Leukemia Takes Life Of History Teacher

Voter's Pennies Select Campus Ugliers Tonight

Musical Groups Star In Christmas Special

Leukemia claimed the life of Frances Seigel, history instructor at Cerritos College, early Wednesday morning at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Miss Seigel, who joined the Cerritos faculty in the fall of 1962, taught American History, Western Civilization and English History. She was Chairman of the History Department. A young teacher in her twenties, she was intensively interested in her students, and had great rapport with them, her associates and students agree.

She was named "Prof of the Year" in spring of 1963, her second semester at Cerritos. She was active in many areas of student activities.

Miss Seigel was educated at Los Angeles City College and at California State at Los Angeles, where she received her B.A. in music and her M.A. degree in history.

Among her many student activities, Miss Seigel founded the local chapter of the California Collegiate Democrats, served as advisor of the Delta Phi Omega sorority and assisted in scoring and timing at track and swimming meets.

She worked with the Associated Women Students in planning fashion shows and attended Student Leadership Conferences. In addition, she was active in professional committees on campus.

"She was an instructor who truly felt the concerns and interests of the whole student were important for a teacher to understand — so she worked with the students of Cerritos College in the many capacities of devoted instructor, adviser and person," said Dean of Women Army Dozier.

Howard Taslitz, Social Sciences Division Chairman, commented, "Her enthusiasm, depth, knowledge and dedication to her discipline and her students will be sorely missed at Cerritos."

An only child, Miss Seigel is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seigel, of 903 S. Alandeale St., Los Angeles.

Frightful looking men will highlight tonight's Ugly Man Dance from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Student Center.

"The Shadows of Night" will play throughout the evening. Admission to the dance is $1 for students as well as the public.

Each penny collected by a contestant counts as one vote, according to Vice President of Sinawik Becky Spears. The man with the most pennies will be announced winner of the Ugly Man Contest at 11 p.m.

Other contestants are James Anderson, Phi Beta Lambda; Sam Schwartz, Sigma Phi; Fred Dorfman, Ski Club; Bruce Reumont, Tau Rho Beta; Don Heller, Theta Phi; John Gutierrez, Delta Chi Omega; Leonard E. Harvey, SNAC and John Gordin, Phi Kappa Zeta.

All proceeds from the contest and dance will help give the young men at LeRoy's Boys' Home a day at Disneyland with a house gift and $1 for each boy to spend as he wants.

In addition each boy will receive a Cerritos sweatshirt and three Christmas gifts at a dinner party Dec. 18.

Bringing pleasure to thousands of holiday viewers, the Cerritos musical groups will perform in an hour Christmas special on ABC-TV, channel 7.

Approximately 150 performers will take part in the video-taping of the TV special next Friday at the ABC studios in Hollywood. The program will air on Dec. 24, from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., and again on Christmas Day from 3 to 4 p.m.

Basehart Hosts

Richard Basehart, star of "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" on channel 7, and Stan Kenton will narrate the program. Jack Wheaton, Music Department Chairman, will direct the instrumental portion of the production. Stan Porter will direct all the vocal selections.

The performers will include the college's choral groups and the Junior Neophonic Orchestra of Southern California, which has its headquarters at Cerritos. Also some members of the Concert Orchestra and the Day Stage Band have been selected to perform with the Neophonic Orchestra.

Begins With "Fanfare"

The TV special, which will probably be in color, will begin with "Fanfare for Christmas," an original composition written especially for the program by Wheaton.

The Concert Choir will sing "O Come Emanuel," a thirteenth century chant, and Phyllis Van Buskirk will sing a solo, "Magnificat," unaccompanied.

The Choir will also perform "Hodie, Christus Natus Est" (Today Christ Is Born) by Healey Willan, and "Run, Ye Shepherds, to the Light," a short cantata by Michael Haydn.

The well-known "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "The Messiah" will feature the combined voices of the Collegium Chorale and the Concert Choir, accompanied by the Neophonic Orchestra.

Several Solists

The Chamber Singers will perform "Christmas" by early American composer Munson and "Christmas Day" by Gustav Holst. Soloists will be Miss Van Buskirk, John Thompson, Lynda Williams, Fred Adams, Dan Trammell, Barbara Bickers, Bonnie Long and Janis Odom.

The Madrigal Singers will sing "Prayer to Jesus" by Oldroyd and two contemporary Christmas madrigals by Williametta Spencer. They will also sing the traditional favorites, "The Night before Christmas" and "Jingle Bells." Richard Buttner will perform a solo part in "The Night before Christmas."

"Joy To World"

The Choir and the Junior Neophonic Orchestra will appear for "Joy to the World" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

The Neophonic Orchestra will perform several selections throughout the program. They are "Tannenbaum," "Winter Wonder Land" and "Holly and Ivy."

Also, "Good King Wenceslas," "The Twelve Days of Christmas," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," and "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town."

The program will end with "I Wonder as I Wander," a solo by Norm Finch, with the Choir humming the melody in the background.

East Band Plays

The Junior Neophonic Orchestra consists of college students from all over the Southland. The East Band, which will be taking part in the Christmas special, consists of 28 members, four of which are attending Cerritos. They are Bruce Emarine, saxophone, Jim Thomas, saxophone, Peter Woodford, rhythm section, and Mike Matthews, celeste.

Concert Orchestra members who are joining the Neophonic for the program are Anne Oostenik, violin, Sally Castillo, violin, and Clarie Haney, cello.

Members of the Day Stage Band who will be performing are Gary Taylor, drums, Paul Durso, bass, Peter Woodford, guitar, and Richard Kaufman, piano.

The program's producer musical director and chief cameraman have been on campus twice to aid in preparing for the taping, and will return tomorrow for rehearsals.

French Film Exposes Human Foolishness

Moliere's "Would be Gentleman" will be presented by the French Department tonight at 8 p.m. in Bur-night Center.

Admission to the color film is free.

Based on the repertoire of the Comedie Francoise, this magnificent production gives an amazing insight into French comedy.

A memorable performance by Louis Seigner, as the nouveau riche M. Jourdain is matched by that of director Jean Meyer as the cunning valet Covielle. In his quest for gentility, M. Jourdain is exposed, a parade of human folly that gives a remarkable talented group of actors every chance to exploit the full run of the author's brilliant satire.

"The film has original French dialogue with English subtitles," said Rose Marie Dozier, French instructor.

"Physics and Painting" Is Theme Of Cerritos Art Gallery Show

"Physics and Painting" is the new art exhibit now on display in the Cerritos Art Gallery.

This exhibit shows how ideas have changed in different periods of history about the physical construction and behavior of matter.

Comparisons between both physics and art are helpful in explaining these historical changes of style in painting.

There are nine subjects of matter that are compared in this display. The first is "Physics and Painting," then there is "Volume and Void," discussing the revision of medieval world scheme and space as absolute. Others are "Density and Weight," "Movement and Time" and "Light and Color."

Paintings by Rembrandt, Picasso and El Greco are just a few of the famous paintings that can be viewed in the gallery.

This exhibit started last Sunday and will come to an end Dec. 25. Gallery hours are from noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, noon to 6 p.m. Friday and noon to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Reumont Reports On State JC Conference

Cerritos Student Body President Bruce Reumont reported to the ASCC Senate last Wednesday on the California Junior College Student Government Association Convention held last weekend in San Francisco.

Reumont reported on the President's Workshop and on the general assembly. The other delegates to the convention including Richard Bernstein, Diana Roberts, Linda Saferite, Mimie Pearn and John Tagg will report on the workshops in which they participated at a later senate meeting.

The legislation drafted by the Cerritos delegation calling for a re-apportionment of the State's CJC Areas was not considered by the general assembly. Reumont stated that when the delegates arrived with their proposal, they found that both Chaffey and Compton Junior Colleges had drafted similar legislation. All three schools then decided to hold off with their proposals until the Spring conference of the CJC at which time a committee will be assigned to look into the matter.

As noted in last week's "Talon Marks," Cerritos College will be the host school of the Spring Session of the CJCSCA. The session will be conducted at the International Hotel in Ingewood, AS President Reumont will serve as President of the 80 school confab.

One of Reumont's first acts as President of the junior college body will be to appoint the committee consisting of the presidents of all the CJC Areas to look into the proposals of Cerritos, Chaffey and Compton for a statewide realignment of the designated CJC Areas.

Reumont also reported that Diane Roberts was successful in getting a proposal passed in the workshop she attended. In Current Issues: The Draft, Miss Roberts called for the convention to resolve to be in favor of the lottery system as a method of conducting the draft. As the proposal passed in the workshop it was automatically considered in the general assembly, but when brought to a vote it failed by a large majority. Another important accomplishment of the CJCSCA Conference according to Reumont was for it to go on record as recommending to the California State Legislature that the voting age be lowered to 18. In addition, it was resolved that CJC approve a separate Board of Trustees for junior colleges.

Turtles Perform On CC Campus Feature Popular Rock Tunes

Singing their many hit songs, including "It Ain't Me Babe," "You Babe," "Let Me Be," "Grim Reaper of Love," and their new disc "Can I Get to Know You Better," the Turtles, popular folk-rock group will appear at Cerritos Dec. 17 for a three-hour concert.

The Turtles, Howard Kaylan, Al Nichol, Chuck Portz, Jim Tucker, Mark Vollman, and Don Murray, are all from the Los Angeles area. Having just finished a Southern tour with Paul Revere and the Raiders, the six will sing here before beginning an engagement at the famed Whiskey A Go-Go.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the gym. Price of admission is $3 per person or $4 per couple with an ASCC card. Tickets may be purchased at the student ticket booth.

Playing everything from a guitar to a harpsichord and singing the songs that made them famous, the Turtles promise an unforgettable evening.

Pie Eating, Mud War Revive AMS

By CANDY ABDALLAH
"It is the goal of AMS to achieve a unity of all the men students on the Cerritos Campus by promoting better relations through social, academic and athletic activities," stated President of AMS Larry Ellison. The Associated Men Students of Cerritos College have recently undergone a revival and reorganization.

The club had died out last year and no attempt was made to reorganize AMS until a few Cerritos men headed by Ellison took things into their own hands and got things rolling again. They reorganized their club into a workable and active unit.

The appointment of its Executive Board was the first step in the creation of a more informal and simplified club. The board headed by Ellison includes First Vice President Russ Barning and Second Vice President Dale Dyer. Other positions on the board are still open and include treasurer, historian, publicity chairman and activities chairman.

Although all the men students on campus are members of AMS, those students who would like to actively participate in the club should try and secure a position on the board or attend the regular meetings of the club. Meetings are held on Tuesday nights in EL 11.

AMS originated many of its ideas at the Southern California Junior College Conference last Oct. 28. The host school was Compton College. Delegates, Barnings and Ellison, represented the Cerritos Chapter of the club.

The conference which lasted from 2 to 9 p.m., was highlighted by various workshops to exchange ideas and evaluate the different structures of each club. Entertainment provided by the Compton hosts precluded a delicious dinner.

It was from ideas exchanged at this conference that the present constitution was revised to accommodate a more simplified and better organized club.

The Sophomore versus Fresh tug-of-war was the first event sponsored by AMS this year. The tug-of-war in the mud proved to be an outstanding success as the Sophomores tugged to victory.

It was a hard struggle as the rope broke twice before it was finally doubled and victors arose on the third attempt. After the victory it was every man for himself as a mud slinging "free-for-all" broke out. After a little good clean fun it was off to the showers for the victors, the vanquished, and a few spectators.

Spurred on by the success of their first event, AMS is planning another wild contest. Berry pie will cover the faces of contestants in the AMS pie eating contest at the Dec. 13 pep rally.

It won't be how much you can eat, but how fast you can eat two big, deep purple berry pies. All hands are barred as contestants must "use their heads" in gulping down the pies.

Only one contestant from each men's club on campus is allowed, so choose your man carefully. Three independents (no club) may enter and it will be first come first serve. Sign-ups are being taken in the Student Affairs office and the entry fee is $1.50.

Not only will there be a big trophy to the fastest man, but a surprise ending is in store for all the avid fans.

A Christmas kiss is easy to come by as coeds are swamped with overhanging mistletoe. AMS in conjunction with AWS is decking the Cerritos' halls with boughs of Christmas mistletoe.

The mistletoe only costs 20 cents per package and provides the student with much pleasure and delight during this festive season. Money collected from the sale will help pay for the Christmas presents and party planned for the LeRoy Boys' Home. The party will be an all-day affair at Disneyland Monday, Dec. 19.

AMS is not a fraternal or service organization, but combines the best of both. The club has gotten off to a lively start and plans to keep up the with future activities and services.

Need Harder Rule At Cal

By threatening to fire all the teaching assistants who participated in the boycott of classes at Berkeley, the solution to the squelching of further rebellious activities may have been reached.

Instead of just warning the student teachers that they may be fired if they persist on demonstrating, they should have just given them the axe. A definite stand from the Board of Regents was long overdue.

Governor-elect Ronald Reagan has made his position very clear as to how he regards the constant upheaval at Cal. He stated in a news interview last week that if students come to the California University just for the sake of causing or engaging in any of the rebellious activity, then the people of California have a right to tell them to go someplace else to seek their education.

We should do this and much more. We should tell the students who are already up there making noise that they should go somewhere else.

In 1964 many of the faculty members sympathized with the Free Speech Movement, but now many of them are realizing that these demonstrations are not pertinent to any definite goal. While watching the news on television the other night, I saw Cal's answer to Bob Dylan, Mario Savio, speaking to a gathering of students. What puzzles me is how can anyone, even the most ignorant student, be swayed or even impressed by anything this deadbeat has to say?

Savio, like many of the dissenters on the Berkeley Campus is not actually enrolled at the University. Ten people were arrested last Saturday for causing a riot over the placing of a Naval Recruitment table in Sproul Hall. Six of the ten people arrested weren't even registered students.

Much of the provoked disturbance, therefore, comes from off campus infiltrators who seem to make a point of keeping the mud well stirred. These outsiders have no business being on the campus in the first place and they should be halted from actively participating in student affairs.

It is an interesting point to note that very little of the dissension at Berkeley has spread to other campuses. Although the UCLA newspaper "The Daily Bruin" has supported the boycott, the student legislative council and the student body has taken no action to show their unified support of the conflict on the mother campus.

If Reagan is serious about his hard-rule policy for Cal, and I think he is, we may well be in for a few surprises when the University gets a face lifting. My first step would be to dismiss all those students who advocate upheaval, and to fire all those teachers who stupidly join the rebels in their trouble-making.

Greed Kills

Greed is Destructive. It is the basis for the most unhappy experiences in our world. Greed has eaten away the moral fibre of many a nation, it has created conflict, but worst of all it has and is killing.

Greed is killing our goals, our ethics, our religious beliefs, but again worst of all it is killing our fellow men.

This week was the anniversary of one of the most tragic events in the world. Americans can recall how twenty-five years ago thousands of people lost their lives. And, we can remember how many people around the world died in the days, months and years following; only because of greed.

In 1945 when we celebrated an American victory over World War II, were really the victors and was the conflict really over? Has the world been at peace any time since then?

As students under 25 years of age we have never known a world of complete. Constant warfare has involved this nation in Korea, Indonesia, Africa, Suez, Cuba and now Viet Nam.

This greed that is so destructive is a greed for economic and political power. But, has our opposition ever gained these things? What do these nations lose in comparison to their accomplishments?

Will the leaders of the world ever stop to think? Will these people of high educational backgrounds ever realize just what they are doing?

Will the world ever be at peace?

C C Profs Publish Scientific Papers

Dr. Henry Childs, Jr. of La Mirada, Chairman of the Cerritos Life Science Division, and Jules M. Crane, Jr. of Lakewood, Chairman of the Cerritos Biology Department, are authors of scientific papers which have been or will soon be published.

Dr. Childs, in collaboration with Dr. G.E. Cosgrove of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, published an article in the October issue of the "American Midland Naturalist" entitled, "A Pathological Study of Rodents in Radioactive Areas."

Performed while Dr. Childs was working as a research participant at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies under a grant from Atomic Energy Commission, the research involved a three-summer study of mice in an area that had been exposed to extensive amounts of radiation. The data collected indicated that surviving mice did not have significantly different skin lesions than mice in a normal environment.

Evolution of the deep sea viperfish will be the topic of an article of Crane, to be published by the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History in December. Studies made by Crane comparing the local fossil species of the strange fish with all the modern species revealed that very little change has taken place in this for at least 15 million years.

Many of the specimens used in the study were collected by Cerritos students and are now on display in the L.A. County Museum.

ROCKY DIAZ

Frankenstein

Holy Frankenstein! It's that time of year again. Snow, Santa Claus and the Ugly Man contest.

December is the month that brings to mind that time honored saying "Peace on earth good will towards men." This December is a very special month, because of the very special events which have taken place in the year of our lord 1966.

All over the United States beatniks will be wondering whether or not Santa Claus feeds his reindeer LSD. The FBI will declare that Mary Poppins is a junkie and a very kind hearted newspaper editor will inform Virginia that there really isn't a Santa Claus.

Poor men will become even poorer because of an annual event known commonly as Christmas. Little boys and girls will greedily open their presents, searching for toy rifles, machine guns, grenades, and time bombs so they can go out and play Viet Cong.

Cerritos senators will vote to shrink the menus in the Student cafeteria while eating their bacon and tomato sandwiches. Tom Polley will win the ugly man contest hands down.

Santa Claus will sign a 99 year contract with Metra-Cal on the same day that Talon Marks writer Rocky Diaz is proclaimed journalist of the year. Mark Lane will announce that the Warren Commission did an outstanding job in its investigation of the Kennedy assassination. Minutes later, a young gentleman named Ralph Nader will purchase a 1967 Corvair.

Ronald Reagan will invite Mario Savio over for Christmas dinner. Mayor Sam Yorty will join the Democratic party. Lucy will hold the ball as Charlie Brown kicks a 44 yard field goal. Snoopy will destroy the Red Baron.

Cerritos students will vote to shorten Christmas vacation. The Green Bay Packers will lose to the Los Angeles Rams. Alabama's Governor elect, Lurline Wallace, will buy her husband a color television set. The nation will fly into an uproar over the divorce of Alabama's number one couple. Rocky Diaz will wish the entire world a very merry Christmas.

Jews Celebrate Their Season's Holidays

By AL LEVIN

What is "Hanukah"? Why is the "Festival of Lights" falsely called the "Jewish Christmas?"

True, the holiday does come around the time of Christmas, and true, gifts are exchanged during the holiday, but Hanukah is different.

Hanukah is the time of the year when the Jewish people celebrate being freed from bondage in Babylonia. The Jews were allowed to return to their destroyed city of Palestine. When they arrived in Palestine, they went to their temple, which had almost been completely destroyed.

When in the temple, they looked for jars of oil to burn in their lamps. After a great amount of searching, some oil was found. There was still a problem — they only found enough oil for one day. By some great miracle, the small amount of oil burned for eight days. This constitutes eight days of celebration.

The giving of gifts is something new in the celebration of Hanukah. In the beginning and for many years after, money was the only thing that was given at the holiday. Now all kinds of gifts are exchanged among the children.

On each night of Hanukah, before the presents are opened, candles are lit and a prayer is said. To explain the candles, the first night one candle is lit plus a candle called the shamosh. The shamosh is the candle used to light the other candles. On the second night two candles plus the shamosh, and so on for eight nights.

The candles are held in a "Menorah." The menorah is a nine-stick candle holder. It has four sticks on either side of a special holder for the shamosh candle.

During one of the nights, all of the relatives usually get together and have a big celebration. The evening usually starts with a large dinner of holiday foods. Songs are sung and Hanukah games are played. Everyone, from the youngest to the oldest, has a good time. The eldest of the relatives usually tells the story of Hanukah and teaches songs and games of Hanukah to the younger children.

At one part of the evening everyone exchanges gifts. True, this time of opening presents seems to be the time that everyone is waiting for, but it should not be forgotten that before this the candles have been lit and the prayers have been said.

Prayers, Candles, holiday foods, and history all represent the true Hanukah, not the "Jewish Christmas."

Mascot Needs Financial Aid

"We need financial assistance from students, faculty and local residents to help pay for the materials used in the construction of the campus mascot," stated Senator Peter Haagsma.

Anyone wishing to make a donation for the construction of the permanent mascot may send the contribution to "Falcon Fund" in care of Cerritos Associated Students, in the Student Affairs Office.

The estimated cost of the project is $3,500. The 25-foot statue will be made of non-corrosive metals and its construction will be completed in the technology shops on campus.

It will be constructed in the main quad area with a 600-pound Falcon mounted atop an "I" beam. The college Alma Mater will be inscribed on a marble plaque on a base stand.

According to Haagsma, dedication of the statue is expected to take place before the close of the spring semester in June, 1967.

UC Myths Explored By CC Secretaries

"Exploding the Myths," a recent conference was offered by the University of California Extension in Los Angeles.

Administrative Secretary Instructor Mary Weidman and Technical Secretary Instructor Kathleen McDannel represented Cerritos at the conference and took part in the program which was co-sponsored by the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Those participating in the conference explored some of the critical areas affecting career potential for women; they looked into present and anticipated employment trends and the need changes in attitudes and practices if the skills of women are to be more fully utilized.

The Cerritos Business Division will offer a complete extended day program in secretarial training during spring semester. Classes will begin at 5 p.m. and include all subjects of office services.

College Life Offers Great Expectations

A graduate is a former student who has learned much and continues to learn more and more until he knows a great deal. He has great expectations.

A drop out is a former college student who has learned little and continues to learn less and less until he knows practically nothing. He has few expectations.

A teacher is a former student who has learned much and continues to learn more and more. But he is wise enough and mature enough to know that he will know enough. However, one thing he strives to learn is why any student would WANT to have few expectations.

TRB Adopts U.S. Army

By CANDY ABDALLAH
TRB Plans Heap Big Xmas

Adoption of an Indian family and a U.S. infantry unit in Viet Nam are current projects of Tau Rho Beta sorority. The girls plan to provide a memorable Christmas for their Indian family, a mother and three children.

A beautifully decorated tree, presents, and food will turn their Christmas into a warm and welcome festivity.

The Adoption of an infantry unit in Viet Nam is the first project of its kind being attempted by any club this year. The girls will more or less become pen pals by writing them letters and sending packages to the men.

The annual Tau Rho Beta installation tea will be held Sunday Dec. 11 at Sonora Spencer's home in Long Beach.

Dreaming of a White Christmas?

With the bit of winter wind in the air and Christmas not very far away the Ski Club has become more active than ever.

Their next meeting, Dec. 13 at 11 a.m., will be taken up entirely by plans for a busy and exciting Christmas vacation. Ski trips and parties are on the agenda.

A combination party and ski trip will take place New Year's Eve as members climb in their truck and head for winter white snow.

A Christmas party for members and friends will be held at Papa's Pizza parlor in La Mirada. Guests are asked not to forget the Christmas essential, a sprig of mistletoe.

An egg throwing and water balloon booth is being planned by the members to raise money for future activities. The club has also unanimously nominated Fred Dorfman for their representative to the Ugly Man Contest.

At a recent conference with UCLA and East LA College at Mammoth the Cerritos Ski Club elected Barry Quinn to be its representative at June Mountain. Quinn received a free season pass for this honor.

"Fells Navidad"

More toys, clothing, car goods and household articles are needed to meet the quota set by Circle K for their Christmas project, Operation Mexico. The two truck load limit set has not yet been met and students are urged to help.

Operation Mexico started Nov. 24. The articles gathered by Circle K will be equally distributed among the people by the Protestant and Catholic mission in Mexicali, Mexico.

Donations may be left at the Student Affairs office and will be gratefully appreciated.

Kontroversy Korner Aims Its Views

Kontroversy Korner, a newly formed club, held its first meeting last Tuesday for the purpose of organizing and enlisting new members, according to advisor, Charles Tilghman.

The club was organized to resurrect the campus bulletin formerly used by "Sagittarian," a campus literary magazine. Students will be able to express their opinions on topics of vital concern by posting it on the bulletin board.

Inter-club council has granted recognition to the organizers of the club headed by Roger Smith. "It is hoped that the board will be up and functioning as a center for discussion within a period of two weeks," stated Tilghman.

Newmonia is Guaranteed

You'll come home sick with pneumononia (pronounced Newman-fa) after attending the first snow-trip planned by the Newman Club.

The club will leave on Dec. 20 at 6 a.m. for Big Bear. After a day of bob sledding, skiing and snowball fights the group will head for home and arrive at Cerritos at 6 p.m.

An open invitation is extended to all CC students and all that is needed is a little donation for gas. Transportation will be provided.

Santa Attends Ho Ho Ho Hop

Sigma Phi Fraternity is sponsoring the Ho Ho Ho Hop tomorrow night.

The Student Center will be turned into a Christmas wonderland for this annual dance, which will be from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Prices for admission are set at $1 per person, and $1.50 a couple. Appropriate dress for the dance will be nice school clothes.

Cokes will be sold throughout the evening.

"The Pyramids" will provide the music at the dance. They will also do stunts during their performance.

Santa Claus will attend the Christmas

mas dance to take orders from all the young ladies, while his beautiful daughter, "the pride of the North Pole," will also be on hand. "Miss Claus," according to Bob Phelps, Sigma Phi President, "is known for letting lucky males sit on her lap and whisper their Christmas orders in her ear."

"There will be a Kissing Korner filled with mistletoe to help promote legalized necking," said Phelps.

According to Amy Dozier, Dean of Women, AWS will have a mistletoe booth at the dance. It will be on sale for 20 cents a bag.

CC Falcon Secretary Is An All-Around Gal

By KATHY BISHOP

Digging into job opportunities available at Cerritos in 1984 paved the way to a secretarial position for Pat Schroeder. A strong initiative helped her obtain the job of secretary to Dean of Women Amy Dozier.

Mrs. Schroeder applied for the job after graduating from Cerritos with an AA Degree in Technical Secretarial. She describes her first year on the job as feeling "kinda between students and the rest of the staff."

She added, it was more fun being a student, but more interesting working here. The second year changed because I was no longer working for kids I'd gone to school with.

She assists students in planning activities, obtaining the necessary forms for club projects and she occasionally works with Student Government. Handling some lost and found is one of her behind the scene jobs.

One of her extra duties last year was working as a secretary to the members of Student Government at the Leadership Conference in Palm Desert.

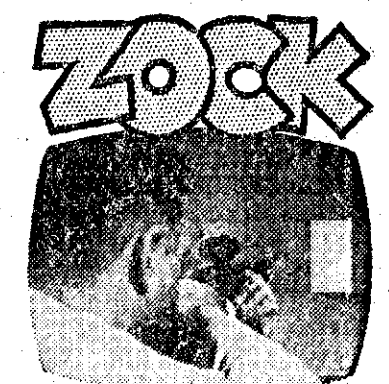

As a token of appreciation from the ASCC, the Student Government presented Mrs. Schroeder with a stuffed falcon and fancy garter at the Awards Banquet last semester.

Kathy Andrews and Linda McArthur from the Cerritos Career Internship Class nominated Mrs. Schroeder for the "Boss of the Year" award. Nominations were judged by La Mirada business and professional women who chose her as "Boss of the Year" for 1985-1986.

While attending Cerritos she was Vice President and President of Phi Beta Lambda, a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma and named "Woman of the Year" in 1984.

Pat Schroeder assists students in organizing club project and school activities.

Freshly cut mistletoe with berries can be purchased at 20 cents a package by AWS and AMS members. The sale started Monday and will continue until the supply of mistletoe has run out.

If there is a demand for mistletoe AWS and AMS will travel to Silverado Canyon to pick more, according to AWS Director of Records Vicki Parton.

Police Vie At Hondo In Pistol Shooting

"Calling all cops" is the cry for a four-way pistol match at the Rio Hondo pistol range Saturday at 10 a.m. Students enrolled in advanced fire arms will participate in the match.

Compton, Riverside, Rio Hondo, and Cerritos will enter four man teams to participate in three main divisions of fire. Each individual receives 30 rounds, and ten are used in each event.

Judging is based on ten rounds slow fire with a ten minute limit and timed fire with 5 shots in 20 seconds. Plaques and trophies will be awarded to the high scoring team and individual.

Last year Cerritos entered matches with Rio Hondo, Riverside, and L.A. State. They captured two firsts and one second place award.

"M" IS FOR THE MANY THINGS YOU'LL TEACH HER

Nobody will dispute—surely not I—that raising children is a task which requires full time and awesome skills. Nonetheless, a recent nationwide survey has revealed a startling fact: mothers who go back to work after their children are safely through the early years are notably happier, better adjusted, and more fulfilled than mothers who simply remain housewives. Moreover—and mark this well—the children of such working mothers are themselves happier, better adjusted, and more fulfilled!

All very well, you say, but what's it got to do with you? Isn't it obvious? If you are underachieving at college, get your mother a job.

What kind of job? Well sir, your mother is probably between 35 and 50 years of age, so certain occupations must immediately be ruled out. Logging, for example. Or whaling. Or carhopping.

But don't despair. There are other kinds of jobs—not many, to be sure, but some. However, you must not stick Mom in just any old job. You must remember that after the excitement of raising you, she would be bored to tears as a file clerk, for instance, or as a doorman. (A doorman, as we all know, is someone who brings handfuls of water to track layers. With the recent invention of the pail, doorman are gradually falling into technological unemployment.)

But I digress. I was saying, and Mom a job worthy of her talents, something challenging that uses her vast wisdom and experience but, at the same time, is not too hard on her obsolescing tissues. That's what Walter Signafos did, and the results were brilliantly successful.

Walter, a sophomore at the Upper Maryland College of Wickerwork and Belles Lettres, majoring in raffia, approached the problem scientifically. First he asked himself what his mother did best. Well sir, what she did best was to keep hollering, "Dress warm, Walter!"

At first glance this seemed a skill not widely in demand, but Walter was not discouraged. He sent out hundreds of inquiries and today, I am pleased to report, his mother is happily employed as wardrobe mistress for the Montreal Canadiens.

Another fortunate venture was that of Frank C. Gransmire, a junior at the Oregon State Conservatory of Music and Optometry, majoring in stiles. Frank, like Walter, did a survey in depth of his mother's talents. Chief among them, he found, was her ability to make a roast of beef feed the whole family for three days. So, naturally, Frank got her a job at the Museum of Natural History.

What has one to do with the other, you ask? Isn't it obvious? Anyone who can stretch ribs like that belongs in paleontology.

Falcon Tankers Win State Crown!

Ken Martens, and Daryl Vincent. All seven were members of various all-conference and all-California teams as the Falcons swept through the opposition on their way to the first ever water polo crown for Cerritos.

Cerritos Captures California Waterpolo Title At Foothill

Cerritos College's mighty water polo squad, under the able direction of coach Pat Tyne, journeyed to Foothill over the weekend and became the first southern team to cop the State Championship in the north. In order to win the crown, the Falcons had to defeat Metropolitan Conference champion Long Beach for the third straight time and upset Foothill, defending State champs over the last three years and boasting a 66-game winning streak in junior college competition. Cerritos came through on both counts, and so impressed tournament officials that every Falcon starter and one reserve were named to the All-California teams.

ALL-CALIFORNIA

Forward Jerry Ray, goalie Bob Gaviglio, and Dan Derrig were all named to the All-State first team. The trio had already been chosen All-Southern California and All-Metropolitan Conference. Ray was also chosen Metro outstanding player of the year.

George Watson and John Leasure of Foothill, and Dennis Putman and Larry Bender of Long Beach rounded out the All-State squad.

Ken Hammer was named to the State second team from Cerritos; and Falcons Randy Anno, Ken Martens, Daryl Vincent, and Kurt Dietrich were all named to the third team.

BEAT SAN JOSE

Opening tournament play on Friday the Falcons eased to a 15-5 victory over San Jose City College, led by Derrig's four goals and three by Ray.

Also in the first round Long Beach handed Foothill its first loss in 66 games in a 6-5 thriller. The win enabled the Vikes to enter the semi-finals with Cerritos.

The semi-finals pitted two teams that had battled tooth-and-claw all season, as both the Vikings and Falcons had won two of their previous four meetings.

The first pairing of the two Metro giants ended in a 10-9 victory for Long Beach in double overtime and earned the Vikings first place in the Southern California Invitational. Cerritos held the lead until the final seconds of regulation play, when Long Beach got the ball on a delay of game call and converted the break into the game-tying point to send the game into overtime.

Cerritos and Long Beach then met several weeks later, and the Vikes once again came out on top, blasting the Falcons out of the tank with a 12-6 win. The Long Beach victory gave the Vikes the Metro title, an honor shared by the Falcons and Vikings last year.

SOUTHERN CAL

The two powerhouses then met two weeks ago in the Southern Cal tournament, and the Falcons downed Long Beach twice in a single day to grab the crown. Both teams qualified for the State tourney. Cerritos as the Southern Cal champ, and Long Beach as runner up.

Meeting in second round competition the Falcons posted a 7-6 win, with Ray scoring four of the Falcon goals and Derrig contributing the other three.

At the same time Foothill downed San Jose to earn the right to play Long Beach since each had a single loss, with the winner to meet undefeated Cerritos in the finals.

While Long Beach controlled most of the action, rugged Foothill still managed to win the game, 7-6, to move into the finals. Since the Falcons were undefeated, however, Foothill would have to beat Cerritos twice to cop the title.

FALCONS ON TOP

Cerritos got control of the ball and scored on its first shot, with just ten seconds elapsed in the game, taking a 1-0 lead. Foothill came back, but missed its shot, and Cerritos got the ball once again. A bad pass was intercepted, however, and after a quick goal the score was tied.

Foothill took a 2-1 lead on a penalty shot, but Derrig knotted the score once again with his first of two goals, to make the score 2-2.

With the Falcons a little tense in the early going, Cerritos couldn't buy a goal. Every Falcon shot bounced off the pipe, went straight to the goalie, or sailed over the goal.

On an identical play to that in the early going that saw Foothill score its first goal, another Cerritos pass was intercepted and converted into a goal as the Falcons fell back, 3-2.

While Cerritos was having its scoring problem, Foothill hit the goal twice and took a 5-3 lead before halftime.

DOWN BY THREE

Opening the third quarter Foothill scored again to take a three-goal lead and held it until just four minutes remained in the game, when Cerritos scored to narrow the gap to 6-4.

With 1:40 to go Cerritos was still down by two when the nation's best JC waterpolo player, Jerry Ray, fouled out for Cerritos. Moments later the Falcons cut the lead to one.

With :40 seconds to go the Falcons got control of the ball with a last chance to tie the game. Ray Murphy had the ball for Cerritos at half tank, lost his balance, and sent a shot toward the Foothill goal. The ball sailed between the hands of the Foothill goalie to tie the game with half a minute to go.

Cerritos immediately got the ball back and Derrig scored with 10 seconds to play to give Cerritos its first state title in waterpolo history and only the second in any sport.

The previous best by a Falcon waterpolo squad were a pair of third-in-state finishes in 1962 and 1964. The only other State crown won by a Cerritos team was the title copied by Wally Kinkaid's 40-0 baseball team last spring.

Tyne couldn't say enough about his champs, taking particular pains to see that Bob Gaviglio, the state's best goalie got some of the notice he missed all year playing in the goal.

GREAT ATTITUDE

"Our attitude was just great all year," said the Falcon coach, who has led the Cerritos squads to a combined record of 104-70 against the toughest teams in the state. "The team was a typical group of champions. I couldn't have asked for a finer bunch of athletes."

At the outset of the season Tyne, always conservative, said he would be happy with a .500 season. The Falcons ended up 18-6, with two losses going to conference champ Long Beach, two to powerful University of California at Irvine, one to defending undefeated national champion UCLA, and one to three-time defending state champ Foothill.

Among the Falcons' many victories was a win over Jim Schultz' powerful Cal State Long Beach squad.

The Falcons showed some of the stuff Champions are made of by winning their last seven games in the Southern Cal and California tournaments, with one game in overtime and four by one point.

"That just goes to show that a lot of luck goes along with waterpolo," said Tyne.

BOB PERRY IS UGLY

Smith, Halsey Are Champs

CC Wrestlers Nosed Out In UCLA Tourney

FLOYD VOTAW

Cerritos' heavier weight classes almost made the difference as Phoenix edged the Falcon wrestlers 78 to 76 to grab the UCLA Tournament's top team trophy at the Fullerton Junior College gym last weekend.

Headed by unbeaten Jeff Smith and Bill Halsey, Cerritos took places in each of the five heaviest weights.

Smith, who has pinned seven of his eight foes, out-pointed Rocky Rasley of Bakersfield 6-2 to take the heavy weight crown. His three fall wins in the tourney were all in the first period.

A referee's decision was awarded to Halsey at the end of overtime to edge Glen Engle of El Camino in the 177 pound finals. The match remained a scoreless dual in the six minutes of the regularly scheduled time (usually eight minutes in tourney play). The score remained deadlocked at 1-1 after three one minute overtimes. Halsey then was given the crown by the two judges and referee for his better mat work.

Also making the finals Jay Douglas at 191 finished on the short end of a 13-4 decision. Jim West at 160 and John Hall at 187 placed as consolationists.

Shep Bloom's second place finish at 123 was the lone big winner for the lighter weights for Cerritos.

Coach is Pleased

Figuring his team would be in the top six in the tournament, Coach Hal Simonek felt the Falcons did an "outstanding job before strong competition."

Due to the heavy storms over the west, only 28 junior colleges and two frosh teams out of the expected 40 schools came.

Also having six placers, Phoenix came up with one more champion than Cerritos. Bakersfield had seven placers and piled up 59 points for third in team competition.

Their good performances in the lower weights, where the Falcons are weakest, worries Simonek. Bakersfield will be a "very, very difficult team to beat."

But the results show that they will be the only tough Metro team. El Camino was sixth in the tourney with 37, Rio Hondo was tenth with 19 (thanks to Fern Arsenualt, Santa Monica was tied for twentieth with 4 and Long Beach was tied for last with 2.

ALDER IS MVP

The best wrestler award went to El Camino's Curt Alder who took the 152 pound championship.

After a 13 day open schedule, the Falcons will meet a Golden West squad here next Friday at 7:30 p.m. INDIVIDUAL RESULTS (Point scores unofficial):

Tankers Are Due 17 Back Slaps

By Bill Saltzman

Did you ever drink chlorine for three hours a day? How about trying to swim with that much water down your throat? Along with an odd looking-volley ball that you couldn't dodge because you couldn't manage to walk on water? Or maybe you cannot even dog paddle so you're afraid to go under because you might not come back up again. How are you going to dodge that little spheroid when it comes hurtling at you?

Okay, so you dodged it and now you've got the ball. What are you going to do next? Here he comes right out of a Dracula movie and he's got blood in his eye. And his hand. Your blood. He hasn't cut his toe nails in six months and he hasn't missed cutting anyone else in that long too. He takes a swing at the ball and accidentally (?) clouts you in the teeth.

No blood says the ref, so no foul. But there is only no blood because he cannot see the internal bleeding. Anyway, they have the ball again and there goes that gorilla on a break away. There is your poor goalie treading water with this guy two feet away from him ready to heave the ball right down his throat. No problem, you just see if you can't come up with another guy nuls enough to play goal.

And then you let your toe nails grow.

This, fans, is water polo. At its very worst. It is one of the most physically demanding of all sports. You have to swim and swim and swim. . . . Terrible things happen to those who stop swimming.

MAGNIFICENT MILLICENT

Millicent is a most enthusiastic student in the classroom.

Still, she is prone to be overly enthusiastic. No matter what questions are asked — up shoots her hand.

Were she to answer the question correctly, no one would mention her wild hand-waving habit. Unfortunately, her answers are always wrong. Yet, on she waves.

The instructors have discussed this with her and she has promised them to think before waving her hand, but she simply waves on with increased gusto.

Would it not be in her own best interest to tie her hands together for just one week? One wonders.

You didn't see any quiting around Cerritos. The Falcon poloists just don't know when to quit. When you are behind to a team riding a 66 game win streak by three goals with 2:30 to play, that's a good time to quit. Foothill, riding a 66 game streak knows that. Everybody watching the California state championships knew that. But Cerritos doesn't know that. Today, Cerritos is the state champ.

The team and their coach are fantastic case studies for all head shrinkers tuned in at present. Before the season began, Coach Pat Tyne said his team would be fortunate to win more than half of their games. Sure coach, 500 teams do not win state crowns.

Still, there was a reason for Tyne's pessimism. He went absolutely wild in his scheduling. He picked on the big boys. Twice his men faced UC Irvine, once UCLA, once Long Beach State, twice Foothill, four times LBCC, and once Fullerton JC. An 18-6 record against those teams is just short of phenomenal.

Tyne himself, would delight the doctors for hours with his witicism. "I'd rather be lucky than good!" He'll quip. "All right, so we were behind to three-time defending state champ Foothill 6-3 with only 2:30 to go and Jerry Ray had fouled out, and the game was up there with a partisan crowd for Foothill: there was never a doubt." He pales slightly as he says it.

He jokes about the whole thing three days later and plays the whole thing down. But the important thing to remember is that he wasn't playing down and he wasn't pale at the time. He dug in like a champ and he became one.

Tyne is actually so modest about the accomplishment as to drive journalists to distraction. It is just up to scribes to do all the bragging. You guys were great. Anybody that missed your act this season really got cheated.

Jerry Ray, Bob Gaviglio, and Ken Hammer—congratulations Randy Anno, Kurt Dietrich, Ray Murphy, Ken Martens, Daryl Vincent—nice going, champs. Dave Pickup, Dan Derrig, Duncan Fane, you are the champs. Dan Struve, Richard Fortenberry, Jim Wheaton—good show. Ken Hamdorf and Tom Asher—huzzah.

Coach Tyne has got 16 backs to pat and he should make that 17 and include his own.
