

Executives Inaugurated Despite the Confusion

By BEN DICKSON

Many people believe that Ed Kish would have won the ASCC election last month—if John Heredia had not run. Or that Heredia would have won if Kish had remained out of the race.

In any case it seems that Kish would have taken the marbles from Steve Berardino in a runoff election—only there would not be a runoff.

Legislation that would have established a runoff election between the top two candidates, Kish and Berardino, did not come through. Kish supporters charged that former ASCC President Jim Howard vetoed the bill in order that his publicly-endorsed candidate, Berardino, would be sure of victory.

Bill Killed

However, Supreme Court Justice Frank Jones says that Howard did not veto the bill at all because Howard "does not have the power to veto in this instance." The reason that the bill was killed as far as this semester's election is concerned was, according to Jones who reviewed the bill, "lack of proper legislative procedure."

Language Dept. Summer Courses

Three completely new courses in French, German and Spanish will be offered during the eight-week summer session at Cerritos. The need has long been felt for language courses which will stress conversational practice during the summer months in order to prevent the loss of fluency and vocabulary.

The courses are entitled Spoken French and Review, Spoken German and Review, Spoken Spanish and Review and are open to all students with one or more semesters of language as the prerequisite. The three-unit course does not have transfer credit, but the credits do apply toward the A.A. Degree.

The classes will meet from 6-8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, and they will be taught by Rose Marie Dozier, Wolf DeLyle and Abundio Elias.

One Beginning Spanish course will be offered in the eight-week summer session. This course is the equivalent of the regular Beginning Spanish course offered during the regular academic year. Ruben Martinez will teach the course, which will give five units transfer credit. Information concerning details of these courses may be obtained by contacting the various department offices, French at extension number 230, German 203, Spanish 205.

The members of Lambda Alpha Epsilon toured the U. S. border patrol station at Chula Vista May 23. They were shown the various devices and techniques used to apprehend aliens who cross the border illegally. The members then visited the U. S. customs department at the Tijuana-California border. Officers at the station showed where they inspected cars and explained their methods in seizing narcotics and contraband being smuggled into the United States.

Bulletin

As IM went to press this notice was received from the Election Board.

The Election Board has found in favor of plaintiff Bob Payne in his complaint that President Steve Berardino and Vice President Butch Griffin violated the code of ethics in conducting their campaign. As penalty, the Board ruled that the two should forfeit the $25 bond which they were required to post in case of such violation.

Payne's request for an injunction, he says, will be withdrawn at the next convening of the Supreme Court.

Pioneer Teacher Edward Summer Second To Retire from Cerritos

When the spring semester ends, the college will lose Edward Summer, head of the electronics department and veteran of 13 years of teaching at Cerritos. The second teacher to retire from Cerritos, he was instrumental in the formation of the electronics department.

Summer is a native Californian and attended Los Angeles High School. He attended UCLA and later transferred to C.S.C.L.B. where he received his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He worked in the electronics industry for several years until he went to Fullerton Junior College as an instructor and became the trade and industry chairman there. In 1957 Summer came here as coordinator of technical arts.

He returned to teaching in 1965. Upon his retirement this year he plans to teach part-time and do research for industry.

A tall, quiet man, Summer has made his presence felt in every department here by his genuine interest and concern in the college's future. He believes that Cerritos has the potential of being the top community college in California and one of the top in the country. He is proud of the students here and in the way they have conducted themselves during the current trend toward college disorders.

Students Smarter Today

Summer believes the students of today are smarter and can think better and more freely in today's society than ever before.

Summer was honored May 22 at a Technology Division dinner in Buena Park. Among the many guests paying tribute were Dr. Siegfried Ringwald, Cerritos president; Dr. Ralph Burnight, former Cerritos president; and several former students of Summer's.

Summer was presented a letter of appreciation from the College Electronic Faculty Association, which he founded and later became first president.

Early Dairy Days

Dr. Ringwald presented Summer with a certificate of appreciation for the service and contributions he has made to Cerritos. Several people spoke of how instrumental he was in the "dairy days" when Cerritos first started in making contacts with the electronics industry which resulted in its sending prospective students and contributing needed equipment.

Summer has given an example of what a teacher should and can be. Leo Korf of the theater arts department aptly defined him by saying, "His problem was education; it wasn't just running his department as an isolated unit." He has always shown breadth and creative interest in what other departments are doing, and that to me makes him a whole human of the whole world."

EDWARD SUMMER
... Second To Retire

Students who are on academic probation do not need a pink work-in-progress report for the summer and fall registrations.

A student who is on academic probation now and fails to achieve a 2.0 GPA during this semester is subject to dismissal. Dismissed students may attend summer school but may not attend the fall semester unless they are reinstated by the Admissions and Standards Committee or bring up their cumulative GPA to a 2.0 in summer school.

The first six-week session of summer school will begin June 22 and run through July 31. The eight-week session is from June 22 until August 14, and the second six-week session begins August 3 and ends September 11.

Placement Tests

Students are reminded that placement tests are required for the classes stating math or English clearances. These tests must be taken before a counseling appointment may be made and a program of study arranged for the student. The placement tests take approximately three hours.

Tests will be given June 3-4 at 7 p.m. in the Library and June 6 and 27 at 8:30 a.m. in the Student Center, August 22 at 8:30 a.m. in the Library, August 26 and 27 at 7 p.m. in the Library. Seating will begin 15 minutes before the tests.

Priority Registration

Priority registration for continuing students will be on August 13, 19 and 20 for fall. Students must have an approved pre-plan in order to register. Continuing students with or without a pre-plan register August 21.

Registration for all students (new and readmit) will begin August 24. All students with a registration pre-plan may register August 24, 25 and 26. Those with or without a pre-plan may register August 27, 28 and 31 and September 1, 2, 3, 8 and 9.

Anyone registering for extended day classes only may register September 14, 15, 16 and 17 from 5-9 p.m. in the Administration Bldg. No appointment card is necessary.

680 Graduate June 14; Speaker, Practice Set

A class of 680 graduates will participate in the 12th Annual Commencement Exercise on Sunday, June 14 at 2 p.m. in the Gymnasium. To insure a smooth ceremony, a one-hour rehearsal will be held at 3 p.m. Friday, June 12 in the Gymnasium. If unable to attend rehearsal, graduates should contact the Office of Instruction.

Initiating the program will be the traditional academic procession of faculty, the president's party and graduating students.

"A Time for Tolerance" will be the topic of the address by guest speaker Dr. William S. Banowsky, chancellor of Pepperdine College of Malibu, who will be introduced by Dr. Siegfried Ringwald, college president.

Public Affairs Leader

Leadership in public affairs has won for Dr. Banowsky the 1967-68 Liberty Bell Award from the American Bar Assoc. Banowsky received the Santa Monica Jaycees Distinguished Service Award and was listed in the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce publication Outstanding Young Men of America.

He earned his Master's Degree at the University of New Mexico and his Ph. D. in Communications from USC. Banowsky joined the faculty of Pepperdine in 1959. After holding posts as Dean of Students, Assistant to the President and Executive Vice President, he was named Chancellor of Pepperdine's new Malibu campus in 1969.

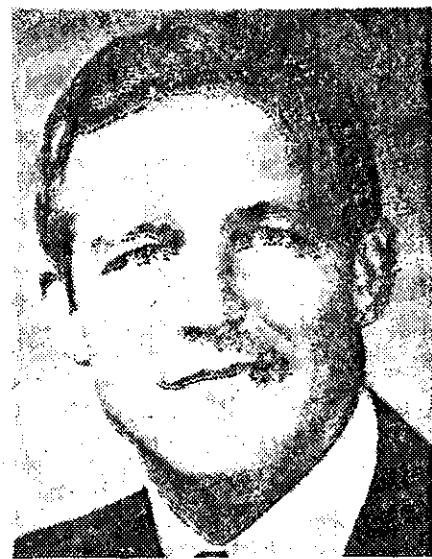

He has published several books. His latest, "It's a Playboy World," grew out of a debate with the religion editor of Playboy.

Everyone in the exercise will be dressed in gowns and mortarboards. Graduates who earned 3.30 to 4.0 grade point averages will receive special recognition by wearing silver tassels rather than the customary black and white.

Preceding a special presentation by ASCC President Jim Howard, Dr. Stuart Bundy, vice president of instruction, will make the presentation of the graduating class. Dr. Ringwald will confer the degrees and certificates.

Diplomas will be given by Dr. William Keim, assistant superintendent of community services; Don Siriani, dean of student personnel; Harold Tredway, president of the Board of Trustees; and Leslie Nottingham, vice president of the Board of Trustees.

Speech Dept. Success a Product Of Teacher-Student Rapport

By JOE VILLEGAS

The Cerritos speech department took a first place at the Pacific Southwest speech debate championship to highlight its year. The importance of communication, content and oral creativity in speaking is highly stressed by speech department instructors.

Wendell Hanks, speech instructor, said "If you have a description of a communication before you encounter it, then you won't become a victim of communication in that situation."

A speech class becomes accepted more freely by the student as he knows more about it.

According to Hanks, nine per cent of communication is done by writing, 16 per cent by reading and 75 per cent by speaking and listening. "This shows the importance of training the individual's oral ability as well as his reading and writing ability. Speaking should be taught in grammar school just as reading and writing are," states Hanks.

Students in the speech department appreciate the help that is always available to them from their instructors. "The rapport between myself and Mr. Lewis (speech instructor) has been so good that I think of him as a father," says debater Gary Rybold.

Problems confronting speech students are overcome quickly. There are no rows of chairs in speech classes, just one large circular pattern of chairs where students become more at ease and can more fully understand other students as well as the problems of public speaking. One gets the feeling that he is in his own living room.

"So much of the student's computer time thinking time is clogged by running defense programs," says Hanks. "Students enter a class and try to figure out what the teacher is thinking and what his next move is going to be. Students could further their speech ability simply by training these computers to stop being so defensive."

It is clear that instructors are doing a good job in furthering student demands for greater facility in speech, and it is good to know that they are appreciated by their students.

Data Processing To Extend Scope of Dept. Curriculum

The data processing department has announced that September, 1970 will reflect a number of changes to the data processing curriculum. It is suggested that all data processing majors discuss these changes with a member of the department faculty.

Several courses have been added and prerequisites have been changed, so a review of these with either counseling or an instructor would be desirable.

The data processing department has also announced two courses that will be new in September that are for non-majors. The first of these will be known as DP-40. It will consist of nine weeks of the fundamentals of data processing followed by nine weeks of programming computers in the FORTRAN computer language. This course is being offered to fulfill the requirements for such a course at several of the state colleges. Business transfer students should be particularly interested in this offering.

Another new course is to be nine weeks in length and will be known as DP-15. It will be a quick survey of modern data processing methods for anyone on campus who would like to know what DP is all about. It will look at unit record equipment and then the third-generation computers. Everyone will become aware of what programming is and how it is accomplished. This course will be 1 1/2 units.

"In this modern world," comments Mr. Harrington, department chairman, "everyone is so influenced by the power and problem-solving ability of computers that everyone should have a better knowledge of computers and how they work. After all, the life they influence may be your own. The data processing department extends an invitation to everyone on campus, data processing student or not... come and take a course with us."

Spikers End Season, Off Key at Finals

The track squad officially finished the 1970 season sending four men to the California State Track and Field Championships at Modesto May 22-23. Merritt College of Oakland led the field after the last man crossed the finish line, while Cerritos was well back in the order of finish. It was a disappointing effort for the Falcons as freshman sensation Reubin Chappins could manage only sixth place in his specialty, the two-mile run. Chappins' time of 9:32 was well off his best career effort of 8:57, which he recorded last year. Coach Dave Kamanski sympathized with his star runner's slow time, saying, "He just never got going in that 90-degree heat."

'Getting Straight' Rates As 'Best Ever' Film

By BEN DICKSON A few years ago a person who was getting straight was a person in the process of losing reality through drugs. Then the meaning changed. Getting straight connoted a former drug user who was no longer getting stoned. Now no one used the term because no one is sure about what it means. Columbia Pictures' "Getting Straight" comes on with the same kind of hip ambiguity. Set on a university campus, it is the story of ex-Vietnam vet Harry Bailey (Elliott Gould), who is also a veteran of "The Movement." Caught in a bizarre situation of trying to find social justice and idealism in teaching, Bailey finds himself playing establishment games getting his M.A. and teaching credential, mediating and explaining the position of the local campus radicals and pursuing a love life that is falling apart. Representing the corners of this triangle are Ellis, the campus black who has forsaken reason for revolution; Professor Willhant, who has no faith in Bailey's enthusiasm for education; and Jan (Candice Bergen), his girlfriend, who, thinking she has lost his love, gropes for security in the middle class world. Unwanted Confrontations Confrontations with these people bring Bailey into positions which he does not want to be in, such as trying to explain to the college president exactly what "the kids" want (and what will happen if they don't get it.

Falcons Outclass Hapless Sequoias, Sweep to Second State Crown

By MICHAEL BARR As the old saying goes, time simply ran out for College of the Sequoias May 23, just as it has for all of the other baseball teams coming up against Cerritos this year. The Falcons captured another title and another trophy. This was the big one, however, the California State Championship. They did it by taking the two-of-three series from Sequoias in two straight, 6-1 and 8-1. The state series upped the Falcon season mark to 40-1, the second best record in the college's history. It also brought the state title to Cerritos for the second time in five years. The Falcons other title came in 1969 with a 40-0 mark.

Sequoias last won the state championship in 1957, and this was the first time since then the Giants have made the playoffs. Coming into the series the Valley Conference champions had a 23-13 record, which included wins over UCLA and Cal Poly (SLO). They breezed through the Northern California playoffs without a loss, beating San Mateo (5-0), Redwoods (6-3) and Hancock (3-2 and 5-4) for the dubious honor of meeting Cerritos for the state crown. The Falcons also breezed through the playoffs and were riding the crest of a 12-game winning streak coming into the series.

The end of Cerritos' domination of junior college baseball seemed to be in doubt for only the first inning of the first game May 22. After the Birds had everything their way for the rest of the series. Mike Suneri singled and scored as Jim Musick followed with a double to left and eventually came around to score run number five. The process was reversed in the sixth as Suneri doubled and Musick singled to produce the final Cerritos tally. Musick led all batters with two hits and two RBI.

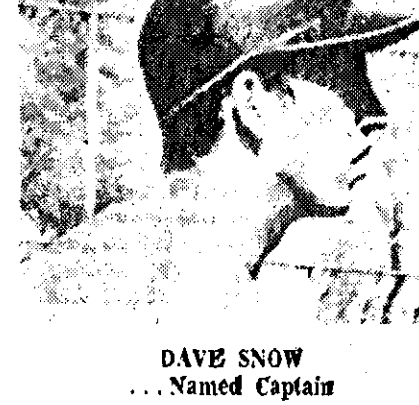

Cerritos scored its final three runs without the use of a base hit in the top of the eighth. Jack Tedesco and Davies both walked. Musick then laid down a bunt, which the pitcher threw over the first baseman's head, with Tedesco scoring and Davies and Musick winding up at third and second. A pitch then got away from the catcher and Davies came across homeplate standing up. The catcher's throw home bounced off Davies and rolled toward the backstop again, allowing Musick to score the eighth and final run.

New Fraternity Ends Vets Skein

The previously unbeaten Vets Club softball team was dumped 30-7 by Gamma Rho Delta, a new fraternity on campus, in a game played May 24 at Caruthers Park. The Vets apparently need another fling at basic training as they were not able to withstand the full nine innings of the encounter. They managed to slip quietly out of the ballpark after an exhausting seven-and-one-half innings. In a counterattack move, the Vets were successful in ridding themselves of the embarrassment of the earlier laughter as they stormed back to nip Gamma Rho Delta in a rematch, 10-9. No rubber match has as yet been stated, but no doubt duels won't be cheap when these two giants of the diamond tangle in the crucial decider. Gamma Rho Delta is proud of its showing so far and would like to extend an open invitation to any campus organization to schedule future events. Fred Dorfman is handling all offers sent in to the new fraternity for social exchanges and events, care of the Student Affairs Office.

Falcons Trail

Don Highstreet, with a 0.99 ERA, started the series opener for the Falcons, and Rick Leabens whacked his first pitch down the left field line for a double. After hitting the next batter, Highstreet got the first out then loaded the bases by walking clean-up hitter Steve Dean. After a sacrifice fly got the run home, a fly ball to left got Cerritos out of the early-inning jam. Leabens' lead-off double turned out to be the only extra base hit of the series for Sequoias. The 1-0 lead in the first inning was also the only time in the series that Sequoias was to have a lead. That lead didn't last long, as in the home half of the opening frame the Falcons first four batters reached base and three of them scored. Seven men came to the plate, with Ron Diggle and tripling in a run and Tim Steele driving in a run with a single. After the rocky first inning, Highstreet settled down and allowed only five more singles and no more than one in any inning. He had one strikeout and gave up the one base on balls. Cerritos chased Sequoias' starting pitcher with a pair of runs in the fourth.

DAVE SNOW Named Captain Steve Staggs led off the first with a walk, stole second and later came around to score on a fly ball by Steele. In the fourth Carlos Hernandez singled, stole second and scored the Falcons second run on a single by Steele. Cliff Vaudreuil, Diggle, Steeles and Dave Snow all singled in the fifth to produce another pair of runs to give Cerritos a 4-0 lead.

Cliff Vaudreuil, Diggle, Steeles and Dave Snow all singled in the fifth to produce another pair of runs to give Cerritos a 4-0 lead. Frank Davies made it 5-0 in the sixth as he scored on a double by Staggs. That hit knocked out starter Dan Hensley and started the parade which saw five different hurlers on the mound for Sequoias. Cerritos chased Sequoias' starting pitcher with a pair of runs in the fourth.

He fashioned a remarkable 1.07 ERA and compiled a season mark of 14-0. Third baseman Dave Snow was named
