On January 2;
Merry Christmas

Speech Teams Still Bring Awards Home

Four trophies were recently won by the first semester speech students when they competed in the FSCFA Fall Championships held at Los Angeles Pierce College in Woodland Hills.

The largest tournament of the fall semester, the competition had to be held on two campuses. The upper division for four year colleges was held at the University of Southern California and the lower and novice divisions for the junior colleges were held at Los Angeles Pierce College.

According to Director of Forensics, Juliette Venitsky, the trophies awarded the Cerritos speakers included one first place, two second places and one third place awards.

Placing first was Candy Jobling, with Bill Wells and Bill Larson both placing second. Third place was won by Judy England.

Several excellent and superior certificates for individual categories were also awarded.

A superior rating in women's oratory in the lower division was awarded to Candy Jobling. Bill Wells received a superior rating in the novice division extemporaneous and Bill Larson in upper division expository also received the superior rating.

Judy England placed fifth and won an excellent certificate in women's interpretation in lower division competition. Fourth place in upper division extemporaneous and a superior certificate was awarded to Jim Caforio.

A fourth place and an excellent certificate in oratory and in extemporaneous in the upper division was awarded to Dandy Lassiter. Pat Schwerdfeger won an excellent certificate in extemporaneous competition in the upper division at USC.

In the upper division, the debate team of Larson and Lassiter won excellent certificates. In the lower division, two other debate teams received honors. They were the debate teams of Wells and Keith Gathercole, and Jeff Stein and Paul Durso who received excellent certificates for their showing in the lower division and novice categories.

The competition at the JC division included more than 30 junior colleges. Cerritos placed seventh in the competition.

Full House Hears Choral Program

"A Carol for to Sing," theme of this year's annual Christmas Choral Festival, opened to a "standing-room-only-crowd," according to Stan Porter, of the Music Department.

The program, which featured the choral groups, was presented by the Cerritos music department last Sunday, in Burnight Center Theatre 17.

Guest conductor of the "Hallelujah" chorus, was Ralph Burnight, president Emeritus of Cerritos College. Also present at the festival were the two composers who wrote new songs especially for the Cerritos madrigals.

"There Is No Rose of Such Virtue" and "Welcome Yule" were written by Williametta Spencer, professor of music at Rio Hondo College. Last year Miss Spencer also presented two compositions for the concert.

"On This Silent Night" written by John Rarig, well-known composer for movies and television, was an enriching experience for the Madrigals who worked with him according to the Music Department.

At the recessional, during the singing of "Silent Night," the audience was ushered out of the hall in silence.

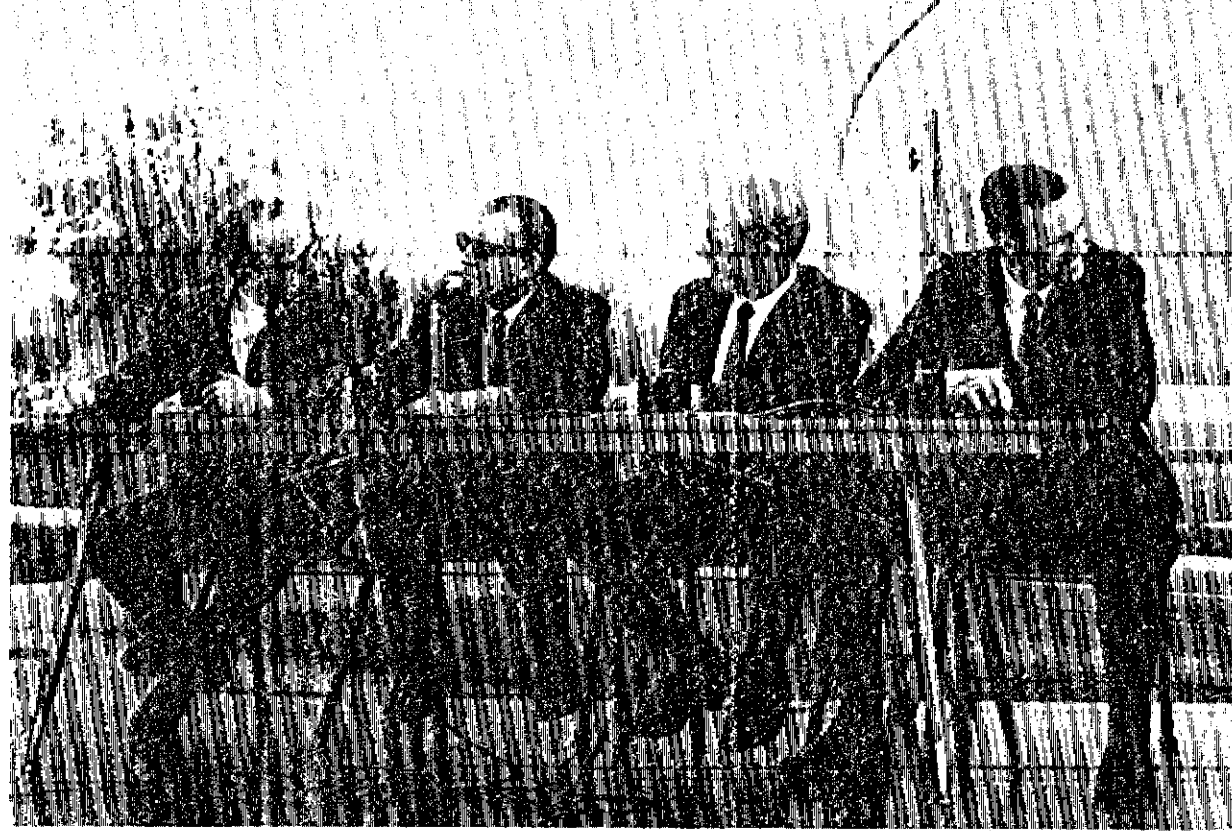

"It is our hope that some moment in this concert has re-kindled the feeling of an old-fashioned Christmas. And it is our prayer that e'er we celebrate another Christmas, the world may realize True Peace—the Peace of God which passes all our understanding," according to a music department spokesman.

The program was under the direction of Stan Porter.

Pre-Registration To Begin Jan. 2

Priority registration for the Spring semester for students currently enrolled in school will begin Tuesday Jan. 2.

Students who are currently on scholastic probation will be permitted to register during the priority period provided they produce a pink work-in-progress report indicating a "C" average in all courses enrolled in the Fall semester.

FACULTY ALL-STARS posed a more-than-formidable foe for the students in last week's college bowl exhibition. Competing for the victorious Faculty were Howard Tadtitz, Dr. Henry Childs, Wendell Hanks, and

Richard Robinson. Questions were chosen so that neither side would be at an advantage. Photo by John Buckle

Clubs, Organizations Urged To Report Their Activities

All campus organizations are urged to begin compiling their semester reports to be turned into the Office of Student Affairs no later than Jan. 12, according to Dave Fratallone, Commissioner of Interclub Council.

There is no special form for the semester reports other than they should contain all the activities of every club on campus. Fratallone warned that any club not turning in a report will be considered defunct by the council.

Fratallone and Dean Amy Dozier also extended their congratulations to each of the clubs undertaking a Christmas project. Clubs signed up for projects include AWS, Mistletoe sale; Sigma Epsilon Theta, Candy Cane and corsage sale; Sigma Phi, LeRoy Boys' party to Disneyland and Christmas for a needy family; Vets, Toys for Tots; Sigma Phi, Christmas gifts for servicemen; Delta Phi Omega, Tau Rho Beta, Phi Kappa Zeta, Phi Beta Lambda, Campus Crusade for Christ, and El Circulo Espanol all plan to provide Christmas for a needy family, and Theta Phi, a Christmas party for Retarded Children.

Cerritos Musicians In Christmas TV Special

Cerritos College musicians will again this year take part in an hour long TV Christmas Special on local channel 7, December 23, at 5:30 p.m.

According to music department instructor Jack Wheaton, the Cerritos based Stan Konton Collegiate Neophonic Orchestra of Southern California will perform on a special Christmas program which will feature some of the most famous names in the contemporary music world. The moderator of the hour long special will be Mr. Henry Mancini. Special musical guests on the program will be Paul Horn, instrumental vocalist; Barbara Kelly, vocalist; and the Jimmy Owens Singers.

The theme of the annual television presentation will be "The Twelve Days of Christmas". New and original music will be presented by some of the leading composers of today. Traditional selections also will be included in the spectacular color program.

The Cerritos Neophonic group is to be the musical backbone of the entire presentation. After the young musicians have rested from their holiday exertions, they are scheduled to travel to the Music Educators Convention in Seattle, Mar. 18. This will be the first time in the history of the convention that a jazz educational format will be featured at the convention. Cerritos should indeed be honored to fill this distinguished slot in the field of music education.

Students Take Boys For Disneyland Fun

Students accompanying the boys from LeRoy Boys' Home to Disneyland should meet in the Student Center parking lot, at 8 a.m. Sunday.

Ticket books are approximately $4 per person, but those going may buy admission if they wish.

The boys will be at Disneyland at 9 a.m. The group will leave the park at 4 p.m. and return to the Student Center by 5 p.m.

Dinner and a Christmas party with gifts for all the boys is planned for 6 p.m. The chicken dinner will be served at a cost of $1 per person. Those wishing to eat at school should sign up in the Student Affairs Office and leave their money with Mary Louise Monnin, secretary to Richard Robinson, dean of men.

STC Offers Student Travel Package Plan

Heavenly Valley near Reno will be the Easter Week, (April 6-13) hide-away destination for college students.

This low cost package deal which includes food, lodging and entertainment, is being offered through the Cerritos Student Travel Center.

Students or their families and faculty members who are interested should call Scotty Duguro at 865-2949 or contact Jack Chambers on campus.

Falcon Needs Your Support

Cerritos' Falcon statue, commemorating "The Year of the Falcon," is nearing completion. This will truly highlight student effort this year.

Already, students have met financial responsibilities with gum-diggar purchases and by participating in the "Frustration Day" car bash. Unfortunately, committee fund raising efforts have not been as successful as expected. However, more spirit generating campaigns are being planned for the near future.

The money still needed amounts to approximately $1,300, to be raised before the actual erection of the statue on February 5, 1968, only seven weeks away.

Still planned is a big car rally shortly after Christmas vacation. A large turnout of fun loving Cerritos students will boost the fund and further stimulate school esprit.

Final fund raising efforts will take the form of direct contributions. With support of the many clubs on campus and the entire student body, the dream of the statue will become a basic part of the campus heritage.

Scholars Open 'College Bowl' Competition

Cerritos College will make its initial appearance in the College Bowl Thursday, Jan. 4, against undefeated Mt. San Antonio. Competition will take place in Burnight Center during the 11 a.m. break.

On display will be the new equipment built especially for the Cerritos bowl squad, which was used for the first time last week when the Faculty All-Stars thrashed a student team.

Members of the Cerritos bowl team are not known at present, but their selection is expected soon. Students attended try-outs for the team on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

The contest is expected to last about 50 minutes, according to the project's sponsor Russell Storkan. Questions will cover sports, current events, painting, music, biology, history and various other fields.

The program is modeled after the national television show, stressing quick recall of specific facts. It is in no way intended to test the intelligence of the competitors.

Anti-Protest Guidelines Set By Governor

The following has been sent to the regents of the University of California and the State College Board of Trustees by Governor Ronald Reagan:

During recent weeks several campuses of the University of California and the State College System have been the scene of incidents of violence and disorder, which have resulted in personal injury, property damage, and disruption of educational activities.

I am therefore requesting that the Regents and the Board of Trustees take immediate action to establish clear guidelines for the administrators of each campus within their jurisdiction, so that law and order can be preserved. These guidelines should include the following principles:

1). Acts of violence, vandalism, and disturbing the peace, which are not tolerated anywhere else in the community, will not be tolerated on our campuses.

2). Local police agencies have jurisdiction over university and college facilities, which are part of the city and county in which they are located. Where university or state college police forces are organized on the campus, their jurisdiction is concurrent with that of the local police, and when the campus police resources are insufficient to prevent and/or control criminal activity of any sort, the local police should be immediately called in.

3). When criminal activity occurs on the campus, administrators, faculty members, and students have a responsibility to notify the police (as does any other citizen) to coordinate with the police in their handling of the situation, and to serve as a witness in court, if necessary.

4). Campus administrators shall give full cooperation to police agencies in maintain liaison and coordination for the prevention of criminal activity and law violations when they receive advance information of such anticipated conduct.

News Briefs

WANT TO SPREAD a little cheer during the holidays? The following projects are currently in progress on campus. Sign up in the Office of Student Affairs to help transport boys from the Le Roy's Home to Disneyland. Leave some canned food in the box in the Student Affairs Office for a needy family. Put some toys in the "Toys for Tots" box in the library, bookstore or Student Center. Bring an inexpensive gift for the Indian children's stocking in the Office of Student Affairs.

NOMINATIONS FOR JAZZ QUEEN should be turned in immediately in the office of Student Affairs. The Jazz Queen Pageant is in early January. The queen will reign over the Cerritos Jazz Festival next semester.

THE CURRENT SHOW now on exhibit at the Art Gallery is the Student Christmas Show and Old Theatrical Posters. These will be on display in the Inner Gallery through today.

MRS. JULIETTE VENITSKY, Cerritos speech instructor, suffered a broken foot in a fall last weekend. She suffered the accident while accompanying her students to Fresno for a speech tournament.

COLLEGE BOWL student squad absorbed a sound thrashing at the hands of the Faculty All-Stars in the bowl's initial competition last Thursday. Purpose of the exhibition was to introduce the program to the students. Sitting on the student panel were "Dandy" Lassiter, Cindy Owens, Sharon Walton, and Eric von Hurst.

TALON MARKS

Why...?

Just like everyone else, we get tired of continually speaking of student apathy, particularly just to fill up this oft-times vacant editorial spot.

Citing the record turnouts for the senate election, the Homecoming court election, the Vets Blood Drive, and the drive for Christmas for LeRoy's, ASCC President Eric von Hurst recently expressed his deep satisfaction over the campus thus far this year. "I would like to thank and congratulate each student that has made this first semester success possible," he said.

Even though the accomplishments have been achieved by only a few, the whole school benefits, and since things are being done, we respect the right of those who wish to remain uninvolved. Yet those who do wish to serve their school and community deserve some consideration as well.

During the Homecoming election, organizations spent hours making posters for their candidates, only to see them torn down and destroyed. Everyone hoped it was the actions of an elite group of immature adolescents, caught up in the excitement of competition. This apparently wasn't the case, however.

Recently, the Veterans' Club undertook a Toys for Tots project. Posters to that effect were posted around the Student Center, and 24 hours later these, too, had been destroyed.

We can offer no excuse or find any reason for the vandalism in this instance. Why?

...Club Notes...

Friday night, December 8, students, adults, families and all loving people filled the Student Center as they viewed the talent displayed at the Sixth Annual Edelweis Christmas Festival.

German Club President Eric Von Hurst introduced the first performance; a duo from Warren High School, Inge Walther and Rowena Schonsted singing "Silent Night" in its original German form.

Alice Marques, an accomplished soprano singer from Spain entertained the audience with three selections in German, giving an explanation before each song.

Donche Dikova, a retired, renowned piano player, accompanied Miss Marques with these selections and then played four selections of her own in solo.

The Swabian Dance Group, composed of youth in the Southern California area who came over from Europe performed in their native costumes to their own music.

The duo from Warren finished the show, inviting the audience to sing along.

After the performances, everyone danced and enjoyed the refreshments.

The Real Christmas

Campus Crusade for Christ presented two folk groups, Dick Day and the "True Meaning of Christmas" at their special Dec. 12 meeting in LIF-3.

After a few Christmas songs, Dick Day, a Crusade worker from Biola College was introduced as, "perhaps the best speaker Campus Crusade has."

He told about the trees, presents, and drinks that go with Christmas. Then he told about the baby Jesus and what he can mean in a person's life.

Filling the room with laughter as he brought out his dynamic message, he related that religion wasn't the answer. Examples of this viewpoint were Hindu Leader Mahatma Gandhi and Buddha both confessed on their death bed that their life was incomplete because they hadn't really found a meaning to life.

Covering several different aspects of the Christian life, Day gave everyone a chance to accept Jesus Christ as their personal Savior.

Club Expresses Thanks To Staff

Dear Editor:

Edelweis, the German Club of Cerritos College, would like to thank you most heartily for the fine article which appeared in the school paper on Friday, Dec. 8, concerning our Annual Christmas Festival. We had been greatly disappointed the previous week and had registered a complaint with Mr. Forthum. It was pointed out to us that there are many factors involved in the selection or deletion of news items and we truly appreciate your problems.

We realize that it is not easy to satisfy everyone, and that the life of a newspaper is a very complex one. When a good report is given we would like to thank you and tell you how much we appreciate your cooperation. Our club depends on Talon Marks for publicity and communications and we do not want you to feel that we take your fine help for granted.

All members of our club wish to thank you again.

With sincere appreciation,
Edelweis

Court Writes

Dear Students,

The Supreme Court of Cerritos College will be instituting a Grand Jury Proceeding for the sake of expediting matters. This Jury will be made up of 19 full-time ASCC students chosen from the Student Body at large.

As of now, the Grand Jury will convene on a temporary basis to inquire into the merits of a particular case which is now before us.

Selection of members shall begin shortly. Therefore you, as a member of the Student Body, may receive a letter very shortly announcing your placement on the Jury. Needless to say your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.

I can say with all due regards, that this indeed is a progressive step in the right direction towards bringing student government to the student — to metering justice on a basis of equity and objectivity.

Former Coed Talks On Her Office Job

Students in the legal secretarial program heard Paula Ward, former Cerritos coed, and Theodore S. Wentworth, her employer, speak on the sidelights of this "Lively, Interesting and Challenging Job in a Legal Office".

Miss Ward won the Bank of America Award in secretarial science while attending Cerritos in 1966.

Wentworth spoke about the boss's side of the employer-employee working relationship and the need for a good educational background if legal secretaries intend to advance in their field, stated Roy Maki, instructor.

Class Tours Offices

Lockhead California facility in Burbank was recently visited by members of the technical secretarial class at Cerritos.

Students toured the modern offices seeing equipment in operation, such as the automatic typewriters. They were also given a close look into the aerospace industry and its role in national defense.

Mears Speaks To Vets Club

Guest speaker at the Veterans Club luncheon last Tuesday was Dr. Jack Mears, Cerritos College president. He spoke on the influence of veterans in the colleges of today.

Dr. Mears stated that veterans established a stability necessary on the campus, according to Andy Bergon, secretary.

After his speech he answered questions on points of interest to Cerritos students.

During the luncheon past Veterans Club "Misses of the Month" were made honorary members of the organization and received the Chi Gamma Iota pin.

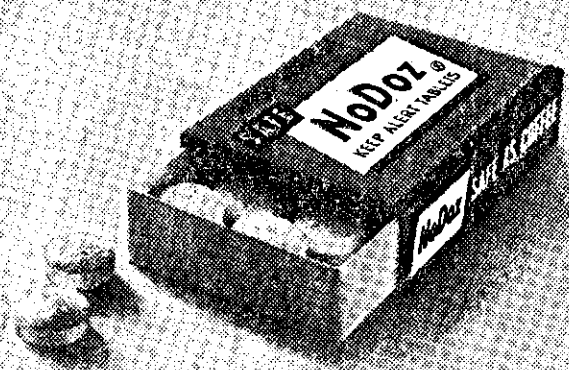

Maureen Oyama was also made an honorary member of the club for donating secretarial services.

John Reynolds, president, thanked the members for making this the most active semester for the club.

He reminded the veterans to encourage support of the current Toys for Tots campaign. There are collection boxes in the library and Student Affairs Office.

The toys are being distributed by the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

'67' Year Of The Falcon Reaches Climax

Falcon Soars Over Quad Soon

TRYING HIS WINGS, the shape of the falcon-to-be seems almost ready for flight to the top of its pedestal. Under construction in the metal shop, the tri-metallic statue is being readied for the spring.

Last fall semester, under the authorship of then Senator Pete Haagsma, a bill was introduced to the Senate which authorized construction of a permanent statue of our school symbol, the falcon. Most students are aware of the existence of this project. However, it has recently become apparent that a large portion of the student body is somewhat uncertain or uninformed as to the purposes, aims and actual physical aspects of the falcon statue project.

The entire undertaking was the direct result of an idea by a few far-sighted individuals in the student government. This extremely active and ambitious group of student leaders was concerned over the obvious lack of school spirit at Cerritos. Unlike most good ideas that fall into the hands of a group of young people, this idea was carried out to a concrete reality. After assuring themselves that they had the active support of the entire student population, a committee was established to carry out the plans that had, by then, received the approval and endorsement of the school governing board.

With the cooperation of art department instructor Mel Wood and Oscar Hart of the metal shop, plans were drawn up for a huge and modernistic statue of the school symbol. After consultation with the school architects, administration and student government, it was decided that the statue would be erected in the center of the quad. A design was submitted, and was approved by the architects, for a thirty-four foot pedestal rising out of the center of the Quad, with a replica of the school mascot and symbol perched atop. A marble plaque inscribed with the college alma mater will be located near the base of the pedestal. The design and finished appearance of the statue will be in keeping with the overall architectural style of the entire Cerritos campus. Also taken into consideration was statue's effect on the proposed building expansion of the adjacent library. The statue is expected to enhance the center quad area by its close proximity to the, soon to be constructed, two-story library complex.

Upon completion, the statue will provide a centrally located gathering place for rallies and other campus functions. In addition to a contribution towards a more active and productive school spirit, the statue will be a lasting monument to the "Year of the Falcon."

The result of a recent senate resolution has added an additional purpose to the falcon statue effort. The strong and unanimous supporting vote by the student governing body voiced the decision that the monument also be dedicated, not only to the Year of the Falcon, but also to "all of the Cerritos students who have given their lives in the service of their country". A plaque bearing this dedication will be placed near the base of the pedestal along with the marble plaque engraved with the words of the college alma mater.

Construction began on the statue early this semester. The finished product will tower thirty-nine feet in the air over the center of the campus quad. This project by students of Cerritos College is considered to be one of the most outstanding efforts of the semester and of the year of the Falcon.

Yuletide Wishes

by Larry Wolfe

This month the world is celebrating a holiday which has weathered trials for almost 2,000 years. To each of us these few days mean something not entirely different from our neighbors.

Many of us envision ourselves having a snow fight, racing down a mountain slope, or riding through the surf at Huntington. Others dare to face the rigors of seasonal work in shopping centers or amusement parks, so that we can purchase presents or continue their education. Each of us has an individual view of our own vacation, and we all have our own opinions as to where we should spend them.

But on one point we should stand united: that being the spirit in which this season was created.

Surely in this generation of idealistic causes, the spirit of Christmas is not to be won in the streets, but in the minds and hearts of sensible students throughout the world.

Earth Flies In Falcon Ceremony

Ground breaking ceremonies for the Falcon Statue were held last Friday in the center campus quad. Present for the history making ceremony were many dignitaries from the local community and school administration.

Turning the first shovel of earth was Dr. Jack Mears, President of Cerritos College. Sharing the sophisticated dirt duties were Mr. Arthur Kulzer, President of the school Board of Trustees; Dr. Bruce Browning, Vice President for Academic Affairs; and a most distinguished visitor, Mayor pro-tem of the City of Norwalk, Mr. Demitrio A. Apodaca. Others present were Eric Von Hurst, ASCC president and Monte Gualtiere, Chairman of the Falcon Statue Committee.

The ground breaking ceremony kicked off the construction for the campus landmark, to be completed by the first day of the coming semester.

Library Changes Call For Latest Innovations In Learning Devices

Expansion of the Cerritos College Library Services is soon to be underway. Combined study and planning over a period of years of school architects, the college governing board, administration, faculty, students and various citizen's advisory groups has culminated in what will soon be the new Cerritos Learning Materials Center.

The Cerritos campus, when originally designed, was set up to serve a student body of four thousand full-time students on a site of approximately ninety-five acres. However, after a comprehensive enrollment projection study was made, it was determined that it was necessary to provide additional facilities. It was found that classroom and other facilities would have to be built to serve more than 10 thousand students by 1980.

Based on these new enrollment projections, building and facility studies, classroom utilization and space studies, a new list of building needs was established for Cerritos' future. Near the top of this list was the requirement for additional classroom area. The result is now an obvious one. Cerritos students can see the large, three-story classroom building nearing completion on the northwest corner of the campus. Next on the list of needed construction is expansion of the existing Library facilities.

Tremendous advances in the field of education have developed a new concept of what services and functions a modern library should provide. No more can a college library merely be considered a depository for books. Recent technological advances have made knowledge more easily available to larger numbers of students. As a result, the library has assumed a stature of great significance and is more and more becoming the center of every college campus. A modern library in a higher educational environment is now expected to be a source of all learning materials. More important, it is also expected to be actively involved in the process of teaching. The progressive and up-to-date facility to be constructed at Cerritos is a product of this concept in educational advancement.

The conception of the new Learning Materials Center was based on two major necessities. Access by students to audio-visual, programmed learning materials, and more reference materials were basic needs. Added facilities will be provided by an expansion of existing services and the construction of newer and more modern equipment and facilities. It was also found that increased space for individual, independent student study was needed. These observations and plans were the result of much study and planning by experts in the field of education.

To meet these needs, a set of requirements for the new Learning Materials Center was presented to the school architects. Problems of design and utility were overcome with difficulty, but the resulting floor plan design was found to conform to all requirements in every respect. To preserve the central quad architectural picture, the architects decided that the east end of the existing library could be extended out into the quad. This extension will be a two-level configuration. The lower level will be partially below ground. The upper level will feature a balcony that encircles the entire east end of the building providing a view over the quad. The existing portion of the library building will remain essentially the same, only the floorplan will be reorganized.

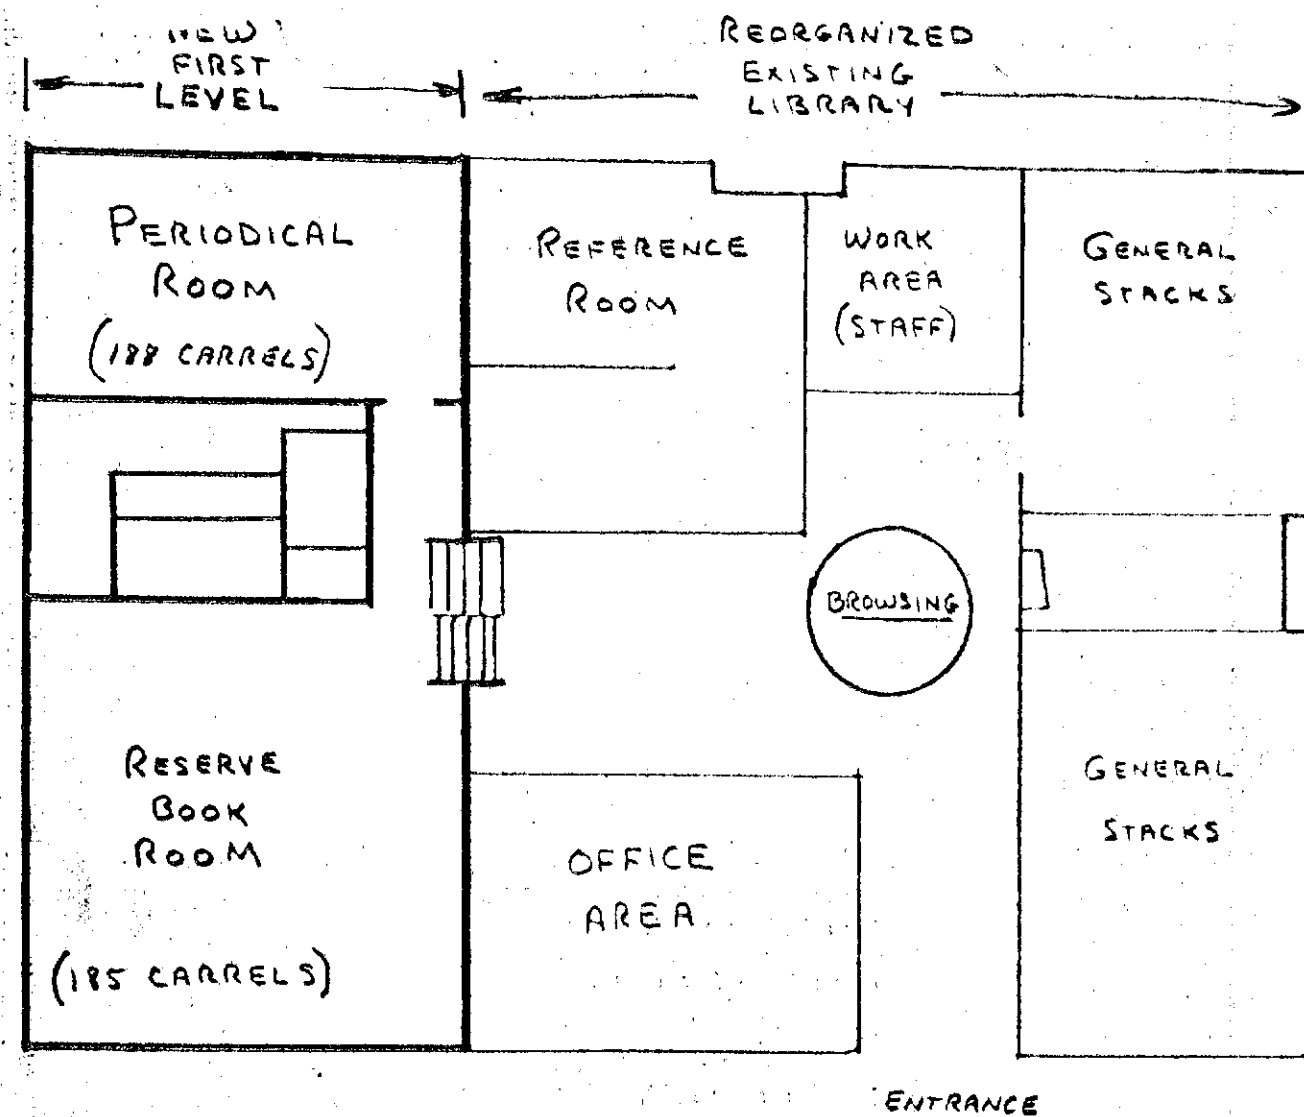

The top floor of the new Center will contain a tremendously expanded Library Services section. This floor will boast a large periodical room with individual study booths to serve 188 students. Also on this floor will be the large Reserve Book section with an additional 185 booths. Separating the two areas will be offices and rooms for micro-film reading, a current issues reading room and the staff working area. At the west end of this upper level will be stairs leading down to the main, ground level. Below this level, and sunk below the main level, will be the lower or first story of the new facility.

This floor will contain the expanded audio-visual department, an experimental classroom, more independent student areas, and a varied collection of training aid rooms. Plans for this section of the Learning Materials Center will make this library function one of the most modern facilities in the state.

Construction of the new library facilities due to begin as soon as all other present construction has been completed. All construction on campus has been scheduled on a need priority basis, before one phase of construction can be begun, the present phase of expansion must be completed. Cerritos is now in the phase that involves the construction of additional classroom area. Upon completion of this building the construction of the new Learning Materials Center will begin.

As a result of farsighted and progressive planning on the part of school district officials Cerritos will soon be one of the only Junior Colleges in the state to enjoy this modern benefit of today's educational technology.

FALL SEMESTER '67 -- '68 Revised Final Exam Schedule

DAY CLASSES: Final examination for all day classes (7 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.) will be held according to this schedule. Examinations will be held in the rooms used for the regular class meetings, except for physical education activity classes which will be scheduled in the Gymnasium. Classes which regularly meet for a double period one day and a single period another day — e.g., 8-10; 9 TH — will take the final examination scheduled for that hour on which the class meets both days — for above example, 9 TTH. Classes scheduled vertically on a single day — e.g., 9-12 T or 12-4 F — will take the final examination scheduled for the first hour on which the class meets — for example, 9 T for the 9-12 T class and 12 F for the 12-4 F class.

Classes starting on the half hour will follow the exam schedule for the next even hour — e.g., classes scheduled from 9:30-11 will follow the exam scheduled for the 10:00 hour.

Students who are unable, because of personal illness, to take examinations as scheduled must make individual arrangements with instructors involved. Notification of such illness with instructor involved. Notification of such illness should be made promptly to the Counseling Office in order to avoid receiving a failing grade.

Mike Ellison, the fiery, fierce competitor and middle linebacker for this year's Cerritos grid squad, was honored as Most Valuable Player for 1967 highlighting the 11th Annual Cerritos Bench Awards Banquet held Wednesday night, Dec. 6, at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim.

Special Delivery: North Pole

Deck the halls with bows of holly... 'Tis the season to be jolly... It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas... and all that other stuff. I guess it's about time I knocked out that yearly letter to old St. Nick. This year I include the Cerritos Coaching staff in my little note. With their busy routines and tough schedules, they probably won't have time enough to drop him a line for themselves.

Dear Santa,

I'm not going to ask for much for myself this year. The coaches and athletes here at Cerritos have been real good and they deserve something special for their efforts. I would appreciate it if you would leave them that little something they request come Christmas Eve.

Coach Simonek would like a six pack of Metrecal for his wrestlers. Coach Kamanski would like a pair of track shoes (with a 9.6 sprinter in them).

Coach Wright would like a set of expandable and retractable holes—depending on which team is putting.

Coach Kincaid would like a carton of Right Guard so his players can start chasing flies and have the flies stop chasing them.

Coach Cates would like to have back the final five minutes of the Bakersfield game.

Coach Killingsworth would like a Lew Alcindor doll that says "No comment" when you pull the string.

Coach Tyne would like a Pancho Gonzalez tennis racket (or better yet a Pancho Gonzalez).

Pete Valenzuela would like a year's supply of adhesive tape. Don Hall already got his present...Cerritos stays in Metro!

The Faculty All-Stars would like a ten gallon bottle of liniment.

Mike Ellison would like a pair of tickets to the Rose Bowl—or better yet to play there someday.

Paul Ruffner would like all the doors at Cerritos to be raised three inches.

Bill Struve would like another chance at that fella that beat him in CIF last year. (And he will because he's at El Camino this year).

Craig Conaway would like someone to create a real cure-all for his injury plagued body.

Bob Shupp would like a job as lifeguard at the Y—W.C.A., that is. Well I guess that just about does it for this year. Please be good to them and don't forget their wishes. Oh me! I don't ask for much, Santa. Just give me a good right leg. Thanks.

Yours truly,
Mike Bower

Falcon Grid Trio Named On All- Conference Team

Falcons' Mike Becklund, Jim Grissum, and Jim Wray were selected to All-Metropolitan Conference teams by the opposing coaches culminating the 1967 football honors received by Cerritos players.

Mike Becklund continued to earn recognition for his fine work at tackle for the Falcons this year by earning a first team spot in the selections.

The 6'6", 210-lb. defensive tackle was also accorded honorable mention on the JC Grid-Wire National Junior College Poll All-American squad. Becklund also earned the Outstanding Lineman Award for 1967 at the recent Bench Awards Banquet.

Linebacker Jim Grissum and tackle Jim Wray were named to second team All-Metro position for their fine work this season.

It was the second year in a row for Grissum, as he was cited last year also. Jim earned recognition for his hard, aggressive play this year.

Jim Wray was a mainstay on the offensive line all season. He was singled out for his fine blocking more than once, and his opening of holes was a big reason for the success of the Falcon ground game.

MIKE ELLISON EXPRESSES HIS THANKS TO SCHOOL, COACHES

By MIKE BOWER
Sports Editor

Mike Ellison expressed his gratitude and appreciation over his selection as Most Valuable Player for 1967 on the Cerritos College Football team in a very sincere manner.

"It was one of the greatest honors I have ever had bestowed upon me. It is especially so because it came from a Cerritos football team. They are always so good here, it is a real privilege to be awarded such an honor."

This was not unusual, for Mike Ellison is a very sincere person.

His sincerity came through as he asked me to express his thanks to the student body, faculty, and pep squad for their backing of the team this season.

"Their support was tremendous this year. Also the Cerritos Bench did an outstanding job in their support of the team," stated Mike.

For Mike it has been a season of great strides. One in which he went from last year's second string middle linebacker to this year's MVP.

"It was a year of great education for me. It will benefit and help me the rest of my life. You learn a lot of things on a team such as we had this season that you wouldn't on an undefeated one."

"Football builds more than just athletes. It builds character. It teaches you about life," he continued.

To his opponents and teammates he is a fierce, dedicated athlete, but the Falcon gridders held Mike in such high esteem that they elected him team captain.

Next to football, Mike's great love is people. He is always there with a smile and is everybody's buddy. "Good natured" and "fun loving" are two adjectives that fit Mike to a "T".

Dedication and desire spark Mike Ellison on the gridiron. Football is a very important part of this man's life. He was high in his praise of the coaching staff of the Falcons.

"I'd like to give a special thanks to the coaching staff and especially Tank Harris. He taught me a lot about football, but he is also a great character builder."

For Mike the future is undecided. He has had several offers from major colleges, but hasn't made up his mind as yet.

"I want to go to a school where I can play a lot of football," he remarked.

What is next year's Cerritos going to be like? Mike says that the team will be a good one.

"We had a lot of very talented freshmen this season and they will be becoming back. Also many high school teams in our district had fine seasons with many outstanding seniors who will come here. I would say that if they play up to their potential, we'll have another winning season."

Yes, Mike Ellison is sincere, dedicated, and grateful to Cerritos College. I'm sure the feeling is mutual.

Ellison, a 5'10", 205 lb. mainstay on the famed Falcon defensive unit, graduated from Bellflower High School where he received additional honors for his grid achievements including SCVL Lineman of the Year. In addition to his MVP selection, Mike was also chosen team captain by his fellow teammates.

Joining Mike in gaining honors were Bob Fjeldsted, Greg Perez, Ed Romero, and Mike Becklund.

Fjeldsted was cited as Most Improved Player on the '67 squad. The 6'0", 210 lbs. tackle hails from Excelsior High.

Greg Perez was honored as Most Valuable Back for his fine running efforts from his tailback position.

Ed Romero, Falcon flanker this season, gained the Most Inspirational Player award.

Mike Becklund was named Most Valuable Lineman for his stalwart line play this season at defensive tackle.

The grid awards highlighted an evening that was set aside to honor the 1967 Falcons for their fine comeback after being in the cellar at mid-season, and for preserving a Cerritos string of 11 years without a losing season.

Filling in for the announced keynote speaker, Tom Prothro, was his Administrative Assistant and grid aide Lew Steuck.

"Give as much dedication to the game of life as you have football" was the advice offered by the UCLA coach to the Falcon gridders.

Steuck spoke on UCLA's past season on their new place-kicking sensation Zenon Andruschysian.

The fine crowd of 487 also witnessed the special award given to Cerritos Athletic Director Don Hall for his many years of service to the Cerritos Bench.

The Bench presented the well deserved award. Donating the other awards were Artesia Rotary Club, Mike Ellison, Norwalk Kiwanis, Bob Fjeldsted and Greg Perez, Artesia-Cerritos Lions Club, Mike Becklund, Hawaiian Gardens Lionettes, Ed Romero.

Other presentations during the course of the evening consisted of the naming of lifetime passes to Greg Perez and Emmitt White for earning three letter awards.

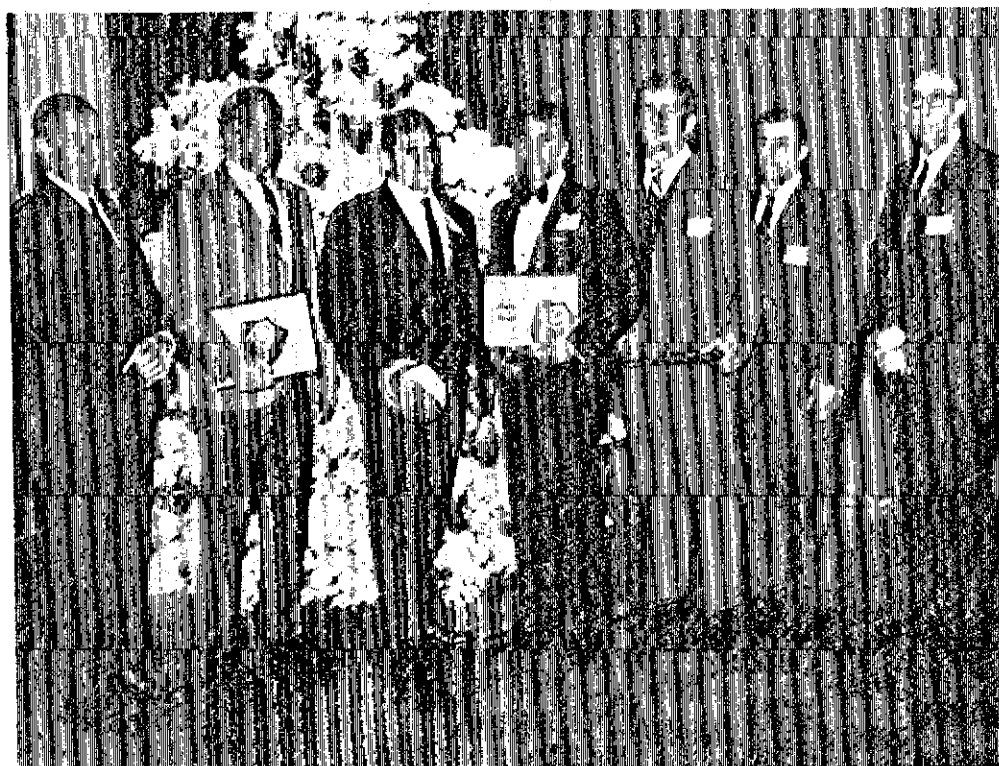

The 1967 lettermen were presented to the audience, with 45 members of this year's team earning letters.

Receiving recognition for their selection on All-Metropolitan Conference teams were Mike Becklund, first team tackle, Jim Grissum, second team linebacker, and Jim Wray, second team tackle.

METRO DATELINE

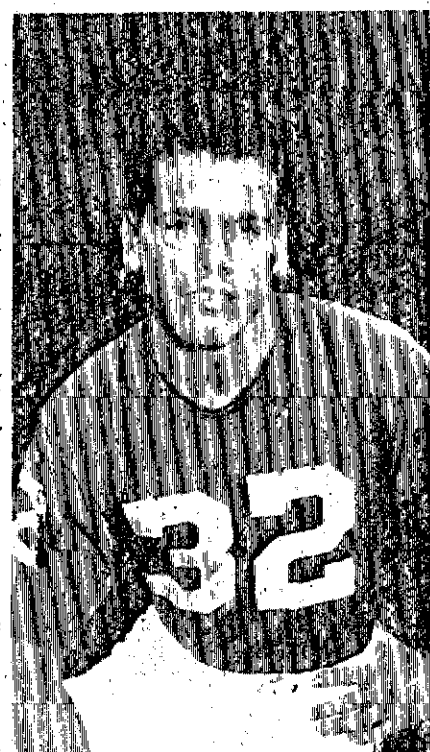

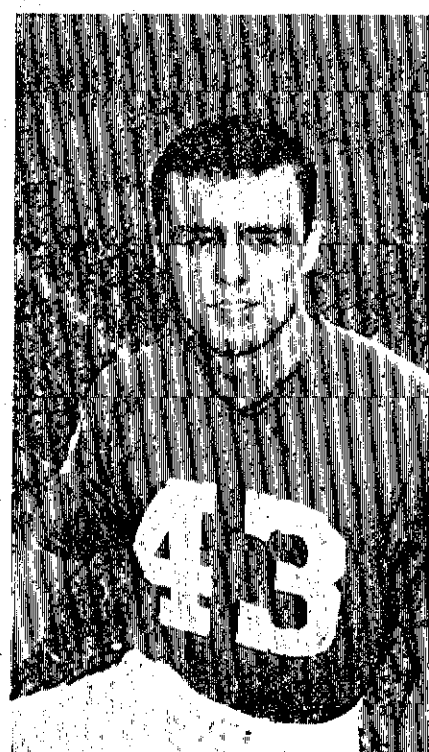

LONG BEACH - Freshman Jon Berchert, last year's Moore League MVP while at Jordan High, has been a pleasant surprise to Coach Chuck Kane's Viking cage squad. Berchert has averaged 10 points a game joining last year's lettermen Shawn Johnson, Gary Zeller, and Ken Booker in the Vike scoring attack.

SANTA MONICA - The Corsairs open their second season of wrestling this year and coach Bob Blix is very enthusiastic.

Valuable Back and Lifetime Pass; Bob Fjeldsted, Most Improved; Mike Becklund, Most Valuable Lineman; Emmitt White, Lifetime Pass; Mike

Ellison, Most Valuable Player.

Hoopsters Extend Win Streak To Five

BIG MAN on the Falcon cage squad is 6'8" center Paul Ruffner. Last year's leading Cerritos rebounder, he is again the leading board man and is top scorer on the squad.

Ruffner, Lefler Lead Assault In Two Big Weekend Wins

Sparked by the shooting and rebounding of Paul Ruffner and Jim Lefler, the Cerritos Basketball team ran its string of consecutive victories to five as they picked up two wins over the weekend at the expense of San Diego CC 98-71 and Southwestern College 61-54.

Ruffner the Falcon center and Lefler at forward led the attack in both contests with the former collecting 17 and 11 points respectively, and the latter 12 and 13.

Also playing well and hitting in double figures in the weekend road games were Jim Boyd, 14 and Fred Zitar, 10, against San Diego and John Van Vleet, 11, and Lee Mansell, 10, versus the Southwestern squad.

The team hit better than 55% of their field goal attempts in downing San Diego. The Falcons built up a big 52-28 half time lead and coasted to their fourth win in a row.

The following night it was not as easy however, as the cagers ran into stiffer opposition from the Southwestern team.

They dropped their field goal percentage to 40% and led at half time 33-22.

A fired up Southwestern team came out of the dressing room and outscored the Falcons in the second half 22-28 though the Cerritos squad hung on to win.

Cerritos' superiority on the boards was quite evident as they out rebounded SDC 42-28 and So. Western 47-28. This was a major factor in the Falcons ability to use their ball control offense effectively.

The team is presently entered in the Chaffey Basketball Tournament as Chaffey College in Alta

Loma. All Falcon games in the tourney are slated to begin at 9:00 p.m.

Also on the Cerritos schedule for the holidays is the Modesto Tournament Dec. 20-23, and the Sam Berry Glendale Tourney Dec. 27-30.

Ruffner is averaging 10 rebounds and 15 points a game to lead the team in both department thus far.

The team has averaged a fine 47.2 rebounds a game and 80.2 points per contest.

Grapplers Reign At Palomar

It appears that the Falcon wrestling team is continuing where it left off last year as the defending Metropolitan Conference champions opened their 1967-1968 campaign last week with 3 victories.

Pierce Junior College was the initial Falcon victim as Coach Hal Simonek's grapplers rolled to a 41-3 triumph. They followed that up by burying Mt. SAC 48-3 here in the Falcon gym.

Last Friday the Falcons traveled to Palomar to participate in the Palomar Invitational Tournament. Among some of the teams joining Cerritos in the 18-school tournament were El Camino, Santa Ana, Mesa of Arizona and San Diego Mesa, all perennial JC wrestling powers. In addition to these teams, the tournament also featured the wrestling team that will represent Mexico in the 1968 Olympics to be held in Mexico City.

With a display of outstanding individual effort by the Falcons, Cerritos rolled to a surprising 1st-place finish. Final scoring in the tournament saw the Falcons on top with 88 points while their nearest competitor, Santa Ana JC, tallied only 68. El Camino was close behind Santa Ana as the Warriors finished with 65 points.

Cerritos had four first place, two second and two fourth place finishers in the tournament. Dave Raptis (123 lb. div.) scored a convincing 5-0 decision over Jim Faulk of Cypress, a member of the U. S. Traveling Team to Europe, to capture a first in his weight class. Ron Kenworthy was chosen Outstanding Wrestler of the Tournament for his feat of pinning every one of his opponents and topping it off by pinning John Miller of El Camino in the finals. Kenworthy wrestles in the 152-lb. class.

Gene Bernard and Gary Maloff also earned first-place finishes while John Norfleet (167-lb.) and heavy-weight (6'1", 253-lb) Bill Struve both finished second in their classes.

"It was an outstanding team performance," said Coach Simonek. "And I was very proud of the team. I was a little worried about our lack of experience before the meet, but they showed me I had nothing to worry about."

The Falcons traveled to Santa Ana for a 4-day meet on Tuesday, but the results were not available at press time.

Next on the schedule for Cerritos is the Cal Poly Tournament to be conducted on January 5-6 at San Luis Obispo.

The Falcons appear to be well on their way to improving on last year's second place in the state.

IT'S MINE - Falcon hoopsters Fred Zitar (52) and John Lefler (00) fight Cypress opponents for a rebound during preseason action. Both boys will be depended on to bring down many rebounds this year as they man the boards for Coach Killingsworth's squad.

Shupp, Ring Named MVP's At Polo, Cross Country Banquet

Harrier Dick Ring and poloist Bob Shupp were named Most Valuable players of their respective squads for 1967 at the Fall Sports Banquet for Cross Country and Water Polo last Wednesday night at the student center.

Head Water Polo coach at UCLA, Mr. Bob Horn, was the guest speaker highlighting an evening of recognition for the two Falcon teams.

Horn was head water polo coach here at Cerritos before moving on to take over the reins at Westwood.

Named team captain as well as MVP of Coach Dave Kamanski's Harriers was sophomore Dick Ring from Warren High in Downey. Ring led the Cerritos team throughout the season and was the lone Falcon to qualify for the Southern California Championships.

Bob Shupp, a freshman from Downey High School, was selected as MVP on this year's edition of Coach Pat Tyne's Water Polo team. Shupp was a standout all season long and was named to first team All-Metropolitan Conference.

Co-captains of this year's polo team were sophomores Kurt Dietrich and Dan Struve. Both were also accorded All-Conference honors along with Shupp, Ed French, Jack Robinson, and Ron Morales.

Presenting the awards to their players were Coaches Tyne and Kamanski. Both the cross country and polo teams finished second in their Metro loop standings.

The polo team placed fourth in Southern California after taking the State Championship the year before.

Don Siriani, Cerritos Dean of Student Personnel, served as Master of Ceremonies, and Don Hall, Director of Athletics and Eric Von Hurst, Student Body President also took part in the evening's program.

BOB HORN, head water polo coach at UCLA addresses the audience at last Wednesday night's polo-cross country banquet.

Wrestlers Fighting To Restore Public Image

By MIKE BOWER
Sports Editor

Correct us if we are wrong, but it seems to us that the rule book of wrestling prohibits the throwing of punches during a match.

This supports the charge we are bringing up against the so called sport of professional wrestling. They have "spared no punches" in giving the true sport a black eye.

The pros, and we use the term loosely, with all their manufactured grunts and groans, fancy costumes, and wild man tactics, have helped the sport about as much as Brutus helped Caesar.

The real wrestlers, from high schools and colleges, are fighting back however. They are out to show the public the true competitive spirit and athletic quality in the sport that originated back in the Grecian Olympics.

Here at Cerritos, we have a wrestling team that is among the leaders in this new revolution.

Under the direction of Hal Simonek, himself a former championship wrestler, the team finished number two in the State Tourney last season. This season it has been promised they will try harder and grab off the number one spot.

Wrestling is a sport. Wrestling deserves support. For those of you who haven't witnessed a battle in this war to regain prestige, I encourage you to do so.

Who knows? Before long "King Pro Rasslin'" may be destroyed and the true heir to the title will reign... the sport of wrestling.

Rebounds, Ball Control Help Give Cagers Best Start Ever

"I would have to say that this is the best team I have coached here. At least our record indicates that. The year we went undefeated in the league we didn't have as good a start as this. This is our best start since I have been here."

And thus Jim Killingsworth, head basketball coach at Cerritos, summed up his appraisal of this year's edition of the Falcon cage squad.

The season has been bright with the Falcons posting a 5-0 mark thus far. The prospects for the games to come look just as good, as the Falcons are flying high.

Killingsworth was lavish in his praise of the team, but he did indicate the hoopsters have had some problems.

"We are real strong on the boards this year and are working pretty well on defense. Our problem is that most of our boys were high school centers and have to adjust to playing outside."

The Falcon mentor says the Metro Conference will be a tough one this season.

"Long Beach will again be tough as they were last year. But it looks like there will be four top teams in Valley, Santa Monica, Bakersfield, and Long Beach."

Killingsworth described his team as a control-type offense with not much speed.

"We will play ball control with not a lot of fast breaking because of our lack of speed. We use mainly a man-to-man defense occasionally going into a zone."

The big man on the Falcon team both size wise and playing wise, 6'8" Paul Ruffner, last year's top rebounder, also commented on the current squad.

"This year we are a lot stronger on the boards," the center stated. "Although we lack the top shooting, we'll make up for it with good board work."

"We've got a real good team, and we'll win a lot of ball games," he assured.

Joining Ruffner in the shooting and rebounding chores this season is sophomore Jim Lefler, a transfer from Whittier College.

Jim agrees that this year's team is a good one.

"It is as good or better potential than any team I have played on. If we improve, we can go a long way."

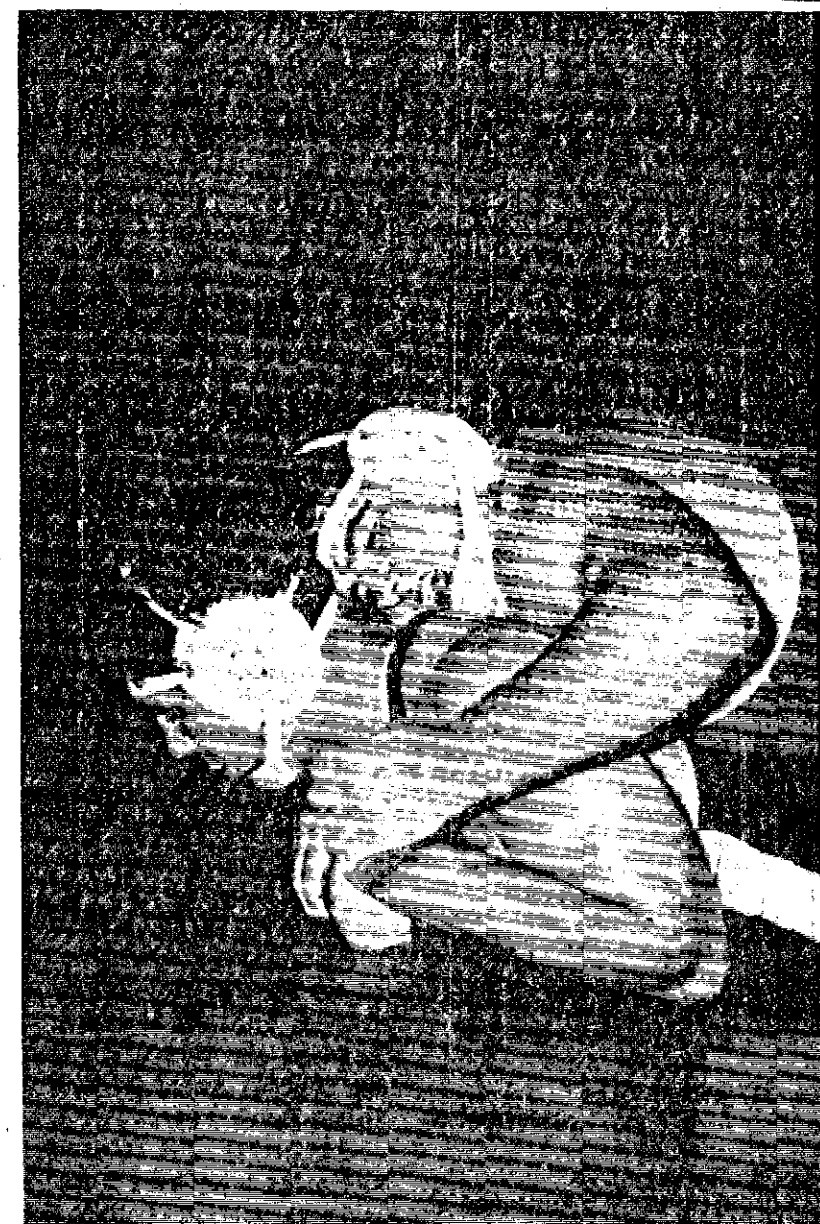

Jim states the difference between the type of basketball played here and at Whittier as "a difference in style. Here we play ball control, and at Whittier we played a more wide open game."

All three agreed that the strong point of the team is the rebounding. "A strong board team is a good defense team," the coach told his players.

They also agreed that Orange Coast was their toughest opponent yet.

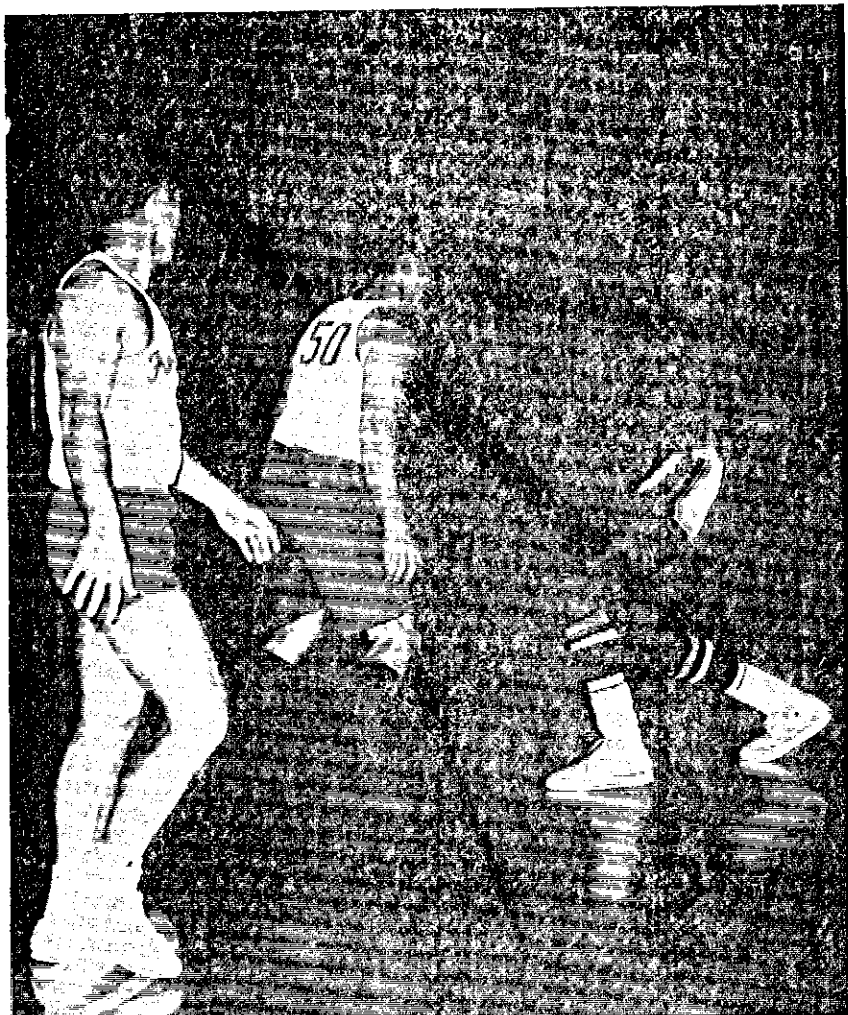

"They were a good board team also, and very physical," remarked Ruffner.

The Falcons hit the tournament circuit during the holidays. They are currently playing in the Chaffey Tournament, with the Modesto and San Barry-Glendale Tourneys on tap.

NUMBER ONE - Falcon wrestler Bill Struve, freshman from Downey, has been called "the top heavyweight in the state" by Cerritos coach Hal Simonek. Bill finished second in CIF last season as a senior at Downey High. The 6'1" 253 lb. grappler heads a list of freshmen on this year's wrestling team.

RED BERMUDAS may not be the conventional basketball uniform but they nicely compliment the half-sox sported by Dr. Henry Childs, show stealer, in the Faculty All-star-Harlem Clowns game. The faculty won the game, though they could not rival the pre-game choreography exhibited by the Clowns to the rousing "Sweet Georgia Brown." Organization Sends Students To Confab

Members of Phi Beta Lambda, the national honorary business fraternity, held their state conference recently at Fresno City College.

David Norman and Lois Plowman, business education instructors, accompanied 12 Cerritos representatives on the two-day conference.

Sherri Warren and Judy Eskew, were chairman and secretary, respectively, of the state fund-raising workshop.

Other students who participated in the workshops and planning sessions were Bill G. Campbell, vice president of the Cerritos Phi Beta Lambda Chapter; Carol Sopp, social chairman; Mary Stabile, treasurer; and Gary Leach, president.

The remaining representatives included Cheryl Ingram, Ann Clark, Judy Alcorn, Laura Kurtzweg, Carylan Jones and Linda Hynes.

Why Is Sex...?

Editor's Note: This article is reprinted from the Collegiate Challenge, published by the Campus Crusade for Christ, a national organization, of which there is a chapter on the Cerritos campus.

The article is written by Jon Braun, field coordinator of Campus Crusade and a graduate of North Park Seminary.

Why Is Sex...?

Once upon a time there was a young man who was presented with an opportunity for a free night of free sex. He took it. The great, wise King Solomon, commenting on the young man's decision, said, "And he does not know that it will cost him his life."

It just burns me up! What Solomon said? No, what so many others are saying. The "so many others" are the siren voices singing the virtues of "free sex," "free love" and "new morality." Is just isn't fair. It just isn't fair. In fact, it's just plain cheating . . . cheating hundreds of thousands of the greatest of collegians out of some of the most fantastic and satisfying experiences of life. They aren't being told the whole story.

Sex is a great thing. It's here to stay. It's a sure winner in almost any conversation. It's so big that it presents one really big question, "How can a person get the absolute most out of it?" There's too much here to miss. It is time for the framework of the whole story to be told once again.

Let's start from the beginning. Why is sex? The answer to that depends upon a true understanding of the most exciting human relationship in life—marriage. Several thousands of years ago a man named Moses said, "For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother and cling unto his wife, and the two shall become one flesh." Marriage is two people becoming one, the establishment of the most unique of all human relationships.

Hundreds of years later a group of irritated religious leaders were trying to trap Jesus of Nazareth in a circular argument in regard to marriage and divorce. Responding to them He said, "Haven't you read . . . the two shall become one flesh." Jesus confirmed the age-old understanding that marriage is two people becoming one.

But what is it that makes that oneness take place? What causes two people to become one? The answer to that is more than amazing! Paul, the early Christian itinerant preacher, traveled to the great cosmopolitan city of Corinth and there established a Christian community.

In its earlier history, temple prostitution was the official form of worship in Corinth.

By Paul's day things had changed somewhat. Prostitution wasn't limited to the temples any more, and sex was the really big thing in Corinth. Even some of the men in the church there were involved with some of Corinth's prostitutes. Paul wrote these Corinthians a letter in which he said, "What, don't you know that your bodies are members of Christ? Why then do you join the body of Christ to a prostitute? He who unites with a prostitute becomes one body with her for, 'The two.' He says, 'Shall become one flesh!'" That is the answer as to how two people become one person. That oneness occurs through the act of sexual intercourse.

That's right. In fact, this is the Bible's basic teaching about marriage (not its only teaching, but the basic one). Two people become one in intercourse. There are many great relationships in life, but there is no relationship like that of marriage, and marriage is consummated in intercourse. You may have half a million marriage ceremonies and not have intercourse, and though legally married, you won't be one with anyone. On the other hand you may not have gone through the formality of a marriage ceremony, but if you've had intercourse with some person, you are married to that person in a very real sense.

That doesn't mean we should do away with the marriage ceremony. Not at all! The ceremony is vitally important because it builds a moral fence around the oneness consummated in intercourse, and that fence is vital for maximum protection of the relationship. But to understand why all the protection is needed, you need to understand clearly at least some issues that are involved in intercourse.

The great majority of collegians have been sold a phony understanding of intercourse by those who see it as nothing more than a purely physical act. Some say, "It's just like drinking a glass of water." That isn't even close to the true story. Intercourse is far more than a physical act. It is a whole-person act. The whole person, the real person—physical, spiritual, emotional, volitional, intellectual . . . everything about a person—gets involved in the act. It's supposed to be that way. So that two people can share all that they are with one another. That's the only way two people can really become one. Otherwise, intercourse would be no more meaningful than it is for a couple of dogs.
