TOMORROW AT 9

Home Ec Spring Conference Features 'Challenge-Reality'

"Challenge Today -- Reality Tomorrow" will be the theme as the Home Economics Spring Conference gets under way tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. in the Burnight Center.

The Cerritos chapter will host the 1966 Spring Conference for all college Home Economics Chapters of Southern California under the direction of adviser Ruth Laidlaw.

Registration begins at 8:30, with Coffee and Conversation scheduled from 9 to 9:30 followed by a short business meeting.

Guest speakers and topics to be featured on the program starting at 10 a.m. include:

"A Silver Spoon" by Shirley McGillicuddy, president of the Calif. Home Economics Assn.

"What Has Consumer Service Accomplished at Lawry's?" by Ralph Frank, Jr., vice president of marketing at Lawry's Foods.

"Packaging the Ingredients" by Maye Russ, College Employment Agency.

A buffet luncheon in the Student Center will follow the morning session, concluding with a fashion show featuring swimwear and sportswear by Catalina Inc. Student models include Mary Jo Abata, Tari Benjstorf, Jeanette Jackson and Marilyn Miller.

The fashion show will be narrated by Kathryn Ulrich, president of the Cerritos Home Ec Chapter, with live music performed by the Cerritos Falcon Combo.

After lunch Home Economists in Business will present a panel and discussion in the Burnight Theatre. Featured will be Barbara Swain, home economics director, Knudsen Creamery Co.; Selma M. Andrews, home economics director for the "Los Angeles Herald Examiner"; Shirley Collins, home economist, Macco Construction Co.; Gerry Gale, fashion coordinator, Bullock's Pasadena; Martha Martinen, home economist, Ralph's Grocery Co. and Del Patterson, senior home economist, Southern California Gas Co., who will act as moderator.

Ruby LeVore, California State Employment Service, will answer questions following the panel discussion. The conference will conclude at 3:30 p.m.

Parking and general traffic will be handled by Lambda Alpha Epsilon, the police science fraternity.

Committees for the conference are:

Registration - Chairman Phyllis Dobson, Judy Vishinsky, Kathy Havelina, Carole Fohl, Gayle Roberts and Pam Hagenwood.

Foods - Chairman Victoria Kain, Marilyn Wilson, Bonnie Kitzman and Kathy Matlock.

Signs - Carole Fohl, Kathy Havelina and Jo Reitkirch.

Other members assisting include Tina Harrison, Linda Rushing, Patricia Boehr, Kathy Best and Brunhilde Patzold.

Ticket Sale Starts For Kingston Trio

Tickets for the Kingston Trio concert are now on sale in the Office of Community Services.

Prices set at last week's AS Executive Cabinet meeting are $1.50 for full time Associated Students' members, $2.25 for part-time members and $3 for general admission.

The trio, who brought folk music back to the American scene, will appear in the Cerritos gymnasium on March 23.

MODELING FASHIONS TO BE SHOWN tomorrow at the Southern California Home Economists meeting here are coeds Marilyn Miller, Mary Jo Abata and Kathy Bist. The Cerritos chapter is hosting the convention, expected to attract more than 300 students and professionals.

Booker To Speak Thursday

By PEG NELSON

Prize-winning journalist Simeon Booker will speak in the Burnight Center Theatre at 11 a.m. next Thursday. Admission to the forum is $1 general admission or 25 cents to AS card holders.

"Black Man's America," his book published in 1964, has been widely hailed as one of the most comprehensive examinations of the causes behind the Civil Rights upheavals.

Booker is the Washington Bureau Chief for America's largest circulation Negro magazines -- Ebony, Jet, Tan and Negro Digest -- read by more last month, but cancelled her tour following a mild heart attack.

As a White House reporter, Booker has been a close observer of Presidential attitudes towards integration throughout the administrations of Eisenhower, Kennedy and now Johnson.

His influence is felt far beyond the borders of the Negro community, because he enjoys the confidence and respect of noted leaders, both black and white, of the anti-segregation movements.

In 1961 he risked criticism from his own people to report how young Negro hoodlums beat whites attending a Thanksgiving Day high school football game in the nation's capital.

Booker's report of the incident to three daily papers touched off an official inquiry. He was named to an investigating committee and later wrote the report that became the basis for new efforts to improve school and community facilities.

He was named to a Nieman Fellowship at Harvard (1950-51), the second Negro to be so honored. He is a native of Youngstown, Ohio, and a graduate of Virginia Union University.

As a reporter on the "Cleveland Call-Post," he received the Newspaper Guild's Front Page Award for his articles on housing. He earned the Wendell Willkie Award for his series on education.

'Shorty' Powers 'A-OKed' For Commencement Speech

Lt. Col. John "Shorty" Powers, the man who put "A-OK" into the American vocabulary, will be the guest speaker at Cerritos at the June 12 commencement exercises.

Powers graduated from Army flying school as a pilot and was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in 1943. During World War II, he flew troop carrying C-47's and C-46's in the U.S. and the European Theatre of Operations.

He returned to Europe in 1949, to fly 185 round trips on the Berlin Airlift carrying food and coal to the people of Berlin.

Volunteering for duty in Korea in 1952, he flew 55 night bombing missions and was awarded the Air Medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Bronze Star, and was "spot" promoted (on the battlefield) to major.

After the war Powers served in the offices of the Secretary of the Air Force and Secretary of Defense in Washington and on April 6, 1953, he was assigned to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's man-in-space program. Project Mercury, as Public Affairs Officer.

Powers was the Voice of Mercury Control for all of our nation's Project Mercury manned space flights including those made by Alan Shepard, Gus Grissom, John Glenn, Scott Carpenter, Walter Schirra and Gordon Cooper.

Powers retired from the Air Force in 1964 after 22 years of service.

Commencement Speaker

He now heads his own public relations and advertising firm, writes an internationally syndicated newspaper column called "Space Talk," and is vice president and general manager of radio station KMSC adjacent to NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Texas.

Queen Pageant Monday

A gala coronation, climaxed with a ceremony using a $25,000 crown, will highlight the Space Queen '66 contest and pageant next Monday evening. The queen and her princesses will be chosen at ceremonies in the Student Center at 7:30.

Professional judges will pick the winners, according to Dean of Women Amy Dozler. Each contestant will be judged on her appearance in a suit or formal and later in a swim suit. Each candidate will give a three minute speech on any topic except why she would like to be queen.

Candidates from Downey are Judy Bedwell, Teri Daughenbaugh, Margaret DeLuca, Jeri Hazlett, Nancy Kels, Nancy Vanderhurst, Linda Welch and Joyce Anne White.

Lakewood's only contestant is Donna McFee.

From La Brea are co-eds Carol Jenkins, Alice Ann Mitchell, Bonnie Schard and Barbara E. Troup.

Norwalk's candidates include Mary Lee Ashens, Sonja Beecher, Linda Gamez, Vickie Jenkins, Linda McArthur, Janice Mullins, Sandy Nielsen, Pamela Pail and Jaynie Rice.

Whittier contestants are Mary Becker, Hillary Christian and Linda K. Sloan.

Contestants will be interviewed by disc jockeys Lohman and Barkley of radio station KLAC. A "Miss Personality" will be chosen by audience vote during the evening.

Tickets to the pageant are available at either the Student Affairs or Community Services Offices with a donation of 50 cents.

Concert Band Rehearses For Spring Production

An early spring concert of the Cerritos Band will be presented March 15, at 8 p.m. in Burnight Center.

According to director Jack Wheaton, the concert is a part of the educational experience for student musicians. He added that the purpose of the concert is to acquaint students with the basic literature of music as well as to entertain the public.

The Concert Band will play such numbers as the French composition "Monmartre March" from the Paris Suite, written by Haydn Wood, "Sarabande from Parr le Piano," written by Debussy and "Canzona," a modern composition of Peter Menin.

Another number presented by the Concert Band will be "Minuet and Dance of the Blessed Spirits" from the opera Orpheus. This selection, written by Christoph von Gluck, will feature the flute section.

Other numbers will be "Festival Overture," by the Russian contemporary artist Dmitri Shostakovich, George Gershwin's "American in Paris" and "Athletic Festival March," a contemporary new march by Sergei Prokofiev.

The Symphonic Wind Ensemble will present "His Honor," a traditional march by Henry Fillmore, "Prelude and Fugue in F Minor" written by J.S. Bach and arranged by R.L. Mochlmann, "First Suite in E Flat" by Gustav Holst and "Bear Dance" written by Bela Bartok and arranged by Erik Leiden.

The concert is open to the public. Admission charge will be $1 general admission and 50 cents to AS card holders. Profits from the concert will support the band scholarship fund.

$10 CARD TOO MUCH?

Senator Seeks $7 AS Card

In a recent meeting of the AS Senate, a resolution to rescind Senate Bill 308, which raised the price of AS cards to $5 for part-time and $10 for full-time students, was tabled for discussion until the next meeting.

The resolution was introduced by freshman Senator Paul Coleman. The resolution stated that prices of the AS cards ought to revert back to the old prices because the income from this semester's card sales exceeded the estimated income.

Coleman asserted that, as of now, no need for more funds exists, due to the increase of card sales. Coleman also claimed that several students may drop out of the AS program due to increased prices. He said, "One student dropping out of ASCC because of raised prices is too many."

Dean of Men Richard Robinson brought up the point that any increase in card prices will have to be approved by the Board of Trustees. He also said that if the increase is to be decided upon by the Board, a request to put it on the Board agenda must be made.

Recently appointed Senator Carol Atkinson brought up the constitutionality of both bills. She said, "Neither can change, but only recommend a change. It must be in the form of a recommendation."

Sophomore Senator Doug Landgren, under suspension of the rules, suggested that former-Senator Richard Price be allowed to speak. Price suggested that the resolution be referred to committee, since there are so many "variables" to be studied. Price charged that there might be administrative pressure to repeal Senate Bill 308.

After extensive discussion, Senator John Tagg moved that the resolution be tabled until the following week for further discussion. The motion passed by the two-thirds majority needed for such a motion.

In other business, Senator Doug Stenson sponsored a resolution to form a special committee to study awards. This committee will consider a resolution brought up in the first meeting of the current session which suggested that all senators who attain perfect attendance be given complimentary senate pins, as well as other awards on the campus.

Senators, Justices Ineligible To Serve

By LOUIS BANAS

Ten Associated Student senators and three justices of the Supreme Court have been forced out of office because of failure to attain the required 2.0 grade point average.

"Talon Marks" learned this week that among those required to relinquish their posts are former Chief Justice Gary Heidner and former Party Whip Tom Jacobs. Of the 13, only Heidner and Associate Justice Don Bragg have submitted resignations.

Other senators vacating their seats under the requirement of the AS Constitution, include Lorrie Gladwill, minority leader; Ralph Donald, Harry Gersten, John Gordin, Gary Gray, Tony Martinez, Tom Polley and Mary Kay Thompson. The third justice is Richard Lo Cicero.

According to the Constitution of the Associated Students, vacancies are filled by presidential appointment, subject to approval of the Senate.

Dean of Men Richard Robinson refused to disclose the names of these officers to "Talon Marks" and the Senate's roster was made unavailable to "TM" reporters. Robinson said he did not want to see their names "splashed all over the paper." The above names were derived from comparisons of Wednesday's Senate Journal with those of previous sessions.

According to Robinson, there is no way for these persons to regain their office unless it can be proven that there was a mistake in the recording of their grades. Sen. Thompson, Gordin and Justice Lo Cicero are the only ones who have made such claims and are in the process of verifying this.

EDITORIAL

Political Farce?

Re-evaluation of the present mode of deciding the number of senators to serve in the AS Senate is needed.

According to the present system, there must be one senator for every 100 fulltime students. Because of this, 44 senators had to be elected for this semester. With only 44 candidates running for 44 seats (and the bulk of the candidates filed after the original deadline) only a write-in candidate distinguished this election, on the surface, from those held in Russia.

But worse than this, a number of senators will now have to be replaced by executive appointment because their grades made them ineligible to serve.

It is ironic that a system designed to give a greater variety of representation in the Senate seems only to serve the purpose of increasing the representation of the executive branch (which appoints new senators) in the legislative branch.

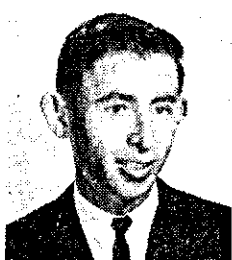

It would be even more ironic if this system were allowed to continue now that it has shown its weaknesses of demanding a favoritism for the executive branch.

It is a farce to call the present system "representative." Representation is based on the vote and disappears with the vote. And it seems that we are no longer voting for senators, but merely endorsing them.

The size of the Senate should be lowered in order to avoid these problems. This could be done by either establishing a fixed size for the senate (as was done for the U.S. House of Representatives), by increasing the ratio of students to senators, or even by setting the ratio according to the number of fulltime AS members (rather than the number of fulltime students).

ALONE BUT UNDAUNTED in his efforts to reorganize the College Young Republicans is Scotty Seaman. Only active political club on campus at present is the California Collegiate Democrats, but Seaman is anxious to develop a "loyal opposition." He may be contacted through the Office of Student Affairs. Talon Marks Photo

CCD Seeks To Aid Lone Republican

"It's like the plague," said Fran Siegel, adviser to the California Collegiate Democrats, a Cerritos political club. "No one, I repeat, no one seems to want to go near a Young Republican Club. Just one fellow, Scott Seaman, has shown interest."

Miss Siegel, although a staunch Democrat and thoroughly loyal to her organization, wishes to see a competing political organization on campus. She has personally led the drive for the defunct club's return. But so far, only Seaman has shown any interest.

"He can't be the only Rep. on campus," she states. "There must be some more of them around."

At present there are about 15 active members in the CCD, but Miss Siegel hopes for an increase in membership after things "get settled down this semester."

"You need around 10 members and an adviser for a club. We've got that, but we'd like a few more students," she said. "We expect interest will rise next semester before the gubernatorial elections."

President of the Democrats is Tom Van Strien. An election for vice president and secretary is pending March 8. The new co-adviser for the CCD is Russell Storkan, a history teaching colleague of Miss Siegel.

The CCD was founded in August of 1964. Since then they have been involved in many activities, including sending Christmas cards to the Marines in Vietnam and meeting H. K. Humphrey, the Saturday before he was elected Vice President of the United States. (Miss Siegel had all but finalized plans for Humphrey to speak on campus. But according to Miss Siegel, one of the local politicians, a Democrat, "somehow fouled up the whole thing.")

The CCD's attended a pro-Johnson rally in October of 1964. "We always consider it an honor for Congressman Chet Hillfield to speak on campus. He addresses the group every semester."

In summing up the plans for the future, Miss Siegel said, "It all depends on the size of the membership . . . both ours and the opposition party's . . . we hope. All I know for sure is that I'm backing Governor Brown for re-election."

"Trivia" As a Way of Life

In his weekly campaign to keep my mind filled with fresh new subjects so that I won't write a column concerning sex and virginity, the adviser just handed me an advertisement for a new gimmick designed to be published in college newspapers.

It is called "For Campers Only" and is copyrighted by a New Yorker named Peter S. Fischer Incorporated. But let me quote from his brochure: "Dear Editor: I am introducing to you the newest and certainly one of the most exciting features available. Frankly, I would like to see you subscribe to this service."

Let me tell you a little about "For Campers Only." These puzzles, which are in crossword puzzle form, are designed to test the readers' knowledge of trivia—old movies, television, shows, pop songs, the heyday of radio, Broadway shows and just about anything else of little consequence.

This last part was what really got me, because if he would have made just the slightest inquiry he would have found that "anything else of little consequence" happens to be my department on this paper. I wrote back to tell him he was a four letter word for grotesque and unbecomely.

These are some of the things he had in his first puzzle, which took gall on his part to send around the entire country. "Today you are looking for the name of a popular radio show plus the name of the actor who starred and the name of one of the principal characters. The clues: 1) Father wore spats. 2) Where Bogie would sit on judgement day. 3) Dope peddler in "Man With the Golden Arm." 4) This guy sounds like a beat up "T" shirt."

Enough. If I were going to publicize puzzles, I would dream up questions that offer the reader an intellectual challenge. For instance, "Dear Readers, the subject for today is movies, songs, comics and the draft."

ACROSS 1) Who put the "bomp" in "Bomp-dee-bomp" and the "shoo" in "Boogity-boogity-shoo"? 2) What was Donald Duck's true relationship with Daisy Mae Duck? 3) Who won the famous movie fight between "Godzilla" and "The Creature That Ate Europe"? 4) What was the total circumference of Clark Gable's ears in the film "Gone With the Wind"?

DOWN: 1) How long has the Ed Sullivan show been on the air? (And why isn't it off?) 2) What is T.V. commercial star Granny Goose's reply to the Mexican bandit who says, "What's in the bag, Goose?" 3) In which picture did Charlton Heston play an insignificant punk? (You tell me and we'll both know.) 4) Which eye did that guy get pecked out in Hitchcock's "The Birds"?

UP: 1) Who says "The-a, the-a, that's all, folks!" Porky Pig, Elmer Fudd or Speedy Gonzales? (And why can't Gen. Hershey be taught the same?) 2) What made Superman think people had to have X-ray vision to see in telephone booths when he undressed? 3) In what movie did Paul Newman get his thumbs hustled?

SIDEWAYS: 1) What was the correlation between "Jingles" bodyweight and his repeated statement "Hey Wild Bill, wait for me!"? 2) How much time elapsed in "Goldfinger" between the hayloft scene with Pussy Galore and Bond and the subsequent rescue of Bond, Fort Knox and 100,000 men by her as a result of this aforementioned technique?

And as old Pete Fischer says . . . buy as many as you like for just $2 each. However, if your readers become as enthralled with the challenge of these puzzles, as I think they will, you won't want to skip a single issue."

I would amend that for me to say you can skip it all if you want because it is hard remembering all the important and truly significant facts from movies and such like I have done.

25 Year Old Notebook Goes Back to School

A mother's faith is a strong and abiding thing . . . This story could start "Once upon a time," but it isn't a fairy tale. It's about an old three-ring notebook that finally got its chance to go to college. This particular blue canvas notebook is the kind kids have been carrying to school for generations. With "Marine Raiders" inked across the front, it has been around about 25 years and looks its age.

The notebook belongs to Grace Putnam—a grandmother and a fulltime student here at Cerritos.

GRACE PUTNAM Returns to College

The story starts back during World War II when Grace graduated from Belmont High in Los Angeles. Her mother, Mrs. Chester Dean, now 65 and still living in Los Angeles, wanted her to go to college. But like many children, Grace didn't do what mother expected.

Instead, she got married, moved to the Middle West, raised her family and forgot about school notebook away and wanted.

About nine years ago, the family returned to California and in time Grace went to work for North American Aviation at Downey in the accounting department. But with the advent of automation, she was displaced by a machine.

Grace realized that unless she developed specific skills, the same experience would repeat itself elsewhere. She decided to return to school.

At this point, Uncle Sam got into the act with MDTA (Manpower Development Training Act). Following a series of interviews, Mrs. Putnam found herself here at Cerritos, a data processing major and a full-time student.

MDTA makes it possible for a student to get a federal grant (in this case three terms) to take an approved program. Cerritos is one of the first in the state to offer it, with four other students here under the vocational nursing program, according to Elwyn Saferite, Dean of Academic Affairs — Special Programs.

In Grace Putnam's case, as a regular student with selected courses, she is working towards specialization in a particular field. The grant takes care of subsistence, books and nominal supplies.

Mrs. Putnam carries a full academic load — 16½ units, including an unrequired ½ unit gym class because "I do a lot of sitting around and feel I need the regular exercise." Her subject — golf. She's given up a longtime hobby, scuba-diving, as a little more strenuous than she can handle with her new college life.

Jeana, her 2½-year-old granddaughter, lives nearby in Norwalk with married daughter Dona Bishop. But her 18-year old twin sons are far from home. John Greer is in the service in Vietnam, Jim is in college in Riley, S. Dak.

And now the notebook that finally got a chance to go to college. Recently Mrs. Dean hauled out the book, dusted it off and gave it to Grace for school.

Mrs. Putnam smiles when she says, "If Mother had enough faith in my going back to school all these years, the least I could do was use the book she saved for me." And she carries her data processing manuals in it.

As I said . . . a mother's faith is a strong and abiding thing . . . it lasts not just through one generation, it lasts a lifetime. Ask Grace Putnam.

FLEDGLING SQUAD NUMBERS SEVEN

Gymnasts Start First Season

By RANDY GRATER

"What I'm trying to do now is to get the team off the ground so that next year we can begin to get some guys out here with experience and begin to build the team up," explained Bob Dye, coach of the fledgling Cerritos gymnastics team.

This is the first year for gymnastics at Cerritos. According to Athletic Director Don Hall, there has been an interest in gymnastics in the past, but the district was not able to hire a coach. Coaches must also instruct regular physical education classes, he said, and until now there was not a great enough need in these classes to permit the hiring of a new coach.

Coach Dye is still looking for new talent for the team. Eight men who originally came out for the team have been eliminated by the draft, ineligibility or personal reasons. This has left the team with only seven members. "If someone gets injured, we'll really be hurting," Dye commented.

But the team already appears to be hurting. As a rule, novice teams are hard put to score a victory during their first year. With so few on the neophyte team, the problem is compounded by the fact that only one or two men will be competing on each event.

In gymnastics there is a possible five places on each event. This means that the Falcon squad will be forfeiting 6 to 10 points per event, even if they were able to pick up first and second places on each event.

Looking for More Talent

Dye is hoping to attract more men to the squad to help balance the team. Some have expressed interest in the team, according to Dye, but they can not find the time.

"Anyone who is really interested can find the time to work out one hour a day," Dye asserted. He added that arrangements could be made to find practice time which would fit their schedule. He pointed out that the seven team members do not all work out at the same time.

College Shows Sea Movie

The Los Angeles County Museum will present the documentary film, "Village Beneath the Sea" in Burnight Center Theater on Wednesday, March 23, at 8 p.m. "Village Beneath the Sea" is another in a series of films presented by the Museum in cooperation with the public schools and libraries throughout the Southland.

Photography for the underwater scenes is by Harry and Verne Pederson. The Pederson brothers spent more than 10 years in preparation for this film. "Village Beneath the Sea" is one of many famous works filmed by the brothers. Included in their past productions are "The Sea Around Us," "Hunters of the Deep," and Walt Disney's "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea."

According to the Community Services Office, this film holds special appeal for scientists and underwater fans as well as for the general public. Of interest are the scenes depicting the strange environment of marine life.

Other films in this series which will screen on the Cerritos campus later this year include "Richard III" and "Safari Ya Tembo." All films in this series are in color and the admission is free.

Gymnastics seemed to be a growing sport in this area in the past. Excelsior, Cal High and El Rancho had strong teams in 1961 when La Mirada and Artesia added gymnastics to their sports calendars. Other schools in their league began adding gymnastics to their schedules, too. However, the status of gymnastics in this area is now uncertain. Dye indicated that this will be the last year for gymnastics at Artesia.

Competition in Nine Events

Gymnastics has six "all-around" events which are used in Olympic competition. These are side and long horse, parallel bars, rings, high bar and free exercise. In addition to those events the team will also be competing in rope climb, trampoline and tumbling.

The rope climb is rated according to times. Each competitor has two opportunities to climb. Only his fastest time is counted. Good times in team competition are below five seconds.

Judged on Point System

The other events are judged on a point system of 10. When a gymnast approaches his apparatus, he is considered perfect. But as he executes his routine, the judges deduct points for breaks in form, failure to include certain moves and other flaws in the routine. One point is deducted for falling off an apparatus.

The judges look for a display of skill, flexibility and strength in each routine. Greater emphasis is placed on form. Therefore, it is better to do an easy routine well than a difficult routine with several breaks in form.

Nurse Predicts 'Worst Is Yet to Come' From Flu Epidemic Sweeping Southland

The worst may be yet to come, College Nurse Margaret Manire predicted in an interview concerning the flu epidemic sweeping the southland. She recalls the epidemic of 1957 was even worse than the present one and resulted in more deaths at the same stage. She felt it was a different strain than the present one.

"I know of no reason for the school to be closed down because of the flu, although there is a high rate of instructor absenteeism," said Mrs. Manire. Each department reports the missing instructors individually so it is hard to determine the exact number of instructors out with the flu.

Mrs. Manire warns that anyone who feels he has contracted the flu to stay home and look after himself and not expose others. "If you have the flu, avoid exertion, chilling and becoming over-tired. There is not too much you can do once you have it, although some doctors prefer to give medicine to help prevent complications," she adds.

"The most dangerous thing one must look out for with the flu or any upper respiratory ailment," she continues, "is pneumonia. This is because the flu infection leaves the patient little resistance to fight it."

Because pneumonia, heart and kidney afflictions often result from the flu, Mrs. Manire feels it is an excellent idea for students to be immunized each fall. It takes quite a while for the flu immunization to build up its effectiveness. This could easily prevent much of the absenteeism each year although she feels it would almost take a miracle to get anything started on the wide-scale necessary.

The only people on the campus who have a right to feel secure about the flu — and who can't use it as an excuse to skip school — is the football squad which was vaccinated en masse in the fall.

There are seven or eight strains of the flu. The present epidemic is the result of "type

Cerritos Public Events Board Hosts Six Schools at Parley

The Associated Students Public Events Board will host a conference of six similar boards from local junior colleges on March 12. The parley is scheduled to discuss both mutual problems and various co-operative plans to alleviate these problems, according to Karen Foster, the board's student-at-large.

One shared problem is attendance according to Miss Foster. Solutions include a contract series whereby the same program would move from school to school with all schools sharing in advertising expenses.

Another possibility is an alternating program system in which first one school, then another, will host a program, with all schools sharing the expense. This could boost attendance considerably according to Miss Foster.

A major purpose of the Cerritos board is to better coordinate campus events with community services events. "This is done in order to use the potentials of both budgets to the utmost," Tom Jacobs, former party whip, said.

For example, Jacobs pointed out, "The Community Services Office could have footed the bill for the 'Speaker Series.' This, he added, would have left a surplus in the board's budget — available for either a special program or to balance the overall AS budget.

The Cerritos board is considering developing a master calendar listing all campus and community services events to avoid, if possible, competition or duplication.

Another question to be resolved by the Cerritos board is whether the program should break even or take a financial loss, while supporting a program. "We're obviously not a profit making organization," Miss Foster said, "but that is all that has been resolved."

Other members of the board include Larry Sleet, Fine Arts, and Communications Commissioner, and Senators John Tagg and Doug Landgren.

The Junior Colleges scheduled to appear at the conference are Harbor, Valley, Rio Hondo, Compton, El Camino and Long Beach City.

Club Notes

"Bal Week" is the title of a film which the Campus Crusade for Christ will be showing in the Burnight Center Theatre Monday at 8 p.m.

"Bal Week" will portray "the unusual events of Easter vacation last year on the beach scene," according to Larry Morser. No admission will be charged for the showing. The club invites everyone to see the film.

Phi Kappa Zeta will sponsor a car wash tomorrow at the Standard Station on the northwest corner of Alondra and Studebaker. Cars will be washed from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

The purpose of the project, according to Phi Kappa Zeta's publicity chairman Lynda Johnson, is to raise money for Yung Woon Choi, the Korean youth who is being supported by Cerritos.

Cars will be washed for a donation of 75 cents. Tickets may be purchased now or at the car wash.

DENNIS CAMPBELL

Killingsworth
On Recruiting

To the average inhabitant of the community of Cerritos College, the basketball players who tramp out on the court each week are just so many stars who showed up to play ball for Cerritos.

But to head basketball coach Jim Killingsworth, they represent unending hours of talking to high school coaches, watching prep basketball games, conducting summer league ball, and interviewing the individual players themselves. For, you see, to have a successful basketball team, a coach must be a successful recruiter, and the job of recruiting is an endless one.

The main problem of a junior college coach, of course, is competing against the four-year colleges, for the top talent, without the aid of financial offers. A large part of his recruiting is spent escorting prospects around the college and trying to sell them on the advantages of attending a junior college.

Killingsworth not only feels that a junior college has advantages over a four-year institution, but that it has all of the advantages the others might offer.

According to Killingsworth, "The only player who should go to a university or college is the superstar with an A average," which rules out about 99.9 per cent of the graduating players.

Better Competition

The personable Cerritos mentor theorizes that a junior college offers more games and tougher competition than a college freshman team. In addition, unless a player is a superstar, he's going to spend most of his sophomore year on the bench at a four-year school, thus losing valuable experience.

Most important, though, is the fact that junior college basketball gives the player a chance to evaluate his talents against good competition. He can then choose wisely as to his future college choice, whether it will be a small college, or a university or large college of higher caliber basketball.

If a player didn't go to a JC first, he might make the mistake of going to a big school where his talents wouldn't be sufficient to "cut the mustard" — and if he should transfer to a lesser school, he automatically loses a year of eligibility.

Local Talent Disappears

Killingsworth feels that if he could recruit all of the outstanding talent in this area, Cerritos could be a perennial powerhouse. Such stars, who are now college sophomores, as Mike Maggard of Norwalk, a starting forward at U.S.C.; Jim LaCour, an All-CIF star at Pius X High; and John Broeske and Jim Damm of Bellflower, starters at Cal State (L.B.) and Nebraska, respectively, are notable players who could have made Cerritos' season a very successful one.

All of these players, though, combined scholastic ability with their basketball talents, and were lured to their respective four-year colleges. The lure of the big school especially is great out of state, making a junior college coach's job a difficult one.

As soon as the high school season ends, Killingsworth's big job starts. From viewing local prep teams and talking with coaches, he'll have a pretty good idea of who he wants. The hard part is getting them.

Entry Deadline

March 11 is the last day for students and faculty to file entries in the Cerritos Recreation Association's all-college golf tournament, according to Mrs. Alice Delk, CRA sponsor.

The tournaments are scheduled for March 16, 21 and 25. They will be held at the Norwalk, Bellflower, and Rio Hondo courses respectively. Registration fees, ranging from 50 cents to $2, will include the green fee.

The Cerritos track team, fresh off an upset win in the East L.A. Relays, will compete in the Long Beach Relays tomorrow. Coach Dave Kamanski has entered men in every event of the meet, called the official outdoor opener for track and field.

The gigantic meet will involve approximately 1500 athletes, with divisions for junior high, high school, junior college, college, university and open competition. First events start at 10 a.m. at Veterans Stadium.

Last Friday Kamanski's thinclads pulled off their first big upset of the season as they outdistanced runner-up Long Beach at the annual East L.A. Relays.

The Falcons won only one event but pulled off four seconds and a third to top the victory. The 880 relay team won going away to make up for a disappointing fourth place in the 440 relay, which Cerritos was favored to win.

The meet came down to the final event of the afternoon, the pole vault. Cerritos had a one point lead on Long Beach, and when the Vikings were eliminated from the vault Cerritos had the championship in the bag.

LB Dumps Falcons;
Wins Metro Title

by LOUIS BANAS

Long Beach coaches Chuck Kane and John Rambo discovered a unique way to cool off after a heated game. They took a dip in the Cerritos pool after their Vikings had cooled off the Falcons 79-73 and wrap up their first Metropolitan Conference championship since 1959.

Cerritos, however, gave LBCC fits before succumbing to the champs. Afterwards, Kane complimented Falcon coach Jim Killingsworth for an "excellent" coaching job in an effort to upset the Vikes and added that "it is always a challenge to beat him (Killingsworth)."

The Vikings found out early that they would not be able to play their type of running game. After giving up the opening two points, the Falcons handled the ball well into the third minute of play when Bill Plank connected for an easy layup.

A flurry of baskets saw Long Beach take a 17-11 lead. Then the Falcons went to work and went on a ten point scoring spree to take over the lead. But four consecutive tallies by Harry Williams kept the Vikes close.

Until intermission, it became a contest of Larry Crowell vs. LBCC. The lanky 6 foot 5 inch hoopman from Artesia came off the bench to score 14 points in the final nine minutes of the first half.

The Viking backcourt trio's full-court press was particularly effective after play resumed.

Bill Connolly, Mack Calvin and Bennie Richard harassed Falcon ball handlers while they brought the ball upcourt. With Jim Smith victim to the flu, most of this task fell on guard Jack Cleghorn.

Cleghorn hasn't been used much until the last few games; he did well under the circumstances but was eventually worn down. Long Beach went into a stall with nine minutes left, much to the displeasure of the Falcon fans. Connolly, then Richard took turns handling the ball near the midcourt stripe. When the Falcon defense came out after them, they took turns in throwing job passes to Joe Ware, who laid the ball in for four straight points.

Cerritos matched Long Beach from the field as both teams collected 28 baskets. LBCC only took 39 shots all evening for a fabulous 71%. Cerritos made 28 out of 52 attempts. The Vikings' winning margin was a result of their constant trips to the charity line; they had ten more attempts than Cerritos.

Crowell led all scorers with 22 points. Bill Plank and Rich Brown collected 16 and 11 in their final Cerritos appearances. Five Vikes scored in double figures paced by Connolly's 17.

CAGE SHORTS: Famous first statements upon their exit from the pool — Kane: "It was warm in there." Rambo: "Stinks, now everyone will see my Batman T-shirt." The junior college state championships will start on March 10 and according to Kane the Vikings have drawn No. 2 ranked San Francisco City College. Riverside rests in the No. 1 spot and the Vikes are rated third. Killingsworth was extremely pleased at his team's final performance. "They looked like an experienced team more than any time this year," said the likeable Falcon coach. "They took a lot out of guards and that is what hurt us," he added.

Viking Ace Carey Bailey Nabs Conference Honors

Long Beach City's freshman ace Carey Bailey was named the Metropolitan conference "Player of the Year" at a coaches' meeting held last Tuesday. Rich Brown was the only Falcon named to the All-Conference team.

Bailey, a 6-5 center from Beckley, West Virginia, led the Vikings to the conference championship and an overall 28-1 record. He averaged 17.5 points per game and hauled down 14.1 rebounds per contest.

He was joined on the first team by teammate Bill Connolly, Cary Smith and Steve Jennings, both from Valley, and Bakersfield's Bill Winston. Santa Monica failed to place

Honorable mention went to Bennie Richard (LB), Rich Sigrist and Bill Donovan (SM), Gary Osbrink (EC), and Charles Robinson (V).

Tonight a group of Metro "All-Stars," which include most of the above players, will face champion Long Beach in the Vike gym. Valley's Dan Means and El Camino's George Stanich have been designated to coach the stars against Chuck Kane's crew. Tipoff is slated for 8 p.m.

Matmen Tie For Second

The Cerritos wrestling team came within a hair of the Metropolitan conference title last week at Bakersfield but lost out to El Camino by only two points.

The Warriors copped the team title with 83 points and Cerritos came out tied with the Bakersfield Renegades with 81 points. LA Valley trailed with eight points.

The Falcon matmen will compete this weekend in the Southern California tournament to be held at the El Camino campus. Coach Hal Simonek predicted that Cerritos could beat the host school.

"I think we can win it all if everything goes right and if every one comes through as I think they will," said Simonek when asked about the tournament. The top four men in each weight division will qualify for the three day state meet to be held in Fresno Mar. 10 through 12.

While Cerritos and El Camino fight it out as top contenders in the Southern Cal tournament, Bakersfield will be competing in a Northern California tournament.

Cerritos wrestlers finished in the following order at the All metro tournament: 115-Ronald Garza, third; 123-Shep Bloom, first; 130-Pete Philpott, second; 137-Brian Shoup, third; 145-Steve Johnson, second; 152-Fern Arsenault, first; 161-Ken Bos, third; 167-Chuck Bishop, third; 177-Wayne Parlee, first; 191-Barry Schneider, second and Jeff Smith, a heavy weight, second. All of these listings are according to weight class.

CRA Seeks Swimmers

Any talented female swimmers who would like to represent Cerritos in the May Southern California Junior College swim meet, sponsored by C.R.A., should contact Alice Delk in the PE Building. If Mrs. Delk is not available, girls should leave the following information: name, PE class time and days and phone number.

In addition to the women's swim meet, C.R.A. will sponsor a coed swim meet in June. Practices can be made to fit any individual schedule.

C.R.A. will offer coed badminton starting March 29, and continuing through the 11 a.m. recreation hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Women's softball began February 21, and any interested coed is urged to attend practice from 3-5 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. The activity is open to all women with an AS card.

C.R.A. golf continues to meet on Wednesdays at 3 p.m. Golf is under the direction of Mrs. Delk, and plans are being made for a match with another school.

Entry blanks for the CRA student-faculty golf tournament may be obtained at the main desk in the P.E. building. Tourney dates are March 16, 21 and 25.

Horsehidlers Blast to Tourney Title

The Santa Maria Baseball Tournament turned into three days of batting practice for the Falcon horsehidlers as they easily swept through the three rounds to win the championship. Coach Wally Kincaid's undefeated team beat Hancock 9-0, Santa Ana 9-0, and L.A. Valley 3-0 for the crown.

The team will be out to extend their win streak to 10 games when they journey to Long Beach City College this afternoon to open conference play. Coach Kincaid only laughed when asked about any possible pressure building up from an extended winning streak.

The first game of the tournament was all but over after one inning as Larry Sleep homered to climax a three run frame. The Falcons continued their slugging in the second stanza as two walks, a double by Ken Lohnes, and a homer by Reid Braden accounted for four more runs.

Bob Baughn, starter in the first game, breezed through seven innings to gain the victory. Vaughn scattered three hits and gave up an unearned run. Scott Reid pitched the final two innings to record the save.

Lopsided Win

The second round game against Santa Ana was even more lopsided than the first. Cerritos collected 17 hits and 9 runs. All but two of the hits were singles.

Jim York pitched the full nine innings for the first time this season and allowed only two hits in recording the shutout. York was voted the "outstanding pitcher" of the tournament.

Advancing to the final round, the baseballers again turned fine pitching and clutch hitting into a 3-0 victory over Valley for the crown.

Rod Corder pitched the complete game shutout, giving up seven hits on the way. He was in trouble only in the third inning when two singles and a walk loaded the bases. He pitched his way out of the jam and then proceeded to retire the next eleven Monarch batters in a row.

Meanwhile, Cerritos has capitalized on breaks to build a 3-0 lead. In the first stanza, Chuck Ramshaw singled and took second on a weak grounder. Braden then singled for the only run Corder needed.

Lohnes Adds Margin

Two insurance runs were added in the third frame. With one out, Ramshaw and Reid singled. Braden grounded out, but with two big runs on the base paths, Lohnes responded with a clutch triple to insure the victory.

In the final inning, a single and an error brought the trying runs to the plate with only one out. Corder rose to the occasion by retiring the next two batters on a fly ball and a grounder to end the game.

Ramshaw joined York in the awards parade as he won the tournament MVP honors.

Bomb Chaffey

In their final practice game before conference play, the Falcons defeated visiting Chaffey, 8-0, on Tuesday.

Once again the team started fast with two runs in the first inning. Rich Emard was hit by a pitch to open the inning. Braden tripled to left center and Lohnes doubled down the left field line for two runs. Cerritos never looked back as they steadily pulled away from the visitors. The Falcons scored three more runs in the third and added one in the seventh and two in the eighth to complete the rout.

Vaughn, Louie Bratcher, and Raul Cano combined for the shutout. Bratcher, pitching the middle innings, earned the win.

a player on either the first or second team.

Connolly was the driving force behind the Long Beach offense. He had an 18.5 average in Metro play and was the Vikes' top assist man.

Smith and Jennings finished No. 1 and No. 2 in the loop scoring race, as they led Valley to a second place finish. Winston had the lowest scoring average on the first team (14.8) but was a top notch rebounder.

Brown, the only returning All-Metro player, again grabbed second team honors. Others named to the second team were Jim Lloyd and Alan Lepper, of El Camino; Doug Newby and Danny Solares, from East L.A.; and a third Long Beach player, Harry Williams.

Falcon Netmen Dump Titans Stay Unbeaten

Coach Ray Pascoe's predictions for a good season continue to come true as the Cerritos netters defeated visiting Cal State (Fullerton) 7-2 on Thursday, Feb. 24. The racquet squad is now 3-0 on the year, all against non-conference foes.

Today the netmen put their undefeated record on the line as they face perennially strong El Camino College in Metropolitan Conference play. This match could go a long way in determining the Metro championship.

Coach Pascoe is especially pleased with the depth of his squad. He has seven strong players who could make any All junior college team. Wayne Burd, sixth man on the Falcon team, best exemplifies the great depth he has yet to lose in either singles or doubles this year.

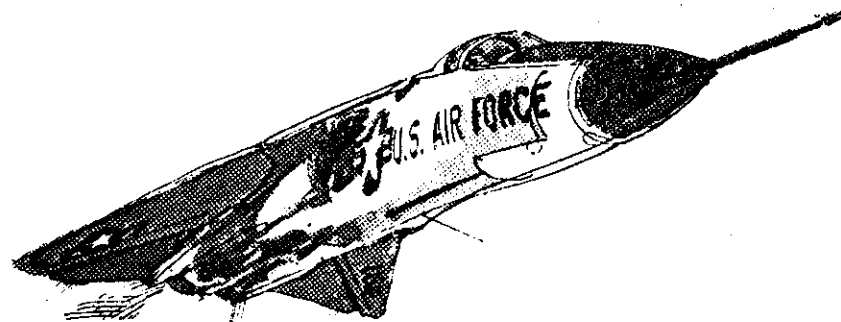

Others who have shown well through the non-conference slate are Brian Kekich who is undefeated after three singles matches and Manuel Macias who has a 2-0 slate. The doubles team have compiled a fine 7-2 record over the first three matches.

A TIP ON TECHNIQUE occupies the attention of Falcon netmen Manuel Macias, Charles Patino and Rich Farmer as Coach Ray Pascoe demonstrates the backhand. The squad faces a strong El Camino squad on the home courts today in Metropolitan Conference play.

Have astronauts made pilots old hat?

Sure, the boys who go off the "pads" get the big, bold headlines. But if you want to fly, the big opportunities are still with the aircraft that take off and land on several thousand feet of runway.

Who needs pilots? TAC does. And MAC. And SAC. And ADC.

There's a real future in Air Force flying. In years to come aircraft may fly higher, faster, and further than we dare dream of. But they'll be flying, with men who've had Air Force flight training at the controls. Of course the Air Force also has plenty of jobs for those who won't be flying. As one of the world's largest and most advanced research and development organizations, we have a continuing need for scientists and engineers.

Young college graduates in these fields will find that they'll have the opportunity to do work that's both interesting and important. The fact is, nowhere will you have greater latitude or responsibility right from the start than on the Aerospace Team—the U.S. Air Force!

You may be particularly interested in the new 2-year Air Force ROTC program, available to transfer students of many 4-year colleges. For details on this and other ways to an Air Force commission, mail the coupon below.

Cambridge Debate Team Appears Here March 16

"Has American Society gone from barbarism to decadence without going through civilization?"

On March 16 two debaters from Cambridge University, England, and two debaters from the Speech Squad will attempt to answer this question. The battle of wits will take place at 8 p.m. in the Burnight Center and will be open to the public.

Faculty Exhibits

Artistic Efforts

An opportunity to view the current art efforts of the staff of the Art Department will be given to students beginning March 6 through 18, Mon.-Fri., 12-9 p.m. and on Sun., 2-5 p.m.

According to Gallery Director Walter Jones, the exhibit, which this year includes photography as an artistic medium, is not part of the regular obligation and is done because the contributors believe it is professionally correct to do it.

Most of the staff have at one time had or will have a one-man show and several have appeared on television and in magazines.

This year's exhibit will include drawing, oil and watercolor painting, cast bronzes, carved wood and stone sculpture, art photography and both thrown and sculptured ceramic forms.

Art department members in the exhibit are Rudolph Aguirre, Manuel De Leon, Donald Desfor, Richard Johnson, Walter Jones, Dick Scott, Melvin Wood and Roland Shutt.

Due to the wide range of training and inclination, there will be a very broad spectrum in the artistic idioms expressed. Some of the art objects will be for sale. Any such sale will be conducted between the interested party and the artist.

The debate promises to be very entertaining, due to the style of debate that will be used and the high quality of debating talent, according to Speech Chairman Juliette Venitsky.

English debaters employ much more humor, wit, and personal opinion than do American debaters, she said.

Ingo Geoffrey Bing, 22, and Robert Graham Marshall Andrews, 21, have both had extensive debating experience in England. Both intend to become barristers.

The two Cerritos debaters, who will each be teamed with one of the visitors are Richard LoCicero and John Tagg.

The international debate is being co-sponsored by the Norwalk Kiwanis Club and the Speech Department. The Cambridge team has been brought to this country by the Speech Association of America.

Tickets will cost 50c for ASCC card holders and $1 for general admission. Tickets will be available in the Community Services Office during the coming week.

Debaters Trek To Tournament

Three Falcon debate teams leave today for the two-day Spring Debate Championship Tournament at San Fernando Valley State College.

Last year Cerritos took second place at this annual tournament, according to speech instructor Juliette Venitsky. This year Cerritos has a very good chance of doing as well if not better, she predicted.

The three teams going to Valley State are Gloria Hartmann-Richard, LoCicero, Bill Cassio-John Tagg and Diane Riave-Diana Roberts.

One of these debaters, Gloria Hartmann, took second place at this tournament last year with her teammate Jodie Milhouse, who has since graduated.

Marital Mores and Problems Examined in Marriage Forum

By ROBERT UNDERWOOD

"An engaged couple should spend a week in Las Vegas to find out what the other person is all about," suggested Judge John Landis in the marriage forum held here recently. Judge Harry Shafer was also on hand to speak to the audience from the community and college.

Judge Landis from the Los Alamitos Municipal Court claimed that a person who knows how another would act in simulated living conditions would enter the marriage with a better understanding. Judge Landis acknowledged that it's against our society's standards, but it does help an engaged couple to know each other.

Judge Shafer from the Compton Judicial District felt marriage counseling should take place before the marriage. He claimed that once a couple is married, chances are slim for reconciliation if a major problem arises due to a lack of understanding.

"The biggest reason for divorce is lack of understanding and economics is the biggest factor in disharmony," Judge Shafer contended. Economics has increased as a problem due to the woman's recent economic freedom, according to the judge.

Aiming specifically at the college audience, Judge Shafer said that the young people should get more counseling in the pre-marital state. He cited a survey which showed that most teenagers agree on one marital duty—the man should take out the garbage. He praised the Roman Catholic Church for its counseling of couples about to be married. He also added that this practice is on the increase in the Protestant churches.

To support this idea legally, Judge Shafer said, "It should be made more difficult to get married and marriage laws should have some correlation with the difficulty of getting a divorce."

Judge Landis agreed but claimed that the biggest single factor in divorce is economics. Marriages in which both parents work almost inevitably end up in a divorce, according to him. Judge Landis felt that drinking was also a factor in some marriages but is only a minor one.

The program was the second of a four-program series presented by the Cerritos Professionals Committee. The next forum will be on money management on March 29 in the Student Center.

AS Senate Seeks Ramps For Wheelchairs

A resolution to have a ramp built to the Student Center and ramps built in future multi-story buildings for the use of students in wheelchairs was passed by the Senate in their last meeting. The vote was 17-24.

Senator Robert Schmidt spoke in favor of the bill, contending that it would be of real help to students in wheelchairs. The author of the bill was Ron Smith, who resigned from the Senate as of the last meeting.

The legislation emphasized that it is only a recommendation to the Board of Trustees. It specified that wheel-chair students of Cerritos will make recommendations as to the design of the ramp to be built to the Student Center.

Senator Gary Smith was the only opponent of the legislation, saying that he couldn't visualize ramps being installed in recent buildings or even into future buildings.

FACULTY NOTES

Area Bloodmobile Today

New location for the Red Cross Bloodmobile today is the Masonic Temple, 12345 E. Rosecrans, Norwalk. Blood Bank chairman Ruth Groeling reminds faculty members to credit the Cerritos Blood Bank with their donation and to contact her so that she can be sure the account was properly credited.

On March 15, the Bloodmobile will be at the St. Matthias Episcopal Church, College and Washington Ave. in Whittier. Hours for both locations are 3-7:30 p.m.

SCOPE Airs Next Week

Members of the Cerritos Day and Night Stage Bands and the Madrigal Singers will star next week, March 9-11, on SCOPE, an educational program produced by KABC, channel 7.

Videotaped early in January the series of musical presentations will be aired from 7 to 7:30 a.m. According to Jack Wheaton, band director, the performances might be broadcast at a later date on a nationwide network.

The first show will star the Day Stage Band in a performance of the sounds from the "Big Band Era."

Featured soloists are trumpeter Richard Henderson, guitarist Pete Woodford, tenor saxophonist Mike Cahoon and pianist Dave Crane.

Also in the first film are the Madrigal Singers, directed by Stanley Porter.

The second show will be a performance of the Madrigal Singers and the Night Stage Band. They will present scores of music from the movie sound track, "House on the Sand." Also the Night Stage Band will be featured in the third film, a presentation of original compositions.

Soloists from the Night Stage Band are trumpeter and flugelhornist Don Dennis and trombonists Gary McKnight and Bob Newton.

Other soloists are tenor saxophonists Les Norak and Bill Vitale, guitarist Pete Woodford and bass player Bill Kirk.

Honors Banquet Plans Underway

"We need help," Nancy Ciacia, commissioner of activities, said. She was referring to the committees being organized to plan the combined spring honors banquet and dinner dance.

The semi-formal affair will be held February, May 27 at 6:30 in the Embassy Room of the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

"We need a theme first of all," Miss Ciacia said. A free ticket will be awarded to the student whose theme is selected. A suggestion box will be placed in the Student Affairs office along with a sign-up sheet for the committees.

Among the committees open to all AS card holders are bids, decoration, entertainment, and band-lighting.

The name of the band has not yet been announced, but the Cerritos Dance Band was auditioned Wednesday night as a possibility. If selected, they will receive $250. This, according to Miss Ciacia, is an economy measure in addition to the combining of the two formerly separate events. "They're as good as any other band we could get," she commented.

"Last year's budget committee cut the spring dinner dance and we felt that by economizing we could still have it," Miss Ciacia said. It's one of the highlights of the spring semester," she added.

The event is expected to draw 400 persons.

Flu Epidemic . . .

A or "Asian" flu. The Department of Public Health, which is usually able to warn communities of impending flu strikes, was caught unaware this time and was unable to get the large quantities of vaccine ready early enough for the people to be protected, according to Mrs. Manire.

She warns: "If you feel nausea coming on or you get a bad stomach ache or become dizzy, you may be coming down with the flu. Other symptoms are headaches and general weakness. A few people react to the early symptoms like a bad cold. It is different for many people — but you will know when you have got it. The present strain is unusual because it requires so many days to get over it," she concludes.
