Talon Marks

Named No. 1 in California by JACC 1975-76, 77-78-

Volume XXIV No. 22

Cerritos College • 11110 E, Alondra Blvd. • Norwalk, CA 90650

Wednesday, May 27, 1981

Candidates campaign 'religiously'

TM Staff Writer

That religion and politics don't mix may be demonstrated anew in the laboratory of today's student body presidential election, student senators have warned.

In spite of Russ Wood's plea, "Don't let religion be an issue," before a mere 18 of his fellow senators at a previous ASCC senate meeting "ugly rumors have persisted," observers claim.

Wood, last year's student body president and current campaign manager for presidential hopeful Steve Gray, actually took the floor in behalf of candidate Craig Georgiana—the subject of the rumors and a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, (Mor-

Stephanie Lopez, the third candidate in the race also opposed "interjecting church-related matters into

"Look at the issues rather than people's religion," she stressed. Lopez is a long-time campus political activist who, according to her campaign manager, Ken Clapp, is deeply religious herself.

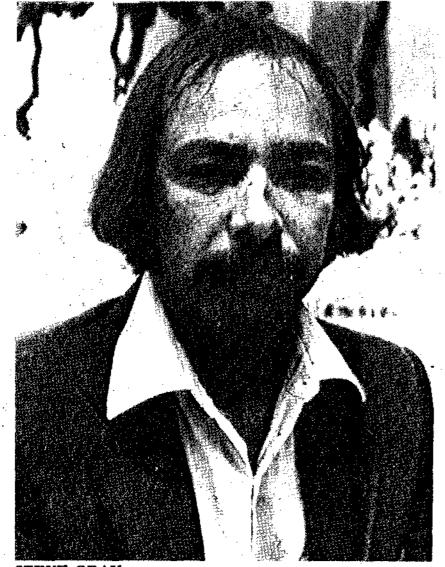

Georgiana, the 26-year-old Downey student his fellow senators sought to defend, is also no novice in the Cerritos political circus. As president pro tem, he lost to Stuart Hayden by only 33 votes in last election's run-off. Georgianna has been a senator since

Nor are the rumored "accusations" which Wood outlined new-that as a Mormon Georgiana would select an all-Mormon cabinet and seek to "outlaw" cokes, coffee and cigarettes on campus, items said to be prohibited to LDS members.

Twenty percent of Cerritos' duly elected student body presidents to date have been Mormons, and several have faced similar charges during campaigns, some as far back as 1971.

Wood urged fellow senators to stop "the big lie"being circulated again this year.

Georgianna, Gray in prexy showdown

STEVE GRAY

CRAIG GEORGIANNA

By DAISY WARMAN

Cerritos College students will be

Senator Rick Little professed to eat" Polynesian Luau Buffet. (Continued on Page 2) Punchtails will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Outstanding students to receive awards recognized for their outstanding contributions to the school at the annual Spring Awards Banquet at the Golden Sails Inn on June 5 at 7 p.m.

TM Staff Writer

The dinner will be an "all-you-can-

Researchers may prove to be ones for the books

By BARBARA KENT TM Staff Writer

Students doing research may find themselves living in the library the last weeks of school.

The Cerritos College Learning Materials Center is located symbolically near the center of the cam-

It contains circulating books, reference books, pamphlets, magazine and newspaper subscriptions and microfilm in an open stack arrangement.

Located in the library is a card catalogue - an alphabetical file of index cards arranged by author, title and subject of every book in the

Each card lists the author's name and birthdate, the book title, the publisher, place and date of publication and the number of pages in the books.

The cataloguer determines the subject covered by the book and gives it a classmark based either on the Dewey decimal system or the Library of Congress system. The classmark is located in the upper left or right corner of the card.

The Cerritos College library uses the Library of Congress system which uses the letters of the alphabet to divide information into 20 categories. The letters I, O, W, X and Y are not used; the letters E and F are both used for American history.

The book stacks are classified by letter. A student finds the letter in either corner of the catalog card, then locates the book in the stack designated by the same letter.

The reference room is located on the main floor and contains books as complete as possible in all fields of study. These are available for use only in the library.

The periodical room on the third (Continued on Page 2) The cost is $7 for award recipients, $10 for other ASCC members and $13 for all guests.

A variety of awards will be issued including recognition in such areas as Pep Squad, Man and Woman of the Year, Journalism, Newsmaker of the Year, Co-Rec and Forensics.

students most outstanding in service. and participation in programs sponsored by the ASCC. These students must show leadership, scholarship and personal integrity. Full-time students who have received three Gold Falcons will be eligible for the Presidents Award.

The Silver Falcon is awarded to full-time students who are out-standing in leadership, service and participation in programs sponsored by the ASCC.

Bronze Falcons will be given to fulltime students who excel in service in a program or programs sponsored by the ASCC.

Part-time and full-time Service Certificates will also be awarded to several students participating in a program(s) sponsored by the ASCC.

Serving on this year's Awards Committee are chairman Stuart Hayden, Barry Hankins, Russ Duren, Jim Williams, Linda Kleven, Gary Kendall, Kerwin Mandella, Andy Mendizabal, Kathy Rogers, Robert Buniel, Karen Aulis, Jim Lowe, Mary Kachelmeyer and Fred Goff.

An inspirational speech will be given by Katie Nordback of the Board of Trustees.

Hiroshima blows up in promoters' faces

Cerritos College, who has been entertained by such top performers as Gordon Lightfoot, Dave Mason, Linda Ronstadt and Cheech & Chong, recently lost the chance to book Hiroshima.

'We'd have loved to play for Cerritos," said Hiroshima managei John Kuramoto, "but things just didn't work out.'

A few months ago the Cerritos College Photo Club, Korean Club and Filipino Club, along with the Asian and Friends Club of Cypress College decided to try and sponsor a concert

Dance concert to get in swing

The annual Cerritos College Spring Dance Concert will be held May 29-30 in the Burnight Center.

Performances are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and tickets are $2 for Cerritos students with current semester I.D. and $4 for general ad-

The dances will be performed by teachers and students in the program and will feature a special "celebration" in conjunction with the school's 25th anniversary.

at Cerritos College. They selected Hiroshima, a nine piece fusian rock band, complete with a geisha girl, to perform on the evening of May 18. Club members first approached

Norm Price, Coordinator of Student (Continued on Page 2)

Today final test in ASCC race

By MICHELE WALTON and JANE BROCK

The run-off elections for next year's

ASCC president concludes today. After falling just 15 votes short from the 50 percent plus-one vote required to take the election in last week's primary, Craig Georgianna and running mate Jeff Barr are pitted against second runner-up Steve Gray, and his running mate Robert Buniel.

Last week's election yielded 627 votes for Georgianna, 344 votes for Gray, and 311 votes for Stephanie Lopez and Sandy Klevin.

While Georgianna professes to have the election "all sewn up," challengers Gray and Buniel have indicated that the run-off will be a whole new ball game.

The polls will be open until 2:30 p.m., and will open again from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m.

Voting booths are located near the Elbow Room, the Health Science Building and in the area outside the Student Center and Coffee Shop.

Students may be either full or parttime, but must show a current semester I.D. card with an ASCC sticker to vote.

. The ballots will be counted tonight after 9 p.m. and the results will be posted immediately in the window of the Student Activities office.

Ballots will be counted by election clerks-non-students from the community who also man the polling booths- and members of the ASCC Court who compose the elections

All's quiet on Veteran front

The Veterans Affairs Office at Cerritos College would like to assure the over 1000 veteran students that they will be certified for summer and fall classes.

However every veteran must be verified and remember to follow the rules as set by the Veterans Affairs Office:

Tutoring still available for last minute efforts

TM Staff Writer

You say you've missed the 12-week drop date, and your instructor refuses to drop you from his class?

Or maybe you're earning a "B" and would like an "A".

Is that what's bothering you? Well, fear not, there is still time to apply for a tutor.

Bob Renteria, Director of Tutorial Services, reminds students that Cerritos College has 118 student tutors available in all subjects and their services are free to all students.

Students who seek additional help in a particular subject may contact tutors at the state and university level, according to Renteria.

Tutorial services is located in the east side of the library and tutors are available within three days.

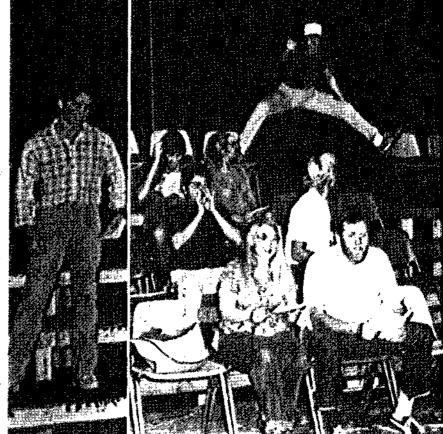

A student may request a tutor to assist him during class with the instructor's approval. In addition, tutoring facilities are available for those who need only on-the-spot help.

Although this is a particularly busy time for tutors, Renteria explains the tutoring services are hectic all year

Ten hours of tutoring are free and students who request help after the allotted 10 hours, may do so only at the instructor's as well as the tutor's

There is help available for those who seek it. And there's still time.

'Bleacher Bums' ends weekend run This year's banquet is a part of the 25th Silver Anniversary Celebration.

TM Staff Writer

Tickets are available for Bleacher

The performance runs May 27-30 and seats are $5 for Friday and Saturday nights, $4 for Wednesday and Thursday productions. Students and senior citizens are half price.

The scene which takes place in the bleachers of a baseball game, Chicago Cubs vs St. Louis Cardinals. encourages audience participation.

The characters, in order of appearance, are Dana Anderson as "The Kid," Maggie Regaldo as Rose, Monique Van Borstel as Melody King, Armando DiLorenzo as Greg, Jim Asolas as Zig, Stuart B. Schreiber as Decker, Mike Gutierrez as Richle, Don Westerdale as Marvin, Steve Bernier as the Cheerleader and Anna Emmi as the vendor.

"Bleacher Bums" was conceived by Joe Mantegna and written by the Organic Theatre Company.

William Schriener directed the CC production.

Scenic design was done by Scott Nielsen, lighting is done by Mike O'Neal, Marguerite Van Der Hoek is costume designer and Bradford Williams is sound designer.

Reasonable injustices remedied

By BARBARA HAGUE TM Staff Writer

The Cerritos College Grievance policy is designed to help students resolve "reasonable injustices" they feel have been done to them by a faculty member or an administrator.

Grievances cannot be filed by a student against another student or by a student against an employee other than academic personnel.

To file a grievance, a student submits a form to the Dean of Student Activities. But before an informal grievance is filed, the students must be sure that an "overt injustice" has been committed and must have a student feels will remedy the "On the average, there are 10 to 12 solution or resolution in mind that the grievances filed each year," according to Dean of Student Activities Richard Robinson. Of these, 75% are solved in the informal process.

The informal process includes meeting with the persons involved. If the problem still is not resolved, then a discussion of the situation should take place with the person(s) at the lowest level of authority directly above the person at which the complaint is directed.

If the student feels that the grievance still hasn't been resolved, then an informal written complaint is submitted to the Dean of Student Activities. The ASCC Supreme Court Chief Justice or Court Designee shall attempt to resolve the problem through informal meeting and discussion among all parties involved. If the problem is still not resolved after 10 school days, a formal grievance hearing may be implemented.

The formal process includes a meeting of the Student Grievance Hearing Committee which will be composed of the ASCC Supreme Court Chief Justice or Court Designee; one ASCC Senate member, chosen by a majority of the senate; Vice-President of Instruction or an administrative designee; Faculty Vicechairman or senate designee; and one Faculty Senate member, chosen by a majority of the senate.

All proceedings are confidential, except when both parties agree to a public hearing.

"Most colleges have an academic appeals system . . ." states Robinson. It is similar to the federal court system. If necessary, the case can be appealed all the way to the Board of Religion

(Continued from Page 1) know who had started the rumors, but declined to say who it was.

"The rumors are totally preposterous," Georgiana stated, responding to the news.

"I believe in respecting people for what they are. I don't want to push my views on anyone," the candidate

Although LDS Club members made up the strongest voting block in this semester's senate, Georgiana said they've voted unanimously only once. He stressed that each was "a free agent" despite club and church affiliation.

In other action last week, the ASCC senators chose to ease requirements for recipients of ASCC Presidential awards. Outstanding part-time students may also be considered for this honor as of next semester.

There was a strong reversal of attitudes on the hotly debated 6-unit prerequisite for casting students in campus theatre productions.

According to Senator Lopez, after attending an open meeting on Fine Arts and Music with department heads, several senators were convinced that the benefits of working sideby-side with hired professionals far outweighed the supposed discrimination involved.

"But we've sent them a message," Lopez concluded.

level contains magazines and other periodical literature. Subjects are listed in the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature. The student must look up the subject to find titles and dates of magazines that contain pertinent articles. The librarian checks to see if the magazine is on file. Periodical materials may not be

The Reserve Book Room, near the circulation area, permits students to check out demand materials for

The library also provides several typewriters for patron use in three areas of the building. Photocopiers are located on both floors for self-

Handicapped students have easy limited periods of time.

service copying.

(Continued from Page 1)

checked out.

Researchers

COFFEE, TEA, OR . . .? Passengers of the new Falcon Flight Restaurant

by students in Thomas Back's Food

-TM Photo by WILLY SANTOS

All aboard — 'Falcon Flight' set for take-off

TM Assoc. News Editor

"Aloha! and welcome aboard the Falcon Flight Restaurant. We hope you enjoy your flight to Hawaii."

'Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. supervised by Flight Director-Chef Thomas Back and his Cerritos College Food Service class. Flights will be departing three times weekly, May 26, 27, 28, and June 2, 3, and 4.

"This class project," says student Susan Bjork is a learning experience for us all; we should know what it's like to plan and run a restaurant when we are through."

"The purpose is not to make money; we only hope to break even," explained Susan.

Through audio visual effects the diners will travel to Hawaii on the Falcon Flight and will be treated with a delicious menu of Beef Bourguignone, steak sandwiches, baked red snapper, salads, soups and special desserts baked by Rudy ing students.

We will be able to serve at least 50 at a time," says Susan Bjork, "we have sent out over 1,200 fliers to the community and we expect a large crowd." "Local newspapers and restaurant critics have also been invited," she

The entire project, cooking the food and serving the patrons will be handled by the Food Service class under the direction of Theresa Panella:

The students participating are Dave Witt, Lisa Willis, James Wells, Samuel Reed, Theresa Ramos, Larry Natividad, Leslie Moore, Michael Marino, Donna Kulleck, Bart Jones, Douglas La Fontaine, John Easley, Daryl Cruciua and Susan Bjork.

"This is the first time in five years we have opened up a restaurant on campus," says Chef Thomas Back. "I know the students will gain valuable experience and we hope the diners will enjoy the good cooking and service we will provide."

Hiroshima 'bombs'

(Continued from Page 1)

Activities, for advice on how to put the concert on. According to Photo Club president Paul Morris, Price stated, "I will not help you, but I'll \ tell you how to do it.'

access via ramps and elevator. An electric typewriter, a page turning machine, a print magnification television viewer and large print books are among services provided for the visually and physically han-

The Independent Study Center, in the lower level of the Learning

Materials Centers, contains more than 1000 audio and video tapes, filmstrips, slides and other media

Also available are self-service

All areas of the Learning Materials

Center are open Monday through Thursday 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Fri-cassette duplicators for reproduction materials for student use.

of college owned tapes.

day 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

dicapped.

Morris said Price went on to say that the concert could take place in the gym because it had the largest to 4000 people. The stadium was ruled out because of electrical problems that could develop in having the concert outdoors. Asked if the gym would have sufficient power to meet the group's electrical requirements, Price noted that concerts had been performed in seating capacity and could house up

It was later determined that the gym would not have sufficient power to meet Hiroshima's needs, but lack of power wasn't the only obstacle. with putting on the concert

the gym before and that there had

One provision in the Hiroshima contract called for the delivery of a case of Heineken beer and a bottle of Crown Royal whiskey to be dis-

MASCOT TRY-OUTS

been enough power.

Try-outs for Freddy and Freida Falcon will be held June 6 from 4-6 p.m. Practices began yesterday and another practice session is scheduled for next Tuesday from 4-6 p.m. in AC tributed among band members during the show. When asked about this clause in the agreement, Filipino Club president Robert Buniel remarked, "Obviously the negotiators didn't talk to us about Buniel felt the main problems with getting the concert were "misunderstandings," lack of time, lack of money and the possibilities of risks. All the hard work we (the clubs) put in would not pay off."

Dean of Student Activities Dick Robinson said, "The College was never committed to this concert." He went on to say, "The Clubs didn't get legally involved because they never signed a contract."

Harrison Hamada, chief negotiator for the clubs, says he feels his reputation has been damaged by the Hiroshima concert that never was. He remarked, "Your school is fairly safe from being sued because I have taken most of the blows."

While Price declined to comment on this matter, Bunlel summed up what seemed to be the general feeling of those people involved, "It is a big headache to try to put on a concert."

Plea rejected to fly flag here at half-mast

By KIMBERLY BEAUDRY TM Staff Writer

A request by the Compton Unified School District asking Cerritos College to lower their flag to halfmast in sympathy with the slain Atlanta children was rejected by Cerritos College President Wilford Michael.

Although the Board has no policy established on flying the flag of the United States at half-staff, certain guidelines have been developed, Dr. Michael said.

"The flag has to be held in very high regard. If you start lowering it everytime someone requests, the significance is gone," states Michael. "Many times special groups desire recognition for an individual or a cause, but not all situations merit the flag being lowered."

Dr. Michael says he greatly sympathizes with the slain Atlanta children and their familles but, "murders go on all the time and we can't lower the flag for all of them. We didn't lower the flag for the Freeway killings or any other slayings."

He continued, "The thing unique about the Atlanta murders is that all the victims were black. It's terrible that we can send men up in a space shuttle, but not be able to pin this thing down."

Dr. Michael says he feels there are no bad feelings between Cerritos College and the Compton Unified School District. "We try to honor each other's wishes," he commented.

Compton School District Board of Trustees member Saul Lankster says he harbors no ill feelings toward Dr. Michael and the Cerritos College Board.

Lankster, who made the appeal to Dr. Michael, said, "I feel that Cerritos is concerned and whatever policy that prohibits the request is to be noted. I'm not offended by them doing so and I respect the Board policy."

He continued to say the proposal "was not an act of the school board. It was an individual act on my part, out of my own frustration."

ONLY THE ARMY OFFERS YOU $9,200 FOR COLLEGE WITH JUST A TWO-YEAR

If you'd rather start college with the money to pay for it than finish college in debt, it could pay you to consider two years in the Army.

If you participate in the Veterans' Educational Assistance Program (VEAP), the money you save for college is matched two-for-one by the government. Then, if you qualify, only the Army will add up to $2,000 on top of that.
That's $9,200 in just two years. Only the Army offers it.

Call: MSG Greenleaf 924-3897

THE ARMY COLLEGE BENEFITS Per Mo. 2 Yrs. 3 Yrs. 4 Yrs. $100 $2.400 $2.700* $2,700

Gov't Adds 2-for-1: $200 , $4,800 $5,400 $5,400 Total: $ ኢኢን $7,200 $8,100 $8,100 Army Adds: $2,000 $4,000 $6,000

Maximum individual contribution in the program. *Certain 4-year collistments can get you as much as $19,100 for college

Total Benefits: $9,200 $12,100 $14,100*

ARMY. BE ALLYOU CAN BE.

I.D.'s

WHILE-U-WAIT!

ALL STATES

ALL OCCASIONS

10% OFF CUSTOM LAMINATED WOODEN PLAQUES DIPLOMAS DOCUMENTS PHOTOS AWARDS

PASSPORT PHOTOS

HAVE YOUR DOCUMENTS OR PHOTOS REDUCED TO A WALLET SIZE GIANT POSTER 20" x 24" IN ONE MINUTE

LAMINATION

 ART PROJECTS DIPLOMAS/AWARDS •NEWS CLIPPINGS-

E.Z. LAMINATING 71598 KATELLA AV STANTON, CA 90680

714-827-1482

GRAND REOPENING

NORWALK A&W - 10951 ALONDRA BOULEVARD

The Norwalk A&W Invites You to Come by and See How We've Remodeled

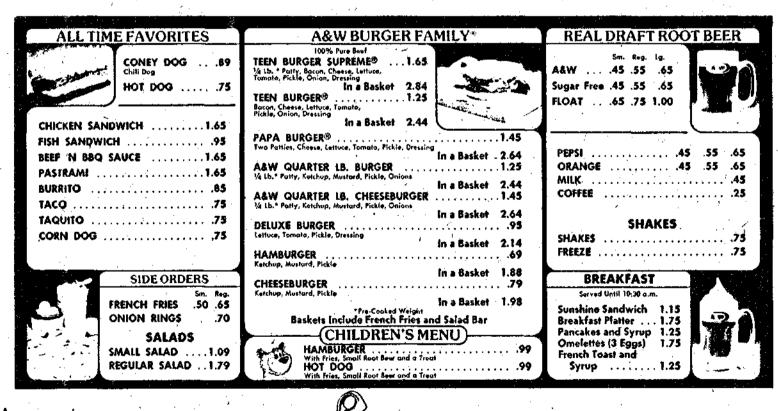

- . FRESH SALAD BAR
- COMFORTABLE INDOOR SEATING
- NEW BREAKFAST MENU
- . DRIVE THRU WINDOW

CELEBRATE WITH US SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, MAY 30 AND 31, 1981

Great "Root Bear" Visit!

Prizes, Balloons and a FREE Raffle for a Beach Cruiser Bicycle!

RIBBON CUTTING CEREMONY SATURDAY AT 10 A.M.

Falcon elite honored June 3

TM Staff Writer

The second Annual Academic Excellence Award Presentation will honor 44 Cerritos College students June 3 at Burnight Center.

The recipients were chosen on the basis of a 3.5 or higher GPA, a minimum of 45 completed units with 35 of them at Cerritos, nine units in the area of recognition, and a teacher recommendation.

To be eligible for the award, a student does not need to be enrolled full time.

"It is based on units to give part time students as much recognition as full time students," stated Dr. Edward Bloomfield college coordinator for academic recognition.

Out of the 44 being honored, Michael T. Salman will receive the award for the second year.

Salman, last year's winner in microbiology, is this year's recipient in zoology and business departments.

There are no limitations regarding how many times a student may qualify for the academic excellence award, however, they may not receive it twice in the same field.

The reason students don't generally qualify for the award, according to Bloomfield, is the requirement to complete nine units in their honored

Therefore, Salman's award is even more of an accomplishment. Attending the ceremony will be students, faculty and family.

Sharon Whelan, assistant professor in Political Science, will speak. Louise Hastings, president of the Cerritos College Board of Trustees, will present the closing remarks.

The Southern California Flute Organization will also perform various selections.

Alpha Gamma Sigma will provide the host and hostesses.

The academic excellence awards began last year when Bloomfield started searching for ways to acknowledge scholastic achievements.

Some 50 students are honored with an engraved plaque from the Cerritos College Foundation.

Award recipients this year are: Mary Teresa Archuleta Cosmetology, Debbie Beardsall-Data Processing Programmer Analyst, Jill Blevins-Economics, Lois Boland-Special Education Assistant, Susan Boulden-Court Reporting, Carol Brock Associate Degree Nursing,

Lisa Brown-Physical Therapist Assistant, Joan Brunner-Vocational Nursing, Rachel G. Carino-Drafting and Design, Carolyn Sue Centoni-Early Childhood Education, Barbara Coddington-Dental Hygiene, Tom Joseph Espinoza-Political Science,

Paulette A. Fritz-Psychology, Darlene Garcia-Office Services, Yolanda Garcia-Art/Fine Arts and Communications, Patricia Gardea-Bilingual Teacher Assistant, Eddy O. Hauschka-Chemistry and Physics, Agnes Rita Herbold English, Jonell Hickok-Real Estate, Annette Honda-Administrative Secretary, Dorothea S. Jacobs-Fine Arts, Dianne Jones-Business Administration, Larry C. Keller-Electronics Technician, Michael R. Kluck-Architecture, Roy R. Lenarth-Industrial Technology-Electronics Option, Joseph P. Lessen-Spanish, Carol Lynn Lewis-Pre-Architecture Sheila Linsenbigler-Data Processing Programmer, Marilyn Martel-Date Processing Operator, Loretta May-Management Personnel, Nicolas Melquiades-Foreign Language, Darielle Podoksik-Social Science, Manuela ReynaBilingual Education Transfer Program, Don P. Reynolds-Administration of Justice, Dana F. Richards, Jr.-Ornamental and Recreation, John Sims-History, Michelle Stephens-Legal Assisting, Anne L. Trigg-Business Secretary and Legal Assistant and Masami Yonetani Speech.

NO STATIC AT ALL-Following a Christian program "Positive Altertemporary shut down of campus radio native" sits in on a session with station KCEB, Jim Dunlap from Dominic Cortella and Steve Ruane.

alias "Scorpio." -TM Photo by WILLY SANTOS

lends hand to needy

By PAM MERGEN TM Staff Writer

Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS), is designed to supply educational grants to lowincome students attending Cerritos College.

According to Sylvia Diaz, assistant director of EOPS, qualified full-time students receive checks twice a semester to cover the cost of tuition fees, books, transportation and housing. The amount of money received varies according to individual needs, with a maximum of $850 per school year.

In addition, each student's instructors are contacted twice a semester for progress reports. Should difficulties with school arise, tutorial and counseling services are available.

Diaz states the program has "a very high retention rate" and there "are very few exceptions when students receive money and do not attend school." Those who do dropout are required to re-pay EOPS. Outreach worker Sylvia Bello

Receive $50-$150 in free Have a Princess House par-

Cail Jeri 860-5119.

100% FREE •Office

•Technical Industrial •Trainees

If you're looking for part-time work over the summer vacation or for that first permanent job after graduation call for help!

Help Services, Inc. 930211/2 E. Firestone Blvd. Downey, 90241 862-5167 recruits many of the students in the program from local high schools, some of whom are employed during the summer by EOPS to learn clerical and maintenance skills.

May 27, 1981 Page 3

To be qualified, students must have an average income no greater than $9,999 for a family of four with exceptions depending on the size of the Diaz adds that there is a great deal of "red tape involved and the student's entire financial situation must be reviewed". Each applicant must fill out 15 separate forms and wait three months for the application to be processed.

Diaz said approximately 500-600 persons apply to EOPS each year, and of these 150 students receive grants.

She also stressed that "EOPS is not an ethnic group." The emphasis is on income, not race.

Budget cuts are everywhere and EOPS is not exempted. Phil Rodriquez, director of EOPS explains, "we are beginning to experience some of the cuts brought about by Prop. 13. In 1981-1982 there will be no increases in our budget.'

Rodriquez is optimistic that there will be at least cost of living allowances. He stresses that the cuts will not effect most of the services EOPS supplies.

01981 California Milk Advisory Board

TYPING SERVICE

Fast/Efficient/Reliable/Reasonable. Call Sharon. Weekdays (213) 593-1504 Evenings (714) 846-6237

$

ATTENTION STUDENTS!!!!

GET A 10% DISCOUNT WITH THIS COUPON ON YOUR NEXT TERM PAPER.

CONTACT:

Linda at Sunshine's Secretarial Service - 860-3144

TOP QUALITY WORK AT REASONABLE PRICES $$$$$$$

FOR RENT

One bedroom w/kitchen privileges 925-1937 Near Palo Verde-Artesia.

ENERGIZE

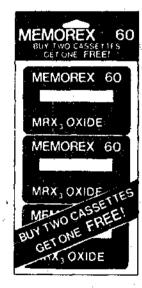

YOUR CHOICE OF: 9V, Cor D Size

Reg. $2.60

522BP(9V),E93BP-2(C),E95BP-2(D)

Reg. $3.80

SIZEAA

SUPERS

AMERICA'S FAVORITE Quality Cassette

at a great price

A $9.57 Retail Value

60 minute cassettes

MAAKEA

$1.98

Retail Value

NoNonsense³

BALL POINT

EARLY BIRD SPECIAL! Buy Now and Save

Super Saver Price

2-PACK

AVAILABLE AT YOUR BOOKSTORE

O. 381 ENDS MAY 29, 1981

AOUUMG BAU

TERRIFIC

When your mom sends her best and 12 dozen brownies...

Mom. God bless her. What would you do without her love? Her encouragement? Or her black walnut fudge? And what would her "care packages" be like without a tall, cold glass of milk?

Milk makes those "delicious deliveries" taste even better. So when you open your goodies... open the milk. And make sure your roommates don't eat your mail.

there's nothing like something This seal is your assurance of a real dairy food.

Silver Anniversary Concert is soaring success

Westin would lead the Master

Symphony Orchestra of Southern California, the Cerritos Master

Chorale, Los Cerritos Boys Choir and

Korean violinist Young-Uck Kim through a program featuring the Celebration Finale: the Schicksalslied and the Odyssey

By KURT PETERSON TM Associate Editor

It had all the makings of a monumental evening-a milestone in the history of Cerritos College. The Silver Anniversary Concert, in Music Odyssey founder Philip

END OF THE ODYSSEY—The Silver

Anniversary Concert, the cornerstone of Cerritos College's highly-touted

Music Odyssey series, came off in grand fashion May 16 at Downey

Community Theatre. At right, the Master Symphony and Master

Chorale on the Downey stage. Above, conductor Murry Sidlin. Below is world premiere of his own composition, "Songof Adoration." Unfortunately, things do not always go as planned, and they didn't go as > Concert at the Downey Community Theatre Saturday night, May 16.

> planned for the Silver Anniversary things awry occurred Feb. 1 When a church bus rear-ended Westin's car on a mountain road.

Westin was injured in the accident, but, according to his doctors, only slightly.

He kept practicing and even conducted a March concert but recurring pain in his left arm put him out of action following that show.

He went to another doctor and was eventually diagnosed as having suffered a ruptured disc. He immediately began receiving therapy, including traction to allow his vertebrae to slip back into place.

He was told he would not be able to conduct for at least the next two or three months.

This meant he would have to find a conductor to replace him at the Silver Anniversary Concert. It also meant that the unveiling of "Song of Adoration," a piece that Westin had worked on for 15 years, would be postponed indefinitely.

A replacement was found. Worldrenowned conductor Murry Sidlin, an American who has performed around the globe and is currently the music director for both the New Haven and Long Beach Symphonies, would fill in.

The evening's program underwent a complete change. "Song of Adoration" was replaced by Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 5," the choral piece was changed from Strauss' "Don Juan" to Brahms' "Schicksalslied" and soloist Kim decided to play Brucht's "Concerto in G Minor" instead of the schedule d Mendelssohn Concerto.

But despite the many changes, the Silver Anniversary Concert turned out to be a highly memorable night of music and artistry.

Sidlin drew an impassioned performance in the Brahms from both the Master Symphony and Master Chorale and maintained great emotional intensity throughout the Tchaikovsky Symphony.

It was Kim, however, who was the centerpiece of this show.

At 33, he is one of the world's most respected musicians and his highspirited display on the Downey stage was alternately dazzling and touching.

Though it may not have been monumental, the Silver Anniversary Concert came off as professional and warmly satisfying.

And that is as much a tribute to Cerritos College as it is to the men who made the music which made the show a success.

'I NEVER SANG FOR MY FATHER'

Brothers give 'all' as father, son

By DAISY WARMAN TM Staff Writer

In the midst of a dark theatre and an open stage, the actors unfold the drama of the desires of a son trying to win the love of his non-understanding, selfish, and possessive father ... a desire that is never fulfilled.

The play is Robert Anderson's "I Never Sang for my Father," presented at Burnight Center on May 15 by the Readers Theatre.

Russell Baker gave an "award winning" performance as the father, Tom Garrison. He played the difficult role with a great sense of maturity in never letting go of his autocratic position as head of the family and as the ungenerous, hateful father. Baker has a keen sense of interpretation that is exhibited from Sharing this "keen" sense of interpretation is his real-life brother, Robert, who brought to life the role of Garrison's son, Gene.

When these two characters-father and son-were pitted against each other, the audience at once was aware that the performers were giving their all to the roles they were recreating. Nancy Frisbie as Margaret Garrison, the mother, served as a pleasant contrast from the behavior standing and sympathetic. Kim Campanella gave a notable

Ronald Albertson, who read the part of the doctor like he was reading

In the part of the Reverand Pell. Craig Wasserman should have given his character more feeling. At the funeral scene, when he read "dust to dust . . ." sounded more like he was a

James Lamproe did a good job as Marvin Scott, the mortician. He played the part like a real mortician.

"I Never Sang for My Father," a Reader's Theatre presentation, differed from a conventional theatrical production in that the actors read from manuscripts and movement was restricted to a bare playing a number of parts in virtually every song. Johnny is every man and whether he is recounting first person narrative or is pictured as the third person. Of course, "Johnny's In Love Again" finds him as the focal point of the song, but "Daylight Titans" and "Civic Hall" cast him as a victim of the colder side of society. "Isolated Case" best describes his feelings of

On the bands' first album they tended to try to sound like another excellent English band The Jam, but now they've changed producers and have a sound that is a little more mainstream.

alienation. <

The packaging of the album is as unique as the music, inside the cover features a crowd of people forming an eye while they watch two people being put in an ambulance after a car crash. The inner sleeve has pictures of Jim Jones, Idl Amin, Adolph Hitler and a picture of President Kennedy's motorcade through a rifle scope. The pictures correlate with the band's fine lyrics which on this album pertains to peoples' constant search for heroes. "In "Jimmle Jones," the lyrics are biting. "There's a rumor going round/That the gardens not the place to be/And little jimmles in the dark/Between the devil and the deep blue sea."

There may not be any hit song on this album, but there is a steady level of catchy, hum-a-long songs that do just fine for a second album.

Pretenders over-'extended'

By KURT PETERSON TM Associate Editor

After two excellent singles (and another that was pretty good, also), the Pretenders, a British band, fronted by American tough girl Chrissie Hynde, released the debut album, that made the band one of the true success stories of 1980.

While rock fans and many critics heaped praise upon The Pretenders, I saw the LP as the first step in a downhill progression. Toward what, I didn't know.

The album conveyed none of the sparkling energy of those first two promising singles.

The band's first single released in early 1979, was a cover of the Kinks'
"Stop Sobbing," and featured Hynde's lilting, sing-song vocals on top of a first-class pop production. The B-side was a killer track called "The Wait" and both cuts were produced by popmeister Nick Lowe. Suddenly, the Pretenders were the talk of every town. "The Wait" was an FM hit in America and the import single sold exceptionally well, A few months later, "Kid" b/w "Tattoed Love Boys" was released and it quickly became a hit on the FM, too, "Kid" was a ballad and "Love Boys" a rocker. Almost sublimely, the Pretenders were already becoming formulated.

By the time the third single came out, the band still hadn't released a record in America. "Brass In Pocket" became the Pretenders' third import hit single.

In January 1980, The Pretenders was released in America. It sold well and it got rave reviews.

For me, it was a disappointment. I found little to say about it. If you take away the singles, you're left with a hodgepodge of fairly average middle-of-the-road rock songs. Which brings us to the latest Pretenders record. Extended Play is just what it says it is. A five-song EP made up of the latest two British singles and a live version of "Precious" from the first

The live track finds guitarist/singer Hynde, bassist Pete Farndon, guitarist James Honeyman Scott and drummer Martin Chambers pandering to the power-riff feedback crowd that has latched on to the Pretenders. The cut takes all the meaning out of the word "live."

The best track is "Talk Of The Town," which you've undoubtedly heard on the FM. "Town" was a welcome relief after the first album, but was unfortunately not as stylized or distinguished as "Stop Sobbing" or "Kid."

"Cuban Slide" is a fairly amiable track that can probably best be described as "not annoying." The real losers here are the two songs from the new single, "Message of Love" b/w "Porcelain." "Message of Love" may be an incredible revelation to Chrissie Hynde, but songwriters have been saying the same thing (in a much better manner, hit a rock with a stick. "Porcelain" starts off sounding like a good imitation of the Stones and ends up sounding like a bad imitation

I might add) since the first caveman of Foghat, Uggh. Maybe Chrissie and the guys can turn it around for the next record. After listening to Extended Play, it's not hard to tell that they've got nowhere to go but up.

start to closing curtain.

of her husband by being under-performance as the sister Alice, trying to put her brother Gene on the right track concerning his life.

I was a little disappointed with some financial report.

drill sergeant than a minister.

Solemn and sincere.

Vapors' 'Magnets' attracts attention

By RUSS SMITH TM Staff Writer

Christopher Cross offered radio listeners a brand of milk-toast music that has yet to be equalled. The impact of "new wave" on radio stations' playlists was not to be overlooked. In 1980 there were numerous songs on the radio by bands that three years ago were considered part of the 'lunatic fringe.' "Rock Lobster" by B-52's, "Whip It" by Devo, and several Blondie

The year 1980 was a dreadful one for newcomers on American radio.

But, in late summer an English band, The Vapors, had a novelty hit titled "Turning Japanese" that turned into a hummable-housewife hit. The Vapors have just released their follow-up to their fine debut album (New Clear Days) with a new one "Magnets." The album just doesn't live up to the potential shown on the first record and the main problem songs received a great deal of airplay.

may be the typical "Sophomore Jinx" syndrome. Bands work for two or three years on their first albums and are expected to come up with another great record within nine months.

Very often they fail miserably with their second efforts, but this second album is better than most sophomore trys. The ingredients are all here but the intensity level is a notch below what it should be for this fine band.

"Magnets" in a sense is a concept album with one character, Johnny,

Ladies tie for title in style

By WAYNE WURZER TM Assoc. Sports Editor

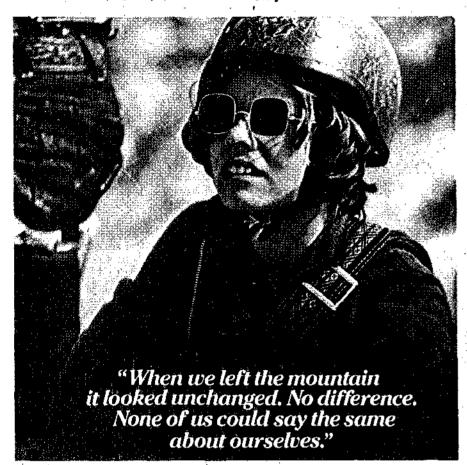

The Cerritos lady tracksters showed a flare for the spectacular Saturday when they waited until the final two events of the night to capture a share of the Southern California team track title.

When the 1600 meter relay team of Susie Medina, Dimitri Fuller, Sonya Briscoe and Vernecia Smith broke the tape at 3:46.89 it established a new national JC record and gave the Falcons their share of the SoCal crown. Only moments earlier Deon Villa had won the high jump with a school record-tying leap of 5'6" for crucial points that ultimately tied the Falcons with Santa Monica's 52.

The northern schools of De Anza, West Valley, Hartnell and Sacramento are looked upon as the top teams along with Cerritos, Santa Monica and Orange Coast in this Saturday's state meet, at Cerritos. Field events start at 4 p.m. while the running events are scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. It took a national JC record in the 400 meters by Long Beach's Valerie Brisco to dethrone Cerritos' Smith. Brisco ran 52.62 to win the event from Smith, who finished at 54.87. The previous JC record was set by Smith last year at 54.29.

At Outward Bound* it's not just what you do, but how you feel about it afterwards that counts.

Our courses are tough-they're meant to be-but not beyond the reach of anyone who tries.

They're fun, And safe as human ingenuity and experience can make them.

At Outward Bound we teach you outdoor skills. From rock-you outdoor skills. From rock-climbing to canoeing. But we're also something of a course in self-reliance (a course in self-reliance where you also have to iearn to trust the group).

Outward Bound will not teach of pluck, and the yen to spend some time in some of this coun-trys most spectacular settings. Everyone brings something different to Outward Bound and takes something different away. But whatever your experience—we guarantee it won't be trivial.

you to be a man. Nearly half the Few are really athletes. Lots are over thirty. What you need is a bit students, for one, are women.

Outward Bound! (800) 243-8520.

organization. Outward Bound National Office, 384 Field Point Rd., Greenwich, CT

In the 200 meters it was Long Beach's Brisco again, winning with a time of 24.04. Smith finished fourth with a clocking of 24.71 and will get another shot at the field Saturday in the state meet.

In the 400 intermediate hurdles it was another Brisco that ran away from the pack for a victory. Sonya Briscoe from Cerritos continued her dominance of the event by running the state's best time this year, 62.16. Her time makes her the favorite this Saturday.

The team of Medina, Fuller. Briscoe and Smith teamed up in the 400 meter relay to run a school record. of 47.0 that placed them second behind Long Beach's state record of

While the women's team was turning in a performance that ranked as their best of the year, the men were turning in one of their best finishes for the Southern California meet in a long time.

Cerritos totaled 24 points on the day to tie for sixth place with Los Angeles City College. Long Beach won the meet for the third straight year with 971/2 points, followed by Mt. San Antonio's 66, Pasadena's 62, and Grossmont's 39.

"This is as high a place that we've been able to get in this meet in years," said a very pleased coach Dave Kamanski.

Dell Miller won the title in the pole vault when he cleared 16'6" on his first try. He had several good attempts at 17', barely missing on his last try of the day.

"He never looked better," said Kamanski. "I think he's a good bet to take the state title."

Jimmy Wilson took a second place in the 400 meters with a time of 47.23 to place behind Pasadena's Rufus Jackson who ran 48.67. "Jimmy has not reached his potential this year and with a good night this Saturday, he could well take it all," commented Kamanski. The other highlight of the day came when the 400 meter relay team of Herb Welch, Rod Dickerson, Warnick Elaston and Wilson ran a season best of 41.2. The foursome went into the meet with the seventh best time but came out with the fourth best after they each ran brilliant legs.

On a dissappointing note Wilson placed fifth in the 200 meters and missed qualifying for the state meet by two hundreths of a second. His time of 21.76 was well over his season's best

Salcedo named Player of Year

By KURT PETERSON and KEITH SHARON

Star infielder Ron Salcedo was named South Coast Conference Player of the Year by SCC coaches last Monday, May 18.

The Falcon third baseman compiled a .439 batting average, second-best in the conference, and led the Cerritos squad in nearly every hitting category, including hits, runs batted in, extra base hits and total bases.

Salcedo was an All-SCC pick last vear and also made the All-State team as an oufielder. He is a virtual shoe-in to make this year's All-State

He led the league in hitting much of the season and lost the batting title on the last day of the year.

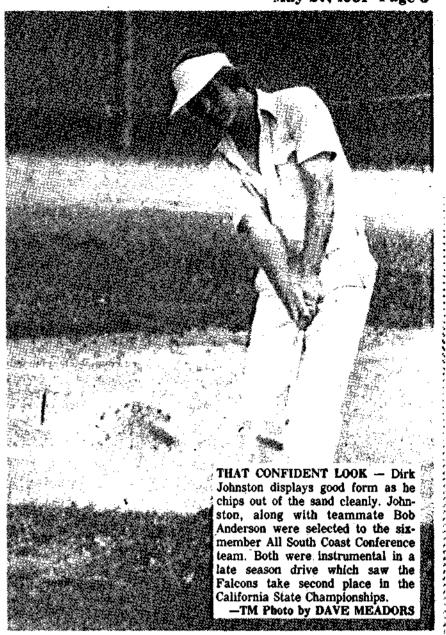

His hot bat paced the Birds to a second-place conference finish, two games behind Orange Coast, at 10-8.

The Falcon's season ended two weeks ago when they lost to OCC in the finals of the Shaughnessy playoffs, 4-2.

Orange Coast advanced to the state playoffs, which begin this week at Cerritos and Long Beach Blair Field. Salcedo's team finished with a respectable 25-12 season record and surprised many by copping secondplace in the SCC.

A graduate of John Glenn High in Norwalk, Salcedo was an All-Suburban League infielder in his senior year.

Golfers finish second in state

By PAUL SIMON

Assoc. Campus Editor

After a late season elevator ride which saw them barely make the playoffs, the Cerritos College Golf team finished an impressive second in the state championships held May 18 at Torrey Pines Country Club in San Dirk Johnston and Bob Anderson led the Falcons, whose finish was the highest to date this year by an athletic team at Cerritos.

Moorpark College, led by the Hamlett brothers Ed and Bob, won the 36 hole event with a team score 745. 18 shots ahead of the second place Falcons.

"It was an overall strong team performance," said Cerritos Coach Frank Montera.

The Falcons gained their way into the state championships by finishing second in the Southern California Championships, which was won by Moorpark.

Fullerton College, champions of the South Coast Conference and third place finishers in the Southern California Championships, finished sixth in the state finals.

· Both All SCC performers, Johnston and Anderson, took 11th and 12th place respectively.

Johnston fired a 76 on the shorter North Course and came back strong in the afternoon on the long South Course with a 73, giving him a total of 149. Anderson shot a pair of 75's for a DeAnza College's Tim Thelan fired a 71-70 for a two round total of 141, making him the tournament medalist.

Also shooting low for the Birds were Dave Knoll whose 78-75 gave him a 153 total. Scott McDonald turned in the highest and lowest scores by a Falcon, 82-72 for a total of 154.

Mike Johnson, 157, and Richard Langton, 160, rounded out the scoring for Cerritos.

Commenting on his teams success, Montera said, "they did about as well as they can do."

STRONG TEAM BALANCE

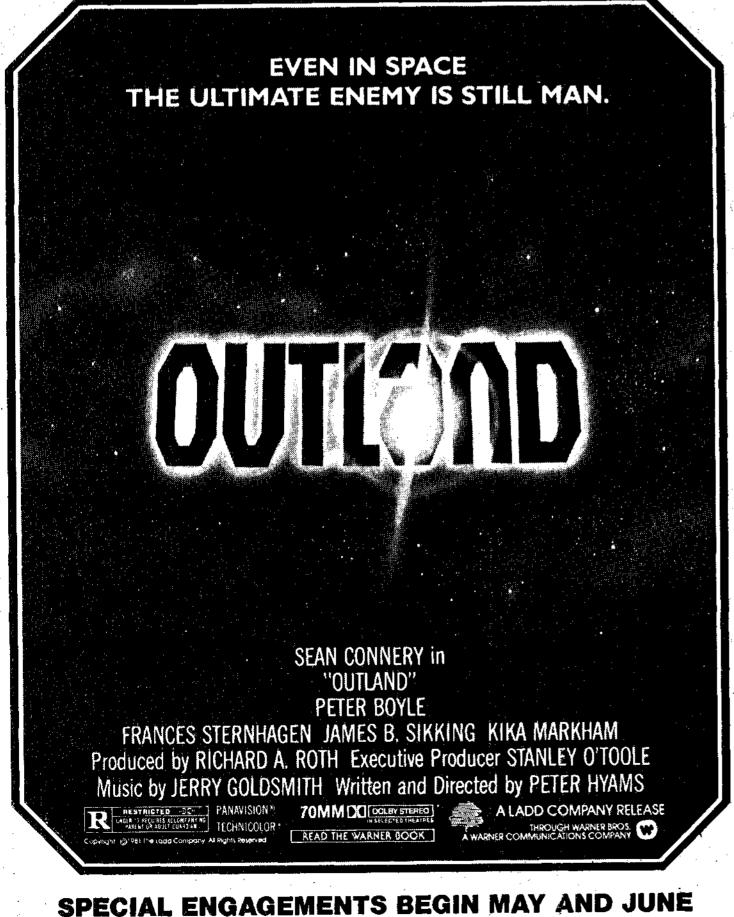

To say that the Falcons had a successful year would be like saying Fernando Valenzuela is popular in Los Angeles, and it is obvious that this success is due mainly to strong team balance.

Without a true team leader, someone who shoots par every week, the Birds ran up an 11-0 pre-season dual match record, finished second in the SCC, and eventually finished second in the state, just 18 strokes from the title.

The Falcons also placed two golfers, Johnston and Anderson, on the All South Coast Conference Team, which chooses only six members.

"I thought that overall we had the best team in the league," commented Montera. The Falcons finished second to Fullerton but shot past them in both the Southern and State charnpionships.

Montera, making perhaps the understatement of the year said, "the last three weeks we've done pretty

MAKE $11,000 FOR COLLEGE WHILE YOU'RE GOING TO COLLEGE campus life? Give your local Army Reserve unit a weekend a month and a couple of summers during college, and they'll give you over $11,000 for college

Up to $4,000 in college aid is yours just for joining most units. Another $5,000 for four years of monthly weekends and two-week summer stints. Plus over $2,000 that you'll earn during two summer training periods. All while you're getting the most out of college. And doing the most you'can part-time for your country

You don't have to wait for college to join the Army Reserve. If you're 17 or older and a junior or senior in high school. join us now! There's no better part-time job in town. Interested? For more information about the Army Reserve in this area, call any of the telephone numbers listed below. Or stop by. ARMY RESERVE. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

MSG Greenleaf (213) 924-3897

Opinion

Editorials • Letters • Columns • Features

Unsigned editorials are the responsibility of the Talon Marks Editorial Board. Other views are solely those of the author of the article and are not to be considered opinions of the Talon Marks staff, the editorial board, the advisor, the Cerritos College administration, or the Board of

TALON MARKS · Wednesday, May 27, 1981 Page 6

Make your choice!

It's that time of year again . . .

The nights are getting shorter and the days are getting warmer. -And so, it's time to wade through all that political propaganda and elect those important people who promise you a rose garden.

In one corner, we have a 26-year-old, clean cut pre-med major who swearrs he will not mix religion with politics.

In the other, we have a 27-year-old business major who states "I'm not political — I'm productive.

Thus the election takes on a familiar tone, complete with all the trivialities one has come to expect from any election.

And, even though the issues may seem un-important and old hat, and the candidates appear all too familiar, we must not lose sight of the fact that the person we elect plays a very important part in the future of Cerritos Coilege.

When entering the ballot booth, we must remember that the vote we cast should be one that has been carefully contemplated. Vote a choice choice . . .

Typewriters get the Royal treatment

By George Laurin TM Campus Editor

You ever wonder what happens to all the old typerwriters?

The ones where you always had that one letter that never typed clear. And the other letter that always rode below the line, unless it was capitalized, then it wouldn't even

In case you are into wondering just that of things, you're in luck! Because I'm here to tell you I just happen to be one of those cheapskate owners of one of those cheap dilapidated monsters.

And I can't say I'm too happy with it right now. You see as I started typing another one of my rare Talon Marks stories, my typerwriter broke.

Now that in itself probably wouldn't have been so bad. But you see it broke down slowly on me. It allowed me to get all set and ready. And it allowed me to knock out a few paragraphs. Then it made me change the ribbon. It was getting tired of that one side you you're wordless! So after fighting the ribbon for about ten minutes I finally got the old antique roling again. But soon after that it came down with a severe case of space sickness, it refused to space between the words.

Oh yes your majesty, right away

Considering the time of night and the condition of my growing temper, I decided to claim temporary defeat.

You know some of those typerwriter companies have really come out with some fancy typerwriters lately.

They first asked the secretary what she wanted for her typerwriter. She replied, "An easy exchangable ribbon that wasn't messy."

They made an easy exchangable ribbon cartridge, that wasn't messy. Then they confronted the old executive who had a blonde secretary that typed five words a minute and made two mistakes a second. The old guy pulled out an eraser and screamed, "Make one with a correction device in it!

It has been done.

and when they asked thier accountants what they wanted with their typerwriters.

They asked for an adding machine combined with their typewriter. The companies made that too.

But if they would ever ask the college journalist what they want on a typerwriter, they would probably ask for a cheaper price so they could afford one. At least I would.

But the companies would probably reply, "Oh yes, have you seen our older models."

SEAL OF APPROVAL

'Dramatic' fashion show Monday

TM Assoc. News Editor Each spring thousands of snow white baby harp seals are killed off the east coast of Canada, their fur used for clothing and the manufacture of toys.

The original size of the herd was 10,000,000. Today it is 1,000,000 and

The Cerritos College Fashion Coordinating class is presenting a harp seal benefit fashion show, June 1, at 7:30 p.m., in the Student Center, with all donations going to the International Fund for Animal Welfare.

Director for the event is Mimi Ivey, the instructor for the class and the fashion coordinator for the Broadway-Cerritos and the Broadway-Orange.

'The show is not just a fashion display, but a large dramatic show," explains Ivey. "The Dance Theater of Southern California will be performing free for this worthy cause. The Cerritos College Theater Dance Class will also perform."

The show will feature fashions from the Broadway of Cerritos Mail and will center around a Broadway musical theme.

Mimes will perform before showtime and many door prizes will be offered, some of which include a pair of tickets to the play "Annie," free dinners at local restaurants and free carnations to the first 100 people to

The International Fund for Animal Welfare was founded 15 years ago by Brian Davies, the organization's executive, director.

He has authored two books about harp seals and has produced two documentaries on the subject. Both films are available for private showings.

Since 1972, the United States has banned the sale of harp seal products, and similar legislation is under consideration by numerous West European countries, which are the primary markets for seal skin products.

The fashion show is free, but donations will be accepted for the International Fund for Animal Welfare. Membership information will be available.

Helping hands raises 'Morales' of women

By CORRINE LOPEZ TM Staff Writer

If the "Helping Hands" program at Cerritos College ever had a success story, Mary Morales is it. Also known as "College for Displaced Homemakers," the program is relatively new and considered very

The purpose of Helping Hands is to help women overcome negative better attitude towards herself and

When Mary registered for the class, across the advertisement quite accidentally in a local magazine. "I was just looking through the PEN-NYSAVER and the ad caught my eye, so I decided to find out more it," said Mary.

Mary attended every workshop and absorbed the weekly instructions: "Be confident" . . . "Set Goals" . . . "Keep Your Voice Strong" , . . .

"Recognize Your Assets." She practiced and learned.

Then she discovered that her youngest daughter's school, Excelsion opportunity to put her new attitudes into action.

She volunteered to lead a fundraising drive so that her daughter and classmates could leave their school with something to remember.

A big musical production appropriately entitled, "Going Out In Style" was scheduled. Now Mary and only four other volunteers were depended on to organize and produce the production in a very short time.

" A lot of blood, sweat and tears went into making the show, but it was for the kids, so it was worth it," Mary explained.

Helping Hands gave Mary the confidence to communicate with others better. And communicating with businessmen was necessary in the progress of the production. "Because of Helping Hands, I felt confident when dealing with all the different people. I just kept repeating to myself what I had learned.'

When asked if the show was a success, Mary smiled and boasted, "It sure was, considering the circumstances."

Mary Morales is the mother of three daughters; the oldest is 25. She is also the proud grandmother of Fernando, age three. But to look at her, one might find that hard to believe. Mary has been married to her husband, David, for 26 years, and describes him as "very supportive." When Mary is asked if she has a job, she proclaims, "I sure do, but I don't get paid and its a 24 hour a day job." Helping Hands is credited with helping Morales achieve self respect as well as confidence. However, the point vivid in her mind is the fact that if you look at your own good qualities, you soon start to recognize good points in other people and situations. "It's important to learn to accept the bad and look on to the good side of things," she said. Mary Morales is one lady who is making it all happen, with a little help from "Helping Hands."

DEAR EDITOR:

H.S.C.C. would like to thank all of the "dunkees" and workers who gave their time in participating at the dunk booth at the school carnival, especially Sandy Kleven.

> Thanks again, H.S.C.C. President BARBARA BLAKE

Thru the lips, over the gums ... cut out all the tripe

By BARBARA KENT TM Staff Writer

When it comes to eating, there are certain foods you have to acquire a taste for. And then there are those you have to acquire a barf bag for. When your parents are European you run across these dishes fairly

Most of our friends are from Europe too, so when we get invited for dinner I always somehow feel the invitations should read: BYOPB. That's bring your own Pepto

Have you ever heard of tripe? It means cow stomach.

Nice way of putting it. I mean what would you rather hear? "Let's have some tripe, shall we?"

"Want some cow stomach?"

Anyway you say it, there's no way I'm putting someone else's stomach inside of mine. And cow brains.

My mother cooked them with scrambled eggs when I was a kid. "What's this?"

"It's scrambled eggs." "Some of it is scrambled eggs. What's the pink slimy stuff."

"Cow brains." "This is for the dog, right?"

CERRITOS COLLEGE

Talon Marks

Production and printing of Talon Marks is funded by the Associated Students of Cerritos College. Facilities and supervision are provided by College. It is produced by the students enrolled in the academic Journalism program.

JANE BROCK • EDITOR-IN-CHIEF FRED GOFF • Executive Editor

RICHARD HUDSON JR. • Associate Editor KURT PETERSON • Associate Editor C. THOMAS NELSON • Advisor

NEWS EDITOR • Elliot Bowles ... CAMPUS EDITOR • George Laurin ... SPORTS EDITOR . Jeff Marifian ... FEATURES EDITOR • Robin Nelson . . . CHIEF PHOTOGRAPHER • Willy Santos ... ASSOC. NEWS EDITOR • Linda Barhouse ... ASSOC, CAMPUS EDITOR • Paul Simon . . . ASSOC. SPORTS EDITOR • Wayne Wurzer ... ASSOC. FEATURES EDITOR • Jeannette Noceda

STAFF: Barbara Anderson, Kimberly Beaudry, Irene Coelho, Karen daSilva, Brenda Doyle, Wanda Edwards, Barbara Hague, Kim Heath, Barbara Kent, Martin Lain, Corrine Lopez, L. Gioría Lovato, Pam Mergen, Dave Meadors, Paul Morris, Dean Nakamura, Paul Noboa, Angela Perryman, Christina Persoon, Paul Quintere, Russ Smith, Simone Stephens, Michele Walton, Daisy Warman, Anthony M. Yallum, Keith Sharon

Talon Marks is published weekly except during holidays, examinations and vacations by the Department of Journalism and Student Publications, C. Thomas Nelson, Chairman. Offices are located in Arts and Crafts (AC-42) Cerritos College, 11110 Alondra Bivd., Norwalk, CA 90650. Dr. Wilford Michael, President, Telephone (213) 860-2451, Ext. 376-377-378. Advertising rates will be sent on request. Talon Marks reserves the right to refuse any advertising or editorial matter in accordance with student publication and academic policy.

"No, it's our dinner."

"What's the dog having?"

I mean, if eating nuts gives you brains, as my mother is so fond of saying, it would stand to reason that eating brains make you go nuts. I did finally develop a taste for cow brains, though. When we were kids my brother lifted weights. My sister and I would watch him and the next thing I knew we were sitting around the house all day sucking raw eggs out of the shell. Last year my sister was eating a soft-boiled egg.

"Try to avoid the chalaza." I warned her. "The what?"

"The chalaza. You know, that stringy thing. It looks like an umbilical cord." To this day my sister avoids the chalaza. In fact, I believe she refrains from eating any type of egg dishes in our home.

My mother likes to chew on soup bones. A lot of people are like that. One day she was chewing on a leg and I thought, "That was once somebody's leg." So I said, 'That was once somebody's leg. It walked through the meadows, it romped in the spring. . .' We don't have soup too often.

My dad won't eat lamb, unless you tell him it's pork. My brother went to a French restaurant and ordered escargots.

'What is that, by the way?" he "Snails." "I'll have the meat loaf."

Actually, he did eat the escargots and he's even had fried frog's legs. "What do they taste like?" I wanted to know.

"Why don't you just eat chicken?" When you think about it, though, chickens walk through meadows, and romp in the spring. . .

feelings about themselves and recognize their positive qualities. Morales indicates she not only gained more self confidence, but gained a those around her as well.

she said she didn't know what to expect. As a matter of fact, she came

Steering wheel turns cool kid crazy

By JULIE GALLEGO TM Staff Writer

I change drastically when I get behind the wheel of a car. The slam of the car door works like one of Dr. Jeykll's potions on my usually patient temperament.

I become impatient with people who drive ridiculously slow, like someone who does 30 in a 30-mph zone, or people who fail to accelerate two seconds prior to a green light. But, I become homicidally impatient with drivers who don't signal before they turn or change lanes.

I like to see that little red or amber light winking at me just before a Cadillac runs me into the oncoming traffic; it soothes me just the way the click-click rhythm of my own turn signals soothes me. But, when I don't see that little blinker, Mr. Hyde has nothing on me.

I become so dangerously impatient that I once found myself in pursuit of a Firebird on the freeway because it had cut in front of me without the little amber warning. It didn't matter that its trunk came within inches of my windshield wipers. I just couldn't handle being deprived of my right to a fair war-I should have honked, I guess, but my horn is disconnected; it had a habit of asserting its independence while in park and unmanned.

Anyway, I lost the Firebird and was late for school besides. I should have known I couldn't eatch it. Blasting its horn is about as aggressive as my Datsun ever got. But at least the turn signals work

Mornin' classes for birds

By JEANNETTE NOCEDA TM Assoc. Features Editor

There is nothing more depressing than having an 8 a.m. class and not understanding what's going on in it.

Take, for example my 8 o'clock and I do mean take it. I can't seem to make it when my teacher is going to go over the most important thing that will be on the Those are the days that I'm so tired I just turn off my alarm clock and sleep for 10 more minutes but I only too often end up not getting up. Another problem that arises with having an early class is when you car pool with friends, the conversation in the car drifts towards bacon and eggs or donuts.

You end up going to breakfast instead of going to a class to watch exciting films on nails rusting.

Before you enroll in a morning class, you should know that you won't be able to do anything that will keep

On occasional Saturday's, my early class conducts field trips to various locations. Two weeks ago the class went up to Wrightwood Mountains to visit the San Andres Fault.

everyone was wide awake. Our teacher, however, was not as parking lot to load the bus at 9 a.m.,

I can't understand how a teacher can be wide awake for an early class, and yet be sleepy for a "late" field trip. I've learned with this class that unless you are an early bird who enjoys eating worms and getting up early, a student's best bet would be to take a class that begins later.

you out late the night before.

When the students arrived at the alert as we were and fell asleep explaining the causes of earthquakes.