Talon Marks

-Named No. I in California by JACC 1975-76, 77-78-

Volume XXV, No. 6

Cerritos College • 11110 E. Alendra Bivd. • Norwaik, CA 99650

Wednesday, Nov. 4, 1981

Court lifts Rupprecht privileges

By KIMBERLY BEAUDRY and BRENDA DOYLE

The ASCC Supreme Court has permanently revoked all ASCC rights and privileges of AGS (Honor Society) president Roberta Rupprecht.

Rupprecht was charged with improper use of AGS club funds by Student Body President Craig Georgianna, Commissioner of Finance and Budget Linda Kleven, and Commissioner of Extended Day Ken

An excerpt from the official Judicial report stated, "in somuch that the defendant did not deny any charges or refute the allegations," the court could find no other alternative than to deny Rupprecht all ASCC rights, effective immediately."

When informed of the court's decision Rupprecht stated, "I don't feel it was right. I was under the impression I had denied the charges.'

AGS faculty advisor Dr. Bloomfield said he was "very surprised" at the outcome of the trial. "I thought it was quite severe," Bloomfield stated, adding "I think it went beyond fair-ASCC Supreme Court Justice John Drasso commented that, she is not a member of the ASCC." He explained that Rupprecht will be barred from voting in school elections, participating in student government, and any type of club involve-

"It's over unless she appeals it,' says Drasso.

An appeal would be made to the Cerritos College Board of Trustees, who have the authority to render a new decision.

Rupprecht says she would like to appeal, "but as of right now I don't

Dr. Bloomfield says AGS financial doings are "definitely" going to be policed better in the future. Bloomfield states he will continue on as AGS advisor "as long as the students want me. I'm happy to do it."

Bloomfield says that he and Rupprecht have been "touching bases" through the entire AGS ordeal. He commented, "I think she did some imprudent things, but she's not a cri-

Club candidate Marissa Perez is all smiles after being crowned the 1981 Cerritos College Homecom-in a row a Filipino Club candidate won the honor. Last year's Queen, Shenley Quijano, presented the crown to Miss Perez following a fireworks display. The crowning culminated a week of Homecoming activities.

Center offers service Art exhibit debuts; for 'homeless' student talents showcased

By PAM MERGEN TM Assoc. News Editor

Student Housing Placement, a branch of the Job Placement Center, is a service that has long been overlooked at Cerritos College.

Job Placement has overseen this vital service for the past five years, which operates by placing students in need of housing in contact with landlords and persons in search of roommates.

According to Madge Hudson and Wilma Maughan of Job Placement, people with housing facilities available for rent usually come to the Center and fill out cards describing the type of housing they have to offer.

The cards list the price of rent; whether the facility is an apartment, townhouse, mobile home, small house, or room for rent; what the responsibilities and living Cerritos College counselor Dr.

Wally Frost will host an autograph

By BRENDA DOYLE

TM Campus Editor

arrangements will entail; whether the roommate should be male or female, and the location and phone

The cards then must be approved by the Placement Center and dated before they are posted on a special builetin board located outside the center's office.

Then students looking for housing check the bulletin board and contact the leaser or landlord when they find something that sounds satisfactory.

Hudson and Maughan stress that the student should investigate situations involving a roommate before making any sort of agreement "to make sure its the kind of people you want to live with and that their lifestyle will agree with yours."

Hudson also states that Cerritos College "holds no (financial) responsibility to either party.'

Frost autobiography published;

By C. CORI LOPEZ TM Assist. Feature Editor

The Cerritos College Art Gallery's "Faculty Art Show" featuring art work by college art teachers opened Monday, Nov. 2 and will continue through Friday, Nov. 13.

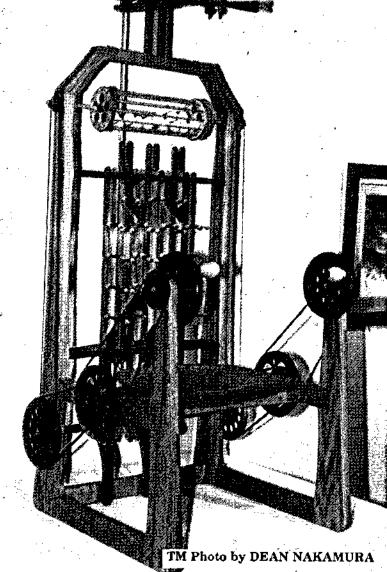

According to director Jeff Gates, the gallery will now be opened more often in hopes of attracting more students to the shows.

For example, the "Faculty Art Show" is now available to students Monday through Thursday, from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. The gallery then re-opens at 6 p.m. (Monday through Thursday) and will close three hours later at 9 p.m. giving students an entire day to stop by, and view the

As usual, the visual displays are brilliant, including a rather eyecatching, back-scratching creation by Rick Vanderuff. Vanderuff has constructed a manual operated, back scratching chair where an

SIT AT OWN RISK—The "Back Scratcher" is a Rick Vanderuff

Art Gallery's Faculty Art Show. "Scratcher" will be on display until Friday, Nov. 13.

Marissa captures coveted royal post

2nd queen in row, top float for Filipino Club

By C. CORI LOPEZ TM Assist. Features Editor

Marissa Perez was crowned 1981 Homecoming queen Saturday, during half-time activities in Falcon Stadium, marking the second straight year the Filipino Club candidate has won.

Schenley Quijano, the 25th Anniversary Homecoming queen, presented the crown to Perez following a colorful display of fireworks.

The Filipino Club not only captured the queen spot, they also took home the Amy Dozier Sweepstakes trophy for the Best Over-all Homecoming float.

The float, entitled "Music Mobile." represented what the club viewed as the "Great American Pastime," this year's 26th annual Homecoming theme.

Other float winners include Circle K, which, won both the Queen's trophy and the Board of Trustees trophy for the Best Utilization of Theme, as well as the Most Creative and Original float.

Delta Gamma Nu also received two awards, the Coach's trophy and the CSEA trophy, presented for the Most Unusual and the Best Utilization of Animation. Another group which earned two honors was LDSSA who took the Dr. Burnight trophy and the Bench trophy for the Most Inspirational float this Homecoming.

Marissa, a 1977 Gahr High School graduate, is a former Miss Harbor/ Los Angeles, two-time finalist in the Miss California pageant, Miss Phillipines-USA and Miss Artesia.

The 21-year-old Homecoming queen entered her first pageant while in high school. "One day my counselor called me into his office, and talked me into running for Miss Artesia," explained Marissa. Somewhat shy in high school, she waited until the very last week to tell her

(Continued on Page 2)

Epple, Scotto Steenhoek win

Incumbent Hazel Scotto retained her seat in yesterday's Cerritos College Board of Trustees election and will be joined by newcomers Bob Epple and Ada Steenhoek.

Final vote counts were not available at press time. Eight candidates were in the running for three open Board seats.

Current Board President Louise Hastings and Chuck Fuentes did not seek re-election. The new members will be seated Dec. 2.

Continuing Board members are Vice-President Lou Banas, Harold Tredway, Katie Nordbak and

Wo/mens' Center? male enrollment up

By BARBARA EKNOIAN TM Staff Writer

The Cerritos College Center for Today's Women will be adding something new to it's name. In the future, you will see a slash mark used dividing the word 'wo/men.'

Since more men are enrolling in their classes and using their services, the Women's Advisory Committee officially approved this change at their Sept. 24 meeting.

According to Vera Eckles, Program Specialist, the Center wants to make the men feel a part of their program.

In addition, a male counselor has joined the personal counseling staff. Appointments with the counselors can be made by coming into the Center. Since 1975, the "Wo/men's Program" has grown and a Satellite Center at Palms Park opened in January 1980. During this year, 7,000 people have used their services either by phone or coming into the office.

Also, the Wo/men's Program just completed a successful V.E.A. project, the Helping Hands, for which they received special funding to help recruit 100 women to register at Cerritos. A total of 233 women registered.

Wo/men's Program classes are geared for the mature student. Some of the classes are only 9 weeks to help the student make the transition to college. The Center provides information, referrals and counseling to all students. Eckles said, "Our premise is that there is an answer or solution to any problem."

Beta Theta Gamma designated for the re-entry woman will hold their first meeting on Nov. 12 in the Board Room at 11 a.m. Dick Schmidt from Career Counseling will speak on the latest learning techniques.

At their second meeting, Dec. 10, an acclaimed motivational film, "You ---Can Surpass Yourself' will be shown.

Faculty views CC security

By BRENDA DOYLE TM Campus Editor

The Cerritos College Faculty Senate Meeting held on Oct. 13 was dominated by suggestions for better overall security on campus.

The question of security is still a problem, according to the faculty. Joan Walker of the Technology Dept. brought up the question as to how security can be contacted on the week-ends when the switchboard is down. The on-campus numbers for security are extensions 291, 292 and Dottie Wilson, Cerritos College switchboard operator, explained that there is also an outside line that can be used to call the 24-hour security dispatcher. The number, which is not listed in the General Telephone book, is (213) 924-3618.

There has been a proposed plan to install gates on all parking lots except C-2 and C-3. The purpose of this is to keep cars from using the parking lots over the week-ends. However, there would be special provisions made to accommodate persons

(Continued on Page 2)

party on Dec. 1 for his autobiography, "Yes We Can", which will be in About 6 months following their first request, Regal again asked warehouses today. Frost was contacted 11/2 years ago Frost to write a book. He at this time, "agreed to send them a chapter." by Regal Publishing and asked to write a book on his life. His first in-The 160 page paperback book took clination was to, "respectfully de-Frost 21/2 months to write. Having

Frost said, "It didn't make any sense for me to write a book," he added," "I'd never written anything before except a few poems, so I said

When asked why Regal would be interested in his life story, Frost answered, "Basically because they were interested in me. In my unusual situation of being handicapped, confined to a wheelchair. And possibly because I have a son that is a prominent sports figure." His son is David Frost, a pitcher for the California Angels.

never written a book before Frost was positive he couldn't do it. "I'm being paid on a royalty basis. They

NO TALON MARKS

Because of Veterans Day on Nov. 11, the Talon marks will not be published. The next issue will come out on Nov. 18. Deadline for news items is Friday, Nov. 13.

autograph signing set for Dec. 1 offered me money up front but I said no thank you," stated Frost, "That, shows you how confident and sure of myself I was," he added.

Regal Publishing had much more faith in Frost as they wrote up a contract before the book was written. "I can't say it was harder to write than I had thought because I never thought of writing a book and never figured I could do it when I was asked," said

The book deals with his life story from childhood to present. Frost said, "It was an accomplishment," he continued, "It was fun to write. It caused. me to go back and think of a lot of things from the past." He had no journal kept to refer back to so, "as I look back I see there are a lot of things I left out that should have been included," stated Frost. (Continued on Page 2)

creation for the Cerritos College

Disabled students seek special services at Resource Center

By BARBARA ANDERSON TM Assoc. Campus Editor

"Have you ever heard of Reagonomics?" asked Kay Jester, the Disabled Students Program Instructor and College Specialist.

The facts speak for themselves. State funded programs have experienced budget cuts and the disabled students program is no exception. However, it has doubled in enroll-

The program was the first of its kind. It began in the fall of 1970 with six students. This semester Cerritos is serving 326 students in one of the largest programs in the state.

The largest reason students are in school is to get skills — to get employment. One of their most important contacts is with a job placement service. The job situation after college is getting better, but it has a lot of room for growth," said Jester.

It is the Resource Center's belief and goal to provide disabled students with the same opportunity to participate in all college activities and programs which are appropriate for each individual.

Numerous services are provided through the Resource Center, beginning with early registration where disabled students can register in one place. If a student cannot register at that time and needs assistance, aides are available in the center. The Disabled Students' Resource Center is located in Rooms 41-43 of the Burnight Center.

Other services provided for disabled students are taped textbooks, lectures, notes, newsletters, notetakers for lecture classes, classroom assistants who act as hands, readers. and interpreters.

Also available for loan on a first come basis is special equipment such as calculators and tape recorders.

Students that are out of school ill merely need to contact the Center and it will notify the instructor, and if necessary collect homework assignments and send or deliver them to the student.

'At the beginning of this semester, over 100 positions were open for volunteers to serve as notetakers, readers, recorders, tutors and mobility aides. Currently five positions

Each semester several scholarships are given to disabled students. The resource center has established a Ron Fornier Memorial scholarhsip fund which awards $50 to each recipient.

Once a week a representative from the State Department of Rehabilitation comes to Cerritos to assist disabled students that have special needs. This service includes help with registration fees, books, supplies, transportation allowances, reader and interpreter services and counseling. If students are interested in becoming members, vocational training is also available.

The United Nations has declared 1981 to be the Year of Disabled People. The UN's goals are to expand access to education, provide greater opportunity for employment, establish broader recreation, social activi-

Levene, Elizabeth Warman as the Escort; Yvonne Enriquez as Mrs.

Ames, and Phil McNear as Inspector

The director for "Heaven Can Wait" is James Dighera.

"Raggedy Man" very biomedical research, reduce incidence of disability through disease prevention and increase application of technology.

Throughout the Disabled Students Program it has held a steady staff of one instructor, two classified people, one interpreter and about 75 hourly aides.

Alice Collins is the Service Facilitator of the program. She originally attended Cerritos as a disabled student. Her job consists of coordinating tests for disabled students in the independent study programs. Collins also keeps records of taped textbooks and tapes the resource center newsletter for about 18 students.

Marcia Williams, resource center aide, began working in the program as a student aide and has held her position for eight years.

Even though the resource center has experienced cuts, it has not dampened their vision.

Jester said, "There are some students without basic skills necessary for basic courses." She sees the development of several courses specifically designed to aide the disabled. Jester cited students who are deaf; they can communicate with sign language but have a difficult time transferring complete sentences when writing English essays.

Jester was also pleased in the way the adaptive physical education program at Cerritos has expanded and hopes to see more growth.

. homecoming

(Continued from Page 1)

"We'd only been living in Artesia for three months, so my parents didn't think I had a chance," she smiled. "My dad kept telling me I was too fat, so I tried very hard to lose the weight. Boy was he surprised when I won," laughed Marissa.

Standing five feet, seven inches, the brown-eyed brunette has hopes of becoming a nurse.

Planning to complete her nursing courses here at Cerritos College next year, Perez wants very much to be a nurse and have a family.

Being involved in these contests has given me the chance to experience different people and life styles. I've seen how the other side lives, but I'm really looking forward to settling down and having a family," admits

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben and Mely Perez, Marissa is a native of the Phillipine Islands. Born in Manilla, she and her family moved to America when she was 13. "We lived in San Francisco for a short time, then migrated to Los Angeles, and finally ended up in Artesia," she explained.

Marissa has obtained her American citizenship and boasts, "I'm an American now, and I love this country very much." By DAISY WARMAN

"A little more respect, Mr. Pendleton, this is Mister Jordan." "Oh, it is, eh? Well, Mister Jordan, this guy here tells me I'm dead."

On Friday, Nov. 13, the Speech Desent "Heaven Can Wait" in the traditional style. That is, the cast will be sitting on stools when not speaking.

Never Sang for My Father."

Joe meets the scrupulous Mr. Jordan (Craig Philbrook) who promises

Mr. Jordan gets Joe the body of millionaire Jonathan Farnsworth after he had been murdered by his the college bookstore on Dec. 1 for $8.95. Frost will be there signing from 11-1 p.m.

autographs when the books arrive

When asked if he felt the book was

"We want the students to come in and see what their teachers have

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union will

He's a fresh new face on the com-present Mikel Williams, a Christian comic, tomorrow at 11 a.m. in SS 139.

edy scene that mixes humor while also offering some very serious spir-

The Cerritos College Community

Services Center will hold an Open House on Thursday, Nov. 12 from Sciences Bldg. off Studebaker Road.

It is located south of the Health

Refreshments will be served foldone," explains Gates.

itual truths.

OPEN HOUSE SET

3:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

lowing a tour.

good when it's good is needed. She buys three bus tickets and quits her job, much to the dislike of Mr. Rigby - R.G. Armstrong -Nita's boss whose threats of "you're > not any more. However, her last night in the grim little town proves to be anything but peaceful as she survives a rape attempt from the two rednecks, only because of the help from the Raggedy Man, who reveals his terrible, but predictable secret.

> frozen here" and "there is a war on"

have kept her at bay in the past but Raggedy Man (Sam Shepard), or Bailey as the town folk call him, is seen throughout the film only from the distance. He is a gardener with a hideously scarred face who has a curious interest in Nita and her two Overall the film is very enjoyable, even with a few flaws, and shouldn't be missed.

Involvement a priority for disabled students

By BARBARA ANDERSON TM Assoc. Campus Editor

Involved is the only word to describe the Handicapped Students of Cerritos College Club.

Approximately 50 students are actively involved in the club this semester, according to Linda Klevin the club president.

This semester the club has sponsored one bake sale and actively participated in campaigning for the blood drive recently held at Cerritos. Also, this year the Handicapped Students' homecoming candidate, Dagne Ervin, made the homecoming

"We try to have a bake sale every month, we didn't have one in October because we were so busy with the homecoming events. One night we had about 23 people working on the float which was really good and it promoted a lot of club spirit," said Klevin.

She also pointed out that the Handicapped Club is an open door club, meaning anyone is welcome to join. They meet at 11 a.m. every second and fourth Tuesday of the month in Rooms 41-43 of the Burnight Center.

An upcoming event involves the Wheelchair Sports Club. This Sun-

Drama Students and Business Majors: Use your education . . . Call Bill Johnson

329-7547

HANDMADE FILMS
Presents

day, Nov. 8, they will be playing against an independent team sponsored by the California Association for Physically Handicapped. The game will begin at 2:00 p.m. in the Cerritos gym and there is a two dollar donation. The half time show will be a game against the Maywood Police Department.

Other activities that the club participates in is the ASCC canned food drive usually held at Christmas and other service projects. The club also donates $100 per semester to the Disabled Students Resource Center which gives out scholarships.

The money made by the club pays for supplies and group outings. This past Saturday the club went on their first outing to Catalina, they rode on the glass bottom boat and took a scenic tour of the island.

Klevin currently serves as a paid tutor, notetaker and next semester will serve as an interpreter. Her interest in the Disabled Students program began when her sister Sandy Klevin, a past president of the club took her on a couple of the club out-

She is currently an undeclared major at Cerritos and hopes to continue somewhere in the medical

> Maintenance Person Needed . . . . Call Jon Davis 329-7547

Heaven Can Wait' to debut Nov. 13

wife Julia (Liz Sides) and her lover, his secretary Tony Abbott (James

Others in the cast include Beth McGlothlin as Bette Logan, Robert

Baker as Joe's manager Max

"Raggedy Man," playing at selected theatres throughout the southland, marks Sissy Spacek's first performance since capturing last year's best actress oscar for her portrayal of country music star

Loretta Lynn in "Coal Miners

This time Spacek plays Nita, an abandoned mother of two young boys who works as a telephone operator in a small Texas town during World War

TM Assoc. Feature Editor

partment's Readers Theatre will pre-

The play is based on the motion Last spring, the Readers Theatre presented Robert Anderson's, "I

The synopsis for the play is simple. Joe Pendleton (Jay Graves) a fighter, is taken to Heaven by Messenger 7013 (Russell Baker) sixty years too early.

Frost authors 'Yes We Can' autographs copies on Dec. 1

(Continued from Page 1) Frost has no formal education in writing. He is a graduate of Long Beach City College and received his Bachelor and Master degrees in Education from Long Beach State University. Frost has been featured in several newspapers including The L.A. Times for public speeches he has done. "I suppose that is one of the reasons Regal asked me to write this," said Frost. "Yes We Can" will be available at

(Continued from Page 1)

should there be special field trips. It was agreed that should these gates be installed they should be opened at 6 a.m. for faculty and stu-

The Cerritos College Faculty Senate meets weekly on Tuesdays at 11 a.m. in the College Board Room.

NEWS BRIEFS

FUNERAL SERVICES TODAY

Funeral services will be held today at 3 p.m. for the mother-in-law of college president Dr. Wilfred Michael at Todd's Memorial Chapel, 570 N. Garey St., Pomona. Mrs. Hattie Hensley passed away early Sun-

Beta Theta Gamma, the organization for reentry women will hold their first scheduled meeting, November 12 at 11:00 A.M. in the

Boardroom, Administration

Dick Schmidt, Career Counselor

at Cerritos College will speak about study skills and learning styles.

BETA THETA GAMMA

day morning.

Building.

The admission for this three-act comedy-fantasy by Harry Segali will picture "Here Comes Mr. Jordan."

to get him a new body.

Spacek, who has never looked more beautiful, once again gives a stunning performance and proves even further that she is the best young actress around today.

By PAUL SIMON

TM Managing Editor

"Raggedy Man," however, is not quite as good as Spacek's acting; there are some soft spots,

But there are some great and touching moments, and when the movie is good, it is very good. One of the bright spots is Teddy, skillfully played by Eric Roberts, a sailor on a four-day liberty who virtually washes into Nita's life in the middle of the night during a down-A long distance phone call reveals that the girl he was going to see is now married and that he suddenly has nowhere to go. In one of the film's most touching moments, the two are drinking coffee and waiting out the storm when the power is knocked out, forcing them to become friends without the aid of visual contact. Both

The romance that you know will eventually follow takes time, but the rumors spread fast throughout the small town. Teddy not only wins the love of Nita, but also of her two boys, ages six and nine, played by newcommers Henry Thomas and Carey Hollis Jr.

The two seem intent on keeping Teddy for a father, and when he eventually leaves, after a fight with two town rednecks who also have their eye on Nita, they put the blame on their mother. Exit Teddy, enter soft

Dialogue is the problem here. Nineyear-old Harry suddenly sounds like an adult when he says at the dinner and "You're not a mother, you're a telephone operator." This totally goes against Harry's child-like character and is the film's low point. However, "Man" picks up quickly again and the scene is nearly forgotten, but not #### successful Frost replied," I don't know yet. The jury is still out I guess. I guess we'll have to see how many (Continued from Page 1) only have his back scratched, but also be entirely comforted as well. Operated correctly, the controls should activate a fan for cooling as well as a cylinder filled with pingpong balls for soothing sounds to play the scene beautifully. The Show also displays ceramics, oil paintings and water colors to please art lovers of all kinds.

table, "I want to go live with daddy" forgiven.

It is here that Nita decides a change

...they didn't make history, they stole it!

WITH DAVID RAPPAPORT - KENNY BAKER + JACK PURVIS - MIKE EDMONDS - MALCOLM DIXON - TINY ROSS and CRAIG WARNOCK Produced and Directed by TERRY GILLIAM Screenplay by MICHAEL PALIN and TERRY GILLIAM Songe by GEORGE HARRISON Executive Producers GEORGE HARRISON and DENIS O'BRIEN PG PARENTAL GUNDANCE SUGGESTED (S) READ THE DOUBLEDAY COLUMN BOOK DOUBLE STURED AND MANUEL COLUMN BOOK DISCRETE STURED AND MANUEL BOOK DISCRETE STURED A

THE FANTASY BEGINS NOVEMBER 6

GRADUATE TO A $5000 BONUS.

If you join today's Army for four years and qualify for certain specialties, we'll give you a $5000 enlistment bonus.

In fact, 57 different Army skills offer bonuses ranging from $1500 to $5000. That includes all sorts of things, from learning to repair a Pershing Missile to operating a laser in a tank. Plus, there's the personal satisfaction that comes with doing a tough job well. The added maturity and self-confidence you'll enjoy.

To find out about all the benefits of serving your country as you serve yourself, visit your local Army Recruiter. Or call Army Opportunities, ARMY. BE ALLYOU CAN BE.

IN NORWALK (213) 864-2558

HOMECOMING 1981

Below left, '80 Queen Schenley Quijano shares spotlight with '81 winner

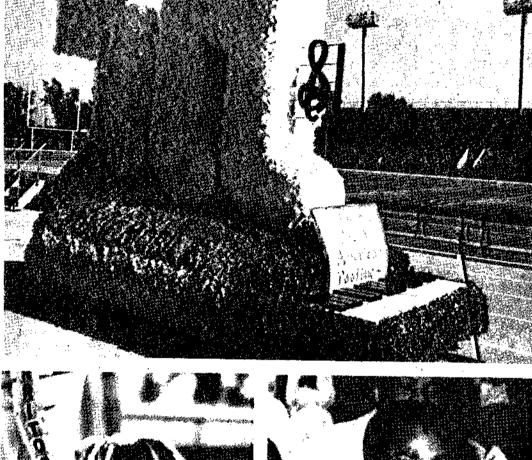

Marissa Perez. Filipino Club float, below, won Sweep-stakes Trophy. Below right, champion Dodgers star Dus-ty Baker was on hand to see nephew play for Mesa.

RECORD BREAKER-Falcon quarterbak Mickey Corwin, who broke two Cerritos passing and yardage records, sets to fire in game against San Diego Mesa. Russell Duren (55) is the Falcon blocker. TM Photo by DAVE MEADORS

Falcons beat up on Mesa

Corwin breaks records as Birds roll up 527 total yards

TM Assoc. Editor

For the Cerritos Falcons Halloween night was a bag full of treats.

First, quarterback Mickey Corwin treated the Halloween and Homecoming crowd to his best game as a Falcon, leading the Birds to a 33-21 victory over the San Diego Mesa Second, tailback Steve Johnson scored three touchdowns running his team leading total to seven.

And finally the Falcons displayed an overpowering offense (527 total yards) that is indicative of their lofty Corwin looked like a quarterback competing for the Heismann Trophy rather than a South Coast Conference championship. He set a Falcon record for most total yards in a single game (319) and a Falcon conference record for passing yardage (298), just two yards short of the all-time Cerri-

Jimmy Ruiz gave the Falcons an early 1-0 lead in their game with

S.D. Mesa with a textbook assist from Nacho Sanchez. The Olympians tied it at the half, but Sung Chun scored the only goal in the second half to win it for Cerritos.

"We played very hard against Mesa. It was just a hard game in

"I played with a little more intensity tonight," said the Bird quarterback of his record breaking per-

"We've been talking to Mick about it," said Falcon coach Frank Mazzotta, "He's just got to make something happen in our offense. He's the catalyst of the whole thing, and he's finally getting the hang of it. He loves to throw the ball."

TALON MARKS Sports Wednesday, Nov. 4

Cerritos won its 15th Homecoming game against eight losses and one tie. This was the Bird's fourth win in a row on the special night.

For awhile, it looked as if Mesa would crash the Homecoming party.

On their first possession of the game the Olympians, aided by a face mask penalty on the opening kick-off, marched 39 yards in just three plays. Fullback Taleni Aumoeualogo rambled up the middle for seven yards, a touchdown, and the early lead 7-0.

For the rest of the first quarter Mesa moved up and down the field, but the Cerritos defense held in the key situations and the period ended with Mesa holding a seven point

"There's no sense in holding back," explained Mazzotta. "If you play conservative against that group (Mesa) you'll end up behind by 80 points."

Corwin took charge and got the offense rolling in the second quarter. A Mesa punt downed on the Falcon two saw the Birds in deep trouble. On first down Corwin dropped back to pass in his own endzone, but scrambled out of the pocket for a 9 yard hand-off and raced 18 yards up the middle giving Cerritos workable field position. Moments later Jon Rainer grabbed a Corwin screen pass on third and eight and galloped 15 yards for the first down keeping the drive alive. Kemp cut back against the grain on each of his next two rushes picking up 17 and 15 yards, respectively.

Shifty tailback Tony Kemp took a .

"We would just sprint hard to one side and hand-off to Tony back underneath," Mazzotta said. "Tony did a great job."

With the ball at the 12 yard line, Corwin rifled a strike to split end Ron Hill who was knocked down at the two. Two plays later Corwin rolled right and when he couldn't find an open receiver, kept the ball and dove across the goal line for the score tying the game at seven.

San Diego Mesa entered the game with the best offense in the league (Continued on Page 5)

Falcons go-without Grow

By DARREN HINSLEY TM Staff Writer

Despite going undefeated in last week's South Coast Conference play, the Cerritos College soccer squad suffered a critical loss.

Gary Grow, an exceptional twoway player, will be out of action for the remainder of the season with a broken collar bone. Grow collided with a Mesa player early in the first half of the game played last Tuesday

Cerritos went on to win the contest,

"He's an exceptional player and juries are part of the game and this is really going to check the character of

The Falcons passed the first check, defeating S.D. Mesa 2-1 and tying

CC spikers keep edge in conference battle

By JEFF MARIFIAN TM Staff Writer

Riding a nine game winning streak and sporting an unbeaten 8-0 record in South Coast Conference play, the Cerritos College women's volleyball team is getting closer and closer to wrapping up the league title and playoff berth it has been shoot-

Since dropping a pre-season match to rival Long Beach City College, the Falcons have handled every opponent they have faced - and with

Last week the Birds topped San Diego Mesa and Fullerton, losing only one game to Mesa and sweeping the Hornets. The Falcons will try to keep rolling when they play host to Santa Ana College this Friday at seven.

It was San Diego Mesa who along with Orange Coast figured to battle it out with Cerritos for the title this year. Last Wednesday's contest had all the makings of a Yankee-Dodger World Series.

After getting off to a slow start and an 8-1 deficit, Cerritos got their act together in time to post a 15-12 first game win.

We looked very sluggish at the start of the match," admitted head coach Jeanine Prindle. "But we seemed to get our game back after a'

his absence is going to be felt," said head coach Mike Shimpock. "But, in-general," said Shimpock. "Mesa doesn't have the best of records but Orange Coast 3-3 who are making a strong bid for the conference chamthey don't give you a thing. They really make you earn it."

Cerritos and Orange Coast are both trying to earn South Coast Con-while, thanks to some great plays from Nancy Vanderpool and Lori

the second game and hung on to win,

no doubt having thoughts about scorgame behind Robarge who was 5-8

That would not be though as Cerritos regained top form in the third

The fourth game was close for a while, but the Birds broke an 11-11 tie and Robarge served out the liver were major factors in the match, coming off the bench in the third and fourth game to spark the team," noted Prindle, adding, "Alecia Bremer and Mary Lary had good all-around matches at the outside

But the real hero had to be

Robarge, who according to Prindle had "an outstanding match putting

The Falcons then traveled to Fullerton only to come out smoking against the Hornets. Cerritos as a team piled up nine aces in posting the 15-8, 15-12, 15-6 win. Behind the serving of Gigi Alpenia (3 aces) and the passing of sophomore Alecia

Bremer, the Falcons easily handled the Hornets for the second time this away over 60% of her sets.

"Laurie Erickson and Nancy Weling an upset.

hitting for the game.

hitting positions."

Mesa jumped out to a 14-2 lead in ference playoff spots, which set up a crucial meeting between the two schools last Friday. The Falcons entered the game one point ahead of the Pirates, and left the contest still a point up after battling to a 1-1 tie. The tie helped Cerritos, 5-1-3, more than Orange Coast as the Pirates must now look for outside assistance if they hope to over take the Falcons. Ben Perez added to his league leading goal total as he put Cerritos ahead 1-0. The Pirates tied it 1-1 only to see Sanchez give the Birds a 2-1 halftime lead, Orange Coast tied the game once again at 2-2 on a corner kick early in second half. The game remained 2-2 until the final three minutes when both nute dramatics. Mark Wiggins, on an outstanding individual effort, dribbled his way past four players and drilled what looked to be the winning goal into the net from 18 yards out with just under three minutes to play.

However, Orange Coast came right back to tie it up for the third. time with one minute remaining to salvage the tie.

The Falcons took on Santa Ana yesterday (score not available at press time) and will draw a bye this Friday.

"The bye comes at a perfect time for us." stated Shimpock. "The extra time off won't help us get Grow back, but we have a lot of prayers with other minor injuries and this will help us to recuperate down the

OUTSIDE MOVES-Cerritos tailback Tony Kemp uses a straight arm to get outside for extra yardage. Kemp gained 79 yards in 11 carries as the Falcons whipped the visiting San Diego

Mesa Olympians 33-21 for their. 15th Homecoming game win in 24

Runners take third in SCC finals; advance to So. Cal. championships

By KAREN daSILVA TM Sports Editor

In vesterday's South Coast Conference cross country championships held at Irvine Park, the Cerritos College women captured a third place finish and clinched a spot as one of the top four teams in the league to advance to the Southern Cal finals.

Caapturing the other three positions were first place Orange Coast with 27 points, second place Grossmont with 45 points and Santa Ana in a surprising clutch performance with 111 points that placed them fourth after previously finishing sixth in dual conference meets.

Placing second overall and leading the Falcons to victory in the three mile race was Penny Miller in the time of 18:29.4, her best performance in league competition. It was a team effort however in advancing to So. Cal as Cerritos (109 pts.) narrowly out ran Santa Ana and a fifth place Mt. SAC with 124

Key team efforts were given by Captain Julie Tison, Denise Rodriguez, Karen daSilva, Tina Luque, Loretta Jordan and pulling through in a big performance, Cathy Ledesma running her best race of the season.

The women will now prepare for So. Cal. competition where the top five teams will move on to the State Championships.

The dominating force at So. Cal will be the SCC squads who over the last three years have gone on to take the one-two positions in state. The main competition to break up this dominance will be Metropolitan league champs El Camino.

The men's team on the other hand was not up to the competition,

Although the combined effort was not successful, most members improved individually.

finishing seventh over the four mile

The men's effort is not as bad as it

According to coach Dave Kamanski, in any other league Cerritos would be a second or third place course.

seems.

Top Falcon runner for the men. Tim McIntosh ran an improved 21:17 to capture 20th place.

Teammate Mark Martinez, Phil Vialpendo, Kevin Dexter, and Robert Awana were grouped together over thirteen positions.

The first four finishers in the men's competition for the South Coast Conference championships were in order: Grossmont with 33 points, Orange Coast with 40 points, Fullerton with 108 points, and Mt. SAC with 114 points nipping a fifth place Santa Ana by two.

Herb Welch: An intense young man

By KEITH SHARON TM Assoc. Editor

Intensity and determination are intangible qualities that cannot be measured in life or athletics. But when measuring success in terms of lifetime achievements or athletic prowess, both intensity and determination make major contributions. A solemn figure sits alone in the nearly empty weightroom. His back rests squarely against the blue padded cushion that forms the base of the bench press. Above his head looms a dangerously large amount of cold steel, a barrier between weakness and strength, an obstacle.

Within his own small world he concentrates. Raising the bar above his muscular chest, he begins slowly and precisely dipping and pushing the heavily weighted bar.

Tension builds throughout his body until he reaches the point of exhaustion. Upon completion he rolls from the bench, and dragging his crumpled and gasping body moves quickly to the next exercise.

Herb Welch is a student here at Cerritos College, but above all, he is a football player.

Rarely seen on campus (except for class hours), Welch spends most of his time trying to improve his football ability. He is one unique young man who possesses a great level of intensity as well as remarkable determination.

"I don't feel like I'm that good of a player and working out helps me a lot," said Welch modestly of his own ability. "I can't imagine somebody else putting in as much time in the weightroom."

Welch stands at a shade under six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds, but he did not always have the good size that he now possesses. In junior high, they wouldn't let him play football because, as Welch says, "I was just too small." He entered high school at five feet one inch, 105 pounds. It was there, at Warren High in

Downey, that Welch developed the hard working habits that have carried over into his college career.

"We had a great time lifting at Warren," Welch said. "It wasn't like just going in the weightroom and pushing the iron around." An all-CIF athlete at Warren, Welch played in the 605 all-star football game and them opted for the University of Wyoming. Coaching changes and personal problems hampered Welch's dream of big time football so he packed his bags and headed home. He laid off football for a year, but then came to Cerritos and ran track in the spring of 1980. Coach Frank Mazzotta, formerly of Warren High, persuaded Welch to come out for football.

"He (coach Mazzotta) was here and he was just as nice to me as he was before I left," Welch said of his coach. Welch's accomplishments in his first year of college football included a Falcon record 81-yard punt return and a selection to the all-conference In track, he was a member of the record breaking 400 meter team as well as a blazing 100 meter man. He has been clocked at 10.4 for the 100 "I was really excited about that (10.4)," said Welch. "Each year since high school I have continued to improve." Hard, intense work may be a good explanation of Welch's success. And he seems to attack other facets of life with the same determination. Welch is a B plus student, and feels strongly about religion, though he is not a

"I'm like that (intense) in everything I believe in," explained Welch. "I'm Baptist and believe very strongly. But just like I don't push my football on everybody, I don't preach to everybody either. I don't think you should keep it to yourself, but if somebody wants to know they'll Welch enjoys a secure and happy home life with a younger brother and two sisters. He doesn't smoke or drink because of the adverse effects it has on his body. "If you ever drop a piece of meat into a carbonated beverage, you'll see what I mean," said Welch. It has been somewhat of a slow year on the football field for Welch, but he showed signs of breaking the "slump" two weeks ago when he broke his own punt return record and enjoyed an excellent game against "We're (the Falcon team) just coming around," offered Welch. "I'm very typical of the rest of the team." Now being recruited by major colleges, Welch is planning to continue his football career on a larger scale, possibly in the Pacific 10 Conference. "Berkeley, UCLA, Washington, Oregon, and the Arizona schools have all shown interest." Welch said.

"I like UCLA because they play my kind of football.'

He is a team man that has outstanding individual capabilities. He is a loner that stands out because of his aggressive nature. But above all, he is an intense and determined football player.

Poloists hold first despite 'sloppy' play

By DARREN HINSLEY TM Staff Writer

The Cerritos College poloists kept their hold on first place, along with Santa Ana, harpooning Mt. San Antonio and San Diego Mesa in last week's South Coast Conference play.

The Falcons improved their league record to 6-1, identical to that of Santa Ana. Cerritos had little trouble disposing of Mt. SAC 14-8, or S.D. Mesa 18-7, but head coach Pat Tyne still was not totally satisfied with the team's effort. "We're making some dumb mistakes and we are now in a situation where there is no time for Type was referring to his team's match with Orange Coast yesterday, (score not available at press time) and the showdown with Santa Ana at Santa Ana on Friday.

'We have good players on our team, but they must now work together. They know what they have to do to win our conference. We don't have the best talent but with a total team effort we can win it all."

In what could be dubbed as a grudge match, the Falcons got the better of the Mt. SAC Mounties 14-8. Scott Harvey collected four goals to pace Cerritos. Steve Peralta and Louie Martinet both added three for the Birds, while Kurt Kilton scored twice. Ted Tyanaka and Rick Garcia also tallied in the win. Cerritos racked up their fifth consecutive win and fourth in succession during league, overwhelming San Diego Mesa 18-7. The contest was never in doubt as the Falcons jumped out to an early

5-0 lead. The balanced Cerritos attack saw the Falcons score ninegoals in each half with eight different players scoring. Scott Harvey once again led the way tossing in six goals. Louie Martinet had his second three goal outing in as many games, while Kurt Kilton also threw in three. Steve Peralta scored twice, with

Ted Tyanaka, Jeff Towns, Steve Zelambo, and Jeff Jordon each adding a goal. The Falcons travel to Santa Ana

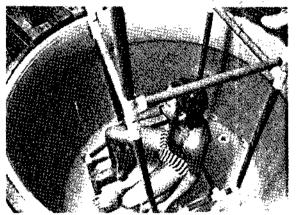

Friday to play the only team that has been able to blemish their conference record. The Dons defeated Cerritos earlier in the year 11-9 at Cerritos.

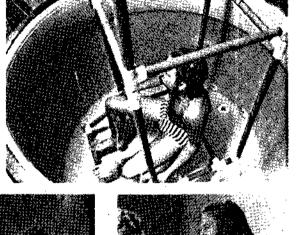

The Falcons will try to level their seasonal series with Santa Ana and tighten their hold on a conference championship.

FITNESS TESTING - (left to right) In Cerritos College's new physical fitness lab trainer Steve Navarro takes Leonard Schmidt's blood pressure. Lab tech Kevin LeDuff explains the purpose of the immersion tank. Kevin Kochemo is emersed for body fat test. Women students take a bike ride to record their stress level. Kochemo connects for ECG.

TM Photos by GABRIEL WURZLER

Cerritos College joins the craze; opens Falcon Fitness Academy

By KAREN da Silva TM Sports Editor

The physical fitness craze has been sweeping across the country over the last decade, growing in numbers with each passing year.

Within the last five years, America's obsession with grunting and groaning itself into physical perfection has reached the community college level in the forms of "par courses" — a half to mile-long run with various exercise stations throughout, and physical fitness labs designed for the student to discover his fitness level and improve on it in a gym situation.

Cerritos College joined the fitness bandwagon three years ago when Richard Juliano took over as head of the Physical Education department.

Juliano brought with him plans to revitalize a then lagging PE department. His plans became a reality this fall with the installment of a nine par Vita course and the fitness lab situated at the end of the women's locker room.

The equipment involved in the class includes ergometers (stationary bikes), a weighing tank and a highly advanced electrocardio gram

It took Juliano almost two years to sell the administration on the class. The format of the 16 week session is to first, obtain a medical history and to discover the student's fitness level, then, to advise him on a personalized program for improvement, and finally, to test for this improvement.

The physical fitness class itself, PE 30, is available for one unit (two hours), or two units (four hours) with flexible hours.

Part of the curricula of the course is an hour lecture once a week on nutrition and other helpful fitness guidelines given by trainer Steve Navarro.

Cerritos' physical fitness class is the most expensive in the area charging $15, other junior colleges charge $10.

The reason behind Cerritos' high prices - although private testing of this caliber cost upwards of $200 is the advanced electrocardio gram unit with doctor surveillance.

With a push of a button and connection of the phonogram, the student's heartbeat is recorded and wired to a group of medical doctors in San Francisco where a doctor analyzes it before sending it back to the patient via the postman.

Juliano claims the $9 (taken out of the original $15 fee) required for the consultation is "well worth the price.'

According to Juliano, a 69 year old woman student discovered as a result of the ECG she was over exerting herself and heading for heart trouble.

Since the doctor's discovery, she has curtailed her exercise and consequently adjusted her heart beat.

Although Cerritos' fitness lab is still in its infant stages, it is almost at the same level of those established at other community colleges a couple of years ago.

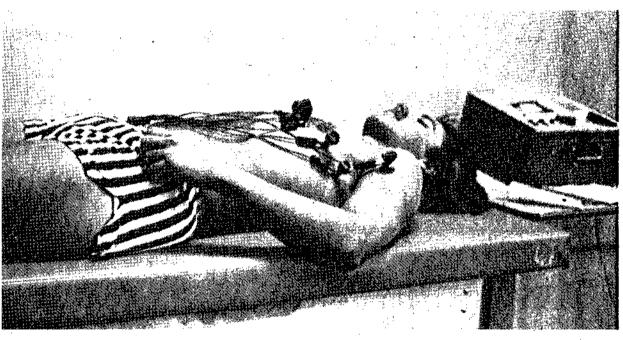

Department head Juliano feels Cerritos' progress is due to the observation and avoidance of other schools' mistakes.

In planning for the lab, Juliano. traveled to other successful fitness programs, among them Orange Coast College, one of the first in the OCC's fitness lab, established in the fall of 1978, boasts the latest equipment and the largest enrollment yet this past semester.

Student interest has been so great that last December OCC moved its fitness lab to a bigger facility to accommodate the growing registra-

Cerritos figures for a big success also, and Juliano has already hired a student technician to assist himself and Navarro for the second nine week session of the semester to begin Nov. 16. Registration for the course is Nov. 10 through Nov. 16.

FRESHMAN X-COUNTRY STAR

Miller rewrites Falcon record books

By KAREN daSILVA TM Sports Editor

Freshman Penny Miller put on her Nikes in mid September and did what no one else has ever done in the history of Cerritos College - she ran past every Falcon cross country record in the books.

Miller, a Downey High graduate, didn't really know what to expect of the competition at the junior college level, and for awhile it looked like she wouldn't expect anything.

"After last year in high school, I just wanted to give it up," she said in reference to her third place finish in the CIF X-country finals where she felt she could have done better.

But with persuasion from her father, Penny came to Cerritos Col-

Women's x-country coach Gary Gaudet who had followed Miller's career at Downey said he had little doubt in her capabilities. "I knew she was good and knew what she could do," he said.

Miller's college debut was at the Fresno Invitationals where she placed fourth overall out of a field of over 100 and established herself as a dominating force in the South Coast Conference.

Next came the league opener on the toughest course in the conference, the mountains of Mt. San Antonio. The switchbacks, hills and smog proved a hard but surmountable obstacle as Miller set her first of four school records.

And on she ran to Falcon record times at La Mirada (Cerritos' home turf), Santa Ana and Fullerton before a strain in her knee sidelined her from postseason competition at the Mt. SAC Invitationals over a week ago.

The question now is, is her knee sufficiently healed for her to run well in the conference championships? Miller and Gaudet say it is.

She is back to her regular workouts of 75 miles per week. Miller is not limited to cross country though. She also plans on running 1500 and 3000 meters in track. "It's hard to say where she'll fit in. Based on this (x-country) she'll be one of the better ones," stated Gaudet credits Miller's success, which he feels is the best in Cerritos College history to three things.

Gaudet who also coaches the track

First, he points out that her background was in a good high school program. Second, "Her technique is good," said Gaudet. "She knows when to press and when to run hard." Finally he commends Miller herself. "Penny's not afraid to work by any stretch of the imagination." But if Miller is so good, why is she running at a junior college?

"I just felt I wasn't ready to compete at that level," she admits, but plans to run at a university after completing her two years at Cerritos. "I needed the experience."

PENNY MILLER

When asked how much Miller can: improve for next year after her record-breaking season this fall, Gaudet replied, "I think she has the potential to be a world class runner. She's just learning what it's all about. She only ran x-country twoyears in high school, a relatively short time for a long distance runner. Barring any injury, she'll run

Although the life of Penny Miller currently revolves around running, : she is not interested in a career as a professional runner — a new and 3 alluring field.

Miller's career goals are to be a 2 physical therapist and possibly coach on the side.

If scholarship opportunities arise at the end of her years at Cerritos, as they are likely to, her decision will rest on how good of a physical therapy program the school offers as opposed to their running program. "It's more important to me," commented Miller.

But for now Miller is content with the life of a runner.

Gridders roll in homecoming

(Continued from Page 4) statistically. This fact was evident as the Olympians scored with quickness and ease on two drives in the Mesa's second TD came after they retained possession on an apparent fumble recovery by the Falcon's Kirk Jellerson. Officials gave the Olympians the ball at the Cerritos 43. The drive only took seven plays with quarterback Paul Berner keeping for the final yard and the touchdown.

Cerritos tied the game at 14 with time running out in the first half. Tailback Johnson capped the 56 yard drive as he broke outside for a five yard score.

The Falcons took the lead for the first time on their first march of the second half. Using a wide variety of perfectly timed passes, Cerritos moved 79 yards on 16 plays. It was Johnson again romping 12 yards on a draw play for his second TD and a 21-14 Falcon advantage.

The seesaw battle was tied for the third time at 21 when Berner dove for the TD with 1:26 remaining in the third quarter.

Cerritos scored what would prove to be the game winner early in the fourth period. The key play of this possession came when Corwin hit Hill for 38 yards. Johnson's third touchdown, a one yard sweep, proved to be too much for the visiting Olympians.

Cerritos added an insurance touchdown late in the game when Corwin slipped a tackle and raced 12 yards making the score and the final Corwin finished his brilliant night with 18 completions in 29 attempts for 298 yards and two touchdowns on the ground. Kemp and Johnson rushed for 79 and 72 yards respectively.

MESA CERRITOS

SCORING
MESA -- Aumoeualogo 8 yard run (Ritcher kick)
CERR -- Corwin 1 yard run (Saavedra kick)
MESA -- Berner 1 yard run (Ritcher kick)
CERR -- Johnson 5 yard run (Saavedra kick)
CERR -- Johnson 12 yard run (Ritcher kick)
MESA -- Berner 1 yard run (Ritcher kick)
CERR -- Johnson 1 yard run (Ritcher kick)
CERR -- Corwin 13 yard run (kick failed)

TEAM STATISTICS First downs Rushes-yards Passing yards eating can be a real struggle between classes.

So when you do grab a snack...grab a milk.
Milk fits any food. Any schedule.
From instant pudding to 3 minute eggs.
Twenty-four hours a day. there's nothing like something with Milk.

Sometimes

When the only thing you can squeeze between English and German is a Danish...

Opinion

Editorials • Letters • Columns • Features

Unsigned editorials are the responsibility of the Talon Marks Editorial Board. Other views are solely those of the author of the article and are not to be considered opinions of the Talon Marks staff, the editorial board, the advisor, the Cerritos College administration, or the Board of Trustees.

Wednesday, Nov. 4, 1981

Sharing the blame

Joining a campus organization means getting involved and not letting the full load of responsibility fall on the shoulders of one or two members, and/or

Several campus clubs as of late have gotten into some touchy situations because they haven't been all too prudent with outlined handbook procedures. Standard procedures should be followed closely for the benefit of everyone involved in the club, especially the one(s) doing the most work and seeing that

All too frequently, the most criticism comes from those who do the least. It's evident that there will always be someone who will find something to criticize, whether or not criticism is warranted.

However, those holding a position of authority in an organization should be hesitant about handling club matters without the advice and consent of others in the club. Discretion should not be lost in good intentions and enthusiasm. This is a very sensitive issue because, quite truthfully, a few club matters would never be taken care of if someone didn't take it upon themselves to do it. It is the responsibility of all parties involved in a club to make sure everything runs smoothly. The club advisor is legally responsible for the doings of the organization. His or her role is to give guidance, counseling, and direction to club members. It is an advisor's duty to be closely involved in the happenings of the club. A good advisor always keeps a watchful eye on club matters, even when it seems everything is running smoothly. Appearances can be deceiving. But no one person should have to hold the club together. Active members, especially club officers, should always have a grip on what is happening. If any club action seems questionable, it is the responsibility of the officers and the advisor to work together and straighten things out.

Communication lines should always be kept open. One or two members should not have to carry the entire club, or bear the burden of its success or failure as a meaningful organization. If those who are so anxious to criticize were as anxious to serve and participate, a lot of problems might be avoided.

Little red wagon gets Career Center rolling

By AGNES HERBOLD TM Staff Writer

The Career Guidance Center began with a little red wagon Pat Cook borrowed from Community Services.

Pat is the Director of the center now situated to the east of Admissions and just across from the cafeteria.

But in the fall of 1973, there was no "central" place, and Pat was faced with the task of getting her resource materials to the Career Guidance classes she taught.

This was no easy assignment because just "The Dictionary of Occupational Titles" alone is no light weight and not something to lug about under the arm.

In addition, she had magazines, books, films, and all types of resource materials she and a committee of counselors had selected for career

By JEANETTE NOCEDA

Parties -- you can take them or

But, after this weekend, I'd rather

My best friend and I planned a party for Oct. 30th. We thought it would be nice to have a little get-together for Halloween, but our little get-together turned into a concert of The gala event was to begin at 8 p.m., yet most individuals didn't

I asked several people why they

They wouldn't have been the first people to show because Robin and I keep them (as long as I have life in-

TM Feature Editor

you can leave them.

friends and unknowns.

show up until 9:30.

So, she got her wagon and became a "peddler of info." Interest grew as students saw this enthusiastic teacher dragging her "portable center" back and forth across the campus.

In the spring of 1974, a spot was found to house all the career information in a room where the EOPS offices are now. Still another move and eventually the Career Center was established in its present location in the fall of 1979.

It is a busy place and serves the whole community and all ages with up-to-date information on all types of job descriptions, along with the ry preparation and education needed for each specific occupation.

Pat aids with counseling in career, academic and personal problems, and Betty Gibbs, the Career Technician, and the ten peer counselors who work with her aim to help anyone who comes to the center.

Bovero award winner Philbrook keeps busy with novel, coaching Speech

By DAISY WARMAN TM Assoc. Feature Editor

During the PSCFA Spring Speech Championships Craig Philbrook won the Bovero Award. This award is given each semester to the best speaker in the nation.

'I was really happy to get it," he replied.

He went on to say that he believed he "couldn't have won the award without Pamela McKown."

Pamela was his debate partner and now works with Craig as codebate coaches under Donna Grossman, the Director of Forensics.

Craig's involvement in speech goes back to high school. "I went into speech for two reasons. One, mother was tired of arguing with me on what programs to watch or not to watch. Second, I knew a girl on the debate team."

What he really likes about speech is when "someone does unexpectingly well." Craig called to mind when in his junior year at Downey High School he faced an embarrassing moment.

It occurred at the La Mirada Speech Tournament. He was doing a comparison between Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford. He first garnered a "picket fence," (when you receive a superior first for all the rounds.) and then moved on to the semi-finals.

"It was weird," explained Craig. "I was getting their wives' names confused, like Betty Carter. I switched their names around. Gerald Ford became Gerald Carter."

Craig had no idea at the time what he was doing." "I thought it was the best speech I had given.' It wasn't until after he had finished a friend told him what he had done.

"I couldn't think of a way to explain to the judge what happened." Craig wasn't really sure himself.

Throughout the years, Craig has earned over 70 trophies and numerous plaques," He won them for debate, student congress, exempt, impromptu, persuasive and expos." He has them in his living room "lined from one wall to the other in five inch deep book cases.

But out of all those awards, one trophy stands by itself.

During Craig's senior year, at the USC Speech Tournament, he was doing original orator about the handicapped. He felt as though he wasn't doing good at all. But after each round, his speech coach kept encouraging him.

"I made it into the semi-finals, and then the final rounds," he commented.

He didn't believe that he would win anything. But he took a second place trophy. "It is my favorite trophy. I kept it separated from the others.

Craig graduated from Downey High in 1979.

He was born in West Covina, but has done a lot of moving around because his father worked for the telephone company.

Craig has lived in Norwalk, Standish, Susanville, Burney - he was here for a short time. His father had died suddenly, so his mother wished to "return down south" to San Dimas. He then ended up in Downey. "It's great to be in one place." he said.

Of all the places he has lived, he considers Susanville "home." "It was there that I started to make friends."

Writing is "the closest thing I have to a hobby."

He has written "articles and poetry" intended for publication, which were rejected, but says: "I'm not going to let that bother me . . . yet."

In the Cerritos College literary magazine for the Spring of '81, "Touchtones," Craig was named Creative Writing Honorarium.

Currently, Craig is working on a novel about "a house I used to live in that people say is haunted." Someone had "committed suicide in the house. This always seems to intrigue people." From this, they have concluded the house must have a ghost. "And use that ghost as a scapegoat for their own failings."

CRAIG PHILBROOK -TM photo by D. Tait

Craig related that his favorite author is Richard Brautigan, a writer of modern fiction. "He writes things that could never really happen." His favorite work by Brautigan is "The Abortion." Craig confessed to be a "compulsive collector."

In his room, he has "an old Coca-Cola Machine, an unfinished wood books, old milk cases, a shopping cart." That he found miles from any

He has signs in his room, like: "No Exit, and Closed, Come Again."

"It's a mess, a creative mess."

Speaking about this year's speech team, Craig said: "It's different from other teams" in learning, work and competition. He believes the team has "great potential."

"I'm proud of the Baker Brothers." (The Bakers, Robert and Russell received a first place at Cal Poly Pomona Tournament for a Duo Interpretation. They also got a picket

As for the debate team, Craig says that they have "unlimited potential."

He considered coaching debate a

"Sometimes in the rush of things, either here in the Squad Room, or back home writing, I get a little crabby with the debators, but I don't mean to be. I want them to do well." Craig described the Speech Department as "precious, but as in valuable, worthy, great, ... you want to treasure it."

Craig is against giving words of advice since people seldom follow it. If he had to give advice, for example on speech, it would be, he said, "To be a little suspicious of other's words of advice. You usually have to make the last mile yourself."

Just recently, Craig was appointed as the Commissioner of Fine Arts. At first he was "struggling" with his new position. "I was finding out that time is what you make it." Craig has noticed that there seem to be some "apathy" here at CC concerning fine arts.

He spoke with Fred Fate of the Theatre Department, who related to him that "the student body doesn't support the plays.' I'm glad to be the Commissioner of Fine Arts, In high school, I thought the student government was just a farce. My understanding of it is better, I see it as an experiment."

On philosophy, concerning life, Craig said: "Life is what we make it, but there's not enough vocational classes to tell us how to make life."

Craig Philbrook has made his own life what it is today . . . without help from any "vocational classes."

Dieter calls for

plump revolution

Designer's Club to 'suit' status seekers

By JULIE GALLEGO TM Staff Writer

At 21, Jordache Sassoon is a man ted to the promotion of better dressing everywhere, and he's starting in Jordache has founded the school's first designer label club: Delta Gamma La Coste. The club is dedicated to the basic principles of "designer living," i.e., dress designer/seek status/ chase image. The reason for such a club?

"I felt out of the mainstream here I needed to know that there were others who feel as I do - that anything less than the best isn't living." Is a designer label always the best? "Do any but the best get their picture on a bubblegum card? "Why should they?

"Of course, there have been instances of fraudulent labels on certain jeans, but anyone who cares can tell the difference. In fact that's one of the criteria for entrance into Delta Gamma La Coste, the ability to distinguish between real Calvins and fakes.

"When we get fully organized, we plan to launch a campaign to stop such criminal practices and to abolish tigers as a cheap substitute for alligators."

Aren't there nobler, more altruistic causes in life? The effort to end world hunger, for instance?

"Who needs to eat? Most designers don't design for a person with more than a 30-inch waist anyway. Bell Blass does do designer chocolates, but he also does sportswear to work off the calories in.'

What is the Delta Gamma La Coste philosophy?

"We have a rather patriotic attitude. We believe in the right to Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness (and Status).

"We'd like to see Olympic competition in Designer Dressing, Status Seeking and Image Chasing. "Because, as far as we can see, they've all become great American traditions."

By MYRA MOORE TM Staff Writer

I have lost enough weight in the people — full grown.

I've felt this even more since returning to Cerritos as a full-time student this semester, and seeing all the "Slim Jim's and Jane's" around me.

Once, during my more active yoyoing times, I lasted six horrendous hours on a "fasting" diet before

I have eaten grapefruit until my teeth felt like I had coarse grit sandpaper on them.

I went on the "water" diet until my kidneys floated up to my chest cavity, ate eggs'til I cackled and spinach

'til my skin turned green. I've tried yogurt, cottage cheese, granola, salads, and the "drinking man's" diet.

It is not that these diets don't work - they do indeed. I just don't seem to have the necessary intestinal forti-I can't make it more than two or three weeks before I wave the white flag and beg embarrassingly for just I'd even walk a mile for a caramel. And, before you can spell "Hershey's Milk Chocolate," I've gained it all back.

one twinkie . . . the glimpse of a ding-

Maybe someday there will be a revolution by the pleasingly -PLEASINGLY - plumps against all these "Skinny Minnies and Mikes" on Campus. Then I can come out of the closet with my Cheetos, Doritos, R-r-ruffles that have r-rridges, and my "slightly" thick

The 'ups and downs' of being wisely prepared

By BARBARA KENT

TM Staff Writer Always be prepared

I'm driving to school, listening to the radio, the sun brighter than life itself, when I pass a billboard that tells me it's wise to compare mortuary costs. It's wise.

Like they know something you don't. Comparison shopping.

The plots they try to sell you. "We have a lovely view lot."

I'm probably not gonna do much viewing.

How do you decide who you're gonna be next to? Mom, or dad? Maybe in between. What about the rest of the family. I want to be with everyone. Maybe they could cram us in the same hole.

And like, what if it's a family plot?

My dad wants to go to the local cemetary so he can drop by the house once in a while.

But seriously, I always feel that preparing for something somehow gives it the right to happen. You know, buy life insurance today, die tomorrow.

If I'm not prepared for something I can pretend it's not going to happen. Elevators bother me. The minute I step inside one I always notice the phone on the wall. We all know what I pretend I'm in a phone booth. There's the sign that says If elevator stalls, DO NOT PANIC.

DO NOT PANIC. If you don't want to panic DO NOT

LOOK AT THE SIGN. There's another sign that says you have to have a license to operate an elevator. What do you do, take a test or What's the good in being prepared?

with my fingers. Then I'll panic, and finally, I'll start comparing mortuary costs.

showed up so late, and the response was unanimous, "I didn't want to be the first one there."

Talon Marks

Production and printing of Talon Marks is funded by the Associated Students of Cerritos College. Facilities and supervision are provided by College. It is produced by the students enrolled in the academic Journalism program,

PAUL SIMON • Managing Editor KEITH SHARON • Associate Editor

NEWS EDITOR • Kimberly Beaudry . . . CAMPUS EDITOR • Brenda Doyle . . . SPORTS EDITOR • Karen DaSilva . . . FEATURES EDITOR • Jeannette Noceda . . . CHIEF PHOTOGRAPHER • Dean Naka-

ASSOC. EDITORS - Irene Coelho and Pamela Mergen, News; Barbara Anderson, Campus; Daisy Warman, Features; Christina Per-

Perryman, Hart Ponder, Rruss Smith, Gayle Staley, Dan Tait, Gary Walker, Deborah Waltman, Gabriela Wurzler, Anthony Wallum, Barbara Kent.

tions and vacations by the Department of Journalism and Student Publications, C. Thomas Nelson, Chairman. Offices are located in Arts and Crafts (AC-42) Cerritos College, 11110 Alondra Blvd., Norwalk, CA 90650. Dr. Wilford Michael, President. Telephone (213) 860-2451, Ext. 376-377-378. Advertising rates will be sent on request. Talon Marks reserves the right to refuse any advertising or editorial matter in accordance with student publication and

Party attracts unknown goblins

Many of our friends came in great costumes. Some would have killed were already there.

you, and others, well . . . I could have killed. Let me give you some advice. If you are going to give a party in your home, make sure your mother doesn't have brand new tile in the kitchen. Most of the evening I had to keep an eye open to make sure nothing went wrong. The only problem occurred when one guy (who I didn't know even existed) dropped a bottle and it broke

PONCHO SANCHEZ PERFORM

Poncho Sanchez will perform in the Student Center, Tuesday, Nov. 17, at 11 a.m. He will be joined by trumpet player Sam Cracchiolo for an hour of music.

CERRITOS COLLEGE

WAYNE WURZER • EDITOR-IN-CHIEF C. THOMAS NELSON • Advisor

soon, Photography. ASST. FEATURE EDITOR - C. Cori Lopez. STAFF: Tim Allen, Barbara Eknolan, Julie Gallego, Agnes Herbold, Darren Hinsley, Jeff Marifian, Dave Meadors, Myra Moore, Willie Noboa, Angela

Talon Marks is published weekly except during holidays, examina-academic policy.

on the tile. By the time the bottle reached the ground, I had my suitcase packed and was ready to join the Foreign Legion. The only thing that stopped me from going was that the tile didn't break, or else at this pre-somewhere in Saudi Arabia.

The final guest left at 3:45 with a friend of mine and myself helping him do the Tango out the front door.

By 3 a.m. many of the guests were. still in the garage dancing everything from the Slam to the Latin Hustle.

Parties are great and you can have a lot of fun at them, but one final sent moment I would probably be

But as the night went on, things got a little better. By 1 a.m., 90% of the guests were in the garage doing the bunny hop to Adam and the Ants, and the other 10% were recuperating from all the partying.

piece of advice: 1) Don't be scheduled to work at 7 a.m. the next morning and 2) Make sure you have plenty of "Steve" name tags at your house.

By AGNES HERBOLD

It's everybody's perogative to phrase things as they wish --- just so they keep it clean -- so, here's an

"over-the-hill," displaced housewife senior citizen" throwing her "two

It is gripe-time for misused words.

Those of you who qualify, ask yourself, did you ever stop to think that when we are called the "overthe-hill gang," that means we've

And, sometimes it was a moun-

And that it took real effort and

And is nothing to be ashamed of?

... Pull up those boot straps and already made that climb.

TM Staff Writer

cents worth" in.

tain?

courage?

'Over hill' gang rocks out

Now how about that catchy title, "displaced housewife" Who says so? In my case, I know for certain that the house hasn't moved and I'm still a wife. So, what's all this commotion about? Along this same line, you've heard women complain that they are not married to the house, but to a man and the adjective or noun "wife" will do just fine, thank you. You'll hear clever little prattle about being on your "last leg."

Well, all God's children who were lucky issued two legs at birth and usually retain them, and the genius that coined the phrase must have had a problem with three or more

(Silly,...but humor me.)

Or, could "they" mean the last leg of a journey of Life?

Think back to the fun and adventure it was getting to this stage, and plan on the next "leg" being just as exciting.

Now, let's tackle that hateful utterance: SENIOR CITIZEN. Those two words stand out like a sore thumb.

Since when have we had grades...

are there freshmen, sophomore and

Oh no, just SENIOR CITIZENS. How about the title "seasoned" or 'experienced" citizen?

iunior citizens?

Or just lump us all together as "adult citizens."

... Enough "soapbox" now for the ol' rockin' chair.

that's for, right?

something?

If I ever get stuck in an elevator, I know exactly what to do. First, I'll try to pry the door open It's wise, you know?