'David and Lisa' Opens Two-Week Production

David and Lisa, the fall production of the Cerritos College Theatre Arts Department opened last night and will play this weekend and next weekend in Burnight Center.

The play, starring Deborah Maner as Lisa and Paul Laramore as David, tells the story of two disturbed teenagers who meet at a private school and help each other find the love their parents never were able to give them.

David, the son of a wealthy parents, has a phobia about being touched and Lisa has developed a split personality and talks in rhymes.

The play follows the two teenagers progress through the Berkley School, where they come under sympathetic understanding by the staff of doctors.

Based on the award winning motion picture, which was taken from the book of the same name, the play is under the direction of producer Frank Bock, a veteran of many productions here at Cerritos.

The remainder of the cast includes Jerry Herbener, Mark Abel, Ron Adams, Melody Ashburn, Wanda Beck, Bill Butcher, Vance Carver, Melonie Champ-man, Christ Costello; Dan Darnell, Robert Bunkley, Mike Greene, Charles Hernandez, Glenn Mason, Bill Morre, Barbara McCarthy, Ann Ringsaker, Joan Shaw, and Charlie Tubbs.

This is the first of several plays that will be presented here at Cerritos this year.

Admission to the production is $1 for non-students and fifty cents for students.

One of the unique features of the play will be a filmed sequence which will be used to project a nightmare scene during the play.

According to Bock, "This will contribute significantly to the overall production, depicting in a graphic and meaningful way, the emotional imbalance suffered by David which results in his re-occurring nightmares."

For the filming, which took six hours and consumed over 200 feet of film, Burnight Center was transformed into a motion picture studio. Lights were hung, and cameras were brought in. The entire filmed segment will last only four minutes.

MYSTERY SOLVED — The identity of Freddie and Frieda Falcon will be revealed at tomorrow's football game in Cerritos Stadium.

AWS Picks 'Party Line' Theme For Annual Fall Conference

More than 300 women students from various junior colleges will experience a unique form of communication when they gather on campus Thursday, Nov. 21, for the annual fall AWS Conference. The conference, being hosted this year by the college, will be patterned after the telephone company. The theme chosen is "Party Line" and is set up to give visiting colleges a chance to exchange ideas and projects with other AWS representatives.

According to AWS President Sue Buckley, each college has been invited to bring 11 delegates, one of whom must be an older woman student from its campus. Otherwise the student group is limited to 10 delegates.

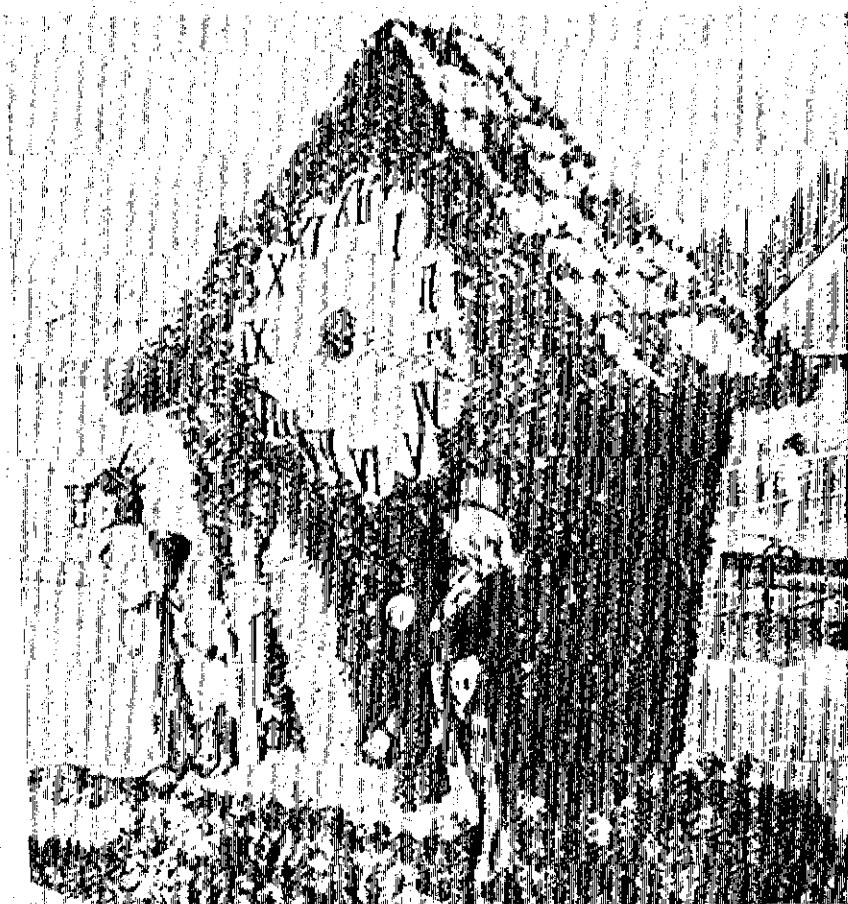

Following registration and refreshments or "Number Please!" in Burnight Center at 1:30, the opening general session, or "Hold the Line," will take place. Featured during this session will be keynote speaker Dan Moore from the Los Angeles Times editorial staff. Moore will speak on the generation gap.

At the conclusion of the general session the assembly will be dismissed to attend workshops. Guilds will be on hand to escort visiting delegates to the various workshops.

The workshops will consist of "Reverse the Charges" (Finance), "Direct Dialing" (Publicity), "Day and Night Rates" (Activities), "Area Codes" (Programs), "Dial Operator" (Presidents), and "Customer Service" (Service Projects).

They will also include "Local Call" (AWS in Student Government), "Person to Person" (Co-ed Events), "Busy Signal" (Older Women Students), "Extension Line" (Recruitment and Involvement), "Information, Please" (Themes and Decorations) and "Wrong Number" (Advisers).

Many of the clubs and organizations on campus have donated both time and members to help with the conference. Sororities will be working as guides and hostesses; Sinawik will take charge of the dinner; and many of the men on campus have offered their time as parking attendants.

SWEEPSTAKES WINNER — Delta Phi Omega sorority and the Veteran's Club teamed to create the Sweepstakes Award homecoming float.

Hard-Working Sammy Marquez Keeps ASCC Financially Sound

By GEORGE WOODWORTH
Features Editor

What in the world could be exciting about adding columns of figures, straightening out financial accounts or balancing the budget? Who on this campus would be so dedicated as to find such a job as just another interesting facet of his service to the Associated Students?

The answers to those questions are found in the person of the third Commissioner of the Week, Sammy Marquez.

As this semester's Commissioner of Finance and Budget, Marquez has had ample opportunity to demonstrate his dedicated attitude toward service to the college in his new role.

Former Senator

Last spring he held a seat in the Senate, where he undertook the serious study of student government with refreshing enthusiasm. He proved to be one of the more stable elements of a controversial Senate that had problems controlling itself. Throughout that period he showed that he was there to facilitate the smooth operation of student government and not to hinder it.

Experience Helps

When he assumed the post of Commissioner of Finance and Budget this semester, he found that his previous student government experience would help him with his new duties, as he would have to work closely with the members of student government and all the organizations and clubs on campus.

The duties of this office entail maintaining an accurate evaluation of the finances of the Associated Student Body and also, to keep the Executive Cabinet informed of all financial matters. In addition, the commissioner must be vigilant in his observation of all club accounts on campus to insure that there are no misuses of funds.

Heads Committee

At the conclusion of the academic year it is the duty of the Commissioner of Finance and Budget to head the Budget Committee, which is shouldered with the responsibility of drafting a new budget for the following college year.

Marquez is a business administration major and appropriately enough is minoring in accounting. He plans to transfer to Cal State, Long Beach, but not before he has straightened out this school financially, of course.

ICC Bans Negligent Groups; Two Given Probationary Status

Sixteen clubs have been kicked off the Cerritos College campus and two more placed on probation by the Inter-Club Council in action during its Oct. 28 meeting.

According to ICC Commissioner John Gordin, the clubs were removed because of their negligence in meeting the demands of the council.

Three Demands

The three mandatory requirements of each club were: 1) A club organizational sheet, 2) A club roster and 3) room request forms.

Eighteen clubs were brought before the council to be removed from active status. Two of these clubs, Dorianas and Alpha Gamma Sigma, petitioned to the group to be readmitted and were placed on probation for a period of one month, when they will again come before the organization to be taken off probation.

Those Taken Off

Those organizations that were taken off active status were ASTME, Beta Phi Gamma, Delta Phi Omega, Delta Sigma Omega, El Circulo Espanol, History Club, Home Economics, Kappa Theta Phi, Phi Rho Pi, Tau Phi, California College Democrats, Campus Crusade for Christ, College Recreation Assn., Senior Adults of Cerritos, Sports Car Club, and Arab Club.

These clubs may come before the ICC at the November meeting and petition to be put back on campus.

It was the first disciplinary action taken by ICC during 1968.

Other Business

In other business the date of Nov. 24 was set for the ICC Bar-B-Que and Sports Day. Nancy Ramirez of Sinawik and Allen Pitta of Circle K were named co-chairmen of the Yung Woon Choi Committee. Dan Bisher, AMS president, was elected ICC president pro-tempore.

Rally Salutes Younger Set

"A Salute to Three-Year-Olds" was the theme of the weekly rally held during the 11 a.m. "free hour" in the Student Center yesterday.

The rally featured the fun-loving Cerritos pep squad in a number of skits and numbers dedicated to the younger set.

Also included in the performance was the introduction of the Cerritos College water polo team and comments on their remarkable record.

Each rally is organized by the Pep Squad and band and is presented each Thursday during the 11 a.m. time slot.

The purpose of the rallies is to generate enthusiasm and familiarize the students with their pep squad, athletic teams, and pep band.

Always interesting and entertaining, the rallies have quickly become a popular event with the students of Cerritos.

Open Art Show Debuts Tuesday

Judging of the artwork entered in the third annual Cerritos Open has been completed with three awards of $200 each placed on the most outstanding works of a many-faceted show, beginning Tuesday in the Cerritos College Art Gallery.

This year the jurors selected 68 works after a day of intensive viewing and reviewing of the 345 entries submitted. The works that will be on exhibit show both strong innovative qualities and technical competence.

All works on exhibit will be considered for sale at the price indicated on the entry form. Works that are not for sale will be designated N.F.S.

The beginning of the show will be followed by a reception on Tuesday from 7-9 p.m. Artists and the public are cordially invited to attend.

Cerritos College Gallery hours are: 12:45-3:30 p.m., 6-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 12:45-3:30 p.m. Friday and Sunday.

Do Your Part

For the past four years this country has seen war in Vietnam, war in our streets, war on the campuses, war between the old and new generations. With all this war other major problems have been born: inflation, gold drain and countless other items of which I could probably fill this whole newspaper.

There have been various suggestions of ways in which these problems could be solved. We have heard promises coming from the Republicans and the Democrats. We have heard criticism from the right wing, left wing and "middle of the road" parties. Nobody from either side has advocated with real success what this country really needs. Some have talked about it and others have thought about it, but we don't have it and "it" is unity.

The Promise-Makers

The problems are still there, waving over our heads like a big sledge hammer. The promises are still being made, and the criticisms are still pouring in. The promises are directed to the American public. The promise-makers have vowed they will end the war in Vietnam and bring the troops home with an "honorable settlement." They claim they will end all of the other problems and take away that big hammer waiting to be dropped.

The critics claim that President Johnson is now a big has-been and that the promise-makers are just full of hot air. So it seems that if we believe what the promise-makers preach we will all be living in Utopia a year from now. If we believe what the critics say, we might just as well throw a big blast and get plastered because there won't be anything left of anything by next year.

It may be true that the promise-makers and critics form a check and balance system but in doing so they leave Americans feeling like they should move to Australia or grow long hair and blow out.

But now we have a new president, although some believe he isn't the man for the job. Some want nothing to do with him at all. In fact what has happened since the presidential campaign first started is that not we have a country split a hundred different ways, more confused than ever and full of negative ideas, suggestions for the confused.

So to those who are in a confused state or full of negative ideas I make the following suggestions.

Do your part as an American to gain the goals established by the new president. Let's bring the troops home, let's establish respect abroad, and let's start by participating.

Be positive about the future of this country and the problems that have to be solved. If you're the kind that said before Nov. 3, "If so and so is elected, I'm moving to" I say the boats and planes are still floating and flying.

Stand behind our leaders, your leaders, and help them do the job we have elected them to do.

Forget about the past four years and spit out the bad taste they left. Let's start fresh. Do your part.

Love Is Not Free

By BOB HARDIN

With the recent rise in the cost of living, one must turn to the better things in life, meaning perhaps things that are free. One of these "better things" is love, but is it free? Do you get away with the merchandise without paying some price?

For those who are marriage-minded, love is not free. First there's supporting a wife, a car and house, and since two have a way of becoming three the husband also has the responsibility and cost of raising children. In this case one might suspect that this poor soul is so star-struck that he doesn't realize he's been taken to the laundry and dry cleaned.

This would lead to the rise of a new theory (the practice is old, but the theory is new) of "free love," or in simple language "messing around without getting caught." This theory is frowned upon by people of the Establishment, calling such practice immoral and degrading to our society.

No responsibility, no dentist bills, no permanent ties, no nothing, just wine, women and song is the basic philosophy. They claim marriage is outdated, and some go so far as to say it should be abolished.

This is bad for our present-day society, for the family unit is the nucleus of it. Families are a place where children learn to take on responsibility and learn about life. With this "free love" attitude the family unit would be destroyed as would our social structure.

The people who are going to pay for this are the people of tomorrow. Love is not free, but neither is "free love."

INSIDE RADIO AND TV

Campus Broadcasts Are a Possibility

By JIM HARRELL

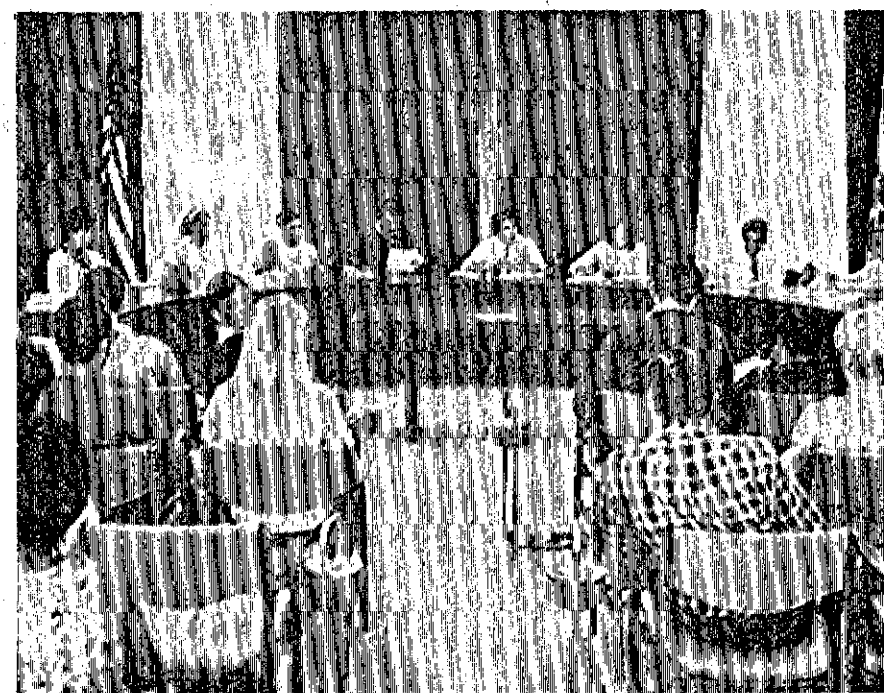

Last week in this column I discussed the feasibility of having a campus radio station. This week I'm going to talk about the specifics.

First, there is the cost. To install a broadcast quality line from the point of origin to the Student Center would cost about $75. This would include three speakers in the Center. You would have to have at least three speakers in order to hear the programs. The line has to be installed by the telephone company and is the same type of line that regular radio stations use.

Once the line is in, the next step would be installing the line to an audio board. Since Cerritos already has an audio board in the Theater Arts Building that could be used, this isn't much of a problem.

The next step would be stocking a records library, which is simple enough. All that needs to be done is send a letter to all of the major record and distributing companies requesting their latest releases.

The fourth and most important step is to get at least 10 interested students who will take on the responsibility of running the station. Operating a radio station, even on campus, is a big responsibility. There have to be disc jockeys who are willing to give up one hour of their free time to do a show; there have to be students interested in sales who will approach merchants in the community and sell commercials; and there have to be students who are interested in electronics who will keep the station on the air.

JOINT SESSION—The ASCC Senate and Cabinet are shown in a joint session in the Board Room of the Administration Building Monday to discuss yesterday's California Junior College Student Government Association Conference.

Library Hours Survey Completed This Week

Last Friday night was the climax of 1968 homecoming activities. For those of you that didn't attend, you missed one of the finest halftime shows and one of the most exciting games that Cerritos College has ever seen. My congratulations go to the homecoming committee and football team for a job well done. I also want to congratulate Arnie Backstrom, No. 21, for scoring his first TD of the season.

Congratulations go to the Veterans Club for winning the sweepstakes award in float competition. And I would like to thank them for participation in the building of the queen's float.

In my opinion this has been the finest homecoming Cerritos has had. Many people have spent long hours in preparation to make it the success it was. All of their hard work and dedication has not gone unnoticed.

The Library Hours Survey Committee completed a survey of students this week concerning the operational hours of the Library. Results will be made available in my column next week. I will see that the results are passed on to the Administrative Council for action, and you will be informed of the results.

Nixon Tries New-Image Tactics in Campaign

By JIM HOWARD

The fast-moving 1968 presidential campaigns of Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey will surely be remembered, if for nothing else, for their fantastic emphasis on what public relations firms refer to as "the new image." The striving for this new image was seen in almost every aspect of the campaign and ranged from Nixon's newfound affection for the press to Humphrey's attempt to put off the graying of what little hair he has.

Nixon's public relations men realized the importance of winning the confidence of the "under 30" set and knew that Nixon needed something to make himself appear more closely aligned with the younger voters.

Their answer to the problem was the use of the standard "V for Victory" sign. This sign has been interpreted by the younger set as the popular peace sign.

The second major change in the mannerisms of hand by Nixon is the use of gestures for emphasis.

If the success of Richard Nixon's new-image campaign were an accurate reflection of his chances for the presidency, he might as well start moving his belongings into the White House. Even if he was defeated in his bid for the nation's top spot, Nixon will know that his new-look move was not to blame because his campaign was so complete that even the newsmen had begun to like him.

do your contact lenses lead a clean life?

Contact lenses can be heaven . . . or hell. They may be a wonder of modern science but just the slightest bit of dirt under the lens can make them unbearable. In order to keep your contact lenses as comfortable and convenient as they were designed to be, you have to take care of them.

Until now you needed two or more separate solutions to properly prepare and maintain your contacts. You would think that caring for contacts should be as convenient as wearing them. It can be with Lensine.

Lensine is the one lens solution for complete contact lens care. Just a drop or two, before you insert your lens, coats and lubricates it allowing the lens to float more freely in the eye's fluids. That's because Lensine is an "isotonic" solution, which means that it blends with the natural fluids of the eye.

Cleaning your contacts with Lensine retards the buildup of foreign deposits on the lenses. And soaking your contacts in Lensine between wearing periods assures you of proper lens hygiene. You get a free soaking case on the bottom of every bottle of Lensine.

It has been demonstrated that improper storage between wearings may result in the growth of bacteria on the lenses. This is a sure cause of eye irritation and in some cases can endanger your vision. Bacteria cannot grow in Lensine which is sterile, self-sanitizing, and antiseptic.

Let your contacts be the convenience they were meant to be. Get some Lensine, from the Murine Company, Inc.

Changing Times?

By LINDA HURT

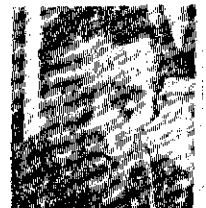

If you could change one thing about Cerritos, what would it be? In a recent public opinion poll, the question was asked: Is there anything occurring on campus now that you would like to have changed, and if so how do you think it could best be accomplished? Below are the most popular criticisms and a few student solutions.

Maud Curtius — "Since there are so many students who work after school during the week, the Library should be opened for at least a few hours on Saturday."

Paola Campo has an opinion which is shared by many students on campus. "The food is terrible."

Rick Reich has a complaint which is familiar to anyone who has a psychology class in SS 316. "There is an elevator in the Social Science Building, and we should be able to use it."

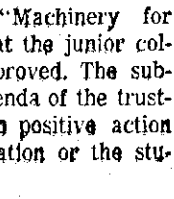

Speaking on the subject of the Student Center was Dollie Tooze, who says, "Tables in the coffee shop are usually crowded. We need more tables or a bigger coffee shop."

Don Schmidt has what he thinks is a wonderful solution to the problem. "Bring back the catering truck."

Wendell West — "Machinery for credit by examination at the junior college level has been approved. The subject has been on the agenda of the trustees. There has been no positive action by either the administration or the students. Why?"

Cathy Carpenter — "Parking is still a problem. There should be a way that everyone has his own reserved parking space. These could be assigned on a first-come-first-served basis when the student registers."

What does freshman John Sayers think of the whole situation? "The men's bathroom in the Liberal Arts Building always smells like fish!"

Flic Review Column Will Be Featured

Two weeks ago Talon Marks received a letter to the editor that suggested a new column might be initiated featuring critical reviews of contemporary movies.

The editorial board has taken this letter and other similar comments into consideration in making the decision to begin such a critical effort in the next issue.

Tim Harrell, who authors the Inside Radio and TV column for Talon Marks, will alternate with George Woodworth, features editor, as the movie reviewer.

Comments are invited on this new effort in the form of letters to the editor or to the reviewer himself.

VILLAGE IDIOT

Icy Days Ahead

By STEVE ALVIS

Greetings and salutations of the day. Recently it came to my attention that there are about a thousand medical teams in this country engaged in research to prolong life and trying to eventually eliminate death.

One of the principal theories involves suspended animation (a term all comic book readers know) through deep freezing, known as the science of cryogenics. Right now there are a lot of people in cold storage, most of them possessors of a terminal disease. They're supposed to be defrosted when and if a cure is discovered for their particular ailment.

However, once the hibernation systems are perfected, deep freeze may become a popular means of sort of frosting-over hard times. Right now, for instance, I bet there are tons of Americans who wish they didn't have to be around for the next four years or so. In case of famine, we could just snow-under half the population until food became more abundant. I suspect many people in this country are just now thawing from a major snow-job anyway.

Political implications are here too. Suppose after we froze a job of humanity then somebody decided not to defrost them. It would become a national issue between revivalists and survivalists. The argument, of course, would be that the rest of us can survive better without the excess population.

I know some people that I wouldn't mind living without.
Another use would be in the hap-penance of a nuclear war. With the world's food and air radioactively contaminated, it might be nice to drop below zero for a few years until the situation was cleared up.

The implications for a massive "Rip Van Winkle Complex" are terrific. Imagine people waking up after hibernating for 25-100 years. The whole world would be different: customs, language use, cities, technology, political rationale, etc. Then we'd have thousands of these 20th century nuts running around crissly with archaic notions, skills and adjectives. They'd be so out of date that a complete reschooling would be necessary for them to exist in the modern world.

I wish we could do something about the 19th century nuts running around now.

Champs Judge Speech Rookies

Cerritos College will host the second annual High School Speech Invitational Tournament today and tomorrow, featuring high schools from the surrounding area.

The tournament will get underway this afternoon at 2:30 p.m. with registration; then an hour later the first round of debate will begin. There will be three rounds of debate altogether. This year's topic for high school debaters centers around manpower for national defense.

All day tomorrow high school speech students will enter other areas of competition.

All the judging will be done by members of the championship Cerritos College speech team and the instructors here at Cerritos, which include: Ron Tabor, Wendell Hanks, and Jim Dig-hood affair."

This is the second year that Cerritos has hosted this tournament. The purpose of the meet, according to Tabor is to "assist the high schools in developing competitive skills and learning." He added, "It's just a neighborhood affair."

In the past, several good speech students have come from this tournament to Cerritos after they graduated from their high schools.

There is a nominal fee charged for entrants, and the money that is collected goes for the various trophies, and paying the judges for their time.

What is left goes for the costs of tournament, whose effect on these young people cannot be measured.

One college does more than broaden horizons. It sails to them, and beyond.

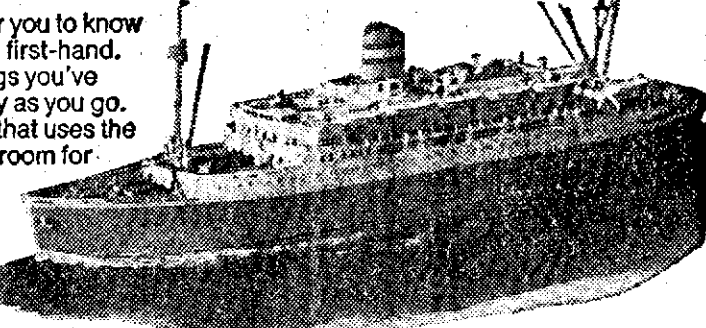

Now there's a way for you to know the world around you first-hand. A way to see the things you've read about, and study as you go. The way is a college that uses the Parthenon as a classroom for a lecture on Greece, and illustrates Hong Kong's floating societies with an hour's ride on a harbor sloop.

Every year Chapman College's World Campus Afloat takes two groups of 500 students out of their classrooms and opens up the world for them. And you can be one of the 500. Your new campus is the s.s. Ryndam, equipped with modern educational facilities and a fine faculty. You'll have a complete study curriculum as you go. And earn a fully-accredited semester while at sea.

A Curtain Call for Mexico City

By MIKE BOWER

The curtain has dropped on another Olympic Games spectacular. The lights have come up and the audience's applause dies down. Those who witnessed the production leave pondering over the event they have beheld.

As is the custom, the Mexico City extravaganza will be subject to the pen of the critic, compared with previous games, and under careful surveillance for post-performance occurrences.

Many have lauded the performance as a miracle for even coming off. The setting had many wondering if there would be a XIX Olympiad.

Could Mexico come up with a successful production?

Heaped With Praise

Well, they did. The producers and directors have been heaped with praise for their show. As entertainment, it had everything... pageantry, color, drama, joy, sorrow, excitement, suspense, romance, and even a touch of patriotism. The individual performances were superb, staging and special effects outstanding.

It was a smooth-running performance from beginning to end.

Act I provided the pomp and splendor of the traditional opening ceremonies: the pageantry of the flag processions, the breath-taking colors so brilliantly displayed by the athletes, the awesome number of participants involved in the ceremony, and the inspiring lighting of the torch. The moments that will be remembered by all.

Plot Thickens

The plot thickened as the story progressed into the second act. The villains in black were banished. U.S. sprinters Tommie Smith and John Carlos packed their baggage and went home following the controversial "black glove" episode in which they stood on the victory stand with raised, clenched hands garbed in black gloves.

The third act was one of mixed joy and sorrow. The thrill of winning the medal; the disappointed vanquished.

The sight of a happy Bill Toomey receiving his gold medal in the decathlon after hours of suspense, hard work and pain.

Elated Keino

The sight of an elated Kip Keino breaking the tape in his 1500 meters upset; the dejected Jim Ryan, a "forgotten" second.

A thrilled Debbie Meyer collecting three gold awards. The jubilant Yugoslavian basketball team mobbing each other after defeating Russia for second place, or an equally jubilant Pakistan soccer squad after they upset India for the gold medal.

As all good stories do, this one too ended happily ever after. It even included a marriage between two Czech athletes.

Yes, it was a production to remember. But nothing could top the grand finale.

Tears in Their Eyes

Many an onlooker had tears in their eyes as they watched the beautiful closing ceremonies. Here is where Mexico took her well-deserved curtain call. The world had paid tribute to its athletes and now the athletes in turn paid tribute to the world and especially Mexico City.

Thousands watched from the stands and millions more on television as the participants and spectators alike threw aside animosity and political differences and joined hands in a salute to humanity. It was a sight that left a lump in the throat of the viewer. It is the kind of scene that one hopes will become commonplace someday.

Take a bow Mexico. Good show!

Curran Leads Runners At San Diego State

Falcon harrier Pat Curran again paced the Cerritos cross country team in action last Friday. Curran turned in a time of 21:13 to place 20th in the San Diego State Invitational at San Diego. The Falcons as a team finished ninth in a field of 12 teams in their division.

The Cerritos team was in the large school division, which also included El Camino, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Pierce, Pasadena and Valley from the Metropolitan Conference.

L. A. Valley took first place honors in the meet with 47 points, and Pasadena was second, scoring 80 points. Mark Covert of Valley was the winner of the meet, completing the rugged four-mile course in 20 minutes and 10 seconds.

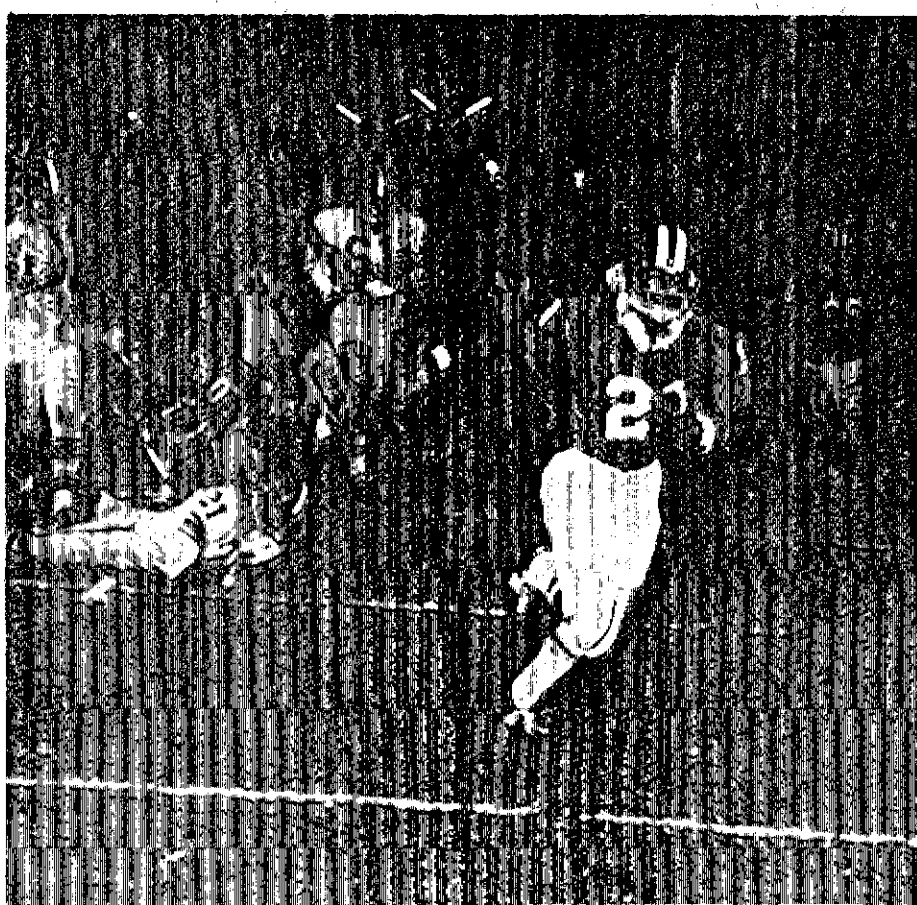

Falcon coach Dave Kamanski was disappointed in the performance turned in by his Falcons. "John McNiece was still bothered by an injured leg, but the rest of the team just didn't do as well as I had hoped for." The Falcons are a young team, with Jim Hill being the only sophomore on the team.

McNiece, who along with Curran usually paces the Falcon distance runners, could only manage a 21:49 time last Friday and finished in the 42nd position in the meet.

Randy Mason was close behind McNiece, turning in a 22:03 performance to finish 51st. Hill finished 58th with a time of 22:30.

Mark Johnson completed the course with a time of 23:15 and finished 80th in the meet. Dave Castleman was right behind Johnson in spot no. 82 with a 23:30 time. Dennis Ruby was the other Falcon runner in the meet; he finished 87th, turning in a 24:05 time.

Tuesday the Falcons will compete in the Metropolitan Conference finals at Pierce College. The top five teams and the top 15 runners will then compete in the Southern California Championships the following week at Southwestern College in Chula Vista. Kamanski feels that Curran and McNiece have good chances to place in the Metro meet.

BACKSTROM BAFFLES BRAHMAS—Falcon tailback Arnie Backstrom scores on a 14-yard dash in the fourth quarter of the game against Pierce last week. Backstrom's touchdown came with 8:31 left in the game and gave Cerritos a 38-14 lead over the Brahmas.

POLOISTS VANQUISH VALLEY, OPPOSE BAKERSFIELD TODAY

Coach Pat Tyne's conference-leading water polo team journeys to Bakersfield this afternoon to meet the Renegades in a contest starting at 3:30 p.m. Should the Falcon team be victorious, the stage will be set for the final game of the season next Friday at Long Beach City College.

The Falcons currently lead the conference with a 5-0 mark, while Long Beach and El Camino are tied for second with 4-1 slates.

Dave Buckley led the Cerritos team to a 16-2 victory over L.A. Valley last week in the Falcon pool as he scored six goals. Loy Strother continued to make a bid for a spot on the first team as he scored three goals in the fourth period of the game.

Buckley paced the Falcons to a 5-0 first-period lead as he sank two goals. Bob Shupp, Jack Robinson and Craig Vincent each scored once in the period for the Falcons. Shupp and Robinson each scored one goal again in the second quarter, but the big punch was provided by Buckley who poured in four more shots from his hole position to give the Falcons a commanding 11-1 lead at the half.

The third period of the game was scoreless, but Strother, Glenn Vincent and Frank Abney scored five goals in the fourth period while the Monarchs could only manage one more tally, giving the Cerritos team the win.

Tyne was disappointed in the play of his team, even though the game was dominated by the Falcons. "They are just not playing very well. They're not playing up to their potential, and they will need to improve to beat Long Beach. They will have to start moving around if they want to get very far in the Southern California playoffs."

Matmen Meet '49ers

Cerritos' defending Metro Conference champion wrestlers open their unofficial season this afternoon as they engage Cal State, Long Beach in the '49er gymnasium.

The Falcon matmen were first in the conference, first in Southern California, and second to San Bernardino in the state last season and hope to become state champs this season.

Coach Hal Simonek lost only three of his starters last season and has a fine crop of freshmen in this year. Pacing the newcomers are Bob Sasser, Ken Turner and George Maddox. Sasser will wrestle the 152-160 pound divisions. Turner will compete in the 133-139 pound classes, while Maddox will wrestle 167-177 pound matches.

Pacing the Falcon returnees are state champion in the 145-pound bracket Ron "The Vulture" Kenworthy and heavyweight Bill Struve, who finished second in the state last year on a referee's decision.

Also back for the Falcons is Tex Norfleet, who finished second in California in the 132-pound division.

Falcons Down Pierce; Host Vikings Saturday

By DARRYL JACKMAN

Asst. Sports Editor

Any time a football team scores 45 points in one game you don't expect it to be close, but Pierce never realized this and made it close down to the last four seconds. The Cerritos Falcons held on for a 45-32 win over the Brahmas.

Homecoming '68 started off with a bang for the Falcons as they rolled up 21 points in the first quarter. Jay Bohrer set up the first Cerritos touchdown with a pass interception on the Cerritos 44-yard line. Al Jongsma capped a 58-yard drive with a one-yard plunge for the touchdown. Randy Wershing's P.A.T. was good and the Falcons took an early 7-0 lead.

The second touchdown came after Pierce was again robbed of an aerial. This time Ernie Bergen caught quarterback Tim Von Duhn's stray pass. Cerritos took over on the Brahma 27-yard line. Five plays later Ken Hamilton pushed the ball across only to lose it. Gary Stimpson saved the score for Cerritos by falling on the loose ball for the touchdown. Wershing hit again and the Falcons led 14-0.

On fourth down, Steve Lounsbury, punter for Pierce, lofted a high kick that was taken by Larry Diel and returned 48 yards for the third Falcon score. With Wershing's kick, Cerritos led 21-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Content in the first quarter to settle for extra points, Wershing added three near the end of the second quarter as he hit on a 37-yard fieldgoal.

With just seconds to go in the first half, the Brahmas got on the score board when they marched 80 yards.

Quarterback Lynn Chase capped the drive with a 10-yard scoring dash through the right side of the line. The Brahmas trailed at the halftime break 24-7.

Pierce contained the Falcons after the opening kickoff and proceeded to worry Cerritos when Chase again directed his team to a 70-yard drive. Chase scored again from one yard out on fourth-and-one. Cerritos' lead at this point was cut to 24-14.

With the Brahmas drawing closer, the Falcon offense got into high gear. Cerritos scored on a pass play from quarterback Mike Ernst to Hank Fien, good for 36 yards and six points. Wershing's kick was good and the Falcons led 31-14.

Cerritos built their lead to 38-14 in the fourth quarter when Arnold Backstrom scored on a brilliant run from 14 yards out.

Pierce started to close the gap with seven minutes left in the game. Von Duhn passed to Mark Laughrey for 23 yards and a touchdown. The Brahmas were closer now at 38-20.

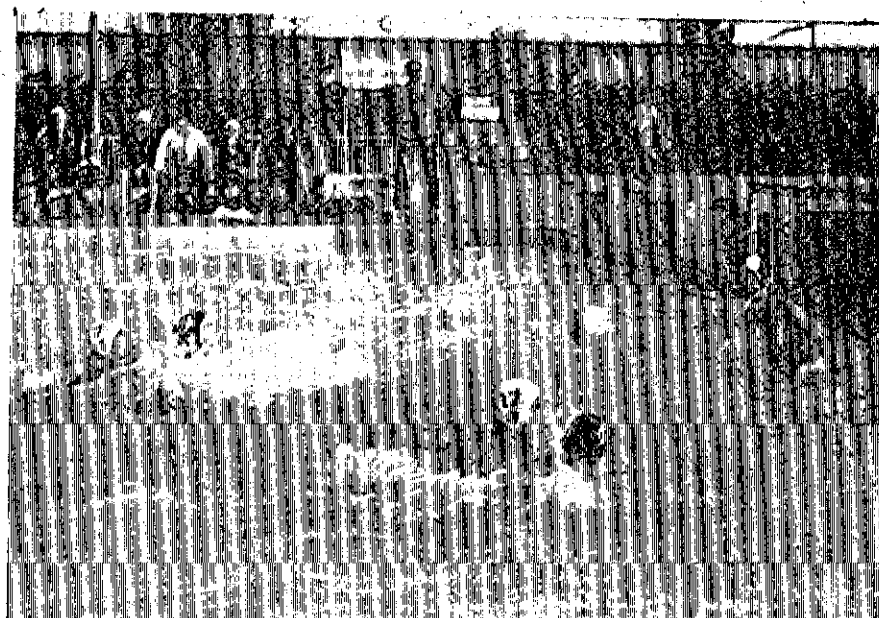

Two minutes later the referees were again raising their hands over their heads to indicate another Pierce touchdown. This cut the Falcon lead to 38-28.

A perfectly executed onside kick gave Pierce the ball again on the Cerritos 45-yard line. Five plays later Von Duhn hit Laughrey for the third time. This pass was good for 14 yards and a touchdown. The try for point by Speer failed and Cerritos led 45-28.

With four minutes left in the game Cerritos played ball control, picking up key first downs to keep the ball.

People who left the stadium before 1:04 showed on the clock missed the second touchdown of the evening by Diel. He ran 43 yards without being touched to put the game out of reach 45-32.

This week the Falcons take on cross-town rival and powerhouse Long Beach City College. Long Beach is 4-1 in the Metro Conference, tied for second with Bakersfield.
