Cerritos To Honor Student Leaders

Students To 'Elect' New ASCC Senators

Fewer Applicants Than Seats Assure
All Candidates a Berth in Senate

Expressing either a satisfaction in the first semester affairs of student government or a strict apathy in them, only 24 students filed petitions to run in today's Senate elections.

Since there are fewer applicants than seats, everyone who submitted a petition, barring poor grades, will gain a seat in the school's legislative branch.

Asked if there would indeed be an election today, Supreme Court Chief Justice Linda Reuhlman emphatically replied "yes."

Thinking judicially, Reuhlman said, "I think we would be setting a dangerous precedent by eliminating an election, even if all those running are assured of a seat. It breaks my heart."

Voting will once again be conducted in the student center and Lecture Hall areas. Students can vote upon presentation of their fall Student Body card.

Fluor Offers Scholarships

Fluor Corporation of Los Angeles announced at a recent Education-Industry meeting that they will make six scholarship awards available to Cerritos College students.

This competition is open to drafting design and pre-engineering majors carrying a minimum of 12 credit hours. Each contestant will complete a drawing specified by Fluor using Cerritos drafting techniques. Drawings will be judged by Cerritos College drafting instructors, with the six best being judged by Fluor for final determination of awards in the following order.

First prize, $200 U.S. Bond; second prize, $100 U.S. bond, and third prize, $50 U.S. Bond.

Three other prizes will be engineer's slide rules. These awards will be presented to winners late in the spring semester. For further information, contact the school drafting or engineering instructor.

Regents Set Up Scholarships

The University of California has notified the Counseling Division that a unique program of scholarship aid to promising students from California junior colleges has just been established by the regents of the University.

Immediate awards will be made to junior college students who are transferring to any branch of the University after the completion of 56 or more transferable semester units. The amount of each scholarship will be based upon the student's financial need as determined by the Parent's confidential statement to the College Scholarship Service and will provide up to $800 annually toward the cost of attending the University. This totals approximately $1900 for a California resident living in a University residence hall.

Completed applications must be submitted on or before February 15. A confidential statement will also be required for each applicant.

Full, Part-Time Jobs Now Available

New and continuing students now have many opportunities for part-time employment, both on and off-campus. Jobs are currently available in sales, secretarial, clerk-typist, food service, factory work, service stations, and many other fields which do not require previous experience or training.

"Many employers in this area support the community college by regularly offering part-time employment with work schedules that are adjustable to a student's class schedule," stated Carl Specht, coordinator of student job placement. "Many of these jobs lead to full time summer employment or to permanent career jobs," he added.

Students who are interested in obtaining employment should file an application form at the student Job Placement Office, located in the lobby of the Admissions Office.

JAZZ ROYALTY—Queen Pat and her two princesses, Colleen Brunetti and Nancy Heaton beam for photographers after they regain their composure. They will preside over the now famous Jazz Festival March.

HER MAJESTY—Following her announcement as the first Cerritos Jazz Queen, Pat Perry had trouble controlling her emotions, unable to hold back tears of joy. She will reign over the Jazz Festival and will make several speaking appearances before then.

Judges Select Pat Perry Jazz Festival Queen

Vivacious sophomore Pat Perry was selected Cerritos' Jazz Queen to reign over the Western Regional Jazz Festival to be held at Cerritos in March.

Pat was selected over a field of 25 contestants in competition for the title. She was chosen by a panel of judges along with her two princesses, Colleen Brunetti and Nancy Heaton. Judges included Miss USA-World Pam Pail, Jimmie Baker, Lyle Spilman, and

The National Intercollegiate Barbara Kelly Jazz Festival is a college-level competition that involves the entire higher educational system across the United States. National finals are to be held in St. Louis following regional contests in Philadelphia, Mobile, Little Rock, Chicago, Salt Lake City, and Cerritos. Cerritos is the only junior college to earn the honor of hosting a regional contest.

Pat is a German major at the college and hopes to eventually obtain teaching credentials. "My immediate plans include graduation from Cerritos this spring and transferring to San Diego for one or two semesters," Pat said.

"I then hope to work for a trans-Atlantic airline before returning to the University of Southern California for my fourth and fifth years of study."

Pat was a princess in the recent homecoming activities, has long brown hair and hazel eyes. She enjoys snow and water skiing, skin-diving and reading German literature.

Colleen Brunetti is a freshman French major at Cerritos and hopes to become an airline stewardess some day. Miss Nancy Heaton is a freshman home economics major and plans her career in that field.

The audience judged the girls on personality and selected Carol Priest Miss Personality for the Pageant.

Each of the 25 contestants gave a short prepared speech, an impromptu discussion with Master of Ceremonies Ira Cook, and appeared in play suit. Judging was on poise, personality, and attractiveness.

Secretaries Visit County Law Library

"Recently 18 members of the Legal Secretarial class viewed the facilities at the Los Angeles County Law Library," said Roy Maki, instructor.

After the library visit students from the legal Secretarial and Advanced Stenotypy classes toured the Los Angeles County Courthouse.

Because of the cooperation John D. Hahn, assistant chief deputy county clerk gave the groups a first-hand look at what goes on behind the scenes in one of the nation's largest county courthouses.

Tonight the Associated Students will honor those who have given outstanding service to some phase of extra-curricular activity on campus.

Dean of Women Amy Dozier and Dean of Men Richard Robinson will present Falcon awards to outstanding men and women students in the form of silver and gold Falcons, and instructors will award service certificates and Falcon Feathers.

Gold Falcons will be presented to no more than 10 sophomore men and women students who have been outstanding in at least two phases of student activities. Silver Falcons go to no more than 10 freshmen men and women. Students were nominated by their instructors and classmates during last week.

Service certificates are awarded to students devoting a semester to such activities as the band and Talon Marks. Falcon Feathers go to those who contributed special service on a single project, such as Homecoming. Vickia Valdez, Commissioner of Activities, will serve as mistress of ceremonies for the affair. Groups being honored include Falconettes, Falcon band, song and yell leaders, fall student government, homecoming Talon Marks, Campus Illustrated, forensics, cosmetology, and theatre.

Forensic Squad Wins Trophies At Humboldt

They did it again! The Cerritos forensic students have made such a habit of bringing home the trophies, that soon, a special wing will have to be added just to house the awards.

The latest conquest was the Western Junior College Speech Tournament at Humboldt State.

Bill Larson garnered a first place award for expository speaking and Jim Carforio joined the in first-place winners with his persuasive speaking. Carforio and Linda Ruehlman brought back second-place trophies in debate.

Judy England rounded out the award to a total of five with her third place standing in expository speaking and persuasive speaking. Other Cerritos students participating included Linda LeVine, Pat Schwerdtfeger and Candy Jobling.

The tournament at Humboldt closed the highly successful semester of competition. Juliette Venitsky is the director of forensics; she is assisted by William Lewis, Ron Tabor is director of debate.

Cerritos will host an Oral Interpretation Festival under the direction of Wendell Hanks and James Dighe, speech instructors, during the semester break on Feb. 2.

College Chorus Class Organizes

The Cerritos College Music Department will open a new singing class for any interested singer, regardless of background, starting Feb. 5.

"College Chorus," the title of the new class, is designed to meet the demand for a singing organization for which there are no required prerequisites.

The one hour class will meet at noon Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays during the spring semester and will provide one unit of credit upon completion.

The purpose of the class, according to Director Stan Porter, will be to provide experience in choral music of many types, but without the pressures of a heavy performance load.

Registration will begin on Jan. 22 for students with appointment to register cards only.

Classes Organize For 1968 Spring Semester

Join others in the exploration of the understanding, explanation and prediction of behavior by investigating the specialized courses added to the Psychology Department.

Besides the prerequisite course, Introduction to Psychology, the department will offer Physiological Psychology, Experimental Psychology, Personality and Adjustment and Behavioral Statistics.

The new spring semester classes give Cerritos the most modern broad spectrum of basic curriculum of any community college in California, according to Edith Craefcholo, psychology instructor.

Interested in learning a foreign language? Sign up now for one of the extensive courses in French, German, and Spanish offered next semester. The courses will emphasize upon the four skills of speaking, understanding, reading and writing.

"Language can broaden one's horizon and awaken an awareness of the closeness of our world today," comments Margaret Bluska, chairman of the language department. "It can introduce the individual to new vistas in communications and bring about a new understanding of countries and people."

According to Mrs. Bluska "It definitely helps one to understand the structure and content of one's own language and it is rewarding to be able to pronounce correctly foreign names of people, cities and historical monuments."

The language courses, which carry transferable college credit, provides a fully equipped electronic lab with prepared tapes spoken by active speakers, individual booths to respond to questions and drills, and correct forms given to help check recorded answers.

The language courses will be offered during both day and extended day sessions. For further information concerning the language program contact Mrs. Bluska at 860-2431, extension 203.

Why Bother

As always, Talon Marks urges all students to get out and vote in the Senate election this afternoon, but we're not sure why. The feeling in the Senate this semester, extremely similar to what is called apathy, has extended into the election itself.

At the semester's end all 30 seats in the ASCC ruling body became vacant. Yet only 26 students out of a full-time student body of 4,179 bothered to turn in the petitions as early Wednesday afternoon. Wednesday was the deadline for complete petitions.

In short, this means that anybody that can walk into student affairs will become a Senator. Anybody. Look around you some time in the coffee shop and see if you want to be governed by some of the local inhabitants.

We're not trying to reflect on those who are making an effort and are running. Indeed, we want to congratulate them. It does seem a shame, however, that not even one-tenth of one percent of the student body cares enough to run for the ASCC Senate.

New Class Information

for state examinations for licensed insurance salesmen and brokers.

According to La Rue Harcourt, instructor at Cerritos College, the high production means that more insurance will be written and that more individuals will be needed to develop these new opportunities.

"The growing volume of business will, in turn, create jobs for underwriters, fieldmen, safety engineers, inspectors, auditors, adjusters, investigators, clerks and all types of office personnel," said Harcourt.

The aim of the course is to develop a working vocabulary of insurance terms, an understanding of the fundamental principles of insurance including fire, casualty, life and health insurance, and an understanding of insurance laws.

It also prepares the student for his state insurance license examinations.

According to Harcourt, there is a great demand for skills in insurance and an even greater demand for insurance-trained skills.

Further information regarding the insurance course are available by contacting the office of Admissions and Records at 860-2451, extension 212.

The spring semester will introduce among its new course offerings the "History of Russia". HIS 20 will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. by instructor Thom Hendrickson.

Hendrickson, who has done graduate work at USC in comparative governments and international relations, traveled throughout Western Russia.

Poland, and East Germany this past summer.

He also attended the Department of State Foreign Service Institute-International Communism and its Strategy of World Revolution.

The geography of Russia and its influence on the people who first settled its wilderness will be among the topics to be covered by the course.

Also to be covered will be the history of the Christian influence, the early Russian (Kievan) state, and the Mongol invasions.

For further information contact the Office of Admissions and Records at 860-2451, ext. 212.

A semester course in Franchise Analysis will be opened next semester under the direction of J.W. Kosseloff who will serve as instructor and consultant for the course.

Classes will be held Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. in cooperation with the U.S. Small Business Administration and the office of Community Services at the college.

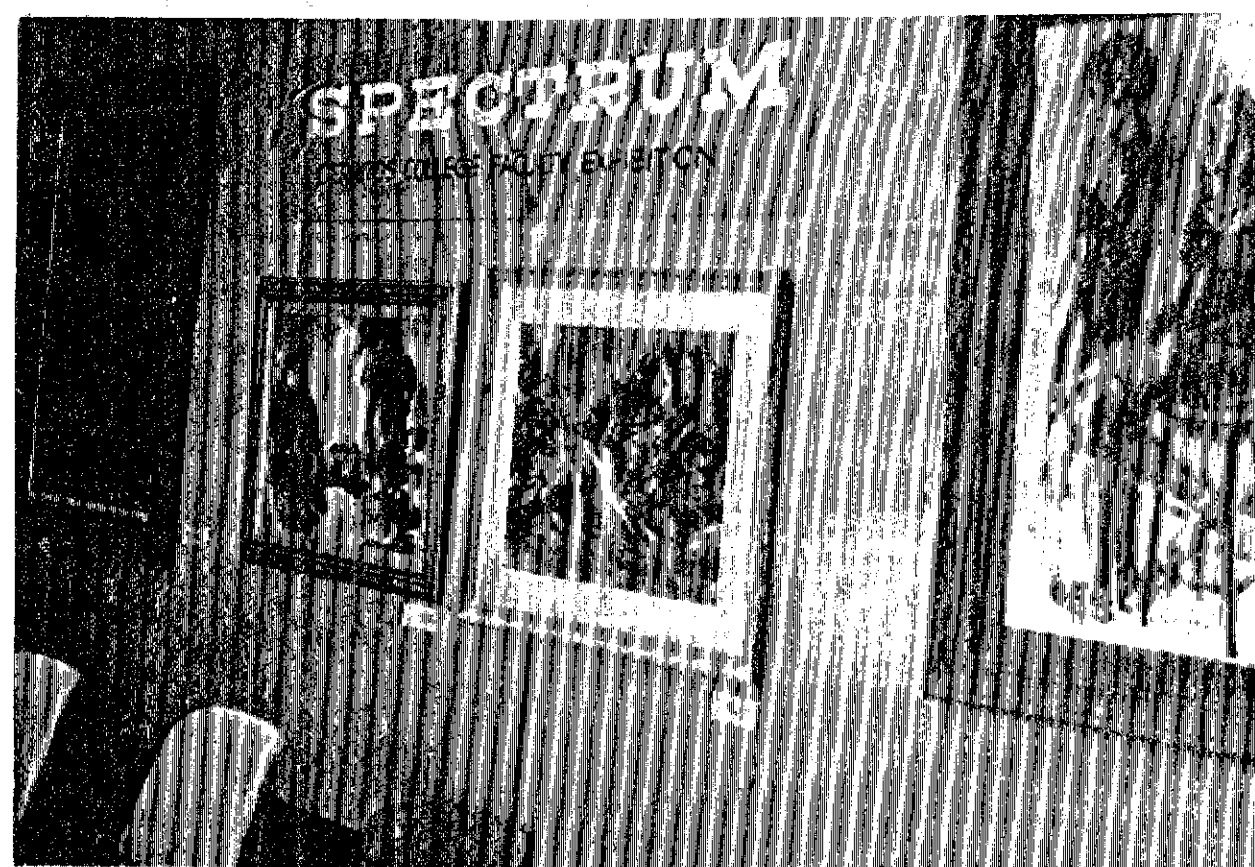

The new course will be opened to all community residents in the Cerritos area. A $10 enrollment fee will be required at the time of registration and enrollment will be somewhat limited.

The spring semester will offer a complete real estate education program beginning Feb. 5.

It will provide preparatory training for those people interested in entering the profession and a program designed for those persons already in real estate who wish to upgrade themselves or prepare for license renewals.

Three programs, Business Real Estate, Business Management-Real Estate, and a certificate program, are designed to fill these needs.

The programs will assist in developing aptitudes and skills, supplying

Staffer Tells Enrollment Woes

By Michael Blakemore
Staff Writer

Well, once again most of us have managed to survive the time that has a tendency to try a man's soul, commonly known as registration. Anyone who has gone through this phase of education is almost sure to agree with me when I say that this is without a doubt, the most disgusting, disenchanting, disappointing and generally the most disorganized ceremony devised by one man to inflict pain and misery upon another.

Surely there must be a better way. The only real gripe I have is making out the class schedule. By the time you get through all the paperwork, trying to keep in mind those classes which have been closed, canceled or otherwise kidnapped by Gypsies, you end up being advised that three more of your classes have been done away with, and would you mind making out another schedule?

Everyone seems to consider the local college to be a citadel of higher education and logic. Why, oh why, oh why, then do some people show such lack of judgment and concern in setting up this farce? Since everything else is computerized, why can't we just pick up class tickets and drop them in a computer? A week or so later we will possibly get our approved programs in the mail.

Somebody, please hear a voice crying in the wilderness. Maybe there's even another side to the story. Is there? Huh?

SONGSTRESS—Barbara Kelley swings to the tune of "Bill Bailey" during Saturday night's Jazz Queen Pageant. Miss Kelley also sang "What the World Needs Now" to the accompaniment of the Cerritos jazz band.

Progress Bent

And on and on they went,
For progress they were bent,
Bent to find those imagined joys
That children's dreams conceive,
And machines are pregnant of.

But progress must, after all,
Complete the turn.
So when at last the end is seen
God is man,
And man machine.

Tomorrow God again is dead,
And machines must find their soul.
For so it is as always,
That progress must be fed.

Falcon Students Participate in Smoking Test

Approximately 1,000 Cerritos students participated in the National Smoking Test aired last Tuesday on CBS News, Channel 2.

Special answer sheets were distributed with instructions provided by the national television network, reports Joan Schutz, health-physical education and recreation division chairman, and a majority of the participants in the nationwide television test are smokers.

"The National Smoking Test" was similar to the National Drivers Test and the National Health Test also presented by CBS.

The show was divided into three segments. How you feel about smoking, consisting of statements by television viewers, smokers and non-smokers; What you know about smoking, a section involving true or false questions plus opinion-seeking inquiries; and Smoker's profile: Why you smoke, which will enable those taking the test to learn the motivations behind their smoking.

Winning Becomes Natural Way For Cerritos Wrestling Squads

Winning has become natural for the Cerritos Falcons' wrestlers, although it certainly is not taken for granted. Currently perched atop the state junior college wrestling ratings, the Falcons continue to keep themselves in top condition while future foes are frantically trying to find a way to unseat the Big Birds. The wrestlers are in the midst of a three-week layoff after establishing a new scoring record and capturing first place in the Cal Poly SLO Invitational Tournament on Jan. 6.

The Falcons have completely dominated all opponents as they have marched to a 7-0 record in dual meet competition this season. Most impressive of the victories have been first-place finishes in both the Palomar and Cal Poly tournaments. The record is as follows:

Score	Opponent
35-8	Pierce
42-5	Mt. SAC
35-0	Golden Wfst
39-0	Palomar
42-0	San Diego Mesa
1st Place	Palomar Tournament—18 Schools
1st Place	Cal Poly Tournament—47 Schools

The record speaks for itself. Only El Camino and Bakersfield appear to be able to challenge the Falcons in the Metro Conference. Cerritos will open the conference on Dec. 27 against L.A. Valley, following the final pre-season match against Fullerton here at Cerritos next Friday at 7:30 p.m.

VALLEY WIN PUTS FALCONS BACK ON TOP AS DISPUTED CALL CAUSES LOSS TO LBCC

The Cerritos Falcon cagers outlasted the tough LA Valley Monarchs 76-72 last Tuesday night, and in doing so regained a piece of the Metropolitan Conference lead.

The "must" win for the Falcons was led by reserves Jim Boyd, John Van Vleet, and Fred Zitar. All Three came off the bench to spark the Cerritos scoring attack, hitting 14, 11, and 8 points respectively.

Coach Killingsworth's hoopsters got off to a slow start and fell behind by about 8 or 9. But the pace quickened and the Falcons held the lead most of the half, until Valley caught them and led at intermission 37-36.

Coming out of the locker room charged up, the Falcons jumped to a five point lead and carried it until the final minute of the game. Valley then cut the lead to one point, and was forced to get the ball with time running out.

INTENTIONAL FOUL
The Monarchs used the intentional foul, but failed in their strategy as the Cerritos free throw marksmen made the charity losses and the game ended.

Chief Cerritos scoring threat Paul Ruffner sat on the bench most of the game in foul trouble. Guards Lee Mansell and Tony Rodriguez picked up the slack for the Falcon center as they each collected 13 points.

Last Friday night the Cerritos basketball machine traveled to Long Beach City College undefeated. They returned home with their first conference loss and a protest filed with the Metropolitan Conference commissioner William W. Russell.

The protest will be lodged concerning an alleged "illegal jersey" decision in last Tuesday's game.

The call involved Cerritos forward Jim Lefler, whose jersey number is 3. Following a complaint from Viking coach Chuck Kane in the first half that the number was illegal, the officials ruled that it was so.

TECHNICAL FOUL
The officials called a technical foul on Lefler and Jim had to change jerseys with number 51 Don Marshall.

Due to Falcon coach Killingsworth's objections, a latter check of the rules proved that the ruling was incorrect. The mistake was not rectified, and the Falcons lodged a protest.

Poor officiating was not limited to this jersey call. Officials Elmer Ammons and Forrest Dillon also combined to call 55 fouls in the contest.

LBCC scoring was led by Gary Zeller, who helped the Falcons about as much as the officiating. Zeller poured in 34 points in leading the Vikes and all others in that department.

The game was marked by hot and cold streaks where one team would take the lead only to relinquish it to the other moments later.

FOUL TROUBLE

Falcon scoring leaders Paul Ruffner and Lee Mansell hit 24 and 21 buckets respectively despite sitting out portions of the game in foul trouble. Mansell hit 7 of 9 from the floor and 7 of 9 from the free throw line. Ruffner led rebounders with 16.

The see-saw contest was tied at halftime 37-37 after the Vikings came from behind to catch the Falcons. The second half was almost the same story. The Vikings fought from behind in the final minutes to grab the lead.

Sports Editor:

I am writing this letter to Talon Marks in the hopes that it will be published so that all of the students of the ASCC will have an opportunity to read the communication.

During the 1967 football season I had the extreme pleasure of being the president of the Cerritos Bench. On behalf of the Cerritos Bench I wish to express our appreciation to Jack Wheaton and the Marching Band and to commend them on the many fine performances they gave for the benefit of the students and the general public at the football games.

We would also like to recognize Joan Schutz and the Falconettes for their fine presentations. The yell leaders and song leaders, a traditional part of football, are also to be congratulated on their efforts. Each year the Cerritos football "how" continues to be more and more attractive.

It is a pleasure for us, as a booster group, to have been fortunate in being associated with such a fine institution. Our relationship with Cerritos College, including Dr. Jack Mears and the Administration, has been one of complete cooperation which has resulted in a great deal of enthusiasm from our organization.

In closing, I would certainly be remiss if I did not once again congratulate the Veterans Club for their contribution to the annual Bar-B-Que.

Right now we are all enjoying basketball and wrestling and are looking forward to the spring sports.

Sincerely yours,
John Weaver,
Bench President
