

Registration, Counseling Set For The Summer

Summer school will be held in three sessions at Cerritos this year. The courses are designed at the 13th and 14th grade level and are transferable to four year colleges and universities.

Vocational-technical courses prepare the student for immediate employment. General education classes provide academic, cultural and educational enrichment. Courses taken to make up high school deficiencies may be applied toward a high school diploma.

Students may be admitted to classes at Cerritos if they are high school graduates or 18 years of age or older, and residents of the college district. The program is available without charge or tuition. All students are expected to become members of the Associated Student Body. Charge for the summer session is $1.

A student may repeat a course in which a grade of D or F has been received. Credit will be allowed only once but the student will receive the new grade and grade points.

Each student will be assigned a counselor if necessary when he chooses his major. The counselor will assist him in planning his program and other matters affecting college progress.

The first six week session begins on June 17 and continues through July 26. The eight week session also begins on the 17th and will continue until August 9. Registration for continuing students will be held on June 5 and 6 from 1 p.m. until 9 p.m. and June 7 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Administration Building. Registration for all students will be held June 10-12 from 1 p.m.-9 p.m. Students must have an appointment card to register. The last day for registration is June 17.

Contest Offers Staff Position At GOP Confab

College campuses throughout Los Angeles County will be participating in a contest being conducted by Republican Associates to select a college student to accompany the California Republican Delegation to the Republican National Convention as a staff assistant.

The winner will travel with the delegation and will be assigned a non-salaried working staff position for the time he is in Miami Beach. Responsibilities may involve working at the Convention on the "floor" or at the Convention Headquarters at the Fontainebleau Hotel.

Contestants will be judged on the originality of a 100 word essay they submit on "What I Expect to Gain from Attending the Republican National Convention in 1968," their college academic record, campus and community activities, personal appearance and references.

It is the hopes of Knox Bourne, president of Republican Associates, that the contest will lead to further involvement of college students in Party activities.

Students between the ages of 19 and 25 and who are enrolled in one of the public or private colleges, junior colleges or universities in Los Angeles County are eligible to enter.

NEXT SUNDAY

400 Students To Participate In Graduation Ceremonies

Over seven hundred students will graduate from Cerritos next Sunday and four hundred of them will be participating in the exercises.

Dr. Harlan C. Stamm, Dean of Academic Affairs, is the chairman of the Commencement Committee. The rest of the committee consists of Dr. Bruce Browning, Vice-President of Academic Affairs; Amy Dozier, Dean of Women; Olive Scott, Department Chairman, Cosmetology; Helen Wegener, Instructor, Humanities; John Zimmerman, Director of Maintenance, Operations and Transportation; Gladys Balzar, Bookstore Manager; and Eric Von Hurst, Student Government.

Jack Black, chairman of the Business Division, heads the Marshals. Dr. Henry Childs, Chairman Life Science Division; Dr. Elwyn Saferte, Dean of Academic Affairs; Don Siriani, Dean of Academic Affairs complete the list of Marshals.

The program begins with three pieces played by the Cerritos Concert Band led by Jack Wheaton.

The most colorful part of the commencement exercises will be the academic procession, the opening part of the time-honored and traditional ceremonies. The procession includes all of the participants of the exercises, the graduating class, faculty, Board of trustees, and participating guests.

Cerritos faculty, including instructors, counselors, and administrative staff, along with its Trustees and the program guests, wear gowns indicative of the academic degrees.

The candidates for the degree of Associate in Arts wear the solid black gown marked with no hood or color. Members of the graduating class that have received a grade point average of 3.30 and above wear silver tassels on their caps and silver cords around their shoulders. Members of the class receiving Certificates of Achievement wear white caps and gowns or the uniform of the field.

Faculty gowns are divided into three groups, dependent upon the degree of the wearer. The bachelor's gown, which is also worn by the candidates for the Associate in Arts degree, is made of a black worsted material with long, point sleeves, with the front closed at the neck. The master's gown is either black silk or wool and has a long closed sleeve with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and slit at arm's length. The gown may be worn open or closed. The doctorate gown is black silk with full, round open sleeves.

The color of the velvet is unusually black.

Graduates that achieved a 3.3 to 3.69 grade point average will graduate with honors. Those receiving a 3.70 or 4.0 will graduate with highest honors.

The Pledge of Allegiance will be led by Henry F. Korsmeier, Cerritos Business Manager. Dr. Jack W. Mears, Cerritos President, will introduce Howard Taslitz, the speaker. Taslitz will give a speech entitled "The Uses of History." He was recommended by the Student Senate.

Dr. Bruce C. Browning, Vice-President of Academic Affairs will present the graduates along with William A. Keim, Administrative Dean of Community Services. Dr. Mears and Dr. Leon Richards will present the diplomas and certificates with John Nordbak.

Dr. Ralph Burnight, President Emeritus, Cerritos will lead the Benediction.

Bower Wins Top Post On Campus Newspaper

By NANCY RAMIREZ
Managing Editor

"I'm looking forward with great anticipation to a successful and productive year for Talon Marks in 1968-69," remarked Mike Bower, newly elected Talon Marks Executive Editor.

Announcement of the top position on the Talon Marks staff was made Friday, May 17, during the awards portion of the first annual Cerritos College Journalism Day of which Bower was both organizer and chairman. The position is the result of a vote by fellow staff members.

Hard Act

"I have a hard act to follow having spent this past year under Dan Armstrong. Dan is one of the best journalists to come out of Cerritos College and improving upon his paper will be difficult," stated the new executive editor airing his views on Talon Marks' future.

Under the editorship of Armstrong, Talon Marks captured a total of 16 awards; of which Bower was responsible for seven.

Bower, a resident of Norwalk, has served for the past year as Sports Editor of Talon Marks. As an incoming freshman at the start of the fall semester, he literally walked into the position. After only one day on the staff he was immediately promoted to the post of Sports Editor.

No Misgivings

The staff has yet to regret its decision, for in the evaluation of Talon Marks at the State Conference for the Journalism Association of Junior Colleges held April in Palo Alto, the sports section was rated the strongest part of the newspaper and superior to all other junior college sports sections. At this same conference Bower was also elected president of the JAJC student section for 1969.

Mike has also been elected president of Beta Phi Gamma (Cerritos chapter Beta Sigma) the National Journalism Honor Society. Assisting him will be Nancy Ramirez, vice president, and Linda Hurt, secretary and treasurer.

Bower Power

Besides the countless honors achieved in journalism, the Bower power has spread in various other directions within the campus. Bower was recently seated for a second term on the Senate. In the election held Friday, May 17, he managed to pick up the third highest number of votes.

Member Reviews First College Bowl Season

Cerritos Completes Flawless 1st Season with Triumph over Cypress

By MARC STIRDIVANT
Guest Writer

One word sums up the season for this year's Cerritos College Bowl Team, "WOW!"

Formed early this semester through the efforts of Alpha Gamma Sigma president Bill Valle and faculty advisor Russell Storkan, the team played ten contests over a five month period and lost none of them. They racked up a season total of 2762 points while limiting their opposition to barely over 1000. They won the Cactus Bowl Tournament at Barstow College and claimed the title of the "Number One College Bowl Team in California."

Captained by Richard Lo Cicero, the team includes Marc Stirdivant, Stan Noteboom, Steve Alvis, Bruce Brown, and Bob Frisbee.

They got off to a shaky start against previously undefeated Mt. San Antonio College. The Falcons won the match by the score of 266 to 140, coming from behind in the final minutes. Advisor Russell Storkan later explained the poor showing. "We were extremely nervous in our first match before the home crowd. In our later contests when the members felt more at ease they played much better and consequently scored much higher."

The second contest proved Storkan to be correct when Cerritos again defeated Mt. SAC by the convincing score of 540 to 210, their team high for the season.

Another of the year's highlights was the victory over the faculty team of Henry Childs, Wendell Hanks, Ron Tabor and Richard Robinson. The students, out for revenge, trounced their instructors 221 to 195.

At the Cactus Bowl tournament, Cerritos had its finest day of competition. They defeated Barstow by scores of 195 to 0, and 380 to 170; Antelope Valley College by 390 to 60; and Mt. San Antonio by 195 to 35. Team captain Lo Cicero won the David White award for outstanding individual achievement.

In recent weeks the Falcons defeated rival Long Beach 150 to 115 in a contest at Cerritos. In their final game against Cypress College, the team climaxed their tremendous season with a resounding 300 to 80 victory.

Storkan summed up the year for the team. "We were really very surprised to do so well in our initial year. Our team worked hard and well together and in the final games winning became a very pleasant habit. However, next year is another season and some of our top players will be leaving. We'll be looking forward to having new students try out for the team. Right now we're kind of proud of our champion team and the recognition they brought to Cerritos."

Welders Win First Place

Two Cerritos students recently participated in a competition held by the American Welding Society and came up with first place awards.

Welders Mike Baray and Ruben Ortega participated with students from Fullerton, Long Beach, and El Camino colleges.

Areas in which Baray competed were general welding, fabrication arc welding and oxy-acetylene welding. He received a cash award of $40.

Ortega participated in five areas including oxy-acetylene welding, cast iron welding, oxy-acetylene cutting, cutting and beveling pipe, and welding pipe in a fixed position. He won a $20 cash award.

Both students won perpetual trophies and student membership in the American Welding Society. Awards will be presented at a banquet on June 10.

Cerritos has entered the society's competition four times in the past five years and has won first place three times.

TALON MARKS

Editorial

1967-68 In Review

As the year rapidly comes to a close, Talon Marks feels it proper to recall some of the highlights of the "Year of the Falcon."

Eric von Hurst brought mature, quiet, efficient Student Government leadership with his administration. While it brought a sigh of relief from Administrators, those students who found last year's continuous battle exciting were dissatisfied. Indeed, on occasion, we feel that Student Government did need a shot in the arm, but for the most part, the stable student body leadership did much to heal old wounds and form a firm student-faculty, student-administration relationship—a relationship that possibly the administration and faculty should try to attain with each other.

Among the major accomplishments of the von Hurst administration were the new food services improvements (we hope they continue), the satellite snack bar, the Bench-ASCC bar-b-que, Sergio Mendes, the Falcon Statue, and the seating of the ASCC president on the Board of Trustees.

We judge the biggest disappointment of the year lies in one of von Hurst's 1967 campaign promises. Apathy is almost unheard of on college campuses throughout the nation. Von Hurst promised to fight against the apathy at Cerritos, but found the battle a losing cause. At the last ASCC election a little over 700 or 4,500 eligible students bothered to take five minutes to vote. The average Cerritos student just doesn't care.

Academically the Forensics squad and College Bowl team stole the show. Forensics shocked even its advisors by bringing home first the California title and then the national championship. In its initial season the Cerritos College Bowl team romped over all comers to take the Southern California title.

The Music Dept enjoyed its usual fine year, topped by the ever-popular Jazz Festival.

Athletically, the basketball team made up for a dismal football season and a near-miss by the baseball team by downing Pasadena for the California championship.

It's been a good year—a typical Cerritos year. If those 3,800 who stayed away from the polls two weeks ago only realized how good they have it.

Gualtiere Thanks ASCC Students For Their Support

The new ASCC President, Monte Gualtiere, has requested that Talon Marks convey his sincere appreciation of all those Cerritos students who supported and voted for him in the recent student body elections. Gualtiere and vice president, Richard Rice, defeated their opposition of Steve Alvis and John Buckle by a near 2-1 margin.

"Communications with the student is just one of our goals to be met during next year's administration," said Gualtiere. "We plan to let the student know what is going on in student government and give them (the students) a chance to express their views," he further stated.

...Village Idiot...

By STEVE ALVIS
Guest Writer

Editor's Note—Last week's Village Idiot brought cries of sour grapes to both the staff of Talon Marks and VI author Steve Alvis. Offering no apologies, we feel it worthy, however, to mention that the column was written the week before the election and due to the Editor's discretion was not printed in the last issue of T.M.

Greetings and salutations of the day. I asked a man recently why he used drugs. He said he was seeking spiritual enlightenment and he was positive that the only way to reach it was with LSD-25. He told me that all the Hebrew prophets and even Jesus were users of hashish or other more powerful hallucinogens. Dr. Leary, he explained, is pioneering a brave, new world of universal brotherhood through his fight to legalize drugs.

One fellow said that he had been to Morocco where most of the people are on psychedelic drugs and they were apathetic vegetables; the gutter cases were nauseating to see.

I wanted to know where in the Bible it said that Isaiah was on the weed, but he said that it was so commonplace that they didn't bother to write it down.

Thinking pragmatically, I asked about the philosophic and religious contributions of the dropout generation as compared to Socrates who merely meditated. He replied that Socrates was on the stuff too and that any understanding of religion was impossible until you've tripped-out. I said that all the drug-users I know are out for kicks and could care less about the concept of the Universe or the fallen state of man. He admitted some people misuse the gift. But then he said don't knock it until you've tried it. I wonder if that applies to cyanide.

The fact that the mental hospitals are filling up with his in-crowd didn't seem to bother him; he was going to find himself through chemo-ecstasy, someday.

I wonder what we're going to do with all these sick people. And if the scientists are right about gene distortion, I wonder what their mutant children and grandchildren will do.

DAN ARMSTRONG

Thanks, Everyone

I never really thought I'd write a column a la Rocky Diaz, but I've got a few things I want to say, and for the first time I'm going to take advantage of my position to say them.

Since I'm about to imitate his imitable style, I'll start with Rocky—not because he's the most important, but then again maybe he is. Rocky is my self-appointed guardian angel of sorts. He takes it upon himself to take some of the wind out of my sails when he deems it necessary. And I guess usually he's right.

At this point I think it fitting to turn to Vickie Valdez, probably the closest thing to an angel I'll ever see. It's Vic who builds up my ego when Rocky's through. She's the person who offered her shoulder when I needed one to cry on, especially one Sunday evening. Thanks, Vic.

Wally Kincaid will probably never read this, but I want to say it anyway. If I ever had an idol, I guess he's it. I think every student on this campus could improve himself by knowing him, and I hope that one day I can teach my son the same ideals he's taught 11 years of Cerritos baseball players.

I want to thank Phillip L. Forthun (the L in the middle stands for Lafayette) for all he's done for me in the last two years. He leaves Cerritos next year, his body stained by the bitter grapes he's been pelted with during his short stay.

At this point I'd like to say Hi to Russ Leach, who knows what else grapes are good for.

While I'm thanking people, I'd like to express my appreciation to Richard Robinson, Amy Dozier, Don Siriani, Dr. Bruce Browning, and Vince Bradley for their countless contributions to a young man's education.

A special note of thanks goes to Jeanette Skinner probably the one person I know who wouldn't rap a guy behind his back and not say the same thing to his face. Jeannie and I haven't always agreed, but she always put her cards on the table. There's not a person on this campus I respect more.

I'm glad I got to know Monte Gualtiere, Eric Von Hurst, and Marc Sturdivant during the past few years. I believe knowing each one of them has helped to make me a better person. On the subject of Monte, I owe an apology to his charming wife, Donna, Vickie, Becky Stock and Pat Frederick for reasons I hope remain a relative secret.

I guess I'll close up with a fine person and a valued friend, Mike Bower. He's going to be editor next year, and ASCC Senator, and president of Beta Phi Gamma, and State JAJC president, and a member of Circle K and God knows what else. When Mike got here this year, I tried to help him, to show him the ropes. But Mike's already advanced far beyond my first year's accomplishments and I'm sure he'll go on to top everything I've been fortunate enough to achieve here. Just one more piece of advice to you, Mike—they say milk is real good for ulcers.

I wish I had the space, the ability, and the words to thank everybody I'd like to. I'd like to tell you about the infamous Charlie Hatfield, Larry Wolf, Pat Schroeder, Mary Monahan, Rhonda and Barbara, Ron Smith, Ken Metzger, Gary Jones, Nancy Ramirez and especially Sweet Sue Buckley, and a hundred others. But I can't so I'll just quit writing.

It was a tough fight, Glad I won. Hello, mom.

NO DOZ ANNOUNCES THE EXAM PILL

(If you flunk, at least you'll be awake.)

Sure you've used NoDoz to help you stay awake the night before an exam.

But have you ever thought of taking NoDoz to make yourself a little sharper during the exam itself?

Well, maybe you should.

Let's say you're one of those guys who doesn't have to cram like mad the night before. (Even so, you're probably not getting your usual amount of sleep.)

And let's say the morning of the big exam, you find yourself heading for class, kind of drowsy and unwound and wondering if The Great Brain has deserted you in the night.

What do you do?

You panic, that's what you do.

Or, if you happened to read this ad, you walk coolly over to the water cooler and wash down a couple of NoDoz, the Exam Pill. And before long you're feeling more alert and with it again.

You see, NoDoz helps bring you up to your usual level of alertness, so you don't just sit there in a fog; it's got what it takes to help restore your perception, your recall, and even your ability to solve problems.

In fact, NoDoz contains the strongest stimulant for your mind that you can take without a prescription. Yet it's not habit forming.

Okay, but what about the guy who goes off all term and has to jam everything in the night before.

Are we saying NoDoz will keep him from flaming out?

Nope.

We're just saying he'll be alert and awake.

As he flunks.

Ward Off Those Finals Blues; Try A Different Study Method

By FRANK KLEEN
Staff Writer

Two or three weeks prior to the end of every semester a noticeable personality change occurs in a large segment of the student population. An ominous sense of impending doom clouds the countenances of these poor souls as they contemplate the onslaught of that most gruesome of educational ordeals, final exams.

Although many reasons are cited for this cyclic mental collapse among college students, the main cause appears to be lack of adequate preparation. Therefore, in an attempt to eliminate bloodshot eyes, sleepless nights and shattered nervous systems the following survey of study methods is presented as a public service.

The Drinking Man's Study Method—In this method the student locates himself in a quiet place, memorizes each necessary bit of information and then downs a shot of anything he desires, thus insuring that the information is indelibly imprinted upon his memory. The subscriber to this method is guaranteed no sleepless nights (or days for that matter), but he may still have trouble with bloodshot eyes.

The Television Study Method—The object of this method is to study for final exams and still not miss all the reruns on the tube. This is accomplished by training one eye upon the screen while the other scans the study material. This is a very popular method, even though it has been known to result in double vision.

The IRO Study Method—This method is considered somewhat archaic by most experts, but it is in use nonetheless, mainly in emergencies. In the IRO method, the student places his course material beneath his mattress and during the night absorbs the necessary information through a process of inverse, reverse osmosis (thus the name). The scientific validity of this method is somewhat questionable.

The Sun and Surf Study Method—A relatively new concept, the Sun and Surf study method developed with the advent of the surfboard. In this method, one simply writes his study on his surfboard and studies it as he waits for the big ones outside. Surf conditions will greatly influence the amount of work accomplished. An interesting offshoot of this method was a case in which a student tattooed chemistry formulas on his steady's body and then took her to the beach for a bout of vigorous study. His missed his final, however, due to complications with the beach police.

The SQ4R Study Method—When using this method, the student first surveys the study material, secondly formulates pertinent questions, then reads the material, recites important information and later reviews the material. The fourth R is regurgitate, since by the time he has gone through the first five steps, the student is physically ill.

The Study With Your Girl Friend (or boy friend, as the case may be) Method—When using this method, which is by far the most popular, the student secludes himself in a quiet place with the companion of the opposite gender of his choice and proceeds to study in fashion that is mutually agreeable. Spectacular results have been achieved with this method, but they have not always been in the field of academic excellence. Protracted concentration on study material is very difficult with this method.

It is hoped that this survey of study methods will in some way aid the poor unfortunates who have only bleak prospects for finals week. It should also be pointed out that a movement is afoot to have the methods above included in the course material of the freshman orientation classes so that as many students as possible can become acquainted with these methods. Incredibly, the movement has met with considerable opposition.

TM Photographers Win ELAC Contest

The presentation to be held on the East L.A. campus will award to Shedore a third place for his entry in the human interest category.

Is It Fair?

By Rocky Diaz
Staff Writer

I've just found out that this week's deadline has been changed from Wednesday to Tuesday. This does all kinds of damage to my plans for today.

Instead of being able to dream up some witty little master piece I am forced to once again fake it. I had planned on being all sugary and tearful but since I haven't been given enough time to be sentimental.

Sooooooo! Goodbye to all the nice people that I have met at Cerritos and too all the other people I've met. . . . Boooooo.

I'm a little tired and I have a million other things to do but I would like to say that no matter what Armstrong writes about this week it's a lie. Today marks the end of a long and occasionally promising writing career. I imagine that this will be my final journalistic endeavor. I am very tired of school and newspapers. However, I'm really going to miss doing whatever it is I've been doing these last two years. As you may have guessed, this is going to be very short. I wish the best of luck to everyone and thank you all for reading my column.

One final goodbye. I wrote last year that several people spelled the word friend with six letters, well, not me. I spell it, Russ Leach, Armstrong Von Hurst, Qualiere, Mr. Robinson, Mary Monin, Pat Schroeder, V. V., and Sturdivant.

Well, fellow ASCC card holders, here we are at the end of another school year, and what do we have to look forward to? Summer, sand, surf, and another year at Cerritos College with our new Student Body president.

This past year we had many forms of Art on and around our campus, but we didn't have anything major happen. Oh yes, we did construct and erect a bronze Falcon in the middle of our campus, but, what I'd like to see is the Student Body undertaking something like a mural, similar to the one the students at Warren High in Downey constructed, or a fresco that would demonstrate the artistic capabilities of the student artists here on our campus.

I don't think that anyone would question the fact that there are some creative and artistic students at Cerritos. Proof of this can be found in our Gallery, and many of you saw what your fellow students created at the Student Art Sale a couple of weeks ago.

In case any of you are interested in developing your capabilities as an artist, there are a number of art classes offered in all mediums of art, but this leads back to what I've been hollering about all semester; just take the time to find out! And the only way you'll find these things out is to look for them, and not in the coffee shop!

The Laguna Art Colony is having an exhibit this weekend and of course all are invited. It will be held all day Saturday and Sunday, so if you're in the area, stop by and view the work that will be on display.

Last weekend the screen at Palos Verde High School did explode as promised for the First Annual Palos Verdes Film Festival. Featured films were "Years of Lightning," "Day of Drums" and "The War Games," all of these films among the most important to any "aware" college student.

These, and other "flicks" will be shown again this summer at the National Film Festival to be held at the Kallidoscope in Hollywood. Watch for announcements concerning this important, and enjoyable festival.

Low Cost Auto Insurance

It is no news that most men, ages 18 - 20, pay too much for auto insurance. It IS news when something is done about it.

If you have a good driving record, and can qualify otherwise, you can get a policy for only $95 for six months, dropping to $62 at age 21. This is for basic auto Liability, Property Damage, and uninsured motorist.

For girls and married students the rates are ridiculously low, too. For ANY insurance problem, call me today. You'll be glad you did.

Foibles and Fables

Something Of Value

by
"Aesop"
Mare Sturdivant

A newspaper's final edition is an opportunity for everyone with an inch of space to become a bit maudlin with endless thank you's and personal memories. It is also a time for columnists to say good-bye to their readers (in my case, both of them) and thank them for taking the time to look over what you had to say. In very rare instances it's a chance to say something important, something of value. Something you hope the readers will remember—at least for a little while.

So, here it is. A borrowed fable, perhaps a little more serious than the rest entitled "The Wise Man."

Once upon a time in a faraway land there lived a wise man. During the day, he sat upon a small hill overlooking the city below. From this spot he greeted the travelers who journeyed into that city.

One morning a man who had traveled from some faraway place to trade, stopped at the hill to rest. Looking down at the city, he asked the wise man,

"What kind of people will I find in your city?"

The wise man answered, "What kind are in the place from which you come?"

"Murderers, thieves and scoundrels!" the traveler replied.

"You will find the people here the same."

On that very afternoon, a second traveler from a faraway place stopped at the hill before going on. He gazed down at the city below and asked the wise man,

"What kind of people will I find in your city?"

Again the wise man answered, "What kind are in the place from which you come?"

"Honest, good and kind," the traveler replied.

"You will find the people here are the same."

No moral needed. Thank you and good luck . . .

Thanks For The Memories

By MIKE BOWER
Sports Editor

As inevitable as the setting sun, all good things must come to an end. It was a very good year; one that shall not be soon forgotten.

It is with mixed emotions that I watch this year draw to an end, because as the sun sets on 1967-68, it also is setting on a part of my life.

1967-68 was my first year at Cerritos College. What a year! Right from the start, I get a chance to write for the greatest junior college in the nation. It was the year that I made so many long lasting friendships.

Yet I also look upon 1967-68 as a year of happiness and joy. The unforgettable experiences that took place during my freshman year.

I'm sure we all agree that this year has been something memorable... especially in athletics. I consider myself lucky because as sports editor these past two semesters, I have not only enjoyed these memorable moments, but had the privilege of writing about them for others to read in years to come.

Memories Are Made Of This

Yes, memories are made of this... Gig Perez racing 70 yards for a touchdown against Phoenix.

"Pessimistic" Pat Tyne predicting the Falcon water polo team will be lucky to win over ten games.

Being the number one football team in the nation for 35 minutes.

Ron Kenworthy going undefeated throughout the season.

Paul Ruffner dunking one in a pre-game warmup.

Ed Romero catching six passes in the 23-0 win over Orange Coast.

"El Cerritos" booming out before an opening kickoff.

Water Polo team winning their 11th game with a 13-7 dunking of Santa Monica.

Wally Kincaid's 300th win.

A humble Mike Ellison expressing his thanks at being chosen MVP.

Randy Wershing coming through time and again with his talented toe.

Falcon heavyweight Bill Struve and El Camino's Ray Felix meeting time after time in close mat duels.

Allen Jongsma filling in admirably for an injured Gig Perez.

Tank Harris going through his "song and dance" routine on the sidelines.

Lee Mansell and Tony Rodriguez cutting Long Beach to pieces with their dribbling and ball handling.

A frenzied crowd yelling "We're number one!"

Daryl Waronecki booming a punt deep into his opponents territory.

Mike Ellison fired up before a ball game.

Coach Hal Simoneck "proud as punch" over his wrestlers at the awards banquet.

Cerritos tasting revenge with a 89-69 win over Long Beach in basketball.

Fireworks show at halftime during homecoming.

The fireworks Falcon and Santa Monica gridders put on during the second half.

John Van Vliet dunking 'um in the State Tourney.

Coach Killingsworth admitting after a long hard hoop season he was "a little bit surprised over the teams fine showing."

Tom Tanner pounding out a home run.

Chip Minnick lowering school records almost every time he puts on his spikes.

A jubilant dressing room after winning the State Tourney.

Paul Ruffner and Lee Mansell with nels around their necks.

PCC's Super Sam Robinson doing it all.

Civic leaders honoring basketball team.

Baseball team ripping Rio Hondo, 18-4.

Jack Harrington going 10-0.

Pete Valenzuela "just" doing his job.

Jim Killingsworth "speaking" with the officials over an illegal jersey call.

Bob Shupp swimming in the 50 yd. free style.

And while I'm saying thanks, I'd like to say a special one to Dan Armstrong for all the help encouragement he has given me and to my staff and Mr. Forthum.

To everyone... thanks for the memories.

Members of the Cerritos College baseball, track, swimming, tennis, and golf teams were honored last Thursday night at the annual Spring Sports Banquet.

The athletic department cited 72 athletes who represented the five teams during 1967-68.

Wally Kincaid began the presentations with awards to his Cerritos baseball team. The Falcon horsechiders finished second in the conference trailing Long Beach by a single game.

Cerritos College miler Chip Minnick ran to a second place finish in the meet, as he continued to defeat the best distance men in the state.

Minnick finished behind DuWayne Ray of Modesto with a 4:13.2 clocking. The outstanding Falcon distance man also placed ahead of Pasadena's Mike Mullins, who had bested him in the Southern California meet earlier in the month.

Minnick's eight points enabled Cerritos to place 21st in the competition.

The Falcon miler has also excelled in the half mile and on several relay teams. His best mark in the mile is a 4:10 clocking during the Southern California championships.

Cerritos Removed From Metro Again; Enter New Loop In 1969

By MIKE BOWER
Sports Editor

"Somebody up there doesn't like us!"

It's happened again. Cerritos College is out of the Metropolitan Conference for the second time in a year.

The State Athletic Committee of the California Junior College Association has removed Cerritos from the Metro Conference effective in 1969-70.

The Falcons have been in and out of the powerhouse loop so often in the past 12 months, that the news does little but bring an attitude of regret to many on the campus.

The proposed setup will find Metro losing Cerritos and operating with seven teams.

A new loop, the South Coast Conference, will take in the Falcons. The conference now consists of Fullerton, Mt. SAC, Orange Coast, Santa Ana, San Diego CC, and San Diego Mesa.

Two previous members of the proposed South Coast conference, Rio Hondo, and Golden West, will join Cypress, East LA, LA City, LA Harbor and Southwest LA in a new and separate league.

The four LA schools leave the Western States conference. The WSC picks up Antelope Valley, and new West LA giving them eight schools instead of their usual ten.

The Desert Conference adds new Saddleback JC, while the Southeastern Conference will remain intact with the exception of the transfer of Cypress.

The plan reduces the size of all the conferences to seven or eight members and forms a new loop.

Earlier in the year the fate of the Falcons in Metro was also challenged. The previous plan also called for the revising of all the conferences. It was not completely followed, however, as a few changes were made in football, but no rearranging was done in the other sports.

If this proposal is carried out, it will mean the end of a great era for Cerritos College and the Metropolitan Conference. The Falcons have continually been a powerhouse in all sports throughout tenure in the conference, and their removal would end some bitter rivalries.

Other decisions handed down by the committee included: The awarding of the 1969 State Basketball Tournament to Fresno CC, and the 1970 tourney to Long Beach.

Adopting in principal, a plan for regional state basketball tournaments. Two Teams from the North and South would then come together for a four team state tourney.

Assigning sites for the 1968-69 playoffs in other sports as follows:

Cross Country - Southwestern; Golf - Palomar; Gymnastics - LA Trade Tech; Swimming - De Anza; Tennis - CCSF; Track - Modesto; Water Polo - Chabot; Wrestling - San Bernardino Valley.

Announcing that the 1968 State Basketball Tournament at Cerritos netted a record profit of $4,628.10.

Alignment of Southern California conferences effective September 1969:

METROPOLITAN - Bakersfield, El Camino, LA Pierce, LA Valley, Long Beach, Pasadena, Santa Monica.

SOUTH COAST - Cerritos, Fullerton, Mt. San Antonio, Orange Coast, Santa Ana, San Diego CC, San Diego Mesa.

NEW CONFERENCE - Cypress, East LA, Golden West, LA City, LA Harbor Rio Hondo Southwest, LA.

WESTERN STATES - Antelope Valley, Compton, Glendale, LA Trade Tech, Moorpark, Santa Barbara, Ventura, West LA.

SOUTHEASTERN - Chaffey, Citrus, Grossmont, Palomar, Riverside, San Bernardino Valley, Southwestern.

DESERT - Barstow, College of the Desert, Imperial Valley, Mira Costa, Mt. San Jacinto, Palo Verde, Saddleback, Victor Valley.
