In addition to these fine programs, Community Services provides many services for the benefit and edification of all community members, including those at Cerritos. Helpline counseling, urban beautification, public transportation, career information, job placement, self-discovery courses, children's music instruction, and VD and drug education are all in a day's work for Community Services.

A check of the Community Services calendar will keep you abreast of current events.

Child Care

The Associated Students of Cerritos College, along with the college district and the ABC Unified School District, provide a child development center for use by Cerritos and ABC Adult students.

Located at Niemes Elementary School, 16715 South Jersey Avenue in Artesia, the center is open from 7:45 a.m. to 10:15 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 7:45 a.m. until 1:15 p.m. Friday.

New Curricular Programs Instituted— From Horticulture to Court Reporting

Cerritos students will benefit from a number of new curriculum innovations this fall, including a court reporting program, a psychology lab, hospital management course of study and many other recently-developed programs.

Beginning this fall: A court reporting program, under the direction of Mildred Orr, is expected to have 150 enrollees. An expansion of the stenotype program, it will be one of the first in a public community college in the state of California.

A psychology lab, planned by Dr. Charles Cabeen, Mrs. Edith Cracchiolo, and Dr. Darryl Beale, can be used in three separate psychology courses for students to carry out elementary experiments in related psychology fields.

Continuing and expanding this fall: The Ornamental Horticulture program, instituted in the spring of 1974 to train people to work in nurseries and in commercial gardens, is slated for expansion in 1974-75. The course was developed by Edson Follett in connection with the Management Department in Business under Melvin Brady so that an accompanying course in management could be utilized by those in the Ornamental Horticulture program. A greenhouse, which may also be used in Botany classes, is in the curriculum as well.

The very popular English Modules program also continues. Begun in 1973, it breaks English I and II, the composition and literature courses, into nine-week modules designed to give students a freer choice in topics. The program allows students to know ahead of time the kinds of themes assigned for writing and allows instructors to engage in their favorite topics, which makes for a

Ground Broken For Para-Med

Slated for Completion in Year —
Building to Solve Overcrowding

Ground has been broken for Cerritos College's new $2.5 million para-medical building scheduled for completion late next summer. At 1 p.m. on July 24, Board members and Superintendent-President Wilford Michael, architect Henry Wright, and construction chief Fred Kergan of the Long Beach firm K & F Construction were on hand for the ground breaking ceremonies.

The site for the three-story structure is on the college's "South 40", located on the southwest corner at Studebaker and 166th Streets. The building, which has been in various stages of planning for more than three years, will create badly need classroom space for Cerritos' ever-growing para-medical and related instructional programs. It will house the college's nursing, dental, prosthetics and orthotics, airline stewardess, and medical assisting programs, and many home economics classes, as well as others.

The first floor will house a large classroom with space for more than 250 students. The room will be utilized in many instructional areas. On the floor will also be the Health Occupations division, offices for instructors in that division, and three classrooms.

Home Economics will share the second floor with Cosmetology. On that floor will be instruction in such areas as cooking, sewing, and fashion-related fields.

The third floor will contain space for dental assisting hygiene classes, prosthetics and orthotics, and an extensive nursing laboratory with many self-learning rooms. Operating, examination, scrub, medical, and cast rooms

Nordbak Elected

Following three successive terms as vice president of the Cerritos College Board of Trustees, Katie Nordbak began her first year as president on July 15 at the annual organizational meeting of the board.

Mrs. Nordbak, whose election was unanimous, was appointed to the board in February, 1970, and was subsequently elected to the college's governing body by popular vote. The new president is from La Mirada.

Two new freshmen board members, Mrs. Louise Hastings and Charles Harris, were elected to vice president and secretary of the board respectively. Both are from Bellflower.

Another freshman trustee, Jan. J. Harris was named the Board Representative for electing members to the County Committee of School District Organization and Cerritos President Dr. Wilford Michael was named by the trustees as secretary to the board.

Members of the board, besides the officers and Jan Harris, are Dr. Curtis Paxman, Mr. Leslie Nottingham and Mr. Harold Tredway.

Apple Valley Site For Conference

The Apple Valley Inn is the site of the 1974 Fall Leadership Conference for students and staff to be held on September 4, 5, and 6.

The purpose of this conference is to organize and complete plans for student programs and activities and to explore new concepts and ideas relating to the current concerns of the student.

The conference is open to new as well as continuing students. Representation is needed from student government, campus clubs, and organizations including song and yell, band and choir, and students at large.

Workshops and discussion groups are designed for active participation by the student and staff member. Plenty of time for relaxation and recreation will be afforded in addition to the hard meaningful work of the workshops. Recreation will include swimming, horseback riding, hayrides, golf, volleyball, tennis, dancing to a live band, a variety of games, and leisure time. The motion picture "Straw Dogs" starring Dustin Hoffman and directed by Sam Peckinpah is also booked.

Cerritos College students interested in this conference or any of the activities and programs should stop by the Office of Student Activities for complete information.

New Man

Norman Price Named As New Coordinator Of Activities Here

Named last month as coordinator of activities is Norm Price, formerly activities director at La Mirada High School. He moves into the position that has been vacant since February when Don McCain accepted a similar post at Santa Ana College.

Price will be responsible for advising clubs, organizations, and individuals on a myriad of campus activities and events as well as advising the Inter-Club Council (ICC). He brings a broad history of experience in the field.

The USC graduate will work with Dean of Student Activities Richard Robinson and is impressed with the overall program at Cerritos.

"The dedication to the school by the administrators is really impressive," he says. "They far and away exceed the responsibilities of their positions in a positive manner."

Price was an all-CIF and all-American basketball performer as a forward and center at Rosemead High School in 1953 and 1954. As a senior he was the CIF scoring champ.

Accepting a basketball scholarship to USC, he played freshman ball for a year, then three years of Varsity ball where, by his own admission, he distinguished himself very little as a player.

After graduation he taught science at Mountain View Junior High School in South El Monte, traveled for a year in Europe, and did some graduate work before teaching chemistry at California High School in Whittier.

He moved to La Mirada High School in 1968, where he taught science and social science, worked in activities, and was the advisor to the student newspaper and yearbook, which continually won the Columbia University School of Journalism award for high school publication excellence.

A very personable and helpful man, Price is quick to assure students that his door is always open for any type of advice, help, or counseling that he can offer.

His office is in the student activities office of the Student Center complex.

As a student at Cerritos College your attitude and effort will make a great difference in whether your educational goals will be met. The college can provide the opportunity and the resources for you to have a successful and enjoyable educational program. Your actions and desire to learn will determine whether you just attended college or whether you attained your desired goals. Challenge yourself toward excellence in all that you undertake.

In addition to the college academic and occupational opportunities, the Associated Students of Cerritos College provides many extra-curricular experiences for students at Cerritos. Take time to participate in the opportunities available in student government, athletics, clubs, theatrical productions, forensics, art gallery, and other ASCC activities.

As President of Cerritos College I sincerely feel that you can meet your educational goals here. I personally welcome you and hope that 1974-75 will be an enjoyable and worthwhile year for you.

Wilford Michael
Superintendent-President

DR. WILFORD MICHAEL

On behalf of the Board of Trustees and staff, I would like to welcome you to Cerritos College.

In this time of rapid change in society and technology, education has become increasingly important for everyone. It has been said that an individual may need to retrain three times during his working career. There is also a need for educational opportunities to help us understand and cope with the many sociological and political changes now facing all of us. The community has given the College the resources to provide local citizens with most of the tools needed to meet these challenges. We hope you will be able to utilize the programs and facilities we have developed at Cerritos to make life more fulfilling and rewarding for each of you.

Best wishes for success in your endeavors.

Sincerely,
Katie Nordbak, President
Board of Trustees

Veterans Receive Good Service Here

A vast and far-reaching veteran's assistance program is but one of the many services offered to students and to the community at Cerritos.

The Office of Veteran's Affairs, located in the counseling office of the Administration Building, is the headquarters for all veteran needs. A 12-member staff, headed by Bob Hille is on hand to assist in any problems of any type experience by the vet.

What many veterans do not realize is that the office is run by vets-not government officials.

"This is something that we continually try to impress upon our fellow veterans," says Hille, "that we here are all vets and that we are not related in any way to the Veteran's Administration. We are an independent body inside the college to help veterans."

Some of the many programs controlled by the office are a Refresher Program for educationally disadvantaged students, a veteran's hotline for the community, a job placement officer, peer counseling, an outreach program for recruitment, tutoring and liaison with the VA.

The Refresher Program provides college orientation to veterans that have a hard time readjusting to the non-military educational process. In addition to the basics of education, the veteran is provided with the fundamental skills required to pursue college level courses. Under this program, the vet receives the regular monthly education allowance, but it is not deducted from his basic entitlement.

The direct line into the office, 860-5451, is available for any veteran in the community, student or not, that needs any type of assistance. A referral service will help veterans contact the appropriate agency for help.

Peer Counseling provides the veteran with help with all types of problems and tutoring helps students having troubles with a class. The veteran is entitled to virtually all the one-to-one tutoring he needs, free of charge, as are all of the programs offered by the office.

Liaison with the Veteran's Administration is a large part of the services offered by the college as well. Any problems that arise with the VA can best be smoothed out by working with the Veterans Affairs Office. Late checks, no checks, mistakes in classifications and any myriad of problems that veterans know can occur with the VA can be worked out through the office.

The office performs many other functions to assist the vet as well, like helping him through registration, a process difficult for everyone. Arranging transfers to other institutions without any interruption in payments is but another service.

The Veteran's Affairs Office is waiting and willing to help all veterans at Cerritos and in the community.

PE Required Of Students

Cerritos College requires that all students under 21 years of age enroll in a physical education course.

The requirement must be fulfilled every semester, and a student may be excused from the ruling only for reasons of age, graduation, disability, or a limited program of eight or less units.

Students are also required to take a swimming test prior to graduation if they are under 21 years of age. If a student has turned 21 during the semester he is to graduate, he is still required to take the test. Dates for the swimming waiver test will be announced later in the semester.

Veteran's Aid

L M Center Aids Education

The Learning Materials Center provides students with a superior selection of study aids designed to make academic life easier at Cerritos.

More than 52,000 books, 6,000 pamphlets and maps, 450 magazine and newspaper subscriptions, and 3,500 reels of microfilm and other microforms are available in the library section. All materials are carefully selected to supplement the instructional program and to provide for a wide range of individual reading interests.

Type-writers and coin-operated photocopying machines are available for student use, and spacious and pleasant seating and study areas are scattered throughout the building.

On the lower floor of the building is the Instructional Media Services complex, where students can obtain audio and video tape instruction, materials for individualizing the learning process, and prepared, programmed instruction. The facilities, which are coordinated with classroom instruction, are used to enrich instruction, review previous course content, supply remedial material, and permit the student to use this equipment independently.

The Instructional Media Services department also performs the distribution of films, tape recorders, motion picture projectors, and video and miscellaneous projectors to instructors, as well as repair of this equipment.

Production of instructional teaching aids, such as audio tapes, video recordings, slides, filmstrips, overhead transparencies, and original illustrations and motion pictures is an additional service performed by the Instructional Media Services.

Activities Program Excels at Cerritos

Students at Cerritos have the opportunity to participate in an activities program that is considered by many to be the finest in the state of California. The backbone of this program is the clubs and organizations. Offered at Cerritos is a great variety of groups for every phase of campus life and for virtually every type of person. They provide opportunities for student involvement in social, service, curricular and special interest programs.

The club program is an ever-growing facet of the college scene at Cerritos, with new clubs appearing each year. Approximately 50 active clubs have more than 1,500 full-time students involved in activities.

The Inter-Club Council, made up of representatives from every club and organization on campus, and presided over by the Commissioner of ICC, provides a medium through which all clubs and organizations, via monthly meetings, may communicate their activities and other points of interest.

Many activities are participated in by club members, including Club Rooth Day, Homecoming, Spring Carnival, Breadhunt/G.A.P., Co-Rec Night, money-raising projects and many other activities.

Club Rooth Day is held on Thursday of the second week of each semester as each club and organization on campus sets up a booth in the quad for the purpose of club recruitment. All full-time students with at least a 2.0 GPA are encouraged to stop by and talk with these clubs and read the information distributed from the booths.

For Homecoming, each club and organization sponsors a queen candidate and constructs a float for the parade of floats.

All clubs and organizations work together to raise money for financial aids and for their individual club treasuries during the Spring Carnival.

G.A.P. days are held several times each semester for the collection of glass, aluminum, and paper for financial aids. This is a part of an overall financial aids program known as Breadhunt. Clubs and organizations are in competition to collect the most material.

Co-Rec Night offers clubs and organizations the opportunity to compete in physical activities. Teams play intramural sports for both fun and recreation.

Many clubs sponsor money-making projects such as bake sales, car washes, book sales, a fireworks stand, a Christmas tree stand, and other activities to raise funds.

There are also several off-campus activities sponsored by the clubs and organizations such as car rallies, picnics, inter-club football games, field trips, etc.

Cerritos this year will also continue many service projects in the community, including Head Start, the USO, Red Cross, Cancer Society, Multiple Sclerosis, March of Dimes, and numerous other organizations.

Each club or organization has a faculty advisor that gives much of his or her personal time to assist in the activities. Several outstanding advisors were honored as such at last spring's awards banquet. They were: Donald Balch (Arab Club); Robert Hughlett (Handicapped Students of Cerritos College); Richard McGrath (Lambda Alpha Epsilon); Lela Powers (Phi Beta Lambda); Connie Mantz (Phi Kappa Zeta); Rob Hinchberger (Prosthetics and Orthotics); Ruben Martinez (Spanish Club); James Frame (Veterans Club).

At the same banquet, leading clubs were also honored. The outstanding curricular club was the Spanish Club; Phi Kappa Zeta was the Panhellenic club of the year; Theta Sigma and H.S.C.C. were special interest clubs of the year; and Circle K was the service club of the year.

Students interested in participating in some of the activities on campus or desiring further information about clubs and organizations should contact Richard Robinson, dean of student activities or Norm Price, coordinator of activities in the Student Activities Office.

Also, a breakdown and synopsis of each campus club and organization is contained in the student hand book, distributed at Station 7 at registration.

Drop Courses Till Last Day

Cerritos students may drop any course up until the day prior to the last class meeting (Jan. 20) and receive a "W" grade.

In order to be officially enrolled in a class all students must attend the first day of class or will be immediately dropped from the rolls. If a student is unable to attend the first class meeting he must make prior arrangements with the instructor.

A student is required to attend class regularly and is considered excessively absent when he has been absent, without excuse, more than twice the class hours per week. An authorized absence is one granted while attending a school field trip or school activity and an excused absence is for illness, injury, or quarantine.

An instructor may initiate an official withdrawal at any time prior to the last day of classes and record a "W" grade.

A student may attain an "E" grade when he is passing but has not completed the course requirements due to illness, an emergency or extenuating circumstances.

New Faces On Campus For '74-'75

This fall, Cerritos students will see fourteen new faces among certificated personnel. Additions each year to the faculty attests to the ever-growing instruction program here.

Bill Evans, after teaching part-time here since 1971, becomes a full-time instructor in the Marketing Management field of the Business Division. He received his bachelor's degree from UC Berkeley, his master's from Cal State LA and taught at Whittier High School for eight years. He brings a great wealth in practical experience, having been associated with Mattel Corp. for a number of years.

Bruce Bennett also moves into a full-time position in Marketing Management after teaching part-time. He has his BA from Cal State Long Beach, has an extensive background in business and is owner of a glass designs company.

John Boyle fills a new slot in the Biology Department, coming from Compton College. He taught in high school for four years after earning his bachelor's and master's from UC Santa Barbara.

Replacing Connie Mantz as a counselor is Patricia Lewis, a graduate of Oregon and the University of Southern California. Ms. Mantz returns to the classroom after a year of counseling.

Lyla Eddington is a new full-time instructor in the Associate Degree Nursing Program after fulfilling a year of long-term substitute teaching for Mildred Ikemoto, who spent a year on sabbatical leave. Ms. Eddington has extensive experience in nursing and a bachelor's degree from Cal State Fullerton.

Margaret Jones, a new office occupations instructor has taught part-time here since 1968. She has been a full-time instructor at Artesia High School since 1965 and is a graduate of Cal State Fullerton.

Scott Henderson is the new Marching Band Director and music instructor replacing Kenneth Brungess. A graduate of the University of Arizona, he formerly taught at Palos Verdes High School.

Leroy Knouse moves into the graphic arts field of the art department as a long term sub for Larry Brady, on leave of absence. A graduate of UCLA, where he was also a teaching assistant for two years, he has been a free-lance designer for a number of years.

Patricia Regan has taught here part-time and will now teach full-time in the medical assisting program. She is a graduate of the Omaha School of Vocational Nursing and has been employed at the Artesia Medical Group in Bellflower.

Corrinne Whitman is not a new face at Cerritos, having taught full-time since 1967 in the nursing field. Last year's acting coordinator of Health Occupations, she takes over that administrative position officially. She's a graduate of Cal State L.A.

A new position in auto body was filled by Larry Craig, a successful local businessman who owns Kustom Kolers in Bellflower. He's been self-employed since 1970.

Judy Smith fills a position in the vocational nursing field. She holds an AA from East LA and her BSN from UCLA with extensive vocational experience.

Phil Rodriguez has also been at Cerritos for a while in the Chicano Studies area and now becomes the Coordinator of the program as well as Extended Opportunity Program and Services Director.

Counseling Help

Many students at Cerritos find great assistance through their college careers by checking with their counselors periodically. Besides helping you with academic choices, the staff is available for counseling in personal problems as well. Here, Don Montgomery, (left) and Wally Frost assist two students with program changes.

Job Credit Available In Career Internship

Vocational Work Experience, "Career Internship," offers students at Cerritos campus the chance to receive credit while maintaining a job related to their major. Career internship benefits those who must work while maintaining a full schedule at this campus.

Along with meeting the minimum hours per week standard set up for each individual division, the students must take the 99 coordinating class in their division one hour per week for one semester unit.

This program is worked out primarily between the instructor assigned to that individual and his employer. In order for the student to earn credit, his employer must agree to cooperate with the college through an official training agreement or similar arrangement.

A grade will be given at the end of the first semester based upon the employer's and

Instructor Coordinator's evaluation of the student's job performance and completion of assigned curriculum in the coordinating class and the directly related class.

The individual receives needed credit for his work experience and the employer also benefits from the program. He finds part-time help who may become permanent at a later date. He finds employees who are receiving additional training through related instructional school. And it reduces turnover because the employees have become adjusted to the job before they accept full-time employment.

Divisional regulations for career internship units are as follows:

Administration of Justice students sign up for AJ73 and must work at least 15 hours per week.

Health Occupations students sign up for HO73 and work 15 to 19 hours or have HO74 with 29 hours per week.

Recreation students sign up for REC71 with 5 to 9 hours, REC72 with 10 to 14 hours REC73 with 15 to 19 or REC74 with 20 or more hours work per week.

Technology students sign up for TECH72 with 10 to 14 hours, TECH73 with 15 to 19 or TECH74 with 20 or more hours per week.

Students interested must be currently holding a job directly related to his field or must find one in his field within two weeks of the start of the semester.

TV Show in Works

A number of Cerritos College instructors are now planning a television show, scheduled to be filmed in the spring and telecast in the fall of 1975 on ABC-TV in conjunction with the Community College Consortium.

The program, tentatively entitled "Then and Now," a humanities course, will be co-hosted by Cerritos English professors Donald Balch and Jack Lackman. Humanities Division Chairman Selden Cummings is the coordinator.

The idea was formulated by Robert Taylor, with Balch and Cummings, and a committee including Cerritos instructors Jim Dighera of the Speech Department and Frances Lipsker, along with Howard Hertz.

The program will consist of an introduction and five broad topics, with eight or nine telecasts devoted to each.

The introduction deals with "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" exploring people's external needs, how people approach fulfillment of their needs, and what thwarts people most often. The other areas of instruction are:

- "Self and External Authority"
- "Man and Woman"
- "A View on Violence"
- "Technology and Man"
- "The Need For Balance - Satisfaction and Equilibrium"

The show, according to Balch, "will draw talent, brains, and research" from 27 community colleges throughout the southland.

Spring Signups Date Announced

The Cerritos College counseling office has announced that beginning Sept. 17, all students may make counseling appointments for the spring semester. Appointments are on a first come-first served basis.

Students may make such an appointment by visiting one of the counseling division secretaries and scheduling an appointment with the counselor of their choice. A guide to the individual major assignments of each counselor appears to the right.

Counseling Staff Assists Students

3 Talon Marks

Cerritos has a 15-member counseling staff to aid students in the many facets of college life. The chairman of the division is Dr. Robert Bos.

What makes the program run so smoothly here is that each counselor does what he or she does best in regards to helping students. Peer counselors are a great boon to the office, freeing counselors from routine tasks to more fully aid students in such areas as personal counseling.

Academic Advisement is a large part of the program here as counselors help students set up their programs of study geared to what the student wants, be it transfer, AA degree or just personal enrichment. Students on probation, students with undeclared majors or major changes and students with other special academic problems are focal points of the facet of the division.

Personal problem aid is another main function of the counseling division and students may seek help in any area from a number of counselors.

Day and night career counseling is set up in the rear of the student lounge.

The counseling division's biggest task at the outset of the year is freshman orientation, but this job is made easier by the peer counselors. Upon enrollment, each new student may sign up for such classes as Career Selection as Personal Development and Actualizing Personal Potential. The classes last nine weeks.

The counseling division also provides such time for sessions where students can get together and discuss mutual problems and work together to solve them.

Peer counselors are students who are trained and paid to assist the full-time, certificated staff.

"In the beginning, two years ago," says Bos, "peer counseling was enacted because some students did not want to talk to counselors, and in talking to their peers first, they could be better assisted."

"Now," he continues, "that concept has evolved to where the student counselors are doing much more and are more integrated into the counseling program."

Peer counselors for the fall, with one yet to be selected, are: Walter Bouffard, Dyanna Doughty, Cheryl Johnson, Carlos Rodriguez, Jr., Laura Strickland, Nancy Tash and Edna Rodriguez.

Studying

The Learning Materials Center, in addition to providing much in study materials, contains individual study carrels for students to listen to tapes, or just read.

Financial Assistance Helps Students Through

Hundreds of students at Cerritos have been aided through their college careers with the benefit of the college's financial assistance program.

One of the best and most workable programs is the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant, a federal aid program designed to provide financial assistance to those in need. Cerritos has been allocated $200,000 for this program. The grant does not need to be repaid, and interested students should check with Student Affairs office.

The College Work-Study program is a federally-funded program that provides part-time employment, on or off campus, for students from low-income families. To be eligible for college work-study the student must show financial need, be carrying at least eight units, and be a citizen or permanent resident of the United States. The maximum award varies with the need of the student.

The National Direct Student Loan program is open to full-time and part-time students who can show need. This loan is low interest, and no repayments are required until nine months after the student has ceased his college study program.

The college provides information and applications for federally insured student loans. The loans are made available by many banks in the area, and the banks have final decision on loan approval. The college acts only as a service for the student and the bank is processing the loan applications. The amount of loan depends upon the regulations set by each bank.

Law Enforcement Education Loans and Grants are available to law enforcement officers enrolled in part-time or full-time programs in subjects leading to a degree in police science or a directly related law enforcement area.

Grants and loans are available which will provide the student with direct education expenses. Applications are available in the Financial Aids office and the office of the chairman of the Police Science Department.

The Short Term Loan Fund is a fund created by the Associated Students of Cerritos College, community organizations, local businesses, and interested individuals. Its purpose is to provide short term small loans to students in financial need. These loans are given for expenses of books and direct costs of attending college. A service fee of $1 is charged on each loan, however there is no interest charged if the loan is repaid within the specified time.

Nursing scholarships are available to students in financial need who are enrolled in the registered nursing program. Applications, and information are available through the Financial Aids Office and Health Occupations Office.

New Program Aids Students

Among the most exciting new programs at Cerritos is EOPS-Extended Opportunity Programs and Services—designed to provide assistance to all students who express a desire for higher education. Students who indicate a financial, academic or cultural need are especially sought. In short—students who ordinarily would not attend college.

Peer-tutoring and counseling, book grants, possible transfers to other institutions or programs are some of the special services associated with the program.

The program makes use of the many arms of the college to assist students. The Child Care Center, Referral Service, Financial Aids, Career Guidance, Veteran's Affairs, Tutorial Services and many other offices assist in the program.

The coordinator of the program is Phil Rodriguez, and the office is located in AD 8.

Financial Aids

Many other kinds of scholarships are also available, ranging from $25 to $150.

Another program that raises money for students in need is called Breadhunt, consisting of a number of activities put on by the student body to raise this money, including Project G.A.P. (a recycling project for glass, aluminum, and paper), the Spring Carnival, and a bowling tournament.

Breadhunt Provides $

Someone once said that those who like to take, hate to give. On the contrary, students involved in the financial aids program at Cerritos College have erased that old proverb.

More than 12,600 pounds of recyclable glass were collected in one month last Spring to help raise money for student scholarships.

Just one of the many fund-raising activities sponsored each college year here, the program began four years ago under the direction of a student actively participating in campus government. Eric Levine, vice president of the ASCC set out to establish means to raise money for scholarships in 1970. Calling the program the "Breadhunt Fund", Levine's initial program netted $500 its first year. The following year the sum had hiked to more than double ($1,200) and in 1973 the project was booming with $1,700 in scholarship funds.

Campus clubs and organizations penciled in a one-a-month activity schedule under the supervision of Keith Adams, coordinator of financial aids at Cerritos College.

A bowling tournament, glass-aluminum-paper drive (GAP), carnival, Halloween and Christmas candy sale, dances, pen sale, a male hairstyling contest, box lunch sale during homecoming and a dunking booth all contributed to the Breadhunt Fund last year.

Last March the bowling tournament, involving students, faculty and staff, netted $623 in scholarship money.

Last year nine Cerritos College clubs and organizations contributed more than 12,000 pounds of recyclable glass, 10,000 aluminum cans and 9,000 inches of paper for the fund-raising GAP project. The take netted nearly $732 in scholarship funds. The project is based on a competitive basis among clubs. The top contributor is honored at the annual Spring Awards Banquet each year.

The annual college carnival contributed $2,500 in profits for the scholarship fund and again was based on a competitive basis between clubs operating different booths.

The program was devised to provide $50 to $75 scholarships to needy students at Cerritos College. Each applicant undergoes a ten minute interview with the scholarship committee comprised of students, teachers and administrators. If the need is shown and granted, the student receives the qualifying amount.

The Breadhunt Project has also devised an emergency loan program available to any student from $50 to $75. The loans are once again determined by need and the student receives the funds interest free.

"This whole project takes so much time and effort," said Adams. "It was designed to get students involved in activities," he added. "We feel that the student can benefit in education through involvement."

"It happens here because we have community support of our administration and a board who supports strong activity," said Adams. "It has become traditional and most of the students receiving scholarships feel an obligation to contribute to their own cause."

"As far as I can see, the interest is growing and the students will get more involved in the future," added Adams.

Plenty of dollars are available for Cerritos students, including $200,000 in Basic Opportunity Grant money. Fran Newman, dean of student affairs, can be contacted in that office.

Good Service

Now in its second year, the food services program here provides first-hand experience in food preparation and service for Cerritos students. An extremely successful curricular program, it also keeps down costs to the college and students.

Job Placement Provides Jobs

*For all types of students
— with all types of needs*

One of the many services offered to Cerritos students is job placement. Run by Madge Coto in the Office of Student Affairs, the program serves as a medium of finding jobs for Cerritos students and recent graduates.

In cooperation with many local businesses, a wide variety of part-time, off-campus jobs are available. These positions sometimes require particular skills and experience, however, there are also many jobs which can be readily filled by freshmen or other students with no experience or vocational training.

There are also occasional jobs open on campus for students who have job skills which meet the current needs of the college. Secretarial, lab assistants and other skilled positions are available to a small degree.

Graduating students or recent graduates are also serviced by the office.

In addition to Ms. Coto, Bill Robinson is on hand to help all students, particularly veterans.

Students interested in obtaining jobs should review all job opportunities posted on the bulletin board in front of the Student Affairs Office and jot down the numbers of the jobs that are of interest. An application form will be available in the office, and an interview with the job placement interviewer may be made.

Students who meet the employer's requirements will be given a referral card to take to the employment interview at the employer's place of business. Students may be sent on as many referrals as they wish, one at a time.

The hours of the job placement office are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. and Fridays from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. The evening hours are new this year on an experimental basis according to Ms. Coto.

Social Sciences Move Forward

The Cerritos College Social Science Division, under the leadership of Chairman Keith Hinrichsen, continues this year with expansion of its curriculum with some new and innovative ideas in teaching that are at the same time extremely relative to today's student.

The History Department has added three new courses that bear this fact out well. Russell Storkan will teach History 30 — the History of Mexico with a special emphasis upon the Mexican-American in the Southwest, as well as History 39 — the History of California. Southern California in the 20th century will be a highlight of this course. Eugene Dermody will offer his ethnic-oriented Afro-American course — History 40, which is a class with special appeal for all students who have completed U.S. History but who want a more in-depth survey of America's largest minority group.

Political Science takes on added meaning in 1974-75 with the transition in the White House and its ramifications on Capitol Hill and across the nation. Political theory and the roles of the branches of our government are basics in this course. Both a day and night section in Poli. Sci. 10 — International Relations will be offered with Thom Hendrickson teaching the day class and John Palmer the evening. Hendrickson's travels, first-hand diplomatic experiences, and academic training make him a natural for this course while Palmer provides fine instruction in this area as well.

Sociology of Education will again be taught by Sherill Moses. The course is now accepted at four-year colleges.

Dr. Charles Cabeen will introduce the Social Science Division's newest offering in Psychology 14 — Abnormal Psychology. Eminently qualified by academic training, experience in private practice, and institutional staff service, our school psychologist should lend much color and personal anecdotal experience to the course.

Another change in the Psychology Department is that both Psych. 4 and 5 are now four unit courses.

Tutors Available For Cerritos Students

Few students really expect to have a great deal of trouble in their classes, but in case it happens, the college is ready with Tutorial Services.

Individual help is offered, free of charge, on a one-to-one basis to any student needing help in a particular area. The tutors are Cerritos students employed by the college.

Ten hours a semester are allowed for non-Veterans (Veterans-see the section on page 2) and the offices are located in the Learning Materials Center. The offices can be used for instruction, but not necessarily. Instruction may take place anywhere on campus.

The Director of Tutorial Services is Walter Leather Jones.

YOUR Bookstore

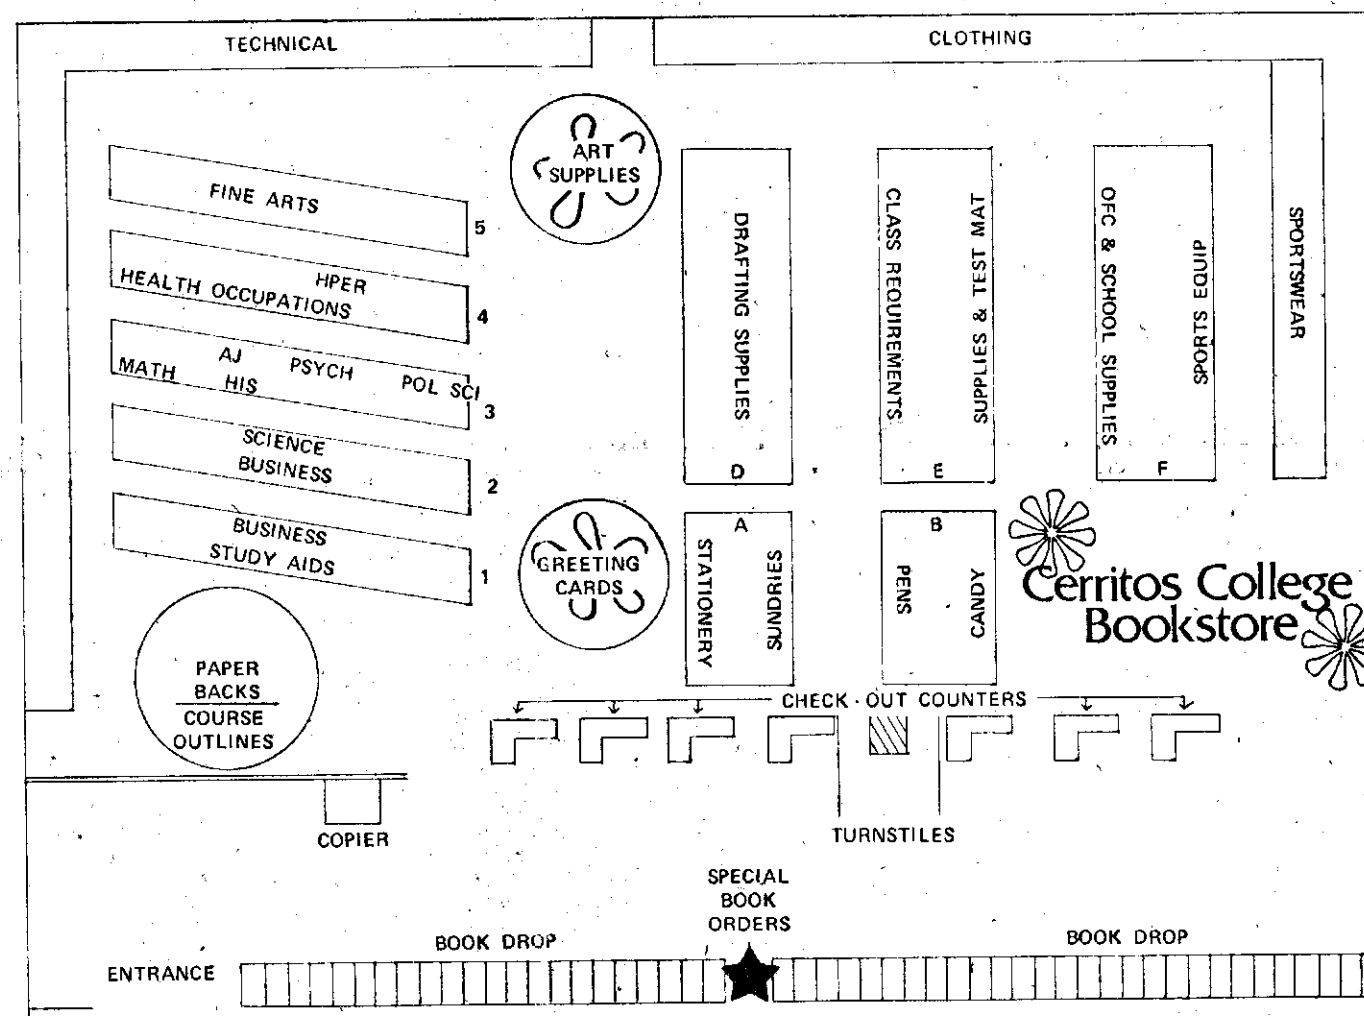

Recently completed, the ASCC Bookstore is stocked with virtually everything a student needs to supplement his education here at Cerritos, plus a great deal more. Service is the key word of the bookstore, as abundant space and four check-out registers make it easy to get all of your supplies, even in the big rushes during the year. A well-staffed corps of employees, headed by manager Dave Ruston, is always available to help the student with any need.

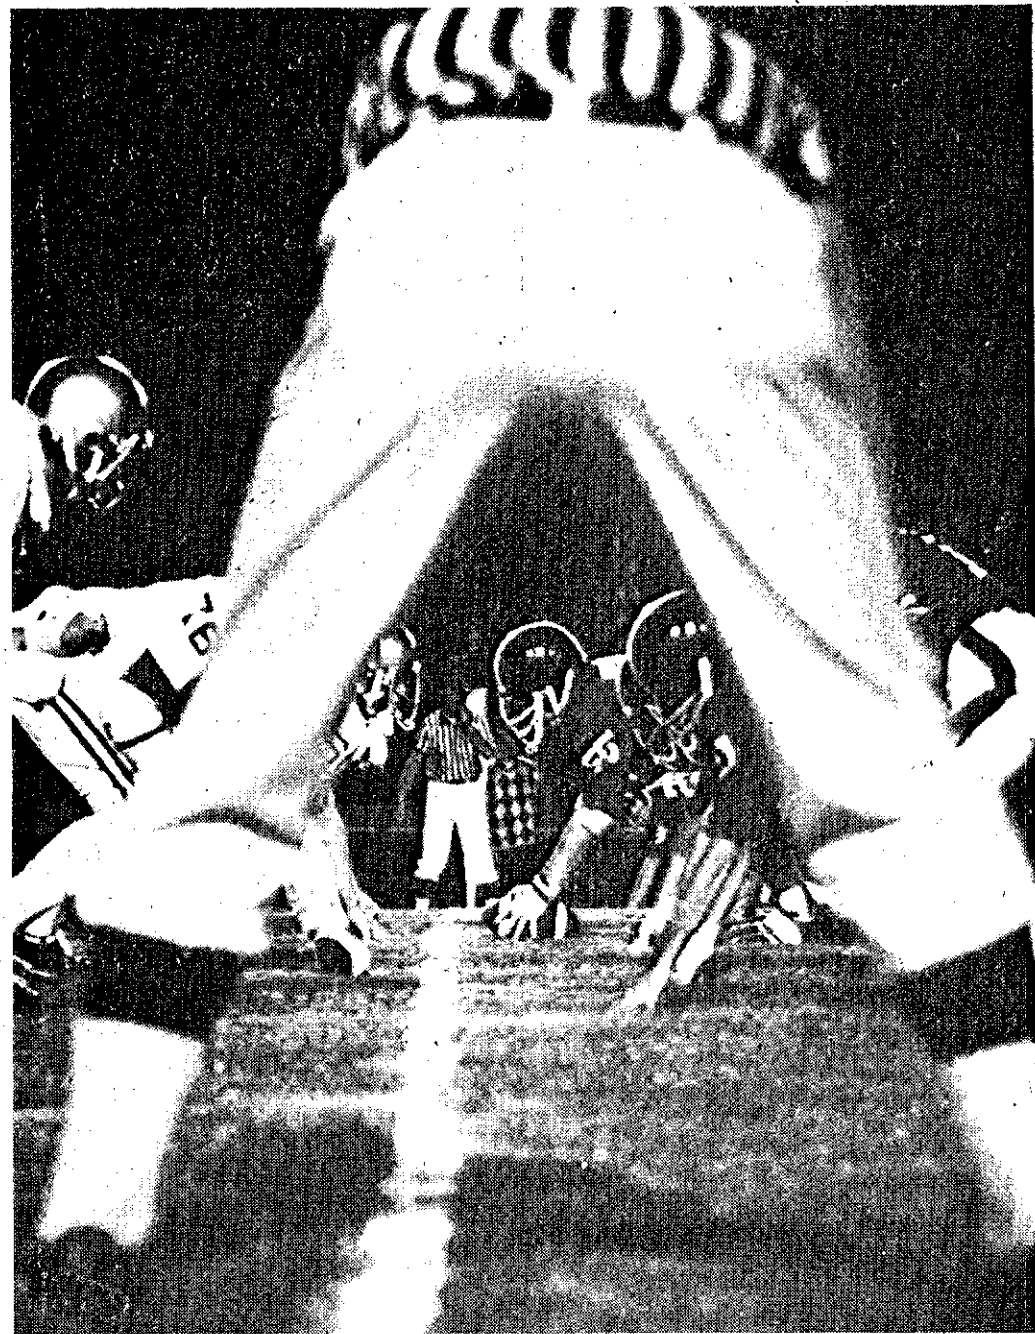

If you have yet to see the new facility, it is a far cry from the old one. Nearly four times the size, it contains thousands and thousands of items, from gift ideas to books, from aspirins, to candy, from film to clothing, from watches to beer mugs — the bookstore has everything.

Film development service and a copying machine are other services which you will find in the bookstore.

With all of this service, one would think that the prices would be sky-high. Not so — the ASCC prices are the lowest around and you'll get top dollar for selling back your books at semester's end.

With all of this, plus the fact that the money comes back to you through the ASCC — it's clear that your bookstore is your best bet.

Hike!

The Falcon football team swings into action this fall with optimistic hope to regain its South Coast Conference championship of two years ago. The squad faces a tough schedule, though.

Tough Seasons Ahead

Water Polo

Once again Pat Tyne and his Falcon water polo squad have the distinction of competing in what is undoubtedly the toughest water sports conference in the state.

The Fullerton Hornets, as strong as ever for 1974, are the defending state champions. Orange Coast won the state crown in 1972. Since 1966, when the Falcons won it, colleges that are now members of the South Coast conference have won the state crown in water polo five times.

Tyne has lost quite a bit from his fourth place South Coast Conference team of 1973, but he still has back All-Conference goalie Dennis Morales, who was an All-CIF performer at Downey two years ago.

Newcomers on the squad include Mark Montgomery, a fine swimmer from Artesia, and Duke Parmelee and Randy Lyons from Warren, and Alan Sammartano of Downey.

The season begins for the Falcons on September 20 with the East LA tournament. A trip to El Camino on September 27 is next, followed by a game at Palomar on October 1, and at Grossmont October 2. South Coast Conference action opens up on October 8 when the Falcons host the Santa Ana Dons. Orange Coast will welcome Cerritos October 11.

On October 15 the state champion Fullerton Hornets will visit Cerritos, followed by a non-conference tilt on October 18 with Rio Hondo. Mt. San Antonio College host the Falcons to round out the first half of SCC action on October 22.

The Falcons will travel to Ventura on October 24 and San Mateo on October 25 before returning for the second round of conference action against Santa Ana on October 29. The Pirates of Orange Coast come to Cerritos on November 1, and the Falcons travel to Fullerton on November 5.

Golden West will host Cerritos on November 6 in another non-conference game, and to finish South Coast action Cerritos will play host to the Mounties of Mt. SAC.

Water polo, along with swimming, contains only five South Coast teams as San Diego Mesa does not field water sports squads. Cerritos will face a tough challenge to come off with their 3-5 record of last year.

Students May Repeat Classes

Students may enroll in a course they have already taken if they previously received a grade lower than "C" in that course.

Credit is only allowed once for the course, but the new grade will be computed into the student's grade point average.

Some courses outlined in the Cerritos catalogue may be taken for credit more than once or twice, and students are advised to utilize that publication when planning class schedules.

Falcon Football Squad Looks for Big Season

Cerritos Put In Thick of South Coast Race

The Falcon football squad, coming off of a 5-5 season in 1973, narrowly missed being the top pick of South Coast Conference Sports Information Directors in their annual poll of the predicted SCC finish.

The Cerritos squad received 21 points in the poll, placing second to defending champion Fullerton, with 23.

Orange Coast finished third with 199 points, followed by Santa Ana with 10, Mt. San Antonio with 9 and San Diego Mesa with 8.

The Falcons recorded two first place votes, (one from Orange Coast and one from Fullerton) two second place votes and one third place vote. SID's could not vote for their own teams.

Cerritos should be tough indeed with good experience in the offensive backfield, Duane Matthews, a rifle-armed quarterback who played three years ago at Rio Hondo, is slated to be at the offensive helm with Glen Ford and Jim Emmerling returning runners. Top receivers are Don Murvin, all-SCC second team in '73, Steve Norman and freshmen Bill Vincent and Ken Devore. Devore, from Excelsior, is high on Coach Ernie Johnson's list of prospects.

Linemen Ralph Martinez, Jesse Janke and Glen Banks all are there to give good strength.

Defensively, only two starters return. Rick Brown is a stellar lineman and Terry Tolliver is a hard-nosed linebacker. Ron Vandersluis, a lineman, saw some '73 action. The defensive backfield is wide open, with Steve Eades, Billy Whitford, Jim Strickland, Phil Dubois, Tom Rohr and Frank Spehar all expected to give a good accounting.

The Falcons begin their season on Sept. 21 at Bakersfield, where it is always tough. The Renegades are expected to have a fine defense as always, plus a good running attack behind a tough offensive line.

Long Beach City College is the second Falcon opponent and the Vikings come in Falcon Stadium on Sept. 28. LBCC is always rough and the rivalry between the two schools is always fierce. Says Johnson, "Jake (Long Beach Coach Gary Jacobsen) always get his guys ready to play us."

East L.A. comes to Cerritos next on Oct. 5, still smarting from last years 45-0 pasting. Coach Al Padilla works his team well and Johnson sees the Huskies as "an improving club."

The Pasadena Lancers host the Falcons in Cerritos' final pre-conference contest. Always a good team, the squad beat the Falcons 20-14 in 1973 and Johnson says "their speed is always a problem for us."

The South Coast Conference schedule begins with Santa Ana visiting Falcon Stadium on Oct. 26. The Dons were the only SCC team to beat the Falcons two years ago when Cerritos won the conference title and Santa Ana did it right here at Falconland, 20-6. Last year, the Falcons whipped the Dons, 28-3. The coaching staff at Santa Ana is strengthened this year with the addition of former Cypress head coach and Fullerton assistant Howard Black. This should be a hard-fought game.

Mt. San Antonio invades Cerritos next for the Falcon homecoming on Nov. 2. The Mounties, under coach Mal Eaton, will have a tough time in replacing the nation's number one quarterback over the last two years, Steve Myer. The best shot for '74 looks to be Jim Winklepole of Charter Oak High School.

Recruitment at Mt. SAC picked up a gem in Robert "Binky" Benton, the CIF 4A Player of the Year from Los Altos High. He'll come in handy as the Mounties lost Teddy Farmer to graduation. Farmer, despite being badly injured in the Falcon game of last year, still wound up the leading rusher in the SCC. Last year's score Cerritos 17-Mt. SAC 10.

Next, the Falcons travel to Anaheim Stadium to meet the defending conference champions, the Fullerton Hornets. It's always a tough battle between the two schools as Johnson is a Fullerton alumnus and Hornet coach Hal Sherbeck is the winningest community college coach in the nation with a 102-26-4 mark. The Falcons won the SCC crown here two years ago on a last-second drive to tie Fullerton. Last year saw what was perhaps the most thrilling game of the year for the Falcons as they dropped a 17-14 decision to the Hornets. Cerritos has not beaten the Hornet since the arrival of Sherbeck at Fullerton in 1961.

San Diego Mesa, "always loaded with fine and physical athletes," according to Johnson, visits Falcon Stadium on Nov. 16. The Falcon coach says that the Olympians gave Cerritos its toughest fight last year before succumbing, 7-0. "They beat our brains out," said Johnson.

The Pirates of Orange Coast host the Falcons in the finale. In 1973, Orange Coast nipped Cerritos with a fourth-quarter rally, 13-10. They'll be tough again in '74, with CIF 2A Player of the Year Rick Brown of Temple City in the backfield along with Dan Princeotto, Tony Accomando and Mike Nanko. Rick Mueller, a tight end and Ross Malinowski (brother of Cerritos' Publications Director, Jay) also move in from Temple City. The Bucs will prove a tough foe. "They always have a good winning attitude," says Johnson.

"The entire schedule is tough," says Johnson, "even our pre-conference games. We always seem to pick the real winners."

"The whole South Coast Conference in particular is very well coached," he added.

The Falcons will continue with their very fine staff in Johnson, offensive coaches William "Lefty" Pendleton and Wayne "Tank" Harris and defensive mentors Marv Grim and Frank Montero. They also boast one of the finest trainers in the business in Pete Valenzuela.

Concerts!

The Associated Students sponsor many events during the year, chief among which are concerts. Shown here is Gordon Lightfoot, who thrilled a Cerritos crowd recently. Last year's program saw such acts as Linda Ronstadt and Dan Hicks.

Amy Dozier Scholarship Established in Memorium

The Amy Dozier Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established by Cerritos College in remembrance of the highly popular former college Dean of Women.

Miss Dozier, who served as Dean of Women at Cerritos for 12 years, died Aug. 7 following a lengthy illness. She was 44.

The scholarship fund, providing college expenses for needy students, will be operated by the Office of Student Affairs.

Creator of several local scholarships funds for Cerritos students, Miss Dozier came to the college in 1958 as a physical education instructor. In July, 1960 she became the Dean of Women and after more than a decade of service requested reassignment back to the P.O. department in 1972.

Well liked by students and staff, Miss Dozier organized and established the unique "Breadhunt Fund". In conjunction with the Associated Student Body, the fund provides expenses for needy students while they work for their own scholarships.

Born in Alton, Ill., Miss Dozier earned her B.S. degree in Physical Education from the University of Illinois. She acquired her M.A. degree in Physical Education from Long Beach State University and conducted graduate studies at USC, Pepperdine and Cal Poly.

Miss Dozier came to Cerritos College from the Long Beach Unified School District where she taught at Stephens Junior High.

Funeral services were conducted Aug. 12 at Forest Lawn Mortuary in Cypress.

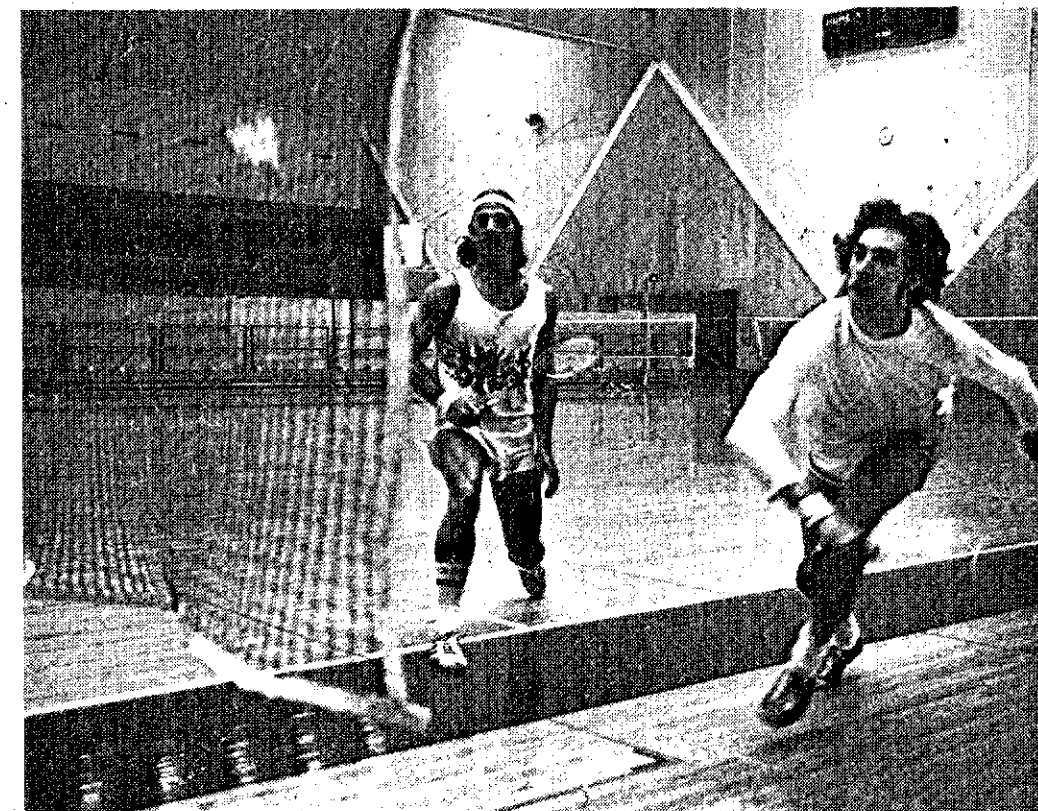

For further information on the scholarship fund and donations check with the Office of Student Affairs.

ASCC-Bench Barbecue on Sept. 30

The 1974 ASCC-Bench Barbecue will take place on September 28 as the kickoff to a big triple-header of opening social events for the fall.

The barbecue, featuring good food and conversation, begins at 5 p.m. and lasts until 7 next to the baseball diamond. At 7:30 begins the Cerritos-Long Beach football game in Falcon Stadium, and at 10:30 "Evil", a nine-piece band that won the Battle of the Bands at the ASCC's Spring Carnival, will play at an aftergame dance in the Student Center.

It is an afternoon and evening of low-cost food, excitement, and entertainment for ASCC card holders.

Smash!

CRA — College Recreation Association — provides for team and individual sports and a variety of non-competitive recreational activities. A large part of CRA consists of competition with surrounding colleges in sports like badminton, (above), archery, bowling, tennis, volleyball, soccer, and others. Individual handball courts are a popular item here as well. Interested students should check in with the Physical Education Department.

Parking Violators Ticketed

Students and others who illegally park here at Cerritos will, of course, be ticketed and to the tune of $5 per shot. The ticketees will be those who park without stickers or permits in reserved spaces, those who park in red zones, and those who park in green zones beyond the allotted time. The ticketers will be students.

The campus police force consists of a number of students, often administration of justice majors, who are duly authorized by the college to issue citations collected by Downey Municipal Court. The tickets count just as much as tickets given by uniformed city police officers.

Students may not park in C-3 located north of the Burnight Theatre, C-4 located north of the Social Science Building, C-5 located south of the Natural Science Building, C-10 (partial), the first two rows painted yellow south of the Maintenance Building, and C-9 located south of the student center.

There are five officers returning for this fall semester as announced by coordinator Brad Bates. They are: Tim Ruibal, James Adams, Marcia Brandhorst, Robert Montgomery and Steve D'errico.
