CSEA gets 7.6% hike; benefits

By B MICHEL MILBANK
TM Editor-in-Chief

The Cerritos College employees are once again under contract with the District.

The Board of Trustees, in a special session Monday night, unanimously approved the contract proposed by Chapter 161 of the California School Employees' Association (CSEA) collective bargaining unit.

The proposal, as voted on by the collective bargaining unit last week, gave the group a 7.6 percent salary hike that is retroactive to Jan. 1 and kept the current medical package intact.

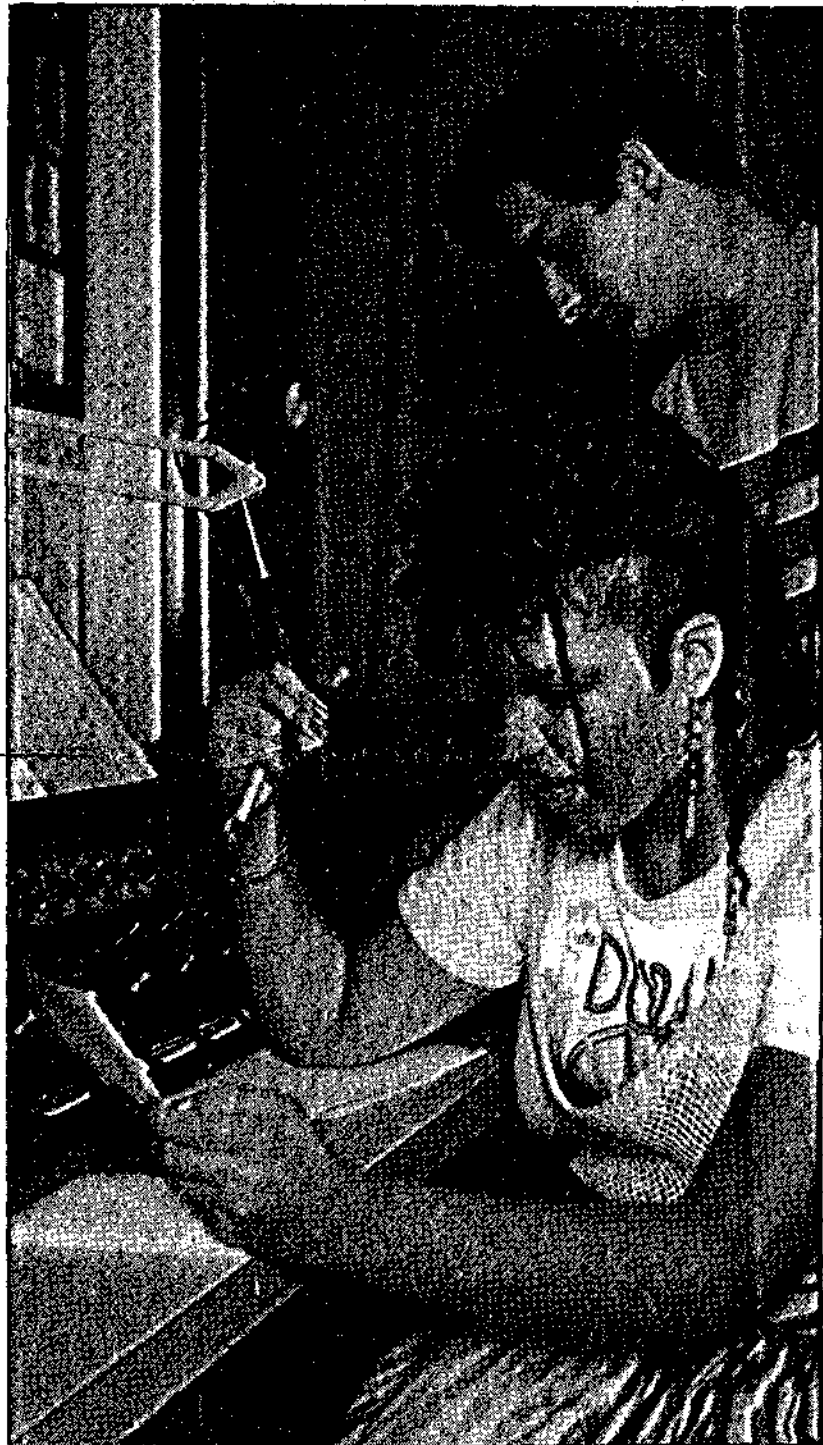

CSEA Board Representative John Steele said that the contract had been approved 60-3 during last Tuesday's balloting. The ratified bargaining position was presented to the Trustees Monday afternoon, and according to Steele before the executive session ended, he fully expected the contract to be accepted.

The Board members adjourned to executive session shortly after the 7:30 p.m. meeting got under way, and in the closed session decided the issue in 23 minutes.

"Once we finally got things settled as to where the bargaining unit members wanted us to go, it was pretty cut and dried," Steele said of the bargaining within the CSEA ranks.

"It was a pretty good debate," Steele added. "When you have proposals like we had and the people are fully aware of the ramifications of the proposals — their pros and cons — it comes down to a vote."

Trapp, Holland file against ASCC prexy

Fired Party Whip charges Tadesse in court with 'misuse of funds'

By TERRY SPENCER
TM Staff Writer

A hearing at which ASCC President Fittum Tadesse's student body membership will be challenged is scheduled before the ASCC Supreme Court on April 12.

A revocation of Tadesse's membership would force his resignation, since one must be a member of the ASCC to be its president.

The charges were filed yesterday by Senators Don Trapp and Brian Holland, who was fired last week as Party Whip by Tadesse.

Documents accuse Tadesse of four counts of "misuse of ASCC funds."

Efforts yesterday to contact Tadesse at his home and office by the Talon Marks were unsuccessful by press time.

This follows a Senate floor accusation by Vice-President Ray Vallejo that Dean of Student Activities Richard Robinson had "willfully and knowingly violated the ASCC constitution."

Vallejo charges that Robinson ordered two bills onto the Senate agenda that were submitted after the noon Monday deadline without the permission of Tadesse as outlined in the constitution.

Vallejo stated that he intends to take his case before the Board of Trustees.

The senate voted 28-1 not to support Vallejo before the Board; his lone backer being Ismael Salazar, President of MEChA.

The charges against Tadesse concern alleged misuse of money allocated to him to cover expenses on four occasions.

According to documents submitted to the court, Tadesse is alleged to have failed to file "proper receipts" to document his expenditure.

The major count against Tadesse concerns $100 given to him to cover any emergency outlays that he might have incurred while attending a community college funding protest in January.

The documents claim that Tadesse said that he lost the money along with his wallet in a Downey tax shop on January 5.

Holland charges that Tadesse did not pick up the money from the business office until January 6th and was in possession of his wallet in Holland's presence while in Sacramento on January 7th.

The report goes on to say that Tadesse then submitted receipts in March to account for the $100.

The other three counts include monies totaling $90 and in each case Tadesse is accused of failing to document his expenditures.

The court, by majority vote, can revoke Tadesse's membership, censure, or acquit.

According to Supreme Court Chief Justice Kevin Tyne, the hearing will be informal and will be closed to non-participants.

In addition Tadesse will not be

TM Assoc. News Editor

Help save a life on April 10 by donating blood at the Annual Red Cross Blood Drive to be held from 8:15 to 2 p.m.

Those who wish to make a donation should sign up in the student activities office or call Ext. 471 to sign up by phone.

Clubs can earn service points by giving blood. Awards for organizations donating the most blood will be presented at the Spring Awards Banquet.

Clubs must identify themselves when signing up to qualify for the service points.

Donors must weigh at least 110 lbs. and be between the ages of 17 and 66. Those on medication should inform the Red Cross before donating.

Giving blood is routinely painless and usually doesn't cause side effects, although some people may experience slight dizziness or nausea.

According to Coordinator of Student Activities Phil Houseman, "Last year the drive brought in approximately 90 people. This year, we'd like to get about 100 people to sign up." A special sign up session will be held tomorrow in front of the Liberal Arts Elbow Room.

VET VERIFICATION

Some ninety veterans will not be receiving their checks this month due to non-compliance with the Veterans' Administration's enrollment verification rules.

Enrollment verification cards for April are ready to be picked up, and are due no later than April 13.

Failure to comply makes the work harder for the Veterans' Affairs office, and disappointment for check recipients.

VETS EXTENSIONS

It is now possible for veterans to apply for an extension of their ten year eligibility period. This eligibility period sets the time a veteran can use his educational benefits. In order to qualify, the veteran must be from the Viet Nam era, and be unemployed or underemployed for the past six months.

For further information on how to apply to the VA for an extension, contact the Veterans' Office at Cerritos College at 860-2451, ext. 327.

Chancellor to ask senate for $100 million increase

By GERARD MOYA
TM Campus Editor

Chancellor of California Community Colleges Gerald Hayward announced to the Senate Finance Subcommittee that the community colleges will request an augmentation of approximately $100 million for the 1984-85 fiscal year.

In an introductory statement on the California Community College budget, Hayward expressed that the increase apportionment would provide for a second year of equalization as well as a modest level of growth for districts which did not decline in ADA during the 1983-84 fiscal year.

ADA (average daily attendance) is the funding mechanism used by the state to compensate high enrollment.

No distinction is made about the cost of offering courses. A course in tennis gets the same reimbursement as an offering in computer science, even though the latter is more expensive for the college.

Assemblyman Robert Campbell (D-Richmond) said it is urgent that the legislature find a better way to fund community colleges.

His concern that some academic courses are very expensive for a college to offer, the college often is tempted to drop them in favor of cheap physical education courses.

Differential funding along with matriculation are two major reform considerations.

Campbell is in favor of increasing presented with the evidence until the hearing.

Trapp said that the charges were not part of a personal vendetta towards Tadesse on his part.

"The reason we've brought these charges is his incompetence in the way that he is handling his job."

He added that "I personally think that knowing about some wrong doing and not doing anything about it is as bad as doing it yourself."

Vallejo is accusing Robinson of violating section 2.3212 of the by-laws that states that no legislation can be added to the senate's agenda after noon Monday without Tadesse and Robinson's approval.

"I check with the Senate Clerk every Monday at noon to see what bills have been submitted," Vallejo stated.

"On two occasions bills that were not with her then appeared on the agenda."

Both bills were Trapp sponsored legislation calling on Tadesse to reconsider his decision to move the Spring Awards Banquet from the Golden Sails Inn.

The second time I asked her who told her to put those bills on the agenda and she said Mr. Robinson."

He said "I then went to Fitsum and asked him if he had approved the addition of the bills and he said that he hadn't, and had specifically refused to add one of them."

"He let me down," Vallejo said, "He's here to advise us, not to break the laws and I demand an apology."

"I'm not going to lend credibility to his charges by commenting on them, other than to say that they are not true," said Robinson.

"It wouldn't serve anybody's best interest to make any other comment."

CSEA settles for 7.6% pay hike Benefit health package remains the same

The new contract, as approved by the Trustees, will run until Dec. 31, 1986. However, Steele stated that there is provision for discussing up to four topics of the contract on a yearly basis.

The contract re-openers are slated for Oct. 1, 1984 and 1985, and at those sessions salary, medical packages and one topic of each side's choosing can be discussed.

The current contract, based largely on the previous one which expired last Dec. 31, allows an increase of 7.6 percent "applied to every range and step of the 1982-83 Classified Unit Salary Schedule effectively retroactive from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1984." In addition, the employee's bargaining group may elect to take a paid recess in December at a penalty of one percent of the raise for that year.

A proposal to stretch the 10-11 month employee salary over a 12 month period was deleted from the contract because, at this time, it is not feasible for the County Superintendent of Schools payroll office to arrange such payments, Steele said.

The contract also containing a listing of Compensated Holidays for employees through Dec. 26, 1986. In 1984 and 1985, in lieu of an official observance of Martin Luther King Day, each employee will be allowed "one personal holiday of their choice." This will become an official observance of King's birthday on Feb. 20, 1986.

Another major change allows the 100 days of half pay for extended illness to commence after the "exhaustion of any other paid leave, holidays, vacation, or compensatory time." Previously, the 100 day period began on the first day of illness.

Steele also stated that the new salary could be put into effect as early as the April 10 pay period, providing all the necessary paperwork can be completed in time.

"Everyone is trying to get this (salary increase) into effect as soon as possible," he said.

According to Senior Account Clerk Sue Hogan, "there is a strong possibility that the new salary levels will be reflected in the April check."

The retroactive portion, for the period covering January and February, will be issued within 45 days — in accordance with the terms of the contract — according to both Steele and Hogan.

Birds pull out of spin with two straight wins

By MIKE HEINRICH
TM Sports Editor

After dropping a controversial 6-4 decision to Fullerton last week, the Falcon baseball team bounced back to sweep two games with Mt. SAC 3-2 on Thursday and a 10-inning, 4-2 thriller on Saturday.

The victories put Cerritos into fourth place with an 8-5 record, one game behind third place Golden West (9-4) and one game in front of fifth place Fullerton (7-6).

Yesterday the Birds played host to Cypress (2-11), score unavailable at press time, and will travel to the Charger home field tomorrow.

In the extra-inning victory over the Mounties Saturday, freshman Tony Rico picked up his first league win after picking up for Chris Garrett in the fifth who had control problems.

Dave Serrano got the save as he retired the Mounties in order in the bottom of the tenth.

The Falcons were down 2-1 going into the top of the ninth when third baseman Craig Worthington, who is batting at a .400 clip and leads the team with 12 RBI's, led off with a single.

Right fielder Alan Stankiewicz walked for the third time, while Alex Trevino bunted for a basehit to load the bases with no outs.

Cagers defeat Compton in strong 2nd half bid

By MARK TODD
TM Staff Writer

After Friday's 58-55 victory over Compton, the Lady Bird cagers are currently 9-7 overall putting them at fifth place with a 4-4 record in South Coast Conference action.

The next game for the Lady Birds will be tonight against Mt. SAC. Although the Birds won their first (and only) game against Mt. SAC with a 17 point margin, the game was not an easy win.

"The Compton game was a good win because the girls were positive and operated with some unification," said Head Coach Karen Peterson.

After a slow start in the first half with only 19 points, the Birds became more fired up in the second and pounded out 39 points to give them the victory.

Main contributors to the win, according to Peterson, was a good defense and a strong showing at the free throw line (78 percent overall success).

High scorers for Cerritos included Ellie Itkoff, forward/center with 14

Men's tennis hosts leaders

By MARIA RIVERA
TM Staff Writer

Men's tennis hosts tough Mt. SAC tomorrow at 2 p.m. as the season winds down to three more games.

The Mounties are the top team in the league.

Cerritos, after dropping recent matches to Fullerton and Orange Coast, is 0-6 in the conference and 2-9 overall.

The Falcons' most consistent player, Bob Mayson, is the No. 3 player in the league.

The Fullerton match ended 5-4 with the Birds making one of their strongest bids this season. Mayson and Pat McConnell were singles winners in the outing. Coach Ray Pascoe said he felt the locals should have won. "It was a close one, but not close enough," he noted.

Women netters looking for win

By MONA MENDOZA
TM Staff Writer

Women's tennis visited Cypress yesterday, and travel to Mt. SAC tomorrow in an effort to get back on the winning track before the season is over.

Their conference mark is now 1-5, following recent losses to Fullerton and Orange Coast.

Tomorrow's match starts at 2 p.m.

The team is working on its doubles game in an effort to pick up some extra points, according to head coach Tom Spence.

Second baseman Mike Benjamin grounded into a double play that brought home the tying run.

Carlos Gonzales, pinch hitting for catcher Bill Mosiello struck out to end the Falcon ninth.

With the score knotted at two runs a piece, leftfielder Kenny Williams and first baseman Ron Ewart lashed one-out basehits.

Centerfielder Kevin Bootay moved the runners to second and third with a ground out on a hit-and-run play.

Next to the plate was Worthington, who proceeded to drive in both runs which gave the Falcons their 4-2 victory.

On Thursday, the Birds pulled off a 3-2 nailbiting win against the same Mt. SAC squad.

Dean Yamashita pitched a gem for his second successive victory as he leads the team in overall ERA with a 1.85 mark.

Yamashita pitched all nine innings, giving up two earned runs including a seventh inning homerun.

"Yamashita's performance really picked us up. He's pitched real well in the big games," commented head coach Gordie Douglass.

The game was tied going into the bottom of the ninth as Quinn Mack led off with a walk and came around to score one out later with the winning run on third baseman Trevino's basehit.

Trevino went three for four including two RBI's and a triple. He has a .444 batting average in league and .480 overall.

Cerritos was down 6-2 in the bottom of the ninth and scored two runs with one out.

The bases were loaded for catcher Chad Squires who hit a sinking liner to left field that was apparently trapped. The umpire ruled it a catch and the left fielder threw out the Falcon runner at second who was running on the play.

It was a heartbreaking loss. If the play was ruled a trap, Cerritos would have tied the game at 6-6.

Dion Beck had another sub-par performance giving up five earned runs in seven innings.

Leftfielder Williams stood out for the Falcons with a four for five performance. He had four consecutive hits.

"We broke down in some area in our losses. The pitchers have not thrown well in tough situations and as a team we haven't played well, even though we've been in every game."

By MELANIE GREY
TM Staff Writer

In a meet that went down to the final two events last Friday, the women's track team increased their dual meet record to 4-1 with victories over Orange Coast (69-57) and Compton (99-8). The men, on the other hand, split their dual meet with the Pirates and the Tartars with a 124-21 win over Compton and a 65-80 loss to Orange Coast.

With the lady birds holding on to a narrow 60-52 lead with only two events remaining, the Falcons had a clean sweep of the 3000 meters as Katrina Kwiczen, Vicky Garcia and Amy Skibel took first, second and third, respectively, to add the last nine points to the Falcon's score.

The final event, the 1600 relay, was won by Orange Coast to make the final score 69-57.

The ladies travel to number one rated Mt. SAC Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Sheila Frye totaled a team high of 29 3/4 points as she competed in the high jump, 5'0"; long jump, 18'3"; 200 meters 25.4 and the relays.

"Many of the girls turned in their finest performances yet, all scoring valuable points down the stretch," said Coach Gene Martin.

For the men, leading the way was Keith McCoy, who showed he was a top class sprinter by taking first in both the 100 meters (10.3) and 200 meters (21.0) to set a new meet record. Dwyane Nash picked up consecutive runner-up spots in the 100 and 200 meters with scores of 10.9 and 22.0, respectively. Glen Baboka took third in the 200 meters at 22.5.

Anthony Stevens ran an outstanding 14.4 in the high hurdles and tied the school record first set in 1965 and tied in '79.

A good showing was put in by Donald Champion as he took third in the 1500 meters with 4:06.8.

The Falcons also scored first and second place points in the high jump when Sydney Johnson leaped a 6'6" and Matt Fitzgerald, a 6'4".

According to Men's Assistant Coach Bob McGuire, "There are a number of potential and even likely league champions if a high level of concentrated effort is maintained throughout the rest of the season."

The fine art of living

*These given, what more need I desire
To stir, to soothe, to elevate?
What nobler marvels than the mind
May in life's daily prospect find,
May find or there create?*
—Wordsworth

As a society, we have entered a new age, an Age of Technology.

And to exist in this world of our creation, we have to learn certain things — we have geared our education to technology.

Yet we often forget, as Montaigne said, "It is not a mind, it is not a body that we erect, but it is a man, and we must not make two parts of him."

Therefore, we need our arts — it is our other half.

For without it, to paraphrase Samuel Johnson, we are learning how to reason and forgetting how to live.

The arts provide humanity, in a machine's world of cold logic. Yet, like automation and computerization, our entertainments have become mechanical and easier to absorb.

Film, television, music, even reading matter, has sought to entertain but they lack a key ingredient — they entertain without participation, they do not challenge us to imagine. It is presented to absorb in bulk.

The arts give us a chance to see with an inward eye, through the creator, an aspect of life, and when at its finest form, it captures our imagination.

History has given us a beginning. Van Gogh, Monet, Picasso, Tenneyson, Emerson, McKuen, Beethoven, Mozart, John Williams, Shaw, Shakespeare, Oscar Wilde, Steinbeck, Hemingway, Salinger — just a few who have enriched our lives with their creations, challenged us to feel, to think, to imagine.

They will be remembered in generations to come.
What shall we contribute?

ASCC: danger signals up

The biggest railroad in California may not necessarily be the Southern Pacific.

The attempt by ASCC Senators Don Trapp and Brian Holland to remove President Fitsum Tadesse from office may yet qualify for the title.

They have filed charges with the ASCC Supreme Court against Tadesse, claiming "misuse of ASCC funds."

These charges may very well need to be heard, if for no other reason than to be up front and clear the air, but is it the judicious time to go to court?

The by-laws of the ASCC are quite clear in that student government officials are to be accused by a two-thirds vote of the Senate before they are tried by the Judicial Branch.

Granted, the by-laws also allow a student to file charges against another student directly with the Court.

But there are those who feel that the intent of this clause is mainly for Joe Student vs. Fred Falcon, not for government officials who are adequately covered elsewhere in the by-laws.

The by-passing of the Senate, by two of its own, looms as a highly questionable — if not unconstitutional — circumvention of the Legislature's power of impeachment.

We're not all that convinced that an end run, so to speak, is the wisest and fairest call here.

We would hope that Senators Trapp and Holland — and their supporters — will seriously consider their track, even to the point of withdrawing their charges from the court and placing them before the Senate where they would seem to belong.

If not, the Senate should consider doing all in its power to derail this steaming locomotive — in order to uphold and guard its exclusive impeachment power...no small responsibility.

Perhaps the constituency — remember them? — could best be served by both parties getting together on a level sidetrack and clearing the right-of-way.

Two trains on the same track rarely leave anybody involved unscathed....

Cash in on fashion; a creative alternative

By BARBARA EKNOLAN
TM Executive Editor

What do you have in common with Princess Di, Brooke Shields, Johnny Carson and Nancy Reagan?

You, too, are a consumer of the $100 billion fashion industry in the United States.

And if you are looking for employment with a future, the fashion industry is the largest U. S. employer in all manufacturing.

This is the fifth in a series of articles exploring today's job market. It is not intended to be all-inclusive, but will help the individual understand certain trends and aspects of the career field discussed.

The scope of the fashion business encompasses manufacturing, the raw materials industry, the accessories trades, the home sewing industry, retailing, merchandising, sales promotions, advertising and consulting services and marketing.

Just where you might choose to work depends on your personal attributes.

If you are visually creative, you would do well in design, display, advertising, photography, sketching for designers and in fashion information services.

Are you outgoing? Then you might excel in sales, public relations, or as a fashion coordinator, who might have to convince others about your ideas.

Possibly, you are a good organizer. Then your abilities might lie in managing retail stores, planning factory production or market research.

Lynda Banks, who works at a local retail store and is a part-time instructor of fashion merchandising at Cerritos, states a majority of jobs are in retailing.

There are retail service jobs that support fashion such as credit office positions, computerized information of sales, managerial and personnel.

According to Banks, the way to enter the retailing field is through merchandising courses and sales.

"The entry level is the selling itself," says Banks. "You have to be skilled at product knowledge and customer tastes in clothes."

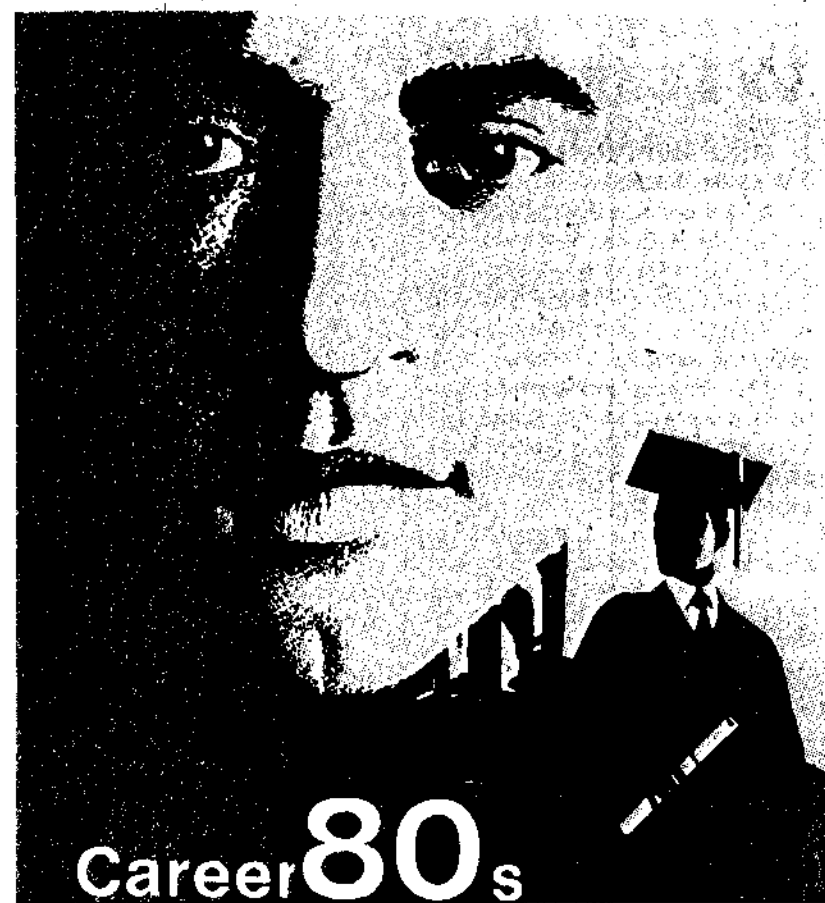

Although a degree is not necessary to work in retail, Banks feels, "The advantage of taking classes here is that you will advance more quickly."

Cerritos offers Fashion Careers 958. A Certificate of Achievement Program with a total of 32 units minimum, or an Associate in Arts Degree program.

Optional tracks include: Fashion Advertising, Fashion Coordinator/Stylist, Fashion Display, Fashion Reporter, Fashion Sales and Promotions, and Costume Construction Technician.

College graduates have a much easier time entering a buying career. Many stores have recruitment programs to find those with an aptitude for a merchandising career.

Buyers should have leadership and executive ability, and they must also have "people" skills.

Earnings range from $175 weekly, to a median salary of $25,000, and some buyers earn as much as $60,000 or more a year.

Three to four weeks of vacations are not unusual.

Another asset of being a buyer is that they often receive discounts or merchandise at cost.

Banks pointed out, "A great advantage in being in retailing is that your skills are needed all over the country. If you have to move, you can find jobs in most small and large cities."

"The job market is very good," said Banks. "Nordstroms is opening many new stores this year, Sears is expanding, as well as Mervyns."

Whether you choose the glamorous world of design, buying, public relations, or just remain a consumer, the world of fashion is where the action is.

KCEB gets transmitter; back on the air waves again

By CONNIE SAGER
TM Staff Writer

Turn to 550 on your AM dial and tune in to the "Alternative Source", KCEB, now being broadcast from the Cerritos College campus between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon Monday through Friday.

Station Manager Gary Greth describes KCEB Radio as the "Alternative Source" because it is commercial free.

"We will play a wide variety of music — unlike that offered by any other radio station," Greth stated.

"We will offer a very individual programming format, offering groups like U2 and Sparks to individuals like Neil Diamond; a little jazz, Rhythm and Blues, and Reggae," said Greth.

"We want to stay away from strictly Top 40," he added.

According to Greth, KCEB desires the input of their listeners so that the station can beat others to the hits, broadcasting songs before they become commercialized.

"We need the students to let us know what they want," Greth emphasized. "We're here for them. All DJs will be allowed to choose their own records and will accept requests," he added.

To request a tune, dial the request line at 860-2451, Ext. 330 or 350.

Features also being planned are parking lot reports, covering events on the student calendar, as well as a scheduled "Raw Hour", which will give local talent radio exposure.

All students are urged to drop off tapes and records in order to take advantage of this rare opportunity.

"Due to mismanagement in the past, Cerritos College was leary of reactivating KCEB again. But we are hoping for a good response from the student body and surrounding communities, which could expand our format and air time," Greth stated.

Greth, a Cal State Long Beach

senior, has been involved in the broadcasting industry for seven years. His experience in radio includes working at KNBR, KKIS and KDFM.

Assisting him in the operation of KCEB, will be the radio production students enrolled at Cerritos College.
