LDS bloc takes senate, ASCC proposals pass

By PHYLLIS DAVENPORT
TM News Editor

As predicted by election observers, the Latter Day Saints (LDS) bloc took 10 of the possible 38 seats in last week's senate election.

An overwhelming majority of the voters approved two ASCC constitutional amendments mandating that the ASCC president and vice-president live in the Cerritos College district, and that the student body president be the non-voting member of the Cerritos Board of Trustees.

Voter turnout was up from last semester's 694 to 858. The top vote getter in the race for senate was incumbent Harley Griffith, an LDS member who captured the number one seat with 177 votes. He held that senate position last semester with 124 votes.

Of the 12 incumbent senators on the slate of 72 candidates, 10 were re-elected.

LDS members will now fill the seats 1, 2, 4, 8, 9, 11, 12, 16, 18 and 27 in the senate. Last semester, members of this organization held 11 senate positions.

"Our (the LDS) campaign did not go as well as it could have, but I am pleased," Griffith commented.

"Each member running for the senate was responsible for calling a certain amount of our club members. Each one was also responsible for their own individual campaign," he added.

"This semester's senate will definitely be more active, exciting and effective. Personally, I am going to look seriously at the budget. I want to make sure the funds will reach as many people as possible," Griffith said.

Griffith has hinted that he is considering the possibility of running for ASCC president next year. The election will be held this spring.

Newly-appointed ASCC Vice-President Rich Goul stated that he is "looking forward to an exceedingly active senate session, as we have very enthusiastic new senators and experienced incumbents."

"My first priority is legislation to improve campus security, particularly for night students and students in the Health Science Building," added Goul, who as ASCC vice-president will preside over the senate meetings. ASCC President Don Collins also commented that this spring's senate should be "very exciting."

He expressed a desire to work with the senate on several projects dealing with on-campus activities as well as problems concerning Cerritos students outside of the campus.

The new senators and the organizations they represent, beginning with the top vote getters, are: Harley Griffith (incumbent)—LDS, Brian Lumsden—LDS, Jim Copeland (incumbent)—Independent, Mark Miller—Upsilon Omicron, Jose I. Hernandez (incumbent)—Sigma Phi.

Wm. Gary Lumsden (incumbent)—LDS, Cheryl Flowers—Pep Squad, Janice Hobbs (incumbent)—LDS, Steven Schaeffer (incumbent)—LDS, Monica Ellen Morrow—Independent.

Eames quits, Goul new VP

By TIM CARTER
Editor-in-Chief

The post of Commissioner of Finance and Budget is up for grabs following the resignation of Mike Eames.

Rich Goul's name will come up before the senate today for approval as new student body vice president. Goul was tabbed for the position by student body president Don Collins.

Clubs gather to sign-up new members

By FRED MATTESON
TM Staff Writer

Twenty-three clubs and organizations turned out beneath sunny skies Tuesday and Wednesday to recruit new members during Cerritos College's semi-annual Club Booth Day.

In addition to the student organizations, the Highway Patrol, U.S. Army, Navy and Marine Corps were on hand to provide information on their respective services.

Refreshments ranging from apples and oranges to frozen bananas were handed out by the clubs who explained the merits of each organization.

Organizations that contributed to the festivities included Lambda Alpha Epsilon, Ski Club, Upsilon Omicron, Alpha Phi Beta, Lambda Phi Sigma, Sigma Phi, Delta Phi Omega, Philia, Theatre Arts Society, Handicapped Students, Phi Kappa Zeta, Circle K, Child Interest, Intramural Sports, Newman Club, Spanish Club, Maranatha, Beth Emanuel, Hillel Folk Dance, Baptist Student Union, Alpha Gamma Sigma, Psychology Club, and the Young Republicans.

According to Marilyn Merritt, ICC Commissioner, Club Booth Day went "very well."

"A lot of old faces from the Fall are really becoming interested. One sorority had 74 signatures of people interested," Merritt said.

Persons interested in joining a fraternity or sorority will take part in two weeks of "rushing" activities such as parties and exchanges with other clubs to become acquainted with their prospective brothers and sisters.

Following rushing, two weeks of "pledging" will be undergone by the prospective member in which he or she will learn about the club or organization in which they are interested.

Last semester's vice president Julie Emerson resigned following her selection as an aid to Congressman Del Clawson. The VP spot had remained vacant since Dec. 26, until last week's cabinet meeting when Goul's appointment was announced.

Collins had previously appointed student senator Harley Griffith to the job, but it was later discovered that Griffith did not meet constitutional requirements.

Following that development, it was believed that Eames was one of those being considered by Collins to fill the vacancy.

In a statement to TM, Eames stated that he would not have accepted the position had he been appointed. "I thought about it in December and at first thought I would. But, after a great deal of thought, decided against it," said Eames.

Eames further revealed that he had given Collins the names of several candidates that he thought could fill the job better than Goul.

President Collins stated that Eames and Goul were his top choices after Griffith. "He (Eames) was concerned whether or not he was going to get the appointment. He told me that he didn't want the VP spot. He also told me that he would resign if Rich got it," stated Collins.

Collins stated that none of the people Eames had suggested to him were active in running either the senate or cabinet. "None of them had ever recommended or written a bill."

Eames responded that he thought

Enrollment holds own —Down 80 in smoothest registration

By MARCHELE KOWALSKI
TM Staff Writer

Enrollment at Cerritos for the Spring semester was down slightly as compared to Spring 1977 figures. However, the drop was less than one percent. According to T. Paul Boatner, Director of Admissions and Records, the actual decline figure was only 80 students.

A total of 21,364 students enrolled this semester. Although full-time enrollment was down by about 900 students, part-time enrollment was up, keeping the total close to that of the Spring '77 semester. Enrollment was also up for women, but down for men.

"This is probably the smoothest registration we've ever had," commented Boatner. There were no major breakdowns in the computer this time—only one or two minute delays. A manual back-up system is used when a breakdown does occur. It is used mainly to count people in classes so that over-enrollment does not occur.

An additional computer will be installed before fall registration begins. It will parallel with the present system.

"When a breakdown occurs, with the new computer, we simply switch over to the new computer and no longer have to use the manual system. This will make things even faster," Boatner said.

This Spring, for the first time, instead of posting closed classes, open classes were listed. Boatner feels that the old approach was too negative. Instead of skimming over the list and seeing that all the classes you wanted were closed, you were able to see what was available to you.

One idea that has been adopted and will take effect during summer registration is this: If there is a conflict in your schedule, the computer will see it and notify the computer operator.

For instance, you may accidentally sign up for two different classes at the same time. This could be helpful to any student, officials say.

Each registration is said to be somewhat easier that the one before. Boatner commented, "We attempt to make one or two changes each time. We don't attempt a lot of changes at once because if something goes wrong, the entire new system may be blamed."

Boatner sees no problems in the future.

Ballet slated for Burnight

The nationally acclaimed Hartford Ballet will appear in the Burnight Center Theatre on Friday, March 3, at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Department of Community Services Cultural Events.

The ballet, one of the nation's most widely toured companies, will perform works from its wide repertory, including pieces that range from classical to modern dance.

Michael Uthoff, who choreographs and directs many of the ballet's pieces, is a former dancer with the Joffrey Ballet.

Other selections are by George Balanchine, Anna Sokolow, Dennis Nahat, Antony Tudor and other noted choreographers.

Tickets for the March 3 performance can be obtained from the Box Office located in the Student Lounge at $5 General and $3 for students.

Tickets galore, but there's much more...

By SHARON WALKER
TM Staff Writer

"January was a slow month—we only had to give out 749 parking citations."

Brad Bates, Campus Police coordinator, says that parking—as usual—is a problem around campus.

The first week of the spring semester, he and his eight student officers gave out 845 citations.

Not only are there problems in the parking lots themselves, but in the residential areas around the college.

The residents in the new housing tract across from Falcon Way have been complaining that they can't get to their mailboxes because of the parked cars.

Even if campus parking spaces are scarce or even nonexistent during the busy school hours, students should be careful of where they park, Bates said.

Bates says that students who park their cars in the Woolco, Lucky's and Red Bell parking lots should be warned that while they haven't started towing the cars away yet, they may any time.

To walk out to where you parked your car and find it missing is a frightening experience, Bates emphasized, noting another parking problem.

This happened to three students last week who found that their car was not towed away, but stolen.

A 1974 Camaro was stolen from Section C, a 1966 pickup from area C-10, and a 1970 Datsun was taken from section C-5. All three cars were stolen in the same week.

Campus Police suggest that students lock their cars at all times, keep valuables out of sight, and check the letters on the aisles to remember where the car is parked.

The officers recorded 18 times where they had to go out to look for "stolen" cars that were just misplaced.

The Campus Police does much more than issue parking tickets and look for lost cars—their main interest is to help people. The tickets they have to write because of college policy.

They are always ready to give directions to any lost student. During the evening classes they accompany girls who are afraid to walk to their cars alone. They are constantly patrolling the campus from front to back.

These student workers are all involved in the educational areas of criminology and police science and want to get some experience in the area to find out what the police force is going to be like.

Bates remarked, "I'm really proud of the fact that over 50 per cent of the patrolmen have gone into the police force. Some have entered without any additional training. The girls in the program have even a better placement percentage than the guys."

The girls on the campus patrol aren't treated much different than the guys, according to Bates. They still walk around in the dark, but when one calls, they always get a fast response.

There are two girls out of the eight campus police. One is the day shift supervisor.

The campus police are not just officers, Bates stresses. They are fellow students with jobs to do. If they don't do it, others will. Each officer has to have at least eight units here at Cerritos College.

Their advice to students is: be careful where you park, lock your car, and don't forget where you left it.

CIRCLE K IS OK — Norwalk Mayor John Zimmerman recently declared the week of Feb. 5-11 Circle K Week due to the outstanding contributions the service club has made to the community. Circle K members from L to R bottom row one: Jesse Paredez, Mayor Zimmerman and Sheri Prouty.

Service club prides self in helping others

By MARCHELE KOWALSKI

TM Staff Writer

Circle K cares about helping and serving others—the community, the college, and the individual—that's what they're all about.

"We take a lot of pride in our club," said President Roger Cunningham. "We like to socialize, but we feel Circle K is more than that; we put more emphasis on helping others."

The club was established in 1962 as an all male organization and remained so until 1972 when they went coed. They are an international organization sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Twenty-five members currently make up Circle K. Included in the twenty-five are President Roger Cunningham, Vice-President Bob Ulrich, Secretary Jesse Paredez and Treasurer Sheri Prouty. The advisors are James Dighera and Francine DeFrance. "We laid dormant for a few years but we are becoming a really strong club again," says Cunningham.

Many of the club's activities are centered around raising for various charities. Scheduled for March is the Arthritis Walk on the 26th and a dance which will be held in the Student Center for the March of Dimes on the 31st. Circle K will also assist in the Easter Seal Telethon on April 1st and 2nd.

Another club goal is to raise enough money to send every Circle K member to Miami, Florida in August for the International Convention of Circle K clubs.

The Circle K theme is—"Embracing Humanity"—and it seems to fit well. Vice President Bob Ulrich summed it all up when he described Circle K as, "Helping people, but having a good time doing it."

Honor's Day to recruit new students

By BRENDA LANG

TM Staff Writer

Cerritos College's Honors Day program will host junior and senior students from 22 local high schools on March 14 in an attempt to familiarize the students with the campus and point out the educational Opportunities Cerritos provides.

This special event will be hosted by the state scholarship honor society, Alpha Gamma Sigma and will last from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Students invited are California Scholarship Federation members, which signifies they all have grade point averages of 3.0 or better.

Dr. Fran Newman, Dean of Student Affairs states, "Many high school students with high GPA's feel it almost necessary to enter a major four-year university to receive a thorough education." One purpose of this day is to help dispel that belief.

The agenda will consist of an informal welcoming to the college followed by refreshments and a tour of the campus. The students will then have a choice of two out of four different lectures. The topics will cover biology, English, math and history subject matter. Lecture themes include "Fishes That Light Up When They Mate," "How to Write a Winning Paper in College," "Of Coffee Cups and Donuts," and "The Roaring Twenties."

Participating schools include Ambassador Christian Schools, Artesia High, Bellflower High, Central High, Cerritos High, Downey Senior High, El Camino High, El Dorado High, Excelsior High, Gahr High, John Glenn High, La Mirada High, Mayfair High, William Neff High, Norwalk High, Pius X High, St. John Bosco Senior High, St. Joseph High, St. Paul High, Somerset High, Valley Christian High and Warren Senior High School.

The new senators will be installed at the first senate meeting of the semester today in BK 112 at 2 p.m. One of their first duties will be to vote on the appointment of Goul.

Those students voting in last week's election also received a ballot which described two proposed ASCC constitutional amendments.

Background information about the proposals stated, "Last year, Jerry Brown, the Governor of California, signed into law Assembly Bill 591, which states that the Associated Students must elect a student member to the Cerritos College District Board of Trustees. The Cerritos College Board of Trustees must determine how the student member of the Board is to be elected."

"Recently, the Cerritos College Board of Trustees decided that the student member shall be the Associated Student President and shall be elected via the ASCC President and Vice-President election held in May of each year."

The Board based their decision upon the fact that the ASCC president has been an advisory member of the Board since 1967.

In continuing with this policy and complying with AB 591, two proposals were made for amending the student body constitution.

Proposal I, which received 685 "yes" votes (84 percent) and 125 "no" votes (16 percent), amended Article III, Section 2. The section read: "The President and Vice-President shall have attained the academic standing of a Sophomore by the first full semester of office and shall have an overall 2.25 grade point average as indicated on his/her permanent record card at the time of election."

The following requirement was added to the section: "The President and Vice-President of the Associated Students shall be residents of the Cerritos Community College District."

Proposal II, which received 600 "yes" votes (78 percent) and 168 "no" votes (22 percent), amended Article V, Section I which read: "The President of the Associated Students shall preside at all meetings of this organization and shall be the official representative of the Associated Students. The President shall also perform such other duties as pertain to the office."

The primary objective of the one-day seminar is to introduce women to the many facets of the science field and encourage them to find a career there, according to Dr. Fran Newman.

Dr. Newman, Director of Student Affairs and coordinator of the event stated, "Career Day is to show women that the science field doesn't limit itself to physicists and chemists, but offers opportunities at all levels in which women may advance."

Engineering, biology, psychology, sociology, geology, architecture, math and computers, political science, environmental sciences and medical sciences are to be covered in the workshops, which will also explore the potential job market and training necessary in each field.

The seminar is open to science and non-science majors and pre-registration is advised since enrollment is limited to about the first 500 applicants.

There is no registration fee, and both child care and a luncheon will be provided at no charge.

Counseling survey set

By PHYLLIS DAVENPORT
TM News Editor

Over 1000 students will receive a questionnaire March 1 on the college's counseling services, according to Dr. Louis Wilson, chairman of the ad-hoc committee studying the department.

The questionnaire will be administered in both day and evening classes.

"There are a total of 50 questions, but they will be divided so that three to four hundred students answer 15 questions," Wilson said.

"No student receiving the questionnaire will answer all 50 questions," he added.

The committee is still working on two other questionnaires. One will go to a sampling of faculty, staff and Board of Trustees members, the other will be distributed to various community colleges in the area to learn about their services.

These are scheduled to be administered sometime in March.

John Queen, director of institutional research, will use a computer to analyze the input from the three surveys.

The committee will then review the data, making their recommendations to the Board of Trustees, according to Wilson.

Wilson described the student questionnaire as "a compromise between what different people on the committee wanted. Hopefully, we will get to most of the concerns of the students, faculty, staff and Board."

The next meeting of the committee has not yet been scheduled.

College officials have stressed that this study is an on-going attempt to make all Cerritos programs as beneficial as possible.

Vern Roberts passes

By MARTIEAL WILLER
TM Production Manager

Memorial services for college MOT Operations Supervisor Vernon E. Roberts, Jr., 47, of Cerritos were conducted Jan. 25 at Artesia-Cerritos United Methodist Church, Artesia with Rev. Ed Smith officiating.

Private interment services were held at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Cypress.

Roberts, born in St. Anthony, Idaho, died Jan. 21 at home of an apparent heart attack.

Employed at Cerritos since March 1961, Roberts began his career in the grounds department. Later in 1961 he was transferred to the maintenance department and served as a maintenance mechanic. Working as a carpenter and electrician from 1962 until 1965, most of his time was spent in the area of painting.

For the next six years (1965-1971) Roberts held the position of Coordinator of Public Services in the office of Community Services. He was responsible for the master calendar, a record of facility utilization of all campus buildings.

While serving in this capacity Roberts established the method of campus ticket sales and control in use today.

From 1971 until 1975 he held the position of Custodial and Grounds Supervisor and in July 1975 was promoted to Operations Supervisor, Department of Maintenance, Operations and Transportation (MOT).

Roberts at one time served as president of California School Employees Association, worked with the Boy Scouts of America, and served in the United States Army during the Korean War.

"Vern was extremely well-liked and was heavily involved in supporting the community services program," said John Ribbens, director of MOT.

"He was always more than willing to do his share," added Glenda Kornbau, MOT secretary.

He is survived by his wife Joanne of Cerritos; a son, Steve and daughter, Pam, a student at Cerritos.

...Budget commissioner resigns position

all of his suggestions were qualified for the job. "How long does it take to learn to write a bill?"

"Mike told me that because of his studies he didn't want the job," stated Collins, who added, "he also felt he couldn't continue as commissioner of finance and budget with Goul as vice president."

Goul's appointment as vice president will require two-thirds vote by the 36 seat student senate today.

Goul, a sophomore at Cerritos

College, is also a student at USC where he is a full-time student. Because of his study load last semester, Goul was forced to resign as Party Whip of the senate.

"This was somewhat of a problem last semester, but he was involved in other things that he's agreed to drop," said Collins, "I feel I've picked the most qualified person."

Eames had told Collins last week of his intentions to resign. Collins requested that he put off doing so until he had talked to Goul.

"I had decided Friday," said Eames, "that I was going to definitely resign. On Saturday I talked to Goul for a couple of hours. After our conversation, I felt we could have worked together, but I still felt I should resign."

"The overriding reason is my grades. I received B's in three classes last semester. With more study I could have gotten A's in at least two of them."

"Since I made the decision to resign, I've felt good about it. Since I feel good about it, I feel it wasn't a negative thing to resign," concluded Eames.

Most student government observers believe Eames has done an excellent job as commissioner.

ICC makes carnival plans

By MARTIEAL WILLER
TM Production Manager

A variety of items including the upcoming carnival, noon concerts, and the issuing of dates for club dances were discussed at the recent Associated Students Cerritos College (ASCC) Inter-Club Council (ICC) meeting.

Norman Price, coordinator of student activities, conducting the meeting in the absence of Commissioner of Inter-Club Council Marilyn Merritt, told the group that the annual Cerritos carnival would be held May 4, 5, 6 and 7 and that booths would be assigned to clubs on the basis of who sells the most pre-sale tickets and turns in the money by a given date.

Sandy Phillips, commissioner of activities, announced that a fresh new group who have recently recorded on Motown label would appear in concert at noon on Feb. 21. She also disclosed that Richard Torrence is scheduled for Feb. 28.

Dates for club dances were assigned for the entire semester.

Tom Gray, commissioner of public relations, reminded the group that Feb. 22 is the deadline date for submitting club news to CampusScene for publication in the Mar. 1 issue.

He also informed them that the recently installed display case near the Elbow Room is now in use.

Dr. Fran Newman, dean of student affairs, invited both men and women to the upcoming Women in Science Career Workshop scheduled to be held April 1. She explained that the affair is funded by the National Science Foundation and is a joint venture of the Cerritos Women's Program and the Science, Engineering and Mathematics Division.

"The program is being held expressly to encourage women to consider a career in the field of science," Newman said.

A new club, the Messianic Jews Club, applied for acceptance into ICC. After hearing a representative explain the purpose and goals of the club, Phillips gave her objections to allowing the club to gain membership into ICC.

When it was pointed out that the group had met all requirements set up by ASCC and ICC a vote was taken and the club was accepted.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 23 in BK-112. All clubs are urged to have a representative

Return of Rip

By TOM BRAY
TM Staff Writer

"Rip Van Winkle," a family musical based on the classic adventure story written by Washington Irving, will be presented by the Cerritos College Children's Theatre on the college campus Feb. 24, 25 and 26.

The full-length family musical tells the story of Rip who, because of his wife's scolding, is driven out of his home into the midst of a terrible storm.

Seeking refuge on a nearby mountain, he encounters eleven little men bowling with nine-pins. They eventually lead Rip on a merry horn-pipe dance over the rocks and give him a drink from their own private brewery.

As the storm reaches its climax, Rip falls into a sleep which lasts for twenty years. When he finally awakens and returns to his village, he finds out a war has been fought and most of his family and friends are gone. He's a stranger in his own village.

For the play, costumes and sets have been constructed to recreate a pre-Revolutionary War Dutch Village in upper New York State. Cast and crew members have spent months researching the period and every attempt has been made to make the production as authentic as possible.

The play also features eight original songs and dances performed by a cast of more than 50 young people and adults.

In addition to the performance at Cerritos College, "Rip Van Winkle" has been selected to tour Culver City, El Camino College and Citrus College. Stage director for the production is Ilean Radens. Sets have been designed by Lawrence Lester; Valarie Sotelo is responsible for the choreography.

Performance times for "Rip Van Winkle" are 4 and 8 p.m. Friday, Feb. 24, Saturday, Feb. 25 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. and Sunday, Feb. 26 at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets for the performance are $1.25 for children and adults, and are available in advance at the Cerritos College Box Office, 860-2451, Ext. 357. Tickets may be also purchased at the Burnight Theater Box Office immediately prior to each performance.

The Cerritos College Children's Theatre is a joint venture of the Cerritos College Theatre Department and Department of Community Services.

"Rip Van Winkle" is not recommended for children under five years old.

Info day set

Cerritos College is hosting its fifth California College and University Information Day on Thursday, March 18, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The event will be staged in the Student Center and 42 colleges and universities will be represented, including the University of California, the State University and Colleges system, numerous private colleges, ROTC representatives, and the Cerritos Financial Aids Office.

Students interested in first-hand information from representatives of transfer institutions should plan to visit.

'Don't be shy' workshop set

Shyness, a human frailty that has the potential of detracting from an otherwise fulfilling lifestyle, will be explored in depth in a special "Solving the Shyness Problem" workshop at Cerritos College beginning Feb. 27 at 7 p.m. in the Board Room.

Speech-communication instructors Wendell Hanks and Ron Tabor will direct the ungraded, non-credit series offered through the college's Community Services Adult Education program.

"Repeated surveys reveal that few persons are shy or not shy all the time," Hanks said. "Most people are shy some of the time, in different situations. How people can deal constructively with situational shyness will be the focus of this eight-session series."

The workshop is free of cost but reservations should be made prior to the first class meeting. Students may register on the evening of the class on a space-available basis. Further information is available by calling the college.

Deal with death

Death in the family or among friends is one of life's major traumas. A new Community Service class at Cerritos College promises to help deal with such practical matters as funeral arrangements, organ donations, explaining death to children, and assisting others in their grief.

"Dealing With the Practical Issues of Death" will begin Feb. 24 in the auditorium of Woodruff Gables Hospital in Bellflower.

The course is free and those interested may enroll at the first class meeting at 7 p.m.

beyond the horizon

Around the time of Columbus many people thought that the earth was flat. If one sailed beyond a certain point he would fall off the edge of the world. This concept was mostly a result of their limited experience.

In the same way today people who would like to know God are limited by what they see in the small, flat world of religion. Traditions, regulations, preprogrammed youth activities, and doctrinal discussions are the religious horizons of today. This is as far as one can travel in knowing God in the religious world.

Yet there is something beyond the horizon.

In these days there are some who have sailed out of religion into God's living presence. I can testify that there is more than what you see. The Lord did not intend to be analyzed but to be enjoyed and experienced in a daily way. He is not a teaching or a belief, but a wonderful person.

Psalm 18:11 says of God, "You will show me the path of life; in your presence is fullness of joy, at your right hand are pleasures forevermore."

Romans 10:12 says, "The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him." God is enjoyable! He is experiential. Wouldn't you like to experience this One? He wants you to.

DeMarco Gallery head here

Richard DeMarco, director of the DeMarco Galleries in Edinburgh, will present a single lecture at Cerritos College tomorrow in Burnight Center Theatre at 8 p.m.

The theme of the lecture will center on "Tadeuz Kantor, Cricot Theatre, Polish Avant-Garde Theatre." Rare films and slides of Cricot Theatre Productions including "Water Hen" will be used to illustrate the lecture. Kantor and Cricot Theatre have received the highest international praise for their amazing and innovative presentations. DeMarco has produced their shows of "The Water Hen" and "The Dead Class," among others, and is a tremendous authority of Kantor, Cricot Theatre, and the great Polish experimental playwright Stanislaw Witkiewicz.

As an added attraction, DeMarco will include a slide illustrated account of prehistoric ritual sites such as Stonehenge, Avebury, and Carnac, related to origins of Arthurian legend and earth goddess cults.

The theatre department urges everyone to attend for a "fascinating visual experience of extraordinary theatre events and a bizarre journey to their own origins."

DeMarco will be presented by Cerritos College Community Services and as a service of the theatre arts society and theatre arts department.

A nominal admission of $1 will be charged.

McTear here —maybe

By JOHN ALLISON
TM Sports Editor

Recent events dealing with the 1978 track team have threatened the chances of Falcon fans who want to see the world's fastest human run as a member of the team here at Cerritos.

At their regular Jan. 17 meeting, the Cerritos College Board of Trustees decided to go ahead with plans to build a new all-weather track surface despite lengthy delays due to bad weather.

Originally, construction of the $211,000 polyurethane surface was to begin before Christmas. Recent rainstorms however forced a postponement of plans until late January.

Board President Lou Banas proposed that construction be postponed until after the 1978 season, since four of Cerritos' six home meets would have to be held elsewhere because of a 60-day completion requirement.

Banas also pointed out that the College would lose a considerable amount of publicity if Houston McTear and the rest of the track squad were forced to hold their "home" meets elsewhere.

After stiff opposition from Athletic Director Don Hall, the Proposition was defeated by a vote of 6-1.

Ideally, the earliest that an event can be held at Cerritos is sometime in mid-March, hopefully before March 23, the date set for the Southern California J.C. Relays. The Falcons final "home" meet follows on March 31.

Without a blessing from Mother Nature, however, a realistic estimate for completion would be sometime in April. Future rainstorms could make the construction crews work overtime in order to have the track ready before the Muhammed Ali Invitational in May.

Not having a track to run on is only part of the problem that will prevent McTear from suiting up for Cerritos very often, however.

McTear, world record holder in the 60 yard dash, 60 and 100 Meters has made prior commitments through the Muhammed Ali Track Club.

On February 24, Houston will be in New York for the National A.A.U. Indoor Invitational attempting to qualify for the World Cup Indoor Games in Italy on March 12-13.

McTear will be able to run for Cerritos on March 3 against Fullerton at a site to be announced. He should also be available for the March 23 So. Cal. Relays and future meets which would place him in the State Meet on May 27 at Bakersfield.

Apparently Mother Nature does not favor the spring sports program here at Cerritos.

Recent rain has forced the cancellation of nearly every season debut from this semester's teams.

The annual Casey Stengel Baseball Tournament scheduled for Feb. 9-11 at Cerritos was cancelled, as were contests with Pasadena and Rio Hondo.

The Women's softball team didn't fare much better, as the rain spoiled coach Nancy Kelly's Round Robin Invitational Tournament on Feb. 10.

The 1978 Falcon track teams opening appearance at Rio Hondo was postponed due to bad drainage of the Roadrunners track.

Rain also put a halt to Cerritos' golf and tennis schedules. Both squads are hoping to field teams this week.

Matmen take 8th place

By STEVE EAMES
TM Associate Editor

In sharp contrast to their impressive performances at previous tournaments this year, the Cerritos College wrestling team finally became a part of the crowd by finishing eighth at the California Community College Wrestling Championships earlier this month.

Fifteen-year head coach Hal Simonek described his wrestlers' performance at the state tourney Feb. 10-11 as "average."

"We wrestled on the level of the average team there instead of wrestling on our own level," he said. "It's no fun being a part of the crowd when you're used to being among the cream of the crop."

Top-ranked Palomar College dethroned El Camino College with 89½ points for the state title while Chabot College finished second with 74 points. El Camino was third at 53½ points. The Falcons' 38½ points placed them eighth behind Fresno (46½), Rio Hondo (46), Bakersfield (43½) and Ohlone (43½).

The Falcons took first place honors at the Santa Ana, Palomar, South Coast Conference and Southern California tournaments. In addition, they finished second to Palomar at the Southwestern and San Luis Obispo tournaments.

Individually the Falcons fared no better than they did as a team. Dave Suarez (118 pounds) was Cerritos' only championship qualifier with a second place effort. Ed Delgado (134½ pounds), Mike Couch (167 pounds) and Jon Ili (190 pounds) finished sixth in their 16-man divisions.

"A lot of things happened to us during the tournament which caused us to falter," Simonek said, who led his 1972 squad to a state title. "First of all we went into it with injuries we hadn't gotten over and secondly we came out with a couple of new ones. Also, we might have been riding a little too high emotionally after winning our regionals and I wasn't particularly pleased with our seedings in some of the brackets," he said.

"Still I'd have to say our team did a good job. They didn't lose to anybody without staying right with them to the end," he concluded.

Falcon forward Gregg Riphagen is shown reaching for two of his 18 points against Mt. SAC on Saturday. In the middle of a heated fight for the league title, the team hosts San Diego Mesa on Cerritos hardwood tonight at 7:30. —TM Photos by TOM GRAY

PIRATES VS FALCONS

The Falcons basketball team travels to Orange Coast College Feb. 25 to play the Pirates. Tip-off time is 7:30 p.m. Admission is free with I.D. card and maps are available in the student activities office.

Intramurals for students

A new intramural athletic program has been developed in an attempt to make use of all Cerritos' athletic facilities by getting students and faculty involved in athletic competition regardless of ability.

Intramural athletics involves competition between teams comprised of persons from the same school. Cerritos has had similar programs in the past and the results have been favorable.

Several sports have been slated for the spring semester. Beginning Feb. 28, any Cerritos student will be able to compete in either men's basketball, jogging, weight training, co-ed bowling, or co-ed tennis.

The second half of the program, starting after Easter, will include such sports as racquetball, softball, co-ed volleyball, badminton, and possibly swimming.

Rhea Gram, co-ordinator of the program, has high hopes for the activity. "From what we had before I expect a large turnout. Intramural athletics is probably the most valuable of all types of physical activity on campus as it provides something for everybody," she said.

All activities with the exception of bowling will take place on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 11-12 and are absolutely free. Bowlers will compete on Thursdays only and the cost will be $2.50 per person for a three game series.

Athletes who are competing for Cerritos College in Interscholastic competition are not allowed to compete in their sport, but can compete in any other.

Clubs are invited to sign up as a team. Individuals who sign up will be placed on a team at random. Students

Women's softball

Coming off two impressive victories, the 1978 women's softball team will play Moorpark today here at Cerritos.

or faculty can sign up as a group to insure a placement on the same team if possible.

Sign-ups begin tomorrow, Feb. 23 in the P.E. building or gymnasium.

Basketball teams will compete in the gym, and racquetball participants will be able to use the indoor facilities. Tennis players will be involved in round-robin tournaments and will be able to compete in the Kodol-Polyester tournament later in the semester. All officials will most likely be chosen from the sports officiating classes.

At the end of the program there will be trophies and awards to all of the winners.

It is very possible that the program could become a permanent part of Cerritos Athletics. "The Administration definitely feels it should be a part of campus life," says Gram.

Any questions, along with suggestions for other sports, can be taken care of by calling Gram at Ext. 267.

Mazzota named new head coach

By JOHN ALLISON
TM Sports Editor

Frank Mazzota has been named the new Cerritos head Football coach.

The announcement from a special meeting of the Board of Trustees on Tuesday, Jan. 31, came after Mazzota and two other current assistant coaches were interviewed by the same Board that had relieved former head coach Ernie Johnson of his position in December.

At their regular January 17 meeting, the Board decided to remain in the ranks of current coaches in picking someone to fill the vacancy rather than open up an additional coaching position and hire a coach from another school.

The 32 year old Mazzota became the Falcons' top man after spending just two years on the Cerritos coaching staff. In 1976, Mazzota gave up his head coaching job at Warren High School to assume a position as a line coach in addition to the head golf coaching assignment.

Also considered for the job were assistants George Massick and Frank Montero. Montero has assumed Mazzota's golfing assignment.

This is not the first time in Mazzota's coaching career that he has been faced with the task of turning a losing team into a winning one.

In his three year stay with the Warren High Bears, Mazzota turned a dismal prep team into strong contenders in the annually tough San Gabriel Valley League, and took a team into the CIF playoffs in 1974.

Mazzota is Cerritos' fifth head football coach since 1957. All but one of the former mentors are still at Cerritos.

Earl Klapstein, the first Cerritos head man, is now a college president in Northern California. Don Hall (1959-63) is the current athletic director. Carroll (Smokey) Cates and Ernie Johnson are current classroom instructors.

Mazzota now has six months before the opening of the 1978 season in which to turn Cerritos into a contender in the South Coast Conference. The Falcons' first contest is September 9 here at Cerritos.

Voters in the 'No' ...

With all of the great hubbub of expectation and hopes ... that the big number of candidates and the voter turnout total shows a healthy increase of interest in student government over that of last semester ... it's also time to throw in the bucket of cold water.

The newly-elected senators will face at the conclusion of this semester one of the student government's heaviest responsibilities: the perusal and approval of next year's associated student body budget.

Further, the student body-at-large will have the responsibility of electing next year's student body President and Vice-President.

The results of the recent senate elections illustrates brilliantly an old and classic sign in the problem of voting that the attention of both the senators and the voters should be drawn to.

There were two amendments on the ballot which were there for technical reasons only—because a two-thirds majority is required to change the student body constitution and by-laws.

The first proposed amendment would merely add to the requirements of the President and Vice-President that they be residents of the college district. On this proposal 16% of the voters voted "no."

Among the qualifications for any student government member is that they be a district resident to hold office.

The second proposed amendment would add to the duties of the President that he/she be a non-voting member of the Board of Trustees. Almost 25% of the voters said "no."

But it had already been made clear that Gov. Brown had last year signed this measure into law, making it mandatory. A quarter of the voters voted that we break the law.

In addition, the President of the student body has been serving as a non-voting member of the Board of Trustees at Cerritos for the last several years anyway.

Proposal number two would only make it official by putting it in the book ... and conforming to the law.

The message should be clear by now—that too many people vote on proposals without even taking time to find out what the proposal is.

It is an old and current problem—and the only thing that can be said is, "God help us if anyone ever gets the wrong proposal before us."

With next year's annual budget to be approved, and the election of the new president and vice-president still before us, it is time we take a good look at things.

The prospects are too sobering.

President Michael

Grievance Policy offers relief

By RICH GOUL
TM Staff Writer

Students who feel that they are a victim of "any act depriving them of any rights set forth in the statement of Student Rights and Responsibilities or any act conflicting with the California Educational Code" may seek rectifying action through the Student Grievance Policy.

The Policy is outlined in the Cerritos College Student Handbook and executed by the ASCC Court, located in the Student Activities Office adjacent to the bookstore.

The Board-approved Student Rights and Responsibilities statement requires that "the professor in the classroom and in conference should permit free discussion, inquiry, and expression of thought ...

As you enter his office, he meets you with a warm smile and a friendly greeting. The atmosphere is calm and relaxed, despite the overflow of paperwork on his desk.

He could be anyone—a college counselor, a successful businessman, a skilled politician—but the pieces begin to fit together. As Superintendent-President of Cerritos College, Dr. Wilford Michael wears all three hats—and many more.

In his college days, the thought of becoming a school administrator never crossed his mind. "I wanted to be a math teacher or go into engineering," says Dr. Michael, and his school curriculum was geared to just that.

He received an Associate in Arts degree from Chaffey Junior College in 1941, and followed on to LaVerne College for a B.A. in Education and Math in 1943.

After a long interlude, Dr. Michael continued on to Paramount Graduate School, obtaining a Masters degree in Curriculum in 1957. Finally in 1971, he received a Ph.D. in Educational Administration from UCLA.

Dr. Michael began his career at Cerritos six years ago as Assistant Superintendent of Business, and was asked to take over his present position in 1973.

"There's always something to do," says Michael. On a typical work day he usually arrives in his office between 7:30-8:00 a.m., facing a stream of appointments and dealing with the day-to-day problems of a top administrator.

"I have to look at it (Cerritos) from a total standpoint," says President Michael. "I'm the one who usually says we need a little more here or a little less there."

In his position, Dr. Michael finds it hard to set aside the time to pursue his sports interests of tennis, golf, and bowling, along with attending Cerritos-related functions.

"I would like to be involved more than I am," he says, although he usually tries to attend as many Cerritos activities as possible.

Dr. Michael lives in Santa Ana with his wife, Jean. They have two daughters—one, a 23-year-old chemistry major working as a research technician for Union 76; and the other, 26, is married and works as a nurse in Salinas.

Though his position often removes him from the teacher-student type relationship, President Michael has a genuine concern for the overall welfare of students at Cerritos, stating that over 40 percent of them have undeclared majors and don't know where they're going.

"I wish more students would use our Career Center," he says. His concern for the "perennial" student is not only because it's costly to the taxpayers, but states, "Those are years of their life they won't get back again."

As president and superintendent of the district, Dr. Michael has a two-fold responsibility: The college and the taxpayers of the community.

Cerritos is in the Public Educational System of California, and according to Michael, must answer to a State agency governed by a local board of trustees.

"I think a local board elected by the people serves the needs of the community better," Michael states, and adds that there is "very good support in our community for our college."

With respect to campus issues, Dr. Michael has his own definite set of opinions.

On the recent counseling issue he remarks, "I'm very anxious to see what the students say on this," and feels that "Counselors don't have to know everything, they should just know where to find it. For the most part, we have capable counselors."

In addition, Dr. Michael feels that recruitment of students at Cerritos is a major area of concern. He says, "I think we have to do a better job of recruitment ... to tell everyone what's available here."

According to President Michael, a third of the students enrolled at Cerritos leave, and a major issue requiring consideration is, "How do we retain students once we get them here?"

In the future, Dr. Michael would like to see additional facilities for students, updated courses of study, and recognizes the need for another gym due to the growth of the women's athletic program.

"We have many facilities and activities here," said Michael. "People should get out and see plays, sports, movies, etc. I would like to see a lot more out to sporting events."

It's evident that President Michael has definitely thrown all his hats in the ring for Cerritos College.

WILLER A-WAY

By MARTIEAL WILLER

A 'lost child' passing the buck

CHANGING OF THE GUARD—Talon Marks has a new editor-in-chief. Congratulations, Tim Carter, and the best to you.

Stepping down from that prestigious position makes one feel like a lost child!

Learning how to be a "normal" staff member again without that mountain of responsibility will be difficult, but I'm giving it the ol' college try.

What's really nice is that my new sign now reads something about the buck not stopping here ...

KEEPING IT GOING—Student activities conducted another well-organized and successful spring leadership conference (the 15th annual) at the world famous Vacation Village Hotel scene in Mission Bay, San Diego.

The conference is considered a working extension of the campus activities program where ideas are formulated for successful operation of the upcoming semester.

In the away-from-campus setting, friendships are formed and a feeling of closeness is generated between students, faculty and administrators that seems to linger all semester.

We need that.

A McTEAR CHEER—Recently caught the NBC Sports World, a weekly series that highlights a wide variety of sports. At one point the program keyed on the Muhammad Ali track meet held in Long Beach.

It was good to see our own World's fastest human, Houston McTear, cross the finish line. That young man does run!

And with an air of confidence. We've all got it—it just may be buried among mounds of "I don't know if I can."

Houston, of course, has set a few more world records lately.

He says it takes hard work.

Funny how often that pays off ...

KING TUT TIME—I was recently privileged to attend the press day pre-opening for writers and photographers of the highly publicized Treasures of Tutankhamun exhibit at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

Because of the need to provide strict control of temperature and humidity within each case, photographers were not allowed to use flash or lighting of any kind when photographing the priceless and irreplaceable treasures displayed in an almost pitch black room. (So all photographers great and mediocre worked under the same handicap.)

It was exciting to rub elbows with and watch men and women work who are the ultimate in success in a field for which you are struggling to one day make it.

Discounting the commercialism attached (which of course, is one reason the exhibit is here) to the collection of ancient Egyptian art on loan from the Cairo Museum, the display from the tomb of a boy-king who ruled over 3,000 years ago is magnificent.

If you get a chance to pay the museum a visit, do attempt to secure a copy of the available fact sheet and the list of 55 objects displayed. You'll be more knowledgeable of the items on display and will enjoy it much, much more.

Otherwise, even if you look more, you'll enjoy it less.

BOOK LOOK—Was talking with Dave Ruston of the bookstore the other day. He remarked that often when students who are obviously looking for something in the store are approached with, "May I help you?" will reply, "No, thanks, I'm just looking for a book."

Think about that one.

GOLF GUFF—My husband and son went to see Jack Nicklaus—and winner Dr. Gil Morgan—play golf in the L.A. Open Sunday afternoon.

I stayed home and studied. Which, I hesitate to say it—is about par for the course for me these student days ...

Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those people who work in the Reading Center.

When I matriculated to this college in 1976, I had a great problem. I could hardly spell or comprehend my reading. I was recommended to take English 53. So I took the class for a year and a half.

Now I am ready for anything; at least I can fill out applications for jobs.

I would like to thank the administration of Cerritos College for an outstanding selection of highly talented and qualified instructors.

And many thanks to Robert Renteria, Mary Loya, and Mrs. Kopcho. I appreciate the totally professional manner they have used toward the student, even when they were under extreme stress.

Once again, thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Fawwaz Nabulsi

NEW EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Tim Carter heads spring staff

New Spring semester editor-in-chief of the Talon Marks is award-winning writer Tim Carter who moved up from the fall news editor spot.

Carter, a sophomore Journalism major who graduated from Warren High, takes over the editorial reins from Martieal Willer who has been appointed editor of the spring edition of Wings, campus feature magazine.

Willer, who holds the distinction as the first grandmother ever to edit either Talon Marks or Wings, will continue on the newspaper staff. She has been named Production Manager of the offset weekly, a position which has executive editor status with a vote on the editorial board. She will also be a regular columnist writing under the standing head of "Willer A-way."

Joining Carter, a resident of Downey, in Associate Editor posts are Sue Paulino of Downey and Steve Eames of Norwalk. A Warren High grad, Paulino was Campus Editor last semester. John Glenn High product Eames served as Sports Editor.

Coy Stewart of Norwalk will serve as Editorial Editor.

Phyllis Davenport of Downey and Downey High, former Features Editor, has been named News Editor and is responsible for the front page of the award-winning campus paper.

Marguerite Koster, a Cerritos resident, is the spring Features Editor. John Allison of Downey is the new Sports Editor. He attended Warren.

Chief Photographer Sean Mullin of La Mirada is a graduate of St. Paul High School.

The new editor was active in journalism at West Junior High where he was editor in chief of "Scroll." Last year he was named "Most Outstanding New Journalist" at Cerritos.

Carter has won several state wide awards for feature writing, news writing, editorials, and makeup. In December he won first place in editorial writing at the southern conference of the Journalism Association of Community Colleges.

Active in a variety of activities both on and off campus, Carter was president last semester of Beta Phi Gamma, campus chapter of the national journalism honorary.

Carter said he plans no major shifts in the editorial thrust of the Talon Marks. "We want to broaden our coverage as much as possible, and cover the campus thoroughly," Carter said.

The editor said the newspaper should be a meaningful channel of communication and information for the entire college community.

"Our responsibility is to report what's happening," he said, "in a fair and professional manner. We did just that when Martieal was editor, and we expect to continue the same straightforward academic and professional approach."

Carter especially praised his staff and editorial board, calling it a "dedicated and experienced crew that means business when it comes to learning and practicing responsible journalism."

Advisor to both the Talon Marks and Wings is C. Thomas Nelson, professor and chairman of the Department of Journalism.

Nelson said Carter was picked for the top student job from four outstanding candidates who made up the strongest slate of editor-in-chief hopefuls in years.

Editor Carter emphasized that TM is anxious to be of whatever service it can to its college public. "Feel free to call, drop by, or write us with any suggestions or ideas you might have," he said.

Editor Carter
