English 50 May Require Average Grade

Students in English 50 may have to earn a C grade or better to advance to English I in the future.

The decision to up requirements for English I was approved by the college administration on the basis of an English department recommendation.

Oscar Littleton, chairman of the Humanities Division, emphasized that students currently enrolled in English 50 will not be affected. A decision on when to put the requirement into effect will be forthcoming when various details involved are worked out, he said.

Current requirements for English I, the regular freshman English program, call for a passing score on the college placement test or a passing grade of D or better in the remedial English 50 course.

The English department based its decision on the results of a study made last year by Dr. Robert Bos of the counseling office. The study evaluated the success of former English 50 students in the English I program.

The study showed that 67 per cent of the students who received D's in English 50 earned D's or F's in English I. Only 30 per cent of the former C students dropped to D or F, however.

According to Littleton, the C grade or better requirement is "a common practice" at other colleges, though various schools differ widely. Some require a B grade from remedial English programs before allowing a student to progress into English I.

Clubs Ready For Freddie Falcon Service Week

The service clubs of Cerritos are making preparations for the annual Freddie Falcon Service Week, November 19 to 21, according to Dean of Women Amy Dozier.

Community Chest Drive

Activities planned include a Community Chest Drive sponsored by the Associated Women Students. AMS president Charlene Carter invites all clubs to participate and help make the drive a successful one.

The Associated Men Students are sponsoring a Tin Can Hop on November 21. Everyone attending is requested to bring a can of food, which will serve as an admission fee to the Hop.

Give to Needy

The food will be turned over to a community center which will distribute it to needy families for the Christmas holidays, according to AMS president Mike Ash.

"Come and have fun at the Hop, but don't forget to bring a can of food to help someone less fortunate than yourself," Ash added.

EDUCATORS HONORED

2000 Present at Assembly, Hear Brainwashing Speech

Two California educators received awards here last week for their work on a three-year study committee that produced guidelines for teaching about communism in the public schools.

Honored in Convocation

Honored in a college-wide convocation assembly Friday were Dr. Jack W. Mears, president of Cerritos College, and Dr. Marian Wagstaff, Los Angeles State College professor of education. The booklet Teaching About Communism resulted from their work on a joint National Education Association and American Legion study committee.

Keynote Address

More than 2000 students, faculty, education representatives, Legion officials, and area citizens heard Navy Commander William B. Barnes urge Americans to have a moral reawakening and return to God and Country in the keynote address that followed the presentation of awards.

Commander Barnes flew from Washington D. C. to speak on communist brainwashing techniques and the breakdown in moral leadership.

Expert on Brainwashing

Cmdr. Barnes said that there is more danger of the communists capturing us through propaganda and moral breakdown than there is in a hot war. A veteran of more than 1900 combat flights and a Pentagon authority on brainwashing in Korea, he gave examples of techniques used by communists to successfully capture men's minds.

In Korea, Cmdr. Barnes related, the communists tore down the inter-relationships among men by "self-confession" periods, mail censorship that allowed only depressing news through, a unique informer method, and an educational program designed to give the communist view of world history.

Communists Dedicated

The disassociation of the individual was so complete, he said, that four out of 10 men subjected to this brainwashing died. "We must recognize that communists exist," he said. "They are sincere and dedicated . . .

Edelweiss Will Present Film About Life of Beethoven

Edelweiss, the German Club of Cerritos College, is presenting the full-length German motion picture Eroica tonight, at 8 p.m. in the Student Center. The film portrays the life of Ludwig Van Beethoven, his successes, struggle and tragedy.

Excerpts from the Overtures, the Third, Fifth, and Sixth Symphonies, the Choral Symphony, and Fidelio will be heard. The love story behind the composition of the Moonlight Sonata is also featured.

Everyone Invited

The locale of the movie is Vienna during the Napoleonic era and the photography of this picture with its authentic background is outstanding. There are English subtitles and the public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge, according to Gary Falbe, Edelweiss president.

Edelweiss is planning a variety program for its Annual Christmas Festival. Renowned soloists will perform and the highlight of the program will be the String Quartet with Jack Feeney, music instructor, playing viola and the Women's Ensemble under the direction of

Alpiners Featured

Music for dancing after the program will be provided by the Continental trio The Alpiners. There is no admission charge, according to club adviser Mrs. Margaret Bluske.

Falcon's Nest

NEXT EDITION OF TALON MARKS will be published November 30, according to Editor Gloria Day. She urges club presidents and others interested in coverage for that issue to contact her at Ext. 374.

TICKETS WILL GO ON SALE

Monday, for The Red Eye of Love. Tickets will be 25 cents for student body and card holders and $1 without. The play is scheduled to open Friday, November 30 in the Transistor Theater.

Council Members Now in Asilomar For Conference

The delegates are Steve Altig, Dorothy Cranston, Carol Morgan, Patti Roberts, and Dave Roth.

Workshops at the Conference include current junior college problems, judicial systems, cultural programs, freshman orientation programs, campus publications, and foreign students.

Other workshops are on Inter-Club Council and club activities, financial problems, public relations, school spirit, and intramural programs.

There will also be a president's workshop at which recommendations and resolutions will be discussed.

The purpose of the conference is to make recommendations or resolutions to various legislative and organizational groups.

Sixty-seven junior colleges will take part in the state confab. Five delegates will attend from each junior college.

Talon Marks Wins 'First Class' Honor Rating

The Cerritos Talon Marks recently received a first class rating for the Spring semester 1961-62 from the Associated College Press. The rating is equal to a grade of excellent.

The judging took place this past summer at the University of Minnesota. Judges were professional newspapermen and women and persons with extensive backgrounds in publications work.

Newspapers entered in the judging were rated on coverage, content, and physical properties. Points were given for each category and total scores determined the class rating.

Under the editorship of Sara Middleton, the Spring volume also received a second place trophy at the California State Fair last year.

Newspaper adviser John Dowden stated that the first class award came with Talon Marks' first appearance in a critical rating situation. "I am proud of the staff and it is gratifying to know that Talon Marks held up so well in national competition," he added.

Dowden went on to say that the critical rating helped point out the weak spots and show up the strong areas of Talon Marks. "With the nucleus of last year's staff back this semester, I believe we will improve even more," he concluded.

This year's staff, under editor Gloria Day, is planning a change in the paper's format and will do quite a bit of experimenting with make-up and content during the semester.

Nixon's Seventh Crisis

Most of us have had the experience of being rejected by a friend or loved one when we needed them. We are usually able to adjust to the situation, and go on with our lives.

Because of our resiliency in such situations, we find it difficult to imagine how we would act if we were rejected by millions of people.

Richard M. Nixon has had that experience twice in his political life; he was apparently unable to accept or believe it the second time.

Nixon's press conference ("my last") the day after he lost the California Gubernatorial election to Pat Brown was a pathetic spectacle.

Any image of strength and self-confidence he had been able to project was completely shattered. Looking pale and haggard, Nixon attacked the press for "unfair coverage", wallowed in self-pity, and convinced the people who had voted for Brown that their judgement was sound.

Brown reportedly said that Nixon would be sorry the rest of his life for saying the things he did; the statement referred to Nixon's personal, not his political, future.

It is hard to be on the losing end, but the way Nixon reacted to his loss was a sad reminder that six crises were all he could endure.

Nixon snapped under the pressure of the seventh; his self-respect may depend upon how well he faces the eighth.

Illness Forces TV's Maharis To Make Detour Off Route 66

By GLORIA DAY

"When one hears the adage 'the show must go on,' it generally translates into 'don't fold up now you burn, or we'll all be out of work.'"—Hal Humphrey, television columnist, Los Angeles Times.

The rigorous schedule of a weekly television series has drained the strength and affected the health of many performers, including Raymond Burr, Arthur Godfrey, Loretta Young, Red Skelton, and Kathy Nolan. The latest victim is George Maharis of Route 66.

Suffers Relapse

Maharis recently suffered a recurrence of the infectious hepatitis which felled him last Spring. The ailment is a serious one, and has sharply curtailed the careers of several personalities.

Ideally, Maharis should have had at least six months to recuperate from his first attack; his schedule allowed him two. The show had to go on, for the sake of the sponsors, the network, the "fans," and the ratings.

Strenuous Format

The format of Route 66 calls for its heroes (Maharis and Martin Milner) to travel all over the United States, so for the sake of realism the shows are shot in the actual locales. Travel is wearing in itself; when you add 12 to 14 hours of work a day involving strenuous physical activity, extremes in weather conditions, plus the pressure imposed by shooting an hour-long film once a week, you get a clear picture of why Maharis had a relapse.

A "spokesman" for Maharis admitted this week that he'd gone back to work too soon. So now Maharis will have that long rest he needs, you think. Now he will be able to regain his health completely. Of course he will.

Because the same "spokesman" said that as a result of his latest illness, Maharis could not return to work—well, not for at least three to five weeks, anyway, and then only on a very, very, "limited" schedule.

Another Detour

Which means that if Maharis does return to the series, it could only be a matter of time before he will be forced to make another detour off Route 66 into a hospital bed, and Milner will have to find a new passenger. That's show biz.

RUSTLINGS

How to Improve Rallies

Editor:

In a recent edition of Talon Marks, a question concerning rallies and student assemblies was raised. This question was: how can we improve our rallies? I have two suggestions that would, I believe, if carried out, ameliorate student assemblies. First, do not allow the band to play. And, secondly, do not allow the coaches to speak.

I am certain that if Henry Mancini, the composer of the tune Peter Gunn, had heard the way it was "played" by the band, he would have died on the spot. Surely our band is capable of doing better work. And, it is little wonder that more people do not sing the Cerritos Alma Mater; most people can not stay off key that long. To quote the title of a currently popular number, the band was Slightly Out of Tune.

Now I realize that a rally is to appeal to the emotion of the students and not to their intellect. However, as I listened to our coaches speak, the only thing that appealed to me was a hasty exit. I am sure that our coaches will be the first to admit that they are not orators. For this reason, I feel they should have some student speak for them after they are introduced.

In summation, let me say that I am not trying to belittle anyone or any group. Nor am I attempting to be overly critical or waggish. The above merely reflects my thinking on the subject of rallies at Cerritos College.

Yours truly,

Lee R. McDaniels

Cerritos students refrain from singing the Alma Mater because they don't know the words; not because our band is out of tune —Editor.

Vivid Cabeen Lectures Hold Students In Trance

By DEAN McLEOD

Dr. Charles Cabeen believes in making his psychology classes vivid. Late in each semester he hypnotizes several students from his Psychology II classes to demonstrate the merits and disadvantages of hypnotism.

Natural Phenomenon

"Many people still believe hypnotism is some sort of toy, and not a scientific tool," he says. "It is a natural phenomenon and may be useful in psychological analysis by professional people."

Dr. Cabeen gives students who volunteer for his demonstrations a susceptibility test to determine if the volunteer is vulnerable to hypnotic suggestion. The practical reason for this is that the class periods allow only a short period of time for the demonstration.

The demonstrations help to dispel the misconceptions that persons who are weak willed are easily put into a trance, and that persons can be hypnotized against their will.

Willingness Essential

Dr. Cabeen says that being "weak willed has little to do with susceptibility to hypnotic suggestion, but that a willingness to be hypnotized is essential."

"Because women are usually more passive than men," he says, "they tend to be easier to hypnotize." However, Dr. Cabeen says this is not an absolute rule.

Has Private Practice

In addition to his classes at Cerritos, Dr. Cabeen maintains a private practice in clinical psychology in Santa Ana. He served as a staff psychologist at Metropolitan State Hospital in Norwalk for eight years.

Tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. in the library, Dr. Cabeen will speak to the Faculty Wives Club on common emotional problems of children.

Falcons Will Not Race Alligator At Bakersfield

Cerritos was recently invited to enter the first National Collegiate Baby Alligator Race, according to Associated Student President Patti Roberts.

John Casey, AS president of Bakersfield College, scene of the planned race, sent the invitation stating, "We feel that the alligator population in the United States deserves a place in American history."

Miss Roberts sent a reply declining the invitation. She said she felt "It would be a detriment to Cerritos' morale if we were not classified with institutions of our own caliber, such as Harvard, Stanford, and Oxford."

Miss Roberts said she wished Bakersfield's alligator "the best of luck."

Religious Group Active at Cerritos

By DEAN McLEOD

Lambda Delta Sigma, a little known club at Cerritos, has been doing many things behind the scenes this year.

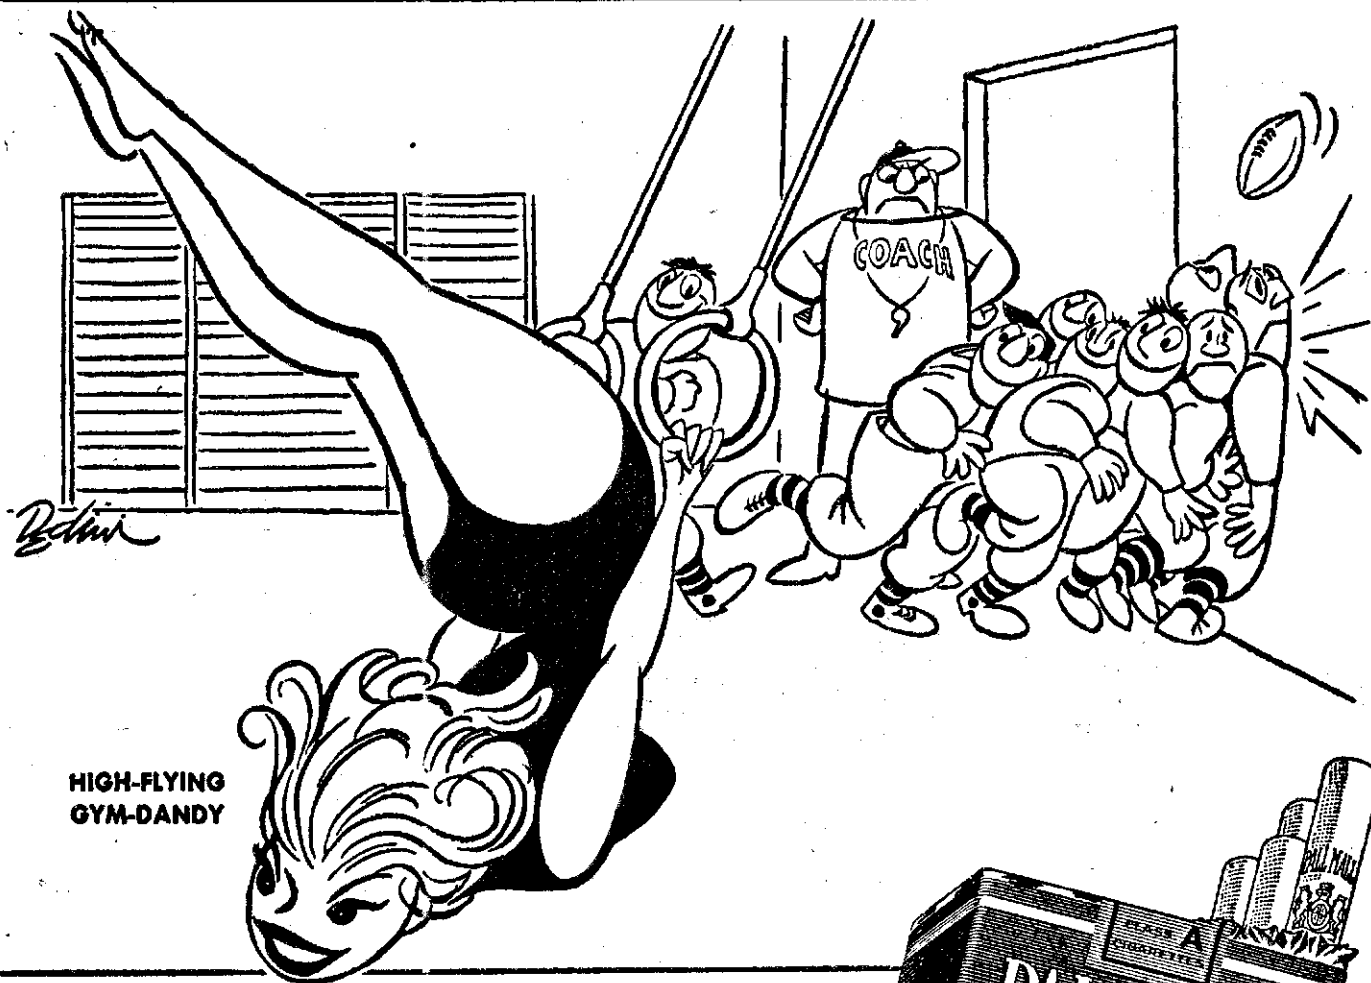

The club's 21 members meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a.m. off-campus. Lambda Delta Sigma is a religious organization sponsored by the Mormon church for the promotion of Latter Day Saint ideals.

Among other activities, the club has to its credit the volunteer decorating for the City of Norwalk birthday dinner that was held in the Student Center October 4. They entered a float in the Homecoming competition and took a second place ribbon.

Once a semester the Cerritos Chapter Sigma combines with Lambda Delta Sigma groups from all over Southern California to have a banquet and dance. Lowell Anderson, adviser to the club, reported that when Cerritos membership reaches 30, the club will become affiliated with the national fraternity.

An interesting feature of the club is the fact that membership is good towards college credit at Brigham Young University.

Pall Mall Presents~GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

HIGH-FLYING GYM-DANDY

CAMPUS TYPE IV

Few sights in all the world of girl watching are as breathtaking as the unexpected observation of a Gym-Dandy in midair maneuver. Plato might well have had the Gym-Dandy in mind when he wrote, "When a beautiful soul harmonizes with a beautiful form, and the two are cast in one mould, that will be the fairest of sights to him who has the eye to contemplate the vision."

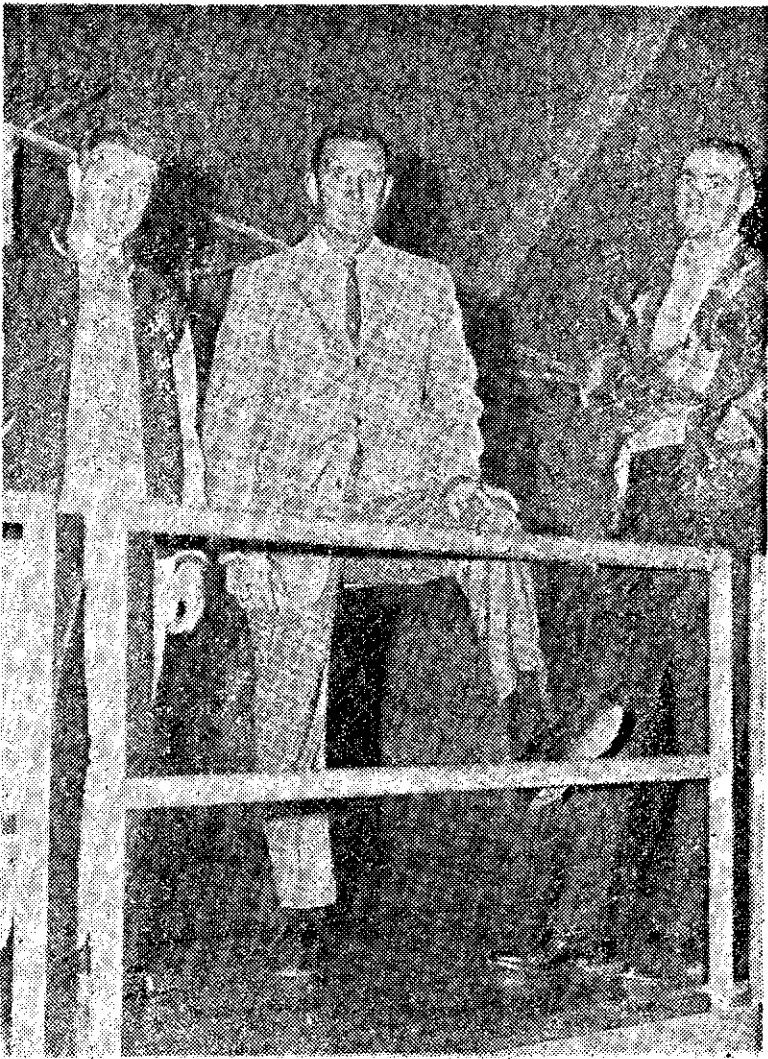

Although the Gym-Dandy is a joy to behold even while tightening the laces of her sneakers, she must be seen in action to be fully appreciated. The same thing is true of a Pall Mall. It's a long, firm cigarette in a handsome package, but it must be tasted to be fully appreciated. Try Pall Mall and see.

Falcons, El Camino Put Equal Records on Line In Season Finale

By Bill Kelley

Two high scoring teams with equal conference and season records will bring down the curtain on college football as far as they are concerned when Cerritos plays host to El Camino tomorrow night.

Both teams were given a good chance to appear in post season bowl games, but each has now suffered two conference defeats to bar any possibilities.

The Warriors of El Camino, who at one time were rated as the nation's top junior college team, have amassed points at an average of better than 30 points per game. Their 14 points against Long Beach City accounts for two-thirds of the points scored against the Vikings.

Last week the Warriors avenged the last second defeat that Santa Monica pinned on Cerritos as they came up with a late touchdown to narrowly nip the Corsairs 21-18.

The team from Torrance is led by All-Conference quarterback John Torok. An exceptional passer, Torok is equipped with a set of speedy ends and backs to receive his tosses.

Their scoring punch is led by a hard running fullback by the name of Bill Kelley. To go along with his running talents, Kelley is also a top-notch place kicker.

Also in the Warriors talented backfield is halfback Jim Allison who was voted on the All-American defensive unit last year.

Cerritos head coach Don Hall has stated that this year's Falcon squad is the best team he has coached in his successful four years at Cerritos.

Coach Ken Swearingen is also equipped with the best El Camino team since 1954 when they went to the Junior Rose Bowl.

Tomorrow night's game should produce plenty of action and scoring as the two top notch teams wrap up the season.

Poloists Eye First Place Sink Long Beach City 7-1

Tonight at 4 p.m. Cerritos Falcons' water polo team will play host to the El Camino Warriors. The Falcons need to win this last league game to secure at least a tie with Long Beach City for the Metro-league crown.

Last Friday the Falcons beat previously unbeaten Long Beach City College 7-1. The Falcon win gave Cerritos and Long Beach identical 8-1 league records with one remaining league game. Cerritos' only previous defeat came at the hands of the Vikes by a 96 count in double overtime.

The Falcons took a 3-0 lead at the end of the first quarter, added a goal in the second quarter, one in the third and two in the fourth. Scoring honors went to Dave Ashleigh with four goals.

Bill Leos scored two and Wayne Fairbanks pushed one past the Vikes to end the game at 71.

If the Falcons and Vikes should both win their remaining contests, both teams will go into Southern California Junior College Tournament.

Southern California's water-polo forecasters predict that either Orange Coast College, Cerritos College, Fullerton Junior College, or Long Beach City College will represent Southern California in the State finals.

Last week, the Falcons had little trouble in handing Santa Monica their seventh straight loss in Metro-play. Last Saturday the Falcons continued their winning ways by notching 19 goals to Los Angeles Valley's 3.

Sophomore Footballers Say So Long

Tomorrow night's encounter with El Camino will see twenty-one sophomores playing their final game for Cerritos. The game will end an exciting era of Cerritos football played Art Delvaux style.

The little scatback, who was elected most inspirational player on the 1961 team and chosen to the All American team, has scored nine touchdowns and 54 points for the Falcons so far this year.

Also saying goodbye will be backs Ricky Alvarado, Joe Badillo, Buddy Cox, Bill Perry, Wayne Reid, Louis Santiago and Mike Stroud.

Linemen playing their final game will be ends Ed Mendez, Al Spoolstra, Lynn Blouch, and Lou Vellone. Tackles are Mike Dean, Doug Van Diest, Mike Welch, Don Moye, and Cecil Meiser.

Allan Asam, who was forced to miss the major part of the season with a broken arm, will also be in his last game.

Santa Ana, Vikes Contend For Spot In Jr. Rose Bowl

After the stunning 0-0 tie between Long Beach City and Bakersfield, Santa Ana and the Vikings appear to be the strongest contenders for the California representative in the Junior Rose Bowl.

Long Beach was actually outplayed in their encounter with Bakersfield but managed to remain on the unbeaten list. The Renegades crossed the Viking goal line at one point but the score was cancelled due to a penalty.

Santa Ana earned recognition when they soundly trounced Orange Coast last week. Both teams were undefeated at the time.

Should the Dons get the nod, Bakersfield is hoping for a rematch with Long Beach in the Potato Bowl.

Coach Jim Stangeland had proposed that his Vikings meet Santa Ana in a playoff game to decide who gets the honor. His idea was not accepted by the Junior Rose Bowl committee, however.

Grafton On Top Of Prediction Race

The Talon Marks grid prediction race was broken up last week as Dean of Men Clive Grafton moved one game ahead of Administrative Assistant Don Desfor. The two had been tied for the last three weeks.

Grafton shared weekly honors with Marks adviser John Dowden as the pair achieved 12-2 records. For Dowden, the mark enabled him to climb from sole possession of the cellar into a last place tie.

Desfor had a 11-3 week which dropped him to second. Bill Kelley also combined a 11-3 showing to move back into third place.

Gridders Frolic In 44-6 Victory Over LA Valley

Cerritos came up with its most convincing victory of the year last week when they easily handled the Monarchs of Los Angeles Valley 44-6.

The Falcons were able to play their talented third team for the first time after the regulars broke the game open in the third quarter when they freely scored 26 points.

Steady Art Delvaux opened the Cerritos scoring when he scooted 38 yards for the Falcon's first six in the first period. Lee Bales added another six in the second quarter on a seven yard jaunt. This gave Cerritos an unimpressive 12-0 lead at halftime.

The next half developed into a demonstration on how to score points however as the Falcons tore loose.

Delvaux Does It Again

Delvaux once again opened the doors with a 40 yard touchdown run. Two offensive plays later, Marshall Adair found Eddie Mendez open and connected on a 32 yard pass play.

Ricky Alvarado took his turn and chose Biagio Zaby for his target. The result was a 50 yard touchdown pass. Reserve back Bill Roman went the final four yards of a 34 yard drive which took one play to put Cerritos ahead 38-0.

The final fourth period produced the Monarch's lone score when quarterback Al Crawford tossed a 14 yard touchdown pass to Jim Williams.

Meiser Misses

Falcon tackle Cecil Meiser then achieved brief glory when he scooped up an onside kick-off and raced 45 yards for a touchdown. Minutes later it was decided that the ball had not traveled the required ten yards on the kick-off and Meiser was forced to relinquish his score.

Cerritos ended the wild game in wild fashion when third string quarterback Leroy Perkins elected to pass on fourth down with 29 yards to go. Standing deep in his own territory, Perkins calmly passed to Gregg Sukasian for a 74 yard touchdown.

QUARTERBACK RICK ALVARADO finds the way cleared for him as he rambles for yardage against Los Angeles Valley. The Falcons defeated the Monarchs 44-6.

Kelley's Kolumn

By Bill Kelley

There doesn't seem to be enough junior college post season bowl games to take care of the increasing jaycee football powers in the state.

It now seems likely that Santa Ana will go to the Junior Rose Bowl with Long Beach settling for the Potato Bowl. Hometown Bakersfield will no doubt be scheduled as the Vikings' opponent.

Cerritos of course defeated one of these teams and played the other to a near tie.

Although the Falcons are good enough to make a post season bowl appearance (in my opinion), there are other teams in the area who I feel also rate the opportunity.

Glendale College suffered a loss to Long Beach in their opening game and has since come back to win their last seven games and the last five by whopping scores.

Orange Coast and Fullerton of the Eastern Conference have also had impressive seasons as have Santa Monica and El Camino in our own league.

There are several other junior college bowl games beside the Rose and Potato but they rarely accept the larger and better jaycee teams.

I believe that Cerritos has adequate accommodations for a bowl game to be held annually in our own stadium. It could pit the Southland's fourth football power against one of the top Northern teams or one from the Southwest states. They could call it the Dairy Bowl or Cal Bowl or anything but I would be nice to have one.

L.A. Valley Edges Harrier Squad In Metro Finals

Los Angeles Valley nipped Cerritos by two points in the Metropolitan Conference finals last Wednesday to take top honors in the league cross country meet.

After going through the season undefeated, Coach Dave Kamanski's harriers fell to the Monarchs, 55 to 57. The Falcon's only other defeat of the year came in the Mt. Sac Invitational which Valley also won.

Finishing behind Cerritos were El Camino with 68 points, Long Beach 75, San Diego 98, Bakersfield 170, East Los Angeles 195 and Santa Monica 199.

Dick Krenzer of Valley was the individual winner, covering the 3.25 mile Centinela Park course in 16:06. Roman Perez was the first Falcon runner to cross the finish line, finishing fourth with a time of 16:19.

Other Cerritos runners were Jim Peeso, 6th in 16:36; Jim Mason, 10th at 16:45; Jack Ward, 15th at 16:56; Clarence Creagor, 22nd in 17:10; Witty Senglub, 30th with a time of 17:47 and Bob Michel was 38th in 18:21.

Next week the Falcons travel to Pierce where they will face the best teams Southern California has to offer in the Southern Cal finals. Favorite teams that Cerritos will have to contend with are Santa Ana, Glendale, Pierce and Valley.

Forensics Squad Delivers Two Top Performances

Two outstanding performances were given by the Cerritos Forensics squad recently: the first performance was given at the El Camino Practice Speech Tournament, the second was at the Invitational Debate Tournament at Santa Barbara, according to Mrs. Juliette Venitsky, adviser.

Finish in Top Five

Thirty-nine colleges and universities competed in the tournament at El Camino College. Cerritos finished among the top five, Mrs. Venitsky said.

Winning all of their debates in the lower division and receiving Superior ratings were Steve Altig and Richard Harris. An excellent rating was given to Patti Roberts and Al Mercer, who won three out of four of their debates.

Outstanding Performance

The outstanding individual event performance was turned in by Vladimir Sukhov, who won a certificate of Superior rating. Winning certificates of an Excellent rating in their events were Francine Pyne in interpretation; Jackie Kremis in oratory; John English in oratory, and Dela Kearns in oratory.

Roberts, Mercer Win

At the Invitational debate Tournament at Santa Barbara there were 53 lower division teams from 25 colleges and universities. Competing for Cerritos were Patti Roberts and Al Mercer, Steve Altig, and Richard Harris.

Out of the ten awards given, the debate team of Roberts and Mercer won a certificate of excellence. They won four of their six debates, lost one, and forfeited one, according to Mrs. Venitsky.

Tennis Tourney Draws Entrants From Cerritos

Cerritos College will participate in the annual Southern California Junior College mixed doubles tennis tournament at Fullerton November 29 and 30.

Representing Cerritos in A competition are Gene Waters and Margaret Rorick and Larry Nichols and Carol Osburn. Ray Leevy and Sandy Wade and Bruce Habbis and Rana Rock-sien are entered in the B division.

The tournament consists of a winners bracket and a consolation bracket. Trophies will be awarded to winners in both divisions in each bracket.

Hair Stylists Hold Contest

Each semester the Cosmetology Department at Cerritos sponsors a hair styling contest, which is open to students in the Junior and Senior divisions of Cosmetology. First, second, and third place awards are given to the winners in each division.

This semester's contest was held last week. The contest began at 9 a.m. At this time, the contestants, who brought their own models, washed and set the hair, and then combed it out.

Students participating in the contest designed their own hair styles. Many practice sessions were held before the contest.

This year's judges were chairman, Gil Moreno, who owns a salon in Norwalk; Mrs. Naomi Suzuki, owner of a salon in Long Beach, and Mrs. Mickey DeMaria, who also owns a beauty salon, and is a former student of Cerritos College.

First place trophies were given the winners, and second and third certificates were issued to the runners-up. The winners of this year's contest were: Junior Division: 1st place, Ben Phillips; 2nd, Alice Vanden Brink; 3rd, Karen Johnson. In the Senior Division: 1st, Micki Torriente; 2nd, Janis Dial; 3rd, Jackie Scott.

Cerritos Concert Features American Jazz Society

Jazz Goes To College is the theme for the annual Fall Jazz Concert at Cerritos. It will be held November 20 at 8 p.m. in the Student Center.

The concert will feature the Cerritos College dance band under the direction of Jack Wheaton, and the American Jazz Society Band under the direction of Don Erjavic, band director at Dominguez High.

The American Jazz Society Band played in the Monterey Jazz Festival in 1960, appeared on the Steve Allen Show in 1962, and has been featured several times in Down Beat Magazine. The group has been the recipient of many arrangements from such big name bands as Stan Kenton and Harry James, Wheaton said. Allen has also provided the band with some jazz arrangements.

Paul Horn, now playing at Shelly's Mann Hole Wednesday nights, has rehearsed with the band as a guest star along with Bill Perkins and Ollie Mitchell.

The band, in spite of its popularity, performs only as an educational organization. "Its primary aim is to give the kids an opportunity to play and express themselves in jazz. It also hopes to make them and their parents aware of the great musical heritage we have from the big-band era of the '30's and early '40's," according to Wheaton.

Some of the members of this group have gone on to fame and riches. Randy Aldcroft plays trombone with Claude Gordon, Bill Halverson plays trombone for Johnny Mathis, Tex Beneke plays for the King sisters, and Terry Waldo plays trumpet for Earl Grant.

Another member of the group, Dick Ferno, has been commissioned to write an original composition featuring both the Cerritos Band and the AJS, Wheaton concluded.

Campus Illustrated Makes Semester Debut Today

Campus Illustrated, the quarterly magazine supplement to Talon Marks, makes its initial appearance of the semester today.

Homecoming activities are emphasized in the 12-page magazine, which marks a departure from traditional campus publications. It is produced by students in journalism and publications photography.

"The magazine format allows us greater latitude in covering campus news," magazine editor Dorothy Cranston said. "We are continually experimenting with ways of integrating copy and news pictures."

Other magazine staff members were Stan Morill, Merlin Vakoc, Gloria Day, Dean McLeod, Bill Kelley, and Gay Anderson.
