26 Beauties Vie For Jazz Queen

A panel of judges will share the problem of choosing from 26 Cerritos lovelies Saturday night, when Cerritos presents its first Jazz Queen Beauty Pageant in Burnight Theatre.

Girls competing for the title were nominated by individuals throughout the campus the week before Christmas Vacation. The winner will preside over the nationally renowned Cerritos Jazz Festival in March.

Among the dignitaries on hand to judge and announce awards are Barbara Kelly, Jimmie Baker, Lyle Spilman, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kenton, and Miss USA-World Pam Pall. Well known disc jockey Ira Cook will serve as master of ceremonies.

The girls will give a short speech and then appear in playsuits while the judges make their decision. Along with the queen and her princesses, a Miss Personality will be named for the pageant.

Admission to the pageant is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and ASCC members. Tickets are being sold by the contestants.

Here is a list of the 26 candidates, their activities, and their future plans.

JACKI CARDOZA is a freshman business major. She is a member of Phi Kappa Zeta sorority and worked on the LeRoy Boys' Home Project. She would like to become an airline stewardess and enjoys water skiing.

NANCY HEATON is a sophomore home economics major, planning to attend the University of California at Davis. Eventually, she would like to work in food photography, and her favorite hobby is cooking.

EMILY MOCKAPETRIS is a freshman dental hygiene major. After attending USC, she hopes to have a bachelor's degree. She is a yell leader at Cerritos and hopes to lead the yell squad next year. She enjoys surfing, skiing, watching football games, and traveling.

CHARLENE MARIE SIMPSON, a sophomore, is a sociology major. She would like to become a United Airlines Hostess following the spring semester. She enjoys jazz, is a member of Cerritos Madrigals and A Cappella Choir, and plays the piano.

LINDA LINORE LEIGH is a freshman business major. She plans to graduate from Cerritos with an A.A. degree and then go to work as an airline stewardess. She is currently Miss Courtesy of La Mirada and a majorette at Cerritos.

ANDEE CATALDI is a sophomore English major. She plans to be married at the end of this year and would like to attend Cal-State Fullerton part time. Andee is a song leader.

JUDY KENYON, a freshman, plans to graduate from Cerritos and become an airline stewardess. She enjoys dancing, waterskiing, and watching baseball and football games.

VALEEN SZABO is a sophomore theatre arts and music major. Concerning future plans, Valeen says, "I am going to be a star." She wants to eventually get married and raise a family in addition to an acting and directing career.

JOYCE PUHARICH is a freshman Spanish major. She plans to graduate from Cerritos and work in the foreign service or become an airline stewardess.

LINDY LEVINE, a sophomore, plans to transfer to Cal-State Los Angeles following the spring semester and train to be a speech therapist. She is president of Phi Rho Pi speech club, and would like to be able to work with mentally retarded children.

ANNA CHRISTINE HANSEN is a sophomore sociology major, planning to transfer to the University of California at Berkeley next fall. She hopes to earn her B.A. degree and then join the Peace Corps and teach.

PAM HARRIS is a freshman French major. She plans to graduate from Cerritos and then apply as an airline stewardess. She enjoys dancing, art crafts and drawing, traveling, music and sewing.

JEANNIE HENDERSON is a freshman music major. She wants to go into theatrical work, especially musical comedy. She enjoys singing and dancing. In the future she would like to teach music on the elementary level.

SUE BUCKLEY, a sophomore, is majoring in art for elementary education. She would like to teach kindergarten and hopes to do more traveling in Europe and the Far East. She is presently assistant Commissioner of Public Relations.

COLLEEN BRUNETTI is a freshman French major, planning to apply as an airline stewardess next year. Colleen's hobbies are ballet, sports, horses, and drama. She has traveled around the world and lived in Thailand for three years.

SHEILA MESHANE is a freshman drama major. She would like to become a professional actress or possibly direct. She was born in Glasgow, Scotland.

PATRICIA ANNE PERRY is a sophomore German major. Eventually she hopes to receive her teaching credentials for German at USC. In the near

Falcon Senate Petitions Are Now Available

Petitions to run for the ASCC Senate can be obtained at the Office of Student Affairs until Jan. 17.

Students hoping to fill one of the 30 vacant seats must be enrolled in 12 units for the spring semester and be maintaining a 2.0 grade point average. Applications can be picked up in the office of Student Affairs.

Secretary to the Dean of Men Mary Louise Monnin advises freshmen who just completed their first semester that she has no way of checking their GPA, so they must fill out a work-in-progress report to become eligible to run.

At present, the students have turned in their petitions, and barring disqualification, this is the order their names will appear on the official ballot.

Classes Move To New Building

The start of the spring semester will mark the opening of the new $1,387,000 social studies building which was recently completed. The building was begun in October, 1966 and cost an additional $50,000 to furnish and equip.

The building, which consists of three stories and a lower office level (basement), will be equipped with an elevator which will be open only to faculty members and handicapped students.

Located on the first floor will be the data processing department, including all the data processing equipment used by the college, the philosophy classes, and in the far wing all the community service classes.

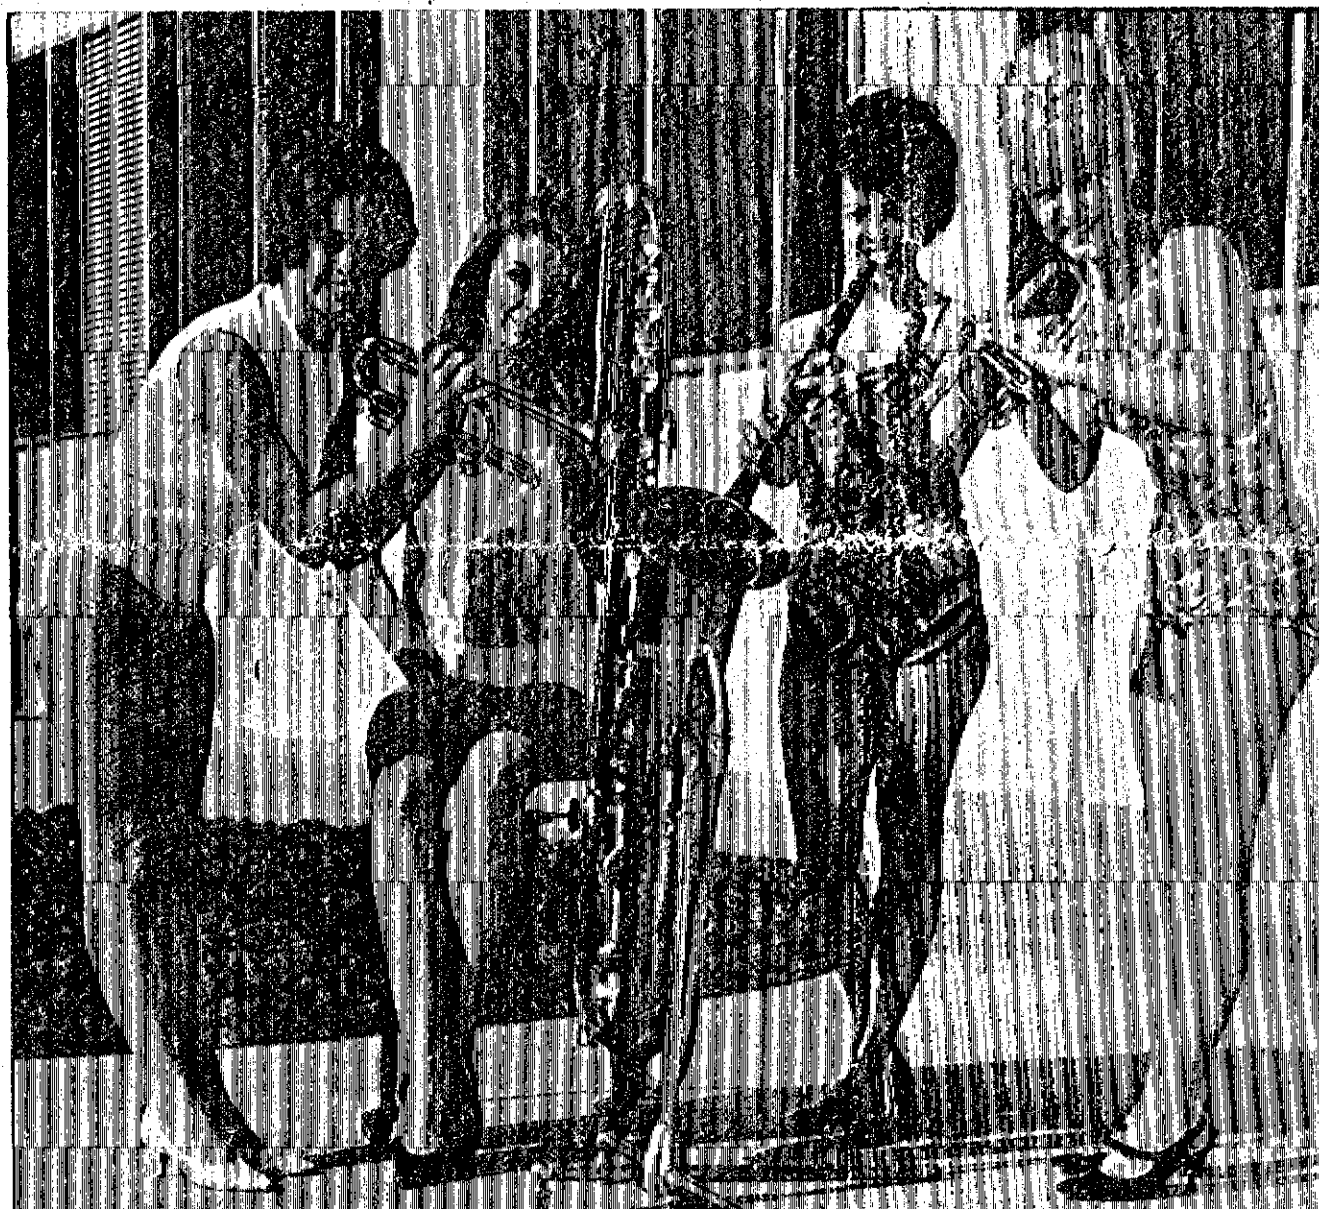

On the second floor will be the police science classes and labs, the speech department and its offices and practice rooms and several miscellaneous classes.

The third floor will consist of all the social studies classes such as psychology, history and sociology.

The lower office level, or basement, will house offices for all the social science staff and half of the business department staff.

Due to the opening of the new building, several other buildings will undergo changes. Moving into the Liberal Arts building, will be all the English classes and several of the language classes. A section of the Arts and Craft building will be converted into a math wing.

According to Harlan Stamm, dean of academic affairs, LA 5 will be converted into a satellite food center consisting of several vending machines for the convenience of the many students whose class schedules make it impossible for them to frequent the student coffee shop and cafeteria. This new system will do away with the catering truck which is presently used. The food center will open on a temporary basis starting Feb. 8.

Students, And Faculty Shudder, It's Time For Registration Again

by Phyl Fritsch
Associate Editor

All students, with approved registration plans, may register on Jan. 22, 24, 25, from 1 to 9 p.m. in the Administration Building. On Jan. 26, students, with plans, may register from 9 a.m. until noon; Jan. 29 and 30, hours will be 1 to 9 p.m.

All students with or without registration plans may enroll or make class changes on Jan. 31, from 1 to 9 p.m. Late registration and program changes may also be made from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 5.

From all indications, the close of the fall semester will not alleviate the morning parking problems for those with 9 a.m. or later classes. According to one worker in admissions, upwards of 200 student enrollees have been processed per hour!

Whether the majority of returning students have found some method (or psychic power) or there has been some unknown change in scheduling by the administration, the slow-down due to closed or dropped classes seems to be at a minimum this semester.

This is a good time and place to acknowledge the patience and good temper of the terribly rushed staff in admissions, both temporary and permanent.

NEW CLASSES

There are a number of new classes offered this semester in various divisions. Both day and night programs are represented; some are offered for the first time this semester, while some are expansions of existing courses.

The new classes, on the whole, are not open for registration until Jan. 31. Further details and class descriptions of the classes are on page 4 in this issue of Talon Marks.

CLASS DROPS AND CHANGES

Student program changes will not be made until Jan. 31. To add a desired class that is not on the plan, or to exceed the maximum units to be taken as listed on the plan, a counselor must give approval.

Classes may be dropped without penalty only if the drop is officially recorded in the Offices of Admissions and Records. Failure to attend class without an official drop will result in an "F" being recorded on grade reports.

HONORS AND AWARDS

Departmental honors are given to students who do outstanding work in their major course of study.

To qualify, the student must be recommended by the majority of instructors in his major field, on a basis of achievement and promise of success in his endeavors.

Gold and Silver Falcon activity awards are also given by the Associated Students to those who have made outstanding contributions to the betterment of Cerritos College.

Awards are given to twenty freshmen and twenty sophomores for work in such activities as band, Falconettes, Talon Marks, theatre, student government and athletic teams.

ALPHA GAMMA SIGMA

Eligibility to the Cerritos chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma Honor Society is attained by completing 12 or more units of study with a GPA of 3.5, or fifteen units with a GPA of 3.0 and no grade lower than a "C".

Bill Valle, president of the Cerritos Chapter, has stressed that eligibility does not mean automatic membership. The student must apply, and be accepted, for membership in the honor group. Valle added that actual membership is advantageous as it is the only honor that becomes permanently recorded on transcripts.

Clubs Must Report Activities Today

Inter-Club Council Commissioner Dave Fratalone reminds all campus clubs that they must turn in a written report of their semester's activities to the Office of Student Affairs today.

There is no formal fee for the reports, but they should include every activity of the club during the semester.

Fratalone warns that clubs not submitting a semester report will be considered off-campus by the Council.

Court Members Busy During 1st Semester

Cerritos' five court justices report that over the past semester they have been involved actively in over 11 aspects of campus life, dealing with factions of student government and court duties.

Heading the list of important court announcements was the revision of the student body's judicial code, election code and grand jury system earlier in the year the justices dispensed with such tasks as the establishment of a court journal and the appointment of a court clerk, along with the elections board and such cases as arose over the last five months.

Four of the five court members started out new, and were admittedly suffering from lack of knowledge of court proceedings. However, before the new justices were seated on the court, they were required to submit to an examination and an oral interview with the student body president.

The new justices embarked on an innovation, when they allotted time from each regularly scheduled meeting to read the minutes and court records dating back to 1964.

With the coming of the spring semester, the court will seat four new judges from the ranks of the student body, thus bringing the judicial body to its capacity of nine members. One justice stated that with the addition of the new court members, the court would function with more efficiency, understanding and knowledge.

January 2, the court members met informally to interview six prospective justices; from their ranks the officials must recommend four to the student body president. If they meet with his approval, they must be sanctioned by the senate before being seated on the court.

Linda Ruehlman, acting as the focal point of the court in her position as chief justice, last month remarked, "The most important thing involved in my office is to insure longevity of the court system and to guarantee that it will have real purpose and meaning to our college campus." The court reports indicate that in keeping with the theme of the chief justices statement, a grand jury has been selected, at random, from the files of the student body.

Forensic Team Racks Up Five More Trophies

Seven students making up the Cerritos speech squad won second place and brought back five trophies in the recent Western Regional JC Speech Tournament held at Humboldt State College in Arcata, Jan. 5 and 6.

Forming the squad were winners Bill Larson, first place in expository speaking; Jim Caforio, second place in persuasive speaking; Linda Ruehlman and Caforio, second place in debate, and Judy England, third place in expository and persuasive speaking.

Also on the squad were Lindy Levine, Candy Jobling, and Pat Schwerdtfeger.

At the recent Fresno City College Team Tournament held over the holidays, the forensic squad secured the first place junior college sweepstakes trophy. The Cerritos debaters won 12 out of 14 debates during the two-day event.

The tournament, held at Humboldt State, marked the end of a successful semester for the forensic department under the direction of Mrs. Juliette Venitsky, director of forensics; Mr. William Lewis, assistant director of forensics; and Mr. Ron Tabor, director of debate.

Art Gallery Displays Instructors' Works

On display in the fourth annual Spectrum Exhibition will be more than 50 works of art executed by the Cerritos art faculty.

A spectrum of drawings, paintings, sculptures and ceramics, including the Falcon Statue, composes this exhibition in the Cerritos Art Gallery from Jan. 8 through Feb. 5.

Those exhibiting are Melvin Wood (department chairman), Roland Shutt, Manuel De Leon, Richard Johnson, Walter Leather Jones and Rudolph Aguirre.

News Briefs

A REPRESENTATIVE from the admissions dept. of Cal Lutheran College will be in the counseling office on Jan. 19 at 1 p.m. Students who may be considering attending Cal Lutheran or who may simply be interested in learning more about a liberal arts curriculum should make an appointment by contacting the Information desk in the Counseling office.

DEADLINE FOR PURCHASING tickets to the all Awards Banquet is Jan. 17. Price for those invited to attend is $1.50, and general admission is $3. The entree is New York steak.

THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS is again sponsoring a Spring Leadership Conference, Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 2. Each club may send two delegates at $15 each. Additional delegates may go at a rate of $30. The names of the two official delegates should be turned into the Office of Student Affairs by Jan. 22.

STUDENTS TRANSFERRING to Cal State Long Beach no longer are required to take the ACT unless they are candidates for the teacher education or the nursing school programs.

TALON MARKS

Editorials

Is Something Wrong?

With mixed emotions we present this edition of Talon Marks. Practically half the year is gone, and with it half of our mistakes, your complaints, and our joint headaches. We hope.

Although unusually quiet, the past semester has been an interesting one. Happily enough, it wasn't marked by outbursts from any of our three branches of student government, no childish arguments over petty grievances among our student leaders, no squabbling over minor interpretation of the constitution. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Instead they have been replaced by orderly, short senate meetings, which merely get to the business at hand. They haven't given way to committees such as the constitutional revision committee. A dual harmony has developed between the executive and legislative branches of government.

Quietly, almost unnoticed the inadequate facilities in the coffee shop and cafeteria were replaced, a Falcon statue was completed, a barbecue was staged at a savings of $1,000 to the school. But whatever happened to the Free Press?

What kind of student government do you call this? Everybody seems to care more whether they get things done than getting their name in the paper. They don't care who gets the credit as long as their goals are achieved. Student government, what's got into you?

future, she plans to transfer to San Diego State and after completing one or two semesters go into the TransAtlantic Airlines.

RUTH RITCHIE, a sophomore music major, plans to earn her degree in music and teach elementary school. She enjoys horses and being a member of the Kenton Collegiate Neophonic Orchestra.

BOBBI FUENTES is a sophomore journalism major. She is undecided whether she would like to be a magazine fashion editor or an airline stewardess. Bobbie is the second oldest of ten children and is a song leader at Cerritos.

BEA RODRIGUEZ, a sophomore business administration major, would like to work at Douglas Aircraft after graduating. She enjoys being a song leader, ice skating and dancing.

Patty Bird is a freshman, planning to attend University of California at Irvine and get her teaching credentials. She is a member of Phi Kappa Zeta sorority.

Cindy Owens is a sophomore majoring in secretarial science. She currently works part time for United Airlines and plans to become a stewardess this summer. She is president of Delta Psi Omega sorority and vice president of AWS.

CAROL PRIEST is a cosmetology major. She plans to become a professional hairdresser and stylist. She enjoys dancing and sewing.

VICKIE VALDEZ is a sophomore psychology major, planning to work with mentally and emotionally disturbed children. Vickie is the Commissioner of Activities and her hobbies include designing and making many of her own clothes.

CONNIE VOTII is a freshman dental assisting major. She plans to become a certified dental assistant after graduating from Cerritos. Connie is a member of Phi Kappa Zeta Sorority. She enjoys sewing, cooking, and making feather flower arrangements in her spare time.

Cerritos Tops Mt. Sac In 1st 'Bowl' Contest

Cerritos emerged victorious from its initial College Bowl encounter, downing rugged Mt. San Antonio, 268-140 in Burnight Center last Thursday.

The victory was a pleasant surprise to Cerritos coach Russel Storkan, sponsor of the program. "I was very pleased with our performance. Mt. Sac was undefeated in three years of previous competition, and for us to defeat such a formidable foe in our first try is quite an accomplishment."

The Falcon representatives fell behind quickly, trailing 40-0. Cerritos didn't assume the lead until late in the contest, when the Falcons rallied strongly.

The questions were submitted by 12 instructors, covering nearly all disciplines, including paintings and recorded music. The contest was divided into 15-minute halves, separated by a five-minute intermission.

Competing for the victorious Cerritos squad were Robert Frisbee, Marc Sturdivant, Richard Lodero (captain), Stanley Noteboom, and Nolan Coogan. Only four members could compete at a time, so Sturdivant and Coogan served as alternates.

Cerritos has accepted a challenge from Barstow, who claims to have originated the junior college bowl, and the two squads are slated to clash in March. Fullerton and Rio Hondo have also extended challenges.

The contest with Mt. Sac was videotaped for future use, with the eventual goal to get Junior College Bowl on television. The program is patterned after the national television program.

Program Organizes In Stewardess Training

Airline stewardess training will be added to the vocational programs offered at Cerritos in the fall of 1968.

Students entering AST will be granted an AA Degree upon completion of general education and major requirements, according to Carol Hill, home economics instructor.

Majors in this field must minor in business, home economics or foreign language.

Courses necessary for the program include AST 50, introduction to aviation, two units of college credit; AST 51, air transportation, two units; AST 52, airline operations, two units; AST 53, inflight procedures, two units; ASE, aerospace education, three units; and HE 40, grooming and etiquette for the professional woman.

There is no pre-selection of girls who can enter the program, but at the time of employment girls must meet the employers requirements.

General qualifications of most airlines include age 20 to 28, height 5 feet 2 inches to 5 feet 9, weight 102 to 140 pounds with weight proportionate to height and 20/50 vision without glasses, contact lens are permissible.

Other requirements are that teeth must be in good repair, have no full dentures, unblemished complexion, be well groomed and have natural looking hair.

Applicants should have a warm personality with a sense of responsibility and initiative and be able to pass the flight physical examination.

Beginning salary for an airline stewardess is approximately $350 a month and the maximum is approximately $550 a month, remarks Mrs. Hill.

Greetings and salutations of the day. Over the holidays, Igor, my faithful servant, and I went up to visit Smedley Jones, my analyst, at his favorite resort, the Happy Valley Home for the Feeble-Minded near San Francisco. Smedley had been involved in taking surveys from the patients. Some of the topics were "Does Bad Breath Cause Air Pollution?" and "Should Red China Admit the United Nations?" The patients proved their sanity by refusing to even consider answering Smedley's questions were all released, leaving Smedley to be committed as the sole patient at Happy Valley.

When we arrived, Smedley was in a state of confusion which was typical for him. He couldn't figure what he done to make everybody leave. Could it be that he had forgotten his BAN? Maybe his shoes squeaked too much.

At any rate, we had to bail Smedley out of Happy Valley because he had a speaking date with the Mothers-for-the-Prevention-of-Flying-Saucers Association the next day. So, Igor had a friendly, little chat with the attendants in the broom closet. Igor isn't much on talking, so naturally the discussion was short and Igor had made his influence felt.

After his adventure, Smedley has restricted his surveys to the nuts down at City Hall which, of course, has met with great success.

Igor picked up a new hobby at Happy Valley; he now breaks out of straight jackets from the inside for fun. Sometimes he tries 3 or 4 at a time.

And at Smedley's lecture, I learned that mothers can prevent flying saucers with a special blend of DDT and Elmer's Glue.

New Classes Open For Spring

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Stan Porter, director, announced that the Collegium Chorale of Cerritos will be open to all interested and qualified singers.

The Chorale will meet on Monday evenings from 7 to 10 in BC-51. Porter stressed that there is a particular need for tenors, in addition to opening for basses and altos.

The Chorale, which presents many different types of music, has enjoyed good attendance to its past performances.

One unit of transferable college credit is given for the class. Further information may be obtained by contacting Stan Porter at 860-2451, extension 341.

The Cerritos College Community Orchestra, needs more instrumentalists for the spring orchestra now being formed. "Especially needed are string players including violins, violas and cellos," according to Director Don Erjavec.

Orchestra meetings will be on each Thursday, 7 to 10 p.m. in BC-53. One unit of college credit is offered.

Information is available in the Office of Admissions and records.

A new singing class, the College Chorus will be opened by the music department for the spring. This class is designed to meet the demand for a singing organization for which there are no prerequisites and which will be open to all who are interested.

Director Stan Porter said that the purpose of the class will be to provide experience in choral music of many types, but without the pressures of a heavy performance load.

The chorus class, Music 20 will meet at noon on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and carries one unit of credit.

Registration will begin on Jan. 22 for students with appointment to register cards only.

HOME ECONOMICS

Ruth Laidlaw, department chairman, says that interior decoration study will be offered by the Home Economics Department at Cerritos on Mondays from 7 to 10 p.m.

Home Economics 54 will place emphasis on beauty, comfort, economy and individuality in home decoration.

Also offered will be HE 66, "The Preschool Child, from 7 to 10 p.m. on Thursdays.

Clothing Workshop, HE 60, will be held on Tuesdays from 6 to 10 p.m. The class is not open to home ec majors.

Other courses offered are Flat-pattern Design, Tailoring and Textiles.

BUSINESS AND SECRETARIAL CLASSES

Franchise Analysis, a new class, is being offered through the cooperation of the Small Business Administration. The class is designed to help in understanding the legal aspects and methods of financing franchise investments.

According to coordinator Lowell Anderson, this is the first time such a course has been offered at a community college. Contact Anderson at S60-2451, extension 308 for further information.

Instructor Margaret Baird will head the class in Medical Secretarial Procedures on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9:30.

Emphasis will be placed on machine transcription of medical case histories and enlargement of medical vocabularies. A first and second semester class will be combined, but a beginning student with some background in medical terminology and average typing skill may enroll.

Contact the Office of Admissions and Records regarding registration in the class.

SCIENCE CLASSES OPEN

Dr. Henry Childs, chairman of the life sciences department announced the new class, Applied Microbiology, which will be offered next semester. Micro 50 will meet on Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. and will carry two units of credit. There are no prerequisites for the class.

General areas to be stressed will be "social disease problems." "Some stress will be given to show the individual how he may help prevent the spread of disease and how he must treat the disease once he has come in contact with it," Dr. Childs said.

Chemistry 2, a class designed to prepare for a full professional level chemistry course. For enrollment, a student must have the equivalent of one year of high school algebra.

At the beginning of lab sessions, a test will be given to determine if the student knows what the session is supposed to teach. If the test is passed, he will be excused from that period.

Dorris Boardman, chairman of the physical science division, will conduct the experimental class.

Class hours are scheduled during both day and evening hours. Contact the Office of Admissions and Records for further information.

Also listed for evening sessions during the spring term are the following classes: Quantitative Analysis and Chemistry 1.2; in engineering, courses include Statics and Engineering Circuits; in mathematics, Math 5.2, 5.3 and 5.4 are open.

Physics courses listed include Physics 4.2.

The Office of Counseling and Guidance will give more information to students wishing to enroll in these classes.

taken to Disneyland and had the Christmas Party at Cerritos.

The 23-acre boys' home offers an atmosphere as close to the home situation as possible, according to LeRoy Haynes, executive director of the home.

On July 1, 1967 the non-sectarian, inter-racial home opened with 10 boys from broken homes. It now serves the needs of approximately 80 boys from six to 17-years-old.

GOAL REACHED

Donors helped the LeRoy Boys' Home fund committee reach its $2500 goal and pass it by $52.94, announced Miss Skinner.

MONEY TAPE

Competition prevailed Oct. 13, 1967 as campus clubs and organizations collected money for LeRoy Boys' Home on a money tape which stretched from the Student Center to the library.

The all day event netted $326.29 toward the fund for the boys Christmas Party.

Participants in the activity were separated into divisions of service and honorary, panhellenic and special interest. Each division winner will receive a certificate of merit at the Fall Awards Banquet, next Friday in the Student Center.

HOME COMING

One of the highlights of homecoming activities was the appearance of young men from the home who carried banners at the game, Nov. 11, 1967.

Approximately $425 was collected during the third and fourth quarters of the football game. The total donations were over $100 more than was collected last year.

UGLY MAN CONTEST

Contestants, Dan Armstrong and Dan Bisher, tied for the Ugly Man title and set a new high for individual collections by raising $123.48 apiece.

Another record amount was made during the Christmas Dance, Dec. 1, 1967, when it was announced that proceeds from the Ugly Man Contest were $459.61 and that $130 was collected from the dance.

HARLEM CLOWNS

Spectators saw amazing basketball played with fancy ball handling, trick shooting and comedy routines during the hilarious Harlem Clowns vs. Cerritos Faculty All-Stars game, Dec. 8, 1967.

Half of the proceeds from the basketball game went toward the LeRoy Boys' Home fund.

Deadline Nears For Alien Report

The Immigration and Naturalization Service wishes to remind non-citizens of the United States that, during the month of January, they are required to report their current address on Form I-53, Address Report card.

According to George K. Rosenberg, District Director of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Services, more than half a million aliens residing in Southern California will report their addresses. Rosenberg stated that non-citizens are required to file each January.

Cerritos Home Economics Division Plans Childhood Education Program

Early Childhood Education, a two-year career program, will be offered in the fall of 1968, according to Ruth Laidlaw, Home Economics Instructor.

Students completing an AA degree with a major in ECE, Early Childhood Education, will be qualified to be an assistant teacher or teacher in Nursery Schools including private, parent and church sponsored schools, Children's Centers, the Head Start Program, or work with children in clinics, recreational facilities, hospitals or therapy centers.

Currently there are approximately 25 schools for preschool children in the Cerritos district.

Besides general education courses, students must take ECE 80.1 80.2, Introduction to Early Childhood Education, both three unit classes; ECE 81, The Child in Home and Community, three units; ECE 82, Creative Activities for Young Children, two units; ECE 83, Creative Music Activities for Young Children, two units; ECE 84, Creative Art Activities for Young Children, two units.

Other classes include ECE85, Creative Science Activities for Young Children, two units; ECE 86, Behavior and Guidance for Young Children, three units; ECE 87, 1-87.2, Nursery School Internship, both three-unit classes.

"There is a great need for ECE trained teachers, especially in this area because people who wanted training had to go outside the district to obtain it," remarks Mrs. Laidlaw.

Another reason for expanding the need for ECE teachers is the increasing percentage of mothers going to work.

Those who should take the program are high school graduates who desire a rewarding occupation, high school graduates who want to begin preparation for upper division work in elementary education or as a teacher or supervisor in a ECE School.

Already employed teachers in ECE Schools who wish to refresh their professional techniques and obtain training to fulfill recommended requirements for licenses may want to take this new program.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND AWARDS

There are many scholarships, loans and grant-in-aid programs at Cerritos that may be applied for in the Office of Administration. Some are granted on an academic achievement basis, while others are open for application by any student at Cerritos.

CERRITOS SERVICES

The Campus Bookstore carries a complete stock of currently needed classroom supplies and texts, plus many other reference books, study aids, stationery, greeting cards and gift items. It is maintained as a convenience to students.

The Student Center provides a variety of food and drink, with ample seating for students with a little time to spare. It is here that many of the programs are scheduled for student and community enrichment.

The Employment Office has a large turnover of both part and full-time jobs, including on-campus opportunities for students who are in need of extra income.

The Office of Student Affairs maintains a current list of available housing offering room and board in the area. This is also the place to contact campus organizations and clubs.

The Counseling Office is, perhaps, the most vital office to students who plan to transfer. All colleges and universities do not have the same entrance requirements, and wise counseling could save a student as much as a semester's time.

Last, but by no means least, is the Cerritos Library. This, soon to be expanded, facility is one of the most complete two-year college libraries in the state and, with completion of present plans, it will rival many of the four-year college libraries in the country.

There are audio study aids, a periodicals room and a reference room in addition to the circulating library.

There is a duplicator for students' convenience which reproduces the page of a book or periodical for ten cents a copy.

Several typewriters are located behind the check-out desk for that last minute paper that was forgotten at home.

All in all, this semester may seem much like the last, but it isn't. Each year, Cerritos is growing AND improving. It is a facility which one is proud to present to out-of-towners as a very good example of the state's forward strides in education.

You, as a student, are also growing and improving. YOU are the example of the growth of PEOPLE.
