Pirates Seek Revenge From Falcons

South Coast Clips

Going into the fourth week of South Coast Conference action Fullerton remains the only team with an unblemished record of 3-0 in conference and 7-0 overall.

Santa Ana would have to be termed the conference surprise with a 2-0-1 record. Cerritos is in third place with a 2-1 mark. Orange Coast is 1-1-1 while Mt. Sac and San Diego remained winless in conference.

Fullerton barely got by Mt. Sac last week as Mountie quarterback Steve Myer led Mt. Sac to a 21-7 lead. Fullerton came back in the second half to pull it out 27-21.

Santa Ana, a team that went 0-5 in non-conference action, battled Orange Coast to a 0-0 tie. Cerritos downed Mesa 7-0.

Fullerton is leading the conference in total offense with Cerritos second. Oddly enough both these teams rate fifth and sixth in total defense respectively.

Ted Farmer of Mt. Sac is well in front of the conference rushing race with 631 yards on 111 carries for a 5.7 rushing average.

Glenn Ford leads Cerritos with 266 yards in 66 carries for a 4.0 average which rates only tenth in the conference.

Neff Cortez of Cerritos leads the conference in total offense with 966 yards. 247 of the yards are rushing while the rest came through passing.

Steve DeBerg of Fullerton leads the conference in passing with 79 completions in 127 attempts for 1039 yards. DeBerg however has lost 121 yards rushing for a total offense of 932.

It's All In The Game

NO MANS LAND — Falcon quarterback Steve Norman was voted the Player of the Week by the Cerritos coaching staff due to a courageous effort against Mesa. Here Norman is squelched by 10 Mesa players. The freshman from La Mirada High required five stitches in his chin following the game after he was sacked early in the game.

Falcons Title Hopes Dim; Need Win Over Pirates

Cerritos will try to keep their title hopes alive tonight when they host Orange Coast College in a game which both teams need desperately to stay in the running with Fullerton for the South Coast Conference Crown.

Fullerton is 3-0 in conference action while Cerritos is 2-1 and Orange Coast stands at 1-1-1. Fullerton would have to lose their remaining two games in order for the Falcons to have a chance at the state title.

Cerritos however can have a tie for the South Coast Conference Crown if Fullerton loses just one of their remaining games and if Cerritos can win their remaining two.

Falcon coach Ernie Johnson feels the Falcons will have a rough time of it as he considers the Pirate attack as one of the best he has faced all year.

Revenge will also be on the Pirates mind as they were defeated by the Falcons 31-17 on their home field last year which put an end to their title hopes of last season.

Cerritos quarterback Neff Cortez, who was used sparingly in last week's 7-0 win over San Diego Mesa, will get the starting assignment this week.

Cortez was out because of an injury to his hand but seems to have recovered sufficiently enough to start. Cortez will be attempting to go over the 1,000 yard mark in total offense. He has a total of 966 yards before tonight's contest.

Orange Coast should provide Cerritos with some stiff competition on defense as the Pirates rate as the number two team in the conference in total defense.

The Pirates have a record of only 88.3 yards a game for only 2.1 yards a rushing play. The Pirates however only rate fifth in passing defense just ahead of Cerritos, which is last.

Offensively the Pirates seem extremely potent. In rushing they have three of the conferences ten best runners. Mike Nanko, All-CIF performer from Temple City, is third in the conference in rushing with 475 yards. John Dixon rates fifth in the conference with 436 yards and Dan Princeotto rates eighth with 313 yards.

Orange Coast also has the number one and three rated punters in the conference. Mark Schrupp is leading the conference with a 38.5 average while Tony Ciarelli is third at 33.8 yards a punt.

Defensively the Pirates are led by 6-2 205 pound Gary Balch. Balch started all nine games for the Pirates at defensive end last year and has done an outstanding job this season.

Jon Marchiorlatti is the other defensive end who at 6-2 215 is a problem for most rival teams.

Coach Gets 56th Shutout

Cerritos Falcon football coach Ernie Johnson has always been a defense minded coach in his 17-year head-coaching career.

Last week's 7-0 shutout over San Diego Mesa College was his 56th career shutout as a head coach.

On the other end of the spectrum, Coach Johnson has been shut out only 12 times in his entire career. Even more astounding, the last time an opponent blanked Johnson was in October of 1964.

Bruin Coach To Speak At Banquet

Tickets for the 1973 Cerritos Falcon football banquet featuring guest speaker Coach Pepper Rodgers of the UCLA Bruins, are still on sale at the Student Center box office.

The annual event is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m. at the Royal Inn in Anaheim to honor the 1973 Falcon team and its outstanding performers.

Sponsored by the Cerritos Bench Club, a community booster organization for Falcon athletics, the yearly program will feature entertainment, a musical combo and a complete dinner for $7.00 per person.

The 1973 Cerritos team is boasting an impressive 2-1 South Coast Conference record after upsetting a pair of teams that were previously ranked among the top ten in the state. The Falcons are the defending SCC champions.

In conjunction with the banquet, the Cerritos Bench will be raffling off a console color television with a built-in eight-track tape player. Tickets for the drawing can also be purchased at the box office or from Bench Club members for $1. Additional prizes will also be given away and winners need not be present.

Box office hours are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 8 to 8 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

Falcon Basketball Team Prepares For Season

No one likes to boast about a good thing until the final results are in. You save yourself plenty of humiliation that way.

But the 1973-74 Cerritos Falcon basketball team can't cover up the words printed on a standard game program.

A quick glance at the Cerritos roster should clarify one very important facet about the new Falcon season — size will weigh heavily in its outcome.

Of the Falcons 15-man squad, seven are sophomores averaging 6-foot-6 inches in height. Do their opponents need to know any more?

By Christmas the Cerritos squad and its many followers should know if they can start spreading the word. Between now and then the Falcons figure to meet some of the best teams in the state that have been chosen to win their respective conference titles and earn playoff berths.

Included in the two-month menu is defending state finalist Long Beach City College — Cerritos' longest rival in its basketball history. Then along comes Los Angeles Harbor, a team Falcon Coach Bob Foerster has plenty of respect for the views as one of the state's top contenders in 1974.

Other pre-conference foes will include Rio Hondo, Golden West, Cypress, El Camino, Los Angeles Pierce and a trio of tournaments.

The Falcons enter the 1973-74 campaign as the defending South Coast Conference Co-Champion. Cerritos just missed a chance to compete in the state playoffs last year when they suffered a 64-58 loss to Santa Ana in a conference playoff game.

Beyond the mere numbers Coach Foerster, who is beginning his third year with the Falcons, claims that this year's squad will be a "very deliberate" group.

With the loss of speedy guards George Rodriguez and Dave Hill through graduation, the Falcons will more than likely be a lower scoring ball team this season.

The seven returning lettermen for Cerritos have a combined high school senior year winning record of 80 per cent.

This year's lettermen are RANDY SMALL (Mayfair) — Small was an ALL-CIF selection in 1971-72 at Mayfair High School in Lakewood. He was also voted the Suburban League's Most Valuable Player compiling an impressive 23-6 won-loss record in his last season with the Monsoons. Small is a Physical Education major at Cerritos and will start at guard for the Falcons at 6-foot-3.

CHEAP TRANSPORTATION — The new public southeast area to obtain rides. These two unidentified transportation system has made it easy for the people of the students use it to go to and from Cerritos for only a quarter. (TM photo by Bob Hansen)

Prop. 1 Voter Returns Surprise Supporters

Proposition One came to a defeat in Tuesday's Nov. 6. election after heavy campaigning by Gov. Reagan supporting the initiative and Bob Moretti opposing it.

The complicated bill had been in controversy since its conception last February by Reagan. The outcome had been unpredictable until the actual returns began coming in late Tuesday night.

State Assembly Speaker Moretti, led the campaign to vote "no" on Prop. One, claiming that if it was passed it would greatly reduce or in some cases eliminate state services especially in the areas of education, health care, and public safety.

Reasons for Defeat

As the election returns came in to indicate a defeat on Reagan's tax reform initiative, Moretti commented that he felt that the people had voted "no" because "the people knew they weren't getting something for nothing."

He also said that Reagan had taken a "sour grapes" attitude towards the bill's defeat. Reagan's supporters did not immediately concede until it was clear what the trend was.

When asked by newsmen how the results of the election would affect his gubernatorial prospects, Moretti said that the defeat of the bill was unexpected and that his surprise "victory" had given him the statewide exposure he needed to run for governor in 1974.

Reagan's Proposals

Reagan had proposed the tax reform as a means to limit spending by the state legislature without a vote of the people. It would ultimately cut state public services which would then be forced to find its financial backing at the local level.

Moretti objected to this tax "shift" because he felt that the state should continue to be free to provide public services and not burden the local taxpayer.

If Prop. One has passed, many opponents of the bill felt that the state would eliminate much of its aid to the educational program. This would cause community colleges such as Cerritos to obtain funds at the local level by charging tuition.

Proponents of the bill had hoped for a low voter turnout which might have insured the passing of Prop. One. It was defeated even though the actual voter turnout was only about 45 per cent.

Ralph Nader To Lecture On Ecological Hazards

Ralph Nader, consumer protection advocate, will be on the Cerritos campus Tuesday Nov. 13. Nader will be giving a lecture on "Environmental Hazard: Man-Made Man Remedied," in the gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Nader was born on February 27, 1934 in a small Connecticut town called Winsted. Nader attend Gilbert School in Winsted at Princeton University on scholarships, where he graduated "magna cum laude" in 1955, with a major in government and economics.

After graduation he went to Harvard Law School, where he graduated with distinction in 1958. He then joined the US Army for 6 months, before settling in Hartford, Connecticut, where he set up a private law practice. In addition he conducted an informal ad society from 1961 to 1963. He also lectured at the University of Hartford in history and government.

While at Harvard, Nader became interested in automotive safety and studied auto injury cases and collected data on automotive technology at Harvard and MIT, and became convinced that auto accidents put the blame on the drivers instead of unsafe vehicle design. His first article "American cars: Designed for Death" appeared in the Harvard Law review in 1968.

Public Transportation Study Needs Community Support

Public transportation is now in its planning stages. Cerritos is a pilot study center and if approved a complete plan can be made, but community support is needed to get co-operation from Rapid Transit District and other bus services.

Since this is a low density area it will be ideal for a pilot project, according to Nello DiCorpo, director of community services.

The Regional Public Transportation Committee is surveying to determine the needs of southeast transportation, in hopes of getting some positive results from transportation agencies.

Their purpose is to develop a rapid transit service for the needs of the people in the community, and what can be done to meet these needs, according to DiCorpo.

A request was submitted in February, 1972 to receive more bus transportation from Cerritos College to various parts of the community, but it was denied," he said.

Route Planned

"We had the bus route all planned out. It was to serve the people of the Hawaiian Gardens area also, to bring them to shopping centers, the college, Bellflower Health Center and to work," said DiCorpo.

"Unemployment is rampant because of poor transportation, there are jobs available, but if a person doesn't have a car, he's out of luck."

"Before only the people who did not have transportation were concerned, now it's the whole southeast area."

"I feel co-operation from government agencies is poor, they are avoiding issues, not making any commitments, and pay little attention to our letters and calls," said Ted Spriggs, community service co-ordinator.

"We didn't get good co-operation from Jack Gilstrap, Director of RTD, nor from the Road Commissions, they're always giving us promises, but we can never be certain what will be done," said Spriggs. "The money is here, we're just a neglected area."

"RTD is worried about making money," said Spriggs. "They are a subsidized company and are hesitant to show favoritism to any one group."

Transportation Conference

A Regional Transportation Conference was held last Saturday, Nov. 3. Group community members gave brief comments and possible solutions; the people of the community were then able to speak and put questions to government agencies and bus services.

"It's hard to get the same two bus companies to sit down and meet at a conference," said Spriggs. "There is so much competition between them, that no headway is being made."

"A tremendous amount of work went into this conference, the bus drivers all volunteered their time to come on Saturday, to bring the displays that were placed outside the Student Center."

The displays consisted of possible ideas and routes for mini-buses, handicapped buses, dial-a-ride, and bicycle paths.

Nine Week Work Experience Available to Tech Majors

Students who are technology majors and have obtained a job relating to technology can now enroll in the nine week work experience program, according to Reed Shawver, the technology division coordinator for the work experience program.

Several courses are now available for students, one of which is Tech 89 which is a one hour a week class at Cerritos, and the rest of the class time is spent on the job. Students can earn up to three units of credit a semester. There is also Tech 71 and 72 which are on-the-job training at work with no formal classroom training.

In order to be eligible for these programs, a student must currently hold a job relating to the technology field, and be a technology major, said Shawver.

The field of technology covers a variety of subjects, including drafting, architecture, electronics, barbering, industrial arts, cosmetology, welding, metal, and autobody mechanics.

This is the first semester for the program that credits are given for these jobs. There was a 26 per cent increase in the work experience program which might be attributed to the new program.

The credits given for the on-the-job training are at present non-transferable, however, the technology division is working on getting them transferable to higher institutions of learning. The credits are good, however, toward an AA degree in technology.

Center in Need of Toys

"Toys and games are badly needed at the Cerritos College Child Care Center"

said Fran Newman, dean of student affairs.

A toy collection campaign is currently in the planning stage to help the child care center provide toys and games for the children enrolled.

The day child care center, located in the city of Bellflower, was started a year ago to help students with children get an education by taking care of her child during the day.

Newman said the funds for the center, for supplies are limited, this is why the need for toys is so great.

The center currently has 65 children enrolled and would like more, but the supplies do not meet the demand in the toy, game and book areas.

Interested clubs on campus are asked to contact Chuck Fuentes, in the office of student affairs if they have any ideas on how to gather these toys. Plans are being considered to have three collection points on campus for the toys, games and books. A dance which will be sponsored by the ASCC is also being planned.

Admission price to this dance will be a toy, game or book.

"The need is there and if you want the child care center to function we need your help," said Newman.

"If any club is interested in helping in this project, they should contact Fuentes and he will help you," Newman said.

United Crusade Drive To Canvass Cerritos

In an effort to canvass the city of Cerritos, seven teams will begin their United Crusade drive Sunday, Nov. 11, at noon and will continue until 5 p.m.

Cerritos has been divided into zones and each team, composed of ten Cerritos College students, will draw for a zone and be shown the boundaries of each. United Crusade representatives will supervise the drive.

This year the certificated, classified and student body will participate in a campus-wide campaign directed by Nello DiCorpo, dean of community services.

Dearesteen Langdon will serve as the certificated chairwoman, Dottie Wilson as classified chairwoman and Richard Powell (ICC Commissioner) as student body chairman.

"Contributions to the United Crusade support over 250 agencies," said John Phalen, agency relations director for the United Crusade, "which represents 90 per cent of the voluntary health and welfare in Los Angeles County. Last year one out of every three people in Los Angeles were served by United Crusade, most of which was in counseling and community work."

Powell and McCain discussed the possibility of a "casual" award (wall plaque) along with a "perpetual" trophy that would list each year the winning organization. The team or club winners will be determined on the amount of money collected.

The canvassing of the City of Cerritos will count towards the on-campus effort.

Last year the school collected $2,327.55, this year's goal will be $3,000.

Jesus Christ — As Saint John Wrote And Thought Of Him

When an artist agrees to do a five feet by ten feet painting of Jesus Christ does he just sit down in front of the huge canvas and start painting?

"Definitely not," said Walter L. Jones, associate professor of art, Cerritos College. Jones recently completed and donated such a painting to Saint John's Lutheran Church, 18422 Bloomfield Avenue, Cerritos.

What is the difference between this painting and some of his other paintings? Jones was asked. "Commitment is the key word," Jones said. "I guess you could say it is the difference between a little essay and a well written novel."

Approximately nine months elapsed between preliminary discussion and final completion of the painting.

Preliminary discussion with Ted Youngerman, pastor of St. John's, disclosed that the painting would be installed in the narthex of the church. The choice of subject was Christ as St. John wrote and thought of Him.

During the early discussions Jones said he began to hear again and again key phrases or words - the Eagle of God, vital, transcendental, the Good Shepherd, Jones questioned himself.

Could he, "relate the progression of thought, words and concepts interchanged, the tentative shaping of images, the literal and poetic metamorphosing into the visual and lyric, and finally, the fusing of all this into a total communication that is then termed "art?" Jones was attempting a shift of imagery from the verbal art of the Book of John to that of a painting.

Is it successful? Is it pertinent? Is it sacrilege to envision and then to paint the Christ? How dare any painter dare to break up the purity of church walls with his images? Jones said, "These and more questions undoubtedly plague the viewer. I make no attempt to answer them."

"CHRIST - GOSPEL OF JOHN" Painting by Walter L. Jones is on display at St. John's Lutheran Church, 18422 So.

Nostalgia Set as Art Show Theme

The Cerritos College Invitational Art Show is scheduled to begin this Monday Nov. 12 for a three-week run. The works of one man, Sabato Fiorello, will be on display at the Cerritos Art Gallery.

Fiorello's works were picked by Gil Steel, Art Gallery Director, as the subject of the annual art show in his attempt to bring works of professional artists from the Southern California area into the Cerritos Gallery for the student body and community to view.

The theme of the display will be nostalgia and movieland imagery, according to Steel. Fiorello's assemblage of plexiglass, photographs, and other objects can be seen until Nov. 30, Monday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., and on Fri. from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Steel said.

Students Rights Critical

A new students rights resolution drawn up by the faculty senate has aroused some small controversy. Perhaps this controversy is an indication that rising interest in this issue will bring about constructive criticism of present policies and an overall higher consciousness by Cerritos students of the status of students in any educational system.

Students rights is an issue which is linked to the issues of basic consumers rights insofar as a student is a consumer of the product of the educational system. The great anxiety around the issue of students rights in the sixties revolved around the right of students to determine the shape and direction of their own education, just as American consumers have the freedom to choose.

The same ideals, with less dogmatism and militancy, are currently being discussed on the Cerritos campus.

Students rights prompted faculty senate members to push for a resolution which clarified and extended the rights of Cerritos students. The resolution, although not entirely accepted by the board of trustees, was made in good faith and demonstrates a willingness on the part of some faculty members to raise the issue of students rights.

However, it should not be the obligation of the faculty senate. It seems obviously to be the responsibility of students to draw up students rights resolutions. Fortunately, in the absence of student initiative, the faculty senate has raised the issue. It is time for the student body to take a stand.

Simple matters of grievances have little outlet except for a letter to the editor of Talon Marks; A grievance board should be implemented, (it should be made public often such boards exist in name only) so that students with grievances and constructive criticism can bring their comments to the attention of responsible administrators.

Matters such as curriculum, grading procedures, class sizes, and bookstore policies should be constantly evaluated in the form of active criticism from the educational consumer- the student. The voice of the individual student can become a constructive means for change, or is otherwise intimidated into silence by the vastness of the college atmosphere or the seeming coldness of the college authorities.

Any students rights activism should be tempered with an attitude of rationality and cooperation. The dogmatic militancy of the students rights movement in the sixties yielded only intense polarization and tragic destruction of lives and property. Now that the turbulence of the sixties has passed it can serve as an example of the necessity of achieving ideals within the framework of constructive criticism and cooperative discussion.

The time is ripe for such discussion. As a modified example of the culture (an arena where the principles of self-rule and democracy are conceivably taught and learned) this college serves as a critical testing grounds for the future of the society. Hence, it is our obligation to act purposefully and responsibly.

Urge Mail-In Registration

One of the main functions of any college is to serve the students that attend as promptly and efficiently as possible.

In questioning students about the problem of registration, a principle reaction is that it is senselessly troublesome. The process involved is time-consuming and unnerving. The organization, although quite adequate perhaps for fewer numbers, almost inevitably breaks down.

Administration reaction is basically a positive one. In comparison to other colleges, the process is efficient and orderly. Still, the administration is open to change and willing to improve.

Some campuses have opted for a solution to the bother of registration with mail-in registration. Advocates of a mail-in program claim that by utilizing the computer equipment available to the campus, continuing students would be able to register in the spring for the fall semester.

The opportunity to spend time at home on the class schedules would be beneficial to students, in addition to eliminating the confusion during registration.

Counselors would also be allowed to spend more time with students' personal and academic needs, inasmuch as they would not be burdened with the hectic days of registration and pre-plans. This would offer the new students more time with counselors.

The present system is certainly more efficient in the sense that a constant tabulation of the number of students going through the registration process can be more easily kept. However, the mail-in process is perhaps a sufficient advantage to students to warrant its consideration.

Revise Repeat Policies

In the Oct. 24 TM, two students in a letter to the editor charged that the fine arts division has restricted their rights to attend classes beyond a certain number of repeats. The students had been dismissed from a ceramics class under the auspices of an administrative ruling that no students are allowed to repeat a class in excess of a specific number of times.

Certainly there is another side to the argument. The administration of the division maintains that some students cannot take the classes they would like because they are full. The repeating students take the openings, thus other students lose the opportunity to be introduced to the classes.

In presenting their point-of-view, the two students argued that the classes they were dropped from were subsequently not fully attended. If this is indeed the case, perhaps the ruling should be reevaluated.

In fact, the policy of repeating classes should perhaps be reevaluated in cooperation with the ASCC. It is in students' interests to maintain a program in which no student is limited to a number of times a course may be taken as long as credits are not extended after the first enrollment. Also, the policy concerning class auditing should be reconsidered.

The object of education is hopefully a continual experience of improvement and learning. It is not a one shot deal.

LETTERS

Hypocritical

Editor:

I want to complain aloud about a teacher. His name is John Palmer and he teaches political science. My complaint has to do with Palmer's lack of fairness. It seems ironic to me that this man continually puts down people like Richard Nixon for his tyrannical practices (I agree with him on that point) but he himself is operating his class like a tyrant.

He has a policy of no credit for any paper that is handed in late. He claims it is too much of an inconvenience for him.

I think that flexibility is an important thing for teachers to practice. People wonder why students get turned off to school. But with an attitude of rigid indifference to the needs of students as exemplified by Palmer's "late policy", naturally students will lose interest.

The hypocrisy of this whole thing blows my mind. Palmer really comes off like a flaming liberal even fringing on radicalism, and I don't criticize him for that. In fact, I think this campus could use a lot more radical influence.

In practice he is just another hard nosed dictator-teacher.

Israel, the creation of the United Nations, still refuses to obey the United Nations Security Council Resolution #242. Two key provisions of #242 are that Israel withdraw from all the occupied territories it captured in the 1967 war and allow Arab residents of Israel full legal and human rights as Israeli citizens.

How many wars will be fought over these issues? Israel is being increasingly isolated on the world scene. Ten African nations have already broken diplomatic relations with Israel. Japan and France openly sided with the Arab nations in the recently-concluded war.

The victims of these wars are Arab and Israeli peoples. History should have taught us that annexation of other people's lands as a result of winning one war leads inevitably to later wars to regain territory. Expansionism on the part of mainly white European settlers, at the expense of Arabs, will not succeed in the present period of history. The world balance of forces has shifted.

Who profits from Israel's refusal to obey the United Nations Resolution #242? The answer is obvious to all of us: US oil companies, munitions companies, aircraft companies, etc. The military-industrial complex is having a field-day at the expense of the Arab and Israeli peoples (Jews and non-Jews). Just as many of us, once we accepted this fact with regard to Vietnam, drew the logical conclusion that we must oppose US policies in Vietnam, so today increasing

Mideast

Editor:

There are two things that must be said regarding the current Mideast situation.

It would seem to be a reasonable assumption that an all powerful leader ruling a country next to a country successful in turning a desert into an oasis would very definitely keep the people in an agitated state lest they think of reasons relating to why this disparity occurred.

Another thought concerning the Arab States is: will the Russians, asked to maintain peace, decide that they like the Arabs and refuse to go home — a la Hungary.

In view of these two thoughts a reasonable conclusion might be that it would be an ironic tragedy indeed if the modern Egyptians were to discover first hand the significance of a statement made by Moses to the ancient Pharaoh of Egypt, "Let my people go."

Homecoming

EDITOR:

Two weeks ago the school was subjected to a yearly ritual called "Homecoming". During this time such numbers of US citizens are beginning to realize that we must oppose Israeli and US policies toward the Arab states. The Vietnamese people, fighting for a just goal, would not give up—and kept on coming back to fight again. The Arab peoples, no less than the Vietnamese, will not give up their fight for the 1967 boundaries and for the rights of the Palestinian people.

It is time for Jewish people to speak up. Our people have traditionally spoken up and supported justice. We have supported the separation of church and state and have opposed a theocratic state. We have been victims of religious and racial persecution — and have been forced to leave our lands: to become refugees. But now, under the banner of Zionism and nationalism, many Jewish people have become oppressors, have become blind supporters of theocratic and racist policies.

It is time for all of us, Black, Chicano, Native-American, Puerto-Rican, Asian, Anglo, and other peoples to get the facts about the Middle East.

A film: "Revolution Until Victory" will be shown on Monday, Nov. 12, 7 p.m. at "El Centro De La Raza," 12111 Front St., Norwalk. Two speakers will be on hand, Rick Pall and Hussein Dallabashi, and plenty of time will be reserved for discussion. I urge you to come and to bring your friends. The donation is 50c; refreshments will be served.

events were accomplished as Elections, Box Lunch Bail, the Mock Rally, etc. Being somewhat involved in homecoming, I would like to give some insight into some things that happened.

First, as I assumed the identity of Andy Fuentes, the Vets Club nomination for Queen, in the Mock Rally, questions were asked of me that literally shocked me. Now this might seem a little vindictive on my part, but you will find that mine was not an isolated case. This also happened to three other candidates.

Second, during the judging of floats, Phi Kappa Zeta was awarded First Place. Then the judges, through their own error, discovered that they had made a mistake with their calculations and withdrew their award. Cruel? Ask yourself.

The excuse given was that once the error was discovered they tried to rectify it. But does this heal the feelings of the persons hurt? Does this justify the mistake?

Third, one of the main persons involved in Homecoming was discovered to have been ineligible to hold that office because of low grades. Makes you wonder about the effectiveness of the Student Affairs Office doesn't it?

I am thoroughly disgusted with the events that revolved during this Homecoming. Unless students take this issue by the reigns, and unless students go to both Don Siriani and Fran Newman, I have a feeling that this kind of backstabbing and demoralization of students wanting to get involved is going to continue.

Students Rights

Editor:

As for Sherrill Moses' Student Rights Manifesto, the following comments are in order:

Beware of gifts from Greeks and faculty members. Mr. Moses is probably sincere in his intentions, but the Faculty Senate is not the proper place to legislate student rights recommendations. Specifically, except for the first Moses point, the recommendations are not of any real value or substance. In short they are of no consequence. Possibly, this would be because the faculty is not capable of metering student problems and needs as proficiently as the Student Senate. Thusly, the Faculty Senate cannot properly resolve problems that it cannot properly perceive. There are grave questions of student rights which have not even gained a place in the consciousness of most of us, such questions as the morality of allowing instructors to be free from accountability for grading and other practices. (As it stands, a student has no right to question a grade no matter how unfair he believes the grade to be.) Why hasn't the Faculty Senate brought this extremely important issue to the Board's attention? After all, is it not a right of a student to be treated fairly in academic matters that will affect his whole future? Either this accountability issue shakes a "hallowed hall of faculty privilege" illustrating the faculty's actual lack of concern for student rights; or the Faculty Senate just doesn't realize that the problem exists. In either case, it seems evident that Faculty Senate should not attempt to speak out unilaterally for the students.

With this in mind an examination of Moses' first tenet is attempted. It reads: "Campus organizations should be open to all without respect to race, creed, or national origin, etc."

Should Hillel (the Jewish Club) be coerced to accept Arabs because they cannot refuse membership on grounds of national origin? Is it socially just to expect the Arab Club to be made to admit Jews into their membership under Moses' "etc." clause. How would Mecha react to being forced to take in "Paddies" even though by doing so their objective of racial pride and uniqueness would be effectively destroyed? And these points couldn't even approach the humor of the Young Democrat Club being forced to accept Bircher's because they cannot discriminate against different creeds? These questions clearly show that freedom and justice are not preserved by the first of Moses' so-called rights. The only right that I can see is that of the Board being able to shove a totalitarian, absolute, coerced, egalitarian principle down the throats of the students. It isn't a student right, but a denial of student rights to be different, to be unique, and to associate in groups with whomever we wish.

For the life of me I cannot see why anyone would want to invade a group that is so contrary to his own principles and ideals unless he were bent upon disrupting that group. Under Moses' first proposal "the disruptor" would have a legal right to destroy a rival or antagonistic group under the very binding protection of the Board of Trustees. Does Mr. Moses really feel that this type of situation would be in the best interest of the students? At least I don't think so.

All in all I respect Mr. Moses for his academic attainments (he is a very learned man) and I do not mean to discredit him personally. However, in light of the above I wish Mr. Moses would re-examine his own egalitarian beliefs, and in any case restrict his legislative activities to a more proper sphere. Let not the "Moses" that leads the students from bondage come from the Faculty Senate but rather let our "Moses" be the elected Student Government who are better informed of Student needs.

Prop. 1 Voter Returns Surprise Supporters

Proposition One came to a defeat in Tuesday's Nov. 6 election after heavy campaigning by Gov. Reagan supporting the initiative and Bob Moretti opposing it.

The complicated bill had been in controversy since its conception last February by Reagan. The outcome had been unpredictable until the actual returns began coming in late Tuesday night.

State Assembly Speaker Moretti, led the campaign to vote "no" on Prop. One, claiming that if it was passed it would greatly reduce or in some cases eliminate state services especially in the areas of education, health care, and public safety.

Reasons for Defeat

As the election returns came in to indicate a defeat on Reagan's tax reform initiative, Moretti commented that he felt that the people had voted "no" because "the people knew they weren't getting something for nothing."

He also said that Reagan had taken a "sour grapes" attitude towards the bill's defeat. Reagan's supporters did not immediately concede until it was clear what the trend was.

When asked by newsmen how the results of the election would affect his gubernatorial prospects, Moretti said that the defeat of the bill was unexpected and that his surprise "victory" had given him the statewide exposure he needed to run for governor in 1974.

Reagan's Proposals

Reagan had proposed the tax reform as a means to limit spending by the state legislature without a vote of the people. It would ultimately cut state public services which would then be forced to find its financial backing at the local level.

Moretti objected to this tax "shift" because he felt that the state should continue to be free to provide public services and not burden the local taxpayer.

If Prop. One has passed, many opponents of the bill felt that the state would eliminate much of its aid to the educational program. This would cause community colleges such as Cerritos to obtain funds at the local level by charging tuition.

Proponents of the bill had hoped for a low voter turnout which might have insured the passing of Prop. One. It was defeated even though the actual voter turnout was only about 45 per cent.

Ralph Nader To Lecture On Ecological Hazards

Ralph Nader, consumer protection advocate, will be on the Cerritos campus Tuesday Nov. 13. Nader will be giving a lecture on "Environmental Hazard; Man-Made Man Remedied," in the gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Nader was born on February 27, 1934 in a small Connecticut town called Winsted. Nader attended Gilbert School in Winsted at Princeton University on scholarships, where he graduated "magna cum laude" in 1955, with a major in government and economics.

After graduation he went to Harvard Law School, where he graduated with distinction in 1958. He then joined the US Army for 6 months, before settling in Hartford, Connecticut, where he set up a private law practice. In addition he conducted an informal aid society from 1961 to 1963. He also lectured at the University of Hartford in history and government.

While at Harvard, Nader became interested in automotive safety and studied auto injury cases and collected data on automotive technology at Harvard and MIT, and became convinced that auto accidents put the blame on the drivers instead of unsafe vehicle design. His first article "American cars: Designed for Death" appeared in the Harvard Law review in 1958.

Public Transportation Study Needs Community Support

Public transportation is now in its planning stages; Cerritos is a pilot study center and if approved a complete plan can be made, but community support is needed to get co-operation from Rapid Transit District and other bus services.

Since this is a low density area it will be ideal for a pilot project, according to Nello DiCorpo, director of community services.

The Regional Public Transportation Committee is surveying to determine the needs of southeast transportation, in hopes of getting some positive results from transportation agencies.

Their purpose is to develop a rapid transit service for the needs of the people in the community, and what can be done to meet these needs, according to DiCorpo.

"A request was submitted in February, 1972 to receive more bus transportation from Cerritos College to various parts of the community, but it was denied," he said.

Route Planned

"We had the bus route all planned out. It was to serve the people of the Hawaiian Gardens area also, to bring them to shopping centers, the college, Bellflower Health Center and to work," said DiCorpo.

"Unemployment is rampant because of poor transportation, there are jobs available, but if a person doesn't have a car, he's out of luck."

"Before only the people who did not have transportation were concerned, now it's the whole southeast area."

"I feel co-operation from government agencies is poor, they are avoiding issues, not making any commitments, and pay little attention to our letters and calls," said Ted Spriggs, community service co-ordinator.

"We didn't get good co-operation from Jack Gilstrap, Director of RTD, nor from the Road Commissions, they're always giving us promises, but we can never be certain what will be done," said Spriggs. "The money is here, we're just a neglected area."

"RTD is worried about making money," said Spriggs. "They are a subsidized company and are hesitant to show favoritism to any one group."

Transportation Conference

A Regional Transportation Conference was held last Saturday, Nov. 3. Group

community members gave brief comments and possible solutions; the people of the community were then able to speak and put questions to government agencies and bus services.

"It's hard to get the same two bus companies to sit down and meet at a conference," said Spriggs. "There is so much competition between them, that no headway is being made."

"A tremendous amount of work went into this conference, the bus drivers all volunteered their time to come on Saturday, to bring the displays that were placed outside the Student Center."

The displays consisted of possible ideas and routes for minibuses, handicapped buses, dial-a-ride, and bicycle paths.

Nine Week Work Experience Available to Tech Majors

Students who are technology majors and have obtained a job relating to technology can now enroll in the nine week work experience program, according to Reed Shawver, the technology division coordinator for the work experience program.

Several courses are now available for students, one of which is Tech 89 which is a one hour a week class at Cerritos, and the rest of the class time is spent on the job. Students can earn up to three units of credit a semester. There is also Tech 71 and 72 which are on-the-job training at work with no formal classroom training.

In order to be eligible for these programs, a student must currently hold a job relating to the technology field, and be a technology major, said Shawver.

The field of technology covers a variety of subjects, including drafting, architecture, electronics, barbering, industrial arts, cosmetology, welding, metal, and autobody mechanics.

This is the first semester for the program that credits are given for these jobs. There was a 28 per cent increase in the work experience program which might be attributed to the new program.

The credits given for the on-the-job training are at present non-transferable, however, the technology division is working on getting them transferable to higher institutions of learning. The credits are good, however, toward an AA degree in technology.

Center in Need of Toys

"Toys and games are badly needed at the Cerritos College Child Care Center"

said Fran Newman, dean of student affairs.

A toy collection campaign is currently in the planning stage to help the child care center provide toys and games for the children enrolled.

The day child care center, located in the city of Bellflower, was started a year ago to help students with children get an education by taking care of their child during the day.

Newman said the funds for the center for supplies are limited, this is why the need for toys is so great.

The center currently has 65 children enrolled and would like more, but the supplies do not meet the demand in the toy, game and book areas.

Interested clubs on campus are asked to contact Chuck Fuentes, in the office of student affairs if they have any ideas on how to gather these toys. Plans are being considered to have three collection points on campus for the toys, games and books. A dance which will be sponsored by the ASCC is also being planned.

Admission price to this dance will be a toy, game or book.

"The need is there and if you want the child care center to function we need your help," said Newman.

"If any club is interested in helping in this project, they should contact Fuentes and he will help you," Newman said.

United Crusade Drive To Canvass Cerritos

In an effort to canvass the city of Cerritos, seven teams will begin their United Crusade drive Sunday, Nov. 11, at noon and will continue until 5 p.m.

Cerritos has been divided into zones and each team, composed of ten Cerritos College students, will draw for a zone and be shown the boundaries of each. United Crusade representatives will supervise the drive.

This year the certificated, classified and student body will participate in a campus-wide campaign directed by Nello DiCorpo, dean of community services.

Dearesteen Langdon will serve as the certificated chairwoman, Dottie Wilson as classified chairwoman and Richard Powell (ICC Commissioner) as student body chairman.

"Contributions to the United Crusade support over 250 agencies," said John Phalen, agency relations director for the United Crusade, "which represents 90 per cent of the voluntary health and welfare in Los Angeles County. Last year one out of every three people in Los Angeles were served by United Crusade, most of which was in counseling and community work."

Powell and McCain discussed the possibility of a "casual" award (wall plaque) along with a "perpetual" trophy that would list each year the winning organization. The team or club winners will be determined on the amount of money collected.

The canvassing of the City of Cerritos will count towards the on-campus effort.

Last year the school collected $2,327.55, this year's goal will be $3,000.

Jesus Christ — As Saint John Wrote And Thought Of Him

When an artist agrees to do a five feet by ten feet painting of Jesus Christ does he just sit down in front of the huge canvas and start painting?

"Definitely not," said Walter L. Jones, associate professor of art, Cerritos College. Jones recently completed and donated such a painting to Saint John's Lutheran Church, 18422 Bloomfield Avenue, Cerritos.

What is the difference between this painting and some of his other paintings? Jones was asked. "Commitment is the key word," Jones said. "I guess you could say it is the difference between a little essay and a well written novel."

Approximately nine months elapsed between preliminary discussion and final completion of the painting.

Preliminary discussion with Ted Youngerman, pastor of St. John's, disclosed that the painting would be installed in the narthex of the church. The choice of subject was Christ as St. John wrote and thought of Him.

During the early discussions Jones said he began to hear again and again key phrases or words - the Eagle of God, vital, transcendental, the Good Shepherd, Jones questioned himself.

Could he, "relate the progression of thought, words and concepts interchanged, the tentative shaping of images, the literal and poetic metamorphosing into the visual and lyric, and finally, the fusing of all this into a total communication that is then termed "art?" Jones was attempting a shift of imagery from the verbal art of the Book of John to that of a painting.

Is it successful? Is it pertinent? Is it sacrilege to envision and then to paint the Christ? How dare any painter dare to break up the purity of church walls with his images? Jones said, "These and more questions undoubtedly plague the viewer. I make no attempt to answer them."

"CHRIST-GOSPEL OF JOHN" Painting by Walter L. Jones is on display at St. John's Lutheran Church, 18422 So.

Students Rights Critical

A new students rights resolution drawn up by the faculty senate has aroused some small controversy. Perhaps this controversy is an indication that rising interest in this issue will bring about constructive criticism of present policies and an overall higher consciousness by Cerritos students of the status of students in any educational system.

Students rights is an issue which is linked to the issues of basic consumers rights insofar as a student is a consumer of the product of the educational system. The great anxiety around the issue of students rights in the sixties revolved around the right of students to determine the shape and direction of their own education, just as American consumers have the freedom to choose.

The same ideals, with less dogmatism and militancy, are currently being discussed on the Cerritos campus.

Students rights prompted faculty senate members to push for a resolution which clarified and extended the rights of Cerritos students. The resolution, although not entirely accepted by the board of trustees, was made in good faith and demonstrates a willingness on the part of some faculty members to raise the issue of students rights.

However, it should not be the obligation of the faculty senate. It seems obviously to be the responsibility of students to draw up students rights resolutions. Fortunately, in the absence of student initiative, the faculty senate has raised the issue. It is time for the student body to take a stand.

Simple matters of grievances have little outlet except for a letter to the editor of Talon Marks. A grievance board should be implemented, (it should be made public—often such boards exist in name only) so that students with grievances and constructive criticism can bring their comments to the attention of responsible administrators.

Matters such as curriculum, grading procedures, class sizes, and bookstore policies should be constantly evaluated in the form of active criticism from the educational consumer—the student. The voice of the individual student can become a constructive means for change, or is otherwise intimidated into silence by the vastness of the college atmosphere or the seeming coldness of the college authorities.

Any students rights activism should be tempered with an attitude of rationality and cooperation. The dogmatic militancy of the students rights movement in the sixties yielded only intense polarization and tragic destruction of lives and property. Now that the turbulence of the sixties has passed it can serve as an example of the necessity of achieving ideals within the framework of constructive criticism and cooperative discussion.

The time is ripe for such discussion. As a modified example of the culture (an arena where the principles of self-rule and democracy are conceivably taught and learned) this college serves as a critical testing grounds for the future of the society. Hence, it is our obligation to act purposefully and responsibly.

Urge Mail-In Registration

One of the main functions of any college is to serve the students that attend as promptly and efficiently as possible.

In questioning students about the problem of registration, a principle reaction is that it is senselessly troublesome. The process involved is time-consuming and unnerving. The organization, although quite adequate perhaps for fewer numbers, almost inevitably breaks down.

Administration reaction is basically a positive one. In comparison to other colleges, the process is efficient and orderly. Still, the administration is open to change and willing to improve.

Some campuses have opted for a solution to the bother of registration with mail-in registration. Advocates of a mail-in program claim that by utilizing the computer equipment available to the campus, continuing students would be able to register in the spring for the fall semester.

The opportunity to spend time at home on the class schedules would be beneficial to students, in addition to eliminating the confusion during registration.

Counselors would also be allowed to spend more time with students' personal and academic needs, inasmuch as they would not be burdened with the hectic days of registration and pre-plans. This would offer the new students more time with counselors.

The present system is certainly more efficient in the sense that a constant tabulation of the number of students going through the registration process can be more easily kept. However, the mail-in process is perhaps a sufficient advantage to students to warrant its consideration.

Revise Repeat Policies

In the Oct. 24 TM, two students in a letter to the editor charged that the fine arts division has restricted their rights to attend classes beyond a certain number of repeats. The students had been dismissed from a ceramics class under the auspices of an administrative ruling that no students are allowed to repeat a class in excess of a specific number of times.

Certainly there is another side to the argument. The administration of the division maintains that some students cannot take the classes they would like because they are full. The repeating students take the openings, thus other students lose the opportunity to be introduced to the classes.

In presenting their point-of-view, the two students argued that the classes they were dropped from were subsequently not fully attended. If this is indeed the case, perhaps the ruling should be reevaluated.

In fact, the policy of repeating classes should perhaps be reevaluated in cooperation with the ASCC. It is in students' interests to maintain a program in which no student is limited to a number of times a course may be taken as long as credits are not extended after the first enrollment. Also, the policy concerning class auditing should be reconsidered.

The object of education is hopefully a continual experience of improvement and learning. It is not a one shot deal.

LETTERS

Hypocritical

Editor:

I want to complain about a teacher. His name is John Palmer and he teaches political science. My complaint has to do with Palmer's lack of fairness. It seems ironic to me that this man continually puts down people like Richard Nixon for his tyrannical practices (I agree with him on that point) but he himself is operating his class like a tyrant.

He has a policy of no credit for any paper that is handed in late. He claims it is too much of an inconvenience for him.

I think that flexibility is an important thing for teachers to practice. People wonder why students get turned off to school. But with an attitude of rigid indifference to the needs of students as is exemplified by Palmer's "late policy", naturally students will lose interest.

The hypocrisy of this whole thing blows my mind. Palmer really comes off like a flaming liberal even fringing on radicalism, and I don't criticize him for that. In fact, I think this campus could use a lot more radical influence.

In practice he is just another hard nosed dictator-teacher.

Debbie McDonald K6664

Mideast

Editor:

There are two things that must be said regarding the current Mideast situation. It would seem to be a reasonable assumption that an all powerful leader ruling a country next to a country successful in turning a desert into an oasis would very definitely keep the people in an agitated state lest they think of reasons relating to why this disparity occurred.

Another thought concerning the Arab States is: will the Russians, asked to maintain peace, decide that they like the Arabs and refuse to go home — a la Hungary.

In view of these two thoughts a reasonable conclusion might be that it would be an ironic tragedy indeed if the modern Egyptians were to discover first hand the significance of a statement made by Moses to the ancient Pharaoh of Egypt, "Let my people go."

Homecoming

EDITOR:

Two weeks ago the school was subjected to a yearly ritual called "Homecoming". During this time such numbers of US citizens are beginning to realize that we must oppose Israeli and US policies toward the Arab states. The Vietnamese people, fighting for a just goal, would not give up—and kept on coming back to fight again. The Arab peoples, no less than the Vietnamese, will not give up their fight for the 1967 boundaries and for the rights of the Palestinian people.

It is time for Jewish people to speak up. Our people have traditionally spoken up and supported justice. We have supported the separation of church and state and have opposed a theocratic state. We have been victims of religious and racial persecution — and have been forced to leave our lands: to become refugees. But now, under the banner of Zionism and nationalism, many Jewish people have become oppressors, have become blind supporters of theocratic and racist policies.

It is time for all of us, Black, Chicano, Native-American, Puerto-Rican, Asian, Anglo, and other peoples to get the facts about the Middle East.

A film: "Revolution Until Victory" will be shown on Monday, Nov. 12, 7 p.m. at "El Centro De La Raza," 12111 Front St., Norwalk. Two speakers will be on hand, Rick Pall and Hussein Dallalbash, and plenty of time will be reserved for discussion. I urge you to come and to bring your friends. The donation is 50c; refreshments will be served.

events were accomplished as Elections, Box Lunch Bail, the Mock Rally, etc. Being somewhat involved in homecoming, I would like to give some insight into some things that happened.

First, as I assumed the identity of Andy Fuentes, the Vets Club nomination for Queen, in the Mock Rally, questions were asked of me that literally shocked me. Now this might seem a little vindictive on my part, but you will find that mine was not an isolated case. This also happened to three other candidates.

Second, during the judging of floats, Phi Kappa Zeta was awarded First Place. Then the judges, through their own error, discovered that they had made a mistake with their calculations and withdrew their award. Cruel? Ask yourself.

The excuse given was that once the error was discovered they tried to rectify it. But does this heal the feelings of the persons hurt? Does this justify the mistake?

Third, one of the main persons involved in Homecoming was discovered to have been ineligible to hold that office because of low grades. Makes you wonder about the effectiveness of the Student Affairs Office doesn't it?

I am thoroughly disgusted with the events that revolved during this Homecoming. Unless students take this issue by the reigns, and unless students go to both Don Siriani and Fran Newman, I have a feeling that this kind of backstabbing and demoralization of students wanting to get involved is going to continue.

Students Rights

Editor:

As for Sherrill Moses' Student Rights Manifesto, the following comments are in order:

Beware of gifts from Greeks and faculty members. Mr. Moses is probably sincere in his intentions, but the Faculty Senate is not the proper place to legislate student rights recommendations. Specifically, except for the first Moses point, the recommendations are not of any real value or substance. In short they are of no consequence. Possibly, this would be because the faculty is not capable of metering student problems and needs as profitably as the Student Senate. Thusly, the Faculty Senate cannot properly resolve problems that it cannot properly perceive. There are grave questions of student rights which have not even gained a place in the consciousness of most of us, such questions as the morality of allowing instructors to be free from accountability for grading and other practices. (As it stands, a student has no right to question a grade no matter how unfair he believes the grade to be.) Why hasn't the Faculty Senate brought this extremely important issue to the Board's attention? After all, is it not a right of a student to be treated fairly in academic matters that will affect his whole future? Either this accountability issue shakes a "hallowed hall of faculty privilege" illustrating the faculty's actual lack of concern for student rights; or the Faculty Senate just doesn't realize that the problem exists. In either case, it seems evident that Faculty Senate should not attempt to speak out unilaterally for the students.

With this in mind an examination of Moses' first tenet is attempted. It reads: "Campus organizations should be open to all without respect to race, creed, or national origin, etc."

At first reading this proposal would seem to capture the liberal concept of freedom, equality, social justice, etc., all of which bring reverent tears to most of our eyes I'm sure. But a closer examination may dry out tears. Let us ask:

Should Hillel (the Jewish Club) be coerced to accept Arabs because they cannot refuse membership on grounds of national origin? Is it socially just to expect the Arab Club to be made to admit Jews into their membership under Moses' "etc." clause. How would Mecha react to being forced to take in "Paddies" even though by doing so their objective of racial pride and uniqueness would be effectively destroyed? And these points couldn't even approach the humor of the Young Democrat Club being forced to accept Birchers because they cannot discriminate against different creeds? These questions clearly show that freedom and justice are not preserved by the first of Moses' so-called rights. The only right that I can see is that of the Board being able to shove a totalitarian, absolute, coerced, egalitarian principle down the throats of the students. It isn't a student right, but a denial of student rights to be different, to be unique, and to associate in groups with whomever we wish.

For the life of me I cannot see why anyone would want to invade a group that is so contrary to his own principles and ideals unless he were bent upon disrupting that group. Under Moses' first proposal "the disruptor" would have a legal right to destroy a rival or antagonistic group under the very binding protection of the Board of Trustees. Does Mr. Moses really feel that this type of situation would be in the best interest of the students? At least I don't think so.

All in all I respect Mr. Moses for his academic attainments (he is a very learned man) and I do not mean to discredit him personally. However, in light of the above I wish Mr. Moses would re-examine his own egalitarian beliefs, and in any case restrict his legislative activities to a more proper sphere. Let not the "Moses" that leads the students from bondage come from the Faculty Senate but rather let our "Moses" be the elected Student Government who are better informed of Student needs.

Football Briefs

Last week's 7-0 blanking of San Diego Mesa marked the Falcons fifth straight game against a team that has been rated in the top ten in California.

It started October 6 against defending state finalist Pasadena and continued on through Bakersfield, Mt. San Antonio, and Fullerton.

Tonight the Falcons meet their sixth straight Top Ten foe as Orange Coast is ranked ninth in California.

Even though the Falcons defeated third-ranked Mt. SAC, 17-10, sixth ranked San Diego Mesa, 7-0 and nearly upset top ranked Fullerton, 14-17, Cerritos has never appeared in the Top Ten all season.

The Cerritos football team is the South Coast Conference's leading rushing team with 1,333 yards even though the Falcons leading rusher, Glen Ford, has only 271 yards.

Four Falcons have 200 yards or more this season including Ford, Neff Cortez (250), Jim Emmerling (239) and Daryle Schatz (221). There have been 14 different ball carriers for the Falcons this year and 12 different pass receivers.

Falcon quarterback Neff Cortez needs only 18 yards to top the 1,000 total offense figure for 1973. The sophomore from Excelsior High in Norwalk has compiled 732 yards passing and 250 yards rushing.

Seeing little action last year, Cortez is still climbing the list of Cerritos' all-time total offense leaders. He has 1,122 yards total offense in two seasons which is sixth best in Cerritos' 17-year football history.

Moran Almost Snaps Record

Perhaps the most critical play of the 1973-74 season will be Art Moran's 92-yard kickoff return against California's top-ranked Fullerton Hornets. Moran was stopped at the Hornet 2-yard line and the Falcons failed to convert in the 17-14 loss. If Moran could have reached the end zone he would have broken an all-time Cerritos record for a kickoff return set in 1962 by Art Delvaux of 93 yards.

Cerritos Downs Mesa 7-0; Defense Dominates Game

On a cold, windy day in San Diego, the Falcon football team was able to warm up enough to score seven points early in the second quarter and then hang on to defeat the San Diego Mesa Olympians 7-0.

A punt fumble by the Olympians set up the lone Falcon score in the final minutes of the first quarter. It took Cerritos 12 plays to drive the 39 yards needed for the score and the drive included two crucial fourth-down plays.

Steve Norman, a graduate of La Mirada High, took over the quarterback position for the Falcons after a bruised thumb prevented Neff Cortez from passing effectively.

Norman Scores

It was Norman who chose to score the touchdown, going the few inches needed with 14:59 remaining in the first half. Al Garcia added the seventh point and then both defenses held tight and prevented any more scoring from taking place.

Cerritos was given an opportunity to score early in the game when a Mesa punt-returner fumbled the ball and Falcon Bill Dober recovered on the Olympian's 18 yard line. Cortez ran twice for seven yards, but Daryle Schatz was stopped for no gain at the nine, so the Falcon field goal unit came on the field. Al Garcia attempted a 28-yarder with the wind, but he missed the mark.

Neither offense was able to move the ball, so the fans watched a "three-plays-and-a-punt" game for most of the first quarter.

After a few exchanges of the ball, the Falcons failed to get a first down and were forced to punt. Once again, the Olympian return-man fumbled the ball and Falcon Nick Garnetti recovered at the Mesa 39. Twelve plays later, the Falcon offense capitalized on the Mesa mistake.

Falcon Offense Stopped

Offensively, the Falcons were nearly stifled by the Mesa defense. The Olympians maintain the number one defense in the South Coast Conference.

Cortez was zero for two attempts and Norman completed six of 14 passes for 48 yards. The longest pass the Falcons were able to get off was a 12-yarder to Don Murvin in the third quarter.

Cerritos' rushing game didn't go much better. The Falcons rushed 49 times for only 118 yards. The longest rushing gains were two 10 yard runs, one by Schatz and the other by Norman, both in the first quarter. The longest run the Falcons had after the first quarter was a six-yarder by Norman.

Mesa didn't do much better in the air than the Falcons did. Between two quarterbacks, the Olympians were only able to complete seven of 23 passes for 76 yards. Two Mesa passes were intercepted, one by Ron Heberger and the other by Tim Berenda.

Mesa's running attack, however, was able to keep the ball moving at times. The Olympians rushed 48 times for 173 yards to give them the statistical edge over the Falcons, but time after time Mesa failed to convert "the big one" and had to punt.

Both punters put in a good days work. Mesa's punter, Mark Grogg, kicked seven times and Bob Torrence punted ten times for the Falcons.

Cerritos, now 2-1 in conference play, must defeat both Orange Coast tonight and Santa Ana next Saturday night in order to keep any hopes alive of going into the playoffs.

Fullerton, the number one rated team in the state, would have to lose a game and the Falcons would have to win their remaining two in order to get a piece of the South Coast Crown.

Tournament Hopes Dim

Poloist Lose Two Crucial Games

The water polo's ship of hope was sunk. The Falcons needed victories over the Orange Coast Pirates and the Fullerton Hornets to keep alive their hope for a berth in the Southern California tournament.

The Pirates fired a blast that badly damaged the Falcons ship and then the Hornets came along and completely sunk them.

In a game which the Falcons were never in contention the Pirates jumped off to a 3-0 first quarter score. The Pirates kept firing away until they had a 7-1 halftime lead. Paul Olson was the only Falcon able to score in the first half. With four minutes remaining in the third quarter John Shanahan scored to make the score 7-2 and give the Falcons an outside chance, but the Pirates followed with four straight goals to make the score 11-2 with five minutes remaining.

Falcons Blasted 12-4

For all intent and purposes the game was over and two more goals by the Falcons and one by the Pirates was meaningless except to make the final score 12-4.

The Fullerton Hornets, undefeated in conference play, was the next opponent for the Falcons. All hope was not lost after the defeat by Orange Coast; however, it was necessary for the Falcons to win all of their remaining games to have an outside chance to go into the playoffs.

Coach Pat Tyne said, "The first time we met Fullerton they didn't know what to expect and we snuck up on them, but this time they will be ready for us."

Falcons Appeared Ready

For the first quarter it appeared that the Falcons were ready for the task ahead of them as they played the Hornets to a dead heat for a scoreless first period. Nine minutes and 40 seconds elapsed in the game before the first goal was scored. The Hornets scored it with 3:20 remaining in the first half. By the end of the first half the Hornets had scored twice more to make the halftime score 3-0.

The Hornets scored again in the third period to make it 4-0 before Clinton Dodd

Ortega Leads Way

Soccer Team Keeps Winning

The Cerritos soccer team continues to dominate league play by defeating fourth place Glendale 4-1.

High scoring Alfredo Ortega kicked the first Falcon goal in the first half, then Rafael Chavez, Diego Lopez and Phil Medrano added goals in the second half to break the game open after a 1-1 tie at half time.

"Woody Schaeffer and Jim Martinez played excellent defense for us," said coach Jim West.

"We've got the best defense in the league," he added.

The Cerritos team has allowed only seven goals in league play this season while compiling more goals than the next two teams put together.

It was the fourth straight league win for the Falcons, who have stretched their lead of first place to a full game. In other league play East Los Angeles was upset by Chaffey while Pierce beat Mt. SAC.

scored one for the Falcons to keep them in the game.

Brian Harvey scored for the Falcons with 4:07 remaining in the game. There was still enough time for the Falcons to come back, but a tough Fullerton defense kept the Falcons from scoring while the Hornets scored one more goal to make it 5-2 when the gun went off to signal the end of the game.

Cerritos lost to nationally ranked U.S. International University 3-1, in a non-league game in which a fight broke out and players from both teams were ejected.

"Those guys are lucky," said Refugio Camarena. "When we play our non-league games all of our players don't show up and we just don't play serious ball."

The Falcon soccer team takes on East Los Angeles next, at Cerritos. The Falcons will attempt to get even for a loss suffered to the Huskies, the only loss in league play for the Falcons.

Cross Country Team Fifth In Conference

On last Friday, (Nov. 2nd) the six teams of the South Coast Conference got together. The site was Fullerton J.C., the event was the S.C.C. championships, and the key words were upset and surprise.

The Cerritos College Cross Country team had been picked for fourth in the finals. They finished fifth in the finals. Once again illness hurt the Falcons. A stomach cramp strongly affected the performance of Dave Crockett.

"Crockett showed determination by even running in the race," said Coach Dave Kamanski. Kamanski felt that a healthy Crockett would have gotten the Falcons the predicted fourth place finish.

The field was one of the fastest ever for an S.C. final. The first six finishers in the meet broke the old record of 20:57. Evidence of the closeness of the meet was that the 1st and 8th place finishers were less than a minute apart. Cerritos top runner's were very close together.

Jeff English was the number one man for Cerritos, but could manage only an eighth place finish of 21:04. Ernie Martinez was the only other Falcon to crack the top twenty with a 17th place finish of 21:20.

Carlos Ponce was 29th in 21:52. Craig Ganoe was 31st in 21:56. Dave Crockett was 50th in 22:37. Juan Servin also in 22:37 and Walt Delatorre in 23:21 were 51st and 58th, respectively.

Fullerton Takes First

Fullerton took first in the meet pulling off a big upset. The Hornets had a low score of 39. Mt. SAC, the regular season champion and predicted winner, was a close second with 43.

Santa Ana was third with 70. The league finals were a copy of the regular season. During the season Fullerton, Mt. SAC, and Santa Ana were in a class by themselves while Orange Coast, Cerritos, and San Diego Mesa made up the lower echelon of the league.

In the finals Orange Coast was fourth with 110, Cerritos was fifth with 116. San Diego Mesa was again last with 137.

The S.C.C. was not the only conference to provide an upset winner. El Camino, the number one team in the state, finished a poor second to L.A. Valley in the Metropolitan Conference finals.

Southern California Championships

The regular season and the conference finals were two different things. These upsets were to make for an interesting meet earlier today at Pierce College. That was to be the site for the Southern California Championships. (Results were unavailable at press time.)

The teams competing in today's meet entered their top seven men. The top 5 teams and the top 15 finishers individually will go on to the state championships at Northern California on Saturday November 17th.

The Falcon squad this year was a young one, but they have learned a lot this year through competition. Most of the team will return in the spring for the track season.

Wakefield Leads Team

Wrestlers To Defend South Coast Crown

The words strength and agility best describe the sport of wrestling. One must be mentally as well as physically ready to be a success in big time wrestling.

The Cerritos College Wrestling team is well known among the J.C. wrestling circuit. The Falcon's history in this sport has been a respected and powerful one.

Coach Hal Simonek took last year's team to an 18-2 record, and a 4th place finish in the state finals. He will have a younger team for this year, however, the Falcons will have a state champion wrestler returning.

Falcons Play El Camino

The Falcons have many tough meets this year. El Camino, the consensus number one team in the state, will be the Falcon's first opponent. The contest is slated for Wednesday November 21st at 7:30 in the Cerritos Gym.

Cerritos will hold their blue and white intra squad scrimmage on November 14th at 7:30 in the Cerritos gym. As with the other fall sports the San Gabriel Valley League has supplied most of this year's wrestling team.

Mark Baker heads the list of top freshmen for Cerritos. Last year as a senior at La Mirada, he finished fourth in the C.I.F. Jay Garlock, from Warren, and Gary White from Bellflower were league champions as seniors in high school.

Rory Strait, out of Norwalk, is another top freshman for Cerritos. He is the younger brother of a former Falcon wrestling star.

Other top freshmen are Chuck Allgood and Mike Salcedo.

Leading the team this year is Don Wakefield. Wakefield used his relentless style to capture the 177 pound state title last year. He is a wrestler who doesn't let up and his constant 110% efforts have made him one of Cerritos best ever in the sport.

Craig Leitner is another top-notch sophomore for Cerritos. Last year, wrestling in the 126-pound class, Leitner established himself as one of the state's best.

Mt. SAC Top Team

Coach Simonek feels that Mt. SAC is the S.C.C.'s top team right now. He also feels that the Falcons, along with Fullerton and Santa Ana will battle it out with Mt. SAC for the title.

It looks like another interesting season for Cerritos. The material is there and the Falcons have top coaching as well. Yes it will be a competitive season, and one that will provide it's share of excitement.

Valenzuela Valuable To Sports Scene

Since 1958 Pete Valenzuela has played a very important part in Cerritos Falcon athletics.

A friend to the entire coaching staff and players, Valenzuela has been the athletic trainer through Cerritos' many conference and state titles.

Born in Tempe, Arizona, Valenzuela played football at Arizona State University from 1946 to 1949. He was also a triple sports star at St. Mary's High School in Phoenix, Arizona.

The value of such a person to the Cerritos staff may be best described by the Falcons athletic success since 1958. Valenzuela has witnessed six Cerritos state championships and numerous conference titles in three different athletic conferences.
