Two Students Scholarships

Cash awards totaling $200 were won by two Cerritos students in the Bank of America's Junior College Business Awards program.

Francis Ciacia and Dennis Rowell won the awards on the basis of scholarship, personality and participation in school activities or outside employment.

Winner in the secretarial and clerical studies division was Miss Ciacia. She was a recipient of the Golden Falcon, highest service award at Cerritos. She is the national vice president of Phi Beta Lambda, national honorary business fraternity. She will graduate in June with hopes of becoming a legal secretary.

Rowell was winner in the banking and business administration studies division. He graduated from Cerritos last semester and is currently attending California State College at Long Beach. He hopes to become a certified public accountant.

The awards will be presented March 18 at a banquet in the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills. All the winners from Southern California junior colleges will be present. Two winners were chosen from each school by members of their own faculties.

'66 Space Queen, Princesses To Play Vital Publicity Role

The 1966 Space Queen-to-be and her princesses will be involved in a long list of activities designed to both promote the Space Show and benefit them personally.

The Space Queen will be a vital part of the publicity campaign for Space Show '66, according to John Randall, division chairman of Physical Science, Math and Engineering. Randall is the publicity director for the Space Show.

Pictures of the queen and her princesses will be used for publicity when the Space Show is announced in local newspapers. Randall commented that the queen will appear on television.

vision, as was done last year, and on a number of local radio stations. Last year Queen Nancy Ciacia appeared on Channels 13, 4 and 7.

It is planned to have this year's queen appear on a greater number of radio broadcasts than last year in order to make the Space Show more widely known to the public.

The queen will also have the duty of speaking before many service clubs. Last year Miss Ciacia spoke before 30 different service clubs.

Randall also announced that the queen and her princesses

CANDY APPLE SALE

AWS Announce Plans For Spring Semester

The Associated Women are sponsoring a "Candy Apple Sale" which will continue through April. The profits from this sale and other money making projects aid the club scholarship fund.

AWS is also continuing the "Nylon Drive" which was started last semester. The nylons collected are sent to the women in Asia where they are used to make rugs, purses and clothing.

Spring semester activities of the Cerritos AWS were announced recently by President Doris Bernstein.

Sponsored by Dean of Women Amy DeZier, AWS is open to all women students. The main function of the service organization is to promote loyalty, college spirit and friendliness among women students.

Pasadena City College was selected for the AWS Conference to be held March 3. This conference will be attended by representatives of all junior colleges in Southern California. Representing Cerritos will be Doris Bernstein, vice president Nancy Ciacia, treasurer Jeri Hazlett and secretary Donna Henschel.

Others attending will be publicity chairman Joan Visalovich, project chairman Mary Kay Thompson and members Kathy Ulrich, Karen Foster and Pam Pail.

A series of meetings are planned by board members. Among future programs are Anna Mary Mears, demonstrating how to decorate with junk, Edith Abercrombie, speaking on figure control and Dr. Elizabeth Hengstler speaking on women philosophies.

Plans are also being made for a presentation of slides about Hawaii by Miss DeZier and by Frances Siegel about Europe.

Full-Timers Still Safe, Says Downey Draft Board

"We are not drafting full-time students," the local coordinator at the Downey draft board stated emphatically. "And, contrary to rumor, we are very much alive and kicking and we are not being shut down for investigation," she added.

Physical examinations for full-time students are also being postponed. Whether a student is full-time is determined by the college.

"What the student does this year will determine whether he will be classified or re-classified as 2-S," the coordinator said. "We want to make sure that he is studying and progressing."

An important factor in the classification process is the registrants forwarding of any changes in his status. These include the address, physical condition, occupation, marital status, family dependency, military status and any other changes which could affect a deferment.

"We try to help the boys," she said, "but when they move and don't submit a change of address, they become delinquent and subject to immediate induction."

"We're not ogres and coming down to talk to us does not advance a registrant's number or put him on the spot," the coordinator added.

Pending national policy changes, tests will be offered this spring to help determine student classification. The first test is set for sometime in May.

The test results, combined with class standing, could indicate whether a person is re-classified 1-A, according to Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

The test is primarily for students who are not in the top half of their class. Students with top grades do not have to take the test for their 2-S but high scores will be double insurance according to Hershey. A similar test was last offered during the Korean crisis and 500,000 participated.

Students Make Scholarship Semi-Finals

Seven Cerritos students have been declared semi-finalists in the California State Scholarship Program, according to scholarship counselor Alan Boodnick.

The students, who applied for the scholarships at the beginning of the year, were selected on the basis of their test scores on the Scholarship Aptitude Test, in competition with students from schools throughout California.

Winners will be selected from the semi-finalists in a few months on the basis of factors other than the Scholastic Aptitude Test scores.

If any of the seven Cerritos semi-finalists meet the requirements for being awarded a scholarship, they will receive from $300 to $1500 one-year awards. The total of any award is dependent on the costs of attending the institution of the student's selection. The award is renewable for eight semesters after high school graduation.

The semi-finalists from Cerritos are John R. King, Douglas G. Stenson, Hugh B. Fitzpatrick, Michael A. Jackson, Pamela S. Fitch, Linda L. Lockwood and Kathryn D. Ulrich, reported Boodnick.

Jazz Concert

Kickoff Today

A "Jazz kick-off" concert will be presented today in the Student Center from 12 to 1 p.m., according to Commissioner of Activities Nancy Ciacia.

This is the first of a series of concerts which will be given every other Friday by the Cerritos Jazz Band, directed by Jack Wheaton.

The "jazz kick-off" concert will also serve as a final send off for tonight's basketball game with Long Beach City.

Miss Ciacia said "the purpose of the series is to aid the Associated Students in becoming better acquainted with campus activities."

Students Meet High School Youth Leaders

Cerritos youth leaders will meet with youth leaders of the high schools in the Cerritos District on campus Monday for a Leadership Conference, according to the Community Services Office.

Keynote speaker for the 11:20 a.m. meeting will be Downey Municipal Court Judge Leon Emerson. Judge Emerson will be followed by two discussion sessions divided into four topic sessions.

Cerritos students serving in discussion groups will be Linda DuLac, heading the session on "Law Enforcement," Richard Price, vice-chairman on "Traffic Safety" and Tom Jacobs, acting as chairman of "College Education."

High schools represented on the youth committees will be Artesia, Bellflower, Downey, Excelsior, Gahr, John Glenn, La Mirada, Mayfair, Neff, Norwalk, Warner, St. John Bosco and Valley Christian. Each school will be represented by eight students.

Faculty Wives Present 'Pacifico'

The setting — the South Pacific; the theme — "Pacifico!" when the Faculty Wives present their Fashion Show on April 30. The Student Center will take on the atmosphere of tropical isles and musical sketches from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific."

Roberta Reece and Gladys Potter are co-chairmen for the event. The annual luncheon is a fund raising project, with tickets priced at $4. The faculty wives will also act as models for the program.

SIGNED FOR A MARCH 23 APPEARANCE at Cerritos is the Kingston Trio, who first hit the million-seller list in 1958 with "Tom Dooley" and have been going strong ever since.

AS To Present 'Kingston Trio'

By RICHARD PRICE
If the weather is bad March 23, the Associated Students is hoping that it will be raining greenback dollars.

In 1958 three boys from Stanford University recorded a song named "Tom Dooley," and immediately began a craze which is still going strong today. The boys, of course, were the Kingston Trio and the craze was folk music.

The Associated Students announced last week that the Kingston Trio will appear on campus in concert on March 23. They have appeared at virtually every major college and university in the United States, and drawn sellout crowds at the Hollywood Bowl, the Walkie Shell, the Newport Festival and similar spots.

They have toured the Far East, Europe and Australia and rank among the top record sellers of all time. Of 21 albums recorded by the Kingston Trio since 1958, eight have sold over a million copies.

In addition, the group has received two of the coveted

"Grammys" which are golden gramophones and are the musical equivalent of the Oscar and Emmy awards.

According to their manager the trio would rather play to a college audience. "They have always strongly believed that their music requires intelligent listening because their songs have something significant to say," he said. During 1958 and 1959 the Kingston Trio averaged one college concert every two days.

"Tom Dooley" was the Trio's first million-selling single record. This was followed by a spate of other single records including "Tijuana Jail," "Worried," "M.T.A.," "Everglades," "Where Have All The Flowers Gone," "One More Town," "Greenback Dollar," "Reverend Mr. Black" and "Desert Pete."

Advanced ticket sales will be announced within the next two weeks, according to Dean of Men Richard Robinson.

Tickets will cost $1.50 for full-time AS card holders, $2.25 for part-time, and $3 general admission.

Ban Advertising?

Will the Varsity Bookstore cease to exist if its ads are barred from these pages? Hardly!

Would the existence of the Varsity Bookstore be unknown to Cerritos students if it were not allowed to advertise in the college newspaper? Every student on campus who has found a handbill under the windshield wiper of his car should know that there are other ways of advertising. The Associated Students do, at least, receive money from Varsity's present mode of advertising — over $400 since the start of the fall semester.

Would those who voted at the leadership conference to ban Varsity ads also vote to ban ads from the Sizzler, McDonald's and Red Bell, which compete with our coffee shop and cafeteria?

It seems ironic for Americans to go to school, learn the principles of free enterprise and fair competition and then attempt to stifle free enterprise by practicing government monopoly.

It would be wiser and more noteworthy for our leaders to attack the root of the problem, the AS Bookstore's inability to compete. Varsity can buy back books, store those books and resell them at a profit. The AS store does not have adequate storage facilities to do this; the publishers profit from campus "buy backs."

If the AS bookstore is ever to be capable of competing, it must have bigger facilities. The Varsity Bookstore will not go away; neither will the harsh fact that the AS bookstore is losing potential profits because of its present facilities.

Hopefully, when the AS Senate considers this matter, it will reject the leadership conference's ill-considered proposal to ban Varsity ads and attack, instead, the real problem. Banning Varsity ads will only remove the bogymen, not the problem.

Of Thoughts And Rumors

Dissatisfaction with the school's sole publication, its newspaper, still lingers on, judging from a recent rumor. It seems that some students are proposing that the editor of the college newspaper be elected.

To be sure, this proposal is being advocated in the interest of fair play, and therefore the idea merits endorsement. Sure, the journalism adviser and the staff may know who is best qualified to be editor, but is the present system democratic?

The "Talon Marks" editor should be elected. After all, isn't that the way the editors of the big city papers are chosen?

Too many students, it seems, fail to appreciate all the advantages California, with its system of "free education," has to offer. Thanks to this system, anyone in California can afford to continue their education... that is, if they have $20-$40 for books, $1.75 for a new gym lock (sorry, only locks bought here can be used on our gym lockers) and $7 for a student body card (if they want to participate in school activities).

Too often students cut classes without thinking what school would be like if the teachers shared the students' casual attitude towards attending classes.

Think of all the excuses students use for cutting classes that teachers could use too — "The class is too boring; I don't learn anything in it," "The class doesn't respond; they're not learning anything," "The teacher is a moron; he doesn't know how to teach," "The students are morons; they're incapable of learning anything," "I didn't have time to prepare for that class," "Gee, my class is just starting... it would disturb the class if I went to it now," "It's too hot for class today... let's go to the beach."

This type of arrangement might seem fun at first, but it

Ineligibility Strikes E.C.

By Robert Underwood

At El Camino College an epidemic of ineligibility has struck student government officers. A reported eight student government commissioners were vacated due to low grades. The Student Council has filled two posts, but the other six are still vacant.

Meanwhile, a more pleasant disease has hit Grossmont College in El Cajon. The International Society of Girl Watchers presented a demonstration on the techniques and secrets of girl-watching. The purpose is to complement and call attention to lovely, well-groomed women everywhere. The disease of girl-watching is expected to hit epidemic proportions.

Out in the dry area of Imperial Valley College, 95 students bled for the Vietnam war. Volunteers numbered 180, but the Red Cross took only 95 pints for American servicemen abroad.

Sacramento City College tested their eating skills on Shrove Tuesday which precedes Ash Wednesday. Pancakes were gulped down at a tremendous rate by the ten teams from the college.

In dry Modesto Junior College, the wet problem of liquor has arisen at college-sponsored dances. The dances may be called off as a result. The Student Council has urged students to practice temperance.

'Service Concept' Slows Profits of AS Bookstore

By RON STEWART

The financial problems faced by the college bookstore arise basically from the service concept upon which it is based, according to the consensus of executives directly connected with the store.

"We order what the student needs," Don Siriani, dean of student personnel, noted. "We give the students flexibility whereas a private enterprise orders only what it thinks it can sell."

Siriani placed the average junior college book store's net profit at $30,000 per year. The Cerritos store is returning no income to the Associated Students' budget at this time.

The store's inventory as of Jan. 31, 1966, stood at $205,000, which, as compared to stores of a like size is approximately $100,000 too much. The high volume of sales at the start of the spring semester, however, is estimated to have reduced this figure as much as $90,000.

"There is definitely a problem," Siriani said. The current mechanics of book ordering is under scrutiny by Siriani, who is surveying eight local colleges to compare and contrast the Cerritos system. His findings will be included in his annual report on the bookstore.

The procedure now includes selection of texts and materials and their quantities at the division level. These figures are processed by the Instruction Office where past enrollment figures, estimates of enrollment, of mortality rates in classes, of how many students will buy from others and, more recently, of competition are brought to bear upon the calculation of the purchase order.

Due to shipping delays these orders are compiled several months in advance of the semester in question. This accounts in part for the large inventory of the bookstore. The opening of the Varsity Bookstore in January, 1965, was unheralded and the orders for the fall semester were due so soon afterward that estimates of the competition's effect fell short, according to Gladys Balzer, bookstore manager.

"We had to make sure we had enough of everything every instructor thinks his students need," Mrs. Balzer said. A private concern stocks materials of its own choice. If the student isn't satisfied he must go elsewhere. The bookstore, however, carries the items the instructor feels will best suit his course and it also handles special orders on request, according to Mrs. Balzer.

The publisher dictates the markup on new books, Dean Siriani noted. "I can't understand why for five cents' difference the students want their money to line someone's pockets rather than go into their student fund. The money comes back to the student."

He added that his basic tasks will be to find out why many students don't buy at the Cerritos store and to develop a workable mechanism for determining the number of books necessary. Suggestions or gripes may be aired publicly or anonymously through his office, the dean continued.

"We're going to solve this problem," Siriani concluded. "If other schools can do it, so can we. It's not going to continue in this manner."

To any kid who'd like to go somewhere:

We'll pay half your fare.

The idea's not as crazy as it may seem. Anytime we take a jet up, there are almost always leftover seats.

So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan*

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this:
American will pay half the jet coach fare for anybody 12 through 21.

It's that simple.
All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card.

We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket at any American Airlines counter.

The only catch is that you might have to wait before you get aboard; the fare is on a standby basis.

"Standby" simply means that the passengers with reservations and the servicemen get on before you do.

Then the plane's yours.
The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rushes.

Bailey, Connolly
Carry Vikings

Tonight Chuck Kane's Long Beach City College Vikings will wrap up their sixth Metropolitan Conference championship and will cast their eyes towards Bakersfield where the state championship playoffs begin on March 10.

Last year at this time the Vikings were near the Metro cellar with a miserable 3-9 record, but their hopes were up because they had freshman sensation Mel Reed back for a second try. However, so far this season Mel has been relegated to bench duty for the most part. As a matter of fact, he has not been a starter until the last three games. Yet Long Beach has only lost one game this year.

Kane has such an abundance of talent on his squad that he can afford to have a player like Reed on the splinter platoon. However, when you seek to find an answer to the team's success, there are two answers: Carey Bailey and Bill Connolly.

Bailey is a 6 foot 5 inch jumping phenom from West Virginia. He is to the conference what Bill Russell is to the pros. "It's not the shots he blocks," said Falcon mentor Jim Killingsworth, "it's the shot you know he's going to block. This makes the opponent less anxious to shoot." Like Russell, he psyches his opponents out.

Connolly is a 24-year-old ex-Marine with valuable years of experience. Two years ago, he was the last man to be cut from the United States' Olympic team which included such greats as Bill Bradley, Walt Hazzard and Jim Barnes. He also grabbed "All-World Service" honors and was the Marines' "most valuable player." He provides the Vikes with effective floor leadership.

When Cerritos journeyed to Long Beach, we had an opportunity to chat with the Vikings' assistant coach John Rambo. The former LBCC and Cal State (LB) star, took over as assistant to Kane after a try with the National Basketball Association's St. Louis Hawks. We asked Rambo about future professional plans.

"I intend to go out for the Hawks next summer," he assured us. "This time I'm going to make it." Rambo will undoubtedly be aided by the NBA expansion to ten teams and could become one of the select 110 men able to make the pros.

Meanwhile, Rambo, who has maintained his amateur status, is competing in his other specialty — the high jump — for the 49er Track Club. "Long John" was a bronze medal winner at the Tokyo Olympics. He is probably the best active American jumper. Recently he cleared 7'2" at the Los Angeles Invitational.

Rambo is having quite a year as coach of the Long Beach junior varsity squad. The team is averaging around 100 points per game and has a 13-1-1 record. If he makes professional ranks, Rambo wants to return to coaching in the future. "It's what you come back to after the legs wear out," he said.

Valley's Dan Means, who landed Jefferson High's talented front line and saw them drop out of school after one week, says that the trio is not attending any school at present. It had been widely reported that they had transferred to Nebraska.

Grapplers
Face Metro
Tournament

By DENNIS CAMPBELL

After dropping a 27-13 decision to Bakersfield and bombing L.A. Valley 48-3, coach Hal Simonek's wrestlers travel to Bakersfield today for the Metropolitan Conference finals.

Simonek feels that three teams, Cerritos, Bakersfield and El Camino will fight it out for the championship. "It should be very, very close," said Simonek. "However, if everybody comes through like I think they will, we could very well win it all."

Simonek was realistic about the points separating the top three teams, feels that every Cerritos wrestler has a good or better chance to win a championship. The Falcons have two returning champions in Barry Schneider (191 lbs.) and Wayne Partee (177 lbs.), and in addition, Pete Philpott (130 lbs.), Steve Johnson (145 lbs.), and Ken Bos (167 lbs.) each cooped a second place at last year's tourney.

The dual meet loss to Bakersfield, coupled with an earlier loss to El Camino, eliminated Cerritos from the dual meet championship picture. "It was close all the way," said Simonek. "Each match went right down to the wire, and final result could have gone either way."

Simonek was realistic to the losses to the Renegades and Warriors. "El Camino, Bakersfield and Cerritos are three of the top teams in the state," he explained. "When you have a conference as tough as this one, something has to give. This year it was Cerritos."

Against Valley, Roland Garza in the 115 lb. division was the lone Falcon casualty, dropping a 7-5 decision to his opponent. The team compiled the rest of its points on seven pins, one decision and one forfeit.

In a final comment, Simonek said that he feels Cerritos has the potential to win the Metro Conference, Southern California, and State championships — if everything goes right, but does it ever?

Diamondmen Dump Pierce;
Play in Hancock Tournament

After winning its own tournament, Wally Kincaid's Falcon baseball team is out to capture another tourney crown. This quest took the Falcons to Santa Maria this weekend for play in the Hancock Tournament.

Action opened yesterday as the Falcons were slated to play host Hancock JC. Today the Kincaidmen will play Santa Ana, a 6-1 Falcon victim in the season opener, and conclude tourney play Saturday against conference foe L.A. Valley tomorrow.

Before leaving on the northern trek, the Falcons dumped a weak Pierce College team 8-0. Kincaid used three pitchers to record the two-hit whitewash of the Brahmas. Starter Rod Corder picked up his second win of the season after going four innings.

Cerritos picked up two unearned runs in the second frame and added three more in the fourth when Ken Lohnes doubled with the bases loaded and Chuck Ramshaw scored on a sacrifice fly. In the fifth, pinch runner Steve Runk stole second and third, then scored on Don Kruger's fly to center.

The final Cerritos run came over in the seventh as Gene King capitalized on a wild pitch.

Prior to trouncing Pierce, Cerritos won its own tourney by handily defeating three opponents. All-Metro first baseman Reld Braden put on a one-man show in the first two games. He socked a home, scored two runs and was 3 for 4 at the plate as the Falcons rolled over Glendale 6-2.

Against Compton he had a perfect afternoon in four trips to the plate. This barrage included two triples and four runs batted in. Left fielder Rich Emard led Cerritos past Fullerton in the finals as he went 1 for 3 at the plate and scored two runs.

Kincaid said he will continue to limit his pitching staff to four or five innings of work, thus being put in a position of having to use as many as three hurriers in one game. He blamed the winter rains for the slow development of his pitchers and said that he intends to build them up to longer stretches.

Veteran right hander Bob Vaughn and freshman Rod Corder have each chalked up two wins in pre-conference play; another frosh Craig Williams owns the other Falcon win.

After returning from Santa Maria, Cerritos will close its practice schedule next Tuesday by hosting Chaffey. Metro play will start next Friday with the Falcons traveling to Long Beach.

Last Cerritos won the title going undefeated. Kincaid sees Bakersfield and El Camino as the biggest threats against a repeat performance.

BATTERIES: Pierce — Grant, Dinocentis (5) and Numbach. Cerr. — Corder, York (5), Cano (8) and Lohnes, Maza (6).

Cagers Sunk by Warriors; Face No.1 Viking Tonight

By LOUIS BANAS
Last year at this time, Jim Killingsworth's basketball team was perched on top of the Metropolitan Conference standings. This season, however, the team is unlikely to reach the 500 mark and may just barely break even for the season.

Any hopes Killingsworth might have had for having a winning season disappeared last Tuesday when the Falcons took a 95-78 thrashing at the hands of El Camino.

This evening, Chuck Kane's Long Beach City College Vikings are favored to wrap the Metro championship on the Cerritos court. Last time the two teams met, Long Beach, ahead by as much as 20 points at times, rolled to an easy 99-85 victory.

The Vikings are paced by center Carey Bailey and guard Bill Connolly, the two leading candidates for the loop's most valuable player honors. If the championship is in the bag, Kane will probably start with an all sophomore lineup as he did in the team's home finale.

Killingsworth is still undecided about his starters and much will depend on how several players come out of their bout with the flu. Guard Jim Smith, who's been the squad's spark plug throughout the season, is a doubtful participant. He was sorely needed in the loss to El Camino. Smith was particularly effective in handling the Vikings full-court press the last time around and was the leading Cerritos scorer with 17 tallies.

Falcons players making their last appearances are Rich Brown, Gerry Early, Tony Gandara, Ernie Garcia, Bill Plank, Roger See and Manuel Terrazas.

Record Now 3-6
By losing to El Camino, the Falcons saw their conference record drop to five wins, against six losses, were also knocked out of a possible third place finish. El Camino (7-4) could finish as high as second.

George Stanich's Warriors had five men in double figures, led by Alan Lepper and Jim Lloyd scoring 20 apiece. El Camino won the game from the field, making 12 more field goals than Cerritos. They made a fantastic 59 percent of their shot attempts.

Rich Brown was high scorer for Cerritos with 19 points. For the first time this season, Killingsworth got good play out of his pivot men. Starter Larry Crowell made 7 of 10 shots for 14 points and veteran Bill Plank came off the bench to add 12.

Tight First Half
Cerritos was in the game throughout the tight first half in which the contest was tied 11 different times and the lead changed hands on ten occasions.

Coming off of a 35-30 advantage at intermission, El Camino scored six quick points before Gerry Early connected for a duce. Then Lloyd bucketed three consecutive baskets and put the game out of reach.

CAGE SHORTS . . . Killingsworth will be kept quite busy after the season is over trying to recruit local talent for next year. This is destined to be a bigger headache for him than the play of his squad this past campaign.

The area is void of any great supply of talent. Only the Whittier area has top notch teams, but these players now feed into the Rio Hondo District and Killingsworth cannot look there for help.

RELAYS NEXT Mesa Scores Dual Victory

By DENNIS CAMPBELL

Today the Cerritos track team will have a chance to see how it stacks up against the rest of the Metropolitan Conference when it travels to the East Los Angeles Relays. Only Metro teams will compete, and the meet usually gives a good indication of who's who in the conference.

The teams to beat appear to be Bakersfield, with a potential state champion, and Long Beach, which is loaded with sprinters and jumpers.

Last Friday freshman sensation Len Van Hofwegen stole the show but Mesa Junior College won the meet as the San Diego outfit scored "double dual" victories over Cerritos and Compton College.

Van Hofwegen, who hails from Valley Christian High and seems to get stronger with each successive race, burned up the track with a 22.2 in the 220 and an 48.6 in the 440, both meet records, and anchored the mile relay with a torrid 47.8 clocking.

Mesa, termed by coach Dave Kamanski as an "outstanding team," offset Cerritos' strength in the sprints with its overall superiority in the distance races and field events.

Led by Van Hofwegen, Rod Ferguson and Bill Massey, the Falcons swept the 220 and took first and second in the 100-yard dash. However, Cerritos failed to place in the triple jump and high jump, and managed only a third in the half mile.

The two relay teams, which figured to be the team's strong point, failed to produce. The quarter mile relay was disqualified for passing out of his zone and the mile relay, called "out of shape" by Kamanski, finished last despite Van Hofwegen's heroics.

'I Want To Play,' Says Doug Peake

By ROBERT UNDERWOOD

"I would play football, if I could," stated Doug Peake. Peake, dislocated his spinal cord in a football game against Bakersfield last November.

He spent one month in the hospital and tried to continue his studies from there. He was limited to a neck brace for two months. He has since discarded it but still visits the doctor once a month. Peake claims he feels fine and the neck is coming around, but it's still a bit stiff.

Some pleasant things have come out of the dislocated spine. He had a blind date with Bonnie Eisman, following the game, but he was delayed. She dropped by to remind him about it in the hospital and the friendship that started in the hospital ended as a romance.

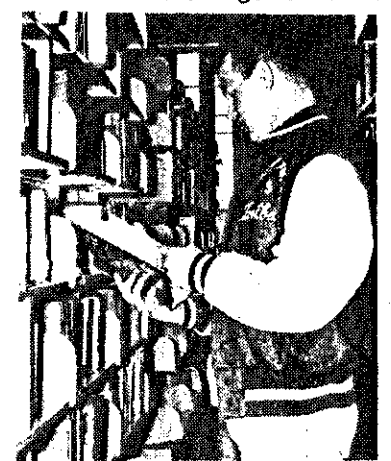

It was some sort of miracle that he has healed this quickly. Some of his doctors said that others with similar complications never heal or die. Yet, Peake is now well enough to play some sports.

The Doug Peake Fund also came out of the football injury. The fund was supported by the Associated Students and collected $100. Peake has spent some of the money for books. He says he will use the remainder of the money to enroll in a four-year institution, probably UCLA.

Peake says that his medical bill was $5,000, of which only $1500 was covered by athletic insurance. His personal insurance paid the remainder but he felt that "the AS should make up the rest because sports support the college." He commented that this should include all participants of sports on campus.

He said that the fund idea for him was a surprise and he was very happy about it. Peake plans to attend the new Rio Hondo Junior College in the fall.

Netters Better Record; Duffers Even Loop Score

The Cerritos tennis team improved their non-conference record to 2-0 with a come from behind victory over visiting Fullerton on Monday, Feb. 21. The final margin was narrow, 5-4.

Fullerton started the match with four straight singles victories over Gary Jelusic, Rich Farmer, Dennis Babb and Chuck Patino and needed only one more point to win. But the Hornets could not gain a victory after their first matches. Brian Kekich and Wayne Burd concluded the singles action with victories over the visitors, narrowing the team score to 4-2.

As the doubles competition started, Fullerton still needed one more point for victory. They were not able to get that point. Babb and Farmer combined for a 6-4, 7-5 sweep in first doubles. Burd and Jelusic also beat their opponents in straight sets, 9-7 and 6-4. In the final match finished under the lights, Patino and Manuel Macias defeated their opponents 6-2, 6-6, 6-0 to complete the match and insure the victory.

Golfers Win
In other sports action the Cerritos golf team defeated LA Valley 30-24 to hold a 1-1 league record. Their loss was to Santa Monica.

Monday the Falcon golfers will meet the Cal State Fullerton Titans at the Los Coyotes Country Club. The match will begin at 1 p.m.

Profs, Students Golf Against LB

A golf team composed of Cerritos students and faculty members has been invited to play a similar team from Long Beach City College, according to CRA director Alice Delk. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Delk in the P.E. office.

The CRA is also making plans for its annual student-faculty golf tournament. The tournament will be held in March, with the dates to be announced.

Last year's faculty winner was journalism instructor John Dowden, while the student winner was Mike Smith. Mrs. Delk encouraged any interested persons to come out next Wednesday for practice.

INTRAMURAL HOOP Tigers Maul Lakers, 113-36

Intramural sports began last Thursday with twelve teams entered in basketball competition and five teams entered in handball.

Basketball teams and team captains are: Thunderbirds (Terry Erwin); Tigers (Mitch Mitchiner); Vandals (Glen Crosson); Rejects (Bob Igo); Leftovers (Ron Cantrell); Celtics (Dick Coyle).

Also, Eight Balls (Sherwood Peterson); Campus Cruisers (Ken Collins); Hawks (Wayne Little); Birds (Gary Miller); Henchmen (Russell Hill) and Lakers (Ken Wofford).

The Tigers must have set some kind of record when they opened basketball play last week with a 113-36 trouncing of the Lakers (no resemblance to the Los Angeles outfit). The Tigers are made up of several ex-La Mirada High basketball players.

Handball teams entered were: Rausch-Ignacio; Varner-Lapham; Charter-Storlie; Campbell-Minchow; and Hawkins-Brem-an.

Gerdt's Casts Spring Play

"Teahouse of the August Moon," the post war story of American occupation of Okinawa, will premiere March 22 in the Burnight Center Theatre. The cast for the Theatre Arts production, directed by Don Gerdt, has been announced.

Jim Reynolds has been cast in the part of Sakini, the interpreter, with Larry Harper playing the role of Captain Fisby. Jack Turner has been cast as Captain McLean, Steve Smith as Sgt. Gregovich and Donna Ortiz will play Lotus Blossom.

The plot revolves around Capt. Fisby who has been assigned to teach the natives of a small Japanese village the elements of modern democracy. As Fisby undertakes the task, he runs into many problems. Sakini serves as spokesman for the village, mainly because he is the only one who has had enough English to translate what the Americans are saying.

As Fisby attempts to enlighten the villagers, he finds that they in turn enlighten him, for they are wise to the tactics of democracy and the ways of war-time occupation.

The prize-winning play had a long run on Broadway, was made into a motion picture and has been presented on television.

ON STAGE, ON CAMERA last month was the Cerritos Music Dept., shown here taping an ABC-TV SCOPE presentation. The three program series will be screened at 7 a.m. beginning March 9.

Cerritos Hosts CTA Confab

More than 600 elementary, high school and college teachers attended the California Teachers Association Southern Section field conference here last Thursday, announced Donald M. Desfor, conference chairman.

"The purpose of the conference was to promote organization and enhance education for California students," said Desfor, chairman of the Fine Arts and Communications Division at Cerritos.

Twenty-eight discussion groups were held followed by dinner in the Student Center. Speaker was Ted Bass, assistant professional services executive for CTA, who spoke on "Revolution in the Classroom."

Among the other Cerritos personnel involved in the conference were Gene Martin, president of the Cerritos Faculty Association; Marshall Treat, dean of instruction; Larry Fischer, foreign language instructor and Margaret Manire, school nurse.

President of the Southeast Area Coordinating Council W. Ronald Brown was master of ceremonies.

Some of the workshop discussion included Problems of the Culturally Deprived, Legal Rights and Responsibilities, Team Teaching and Trends in Education.

CLUB NOTES

Home Ec Sponsors Spring Conference

The Home Economics Club is sponsoring a combination pot-luck dinner, the installation of Spring Semester officers and a workshop for their spring conference to be held here March 5.

The combination event will take place this Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in EL 5.

The new officers are Kathy Ulrich, president; Marilyn Wilson, vice president; Judy Vishnesky, secretary; Bonnie Kitzman, treasurer and Johanna Rietkerk, historian.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon will hold an open house meeting in the Board Room of the Administration Building for the purpose of attracting new members, according to club representative, Louis Morgan. The time is set for 7 to 9:30 this evening. The club is open to any student taking at least six units of police science.

The Newman Club, (the Catholic student organization) is still selling tickets to an Ice House (Glendale) performance starring "The Association."

Practice Tourney Proves Close Race for Speakers

The Cerritos Speech Squad faced stiff competition last Friday and Saturday from Riverside City College at the Annual Junior College Tournament at Long Beach State College.

At this first practice tournament of the semester, Riverside City College gathered more certificates than Cerritos College. If a regular sweepstakes point system had been in effect, Cerritos would have emerged one point ahead by virtue of a greater number of superior certificates.

The three-man debate team of Gloria Hartmann, John Tagg, and Richard LoCicero went undefeated and received a superior certificate. LoCicero also won another superior in extemp.

Bill Cassio received a superior in oratory. Chuck Hansen turned in an outstanding performance by winning two superior certificates — first in oratory and then in interp.

Two newcomers to the squad won at their first tournament. Steve Smith won a superior in interp and Roger Hughes achieved a superior in extemp.
