Students Rip Faculty In College Bowl Game

The first question concerning a description of the Missouri River as it leaves Montana and is fed by the Yellowstone, Cheyenne and North Platte Rivers was only half read when student college bowl team captain Richard Locicero pressed his buzzer and fired out the correct answer.

With the first ten points of the game, the Cerritos College Bowl team continued its unbeaten ways as it soundly defeated the Faculty All-Stars by a score of 221-95 in the quad Tuesday morning.

The student team was seeking and gained revenge for the loss the faculty dealt an earlier student team last December in a game for fun to instill interest in the young program. Locicero led the assault on the faculty by answering more questions than any other of the participants. He was competently backed up by Stan Noteboom, Bob Frisbee, Bruce Brown, and John Wallick.

The faculty team of Dr. Henry Childs, Richard Robinson, Ron Taber, and Wendell Hanks were somewhat startled by the aggressive play of the students. However, the student squad took the victory with the same confidence and ease they have shown in their last two contests.

The Cerritos squad will be tested on April 20 at the Cactus Bowl Tournament at Barstow College. All Junior Colleges in California have been invited to attend, and the winner of the tournament will be the undisputed state College Bowl champ.

The competition is patterned after that of the national television program, stressing quick recall of specific facts. The two teams battle to answer a toss-up question to earn the right for a shot at a bonus question and 20-30 points.

Cerritos is planning to take two full teams into competition at Barstow, and openings are still available, according to the program's sponsor, Russell Storkan. The college Bowl program at Cerritos is planning on-campus contests, such as the one with the faculty, to find the most able members to represent the college.

AGS Members Attend Confab

Alpha Gamma Sigma, national junior college honorary scholastic society, has returned from a two-day AGS State Convention. The conference, held in Monte Corona, included more than 400 students representing 50 junior colleges throughout the state. The annual convention was hosted by Ventura College.

Delegates representing Cerritos included chapter President Bill Valle and advisers Paul Denny and Ricardo Walther. Also attending were chapter members Maureen Oyama, Judy Bernell, Bob Browne, Burnadette Brown, Becky Conrad, Edwina Menfee, Carol Epperlay, Mark Dirkse, Louise Benesma, Wendy Stewart, Sue Hickman, Everett Foss, Pat Dodero, Jeff Stein, Eufonia Snyder, Marc Sturdivant and Marilyn Moeller.

Bill Valle served as chairman of the Presidents' Workshops while Marc Sturdivant served as chairman of the Fine Arts Workshop. Four different workshops were included in the conference stressing the effects of technology on people, science, business and fine arts.

A general assembly was conducted for resolutions, amendments and recommendations. Valle led the fight against an amendment to lower grade standards for membership in AGS. The measure was defeated. Valle was also responsible for the passing of a resolution calling for financial support.

Keynote speaker for the Friday evening session was the noted television and radio personality, Rabbi Kramer who discussed the morality of today's youth as opposed to their parents.

FOR YUNG WOON CHOI

Circle K to Sponsor Cerritos' First Slave Auction April 17

First slave sale ever held at Cerritos will commence in the Quad on April 17 when members of campus organizations offer their services for charity. Gary Jones, president of Circle K, has stated the money obtained from the service club sponsored event will be donated to the annual Yung Woon Choi drive.

Slaves will be sold by tentative auctioneer John Buckle, who will not recognize any minimum or maximum price requirements. Slaves will be representative of their respective organizations with 80 per cent of the donations received being accredited to their club's individual Yung Woon Choi campaign. Circle K, as the sponsor, will accredit their Yung Woon

Choi account with the remaining percentage.

Charles Hatfield, director of the sale, has announced rules which will be applicable to the slave and owner.

1. No slave can be taken off campus by their owner.

2. No slave can be forced by their master to do anything "off color", illegal, or detrimental in any way to the enslaved.

3. A slave may purchase another slave, but the second slave cannot be required to perform those tasks assigned to the first slave by the latter's master.

4. Any person or any slave can purchase any number of slaves of either sex.

5. No slave may be required by their master to cut any class during the enslavement period.

The enslavement period is scheduled for Thursday, April 18, the day after the sale. It will begin at 8 a.m. and will cease at 4 p.m. the same day.

Yung Woon Choi has been a perennial project of college's Intra Club Council since 1962. The 14 year old Korean lives with his mother, a tuberculosis victim, who is unable to work regularly.

Cerritos makes available a gift of $180 a year, providing Choi with schooling and necessary clothing. Seasonal gifts and birthday presents are also sent.

This year the Yung Woon Choi program has been expanded in order to provide the money needed to bring the fatherless boy to the United States and eventually to Cerritos itself. This semester, various clubs and organizations will be conducting pie eating contests, a kite flying exhibition, dances, and a lug-a-chug to further help.

Council Forced To Take Action Against Clubs

After repeated warnings, the Executive Inter-Club Council took action against those organizations which have failed to turn in the necessary material to remain on campus. In a meeting Thursday morning, the Council declared 17 campus clubs defunct, ineligible to hold any on-campus activities or meetings, and unable to wear club jackets and sweatshirts.

Among those organizations now considered off-campus are some of the most active clubs on campus, including Sigma Phi, Delta Phi Omega, and Veterans' Club.

Each club on campus has been notified at least four times in recent weeks that action would be taken if rosters and organization sheets were not turned in, according to ICC Commissioner Margaret Saito. All clubs are required to have these papers on file by the fifth week of each semester.

Considering the drastic move, the Council voted to give these organizations two more opportunities to file a petition to be reinstated before being considered permanently defunct. Although it is now a regularly scheduled club day, the Council will allow clubs to meet on Tuesday following Spring vacation to fulfill the necessary requirements. The following day the Council will hold a special meeting in the Office of Student Affairs to hear petitions to be reinstated. Another special meeting will be held the following Wednesday to hear pleas from organizations that were unable to fulfill all requirements on the short notice.

The three Greek organizations now off-campus, Sigma Phi, Delta Phi Omega, and Delta Chi Omega, must file their petitions by the first special meeting to be eligible to participate in Greek Night, the major activity of the semester for sororities and fraternities.

The 17 clubs no longer considered active on campus are Delta Phi Omega, Sigma Phi, ASTME, Behavioral Science, Dorians, Edelweiss, History Club, Kappa Theta Phi, Phi Rho Pi, PNO, Radio Electronics, Vets, Tau Rho Beta, Shutterbugs, CRA, Ski Club, and Delta Chi Omega.

Tickets For Death Now On Sale, 5 April Performances Slated

Rehearsals continue according to schedule for "The Death of Satan", first production of the spring semester by the Cerritos Theater Arts Department.

Tickets are now on sale at the Box Office in the Student Center for the production which will open Tuesday, April 23, and run for five performances through Saturday night, April 27.

Tickets are $1 for general admission. Students with ASCC cards may purchase tickets for $50. The performances will begin each evening at 8 p.m. in the Burnight Center Theater.

Paul Laramore of Norwalk stars in the production, along with Jeff Hathcock of Downey. Laramore plays Don Juan and Hathcock portrays Satan. Female leads in the play include Jan Rydall as Evelyn and Barbara Sprague as Marcia. Jan is a resident of Hawaiian Gardens while Barbara resides in Norwalk.

Mark Abel of Norwalk plays two roles, George Bernard Shaw and Lionel. Chris Smith of Norwalk portrays Tony, in addition to his duties as State Manager.

Other members of the cast include Michael Greene (Norwalk) as Oscar Wilde, David Hynes (Norwalk) as Lord Byron, Mel Ching (Bellflower) as Catalin and Jerry Harberner (Paramount) as the Bishop.

Lady Moreton is played by Mary Ann Monro of Hawaiian Gardens. Henrietta is played by Donna Brass, and Barbara Swensid portrays the Receptionist.

Larry Hodman of Bellflower and Saul Cortez of Norwalk play the Waiters in the production while Chris Cochens of Paramount and Scott Hutchinson of Downey are the Musicians.

The play, written by Ronald Duncan, is predicated on the idea that no longer is anything in the world considered sinful, and therefore the Devil is dead.

The Cerritos production of "The Death of Satan" will be only the second time the play has been performed in the United States. It has received rave notices in London and off Broadway.

PAUL LARAMORE and Barbara Sprague "warm up" for "The Death of Satan," which opens Tuesday evening, April 23. The play is scheduled for five performances, running through Saturday, April 27. Performances will begin at 8 p.m. each evening in the Burnight Center Theater, and tickets are now on sale at the Box Office in the Student Center. (Photo by Dave Hart)

Choral Music Festival Scheduled for Apr. 18

Inspirational music is the theme of the Cerritos College sixth annual choral music festival directed by Mr. Stan Porter in Burnight Center, Thursday, April 18 at 8 p.m.

The program is being dedicated to the memory of Mr. Jack Brock, late director at La Mirada high school. Brock passed away recently of a heart attack.

"He was a fine musician, a real gentleman and a good friend of music," said Stan Porter, of the late Brock.

Brock had participated in the festival since its conception.

Two main reasons for starting the festival is to encourage the singing of great inspirational music and to provide an opportunity for the local high school choirs to appear on campus and become familiar with it.

Director of choral music at Chapman college, William Hall, will be the guest conductor for the combined numbers of all the choirs.

High schools to sing at the festival are chosen by a student selection committee. Each school submits a tape of its choir and the participating schools are selected on the basis of the tape.

The program begins in the afternoon with combined rehearsals of all the groups with the guest conductor. All the choral groups in the festival will then attend a banquet in the Student Center.

The evening program, at 8 p.m. is $1 or general admission and 50c for students.

Directed by Stan Porter, general chairman of the festival, the Cerritos College Choir will sing: "Jubilate Deo," by Di Lasso; "Laudate Dominum," by Mozart with a soprano solo by Linda Kennedy; "Sing Praises," by Lloyd Pfautsch.

Combined numbers, directed by William Hall, guest conductor, will be: "With a Voice of Singing," by Kenneth Jennings; "Schaffe in Mir, Gott, Ein Rein Herz" (Create in me O God a Pure Heart), by Brahms; "The Cherubic Hymn," by Tchaikovsky; "An American Hymn," with a brass ensemble, by Cecil Effinger.

Community Invited To Easter Service

YMCA, Cerritos College will present its second annual Easter Sunrise Service at 6 A.M. in the football stadium.

Open to the public, the free program will be directed by Stan Porter of C.C.

Speaker of the service will be Rev. Bill Abersold, minister of Bellflower Methodist Church.

Participating choirs are: The Concert Choir of Cerritos, and the Collegium Choir.

Thanks A Lot

Last semester some well intending, but obviously naive, students came up with the proposal that all persons using the coffee shop bus their own trays and paper plate and cups. We even endorsed the suggestion.

As with most suggestions that involve a little effort and courtesy, this one also went ignored. Each time we walk into the coffee shop we find it necessary to clear a table of all sorts of rubbish. If this weren't bad enough, the ashtrays are filled with salt, pepper, milk, and softdrinks, while the ashes are all over the table.

The condition of the tables is appalling enough without the latest unsightly and unsanitary problem facing students. The counter in the center of the coffee shop where the mustard, relish, onions, and catsup is kept is becoming increasingly littered with the remains of previous visitors. By the afternoon much of this rubbish has found its way into the containers, while the contents of the containers is all over the counter. The place deserves a sign: "Untouched by human hands."

We doubt that we have inspired anyone to do something about the situation, but we'd just like the opportunity to let the few that persist in spoiling things for the many know what we think of them. You make us sick.

Greetings and salutations of the day. Smedley Jones, my analyst, recently told me that I should take up a cause. I, for my faithful servant, suggested underprivileged, persecuted, minority groups. Without much thought, I found the most underprivileged, persecuted, publicized, and discriminating minority group, in the country. This isn't intended to be sacrilegious nor implicate any particular man. And so I give you my comment on this controversial scene, The Millionaire's Psalm:

Here 'N' There

By ROCKY DIAZ

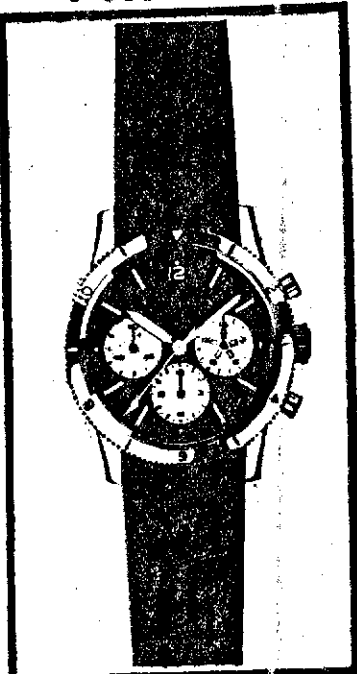

I really think that this week would be a good time to write about something interesting. I'm not promising anything but, I'll give anything a try once, maybe twice if I like it. I've been subjected to the senseless mutterings of our dear student body president this week. He's been rambling about how the time was right for Berry Goldwater to jump into the presidential race. Eric's even taken to recruiting volunteers in case Uncle Berry decides to run. If you'd really like to see an interesting example of Von Hurst humor go into his office and look at the letter enshrined on the far wall. It is concerned with erecting a statue to president Johnson.

Sometimes I just sit here and wonder what exactly I'm doing. I mean there are thousands of things that need to be written about. Why talk about Von Hurst when 3.5 students are drafted in mid-semester. Why don't people believe that was wrong. I mean no matter what you say it just isn't right to kill people. I think.

Why, that's a pretty good question. I'm not really in a mood to write. Actually I'm in a non-writing mood. That means I'm so anxious for Easter vacation to come my mind is bland. Oh well, four more inches and I can get going. I kinda think I'm going to get kidded about that last line.

Except for the fact that I saw

SQUAD GAINS SWEEPSTAKES AT TOURNEY

Things are really looking up for the CC forensic squad with the overwhelming victory they brought home last week-end, March 29 and 30, as they took sweepstakes at the PSCFA Individual Events tournament held at U.C.L.A. The falcons have already taken second in sweepstakes three times, but this is the first time they have come away with a first. Cerritos' final score was 35 points as compared to runners-up Riverside and LACC who only had 15.

Pacing the Falcons was Larry Spry, who took first place in extemporaneous speaking and picked up an excellent certificate in impromptu speaking. Jim Caforio also contributed largely to the total points with a second in Lincoln-Douglas debate and an excellent in impromptu speaking.

Other Cerritos placers were: Judy England, 3rd in oral interpretation; Bill Larson, 3rd in Lincoln-Douglas debate; Bill Wells, 4th in persuasive speaking. Dandy Lassiter and John Sooter also contributed to the win.

Coaches Bill Lewis and Ron Taber took pride in their speakers over the week-end, but stated that there was a lot of hard work for every one if the squad hoped to successfully defend its state and national titles of last year.

Coming up this weekend, April 5 and 6, the CC speech department will host 25 junior colleges, colleges, and universities from throughout the state in the second annual Cerritos Invitational Debate Tournament. There will be 75 teams from these 25 schools participating in the two-day tournament. Debates will begin at 3 p.m. of Friday and will continue until 10 p.m. that evening. Competition for Saturday will begin at 9 a.m. and last until 6 p.m. when the tournament champion is announced. Tournament headquarters will be located in the Social Science building and the public is invited to attend the event.

Virginia (l) and Frank (r) are:

A. Interviewing an African couple. B. Visiting a Nigerian University. C. Exchanging ideas with Nigerian University students.

Actually, Virginia Blount and Frank Ogden are doing all these things. As members of the 500-student World Campus Afloat, Chapman College, these two Arizona college students had the opportunity to talk with students at the University of Ife, Ibadan branch, Nigeria.

With the help of Nigerian students and professors, the Americans compared religions, art, anthropology, educational systems, economic developments, geography, drama, music, and dance of the two countries. This is the regular course work aboard Chapman's shipboard campus, the s.s. Ryndam.

Virginia and Frank transferred the credits they earned back to their home colleges, Arizona State University and Northern Arizona University, and are going on for their baccalaureate degrees. Chapman College is currently accepting enrollments for the 1968-1969 academic year with the World Campus Afloat program.

MYRA: Man or Woman?

Sex, Suicide Dominate List of Best Sellers

By JOAN DUNCAN
Staff Writer

Clues to the real reading interest of the public are supposedly given in bestselling books, but no one knows which books will become public favorites. In fact, your guess as to the bestseller is as good as any one else's.

An advance order of 500,000 books has the earmarks of a best seller, but few of these books are around long enough to become the steady selling, classical favorite.

The two top selling books of 1967 were Valley of the Dolls and The Adventurers. It would be interesting to note if in twenty years anyone will recall these two books or if they like so many other current bestsellers will fade into oblivion.

Two of the best selling all time books (other than the Bible which is number one) are Robert L. Stevenson's Treasure Island and Louisa M. Alcott's Little Women.

The following list is that of best sellers in the fiction category as listed in the New York Times.

1. The Confession of Nat Turner — Styron
2. Vanished — Knebel
3. Christy — Marshall
4. Topaz — Uris
5. The Tower of Babel — West
6. The Exhibitionist — Sutton
7. The Gabriel Hounds — Steward
8. Myra Breckinridge — Vidal
9. The President's Plane is Missing — Serling
10. Rosemary's Baby — Levin

The two books which have been chosen for review deal in the surprise ending or shocker. Rosemary's Baby has been listed for several weeks now while Myra Breckinridge is a recent addition to the list.

Democrat Club Schedules 2nd Campus Meeting

The Cerritos College Young Democrats will hold their second general meeting on Tuesday at 11 a.m. in room 313 of the Social Science Building. All students interested in aiding Democratic candidates for the office of the United States are invited to attend.

It is possible that campaign literature from both the Kennedy and McCarthy headquarters shall be available. Furthermore a workshop session on precinct work and on the stands taken by the leading candidates with respect to the major issues facing America shall be conducted.

Club Advisor Howard Taslitz stated that it was most gratifying to see some 40 students plus faculty members in attendance at the organization's first meeting on April 2. Taslitz emphasized that the membership roll is still open. He is of the opinion that "more and more students are becoming increasingly interested in the political whirlwind which the 1968 presidential election promises to be."

The Cerritos College Young Democrats are very anxious to provide interested students with an outlet for their enthusiasm in this crucial election year. "I am sure," said Taslitz, "that the students and faculty members who attended our first meeting shall welcome all new recruits in this task of electing a Democrat to the office of President of the United States."

FOIBLES &amp; FABLES

For the Birds

By AESOP Guest Writer

Once upon a time there was a group of birds who lived in a forest which they ran by a democracy. It was election time, and since there was a war going on between two neighboring forests, the birds listened very closely to the two candidates who were running for president.

One was an old dove who said that they could help the friendly forest somewhat, but that those birds would mainly have to fight their war by themselves. The other bird, a hawk, said they help their friends with all their might, and the war as quickly as possible, and then get out. Since birds rarely like to fight, they elected the dove.

But a very strange thing happened. The elected dove slowly but surely turned into a hawk. After a while he was a bigger hawk than the hawk he had defeated. This did not meet with anyone's approval because the people who thought they had voted for a dove had been fooled, and the people who had voted for the hawk thought they got their way much to late.

Since this was a democracy, a young eagle decided he would run for the presidency. He had a swell idea given to him by an old eagle who had used it when he had run for president. The young eagle said he would end the war! But since he didn't say how, the young eagle ended up looking like a turkey.

At the same time, a new dove appeared on the scene. Because he lived in a democracy, he figured he would run too. He called for peace and told the other birds exactly how he would go about getting it. He didn't have many birds listening to him at first, and for a while everyone thought he was a pigeon, but pretty soon his ideas caught on.

They caught on so well, in fact, that it seemed that he would be president for sure. But it didn't last.

Another bird, a cuckoo, knew that a democracy meant that anyone could run for president, so he also entered the race. Now as everyone knows, cuckoos lay their eggs in the

Sinawik—the Ladies Do Their Share, Too

Handling the ladies' share of the service projects on campus is Sinawik, the Women's Service Club.

Like their fellow organization, Circle K, Sinawik is sponsored by Kiwanis, which, by the way, is Sinawik spelled backwards. While the men are an International Organization, however, the ladies are in the process of going statewide.

Latest project on tap for the busy Sinawik members is an Easter Egg party for eight Indian families Sunday. The girls have donated food and candy to fill eight large Easter baskets for the Mission in Bell Gardens.

The party will be added to a growing list of projects for the organization. Also planned in the near future is a rummage sale, and a tentative fashion show is on tap.

Previous projects for the club included decorating and hosting at the Jazz Festival, distributing packages for the cancer drive, and Homecoming activities.

By far the biggest project undertaken by the club this year was the

Leroy Boys' Drive, however. The drive was officially chaired by immediate past president Jeannette Skinner, but "the whole club actually acted as chairman."

When the drive ended at the conclusion, Sinawik brought home the trophy for the largest contribution in money, and its contributions in time and effort are countless.

Interestingly, the girls edged out their fellow organization, Circle K, by a single penny in the Leroy's money tape contest, although Miss Skinner still hasn't convinced the men it was all on the up and up.

Currently, the club is operating under the guidance of President Judy Alcorn, vice president Margaret Saito, secretary Mary Kincaid, and Miss Skinner, treasurer. Mrs. Doris Senon serves as advisor.

Sinawik is also proud of its distinguished membership list, which includes two Gold Falcons and two Silver Falcons, although the club totals only 11 members.

Committee Restates Tuition Opposition

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, this week released the completed progress report of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Higher Education, which he chairs. The Committee, composed of five Senators and five Assemblymen, was established by the 1965 Legislature to conduct in depth studies of California's higher education system, and the effectiveness of its Master Plan for Higher Education, adopted in 1960.

The report restates the Committee's opposition to the establishment of tuition or greatly increased student charges at the University of California and the state colleges at the present time, and presents factual information which led the Committee to adopt its position.

The report also identifies several other matters which the Committee will focus upon in preparing its final report to the Legislature in 1969. These areas include student-aid, access to higher education for students from minority groups and low-income families, the possibility of state aid for private colleges and universities and the need for a complete restructuring of the public systems of higher education in California.

A major section of the report is nests of other birds to let them hatch. This cuckoo was no exception. He let the pigeon hatch the idea about doves, and when it became a popular idea, the cuckoo became a popular dove. In no time at all, he was the biggest dove around.

Then without warning, the old dove who had turned into a hawk, pulled a trick that bamboozled them all. He turned into the biggest dove anyone had seen in a long, long time. He even went so far as to say that he would not run for the presidency again, but would instead devote all his time to being a dove.

In other words: A dove who beat a hawk turned out to be a bigger hawk, thus forcing an eagle to become a turkey, and a pigeon to become a dove. The pigeon's popularity gave an idea to a cuckoo who turned into an even bigger dove than the pigeon. But they were all faked out by the dove-turned-hawk who turned out to be the biggest dove of all.

Moral: Democracy is pretty confusing.

Big Weekend on Tap for Falcon Nine

TALON MARKS SPORTS

Face East Los Angeles Today, Vikes Saturday in Key Games

It could be feast or famine for the Cerritos baseball squad this weekend, when the Metropolitan Conference title race could well be settled.

UNDER-RATED (?) • Cerritos catcher Don Gillett crosses home plate with a big run during action with El Camino this season. The sophomore backstop has been a key factor in the Falcons' success story this year, and his big bat is producing at well over a .300 clip. (Photo by Dan Rott)

Cerritos, weather permitting, will journey to East Los Angeles this afternoon, but the game of the day will be the titan battle between Bakersfield and Long Beach. Bakersfield currently leads the circuit with a 9-2 record, with both Cerritos and Long Beach a game back at 8-3.

A win for the Falcons, who have never lost to the Huskies, coupled with a Long Beach victory would throw the conference into a three-way tie—a tie that would be broken Saturday afternoon when Cerritos meets Long Beach on Falcon Field. With all three contenders involved in key games, it stands to reason that at least one squad will suffer in the Metro standings.

Ruffner Selected For Olympic Trials

Continuing his quest for a berth on the Olympic Basketball team, Cerritos College sophomore Paul Ruffner was named among the twelve players selected to make up the first Junior College Olympic Trials Basketball Team.

The 6'9" center joins five other west coast and six NJCAA hoopsters in making up the JC cage squad. The final twelve came out of twenty-four previously picked to tryout for the berths in Hutchinson, Kansas last week.

Joining Ruffner will be Sam Robinson and George Trapp of Pasadena City College, Lee Tolivar of San Jacinto, John Valley of Orange Coast, and Gary Zeller of Long Beach City.

The six selected from the NJCAA included Spencer Hayward of Trinidad, Colo.; Wayne Canaday of Vincennes, Ind.; John Johnson, of Northwest, Wyo.; Joe Hamilton of Christian College in Dallas; Oliver Taylor of San Jacinto, Tex.; and Dan Hester from Murray State in Okla.

The trials will be held this week in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Pasadena City College coach Jerry Tarkenton will join Dick Baldwin of Broome Tech as co-coach of the cage squad.

on the Warrior diamond last Friday afternoon, Cerritos had to sit back and watch both Bakersfield and Long Beach pick up ground with victories Saturday while Cerritos topped Golden West in a non-conference battle.

Tom Tanner was the man of the hour Friday, as his big bat carried Wayne Sinclair to his fourth conference victory for the Falcons. Sinclair was superb, allowing only a pair of second inning runs, and blanking the Warrior for the remainder of the game.

Tanner collected all three RBIs for the Falcons, accounting for the first Cerritos run with a double in the fourth, and coming back with the winning blow on another two-bagger in the sixth, chasing home a pair of runners.

Les Weyant and Steve Wilkerson also had big days at the plate, each collecting four base hits. Weyant's barrage came on the heels of an 0-for-6 performance last week, his worst game in a Falcon uniform. His four hits lifted him among the Metro leaders once again, however.

Golden West Bows
The Falcon seemed to go through the motions in handing Golden West a 2-0 setback in a non-conference encounter Saturday. Bob Sheehan, the middle man of a trio of Falcon pitchers picked up the win for Cerritos as the pitcher of record when the Falcons scored three times in the sixth.

The Falcons did most of their damage in the sixth inning after two outs. Joe Levy drew a walk to start the rally, but Merced Salinas appeared to end the inning with his ground ball to second.

Bob Elder kicked the ball, however, and both runners were safe, opening the gates. Rick Leavitt, pinch hitting for Sheehan, delivered a clutch single to left, scoring both Levy and Salinas to give the Falcons a 3-2 edge. Pat Miller added an insurance run with a bouncer up the middle to score Leavitt. Miller was subsequently thrown out at the plate after a single by Wilkerson.

A game with Santa Monica was rained out on Tuesday afternoon, and has been rescheduled for April 27. The Falcons will see action in the annual Holiday Tournament during Easter Week.

Spikers Edge Santa Monica 72-64; Continue Dominance Over Corsairs

The Falcon track squad continued their dominance over Santa Monica by defeating the Corsairs for the sixth time in a row, 72-64, last Friday on the Corsairs' home oval.

It wasn't as easy as it may sound for the Falcons as the lead changed hands many times throughout the meet and the score was tied twice. The meet went down to the mile relay, the last event of the day, "Winner take all".

New Dual Meet Records
Top performers of the meet were Chip Minnick, who earned 11 1/4 points for the Falcons, and Dick Carter.

Minnick won the mile run in the time of 4:23.9, and followed that with a new dual-meet record in the 880 of 1:53.8. The Falcon spike star also was the man responsible for bringing the baton across the tape in the mile relay. In the back stretch the Corsairs anchor man gave out with a burst of speed and tried to pass Minnick on the outside. But Chip met the challenge and forced his opponent to stay outside until he rounded the last turn and out sprinted the Corsair to the tape for the victory.

That stride for stride battle brought forth a 48.4 clocking for Minnick and a 3:19.4 clocking for the relay team which not only was their best time this season but was also another dual-meet record.

Dick Carter was the only other dual event winner with victories in the 100 (10.2) and 220 (22.6), adding 10 points to the Falcons' score.

The Falcons had a good day in the field events with a sweep in the pole vault by the trio of Kreis, Martinez and Loganbill. The Birds also swept the discus with the team of Coenen, McGill and McMath.

James Stone captured the shot put with a heave of 45'9 1/2".

Meet Here Today
At 2:30 today Cerritos will be visited by the East Los Angeles Huskies, listing one of their best teams in history. Last week they downed a strong Bakersfield team and have a 2-2 record, while the Falcons now carry a 2-3 mark.

A few close duals are on tap in the 880 and mile, where Minnick will be up against Art Martinez, a 4:15 miler and 1:53 880 runner.

Dick Carter will have his hands full in the sprints as the Huskies' Daniel Moore is 9.7 and 21.1 sprinter. E.L.A. also boasts a fast mile relay team, we'll see about that.

With the results in from last week's action, the outcome of the 1968 Metro Track Season is still undetermined. The race is wide open with Bakersfield, Long Beach and Valley listing 4-1 records followed by El Camino and E.L.A. with 2-2 records. Cerritos 2-3, Santa Monica 1-4 and Rio Hondo 0-4 round out the conference.

Splashers Frighten Valley, Lose 48-43

Coach Pat Tyne's swimming "characters" almost pulled off the upset of the season last Friday as Valley barely squeaked by Cerritos, 48-43.

Valley is undefeated this season and has defeated Long Beach and Santa Monica, both of whom defeated the Falcons handily in contests earlier this season.

It was difficult to select any particular standouts in the Falcon loss to the league-leading Monarchs, as the whole team turned in outstanding performances.

Cerritos captured five first-place and six second-place finishes during the afternoon and would probably have upset the Monarchs if they had only been able to field any contestants for the diving event. In fact, the outcome of the match was not decided until the final event of the day when Valley came from a 43-41 deficit to capture the 400-yard free style relay.

Cerritos opened the afternoon by finishing first in the 400-yard medley relay as Falcons Duncan Fane, Dan Struve, Jim Wheeler and Craig Vincent surprised the Monarchs.

Following this performance, Jack Robinson captured first place in the 200-yard free style in a time of 1:53.9, and Steve Davidson finished second for the Falcons.

Bob Shupp finished first in the 50-yard free style as he turned in a time of 22.3, and was followed by Robinson's 51.1 first-place time in the 100-yard free style.

The Falcons had another one-two finish as Davidson placed first in the 500-yard free style and was followed by Ron Morales.

Other Cerritos second-place finishers were Mike Pickup in the 200-yard individual medley; Bob Shupp in the 200-yard butterfly; and Pickup in the 200-yard backstroke.

This afternoon the Falcons close out their 1968 Metro season by hosting the Warriors of El Camino at 3 p.m.
