Madge Coto now has the new summer job catalog. "The catalog lists summer jobs for students in 48 states," she said.

Students may ask to see the catalog in the Student Activities office, according to Mrs. Coto.

'Young' Author To Visit Cerritos

Emily Kimbrough, author of the best-seller Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, will speak in the Student Center January 23 at 8 p.m.

Miss Kimbrough's talk will be the seventh of 11 free forum lectures presented by the college for the community.

She has traveled extensively in Europe, and has authored several books accounting her adventures.

Gets First Job

Miss Kimbrough got her first job in the advertising department in Marshal Fields, of Chicago, about which she commented, "I had no right to get it. My approach was wrong and so was my appearance. I was wearing a picture hat and carrying my dog; I was dressed for a party, not a position."

EMILY KIMBROUGH
Forum Speaker

She went from that job to become editor of Field's Fashions of the Hour and also became one of the country's best dressed women.

Visits Hollywood

Our Hearts Were Young and Gay opened many new roads to Miss Kimbrough, when she went to Hollywood to become technical adviser for the filming of the book. That trip gave her material for her next book, We Followed Our Hearts to Hollywood.

She has been referred to as a "public speaker who follows her own maxims."

10 Heartbreakers Vie For Title 'Miss Heartbeat'

Miss Heartbeat will be chosen February 8 at the Cupid's Caper dance, sponsored by the College Recreation Association.

Ten Cerritos clubs have entrants for Miss Heartbeat. Vying for the title are Judy Hartough, Associated Men Students; Linda Mansell, Beta Tau; Sheridan Gallagher, Circle K; Nora Chenkel, Delta Phi Omega; and Rana Rocksien, CRA.

Other entrants are Marcia Collins, Newman Club; Cecilia Navarro, Sigma Phi; Sheila Matthews, Tau Phi; Carol Aquirre, Tau Rho Beta; and Carol Harrison, Theta Phi.

Voting for Miss Heartbeat will take place when the dance begins. The winner will be announced at 10:30 p.m.

The dance will be held in the Student Center from 9 to 12:30, and music will be provided by Jack Wheaton and his jazz band.

Admission to the dance is $1. Cindy Hawkins was last year's Miss Heartbeat winner. She was sponsored by Sigma Phi, men's service club.

Creative Teaching Reaps More Productive Students

Many junior college instructors have a tendency to belittle their students and are defensive about their own attitudes toward them.

Some of these instructors are convinced that teaching in a junior college is wasted effort and are continually bemoaning the lack of "talented" students at the junior college level.

What about the lack of talented instructors at the junior college level?

Some instructors apparently labor under the delusion that students who appear lethargic and indifferent during lectures are poor students. They conclude that these students deliberately resist every effort the instructor makes to pound the tediously prepared lecture into their stubborn, empty heads.

What instructors often fail to realize or admit is that their lectures are often tediously and lethargically prepared and delivered.

The same students, however, listening to an energetically delivered, thoughtfully conceived lecture are alert and eager to absorb the material.

These students are alert and willing to learn because the instructor cares deeply about his subject matter and about the way he presents it to his students. Such an instructor's students will learn and they will benefit from the learning.

And the instructor himself will reap the benefits of his work because he will have challenged, stimulated, and encouraged his students to learn, to grow, and to think for themselves, not only during their college days but throughout their lives.

These have been the goals of the teaching profession since the days of Socrates and Plato.

Students Praise Four Preps Assembly, Ask for 'More of the Same, Soon!'

Story and photos by Dorothy Cranston

On the Friday following the Four Preps Concert, Dean of Men Clive Grafton announced that about one-third of the student body cards that were punched at the concert had never been used.

Student reaction to the AS' first night "name" assembly was parallel to Dean Grafton's statement. Praises were many ... pans were few.

Larry Blom: I thought it was good. Students made a lot of noise during the jazz combo, but other than that I thought it was very well received. A lot of schools have what they call an artist series, and they have a lot of programs of this nature. I think this would be a good idea for Cerritos.

Jim Lewis: I thought it was an outstanding assembly. It is a good idea to have a big name assembly for our entertainment. I think we should have more assemblies of this type.

Suzanne Kudenoff: I enjoyed it very much. I thought that they were very good and we should have more assemblies like this. If we have better entertainers, we could maybe make some money too.

Bob Merrill: I was in a poor location during the assembly, so I had difficulty hearing it. The speaker system was poor, I noticed, but otherwise, it was great. It's a good idea to have good entertainment on campus. I wish we could have more of all types of entertainment.

Glenda Bowles: I thought they were good. This is the first time I saw them and I was surprised. I didn't expect a group like that—they were very nice. I think more assemblies would be very nice. I know other students would enjoy that, too.

Donna Olivieri: I really liked it. I had no criticism of it at all. I just thought it was great. I would rather have fewer name assemblies than more of no significance. I would pay admission to see a big name on campus again.

Commissioner of Rallies and Assemblies Judy Hartsough deserves much of the credit for bring The Four Preps to Cer-

BEAKIN'S

All Efforts To Gain Reprieve Fail; NBC Will Execute 'Man's World'

By GLORIA DAY

Two months ago the National Broadcasting Company found It's A Man's World guilty of low ratings and sentenced it to death; the execution is scheduled to take place on Monday, January 29.

At approximately 8:36 p.m., PST, the criminal will be declared dead. The people of Cordella, the small town setting of It's A Man's World, will be shovelled into a mass grave, out of sight forever of all those who have risen in their defense.

Re-create Trial

Let's re-create the trial and see if the evidence was conclusive enough to result in such a severe sentence.

It's A Man's World deals primarily with four young men who live on a ramshackle houseboat. The eldest, Wes McCauley, is trying to attend college, work part time in a filling station, raise his 13 year old brother properly, and still find time for social life with his girl Irene; Howie, the thirteen year old, is a bright youngster who shows signs of growing into a stable human being; Tom-Tom DeWitt is a rah-rah collegiate intellectual brimming with talent, exuberance, and a genius for getting himself involved in bizarre situations, and Vern is a guitar-strumming country boy who spends half his time working for the local grocer and the other half of his time resisting the attempts of Wes and Tom-Tom to enroll him in college.

Original Series

Sounds innocent enough so far, doesn't it? It may even sound dull to those of you who are accustomed to the violence and venality of The Untouchables and Hawaiian Eye. To the credit of the producers, directors, writers, and actors, however, It's A Man's World is a highly original, refreshing, warm, truthful, and occasionally, moving series.

It is difficult to explain just what makes it so refreshing, so original. Sometimes, taking apart and examining originality is destructive; when you try to put the pieces back together again they don't always fit. If you've ever watched It's A Man's World explaining it is unnecessary; if you haven't, explaining it is impossible.

Sponsors Panic

Apparently not enough people did watch the series, according to NBC and the rating services. When sponsors are informed that their message isn't reaching enough people, they panic. Their immediate reaction, once the initial panic has subsided long enough for them to think clearly, is to cancel sponsorship of a program; once that happens, the network cancels the program.

The crime It's A Man's World stood accused of, therefore, was of not getting its message across. Oh, the message of the series came through loud and clear; the message of the sponsor did not and that is a felony in television.

Loses Case

The defense attorneys—Peter Tewksbury (the show's creator), a few television columnists, the viewers, and the actors—were up against tough prosecuting attorneys, judges, and jury members: the combined forces of the rating services, the network, and Madison Avenue. No one has been able to beat them yet, and It's A Man's World lost its case.

Seek Reprieve

Tewksbury, the columnists, the viewers, and the actors have been trying to gain a last minute reprieve, and, hopefully, a pardon. The crime, however, is an unpardonable one and, barring any unforeseen developments, the execution will take place as scheduled.

It is possible that the ghost of It's A Man's World will rise to haunt the prosecutors, the (Continued on page 6)

Kleinerman Aids Foreign Students, Shows Concern for Their Problems

By GAY ANDERSON

Thirty seven members of the Cerritos student body are from foreign countries. Fourteen countries are represented by these students. This influx of various cultures is of great interest to some people on campus.

Kleinerman Concerned

Joseph Kleinerman, Cerritos foreign student adviser, is concerned about the problems facing these students. The main problem, according to Kleinerman, is that of the English language. It seems that the student finds difficulty in keeping up with the lectures in certain classes.

The average foreign student is also amazed at the cost of living in the United States, Kleinerman believes that most of them prepare their finances in accordance with their own country's economic standards and when faced with the prices in the United States, they are caught short.

Cerritos is hoping to end some of these difficulties by providing special English classes for the foreign student. The college also tries to help the student financially by finding jobs and housing for them.

Aware of Problems

Kleinerman is aware of the special frustrations facing the foreign student and is therefore a good choice for his current position. He is sympathetic partly because he is originally from another country, and also because he speaks several foreign languages and is better able to communicate with the foreign students.

Attend Other Colleges

Before coming to Cerritos, students attended several other colleges, including Hannibal, La Grange, U.S.C., Coptic College, and the Art College in Devon England. The majority of the students are engineering majors; however, there are also pre-med majors, social science majors, art majors, psychology major and business majors from other countries at Cerritos.

It is hoped that American students attending foreign colleges are able to represent the United States as well as Cerritos' foreign students represent their countries.

Oriental Student Fulfills Desire for U.S. Schooling

By DEAN McLEOD

Twenty four year old Sadaharu Honda, born in a large semi-Americanized home in Tokyo, wants to build roads. This quiet but intense desire has brought him halfway around the world to the United States, to California, and to Cerritos.

Several years ago, while attending his karate class near his home, he met a young American named Caylon Adkins. They became friends and Handa expressed his desire to come to the United States. He wanted to come here to go to school, a wish shared by many Japanese.

One month ago, he landed at Los Angeles International Airport and was met by Adkins. Now living with the Adkins family, Honda will attend Cerritos next semester.

Recently he was asked his first impression of the United States. "You seem to be always searching for enjoyment here; the Japanese are poorer and don't have time to play like you do. They want to, though," he added with a light smile. When questioned concerning his thoughts of American freeways he said: "They are good; we are building them now in Japan and some will be completed soon."

In answer to questions about the Japanese school system he said that they are similar to American schools but the big difference is that "very few students drop out in Japan once they begin college."

Honda plans to improve his English while at Cerritos, then transfer to U.S.C. or U.C.L.A. for graduate work in civil engineering.

His goal is to help develop the roads in Indonesia, Burma and other East Asian countries.

COUNSELOR JOSEPH KLEINERMAN discusses next year's program with foreign student Ghobari. All Kleinerman takes a great interest in the welfare of Cerritos' foreign students.

Feeney Introduces Classical Music Via His Classes

Instructor of Music Appreciation, John Feeney, reports that the majority of Cerritos students are at one time or another enrolled in one of his classes.

Many of the students entering the course have never been exposed to fine music, according to Feeney. The appreciation courses "open the door to students, allowing them to be aware of what they hear."

Feeney hopes that after taking the course students will in later life, when they have time to enjoy and appreciate fine music, have some basic background and understanding of it.

Feeney thinks that the names of performers and composers should be as familiar to people as the names of sports heroes.

In Feeney's estimation, the most interesting of the composers is Mozart, and he "would recommend taking recordings of this man's work if one were stranded on a desert island."

San Diego Cagers Here; Vikings Beat Cerritos

Cerritos' basketball team was handed their first league defeat by the El Camino Warriors 83-78 in overtime last Friday night.

The Falcons got off to a quick start behind the reliable shooting of Gary McCoy. The Falcon hoopmen had as much as a 7-point lead during most of the second half, until careless ball control errors became dominant as El Camino put on a full court press. By the time the half time buzzer sounded the best the Falcons could salvage was a 2-point margin.

Just as soon as the second half started the Falcons were back in the first half groove. El Camino dominated the remainder of the game. The Falcons kept fighting their way back behind the fantastic shooting of Gary McCoy and Gerry Herrick. But as soon as they could score El Camino would come right back behind the brilliant shooting of forward Bob Ingelman and add two more. Ingelman scored 23 points in the second half to keep the Falcons under constant pressure.

With a 4:41 left the Falcons were down by 6 points. Then they made their move. McCoy hit on a pair of free throws, then Gerry Herrick connected with two field goals, the latter coming just as the buzzer sounded, and the game went into overtime.

The Falcons were at a handicap with team high scorers Gary McArthur out of the game on fouls, and the loss of the rebounding of Joe Jennom proved to be just enough to let El Camino squeeze by 83-78.

Gary McCoy's and Gerry Herrick's combined total was 42 points just 5 shy of Bob Ingelman's and Dale Moon's total of 47 which was exactly the difference between the two teams at the end of the game.

Long Beach dominated the first half of play not only by

The efforts of Gary McCoy and Gary McArthur were fruitless as the Falcons fell behind farther.

Long Beach City's front line crashed the boards for 58 rebounds while Cerritos was held in check for a mere 36. High scorers on the winning Viking five were Harvey Roy and Ron Waldie with 14 while Falcon leadin gscorers McCoy and McArthur chipped in 17 and 14 points in losing effort.

Baseball Squad To Begin Practice

Cerritos coach Wally Kincaid will begin practice next month for the up and coming baseball season. Last season the Falcon horsehiders won the Western States Conference championship with a 13-1 record.

This year Kincaid will have three players back from last season's squad who made the all-conference first team. They provide power down the middle with the presence of Mike Ash doing the catching chores, Fred Yanez at shortstop and Jerry Harmon at second base.

Further providing strength through the center of the field will be pitcher Jack Milks and centerfielder Ed Mendez. Both players were named to the second team of the Western Conference last year.

Also returning from last year's team will be third baseman Fred Dyer who was also voted to the second team and hard hitting outfielder Roger Cannon.

Falcon Wrestlers Hold 2-1 Record

Cerritos College's wrestling team will take a break for finals before resuming competition February 1, against conference foe Los Angeles Valley. To date the Falcon Matmen have compiled a 2-1 record.

They opened the season by defeating Santa Ana 28-15. After losing the first three light weight divisions, Phil Pena got the ball rolling by pinning his man in the 147 lb. bracket.

Dave Smith then out-pointed his man to make the score 15-8 in favor of the Dons. Nick Caputo, wrestling at 167 lbs., pinned his opponent to bring the Falcons within three points.

Mel Rosen tied it up by decisioning his man in the 177 lb. division. After Gerald Collier was awarded five points due to a forfeit, Sheldon Bromberg pinned his man in the heavyweight class to finish the scoring.

El Camino then soundly trounced the Falcon grapplers 36-10. Cerritos' only points came on forfeit wins by Gerald Garcia and Bill Klump.

Coach Smokey Cates men got back on the winning track when they returned home last week and defeated Orange Coast 24-18.

115 lb. Garcia pinned his opponent to start the match and Andy Poochigan followed up by also pinning his man in the 123-lb division.

Orange Coast tied it up after two forfeits and went ahead when Pirate Don Matson out-

The Falcons then took the lead again as Rosen out-scored his man. The Pirates took five points in the 177 lb. division to move back into the lead.

Down two points, Bromberg gained a decision over his man and Klump gathered five points to wrap up the victory.

Intramural Squads In Championship Duel

Prior to tonight's varsity basketball game between Cerritos and San Diego, the two top intramural basketball squads will meet to decide the championship. The game is set to start at 6 p.m. in the Falcon gym.

One of the teams will be composed of Gary Frazier, Dick DeGen, Mike Wixted, Duffy Matheus, Paul Stuber, Bill Cort and Marshall Adair.

Opposing them will be Burt Smith, Bill Perry, Ron Price, Bill Tucker, Chuck White, Larry Hilliard, Leon Dodge and Dave Roth.

The winners will receive trophies immediately after the game.

PLAYER OF WEEK

Harvey Sheperd Gains Weekly Cage Honors

Player of the week honors go to Falcon forward Harvey Sheperd for his brilliant defensive play during the El Camino game last Friday.

The 200 lb., 6' 4" freshman from El Rancho had 9 defensive rebounds and shot 50 per cent of his field goal attempts; hitting 3 of 6. Sheperd added a freethrow in the second period to bring his total point out put to 9 points on the evening.

Even though other Falcons looked impressive in the scoring column, Sheperd was chosen because he came off the bench cold and helped his team more in the time that he played.

Edwards Teaches Spring Creative Writing Classes

English instructor David Edwards will teach two classes in creative writing during Cerritos' spring semester.

The classes will study methods of character creation, plot building, and establishing motions and moods, according to Oscar Littleton, chairman of the Humanities division.

The creative writing classes were designed primarily for students who are interested in writing short stories, personal essays, or poems and "to those who seek a better understanding of fiction and the methods of established authors," Littleton said.

Instructor Edwards said that students will hear their work read and discussed informally in class, and "possibly have their work published in The Sagittarian, Cerritos' forthcoming literary magazine."

The classes will meet Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 1 p. m., and on Wednesdays from 7:30 to 10 p. m., Edwards said.

ICC To Change Awards System

A detailed change in the Inter Club Council Awards system was approved last week by the Student Council, it was announced recently.

Swaying from the old plan of one service trophy, the new plan incorporates three divisions of excellence, service scholarship, and outstanding projects.

Still standing is the service trophy going to the high point club in service. A certificate of service will be awarded to the second and third place winners.

A committee will be set up at the beginning of the fall semester, which will be made of two service club representatives, two special interest club representatives, and administration representatives to determine the winners.

The club with the highest scholarship will be awarded a trophy by Alpha Gamma Sigma, scholarship society. The scholarship trophy will be perpetual.

Clubs that receive plaques for outstanding projects will be decided by a standing committee comprised of the Dean of Men, Dean of Women, Administrator of Personal Services, ICC president, and AS president. This board will meet two weeks prior to the awards day.

College Adds Debate Course

Augmentation and Discussion has been proposed to the curriculum committee as an addition to the speech course here.

This three unit course will give an introduction to the general principles of discussion and debate, according to Humanities Chairman Oscar Littleton. It will also involve practice in research and use of evidence with emphasis on using emotion, logic, and ethics in argument.

The addition of this course will enable Cerritos to offer a speech major in the lower division, Littleton concluded that this course will parallel those offered at the state colleges and universities.

4000 Pre-Register For Spring Semester

Four thousand and two full and part time students have pre-registered for the Spring semester at Cerritos which starts February 4, according to Edward Wagner, Dean of Admissions and Records.

9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. on Friday.

Because Cerritos is a tuition-free accredited college, students may transfer to other colleges and universities with full credit toward their bachelor degrees, Wagner said.

Beat Last Year

"We are about 15 per cent ahead of last year at this time," Wagner said. "Most of our continuing students have already planned their spring program; from now on we will be getting mostly new students," he said.

Still Registering

Pre-registration will continue through January 28 in the office of admissions located in the administration building. The admissions office is open 8 a.m. to

'Dead Week' Starts Jan. 21

January 18 marks the beginning of Dead Week on the Cerritos campus.

Dead Week is exactly what the name implies—dead. From January 18 to February 4, no school dances, club meetings, or activities on or off campus are planned.

Students will attend classes and take final examinations but no extra-curricular functions will take place.

Dead Week has no effect on athletic activities, according to Amy Dozier, dean of women.

judges, and the jury members, and the next time a defendant whose only crimes are originality, warmth, and truth faces them, they'll vote for acquittal.

Don't count on it though.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE (FALL SEMESTER, 1962 - 1963)

DAY CLASSES: Final examinations for all day classes, including laboratories (8 a.m. to 5 p.m.), except Engineering 48, will be held according to this schedule. Examinations in Engineering 48 may be held during the last regular session of the class.

Examinations, except for physical education activity classes (see supplementary room schedule for physical education activity sections (will be held in the rooms used for the regular class meetings).

Classes which regularly meet for a double period one day and a single period another day—e.g., 8-10 T; 9 Th—will take the final examination scheduled for that hour on which the class meets both days—for above example, 9TTh.

Police Science classes will meet for final examinations on the last class meeting scheduled.

Students who are unable, because of personal illness, to take examinations as scheduled must make individual arrangements with instructors involved. Notification of such illness should be made promptly to the Counseling Office in order to avoid receiving a failing grade.

EXTENDED DAY CLASSES (6 p.m. and after) will meet as regularly scheduled through January 30, except that the last class meeting will be a two-hour session for final examinations.
