OKAY NEW SALARY SCHEDULE

Trustees Approve $4.2 M Budget

Cerritos trustees upped the budget, approved a Faculty Association salary proposal and provided for a new administrative structure at their June 16 meeting.

The two-and-a-half hour session saw approval of a tentative operating budget of $4,260,000 for the 1965-66 college year, up more than $1 million from 1964-65. However, a 12 cent drop in the tax rate was forecast, in spite of increased costs for an anticipated 15 per cent enrollment increase.

The reason is the annexation of Downey to the Cerritos District effective July 1, enlarging the area already consisting of Norwalk, La Marada, Artesia, Dairy Valley, Bellflower, Hawaiian Gardens and Lakewood.

Adoption of the final budget will follow publication and a public hearing sometime in August.

Before more than 100 faculty members, trustees considered the request of the college's Faculty Association to realign the faculty salary schedule to provide for a minimum salary of $6,260 per year and a maximum of $12,722. The proposal contained an approximate 1.6 per cent increase in faculty salaries.

Coed Elected Business Frat National V. P.

Cerritos College coed Francis Ciacco, was elected National Vice President of Phi Beta Lambda, the honorary college business fraternity.

A delegation from Cerritos, representing the State of California at the group's national convention in Cincinnati.

Miss Ciacco, a freshman, will represent over 75,000 college students throughout the nation as the National Vice President.

In vocabulary relay competition, the Cerritos team won fourth place. The team is composed of Ken Welch, Anne Peters and Fran Davis.

The parliamentary procedure team of Bonnie Mulder, Laura Burton and Miss Peters, also placed fourth.

In competition for the Mr. Future Business Teacher title, California state winner Welch placed in national competition. The Cerritos chapter was awarded a gold seal as an outstanding campus chapter.

Music Camps Start June 28 In District

Six satellite camps will be featured at this summer's Music Camp, according to director Jack Wheaton.

Beginning June 28 and continuing through August 4 the program will offer music camps in Artesia, Bellflower, Downey, Lakewood, Norwalk and La Marada, through the cooperation of area recreation agencies.

Available without charge, the satellite camps will provide instruction in band, orchestra, instruments, vocal and music appreciation. The finest music directors in the area have been acquired to teach these camps, Wheaton said.

The main Cerritos camp requires a nominal $5 registration fee. Ages 14 to 20 may register for instruction in band, orchestra, choir, stage band, vocal and instrument ensembles, music theory, music appreciation and conducting.

The Cerritos camp will begin on June 28 and run for four weeks in the air-conditioned and newly completed Burnight Center music wing. Registration will be conducted on June 24 and 25 and the camp will run daily from 1 to 6 p.m.

Restructuring of the salary schedule to provide for six columns — B.A., M.A., M.A. + 18 additional units, M.A. plus 36, M.A. plus 54 and M.A. plus 72 was approved by the Board. A comparable vocational education salary structure plus a $500 bonus for an earned doctorate was also approved. Teachers are paid on an education—experience basis, reflected in column and step levels of a salary schedule.

However, trustees left open the precise minimum and maximum figure, with an overall salary increase to come after the costs of the new salary schedule are determined. College officials have proposed an $81,000 figure for salary increases for faculty for 1965-66.

The board also approved a 4 per cent across-the-board raise for classified personnel and addition of a sixth column to the classified schedule.

In other action, the Board approved reappointment of 12 month personnel and approved a "responsibility-factor" salary schedule for such staff members. Deans, division chairmen and others will be compensated on the basis of their placement on the salary schedule and increments ranging from 10 to 45 per cent, depending on their position.

In addition, designation of Dr. Bruce Browning as Asst. Superintendent and Vice President for Instruction and William Keim as Asst. Superintendent and Dean of Community Services was approved. Two administrative positions, that of Dean of Curriculum and Dean of Student Services, remain to be filled.

Trustees will meet again July 1 to appoint two new members and elect new officers for 1965-66. Dr. Curtis Paxman currently serves as President of the Cerritos trustees. John A. Nordbak of Downey will be sworn, having been elected to the board in April.

Desert To Host AS Governors

The Erewon Garden Hotel in Palm Desert will host 100 Cerritos students and advisers for the AS fall leadership conference.

The purpose of the leadership conference is to acquaint AS leaders in both student government and in clubs with the insights, aspects, and problems of the ASCC.

The conference begins Sept. 7 and lasts through Sept. 9. Reservations, which are $6 for AS members, cover the costs of room, meals, and transportation. Non-members must pay $30 to attend.

All members of student government are expected to attend, according to Dean of Men Clive Grafton, and each club may send two representatives.

The Spring leadership conference, which was held at Lake Arrowhead, had 137 attending. This year, fewer people can be because the budget has been cut taken to this conference.

Professor Carl Terzian will be the keynote speaker this semester. "This is planned to be the greatest leadership conference in Cerritos' history," stated Grafton.

Summer Play Tryouts In Burnight Center

Which will it be — "Irma La Douce," "After the Fall," "Dylan," "A Man for All Seasons," "Tom Jones" or "The Miracle Worker"? This choice is up to Theatre Arts Instructor Frank Bock.

Tryouts and casting for the summer play will begin tonight at 7 p.m. in Burnight Center. All students and residents of the Cerritos District are eligible.

THE LULL BEFORE THE STORM — The Cerritos Bookstore will soon echo the cries of "How much?" "Where are the biology books?" The Bookstore will be open during the summer session and will stay open extra hours to accommodate the increased business the first week. Archery, Baseball, Art Head Summer Program

A comprehensive 10-week summer recreation program involving the combined cooperation of Cerritos College, area recreation districts, and local schools is being provided this summer.

The program began yesterday and will run until August 28. It has been designed to include activities which will interest persons of all ages.

Also according to director Don Hall, the recreation program is divided between an "on campus program," and programs throughout the district involving all levels of education.

The "on campus program" includes a summer baseball league, a summer basketball league, and a summer weight training program. In the area of fine arts, there will be an art workshop, a music camp and the summer children's theater. In aquatics, recreational, instructional and competitive swimming are offered.

English, Math Tests Continue

As summer classes get underway, the counseling office reminds students that placement and math testing will continue throughout the summer.

The tests will be conducted in the Library and will require about three hours to complete. The tests must be taken by entering students and aid the counselor in assisting in the selection of appropriate courses, according to Counselor Don Siriani.

The English and SCIE tests will be offered at 9 a.m. on June 23, July 10, Aug. 14, 24 and 28, and Sept. 4. One evening test period will be offered on Sept. 2.

Math tests will be offered from 1 to 2 p.m. on June 26, July 10, Aug. 7, 14, 21 and 28, Sept. 4 and from 7 to 8 p.m. on Sept. 7 and 8.

The "off campus program," which will take place at various parks and schools throughout the district will feature such programs as archery, art workshops, creative dance, tennis, figure control and others.

Registration information is available in the Community Services office.

Jobs Offered To Students

Need a job? Job placement through the college is offered on a year-round basis to students, according to Madge Coto in the Student Affairs office.

Current employment opportunities are posted in the Administration Bldg. and on the bulletin board across from the Student Affairs office.

Students now attending or who have attended Cerritos are eligible to use these services. There is no charge.

Many part-time and some full-time jobs are available. Most full-time employment naturally comes at the end of semesters, Mrs. Coto said.

Pre-screening by the college of applicants for office of shop positions is a big advantage to employers.

Baby-sitting and housekeeping applicants are referred to the California State Employment Office on Firestone Blvd., in Norwalk. It is not possible for the college to screen employers for these positions.

Located in the Student Activities office across from the bookstore, the job placement service is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

After planning fall schedules, students may also file applications for jobs for next year according to Mrs. Coto. Students are also reminded to keep their applications up to date.

George Landgren To Head Bench

George Landgren of Norwalk, has been elected president of the Cerritos Bench Club, community boosters organization for Cerritos College athletics.

A cement contractor, Landgren has been a member of the Bench since its founding in 1957, the year Cerritos fielded its first football team.

He succeeds O. T. "Tiny" Bates.

Others elected to the top posts in the club are Henry Coleman of Bellflower, vice president; Pete Fogarty of Norwalk, secretary; and Dick Sekella, Norwalk, treasurer.

Elected to the Bench Board of Directors: Ralph Boyd, Tommy Harris, Mike Mitchell, Carl Numgusser and Virgil South.

Day Classes Make Enrollment Climb

A record summer enrollment of over 3500 students is expected this summer, according to Dean of Admission, M. Edward Wagner. Wagner believes the increase to be due primarily to the addition of day classes to the curriculum.

"The addition of day classes in the summer is a new venture on the part of Cerritos College," said Dean Wagner. "The community needs this expanded program to compensate for the great influx of enrollment we see every year."

Harlan Stamm, dean of summer session, believes that the greater emphasis placed on junior colleges in providing an education is proven by the difference in enrollment between this year and last year. Last summer, 2453 students were enrolled in the summer session.

According to Stamm, the increased enrollment this year is due in part to state college and university students who come home for the summer. They enroll in the junior college in their district and earn lower division credit without leaving their home area.

Proper Action Avoids 'F' Mark Says Wagner

Failure to make an official withdrawal will earn the student who drops a class or one who leaves college an automatic "F," said Dean of Admissions and Records, M. Edward Wagner.

The withdrawal process is simple and requires very little time, Wagner said. "Every semester we have the same problem. Students try to return to the college who have failed to withdraw properly, and find that they have one more 'F' grades on their records."

Wagner reminded students that an "F" requires an "A" makeup grade to bring the average up to a passing "C." A few minutes time in the Administration Bldg. could have prevented these problems, according to Wagner.

A student making an official withdrawal within two weeks will receive a "WP" grade. This mark carries no penalty, he continued. Those who withdraw through July 30 will receive the grade they are earning at the time of withdrawal, a "WF" or a "WP," he concluded.

Warning! Don't Park Illegally

Police will continue to cite improperly parked cars during the summer session, college officials warned today.

Yellow parking zones are reserved for faculty and staff use only, and students may park only in areas reserved for this purpose.

In addition, merchants in the Alondra shopping centers have asked that students refrain from using parking set aside for customer use.

Student parking areas are located in front of the gymnasium, on the west side of the Lecture Hall, on the east side of the Electronics Building, and along the service road on the south side of campus. Approximately 2500 open parking spaces are available.

"We have in our program this summer 225 classes representing well the different departments of our campus," said Stamm. He cited courses in fine arts, humanities, science and technology to show the comprehensiveness of the program.

"Many adults," said Wagner, "take advantage of summer programs at Cerritos."

The summer session is open to all students, whether or not they are on probation. Wagner believes that many students are no aware of this fact. "Even students who have been dismissed from Cerritos because of academic failure are eligible to attend the summer session."

A dismissed or probationary student can earn units in the summer session which may gain him re-admission in the fall term or release him from probation.

Registration began June 9 and will continue through 9 a.m. tonight. The last date to withdraw with a withdrawal passing automatically given is July 2. After that date until July 30, students may withdraw from classes, receiving either a withdrawal passing (WP) if student's grade is passing, or a withdrawal failing (WF) if it is not.

Wagner outlined the two types of absences for which work can be made up without penalty for non-attendance.

Authorized absence permits are issued to students for two reasons only: to take an educational field trip or to represent the college in an officially approved school activity.

Excused absence is given because of illness, injury or quarantine.

July Date For Elves

"The Elves and the Shoemaker," a play for children by Nora MacAlvay and Charlotte B. Chorpenning, will be performed here during the third week in July. According to Director of Athletics and Recreation Don Hall, the play will tour four other areas during the fourth week.

California State College at Long Beach graduate David Jager will direct this summer Children's Theatre production.

Tryouts are planned tonight in the Burnight Center theatre at 7 p.m. Eight women and four men will be cast for this production, Jager said.

This Edition Is Final Exam

Three more editions of "Talon Marks" will be published during the summer by summer students enrolled in College News Productions.

Each student was required to write, edit and make up a two-page, six-column paper for the summer session. This issue is a composite of the final projects.

Students participating were Peg Nelson, Dan Lewis, Harry Polgar, Dennis Campbell, Barbara Benjamin, Linda Dulac, John Call, Bill Brittain and Ralph Donald.

Distribution points will be located at the Liberal Arts Bldg., Business, Lecture Hall, Library, Physical Science breezeway, the Administration Bldg., the switchboard and the Student Center.

Editorial offices are located in Arts and Crafts 34. Information concerning news coverage may be obtained by calling extension 383 between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays.

EDITORIAL

A Government Blunder

Cerritos student government has made a terrible blunder. "Campus Illustrated," Cerritos' pictorial magazine, has been cut from the 1965-66 Associated Students' budget.

Why? Why does student government deem this particular $4500 of the AS budget expendable? Surely there is other fat in the budget that could stand a little trimming.

For example, the government clique could stay in less expensive accommodations when it has its semesterly three or four day "conferences." For next year, they have budgeted $6,860 for two conferences!

In contrast to this apparent waste, "Campus Illustrated" has contributed greatly to Cerritos College. Even when the staff knew the magazine was to be cut for the following year, they showed Cerritos an excellent college life magazine.

In content, technique and quality, the magazine represents what can be achieved by talented and dedicated students.

Cerritos College needs "Campus Illustrated." Students are being cheated of an AS benefit . . . let us hope, then, that our student leaders will reconsider this hasty and foolish action.

SUMMER DEAN

Stamm Welcomes Students

This summer we established another milestone in the Cerritos College story, as we expand our Summer program to both day and evening classes. We are moving towards the concept of a 12-month school year with the establishment of this complete program.

Our class offerings are such that a student may obtain almost any of our regular year offerings in the Summer program.

We are extremely fortunate this summer in having all of the classes taught by our regular staff members. This will permit a better continuity of the high quality of teaching enjoyed by you during the regular academic year.

You will find that Summer School moves at a very rapid pace and much of the time must be spent on your studies. We have divided up the individual class schedules this summer to allow more time between classes, obviously, to give you additional preparation time.

On behalf of all the staff at Cerritos, may I welcome you to our "1965 Summer Session" and wish you a profitable term, both academically and scholastically.

—Harlan C. Stamm

RUSTLINGS

Student Raps 'Campus Illustrated'

Dear Editor: "How does it illustrate the campus?" "What does the picture of a Stella Rocca grill or a bunch of birds on the beach have to do with Cerritos College?" "It is a good 'photography' magazine."

life as we know it? And is its scope broad enough to include some of the facts which are more or less traditional to all colleges? The staff wanted to break away from tradition. But are the students who paid for it ready to? It seems peculiar to me to see a collegiate magazine without some leaders, homecoming, student government, and all the other activities which are the focal point of the students on campus who participate and take pride in their college life out. Although some are pleased, many are not. Perhaps this last feeling exists because the many did not receive what they had expected. — HARRY POLGAR

Nehru, Buchwald To Lecture Here

Allen Drury, Art Buchwald, Madame Rajan Nehru and Simon Booker will lecture here in the 1965-66 Associated Student speakers series.

"It is a series of which we can be proud," commented Dr. Jack Mears, president of Cerritos College.

Author of "Advise and Consent" and "A Shade of Difference," Drury will address a college-wide convocation on the morning of Nov. 4. The name of the lecture by the distinguished political novelist is "Challenge to America: The View from Washington, D. C."

Art Buchwald is well known for his humor and his writings. The columnist will be a guest at the college's first journalism day on Nov. 30 and a speaker in a program which will be presented that evening.

Coming to the campus on Feb. 15, Mme. Nehru will lecture on "Decision for Democracy" at a morning convocation. Mme. Nehru has been engaged in political, educational, social and cultural activities during her entire lifetime.

Concluding the series is Simon Booker, author of "Black Man's America," who will present a lecture entitled "After Civil Rights, What?" Booker is the award-winning Washington Bureau Chief for the nation's leading Negro publication.

"The much misunderstood speaker series will be an excellent asset to the academic function of the campus," states Dean of Men Clive Grafton. This program, coupled with the new speakers' policy adopted by the college board of trustees will establish a high standard of programs."

Cerritos Offers Guidance Plan

Summer students will be able to have counseling services, as do fall and spring students.

According to Dean of Counseling Don Siriani, the guidance program at Cerritos College is a "year round operation."

Dean Siriani said, the college considers counseling the process by which an experienced and qualified person assists another person to understand himself and his opportunities. "He helps the student to make appropriate adjustments, and in the light of his insight, to accept personal responsibility for his choices, and to follow courses of action in harmony with his choice."

The ratio of counselor to student here is approximately 1 to 80, he said. As Cerritos' enrollment gets larger, there will be less appointments available for students. "In light of this, we are planning "group advisement and group pre-planning," the dean noted adding that Cerritos is hiring two more full time counselors and two part time counselors for 1965-66.

MARINE BIOLOGY

Falcons Introduced to Marine Life; Non-Science Majors Explore Beach

By JOHN CALL "We who live in Southern California are ocean-people," said Jules Crane, Cerritos zoology and marine biology instructor. Crane was explaining why students at Cerritos would be wise to take the marine biology course offered here, and how they might expect to benefit from it.

"The ocean for us is a major source of recreation. Kids would appreciate the beach so much more if they were aware of all the life around it," Crane said.

The summer session will be the second time Marine Biology has been offered here. It was offered for the first time this spring.

Crane said that he has found that there are two types of students who take the course in marine biology. One type is considering biology as a career field and is interested in getting a deeper background in marine biology specifically. The other type is composed mainly of beachgoers and skin divers who want to be able to identify the life they observe in the ocean.

"I am trying to teach the course for both types of students," said Crane. He continued that the summer session course will be a distillation of the experience gained from the spring course, and that it should be more interesting than ever this summer.

What about the course itself? "Well," said Crane, "it isn't easy credit. But it isn't designed for science majors, either. It was intended mainly to be interesting and informative, and should be no more difficult for the student with a high school biology background than would Life Science 10. Life Science 10 is a course in the fundamentals of biology designed for non-science majors."

The main purpose of the course, according to Crane, is to familiarize students with the marine environment. The course will depend mainly on field trips. There will be five or six such trips during the summer, one of which will hopefully be on the "Valero II," the University of Southern California's marine research boat.

"We will be more concerned with what we don't know than with what we know. It should be a good course from which to learn the scientific method of investigation," Crane concluded.

OFF CAMPUS

Gala Summer Evenings: Borge, Ballet, Borodin

Summer evenings in the Southland mean the Hollywood Bowl, Melodyland, the Greek Theater, the Civic Light Opera and the Music Center to many Californians.

Some of the performers who are booked locally this summer include Carol Channing, Harry Belafonte, Maurice Chevalier, Louis Armstrong and the Beatles. In addition, some of the finest conductors in the world will wield their batons in Los Angeles area.

The following is a guide to music and drama to nights of fun for the summer season.

JUNE 22 — "Paint Your Wagon" with Buddy Ebsen and Molly Bee, Valley Music Theater for two weeks; Victor Borge at Melodyland through June 27.

JUNE 23 — Royal Ballet, Shrine Auditorium, through June 29.

JUNE 24 — "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," opening production in Greek Theater, through July 10.

JUNE 26 — Children's Dance Theater from University of Utah, UCLA's Royce Hall.

JUNE 29 — Ella Fitzgerald and Nelson Riddle, Melodyland, through July 4.

JUNE 30 — Borodin String Quartet, UCLA's Royce Hall.

JULY 6 — "Oklahoma" with John Raitt, Melodyland for two weeks; "Camelot," Valley Music Theater for two weeks; "Any Wednesday" with Don Porter and Monica Moran, Huntington Hartford through July 31.

CC Library Swells; Microfilms Here

This year a total of 4,372 new books were added to the Cerritos College Library. Last month alone, 437 new books were added to the reference room, periodical room and stacks.

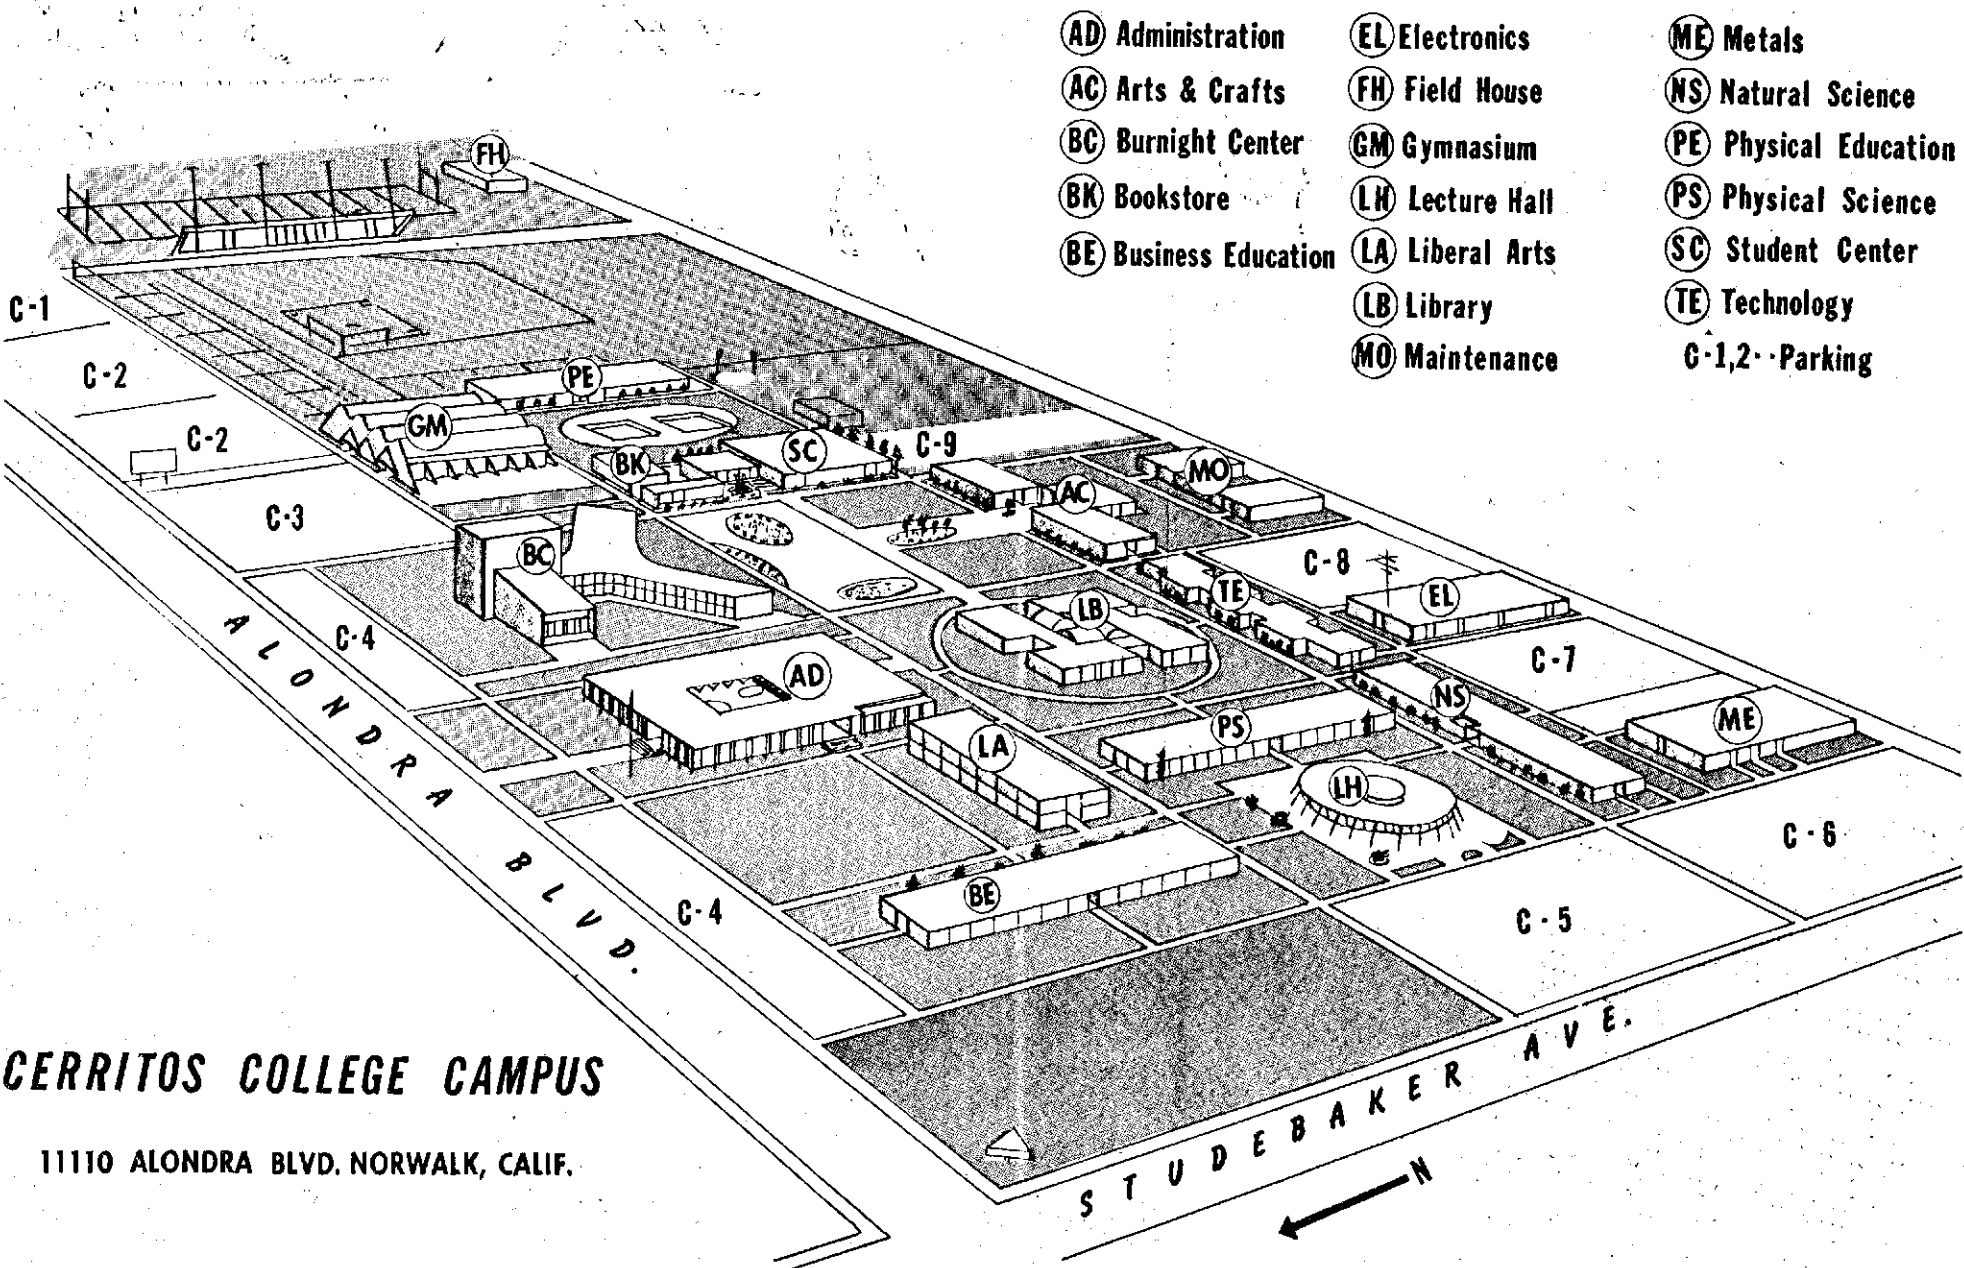

The total number of new books added since Cerritos opened now stands at 31,000 volumes. The library is open to 9 p.m. through Thursday during the summer session.

Included in last month's new book selections are such outstanding works of fiction as "Up the Down Staircase" and "The Man."

"The Man" is an interesting and provocative fictional account of the first Negro president of the United States.

In the non-fiction category such works as MacArthur's "Reminiscences" and "The Founding Father," a biography of Joseph P. Kennedy.

On order now for the library are several more microfilm readers similar to the one now situated in the periodical room of the library. On microfilm are all the latest issues of the "New York Times," as well as the most recent issues of "Scientific American." The films and reader service are available to any student upon request.
