Trustees Receive WASC Notice Of Full Five-Year Accreditation

Cerritos College has received notification of full accreditation for the next five years by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

The Cerritos Board of Trustees was notified of the outstanding rating for the college at its regular board meeting Jan. 27. Dr. Siegfried C. Ringwald, president and superintendent of the college, reported to the board that the college had received the maximum five-year accreditation and termed it "a momentous occasion for everyone connected with the college—the students, faculty, administration, classified staff and trustees."

"This is truly a great step forward for the college," said Board President Harold Tredway. "It gives everyone at the college and citizens of the college district the confidence that Cerritos students are receiving the best in community college education."

The full five-year accreditation puts Cerritos among the top community colleges in the state. Some colleges receive only one, two, three or four-year accreditations, depending upon the quality of the programs which are offered. Five years is the maximum for an accreditation.

This was the second consecutive five-year accreditation for Cerritos and provides the college with an opportunity to complete a "short form" accreditation application in 1974.

Other Actions

In other action Jan. 27, the board: —Heard a report that 1,340 students from district high schools have enrolled at Cerritos for the spring semester under the provisions of the Veysey Bill, making Cerritos one of the community colleges with the highest student enrollment under the bill.

—Approved a proposal for a new course in Afro-Asian History and postponed action on a proposal for a credit/no credit course program.

—Received for review the text material for the 1970-71 Cerritos College Catalog.

—Authorized an amendment in the sabbatical leave of absence agreement with English instructor Donald Balch.

—Received a letter of appreciation of sentiments addressed to the board from Mrs. Arthur Kulzer, widow of deceased trustee Arthur Kulzer, who died Dec. 9, 1969.

—Approved a change in board policy concerning authorized drivers for college vehicles.

—Hired Marguerite Wood, accounting clerk, and Patricia Scarkino, publications clerk.

—Granted a request from architecture instructor Edward Dagermaug for one-half time assignment for the spring semester.

—Cancelled a service agreement with Johnson Service Co. to be effective Sunday.

Roth Fourth Speaker In Lecture Series

Continuing "The Individual and Creative Dimensions" series as the fourth lecturer, Hal Roth, author and professional editorial photographer, will be showing his 1967-68 double Pacific crossing film on Thursday at 8 p.m. in Burnight Center Theater. The 16mm film will be shown in color.

Sailing a 35-foot sloop from California to the Southern and Western Pacific to Japan and east across the North Pacific to the Aleutian Islands, Southeast Alaska, Northwest British Columbia and finally south to San Francisco, which was the starting point, Roth and wife Margaret took 18 months and logged 18,538 miles. Because of their pioneering circumnavigation of the entire Pacific basin in a small ship, the Roths have been nominated for the coveted Blue Water Medal of the Cruising Club of America.

Filming in two parts, the first half lasts 60 minutes and traces preparation for the trip, departure and the long passage to French Polynesia including visits to the Marquesas, Tuamotus and Society Islands. Continuing from American and Western Samoa at Rarotonga, Aitutaki and Palmerston in the Cook Islands, the Roths headed northwest to the seldom seen Ellice and Gilbert Islands before sailing to Kusaie and Papeete in the Eastern Carolines and Guam in the Marianas group.

Follows Yacht

Extending 45 minutes, the second half of the film begins in the Far East and follows the yacht through the four main islands of Japan. The ship stopped at dozens of ports in Kyushu, Shikoku and Honshu, traveled northward in the Inland Sea and called at remote fishing villages far from the tracks of tourists. These were places that had never seen a foreign sailing yacht before and where only Japanese was spoken.

In the early summer the Roths departed from Hakkaido for the Aleutian Islands and later crossed the stormy Gulf of Alaska on route to Ketchikan in Southeast Alaska. The ship then called at Queen Charlotte Island before heading south to the Golden Gate.

One of the main purposes of the film was to detail life aboard a small ship at sea. The viewer will see intimate aspects of cruising under sail and learn something of how small ship sailors cook, navigate, sleep, change sails and deal with storms.

The film will be of interest to both sailing enthusiasts and general viewers of all ages, with emphasis split between island life and shipboard activity. There will be such things as shipwrecks on coral reefs, exotic birds, sea life and many other events that make this journey a remarkable one.

Individual tickets are now on sale at the Box Office in the Student Center. There will be a change of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for a student or child.

An interested person should plan to attend this unique and unusual adventure, a film that underscores the pioneering spirit of these brave sailors and an achievement all can admire and claim by the Cruising Club of America.

Vince Bradley To Leave Post

Vince Bradley, director of publications here, will be leaving his post today to take a position in Sacramento. He will be filling a newly-created position in public affairs under Assistant Chancellor Bert Clinkston of the Community College Administration.

Bradley's new position will be in the Chancellor's Office of the California Community Colleges. The main duties of his job will rest in the areas of public information and governmental liaison. The Chancellor's Office coordinates state standards and regulations that govern the 92 community colleges in the state.

Bradley has held his position at Cerritos for the past four years. Previous to this he was a newsman for the Monterey Peninsula Herald. He is a graduate of Iowa State University and holds a Masters Degree from Cal State Fullerton. He is now a candidate for doctorate at USC.

In addition to his many tasks at Cerritos, Bradley has taught photography. At this time no one has been named to assume his position.

Work-Study Program Offers Employment

Part-time employment is now available to students at Cerritos through a federal work-study program.

On-campus jobs are offered under the Higher Education Act, Public Law 90-575, to provide earnings which will assist students in attaining a college education.

During the past few years, Cerritos has provided employment for more than 160 students as a result of the work-study program. said Carl Specht, coordinator of the Job Placement Office. "We currently have sufficient funds to permit employment of approximately 10 additional students for the balance of the year," he added. "And students from low income families will have first chance at these jobs if they are enrolled in at least 12 units for the semester."

Further information about the program can be obtained at the Job Placement Office in the Administration Bldg.

13,627 Enrollment Sets All-Time High

An all-time record enrollment for Cerritos College is being set this semester.

With four more days of registration yet to go, the enrollment already eclipsed the previous registration high by Monday. Some 13,627 students had registered at Cerritos, marking an all-time high for any semester.

Only one year ago there were less than 11,000 students at Cerritos. The spring enrollment this year represents a 28 per cent increase already, with many more students expected to register in the final days of registration that ended yesterday.

AWS Sponsors Backward Dance Featuring 'Mr. Dreamboat Contest'

Highlighting the Backward Valentine Bounce will be the coronation of Mr. Dreamboat, a contest being sponsored by the Associated Women Students. The dance will be held tonight from 8 p.m. until midnight in the Student Center.

Each club was asked to submit its candidate for Mr. Dreamboat to Pat Schneider, secretary in the Office of Student Affairs, by Feb. 3. This application was accompanied by a 5" x 7" photo of the candidate. Interested clubs were responsible for publicity of their choice for Mr. Dreamboat.

Since this is a backward dance, this is the perfect opportunity for a gal to invite her favorite guy to go with her. Voting for Mr. Dreamboat will be conducted at the door as the students and guests enter the dance.

Tickets are available to students with their ASCC card for 50 cents. Guest passes may be purchased in the Office of Student Affairs for $1. Proceeds from the dance will go to the AWS Scholarship Fund. The dance is open for everyone to attend.

Spring Conference Sets Semester Tone

Over 120 students from Cerritos attended a three-day Spring Leadership Conference last week at the Roy Rogers Apple Valley Inn. They were joined by 20 staff members.

Students attending the conference represented the 47 clubs on campus and student government, consisting of the Cabinet, Senate, Court and official ASCC boards. The Leadership Conference was under the direction of ASCC President Jim Howard.

The program for the conference involved different phases of student government, Inter-Club Council items, registration and counseling, the extended day student, the 3-E Program, homcoming for 1970, Student Center planning, and the various committees relating to projects at Cerritos College.

Ample time was provided to allow for open discussion of new ideas and future plans for the students at Cerritos. Students also had a certain amount of free time in which they were able to play golf, volleyball and badminton, see movies, dance or take part in a hayride.

Three buses were used to carry students and staff to Apple Valley. The buses left Wednesday morning, Feb. 4 and returned to campus last Friday afternoon.

Cerritos College has received statewide recognition for its progressive ideas in the area of student affairs and leadership conference. Cerritos is one of the few junior colleges in the state endeavoring to undertake such a program. It is felt by those involved that this type of experience is extremely beneficial to both students and staff at the college.

Club Recruitment To Begin Today

Club Booth Day will again bring activity to the Quad today as 41 clubs on campus prepare for visitors to their respective booths.

The purpose of Club Booth Day is to recruit new members for the individual clubs. This is the time when students have the opportunity to learn the purpose and plans of the many organizations.

There are clubs responding to many interests in four major categories: curricular, service, Panhellenic and special interest.

Any student who is interested in finding out more about a club or in joining one is asked to stop by the booths and talk to a representative.

Publications Board: Service in Name Only

Is there, indeed, a Cerritos Publications Board?

If the answer is "yes," then what has it done and how was it done? To be more specific, what does it do?

The answer to the first question is, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Cerritos Publications Board, but it is in dire need of aid in the Board Room. The vultures are already circling this soon-to-be corpse."

Before going on, we must answer the question, "What does it do?"

Simple Answers

Simple enough. The answer is, "Nothing." Last semester it met twice officially (the guys got together and even elected a chairman, who is now gone) and once unofficially (it seems some members couldn't generate enough interest to attend this meeting, and three bored members who did left). The first meeting this semester saw four bored members staring at each other across the table, then finally giving up all hope of having a meeting.

Getting back to the second question, "What has it done and how?"

That's almost as easy to answer as the preceding question. They've talked about raising the units for newspaper production and talked about discussion the Talon Marks contingencies. In one word the answer is, "Nothing."

Question Asked

If this is true about the Publication Board, then we must ask, "Why?"

The structure of the board is basically sound. It's there for the expressed purpose of airing problems which might arise with college publications.

The members include representatives of the faculty, Senate, Talon Marks and administration who, in theory at least, meet once a month.

However, it is only a recommending body, meaning it can only recommend that action be taken to the Senate or administration. Herein lies the problem.

Senate, Trustee Action Needed

One way to alleviate this situation is for the Senate to pass legislation giving the board the power to take positive action on a solution to problems instead of sitting, twiddling its thumbs and recommending that the meetings be adjourned.

If Senate approval isn't enough, have the Board of Trustees recognize it as a board with the power to make decisions and to take certain actions on matters concerning Cerritos publications. Let it become a working part of the ASOC instead of dead weight.

If the Publications Board isn't given this power, then it's better dissolved than continued. Right now, it's almost a waste of time and effort to get charged up to do nothing.

"Is there a Cerritos Publication Board?"

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Publication Board..." — in name only.

—Bob Hardin

WORLD CRISIS

'Ultimate Trip' Starts First of Three Series

By BILL WEST

Men around the world are recognizing that this is one of the most perilous periods in human history. England's Manchester Guardian recently expressed the prevailing frame of mind when it said, "The haunting fear of what may be coming upon the world is the obsession and nightmare of millions."

Many leading world statesmen have expressed great pessimism about the future. The late President John F. Kennedy warned a United Nations General Assembly in 1961, "Mankind must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind. The mere existence of modern weapons—10 million times more powerful than any that the world has ever seen and only minutes away from any target on earth—is a source of horror and distrust."

We find an equally despondent note among scientists. Dr. M. S. Livingston of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and president of the Federation of American Scientists recently said, "It appears unlikely that the world will avoid a nuclear holocaust if another 15 years pass without arms control agreements."

This takes on even more ominous significance with the recent disclosure that Red China will have deliverable hydrogen bomb missiles by 1972.

Population Crisis

In the sociological field the gravity of the population crisis is indicated in Time magazine, April 23, 1967: "A tidal wave of three billion more people will inundate the earth in the next 30 years if the present rate of increase is not arrested! The population of the United States may increase by 150 million... 'The world is on the threshold of the biggest famine in history,' concludes Dr. Raymond Ewell, former adviser to India's government. Dr. Ewell predicts famine in India, Pakistan and Communist China about 1970, and in Brazil, Egypt, Indonesia and Turkey soon after."

On top of all this, the current frustrating war in Vietnam, not summers of bloody riots and the growing chaos in our cities and our world lead us to ask, "Is there any revelation about how all of this will end? Will mankind survive the unprecedented and horrible possibilities of this generation? In fact, does our generation have any future at all?"

Predictions Made

Centuries ago Jewish prophets predicted a precise pattern into which history would move—a pattern involving such staggering and unusual movements of nations that it would be clearly discernible to those who know the prophecies.

Within one generation, it is predicted, at least five unmistakable signs will arise—all at approximately the same time—which will herald the coming of Jesus Christ to the earth. I believe that these five "signs" are fitting together before our very eyes.

Four distinct historical events make up the first sign. Some 3,500 years ago Moses predicted that the Jews would be punished in their later years by the destruction of their nation and land, and by being scattered throughout the whole world as fugitives without a country.

Jesus of Nazareth predicted this same occurrence and said that it would fall upon the generation which rejected Him as the Messiah. Titus and the Roman legions fulfilled this in 70 A.D. when they destroyed the city of Jerusalem and scattered the Jewish people into an exile which has lasted nearly 2,000 years.

Second, the prophet Ezekiel predicted that in the days leading up to the coming of Christ, the Jewish people would partially return from their global dispersion and reestablish and enjoy great material gains, which would arouse two formidable enemies (who will be mentioned later).

Indestructible Jew

Jesus Christ also assumed the reestablishment of the Jewish nation before His return. Many Bible scholars ridiculed those who have believed that this would literally be fulfilled. Then on May 14, 1948, after nearly 2,000 years of being hounded men without a country the indestructible Jew reestablished his state in Palestine.

Jesus Christ predicted the third and fourth events when he said of His return, the Jews would repossess old Jerusalem and rebuild their Temple.

This also seemed impossible, yet I believe that the main significance of the latest Middle East crisis was the conquest and capture of ancient Jerusalem and the incredibly swift merging of the old and the new.

The prophetic devotion to Jerusalem was symbolized by the words of General Moshe Dayan as he marched to the Walling Wall while there was still gunfire in the city: "We have returned to our holiest of holy places, never to leave her again."

There remains but the rebuilding of the temple for the stage to be completely set for the return of Christ. This may be breathtakingly close, according to the startling information just released in Christianity Today: "Israeli government representatives have ordered 60,000 tons of the finest Bedford stone from Bedford, Ind., to be used in the erection of the Jerusalem Temple... Cornerstones for the third Jerusalem Temple are already in Israel. Materials for this Temple have been secretly in preparation for seven years..."

Are College Students Just Computer Cards?

While waiting in line during the recent registration period, I noticed a repeated phrase on several of the IBM cards. It read: DO NOT FOLD, BEND OR MUTILATE THIS CARD. I had to laugh. And do you know why? Because, without even realizing it, this would be a prevalent attitude of the enrolled students. It's as if they wore a helmet over their heads with an insignia that reads, "DO NOT FOLD, BEND OR MUTILATE THIS STUDENT."

Is it the case that students, as responsible young adults, should carry over this notion inside each book cover?

When the silent majority is ready to speak, will they just pull out their crayolas and scribble on the blackboards: "Do not expose me to ideas with which I am not already acquainted. New thoughts disturb my indigestion. Do not try to bend my political orientation."

"My beliefs, although perhaps not researched thoroughly, will not sway under your heavy reading assignments nor lengthy lectures. And, finally, do not torture me with undue cause nor prohibit me from saying what I have to say. It may not be much, but it's what I feel is right for me."

Or is it?

The majority of the faculty at Cerritos realizes that we seek information about the courses from the instructor, not the books. It's a person who can explain how the printed material can be related to daily living.

The world outside of Cerritos is obvious to textbooks. It needs people who can think and have the ability to evaluate and choose for themselves. And it's the students who persist in remaining stagnant.

The time has come when teachers now ask, "What do you want to know?" And the students are upset or startled. Well, isn't that what they want—to learn what's relevant? Then there is the extreme, of course. You can't expect a teacher to divulge all he knows about a subject because the student would lose the value of learning for himself.

But somewhere in between lies the secret to good student-teacher rapport. And that is always ask the next question.

—Dianne Markle

Controversialists vs. Establishment In Second Semester Scrimmage

By BEN DICKSON

Spring at the college level seems to be the time of year when many a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of social revolution. Leading the list again this year as the man least likely to see his goals realized is Russ Jobin, captain of that intrepid team of Cerritos Controversialists.

Last semester's Controversialist team finished a poor second to the perennial favorite, the Establishment. With defeats in every aspect of the competition (last fall's Senate election, the great Jobin-Lucas newspaper controversy and the Cerritos College Moratorium Committee fiasco), Omnibus fell from the headlines and from student discussion with the silent crash that only an unpopular loser can make.

Waning Spirit

The team spirit waned as Omnibus Society factionalized and remained unable to get its offense moving. This meant that there would be no need for a defense, which has been Student Power's strong area.

The new Controversialist team is back again this semester, however, revitalized and probably stronger than ever. Running secretly under the banner of Independent, the team managed to win five seats in the student Senate.

Resting On Laurels

In this contest, Captain Jobin pulled his own personal upset over the Establishment's front line, the Vets Club, by placing third in the election.

Even so, the Controversialists must know that they cannot rest on their past victories but that they must hit and hit again. For those team members who really can't see anything to complain about around here, it might be necessary to manufacture issues, if only to keep in practice.

Even if nothing develops soon, it is certain that somewhere right now masterful moves in anti-strategy are being planned (by the ghost of a coach often referred to as the People).

It should be an exciting season.

LAE Praised

Dear Editor:

I wish to express the appreciation of my department for the aid given by the members of the Lambda Alpha Epsilon fraternity to Sergeant Swenson and deputies Randels and Pettus at a dance at the Cerritos College Student Center on Jan. 10.

During a very precarious situation involving numerous combatants and with complete disregard for their own safety, members of the fraternity went to the aid of the aforementioned deputies, thereby averting a major confrontation.

Without the members' assistance, there would have, undoubtedly, been a major disturbance, resulting in numerous injuries and substantial property damage.

Very Truly Yours,
Peter J. Pitchess, Sheriff
S. J. Holmes, Captain
Commander, Norwalk Station

Champion Skaters Rise

Skill and Dedication
Take Team to the Top

By GEORGE WOODWORTH

Champions come in many sizes, shapes and colors. Some are long, slim and fleet. Some are big, stocky and monstrously powerful. Some are white or black or yellow or brown. Some are ferocious. Some are meek and mild.

Yet with all their differences of body and personality they share one amazing ability. They are able to win.

Champions outdistance the competition. They achieve where others fail. They carry on when others have decided to give up the fight. They get the trophies, medals and checkered flags in life. They also get all the work that goes with them. A lot of work.

Ice Skating Stars

That is why it is no surprise that two hard-working Cerritos students, Jo Jo Starbuck and Ken Shelley, who begin each day on ice at 6 a.m., have become ice-skating stars and true champions.

Skating together since they were nine the team of Starbuck and Shelley really got going in 1964 when they started seriously training under the pro and former World Champion John Nicks in the Arctic Blades Figure Skating Club in Paramount.

Much of their early years were spent competing in small club, sub-sectional and sectional competitions. They started showing some promise then and began winning a few titles.

National Competition Medals

Displaying a lot of talent and a fine disciplined attitude towards their six-hours-per-day, six-day week practice schedule, Starbuck and Shelley, after many lesser contests, were finally able to earn the opportunity to compete against their peers on the national level in 1966. Since then they have won a medal at every national competition they have entered.

1967 saw them realize one of their highest childhood dreams—winning a National Championship. Named the U.S. Nationals Junior Pairs Champions in Omaha, Neb., Starbuck and Shelley were just showing the nation what was to be coming in the future.

Senior Pairs Champions

Moving into the Senior Pairs division in 1968 they began competing with the best skaters in the United States. And success was to be theirs again. In Portland, Ore., they jumped into national prominence by becoming the Pacific Coast Senior Pairs Champions, an honor which qualified them for the 1968 U.S. National Championships (Olympic Trials).

Their hometown (Downey) newspapers really played up the homegrown kids making the big time, and the townspeople's pride in the two friendly juniors from Downey High School was in full bloom. Starbuck and Shelley were fairly pleased themselves.

In fact they both agree that the Olympic Trials in Philadelphia where they were designated for the 1968 U.S. Olympic and World Teams were the most exciting moments of their 10-year figure skating teamwork.

More To Come

But there was more to come for the young team beyond their Olympic competitions in Grenoble and Geneva that year. The following season saw them again become the Senior Pairs Pacific Coast Champions. They were silver medalists at both the 1969 U.S. Nationals at Seattle and the 1969 North American Championships at Oakland. They received the only standing ovation in the Pairs Division at the 1969 World Championships one year ago in Colorado Springs.

This year at the 1970 U. S. National Championships, televised across the country last Saturday, Starbuck and Shelley won first place in the National Senior Pairs competition which qualified them to represent the U.S. in the World Championships for their third straight year. But this time they will go as the best figure skating team in America!

Off to Yugoslavia

Planning to leave for the world-wide competition in Ljubljana, Yugoslavia on Feb. 25, the rapidly rising team is hard at work preparing to meet the best competition that there is around the world.

Ken Shelley will also be competing in Men's Singles as he placed third in the U.S. Nationals in addition to his first place pair performance. His outstanding skating as World Team member will be displayed for the first time during the competition next month.

Perhaps their greatest and ultimate goal is to win a medal for the United States at the 1972 Winter Olympics at Sapporo, Japan.

If their obvious talent and dedication are any indication at all they would seem to be well on their way to bringing much more recognition for U.S. athletes in all countries.

Cerritos College is honored to have such a fine pair of competitors on campus and wishes them well on and off the ice.

Movie Review

'The Magic Christian' Sails;
Keep Your Parachute Handy!

By SUZANNE NICASSIO

Feature Editor

"The Magic Christian" is a very, very funny movie. Then again, "The Magic Christian" is not a funny movie at all. About two-thirds of the way through the picture one gets the idea that the basic premise of the whole thing is very grim indeed.

The rather basic, episode plot revolves around the efforts of Sir Guy Grand (Peter Sellers) and his lately adopted vagrant son Youngman Grand (Ringo Starr) to prove that civilized man will do quite literally anything for money.

Black Comedy Premise

Now this is a very "black comedy" sort of premise. It holds out the possibility for any number of funny incidents; it is something that all of us at one time or another suspect—but it is not really something that we want to believe in the final analysis.

The impossibly upright cop who insists on giving a ticket, the stiff-upper-lipped sportsman, the haughty headwaiter—you've always suspected they would do anything for a buck, but you've never had enough money to find out. Sir Guy Grand has enough. And he finds out. You begin to hope that someone will escape. But no one does. In the end, even simplicity has a price tag.

Mad Allegory

The names themselves—Sir Guy Grand, Youngman Grand—are dead give-aways. The picture is a mad allegory. It is not so much a piece of conventional theater as it is a hugely elaborate put-on aimed at the entire world.

The Magic Christian, supposedly the last word in pleasure cruise ships, is actually a vast practical joke—a "Ship of Fools" manned by the Marx Brothers and King Kong.

The film sets out to demolish pretense and hypocrisy, and it does so with fiendish slapstick vigor. It merrily demolishes (all in pompous capitals) Theater, Sportsmanship, The Law, Advertising, Gourmet Dining, Art and anything else remotely connected with Gracious Living as practiced by the Gracious Few.

The picture is crammed full of the sort of incidents you love to crack up about while recounting them to friends who haven't seen it. For instance, you've never seen Hamlet until you've seen Laurence Harvey reciting "To Be or Not to Be" in strip tempo, daintily dropping his first satin G-string in a fluorescent, Ziegfeld-style finale.

Raquel Welch does a brilliant take-off on Raquel Welch as the Priestess of the Whip presiding over a gallery full of topless lady gallery slaves in the engine room of The Magic Christian. Be prepared to drool, but drool fast—it's a quickie.

Brilliantly Vague

Sellers' Sir Guy is one of his very best performances. Sir Guy is urbane, polished and brilliantly vague. He rarely resorts to slapstick himself—he simply creates great crashing waves of it wherever he goes.

Ringo Starr is elaborately absurd in his mangy sleeping bag and shambles about like a self-pleased cocker spaniel

No 'Generation Gap'
In Faculty Art Show

By ELAINE HANSON

If you're like me, you're pretty tired of hearing about the Generation Gap—and you're even less interested in adults who want to be "pals" or who just want to be "understand" you better. If so, you might find a visit to the Faculty Art Show, which closes at 4:30 today, enlightening and refreshing.

If you do visit the art show, you will no doubt discover that many members of our Cerritos teaching staff have successfully bridged this so-called gap simply by expressing themselves through their work. (You know, "doing their own thing.")

You may be surprised to learn that they are youthful, imaginative and innovative thinkers despite (in some cases) their chronological ages.

Long Beach Window

For example, you will see a new form of abstract art in which the shape of the canvas is incorporated into the overall design of the work. Of particular interest is one painting titled "Long Beach Window" by Walter Leather Jones which suggests the view from a bay window by the use of a canvas in the shape of such a window.

Another picture, called "Field Flag," is particularly striking because of the depth it acquired when the artist, Andy Wing, stretched it over a bulky, wooden frame. Do you see in it a wounded soldier by any chance—and perhaps a coffin?

Jewelry Design

Perhaps you didn't realize that all of the jewelry you buy and wear is designed by someone—usually by someone older than yourself. If not, you will undoubtedly be interested in Joseph Gritner's exhibit of jewelry.

According to Roland Shutt, gallery director, the original design for jewelry is molded out of wax and then cast in plaster. After the plaster is set, the wax is melted away and replaced by molten metal. When the metal has hardened, the plaster is chipped away and underneath is the finished product. Do see Gritner's three-finger rings!

If you're a gadget-lover, plan to spend some time with Charlene Felos' "Junk Contraption #50." You'll love it! It's made out of a wooden cheese box, an old photograph and several other discernable odds and ends. It's disturbing because it looks like functions.

Generation Gap Bridged

By now it should be clear that the Generation Gap is not a permanent barrier between youths and adults. Several Cerritos faculty members have almost effortlessly bridged the gap between their generation and our own, as one can easily see by visiting the Faculty Art Show now at Cerritos.

'Mind Revolution' Calls
For Constructive Effort

Some students who want to get a point across about the minority problem in their community throw stones through windows, others burn down cities and some shoot the innocent on the streets.

This is the "Physical Revolution" that is happening today and will continue to grow with each succeeding day.

There is a student on this campus, Victor Muntz, whose approach to revolution is different. This student goes to history and political science classes giving speeches about ethnic problems in this community.

He tries to present resolutions and solutions to the problems of the community. This is the "Mind Revolution," and Muntz is using it well.

Vets Club Member

Muntz is a member of the Veterans Club and is currently president of Students for Progress Through Education.

Club Booth Day

Be sure to visit the 41 booths in the Quad today. Club Booth Day was originally scheduled for Wednesday. But due to heavy rainfall the two preceding days, it was postponed until today. There will be booths from Panhellenic, special interest, curricular and service organizations. All students are welcome to visit the clubs and meet their members.

Republicans

The California College Republicans are forming a chapter on our campus with the help of Don Stickle, Bill West and instructor Wendell Hanks. Any Cerritos student interested in information regarding the Young Republicans may contact any of the above persons or stop by their booth today.

Wrestlers Terrorize SCC Opposition

Grapplers Smash Fullerton 34-8; Tonight's Match Can Clinch Crown

By BILL HECHT

The Cerritos wrestling team can clinch at least a tie for the South Coast Conference crown tonight when it battles stubborn Santa Ana in the Falcon gym at 7:30. Coach Hal Simonek's grapplers unleashed a devastating attack on SCC opposition over the semester break by winning all three league encounters to up their record to 4-0.

The Falcon blitzkrieg of SCC foes began Jan. 23 with a 33-3 stomping of San Diego Mesa. They followed that by trouncing Mt. SAC 32-6 to crush any title hopes the Mounties might have had. After losing a non-league encounter to El Camino 19-17, the Falcons then bounced back to drub Fullerton 34-8.

Cody Shines

Stacy Cody had little trouble with his opponents as the little Falcon breezed through four matches. Cody, who bears the name of another great conqueror, started off by downing Mesa's Rick Johnson 6-0. His next opponent didn't resemble a buffalo, but Cody had little difficulty in rolling up 18 points in defeating Dave Breen of Mt. SAC 16-4. He then dropped El Camino's Rocky Chavez 9-0 and reived a forfeit from Fullerton.

Harold Jordan, the Falcon's 126-

Gary Kameya 5-0 and gained a forfeit from Fullerton.

Falcon captain Ken Turner zeroed in on his opponents, as the popular wrestler remains undefeated in SCC action. Turner did receive somewhat of a jolt, however, by losing a hard-fought Mack Byrge continues to shine in the 158-lb. class, adding two more pins to his credit. Byrge pinned Mark Ray from San Diego Mesa and Fullerton's Gary Thomas while losing decisions to El Camino's Mike McIntyre and Mt. SAC's Carl Plunkett.

Holding down the fort at 177-lbs. is George Maddox, who went 3-1 for the semester break. Maddox jumped all over Mt. SAC's Dave Funnell 9-1 and Mesa's Alvin Davis 3-1. He found things a hair tougher against El Camino, narrowly edging out a 1-0 victory over Ken Wright. Maddox's loss came at the hands of Fullerton's Jim Bishop 7-4.

Perhaps Maddox's best performance, at 177-lbs. came in his loss to Bishop. He held a 4-2 lead after two periods and was wrestling extremely well before Bishop achieved a take down with 30 seconds left in the match, and then added a predicament for a total of five points within a span of 15 seconds.

Maddox battles Ron Alexander from Santa Ana in his next match, which could be a "barn burner." Alexander is undefeated after 19 matches topping it off by capturing the San Diego Tourney, which featured a good field.

The big men, Ben Ohai and Dave Campbell, have been nothing short of fantastic as the two battle for the top spot as the outstanding wrestler of the year. Both added four more wins to their already impressive records.

Ohai's record stands at 19 wins, two losses with 10 falls. "Gentle" Ben started off by getting a forfeit against Mesa and then pinned Mt. SAC's Jeff Fornear with just 18 seconds left in the match. Ohai followed this up with decisions over El Camino's Ken Bree 15-6 and Fullerton's Steve Petersen 8-1.

Big Dave Campbell put his record at 17 wins, one loss with 12 pins by racing through his opposition. He slammed Mesa's Jerry White to the mat with one minute and 30 seconds remaining in the second round, and then followed that up by pinning Sal Sevilla of Mt. SAC in five minutes and 45 seconds. Campbell then received a forfeit from El Camino and decided Fullerton's Steve Johnson 5-1.

match with El Camino's Alex Verdusco. But Turner retained his perfect slate in league action with wins over Mike Ito from Mt. SAC 4-0 and gaining a forfeit from Mesa and Fullerton.

Jarrett "Deacon" Williams knocked off Mesa's captain, Joe Tice, 3-1 while receiving forfeits from Mt. SAC and Fullerton. His match with El Camino's Steve Magruder was another story, however, as the "Deacon" lost by a pin. "Deacon" had an 8-6 lead after two periods and looked like he was on his way to an easy victory until the fall occurred with just 33 seconds remaining in the match.

Felipe Vargas upped his record to a very respectable 10-5 with wins over Mesa's Greg Robell 8-3 and Fullerton's Dale Goettsche 15-4. Vargas dropped decisions to Mt. SAC's Terry Trout and El Camino's Henry MacErnie.

Track Season Underway Today; Rio Hondo Invades Falconland

The 1970 track season begins with a flourish this afternoon when the Falcons battle Rio Hondo on Falcon Field at 3:30. Coach Dave Kamanski will field some outstanding freshmen along with a strong group of returning lettermen in his bid to capture the South Coast championship.

Among the top freshmen are several members of the championship cross country team, featuring the brilliant tandem of Ruben Chappins and Mike Bernal. Understandably the strong point of the team, Kamanski hopes Chappins and Bernal along with returnee John Mendez can be the focal point or the nucleus of his team.

Kamanski terms his team "well-balanced," and a look at the team roster bears him out.

"White Lightning"

Returning in the sprints will be Bob "White Lightning" Ballard, who was the Southern California champ in the 100-yd. dash. Ballard also captured the conference crown in the 100- and 220-yd. dashes while anchoring a strong relay team. "White Lightning" ran consistent 9.7 and 9.6 dashes with a best of 9.4, which was wind-aided.

Teaming with Ballard will be Dave

Cohen, who took fifth in the conference in the 100-yd. dash and second in the 220. Considerable depth can be found in the hurdles, where the Falcons have at least five people vying for spots. Leading the contingent will be Larry Broy, who was second in the conference last year in the high hurdles and fourth in the intermediate hurdles. Giving Broy a run for his money, as he did last year, will be Dennis Ruby, who was fifth in the high hurdles and sixth in the intermediate.

The field events will be well-stocked with some fine returnees. Kevin Johnson, the conference discus champion, will be back along with Ken Fagle, a fine discus thrower from Oklahoma. The shotput will be handled by Steve Fryer, who was consistently around 51 feet last year.

The high-jump features two outstanding performers. One is freshman John James, who has cleared 5'6"; the other is Dewey Weber, who took fourth in the conference last year.

The long jump will be anchored by Gary Sarel, a freshman.

Holding down the pole vault will be Niel Chapman, who took fifth in the CIF last year and is a good 15-foot vaulter, according to Kamanski.

League-Leading Cagers Win Four, Await Showdown with FJC Hornets

Jim Killingsworth's fighting Falcon cagers surged into the lead in the South Coast Conference after finishing a perfect homestand. The four wins at home upped their record to 7-1 in conference play and to 17-5 for the season.

The Cerritos quintet scored wins over Fullerton (63-48), San Diego City (77-59), Mt. SAC (69-56) and Mesa (74-59).

After successfully downing the league-

leading Hornets of FJC, the Falcons

44 loss on the Falcons in their first meeting. Four of the starting five hit in double figures, led by Fopma with 24. Fopma was aided by some beautiful assists from Randy Craig and Eric Smiler. Smiler scored 11 and added six rebounds, and Craig contributed 13. Ballou finished the evening with 17 markers and swept the boards for 10 rebounds.

Cerritos took on San Diego Mesa in the final game of the four game homestand and met the challenge with a 74-59 victory. The team was again led by Fopma, who pumped in 20 and grabbed 12 rebounds. Craig scored 17 in one of his better games of the season.

Smiler became the all-time Cerritos assist man for a single season as he added five against Mesa. These five gave him a total of 137 breaking Dean Donnellon's record of 136 set in 1965-67. Smiler also chipped in 10 points during the victory.

The Falcons must win their remaining league games to move into the state playoffs. This means they must get by the Fullerton Hornets. They meet the Hornets Wednesday at FJC.

Killingsworth's quintet again showed signs of championship potential as they stormed back from a 39-38 deficit to defeat a stubborn Orange Coast team 83-69.

The Pirates were magnificent in the first half as they forced the Falcon cagers into numerous turnovers and converted them into easy buckets. Orange Coast was also helped by a fine shooting exhibition by star forward Phil Jordan who finished with 24 points, 18 of which were produced in the first half.

Fopma Stars

Fopma as before was the leading scorer with 35 points, his season high, and cleared the boards for 11 rebounds. Fopma is almost a certain pick as an all conference selection unless the coaches pull one on him as they did on Bain Brick. He has been averaging almost 20 points a game and has dominated every center in the league that he has come up against.

Eric Smiler turned in one of his better performances as he ripped the nets for 13 points and grabbed eight rebounds. Rick Merrill seemed to slip back into his mid-season slump for the first half but bounced back in the second to finish the night with 13 points.

came back to smash San Diego City behind some fine shooting by sophomore guard Rick Merrill. Merrill who had been billed as the team's best shooter before the start of the season, had been hitting only 37 per cent from the field until he finally broke loose. Merrill hit 11 of 17 from the field and added two free throws to give him 24 for the night.

Everett Fopma continued his fine play offensively as well as defensively. Fopma grabbed eight rebounds and scored 33 points. Merrill, Fopma and Ron Ballou combined for 25 of the Falcon 33 rebounds.

Cagers' Revenge

Killingsworth had no problem in getting his team up for the Mt. SAC contest. The Mounties had pinned an earlier 45-

Santa Ana Next

The Falcons return home to encounter the unpredictable Dons of Santa Ana tomorrow night. The Dons almost pulled an upset in the first round as they lost 45-41 on their home court. They are led by former Mater Dei prep star Jim Hucksien who pumped in 30 in the 55-79 win over San Diego City Wednesday night.

Linksmen, Netmen Approach Openers

Ceash Ray Pascoe's Cerritos College tennis team starts the 1970 season by taking on three of its toughest traditional rivals in the first week of competition.

The Falcon netmen travel to meet arch-foe El Camino in the opener today at 2:30 p.m. and then host two other former Metro Conference foes, Long Beach and L.A. Valley, on Monday and Wednesday.

South Coast Conference competition does not start until March 5, but Pascoe has seven matches scheduled before that date. Cerritos has scheduled a total of 15 dual matches and three tournaments in this year's slate.

San Diego City College is favored to win the new conference, with Fullerton and Orange Coast given an even chance to upset the Knights on their road to a conference title, according to Pascoe.

Best Return

He said Cerritos has two of its best men back from last season, Allen Foster, who played the No. 2 position; and Steve Johnson, most valuable tennis letterman of last year. Two other sophomores returning are Jeff Cowie, who saw some action last year, and Ken Nunn, who started the season last year but had to drop out early.

Top frosh prospect is Gene Burd from Bellflower High School. Gene is the brother of former Cerritos football and tennis letterman Wayne Burd. Other freshmen are Steve Parks, Mike Rorick, George Hetzel and Burt Mottola.

GOLF HERE

With only one returning letterman, golf coach Don Hall faces a major rebuilding job this season. The Falcon linksmen open the season today against Pasadena.

Hall, who is Athletic Director at Cerritos, had to take over the golf coaching duties when former coach Frank Wright had to devote more time to his instructional duties in the mathematics department and to some books he is authoring in mathematics.

Lone Letterman

Roy Lowry, who played in fourth and fifth position for Cerritos last year, is the lone letterman. He will be joined by eight freshmen.

Cerritos will host its first meet at its home course, Los Coyotes Country Club in La Mirada. The match begins at 1 p.m.

Kincaid Has High Hopes As Baseball Season Begins

Coming off a 22-6 record and a co-championship in Metropolitan Conference action last year, coach Wally Kincaid's baseball team is well-prepared to do battle in the tough South Coast Conference.

The Falcons have seven returning lettermen from last year's championship team including two starting pitchers, Gary Addeo and Cliff Vaudreuil. Last year Addeo had a 5-2 won-lost record and a fantastic 1.66 earned run average.

The remainder of the pitching staff is made up of freshmen such as Don Hightstreet from Gahr, Dave Brunell an all-leaguer from Bell and sophomore Mike Bryant from Downey, who will be called upon for short relief work.

The Falcon all conference outfielder, Tim Steele, will return to the lineup again this year after missing the last part of the '69 season with a broken wrist. At the time of his injury Steele was batting a lofty .365 and was always a threat with men on base. He will be at first base for the Falcons this year.

Another Falcon standout is Ron Diggle, who batted .354 last season and was named to the all-conference second team.

The Falcons have a good defensive team. If they do have one major weak spot, it would be their lack of depth on the bench says coach Kincaid. A major injury to any of the starting players could be too much to overcome.

Although there is no soft touch in the South Coast Conference, the team would appear to afford the toughest opposition for Cerritos would be Mt. SAC, Fullerton and San Diego Mesa.

founder, ended his four matches with three wins and one defeat. His loss came at the hands of Mt. SAC's Larry Watanabe 10-5. Previous to that Jordan had achieved perhaps his biggest win as a Falcon by dumping Robert Ito of Mesa 11-1.

Jordan's match with Ito was billed as even money until about 10 seconds had elapsed into the first round. Jordan took the action to the smallish warrior in the opening moments by clamping a headlock on Ito, which was good for a three-point near fall. Jordan closed out the round with a predicament, for a total of five points.

Jordan later decided El Camino's
