CERRITOS COLLEGE

Vol. IX, No. 24

Norwalk, California

March 5, 1965

"SOUNDS OF CERRITOS" WILL BE PRESENTED next Wednesday in the Student Center by the Cerritos College Concert Band. Appearing in the program, which features a sampling of music from 1580 to 1965, are members of the college's Stage Band (shown above in a recent performance) and guests artists, Mrs. Juanita Wheaton will appear as soprano soloist and be accompanied by Mrs. Anna Meers.

Band To Play Sound of Cerritos

The Cerritos College Concert Band will present "Sounds of Cerritos" in the Student Center at 8 p.m. next Wednesday. Tickets for the performance may be purchased either at the Student Store or at the door. The general admission charge is $1. ASC students may purchase tickets for 25 cents with coupon no. 11.

High school students with student body cards, as well as all children and elementary and junior high school students may also obtain tickets for 25 cents.

The concert marks this year's first performance of the Concert Band on the Cerritos campus. The program is developed around the theme "Something Old, Something New, Something Borrowed, Something Blue." This theme will permit the orchestra to present a sampling of music spanning the years from 1580 to 1965.

Presenting "something old," the band will play Andrea Gabrieli's "Sonata pian'e forte." Composed in 1580, this selection is the oldest piece of orchestral music employing dynamic markings. It marks the beginning of modern orchestration.

Presenting "something new," the band will play Frank Erickson's "Symphony for Band" and Persichetti's "Pageant." In addition, "Bellflower March" and "El Cerritos" will be played. Both are composed by Conductor Jack Wheaton, head of the Music Dept., in honor of Bellflower High and Cerritos College.

"Something borrowed" will feature three theatrical forms of music: opera, Broadway musical and motion picture theme. The selections will be "The Procession of the Knights of the Holy Grail" from Richard Wagner's opera "Parsifal," highlights from Lerner and Loewe's "My Fair Lady" and themes by Maurice Jarre from "Lawrence of Arabia."

The evening concert will conclude with "something blue." In this theme the band will play "The Minstrel Boy" by Leroy Anderson and "Fanfare for a Common Man" by Aaron Copeland.

Juanita Wheaton will be featured as a soprano soloist with Anna Meers as accompanist.

Longauer Wins News Honors

Cathy Longauer, fall "Talon Marks" editor, won an honorable mention award at the University of Southern California's annual Newspaper Day Saturday.

The award was given for her news story last semester concerning the 46 Cerritos students arrested after a party following a football victory in Seal Beach.

"Talon Marks" placed four points behind winning L.A. Valley College in the sweepstakes prize.

Among the professionals appearing at the conference were Bill Brown, KNBC-TV political commentator; Ann Sonne, L.A. "Times" society editor; Associated Press writer Dial Torgerson; space scientist Dr. Albert Hibbs and Craig Breedlove, the "second fastest man on wheels."

Students May Play Greater Role-Dean

By PEG NELSON
Cerritos' present student government is an "unusual and exciting system" that has already gone far beyond the expectations of Clive Grafton, dean of men.

In an appearance before journalism students last week, Grafton also said he felt that today's students have a right to determine part of their curricula.

The relationship between the student government and "Talon Marks" is unique, he said. The paper is a "living, vital part of campus life—a free and active press." It is unique because it is not the vocal arm of the student government as sometimes happens.

College is a dynamic, changing institution. The student government should expand to touch the entire campus life. It is not a fun-filled leisure time activity, but hard work for those striving to make it effective, he continued.

While the pressures on today's students are greater, so also is their responsibility, Grafton said. Under California's master plan, the two-year college and the status of the college graduate is in constant change.

The trend today is away from conformity. Communications are difficult. The apathetic student tends to ignore or forget the rules and regulations, he continued.

The senate has not reached its ultimate goal in its two years on campus, Grafton said. He foresees the time when expansion will include an active interest in the proceedings of the State Legislature.

It is no accident that of the 50 commendations mentioned in the college accreditation report that 6 of them directly mention the associated student government, he stated.

He feels rules made by the students are best. They should not require enforcement by the administration.

Grafton thinks that the AS won a major battle with the Nationwide Food Service last year, but then did not take advantage of their new position.

Grafton is the former adviser for "Talon Marks." Trying a new journalistic concept in 1960, he inaugurated the photo magazine, "Campus Illustrated," which received journalistic awards with "Talon Marks" that year.

He understands high school graduates' need to "cluster," their desire for club affiliation. Although he feels there is no place in junior college for fraternities or sororities, he recognizes the reason for the high number of service clubs on campus.

Speakers Program Gets Cabinet OK

The AS Executive Cabinet voted last Monday to pass a bill proposing that a controversial speakers program be brought to the Cerritos campus.

The bill proposed that the program be composed of three symposiums, one for the fall semester, and two for the spring. Each symposium will consist of four members of different organizations gathered to present their differing viewpoints.

Each program will have a moderator, and a question and answer period will be conducted for the benefit of the audience. The fall symposium will be conducted on a racial topic. The first spring symposium will be conducted on a religious topic, and the second on a political topic.

The bill must now pass the Senate and Administrative Council before being submitted to the Board of Trustees.

Cabinet Advisor, Dean of Men Grafton congratulated the cabinet on an excellent job of preparing the bill. "I can see no reason why every request you made should not be met," stated Grafton.

The cabinet also passed a bill for the establishment of a student lounge. The bill would have the coffee shop converted to a lounge, and would have the patio area enclosed to form a coffee shop.

AS President Jim Logan said, "I think this is the best solution to one of the biggest problems that has faced us all year." Dean of Men Grafton said that the change could mean a three to four thousand dollar profit for the school.

When the cabinet came to a section calling for the approval to employ Nina Cole as an office clerk, Gordon Nelson as a stock clerk, and James McDaniel as a book store laborer, and "executive session" was called. That is, all people except the cabinet itself were asked to leave, and the cabinet members conferred among themselves for approximately one hour.

It is assumed that the cabinet was discussing the above named, although Grafton refused to comment on this.

Gene Tangi Off, Running For AS Prexy

Gene Tangi, chief justice of the student court, threw his hat into the political ring Tuesday. Tangi stated that he will run again for the office of Associated Students' President.

Last year Jim Logan, now AS president, defeated Tangi in a close and bitterly battled campaign. "This year," Tangi said, "I will win!"

Tangi stated that his platform will be based on a closer coordination between the three branches of student government. "I will attempt to solve the problems of the high inventory in the AS bookstore," he said.

Tangi is also advocating more student authority in government and vows his wholehearted support of the proposed controversial speakers program.

Regarding the administration of President Logan, Tangi had words of praise. "I think Jim (Logan) offered the image of a good president and he did an admirable job."

Tangi said that although he will graduate in January of 1966 and his term would last if elected, until June of '66, he would take more classes at Cerritos and sacrifice a semester "for my school, Cerritos."

Fashion Cast Gets Ready

Silk screening is being ordered, oriental costumes rented and Ken Baxter states he will not shave his head to play the lead in the AWS Fashion Show. The theme is the "King and I."

Baxter, the director and lead character, the "King," stated that he is playing the part of the King of Siam, not Yul Brunner.

Baxter stated that the cast of the Associated Women Students and the Faculty Wives production rehearses Sunday and Monday of every week in preparation for the two shows, April 2 and 3.

The cast consists of Baxter, the King; Jan Bresnahan, Anna; Mary Lou Frazier, Tuptin; Richard Lumpkin, Lun Tha and 15 children from Downey Elementary School.

The fashions that are being displayed in the show are all from clothes shops in the Norwalk community area.

Senate Approves Program For Controversy Forums

By JOE H. STRAVERS
Approval of the so-called "controversial speakers" program was given Wednesday by the AS Senate.

The bill, which was introduced by Senator Jerry Young, was passed with only Linda Dulac opposed. Two Senators abstained. The measure provides for a symposium consisting of four members of different organizations to gather and present their views and to submit to questions of the audience. Still required is approval by the college administration and the Board of Trustees.

President Pro-Tem Mark Benton, speaking in favor of the program, said "I intend to show that this proposed speakers' program is not a question of Democrat or Republican; not a question of democracy or communism, but a question of right or wrong."

Senator Dulac argued that by allowing such speakers, the campus is "giving them status" and helps spread "a special brand of hate."

A recommendation regarding changes to be made in the lounge and coffee shop area was passed. Under the provisions in the recommendation the lounge would be relocated in the present coffee shop and the coffee shop moved to the patio. The plan will be submitted to college officials.

The Way of Peace

Perhaps many of you reacted in the same way I did on hearing of Malcolm X's death.

"Good," I said. After all the Negroes in the United States have enough trouble without guys like him running around loose.

But let us think a moment. What really has been accomplished? Is the world now rid of the ideas Malcolm expressed?

Reflecting back on that day I now see the senselessness of it all.

Violence of any sort will never settle anything: be it sit-ins, race riots or murder.

Malcolm has now joined an impressive and ever-growing list of martyrs. To his followers he is now a composite of Lincoln, Gandhi, John Kennedy and Christ.

And I ask again... "What has been accomplished..."

A Glimpse at the U.S.

Bigotry, hate, distrust and hysteria over fanciful cabals is permeating our society. Not since the days of the Know-Nothing Party has our nation been threatened by such egregious provincialism as this represents.

Provincialism is detrimental to a free society. It represents the fuzzy thinking of individuals with less than a modicum of knowledge of current affairs.

The provincial resembles the ancient Greeks and Norsemen. Just as they invented myths to explain things they didn't understand, so the provincial creates his own ludicrous myths.

That provincialism is rampant in this country is clearly evidenced by the following:

- During the last election, "A Choice Not an Echo," "A Texan Looks at Lyndon," "None Dare Call it Treason" and similar pieces of fiction were widely accepted as both accurate and scholarly.
- A routine army maneuver "Operation Water Moccasin" had to be called off two years ago. According to California Representative James B. Utt and certain right-wing groups, it was a plot to subjugate the U.S. with "bare-footed, savage African troops."
- The number of right-wing groups believing that the U.S. is already under Communist domination is growing.
- The typical American's comprehension of Communism, as it actually exists, borders on mythology.

Provincialism is the product of superficial knowledge. Therefore, individuals should have a thorough background in a subject before they formulate their opinions and take action on them.

Nero Plays And Amuses Falcons

By RANDY GRATER

Last Friday night Peter Nero performed before a near-capacity audience of 600 in the Student Union building.

Jack Wheaton, head of the Music Dept., said that Nero is "an unusual concert artist because he combines legitimate music with... 'illegitimate' music... jazz."

Judging from audience reaction, Nero and his unusual style scored a definite success on the Cerritos campus last Friday. Between numbers one could hear such comments as, "Ah, that's good!" and "Isn't he great!"

A sizeable crowd flocked around a table after the performance to have Nero autograph their programs. And comments such as, "Isn't he darling!" seem to indicate that a number of coeds found interest in more than just his music.

During the performance Nero displayed, in addition to talent, a quick wit and a humorous style. For example, in introducing a number he explained that it would be played as a "round," adding, "and for all you people who have never played around—we hope you enjoy it."

The Cerritos Theater Orchestra, under the direction of Wheaton, opened the program with a medley of Broadway hits entitled "Sounds of Music." Continuing with the Broadway musical theme, Mary Lou Frazier sang "What Kind of Fool Am I" from "Stop the World—I Want to Get Off" and Marschal Ramirez sang "Maria" from "West Side Story."

Following this, Peter Nero performed four numbers with the orchestra and his drummer and bass player. These Nero arrangements included "Never on Sunday" and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

Following the intermission, the Nero trio performed alone for the remainder of the program. Selections were popular and well-known pieces arranged by Nero in his distinctive style.

Included were a Cole Porter medley, the "Porgy and Bess" suite, "Green Leaves of Summer," and a humorous arrangement of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata." As an encore the trio played some Beatle music—in jazz style.

Ending the concert, Nero reminded the audience that "a performer is only as good as the people who back him up." And pointing to his two accompanists, he smiled, "So, if I've played any clinkers... it's their fault."

ACES WILD

Falcon Campus More Than Meets the Eye

By D. J. LACEY

After finishing a lab one afternoon I hurriedly exited to my car in the parking lot. It wasn't difficult to find because it was late and it was the only auto that remained.

As I walked across the lot suddenly I stopped. Perhaps it was a seemingly stupid thing to do, but I noticed something which caught my attention. My feet were caught in two 25-cent coke cups.

This might seem like a rather odd thing to happen but I have a great ability for collecting trash. My great grandfather was a garbage collector during the Civil War. I did not credit this mishap to my heredity. The lot was covered with miscellaneous trash, making the parking lot look like the day after a carnival or something.

I started furiously kicking, trying to get my feet free since my arms were loaded down with books. I figured if anyone was watching me they would think I was either a schizophrenic, practicing for a soccer team or learning a new dance—the garbage cha cha.

But at that moment I didn't care if anyone was watching or not. Finally, one of my feet was free but the surge of that kick sent my foot into a parking space curb. Ordinarily I would have shouted with pain but my soreness was overruled because of the strange coloration of the curb—passionate pink.

My eyes seemed to gaze at the curbing in astonishment. The only words that came to my lips were, "Gee, that's pretty. I'll bet Cerritos is the only school with passionate pink, baby blue, and tender yellow parking space stoppers."

Anyone seeing Cerritos' campus and now its parking lot admits it is a beautiful school, but beauty is only skin deep. If one looks deeper he notices little things like the grass which looks as if it was mowed with Cyrus McCormick's original reaper, the parking lots dotted with black oil spots and pink, blue, and yellow pastel curbs and the patches of rubber left by the maintenance carts after the daily custodian drag races.

Long term members of the Cerritos student body say that you haven't lived until you have been run down by a custodian's cart at 50 miles an hour.

I had been standing in the parking lot talking to myself for nearly an hour and dusk was approaching so I shrugged a shoulder and moved on. As I got into my car I noticed a parking ticket on my windshield. The ticket was for parking in a space where the color of my car clashed with the pink curb. I withheld my anger and merely sighed as I drove off.

YMCA Offers Leadership Experience To Students

The Los Cerritos YMCA is offering an opportunity for college trains men to gain an experience as youth group leaders.

Men majoring in education, social welfare, sociology and physical education and recreation can gain valuable experience in learning how to control a group, the structure of group process and to plan effective programs.

Students will act as coaches during athletic events and work with the YMCA in promoting a better environment for today's youth.

Interested students may learn more about this program by contacting the Los Cerritos YMCA, 9302 Laurel, Bellflower, phone 867-3012.

RUSTLINGS

Speakers Get Support

Dear Editor:

I believe that the Cerritos student leadership is to be congratulated on its thoughts for bringing controversial speakers to the campus. However, I have misgivings in one regard on what has been discussed. I feel that the sensational "jurassic fringe" types, i.e. Nazi, Reds, or the KKK might appear to be the logical ones to invite, but much more intellectual advantage would be gained from inviting a different group.

I have in mind these responsible individuals, many of whom are on college and university faculties, who advocate ideas that are at present unacceptable to public opinion, but just may have significance in the near future. For example, those advocating abolition of capital punishment, termination of laws against narcotics, legalized abortion, drastic change in sexual morality, humanism, pacifism, radical governmental or economic reform, and a wide variety of other such thoughts could be invited.

The best opportunity in Southern California to hear speakers of this type, is today, the listener-sponsored FM radio station KPER at 90.7 MC, but it might be even more enlightening if such speakers could be brought to the Cerritos campus to appear in person in front of the student body.

The idea of matching up speakers with opposing views in a forum-type presentation would certainly work with this group and might be the most constructive of all.

Sincerely,
Roy T. Tucker

WHAT'S NEW IN THE BOOKSTORE

By GLADYS BALZER

Sales at the Bookstore have a Western flavor this week—everything from Western Civ to Western Songs.

Students in Western Civ classes will find much needed help in the paperback sections of the Store. Our College Outline Series are keyed to your texts, and although it's no substitute for reading the text, these books really help to organize work for an assignment.

Western Music has been supplanted by Folk Music, but the guitar still has its place of importance. Do YOU play a GUITAR? If you do, be sure to see the PETE SEEGER "Folk Singers' Guitar Guide," on sale for one week only at $2.75.

One last Western note—"GOOD-BYE, OLD PAINT, I'M A LEAVIN'!"—Our old paint is really just that; best quality Luminal casein paint which we stocked for a project which didn't reach the estimated amount. We want to clear our shelves, so this is on sale at half price. All colors, and an outstanding bargain. All Art Majors will want to stock up while the supply lasts.

CLUB NOTES

Cerritos Dead?

By CATHY LONGAUER

Sigma Phi

Is Cerritos a "dead" college? According to some students, there are not enough activities, and by activities they mean dances and social events.

Come March 19, however, the "biggest dance of the semester" will be held, according to Alan Maybruck, publicity chairman of Sigma Phi fraternity.

Tickets may be bought starting Monday in front of the Student Center for $1.50 per couple and $1 stag. They will also be sold at the door.

Sponsored by Sigma Phi, the dance will begin at 8 p.m. and end at midnight. Music will be provided by the "Vibrants."

Highlight of this event will be the crowning of a bonnie lass as "Miss Shamrock." Clubs, fraternities and sororities are eligible to nominate a candidate. The winner will be selected by popular vote during the dance.

Campus Crusade

To hear about life with a purpose in contemporary terms is the object of the College University Business meetings.

Held every Sunday at homes of business and professional men, all students of every faith are invited to attend. The meetings begin at 9:18 p.m. and end an hour later.

The get-togethers for this area are held at the home of Ray Whitehead, 1057 N. West Road, Whittier and at 270 Belmont Ave., Long Beach.

According to Josh McDowell, president and campus coordinator of Campus Crusade, each meeting is "unique." During the past, a multi-millionaire from the East, an instructor from Pakistan and other educators have spoken. Also, top professional singers have entertained.

The programs are not announced until Sunday night. Refreshments are served and a door prize is given.

Here on campus, students may join Campus Crusade and attend the Leadership Training Classes which provide an opportunity to "learn to communicate effectively with others what a personal commitment to Christ means to you."

These classes are held on Tuesday from 11 to noon. For further information, students may contact McDowell at 944-3820 or leave a note in the Student Activities Office.

Young Republicans

A speech on "Our American Heritage" will be presented by Ruth Albright to members of the Young Republicans at their Tuesday meeting.

All prospective members and interested students are invited to attend this event which will begin at 11 a.m. in LH 6. New members will also be informed of future club activities and interests.

The club recently elected new officers to fill vacated posts. Selected were Robert Hobdy, president and Marshall Peters, vice-president. Continuing officers are Cathy LaJeunesse, secretary and Dennis Sucec, treasurer.

Cerritos Collegiate Democrats

Coming programs for the Cerritos Collegiate Democrats will be discussed during Tuesday's meeting which will be held in AC 33, at 11 a.m.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Chess Club

Members of the Chess Club will elect officers for the spring semester on Tuesday in LA 25.

This first meeting of the semester will begin at 11 a.m. and all interested students are welcome to join. Beginners in the game of chess are also invited.

'Cape Cerritos' To Emphasize College Role in Space Industry

Re-naming the campus "Cape Cerritos" on April 30, May 1 and 2, the second annual Space, Science and Technology Show is putting its major emphasis on the roles that the college portrays in the coming years in the space industry.

The biggest attraction planned for the three-day event is a 45-minute demonstration by the 47th artillery Brigade of Fort MacArthur on how unidentified flying objects are tracked down.

A number of computers will be used in the demonstration along with the giant plotting board for the audience to see the progress of the missile toward its target.

Besides the Nike-Hercules, an 80-foot Thor-Agena and a Hound-Dog will also be on display. A 1/5 scale model of a Titan III rocket, like the one that was used to put the first astronaut, John Glenn, in orbit around the world, is also to be shown.

In connection with the show is an Explorer Scout day in which space scouts will be featured in a series of lectures and demonstrations being planned for the Lecture Hall.

According to chairman Harlan Stamm over 1,000 scouts are expected to attend the meetings and exhibit their projects.

A Christian? What Is He?

By RALPH DONALD

"What is a Christian?" Josh McDowell asked. The reporter could not answer for a minute. Then he said, "Well, a Christian is a person who believes in Christ."

McDowell, the Cerritos coordinator of the Campus Crusade for Christ said, "That's one of the things a Christian does, all right, but what is a Christian?"

The reporter said, "I guess a Christian is a person who goes to church and reads the Bible and tries to live up to his own particular faith." Again McDowell said, "Surely a Christian does this, but what is a Christian?"

To this day, that reporter has not been able to answer the question. An educated guess would say that the majority of readers of this newspaper cannot answer this seemingly easy question.

McDowell, as coordinator for the crusade, has dedicated his life to the propagation of the Christian idea. "I was once a pagan," he stated, "but the Lord changed my life."

Many persons on this campus, and on campuses throughout the nation, have been helped to a better understanding of their own faith, strengthened their own faith, or found the love of the Almighty through the movement known as the Campus Crusade for Christ.

Film To Show Far East Life

Climbing the sacred volcano Mount Fujiyama, a boat run of the Hozu Rapids, a devastating Niigata Earthquake and a rice festival ceremony begins the film "Adventure in the Far East" which will be shown next Thursday.

John Goddard, a world renowned explorer, will narrate his exploits. The program is scheduled in the Student Center at 8 p.m. Tickets are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults. They are available in the Varsity Book Store.

This event is sponsored by Lambda Delta Sigma fraternity. The film will feature Japan, Hong Kong, Philippines and Borneo.

Included in the presentation will be the war dances of the former head-hunting Ifugaos and Igorot Tribes, cock fighting and the transport and supplying of jungle commandoes by helicopter.

The last stop in the film is the Taj Mahal which has been termed the "world's most exquisite architectural wonder."

Goddard has gained a wide reputation for his adventure films.

Luck o the Irish to you, and especially to the female population on campus. I know my greetings are somewhat early, but the day of the big dance is not too far away.

There are only a couple of weeks left before the night of the St. Patrick's Dance to get that special dress picked out and paid for.

What better place is there to shop than Joel's in La Mirada where there is a wide selection of Spring fashions in a beautiful array of green shades.

Kelly, mint, avocado and the new spring shade of celery are just the right hues to blend in with the Irish setting come March 19.

There is something very special about Joel's in addition to their high quality fashions. You'll be very surprised to find that Joel's prices are as budget-minded as the simple Irish folk of St. Patrick's beloved country.

Shop now at Joel's for your Irish and other Springtime attire, where quality is as valuable as the leprechaun's pot of gold.

Debate Squad Competes At Valley College Today

Speech squad members are competing today and tomorrow in the Spring Debate Championship Tournament being held at San Fernando Valley State College.

According to Speech Coach Juliette Ventisky, this event will prepare students for the Junior College Championship Tournament in April.

The debate topic is, "Resolved: that the federal government should establish a national program of public work for the unemployed."

Bill Burgess, John DeWeerd, Gene Tangi, Jerry Young, J. Taylor Smith and Bob Wyman are participating. Also, Gloria Hartmann, Jodie Milhouse, Claire Jolley, Gay Little, Diane Riave, Greg Pritchard and Richard LoCicero are debating.

The contest is divided into lower and upper divisions. Cerritos is entered in the lower division category, which consists of junior college students and freshmen and sophomore students of four-year schools. The upper division consists of junior and senior students.

All teams will participate in six preliminary rounds. Then, eight teams in each division will be selected on the basis of win-loss records and ratings to continue into the elimination rounds.

Trophies will be presented to all first, second and third place winners. Certificates will be given to teams adjudged superior and excellent.
