Need Money?? See Madge Coto

This year, as in previous years the Cerritos College Student Job Placement Office is continuing to arrange part-time or full-time jobs for Cerritos College students who need supplemental earnings to attend school.

Off campus jobs pay from $1.25 to $4.00 per hour depending upon job skills required. Some on campus jobs are available at $1.25 per hour for full-time students who qualify for the "Higher Education Act," and can show financial need.

If you are interested in part or full-time employment, file an application at the Student Job Placement Office in the lobby of the Administration Building near the admissions office. Employment opportunities are posted on a bulletin board near the employment office, and across from the student activities office.

A partial listing of the types of jobs which are usually available would include some of the following: Teachers aids, Delivery, Drafting, Stenos, Maintenance, Accounting, Waitresses, Retail Sales, Gas Station Attendants, Electronics, Recreation Leaders, Shipping Clerks, Counter Work, Telephone Sales, General Office Typists, Clerks, Receptionists, Dishwashers, Waiters and General Factory Workers.

The Deadline Looms For S.A.T. Testing

The State Scholarship and Loan Commission has announced that students enrolled in a junior college who are planning to transfer to a four-year college may apply for and receive a State Scholarship, and students enrolled in a junior college who plan to attend a junior college for another year may receive a junior college reserve scholarship.

Students applying from a college must present a 2.5 grade average, must make a competitive score on the Scholastic Aptitude Tests (S.A.T.), and demonstrate financial need at the college of their choice.

Art Instructor Aguirre Sees Lights, Color In Old Madrid

A collection of drawings by Cerritos faculty member Rudolph Aguirre prepared while he was spending a year in Spain joins works in pottery, oil and water colors of selected alumni in the Cerritos Art Gallery through September 29.

Aguirre studied at the San Fernando Academy in Madrid where he had enrolled as a regular Spanish speaking student and not as a foreign student.

Aguirre says that the reason he did enroll as a regular student was so that he could see what the Spanish approach to teaching art was. "In that sense," said Aguirre, "it was very interesting."

Also, he related that spending an entire year in the country enabled him to become involved with the "aura of the subject matter — the peculiar subject matter — that Spain offers."

Continuing, Aguirre said that the subject matter includes: light, a colorful bullfight, the gypsy flamenco dancers, the gypsies who live on the side of the hill, and more.

"I would enter a place with a sketch pad in my hand and people would just pose for me. There were some gypsies who just posed for me and posed for me — they were fascinated — and they would come around and haggle with me for the pictures. And I was a sucker, I'd give them away. I'd get charmed out of my socks."

"When I used to go through the old 'Varios' and neighborhoods just drawing and sketching away, I used to have a crowd of little kids saying 'shh... shh... be quiet... be quiet... the señor is painting!'"

During the year that Aguirre was in Spain he did over 500 paintings and drawings, of which he sold a number students of the various aims and goals of the clubs on campus.

AWS FACILITIES OPEN TO FROSH

Nine director positions are open this year in AWS, according to Ruth Ritchie, president of the Associated Women Students.

AWS is open to all women students of Cerritos College who hold an ASCC card. They aim for friendliness among women students and try to provide interesting activities for those women attending Cerritos College.

Meetings are held the first, third and fifth Tuesday of each month at 11 a.m. in Miss Dozier's office.

The positions now open are director of records, director of finance, director of programs, director of social activity, director of scholarships, director of publicity, historian, and freshmen and sophomore representatives. The positions of freshmen and sophomore representatives are filled by election, which will be held October 6. All other positions are appointed by the president, Ruth Ritchie; vice president, Cindy Owens; and the advisors.

The director of records, is the secretary, of the club, and is responsible for the taking of the minutes and all general secretarial work.

Director of finance, is the treasurer, and is responsible for the handling of all money.

Director of programs is responsible for the speakers programs sponsored each year by AWS. This year there will be four speaker programs. The first, entitled "Thirty Days to Happiness," will be October 10, featured will be Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Corbin, who will be speaking on how to get along with disagreeable people.

Director of Social Activity plans any dance sponsored by AWS. She is also responsible for the slumber party held at the end of the year.

Director of Scholarships establishes the projects set up to make money for the scholarships. She also receives the applications for the scholarships and is responsible for setting up the interviews for the scholarships. These are available to any women student who has been active in any phase of the program sponsored by AWS.

Director of publicity takes care of AWS posters and is responsible for all campus and community publicity for AWS.

The Historian is responsible for keeping a scrapbook. She must also take pictures at all AWS sponsored activities for the scrapbook.

Freshman representative conveys the general feelings of all freshmen women. She meets with the freshmen commission to try to get them active. She is also responsible for arranging the secret pals on the board of directors.

Sophomore representative conveys the feeling of the sophomore class and helps the other directors.

In filling these positions AWS will be looking for women with past experience and who are interested and are willing to work. Applications can be picked up in the office of Student Affairs.

AWS will sponsor a Daffy Apple Sale October 10 through the 13th. Girls interested in selling apples should stop by the Student Affairs office at this time.

Booze Not Allowed At Post Game Dance

Rules for the after game dances are going to be strictly enforced. Guests are to purchase guest tickets and fill out the guest card before 4:00 p.m. in the office of Student Affairs.

The dances are free and are for the benefit of ASCC card holders. If you must drink, don't come to the dances. No booze is to be on or in those attending dances.

Robinson Addresses Senators Wednesday

With little business before the ASCC Senate in its initial meeting, advisor Richard Robinson addressed the Senators for most of the short meeting.

Robinson told the Senate, "I'm happier than I've been any year since I came to Cerritos."

Robinson was referring to the spirit, enthusiasm, and support already shown by the student body after the Howdy Hop, the Bench-ASCC Barbecue, and the season's first football game.

The barbecue was such a success, the cooks ran out of food, even though they had planned for 1200 people. Following the affair, 9000 fans jammed Falcon Stadium to view Cerritos' victory over Orange Coast.

Robinson also cited the mushrooming student body population. "The current figure of 10,580 full and part-time students is five to six hundred more than the most liberal estimates," said Robinson. "We now have 4300 full-time day students, and student body sales have netted from $5,000-$7,000 more than anticipated."

Expressing all his enthusiasm in one sentence, Robinson said "It's going to be a great year."

Turning to more serious matters, Robinson spoke at length on this year's student body budget. He urged the Senate to "hold the purse strings tight" for a couple of years and build up a surplus of approximately $40,000. With such a surplus, the Senate could spend the money already on hand rather than try to balance incoming with outgoing funds each year.

Before yielding the floor, Robinson expressed the hope that the Senate could work as a team this year. Noting the parliamentary procedure battles of the past, he cautioned the Senators against another year of chaos which rocked the Senate last year. In closing, Robinson said, "Let's have a ball."

Swim Test Required Of Young Students

Mr. Patrick Tyne, the water polo and swimming coach of the physical education department, has announced the dates of the swimming waiver test for graduation requirements.

The test will be conducted at 11:00 a.m. on the first Tuesdays in October, December, March and May. Students under 21 years of age or those not physically handicapped must take the waiver test or pass swimming class.

It does not apply to those students who enrolled prior to 1966.

Mr. Tyne emphasized that most state colleges require a swimming class or a waiver test.

'TM' Plans Meeting For Club Publicity

Clubs and organizations seeking publicity in "Talon Marks" about their projects and outings should plan to send a publicity chairman to the publicity procedures meeting next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in AC 34 or contact Kathy Bishop, managing editor.

'The Year of the Falcon'

The ever-present enthusiasm of the athletic department at Cerritos appears to have found a second home in student government this semester.

With Cerritos facing its final year in the Metropolitan Conference, the next nine months have appropriately been named "The Year of the Falcon". The title, while pertaining mainly to athletics, also aptly applies to the "fresh blood" of the present administration.

No longer, at least not for the next nine months, will the offices of ASCC president be a social status symbol. Eric Von Hurst and Pat Frederick have surrounded themselves with people who at this point seem both capable and willing to serve. But most important, the entire administration is more interested in the good of the student body than petty grievances.

Speaking before the Senate Wednesday, Dean of Men Richard Robinson expressed the hope that this year's body can work as a team and eliminate the parliamentary procedure battles that marked last year's Senate. And looking around the group for the first time, it looks like Robinson will get his wish.

In less than a month, Von Hurst will be seated at the next Board of Trustees meeting, giving students equal representation with faculty and administration.

Student government, under the guidance of Von Hurst, appears on the brink of a new high in accomplishments and cooperation. At this point, we can look forward to a year of unprecedented achievement. We can only hope that the sparkling beginning blossoms into Von Hurst's hopes and expectations.

Editor

New Staff Ambitious

TM policy under the present editorial staff, will not be a radical departure from the past year. Because of the turnover in students and staff, there will be some slight, subtle changes that reflect the quality and attitude of the students now acting as reporters and editors.

There will undoubtedly and inevitably be some criticism of Talon Marks as long as it is in existence. There is deserved criticism of any news medium. Your comments are invited and needed; either as suggestions, gripes or, we hope, an occasional pat on the back.

It is expected there will be some adverse reaction to the increased amount of advertising. The ads in no way affect the amount of news contained in TM. News is considered first and ads are of secondary importance, BUT, they are important. Through paid advertising we will be able to publish larger papers more often and, as the money received goes to reimburse student funds for expenses of publishing, it loosens the apron strings that are, of necessity, attached to the purse strings.

The use of advertising is also an integral part of journalistic and business education. Valuable practical experience is gained in the sale, handling, billing and layout of advertising copy.

There will be accusations that TM gives more publicity to some clubs than others; this will be true but unavoidable. There are more clubs on campus than there are reporters. Each club has been informed as to the procedures for their new releases. The items used will be the ones about which we are best informed. When space is limited, as it is certain to be at times, the editors will have to decide which story is of interest to the most people.

We believe that TM can and must be a vital link in communications among ALL groups at Cerritos; the student, the organizations, the faculty and, yes, the administration.

This brings us to another remark often made about Talon Marks, and other newspapers. The accusation of timidity in the printing of "juicy gossip." Good taste and good journalistic standards are the deciding factors. When an item is newsworthy in a constructive way, or a situation exists that should be known, it will be printed as news. To print rumors and speculations for the sake of sensationalism is the first step on the downward path to oblivion for any newspaper or journalist.

"Yellow journalism" destroys itself. At first, it creates comment and interest, but to sustain itself, it must eventually reach the stage of plucking stories from thin air.

News and rumor travel fast by the grapevine. Anyone is welcome to any time to be heard by a staff member of TM and efforts will be made to reach the truth of any situation on campus.

It would be nonsensical to assert that Talon Marks will try to please everyone or, even anyone at Cerritos. Our aim is for a good, constructive, informative paper that will help engender a feeling of "community" here on campus.

Cerritos is YOUR community, and mine, and theirs. Cerritos is what each of us makes of it.

Phyl Fritsch

Armstrong Heads TM, Promises Larger Paper

Promotion to acting sports editor this summer of the Daily Southeast News in Downey was Dan Armstrong's latest addition to his experience as a journalist before becoming the fall semester "Talon Marks" executive editor.

Prior to his promotion, Armstrong had been working four years in the editorial department of the SEN.

His background in journalism includes such jobs as a reporter and sports editor for "TM" last year, copy editor of Campus Illustrated for two semesters, editor-in-chief of the Downey High Norseman and sports editor of the Downey High annual Volsung.

Commenting on his newly acquired title, Armstrong stated, "We will be putting out a larger edition of 'Talon Marks' even though our staff is much smaller. I think some of the people we do have are dedicated and capable and I look forward to another successful year. We hope to continue the cooperation established with student government, the faculty and administration last year."

His editorial staff includes Phyl Fritsch, associate editor, who has had print shop experience and was assignment editor in the spring semester and Kathy Bishop, managing editor, who's journalism experience includes three semesters on "TM," executive editor of the 1967 summer "TM," proof reader for the Southeast News in Downey, page 2 and 3 editor of Excelsior High's newspaper, administration, girls' sports and advertising editors of Excelsior High's annual.

Whitman Tells About Accident

Slowness to realize the cars on Studebaker Road in Norwalk were stopped seemed to be the cause of freshman Ray Bartlett colliding with Corine Whitman, instructor in the vocational nursing program, according to Mrs. Whitman.

She sustained injuries to her neck and right hip in the accident which occurred Sept. 13 at 7:40 a.m. The vocational instructor has returned to her teaching duties following hospitalization in the Whittier Hospital.

Prior to Cerritos, the new faculty member taught in the Home Health Aid Program at the Whittier High School District Adult Education Center and from 1964 to 1967 she was school nurse at Pioneer High in Whittier.

Larry McWhorter, Sandy Cooper, Carol Nelson and Janice Flora.

Photography editor is Andy Bergen. Tom Shedore, Bob Schneider, Scott Ramsay, Bruce Coburn and Dave Hart are working with him.

Distribution racks for "Talon Marks" are located in the library, southeast wing of the Arts and Crafts Building, quad, east door of the Liberal Arts building, north side of the Lecture Hall, by the student store and in front of AC 34.

Advertisements run $2.50 per column inch and should be given to Larry Wolf, advertising manager, one week prior to the issue date.

Regarding the newly formed staff Philip Forthun, "TM" adviser, stated "Due to the returning veterans, Dan Armstrong, Kathy Bishop and Phyl Fritsch, I feel that the news content of the paper will have adequate coverage."

"As for the pictures, returning photographers Andy Bergen, Tom Shedore, John Buckel and among others can be expected to provide a year of news photos."

"Because of the efforts of Larry Wolf, advertising manager, we will be able to promise students that half the papers will be eight pages instead of four pages. This is an increase of 60 pages a semester."

September 20, 1967

DEAR EDITOR:

On Saturday, September 16, the Cerritos Bench and Associated Students presented a barbeque for the students, Bench members and football fans of the Cerritos community.

This letter is written in appreciation for the support which the students gave the event by attending and participating. We would especially like to acknowledge the band for their appearance. The Veterans

Club is to be commended for the part that they played at the barbeque as Monte Gaultiera and his committees were instrumental in obtaining many donations and provided a strong work force when it came time to set-up, cook, serve and clean up.

It was a great experience for us on the Bench, to have the opportunity to work with the students. It was especially rewarding to be able to work with young people who have enthusiasm and a sincere desire to serve the college.

Once again, a big "nice going" to the Associated Students for their part in making the barbeque a huge success. We are already looking forward to next year and a bigger and better barbeque.

Sincerely yours,
John Weaver
Cerritos Bench President

DON'T PARK HERE!

Los Angeles County Sheriffs Department issues citations for illegally parked vehicles on the Cerritos campus. Persons cited must clear their ticket with the Downey Municipal Court. Patrols are made of the restricted parking lots; C-3 in front of Burnight Center, C-9 behind the student center, partially restricted lots C-5 by the lecture hall and C-7 behind the Natural Science building.

Reserved parking stalls are set aside for officials of the district. Trustees, teachers, and employees of Cerritos are issued parking permits which they must put on the left hand side of their rear car bumper. These permits are for the use of the individual issued only. In addition 25 special permits for parking lot C-7 are given to student body officers.

Director of Purchasing Lee Williams reminds students that The Red Bell at the corner of Alondra and Studebaker is a tow away zone.

Many Minis Showing Much On CC Campus

The fashionable fall attire this year at Cerritos is the mini skirt and dress. Usually it is 3 to 4 inches above the knee, with colored stockings to match. The dress is not unattractive and shows a good sign of beauty and up to date ideas. Some dresses have the "Baby Doll Look," others are striped with different colors horizontally. Whether or not it will be a fad is still a mystery but so far the girls seem to like it and the boys adore with admiring eyes.

Many girls wear the plain type of mini-dress; that is all one color accented by a flower pinned on the dress for added glamor. Usually the girls have matching colored stockings to go with the color of the dress.

Still, for the school girl who prefers the one inch above the knee style, the tailored look is in. This is a more conservative type of attire.

CC Rep's Attend Leadership Confab

STRIKING a reflective pose, Dr. Bruce Browning appears quite different than when he is in the austere administration office on campus.

THAT MUST have been a funny one. The broad smiles are on Amy Dozier, dean of women, Dr. Bruce Browning, vice-president at Cerritos, Wendell Hanks of the speech department and Mrs. Walther, German instructor.

OBSERVING STUDENT LEADERS during one of the workshops are Don Siriani and Dr. Henry Childs.

Siriani had to return to the campus after the first day, but Dr. Childs remained to lend his advice and humor.

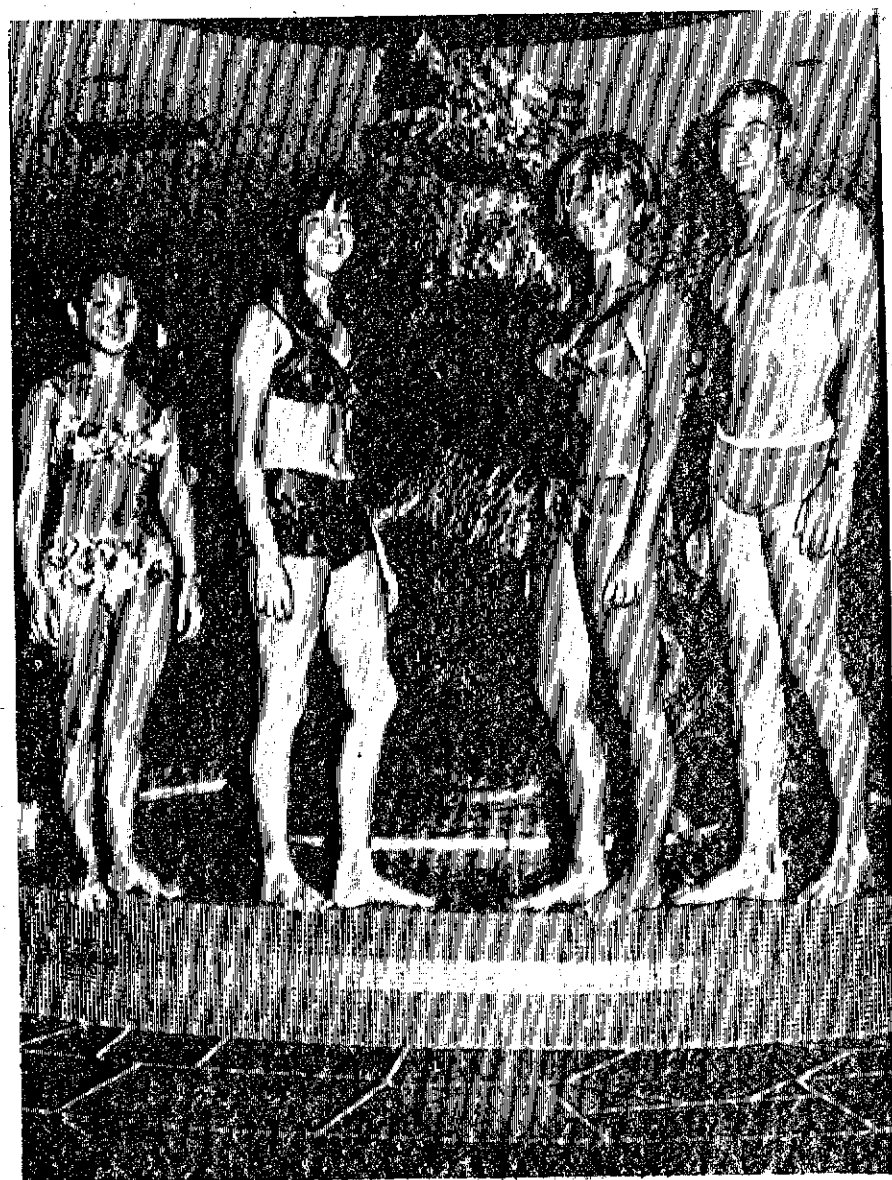

ASCC PRESIDENT Eric Von Hurst addresses students at the leadership conference during a general session on the final morning. Eric complimented the leaders on the fine conference, but warned the three days were a waste of time unless the plans were taken back to the campus and carried out.

BOBBI FUENTES is awarded the "Miss Apple" award for selling the most candy apples for AWS last semester. The presentation was made during the AWS workshop.

THIS IS the way that Richard Robinson stays in trim when he's not directing student activities. Dr. Browning cheerfully lends a hand with the novel form of transportation.

HIGHLIGHTING skit night was Charlie Hatfield's presentation of an award to Talon Mark advisor Phil Forthum. Needless to say, the presentation had the audience rolling in the aisles. Forthum was also the object of satire in two other skits.

LOOKING as though he was auditioning for a dramatic role Ron Tabor, Cerritos speech instructor puts across a pot at the conference.

Rushing Start For CC Frats

Two coffee hours have also been scheduled to get together interested students for the purpose of meeting with the sororities and fraternities. The sorority coffee hour will be on Tuesday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center, and the fraternity coffee hour will be on Wednesday, September 27, at 7:00 p.m. in the Student Center.

Pat Greaf also advised that "those students planning to rush a sorority or fraternity should plan on attending all the rushing activities offered by their choice of sorority or fraternity."

"This, however," she warned, "does not necessarily mean they will be accepted by their choice of sorority or fraternity."

Sororities and fraternities are elite groups who select their own membership. Friendship is stressed in both groups. They choose members who are willing to work for their organization and who are willing to contribute both their time and themselves.

More than one organization may be rushed at one time, but occasionally this causes a time conflict. Each sorority and fraternity offers their own rushing activities and these are sometimes scheduled for the same hours.

For further information students are asked to contact Pat Greaf, president of Phi Kappa Zeta; Cindy Owens, Delta Phi Omega; Kathy Paige, Theta Phi; and for the fraternities, Dave Fratallone, Sigma Phi; or Greg Slife, Delta Chi Omega.

Campus sororities and fraternities will once again open their doors to aspiring members when rushing officially begins September 29.

"Rushing," according to Pat Greaf, president of Phi Kappa Zeta, "is a two-week activity over which active members of sororities and fraternities get the chance to look over prospective members."

Participating sororities will be Phi Kappa Zeta, Delta Phi Omega, and Theta Phi. The fraternities are Delta Chi Omega and Sigma Phi.

Leading up to rushing was Club Booth Day on Wednesday, September 20. At this time the different sororities and fraternities had booths set up for the purpose of informing interested students of the history, purpose, membership and qualifications of their organizations. The booths, along with many other clubs on campus, open from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Clubs Combine At Coffee Hour

All students are again reminded to attend the Sinawik-Circle K Coffee Hour. The event is scheduled for 7:30 at the Student Center, September 28. By having a coffee hour, both clubs hope to interest more students in becoming members. Both clubs will acquaint themselves and their activities to the attending guests. According to Gary Jones, Circle K Treasurer, Canadian slides will be shown of Expo '67 and of scenic Canadian cities. The slides were taken during a Circle K convention. Other evening activities will include pledge signing and exhibiting club scrapbooks. Refreshments will be served by Sinawik members.

To qualify for membership of either club, a student must hold a fulltime ASCC membership card and have a 2.0 average.

Sinawik members have participated in such activities as dyeing Easter eggs for the blind, collecting clothing for drives, and supporting Leroy's Boys Home.

Circle K members support their school and community by doing various odd jobs. Sinawik and Circle K members often usher at concerts and plays.

Coffee Is Served By Campus Frats

On the evening of September 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center all the members of Sigma Phi and Delta Chi Omega will sponsor the fraternity coffee hour. All male students wishing to become a member of these fraternities will have a chance to get a first hand look at their accomplishments and programmed activities. Such things as requirements code of conduct, rights and responsibilities of a fraternity member will be discussed.

Pedro's Corner ...

Lives taken, bodies strewn aside, blood soaked up by the earth to satisfy the war-like pride of the nations involved. Buddies I have gone to school with were brought back in COFFINS tightly lidded, for the remains are too horrid to be seen by the human eye. But the mother, the father, the brothers and sisters of that heroic soldier knew him not as the horrid remains, but as a brother and son who had lived under the same roof, eaten at the same table, gone to the same church, gone through the local schools, and who was quite a popular kid at school, but the government considered him more valuable on the battlefield, in front of bayonets, grenades.

Oh people, we must fight the communists at all such costs; even at the expense of using mothers as the tools of breeding; breeding to supply the front lines; the lines brought forth by the evil mankind who has brought forth wars, race riots, filths, and hates and every other evilness we can think of, we are the people who believe in a more peaceful solution.

We are the people who are sick and tired of seeing boys fresh from high school go off to death. We are the people who see to both sides of the coin and find that one side is filled with more lead than the other. C'mon people, tell me that war isn't really that bad, that a life thrown here and there doesn't matter, after all, who cares if they die and are forgotten? But tell me something Mr. Joe American, are they really forgotten? Are they the boys who would be tomorrow's fathers? Are they the boys who could've been tomorrow's scholars, teachers scientists???

Think about this war very closely before you answer this column. That's right, when a person asks you about the war over there answer him the way society wants you to answer... "Yes I believe in that war," even though you really don't. You, the big strong husky guy, you the short timid guy, and you the kid who was student body president, the football player, the scholar, the track star and last but not least the rich kid who had so much he didn't know what to do with it, don't forget you're all in the same category, in the same outfit, the outfit of war. You didn't know you were being brought into this world to kill did you? Well you better get used to it man, cause it's here and believe me, friend, I don't know when it's gonna end. Go off to war, so that your girl, your mom and dad can be proud if you come back with an arm missing, a leg, an eye, or come back in a "TIGHTLY LIDDED BOX".

Did you hear about the big fire down at the shoe factory? Well 200 souls were lost, they said some heel started it... Well, I just thought I'd try and if you didn't laugh that's alright because I'll get even as the semester rolls along. Pedro's my name, Pedro the VIII, I can out-talk or out-yell any woman or man living and if you don't believe me just get me involved in a conversation and I'll take it from there.

Students, Cerritos has much to be proud of, its students, its location, and most of all, its history. Where once existed my relatives' dairies, there now exists bustling classrooms; the patter of feet busily scurrying to their classes to obtain that important word "Education". This word alone will decide whether this country, great as she is, will continue to exist; the America that the early colonists fought for with their lives.

America is our project, an endless project; one of intense development as well as "redeveloping" as evinced by the past incidents such as race riots, the hippy love-ins, L.S.D. marijuana, and indecision; one could go on forever, but you know what I'm trying to get at.

If you don't know what I mean then what are you doing here? Are you here to avoid the fight in Viet Nam? Are you here to pick up a husband or a wife; or are you here to embarrass Cerritos College; or are you here to play it "Cool", and get education and groove on all the activities and the fun that goes along with belonging to an organization, making it to a happening such as the dances, the games, and most important the classes? Ya gotta make it with the grades.

Remember as the semester rolls along if you have any gripes about anything, send them to Pedro's Corner and I'll do the printing. Good Luck and, man, keep your COOL! ... Pedro the VIII

SCHOOL TIME means making it to the bookstore in time to be able to purchase used books or items in short supply before they are gone. One of the many ideas to ease the confusion that the bookstore uses is that of having large signs to indicate the location of needed texts.

Bookstore Tells Accomodations

Mrs. Ballzier and other employees of the Cerritos College Bookstore have altered their policies to make book purchasing more convenient for students.

"Our establishment is a fairly integral part of the campus and we feel that a student should be able to obtain any needed supply for a class," stated Mrs. Ballzier, head of the book store. "Our chief objective is service to the student."

Alterations have been made in the bookstore hours. New hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Monday thru Friday. Last year the store was closed between 4:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. during dinner time. However, the store will remain open throughout the evening to allow students additional time to purchase supplies.

Last week passers-by may have noticed the express line; an innovation tried on an experimental basis, to accommodate the student rush. It expedited the sale of books and helped to alleviate the crowding inside the store. The express line was also used to order books unavailable in the book store. It operated during the major rush hour.

Individual book orders generally take two weeks to arrive. However, the time varies on the orders, depending on the distance of the place a book is ordered from.

In the near future, book store patrons will receive a raffle ticket with every purchase exceeding one dollar. The tickets will be deposited in a box, and reserved for monthly drawings. A prize will be awarded at each hitting.

Additional items may be purchased at the Cerritos Bookstore are gym clothes, sweat shirts with Cerritos emblems, jewelry, jackets, and other miscellaneous items. The book store is located at the student center.

New Club Gives Plans and Goals

The Society for the Advancement of Management, better known at Cerritos as "S.A.M.", is one of the most recently organized clubs on campus. The new club is a recognized junior college division of the Societies' Orange County Chapter.

According to club president Ed Gutierrez, the club was formed with the purpose of providing students who plan a career in business or industry with the opportunity to participate in the organizing, planning, directing and controlling of the activities of an organization dedicated to the promotion and advancement of business.

"Some of the major objectives we have set up for the club will be to bring together business executives and students preparing to go into business and industry," said Gutierrez. "We also plan to serve as an effective medium for the exchange and distribution of information on the problems, policies, and techniques in industry and management," he added.

Numerous advisors and expert consultants from the business community have pledged their support and active contribution to the fledgling club. Several plant tours and seminars on management problems have been scheduled for the coming year.

"Individual response to our membership drive has been strong for a club of this nature and we have a rapidly growing number of applicants to date," said Leo Hamaker, club membership chairman. "Nevertheless," he added, "we have several important activities planned for the very near future. We urge all interested students to take advantage of our open membership rolls as soon as possible in order to be included in these upcoming functions."

Falcon's Late Surge Smashes Pirates

THE FALCON SCOOTER, Perez, breaks through the Pirate line and into the defensive backfield before being hauled down by Little O Oliver.

TURNING POINT in Saturday night's game was this completion to end Bob Kirby. Olsen found Kirby open on a down-and-out, and the Falcon end eluded his defender and raced deep into Pirate territory. Randy Wershing came on to kick a short field goal and send the Falcons ahead, 3-0.

Tyne Predicts Tough Year For Polo Team

"It's going to be very difficult for us to repeat last year," said Pat Tyne, summing up the 1967 waterpolo season.

"I'll be happy with ten wins this year," said Tyne, who led the Falcons to their first State championship last year. "With luck we may win more."

Tyne is becoming famous for his pre-season predictions, which he merely rewords each year. Last season at this time, he predicted the squad would be lucky to "win half our games." The Falcons went on to defeat Foothill to become the first Southern California team to win the title at a Northern school.

Tyne's perennial pessimism appears to be well-based this year, however. The Falcons have lost the services of All-Americans Jerry Ray and Ken Hammer as well as All-California goalie Bob Gaviglio.

Coming back from last year's regulars are Randy Anno and Kurt Dietrick, leaving the bulk of the squad open to inexperienced sophomores and freshmen.

Leading the freshman crop is Bob Shupp, a high school All-American from Downey High, long the main supplier of Cerritos' water sports stars.

The Falcons also face a typical Pat Tyne schedule this season. Kicking off the season next Friday against always-tough Fullerton, the Falcons also meet a host of hard-nosed non-league opponents before meeting the likes of Long Beach once Metro competition gets underway.

Also in the first week, Cerritos meets USC, a Pacific Eight powerhouse, and Cal State Long Beach, possibly the best State college squad in California.

Bench Serves 1200 Fans At Big Bar-B-Q

More than 1,200 people were served at the Annual Bench Barbeque last weekend at Cerritos College, making it the most successful ever.

John Weaver, president of the Bench organization, said more people than ever before went through the serving lines and that the cooperation of the Cerritos Student Body and members of the Bench was outstanding. The Bench is the community men's organization which supports Cerritos College intercollegiate athletic and academic programs throughout the year.

This year, for the first time, the event was sponsored jointly by the Bench and the student body. Also for the first time, the barbeque was held just before the opening football game. In the past it had been scheduled before one of the pre-season scrimmages.

"We look forward to making the barbeque a traditional event, and continuing the joint sponsorship," Weaver said.

Cerritos Scores 3 Touchdowns In Final 5 Minutes, Win 23-0

By DAN ARMSTRONG

Cerritos has its trio of linebackers to thank for its opening game victory over Orange Coast Saturday night, and its suicide squad for making the score impressive.

After a scoreless first three quarters, the Falcons took a 3-0 lead in the first two minutes of the final period, and added three touchdowns in the last four and a half minute for a 23-0 victory.

While the Falcon offense found itself completely throttled by the Pirates, the Cerritos linebackers made up for an inexperienced secondary and a defensive line hampered by injury. Mike Ellison, Jim Grisum, and Rich Correa, all returning lettermen from last year's second-place squad, held the Pirate backfield to a net of 48 yards in 41 rushing plays.

LITTLE PUNCH

As feared, the Falcons showed little punch from their backfield, save the efforts of halfback Gig Perez. The Falcons rushed for a total of 84 yards, and Perez accounted for 61 of them. Perez was also on the receiving end of eight of 20 completions by a pair of Cerritos quarterbacks.

Mike Olsen to Ed Romero proved to be the main groundgainer for the Falcons, as the sophomore quarterback found his favorite receiver in the open on six occasions for 73 yards. Romero managed to get in the open on several occasions, despite the rugged man-for-man coverage of Steve Rodriguez.

After three quarters of defensive domination by both clubs, the Falcons finally put together a scoring drive, sparked by a 36-yard pass play on the final play of the third period.

Olsen found end Bob Kirby open on a down-and-out, and Kirby eluded a tackle and raced to the Orange Coast 18 before a pair of defenders hauled him down.

Perez plunged up the middle for four yards, and a grabbing the face-mask call on the Pirates moved the ball to the Orange Coast seven. The Pirate defense stiffened, however, and the Falcons called on kicking specialist Randy Wershing for a short field goal and a 3-0 lead.

The Pirates failed to move the ball after the ensuing kickoff and punted, and the Falcons returned the favor. With the Pirates in control and the game in the balance, the Falcon defense went to work, and Orange Coast ball carriers felt the blunt of the blow.

PIRATES FUMBLE

Following an 18-yard pass to move the ball into Falcon territory, defensive end Mike Beckland pounced on Paul Lemoine's fumble. A double reverse to Ed Romero moved the ball deep into Pirate territory, and Perez carried it over with 4:36 left for a 9-0 margin.

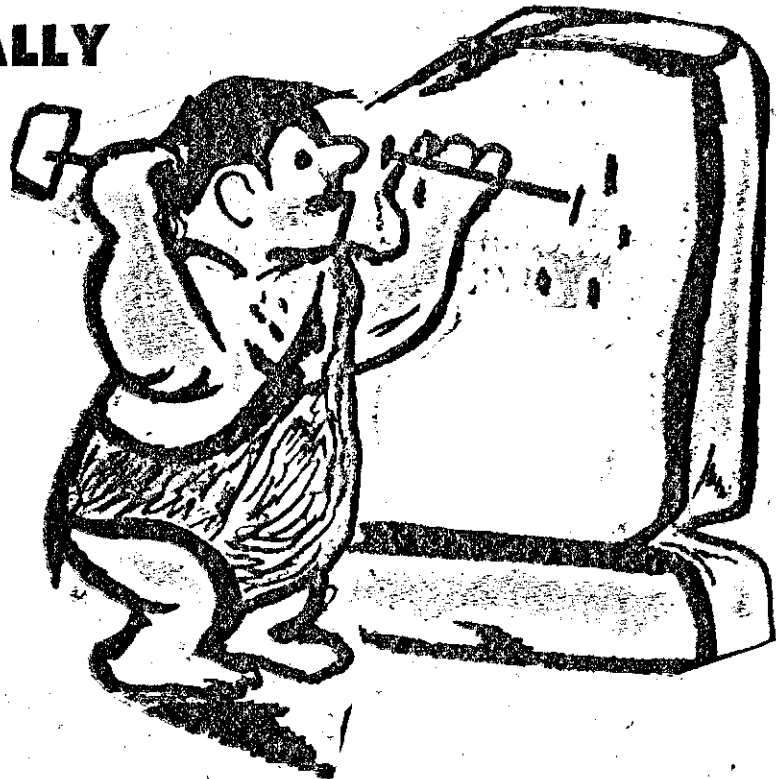

Frank Weirath bobbled Wershing's kickoff, and Ted Perez recovered for Cerritos. Olsen promptly found Jake Brown in the end zone, and Wershing's kick made it 16-0 with 2:49 remaining.

Once again, the Falcon suicide squad came through for Cerritos, as Mike Hlavac came up with Wayne Tulin's fumble on the ensuing kickoff.

With the game on ice, Smokey Cates went to his bench to give second string quarterback Steve Haller some needed experience, but he saw action on only three plays. Hank Fien hauled in Haller's third down pass in the end zone good for 13 yards and a 23-0 lead.

The Pirates, in desperation, went to the air, and Larry Diel picked it off, leaving the Falcons in command as the gun sounded.

Pirate Downfall - - Olsen To Romero

COMPLETION NUMBER 1—came as Olsen found Romero a few steps in front of the ever-present Rodriguez. Eddie made the catch, but the Pirate defender dropped him in his tracks.

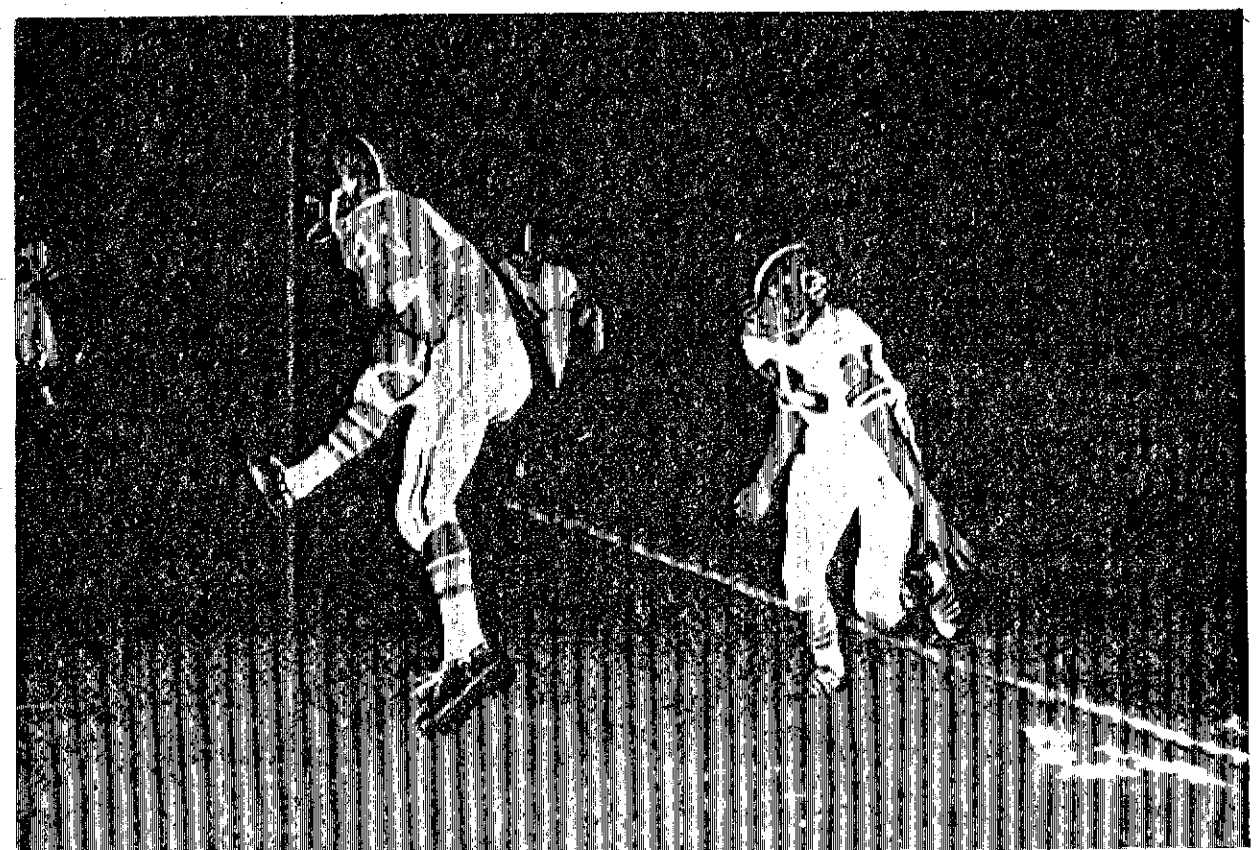

ETHAN 'LITTLE O' OLIVER tried his luck on Romero, but Olsen connected with his favorite receiver on a down-and-out. Romero was able to slip around Oliver, but was hauled down by a pair of defensive backs steps later.

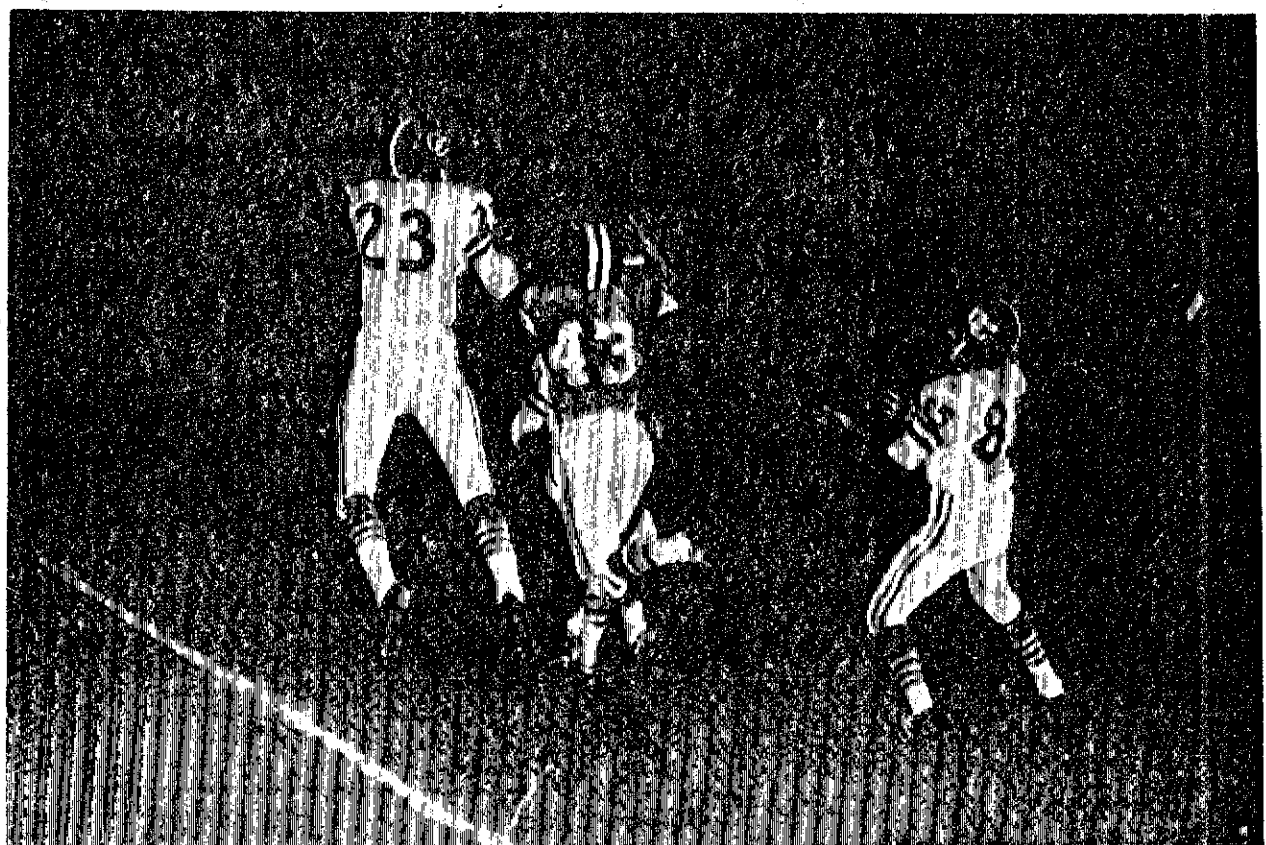

MOMENTS BEFORE—the Pirate line reaches him, Olsen unloads a bomb to Romero. Eddie had a step on the defender, but couldn't make the over the shoulder grab, and the pass fell incomplete.

THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY—Olsen's pass eludes Romero's grasp, as Rodriguez comes up fast to make sure Eddie doesn't hang on.

AMONG A TRIO of defenders, Romero still manages to make the grab. Rodriguez is steps behind, and Bill Jenkins fails to knock the ball away.

THROWN A STEP BEHIND Romero, Eddie slammed on the brake but couldn't make a falling grab of Olsen's pass. Rodriguez was just steps behind.

Boys Ask About Christmas Party

BROKEN BICYCLES may be thrown away by lucky boys who can get new bikes, but not by LeRoy boys who must make do with the old. These young men attempt to repair broken bicycles with their unexperienced hands so they might have a few more rides.

"MOVE ASIDE I want to make a basket!", shouts a small boy as he is being blocked by an opponent. Approximately 80 boys share the basketball court during recreational hours.

CHOW TIME is a hassle for hungry young men at LeRoy Boys' Home when all try to grab the food at once. Getting to the table quickly means warm fish sticks and a chance for seconds.

CHATting with the boys at LeRoy Boys' Home is a cherished moment for Uncle LeRoy who founded the home in 1946. It opened with ten boys and now serves the needs of over 75 boys from 6 to 17 years old.

WEEDING is just one of the small chores assigned to the boys. According to LeRoy Haynes, executive director, the jobs are given to the young men in hopes of creating an atmosphere similar to the home situation.

LeRoy Boys Need More Than Love

Suddenly the boy's eyes widened and with awe he said "You're from Cerritos?" This was just one out of many statements made by young men at LeRoy Boys' Home which expressed delight at the mention of Cerritos.

LeRoy Haynes, executive director of the home, commented that "The boys have already begun asking if there's still going to be a party." Hopefully, the goal of $2500 will be reached so Cerritos can again answer the inquisitive boys with "Yes", there will be a party.

"Send me no flowers, we need more than love" is one way of asking you to buy a tissue paper flower for $1, to help give a Christmas party, Christmas gifts and a trip to Disneyland to approximately 80 boys, according to Jeanette Skinner, project chairman.

The multi-colored flowers will be sold every Monday and Wednesday through December 1 at the ticket booth inside the Student Center. All flowers have a number in them which gives the owner an opportunity to win a door prize at the LeRoy Boys' Home Dance.

Students are needed to assist in collecting for the Sinawik sponsored project. Those interested should contact Miss Skinner in the Student Affairs Office or plan to attend the meetings on the first and third Tuesdays of every month at 11 a.m.

The project chairman urges all clubs and organizations to "please send at least one representative to the meetings so your organization will have full and up to date details of your project. Since LeRoy Boys' Home is a Cerritos project each club is expected to participate in some way."

Students can sign up with Miss Skinner in the Student Affairs Office to accompany the boys to Disneyland and to assist in preparing the Christmas party Dec. 17.

When Harlan Stamm, dean academic affairs - extended day, started the project about eight years ago the boys were given a party at the home. For the past four years Cerritos has been taking the boys to Disneyland, according to Willis Powers, LeRoy Boys' Home project adviser.

The purpose of the 23-acre home is to create an atmosphere as close to the home situation as possible, stated Haynes. On July 1, 1946 the non-sectarian, inter-racial home opened with ten boys from broken homes. It now serves the needs of some 80 boys from 6 to 17 years old.

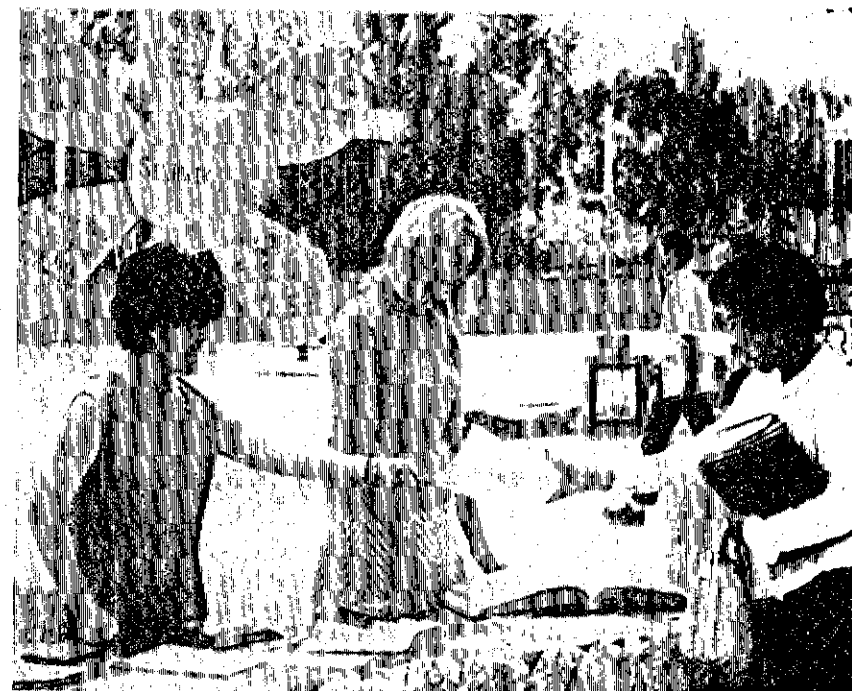

Competition will prevail Oct. 13 as clubs and organizations compete to collect the most money on the money tape. Participants in the money tape, which ends at 3 p.m., are separated into divisions of service and honorary, panhellenic and special interest. Each division winner receives a certificate of merit at the fall honor banquet.

Annually, young men from the home are banner carriers at the homecoming game. Collections will be taken at the Nov. 11 football game during third and fourth quarters.

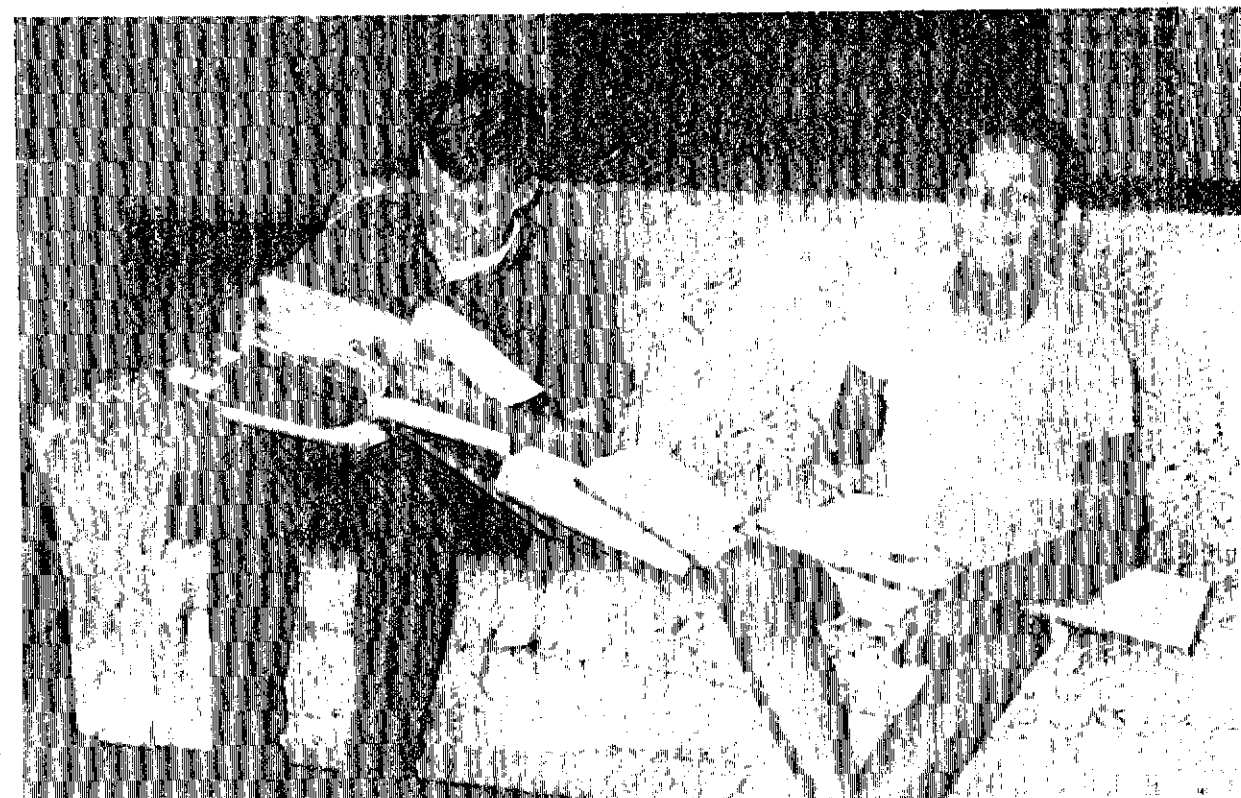

Donations may also be made at the Jazz at Noon in the Student Center Nov. 17 and Dec. 8.

Two weeks prior to the LeRoy Boys' Home dance, Dec. 1, the Ugly Man Contest begins. At this time club representatives dress up as ugly men. Each penny given to a contestant counts as one vote. During the LeRoy Boys' Home dance the representative who collected the most money will be announced ugly man.

For those who wish to write letters or send Christmas cards to the home the address is LeRoy Boys' Home, 233 W. Baseline Road, La Verne, California.

RECRUITING MEMBERS for Sinawik on Club Booth Day last Wednesday were Margaret Saito and Jeanette Skinner. Janice Okura is being given information on the LeRoy Boys' Home project of which Sinawik is the Cerritos sponsor.

A PAIR OF SCHOLARS take to their books. The worn couch is an example of the need for new furnishings at the home.
