Board selection today

Race heats up for three four-year seats; one two-year

Today — Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1985 — is election day for the Cerritos College Board of Trustees.

With recent controversial actions of the current Board in the forefront of campus news the past several weeks, it promises to be one of the most watched elections in some time.

Up for grabs are three seats for a four-year term, and one two-year vacancy after Rich Goul resigned.

Ten candidates, including two incumbents, are going for the full tenure. Seeking the lesser seat are five hopefuls.

Current Board president Hazel Scotto is not seeking re-election.

The new Trustees will be seated Dec. 9.

Fallout from the Board stands, and individual member positions, on lottery ticket sales on campus and ASCC fund collection practices has created widespread controversy.

Several Board members, those seeking re-election as well as those coming up for balloting in two years, have been scurrying about the campus and community clarifying and defending their positions.

Newest issues to be spotlighted are the proposed construction of a second story on the Bookstore Building for a Student Union, and lack of profitable management of the Bookstore itself.

For this special edition, TALON MARKS called and/or left messages for all the candidates to submit statements. However, some who are noted at the end were not able to comply with our deadline.

CANDIDATE STATEMENTS

MARK DURANT, Norwalk, Cerritos College campus security officer:

"I've been saying the same things for two years. Now that I'm running for office, people are listening to what I have to say.

"All the speeches I have given have been consistent which hasn't been the case with the incumbents.

"If people don't like the way things are they have the opportunity to change them by getting out to vote."

HELMUT K. SCHNEIDER, Downey, dispatcher for Cerritos College campus security:

"I'm definitely in favor of accepting lottery-generated money for Cerritos College. It would be foolish not to accept it.

"I am also in favor of selling the lottery tickets at the bookstore."

ADA STEENHOEK, Downey; Incumbent:

"Ada Steenhoek says that she has chosen to seek re-election to fulfill the following priorities:

1. To support the Evaluation Report recommendation to provide a suitable student lounge for students this year.
2. To bring about a better retirement program for the staff.
3. To work to bring more visibility to the campus and thereby increase enrollment.
4. To encourage industry to wed with Cerritos College to train students, enabling them to be hired with industry at the completion of the program.
5. Encourage a policy regarding staff morale. Develop human resource accounting.
6. Attend to the eight issues addressed to the College Board by the Accreditation Team.

"When you cast your vote for me you have my commitment that I will continue to adopt policies that will keep Cerritos College the top community college in the state."

EDWIN REAMES, Cerritos; Electrical Contractor:

"Basically, I've been satisfied with the college, but I'd like to see the community get more for its money.

"I think we should have more vocational and technical courses at the college.

"I attended night school at a community college for six years, and I think it's important to have more trade courses for us old folks."

BOB EPPLE, Norwalk; Incumbent

"I am very concerned that the Board of Trustees maintain its direction of being a policy-setting board as opposed to being a managing board. We may be going too far in the direction of day-to-day management of the college.

"I am in favor of the students making their own choices (concerning Lottery sales on campus).

"I'm not too concerned about the college's declining enrollment. I think it goes in cycles, and enrollment will go up again in a couple of years."

GEORGE GRISWOLD, Downey; Businessman

"I think that the Board should be working more closely with the Administration. Neither the Board or the Administration seems to be concerned enough with the needs of the students."

"I'm concerned about solving the problems involved with the sale of lottery tickets.

"I support changing the current method of charging $50 for six units; I'm sorry that Bill 979 was vetoed by the Governor.

"I think that Board members should stop allowing their personal opinions to influence Board action. They (the Trustees) should be more objective."

PAUL MANGAN, Cerritos; Businessman

"My main concern is declining enrollment. I think we're between 'baby booms' and in order to maintain present faculty, staff, curriculum and not reduce services or go to voters for tax increase, we have to increase enrollment now. When the next crop of potential students come of age, we'll be okay.

"I propose we go into the community (high schools and job market) and actively recruit people that are not considered traditional students. Convince them that six units will enrich their lives, increase their job potential.

"Now that the economy has picked up, more high school graduates are going directly into the work force. I believe that, in order to reverse the pattern of declining enrollment, we should go directly to the employers in the community and ask their help in identifying potential students."

Lottery sales: "If the ASCC wants to sell lottery tickets they should be able to do so. There is no reason why they shouldn't, and they should have every penny of the profit from sales to use for the student body."

Board action: "Although what the Board did was legal, I don't think the way in which they stopped the sales was appropriate. It is evident that the Board got involved in parliamentary gamesmanship."

GEOFFREY G. SMITH, Bellflower; Businessman

"The college has a lot to be proud of. I would like to see its high standards maintained.

"I would like to see a program that would increase the competition between the community college and private vocational training schools.

"I think that the job placement program at the college should be developed more fully. After training and certifying students, we should help them get into jobs.

"As we continue to work with the articulation process, I think we'll do well.

"I'd like to see that the student body gets its proposed Student Center, and get back the control that has been lost to the Administration.

"I think I work well with people; not only with members of the Board and Administration, but also with the student body, classified staff, and faculty."

BOB VERDERBER, Downey; Professional Engineer/Educator

"Junior colleges provide a niche in the education system not filled by the Cal State or U.C. schools. Everyone from 18 to 81 should have the opportunity to become gainfully employed or have some area of satisfaction from the community college."

STEWART LUCE, Bellflower; Program Planning Manager

"When students leave Cerritos College, I would like them to be job ready whether they are going on to four year colleges or to job positions."

RALPH KEPHART, Bellflower; Businessman/College Instructor

"I'm concerned with the apparent lack of central authority at the state level which makes planning impossible — as we can't see what's coming at us, we don't know what to plan on. There is no direction coming from the Chancellor's Office, just confusion.

"I would like to see industry support the junior colleges in that they become aware of the industrial classes and opportunities provided at the schools and get involved by supporting them in enrollment and instruction.

"I would like the Board of Trustees to take a leadership role, not a governing one, and come out with a clear and concise policy with a clear direction.

Psychological Services offers seminar on depression Nov. 14

By MONICA CURI
TM Staff Writer

Thanksgiving and Christmas are times for happiness and cheer, but for some people it's a time of depression.

This is the topic that will be discussed on Nov. 14 from 11-12 a.m. in the Board Room. Speakers Patrick O'Connor Ph.D. and Richard Schnell from the Rio Hondo Community Mental Health Center will discuss depression and its effects.

Depression is an insidious and overt disease that affects one in five people throughout their lives. The bio-chemical causes of depression are shortages or imbalances of mood-influencing chemicals in the brain.

Symptoms of depression range from a sense of physical discomfort, fatigue, guilt, constant cold hands and feet, excessive perspiration, alcohol/drug abuse, unrealistic high standards of one self and a dissatisfaction with life.

There are three types of depression which go from mild to severe. Mild depression or the "blues" comes during holidays, anniversaries and final exams. Post partum depression is a form of mild depression also.

Moderate depression is a feeling of hopelessness, major insecurity, daily thoughts of death with suicide as a solution.

Severe depression is separation from reality, no interest in the outside world, drug and alcohol abuse, and extreme highs to deep lows.

Final exam depression is of great interest to many students. It is not likely that final exams cause depression, but the pressure of the exams may trigger more depression than the student already has. Symptoms can be poor memory, general slowing down, agitation, emotional flatness, loss of sexual desire or feelings of love, lack of or too much sleep, waking up, and aches and pains.

There are many students who are depressed with the majority of them having low self esteem. The major cause of this is lack of support from family and friends. A person who has a high self-identity of themselves is least likely to be depressed.

Learned behavior of depression is when both parents are depressed and the child learns that form of behavior and maintains that quality.

To take action for getting out of the depressed state of mind, it is suggested that a person get a physical exam to see that nothing physical is causing the depression, or talk things over with another person, change of routine, exercise, or simply slowing down.

Wrestlers flying high on mat with 6-0 card

Cerritos impressive victory over No. 1 Palomar Comets

By ROBERT YOUNG
TM Sports Editor

It was the night before Halloween that then-#1 ranked Palomar left the Cerritos gym feeling they must have seen a ghost.

There was no ghost. It was the Cerritos Falcon wrestling team coached by Jeff Smith that sent the Comets home with their first loss to the tune of 27-15.

The match improved the Falcons record to 6-0, while Palomar fell to 5-1.

"Coach Smith told me it was up to me to get things started," said 118-pound George Williams, currently rated eighth in state.

In the first period, a relaxed Williams allowed Troy Vierra (not rated) to score the first two-point takedown. Quickly, Williams reversed for two points and added on three more by exposing Vierra's back to the mat (near-fall).

Because Williams is so good a takedowns, he opted to let Vierra go, for the one-point escape, and take him down for two.

Again Williams let Vierra go for one, and took him down for the final time.

The score was 9-4 in Williams favor before he pinned Vierra in 2:22 of the first period, giving Cerritos a 6-0 team points advantage.

"I started off slow, but once I got my momentum going, there was no stopping me," said Williams.

Next up was Cerritos' Jesse Singh (126), rated sixth in state, against Palomar's Harold Coleman, rated first in the state.

Singh got the first takedown of the match, which was "interesting," according to Smith, "since Coleman is considered an excellent takedown wrestler." Coleman managed to escape by the end of the first period.

In the second period, Coleman reversed Singh, but then Singh escaped and took Coleman down again.

Third period, Singh is leading 5-3. Singh, from the down position manages to escape, giving him another point, but Coleman comes back with a takedown, good for two. With riding time already in Singh's favor (whenever a wrestler has been in control for a minute or more than the other, he is awarded one point), he manages to escape, ending the match 8-5.

Team score: 9-0 Falcons.

"Jesse really came through for us. He is a hard-nosed mat wrestler," said Smith.

However, non-rated Levi Chin (134) faced #2 rated in state, Shawn Jorgensen. Jorgensen pinned Chin with :04 seconds remaining in the second period.

The team score still in Cerritos' favor, 9-6.

Following that match, the Falcons send in non-rated Doug Losack (142) to grapple Jeff Hockaday, rated first in state.

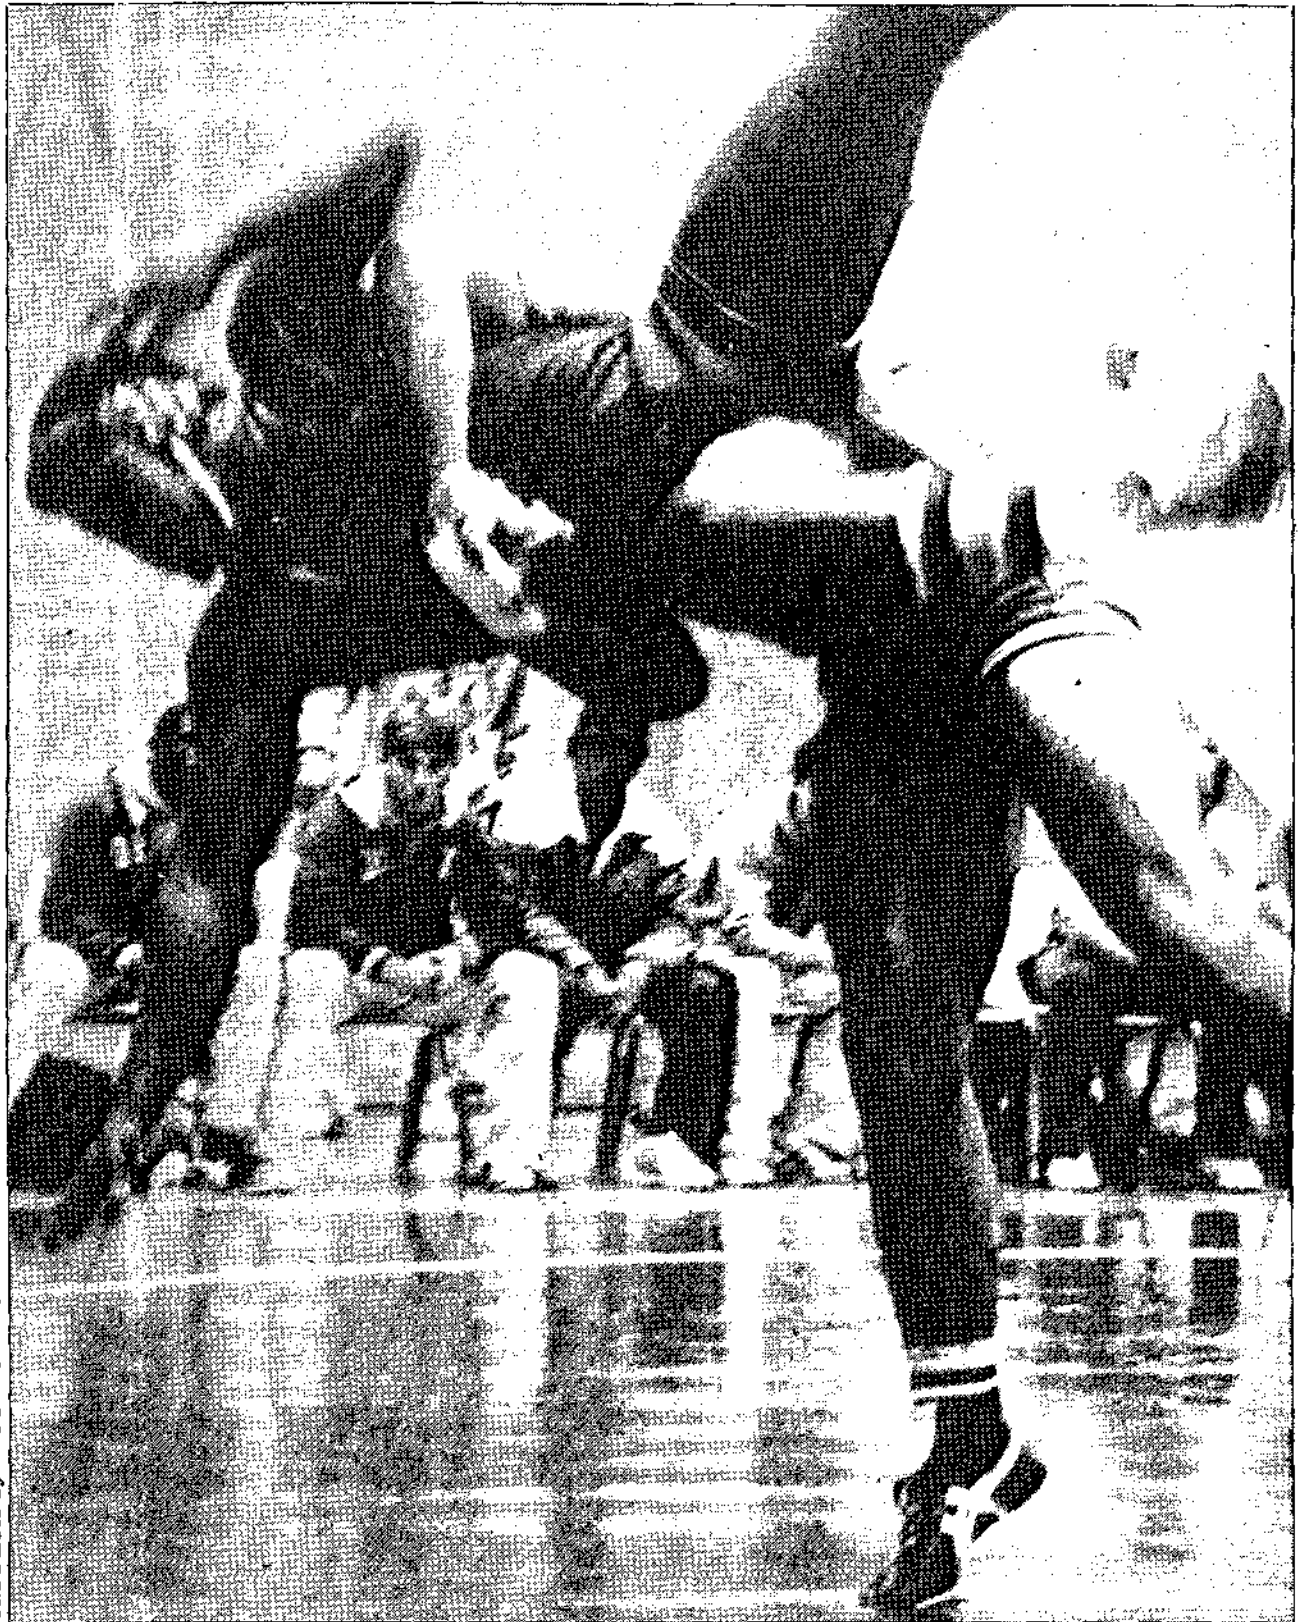

Hockaday had very little trouble with Losack, having scored four unanswered points before pinning him 2:13 into the first period.

The score has now shifted to Palomar's favor, 12-9.

By this time the Cerritos bench became morbidly quiet.

Smith reminded his team that the match wasn't over. "They (Chin and Losack) were out-wrestled that night. I didn't think we could win both of those matches, but I didn't expect them to get pinned," Smith said.

It was up to Pat Welch (150), rated #2 in state to put the fire back in his teammates eyes. Welch was off to a slow start, having allowed Dave Watts, rated #8 in state, to score the first takedown and two-point near fall in the first period.

FLYING TRIP — Tom Howe gives his Palomar opponent a "pilot's license" in hectic action

From the down position, Welch scored a one-point escape and a two-point takedown, to narrow his opponents lead to one point in the second period.

Both wrestlers are standing at the beginning of the third period, until Welch sticks Watts on a takedown. Watts managed to tie the match at 5-5 with an escape. But Welch came back to score another takedown to finish the match at 7-5.

"I told myself to keep going. I knew there was no stopping," Welch said.

The team score is now tied at 12-12.

With the score tied at six after one period, 158-pound Edwin Vann scored seven points to his opponents one, thus giving Cerritos a 15-12 team lead.

After two scoreless periods, Palomar's Rick Lambert (167) moved out to a 4-1 final score over Cerritos's Joel Davis.

Team score: 15-15.

Dave Stidham, who has been wrestling heavyweight for the Falcons, trimmed down to 177 to grapple against Palomar's Mark Cavassa, ranked #1 in state.

Stidham moved out to a 6-2 first period lead and held on to upset Cavassa 6-4.

"Cavassa started off quick, and that worried me. In the third period I felt weak, probably because I cut too much weight," said Stidham.

Team score: 18-15 Cerritos.

Cerritos' Tom Howe (190), ranked #2 in state, battled Palomar's Tom Mejia, ranked #3 in state to a tight 5-4 victory.

Mejia held a 1-0 lead after two periods, but Howe came back, thanks to a two-point reversal and a take down to defeat his opponent.

"This was the match we've been thinking about all week. It was tough all the way through," said Howe.

Team score: 21-15 Cerritos.

Then the Falcons unleashed 250-pound heavyweight Nick Skourtas against Palomar's Paul Mirmingas, #5 in state.

Skourtas pinned Mirmingas (2:33 into the first period) after the Comet had scored his only points on an early takedown.

"We were all close today," said Williams. "And that's what did it."

Falcons re-Joice with 24-21 win over Golden West

BY JOHN VAN GASTON
TM Production Coordinator

Just about every team has their own specialty player. One they can go to in a certain situation.

Well, the Cerritos Falcon football team has one of its own.

Tight end Buford Joice is just that person.

With the Falcons down 21-17 to Golden West this past Saturday, and less than 20 seconds remaining in the game, quarterback Tony Locy found Joice in the corner of the end zone for the winning touchdown, as the Falcons prevailed 24-21.

The Falcons (3-2-1 in conference, 4-2-1 overall) travel to take on Mt. SAC this Saturday at 7:30.

For the year, Joice has caught 11 passes, with five of them ending up in the end zone.

On the TD pass, Joice said, "All night they have been putting a man on me. But this time I was able to get away just long enough for Tony to get me the ball."

"We had thrown that pass three times before," said Locy (22-35, 310 yards), "I knew sooner or later it would open up."

The Falcons found themselves 86 yards and :57 seconds away from a loss, but Locy directed them downfield in seven plays.

With second and 10 at their own 33, Locy went looking for Joice, who made a spectacular catch, as he redirected his body and caught the ball with three men covering him at the Rustler 33.

Two plays after that, Locy passed to Lafayette Shelton, who gained four yards, but almost fumbled the ball away, as it rolled out of bounds, stopping the clock with 24 seconds left.

Two plays after that, Joice performed his speciality, as he found himself alone in the end zone with the ball.

Joice may not have had a chance to display his talents, had it not been for linebacker James Rivera, who stopped the Rustlers when they had to.

With fourth down and less than one yard away from ending the game, Rivera bulldozed his way through the Rustler line and stopped running back Todd Parker for no gain.

Parker (5-10, 185) accounted for 240 of the Rustlers 438 yards, as he rushed 42 times for 186 yards, and caught four passes for 54 more yards.

Parker came into the game as the fourth leading rusher in the conference, and should move up to second with his performance.

The Falcons are still in the middle of the tight South Coast Conference race, and are fighting to gain a post-season bowl game.

Volleyball continues to win big ones

By MONICA MERTZ
TM Staff Writer

After defeating Cypress last Friday, the women's volleyball team is currently in second place in the South Coast Conference with a 6-2 record.

The Falcons play host to Fullerton this Wednesday at 7:30, and take on host Golden West on Friday with the match starting at 7:00.

Golden West was upset last week and Fullerton topped Saddleback, which helped Cerritos attain its second place position.

The Falcons dominated the Chargers, winning 15-8, 15-4, 15-5, paced by the hitting of Monika Del Muro (11 kills) and Linda Bauman with seven kills.

Reyna Gutierrez, who leads the SCC in assists with 226, had 36 for the match.

"Our goal was to play with as few errors as possible," said Coach Jeanine Prindle, "and we performed very consistently for the night."

The Falcons took advantage of a strong start and held on to defeat Pasadena last Wednesday 15-11, 15-8, 12-15, 9-15, 15-9.

With the score tied at two in the fifth game, Linda Bauman opened the game wide open, serving 10 straight points to preserve the win for the Falcons.

"We controlled things the first two games," said Prindle; "thanks to the hitting of Holland, who has four kills each game."

Pamela Holland led the Falcons with 16 kills and Bauman added 10 kills and nine aces.

Gutierrez turned in another fine performance with 47 assists.

For the year, Holland is fifth in the SCC in blocks per game with an average of .667. Chris Dunbar and Linda Bauman stand sixth and eighth respectively in the SCC in kills per game. Dunbar is averaging 2.07, while Bauman is at 1.91 per game.

Soccer fights for sole lead today

Standing at a 5-0-2 record, the Cerritos soccer team will be trying to take sole possession of first place, as they host co-leader Golden West today at 3:00.

Golden West's record is 6-2-0, but are tied due to the fact that you are given two points for a win and one for a tie.

Last Friday the Falcons fought Orange Coast (0-5-3) to a 1-1 tie. This was the second time the Falcons were tied by the Pirates in as many games.

Asked what the problem was with winning against

Deanne Unzicker qualifies for finals

By GABRIELA MARTINEZ
TM Staff Writer

Having a good grip on a bar of soap does not always mean it will stay in your hands.

Last Friday's South Coast Conference women's cross country finals proved to be a hard competition, as the SCC title managed to slip by the Falcons.

The Falcons finished in third with a score of 86 behind champion Mt. SAC (42 points) and Orange Coast (59).

Deanne Unzicker was the first Cerritos runner to cross the finish line (11th overall), as she turned in a time of 19:20.

Unzicker's time was good enough to take her to the Southern Cal Championships, which will be held next Friday at Bonelli Park in Citrus.

"I still can't believe it," said an elated Unzicker. "I just worked hard all year, and it paid off."

Following close behind Unzicker was Lea MacFarland, who finished 12th overall with a time of 19:26.

Placing 13th was Jackie Castro, as she turned in a time of 19:37.

Cheryl Eckford's time of 20:18 was good enough to put her in 24th place, while Ana Covarrubias filled the 26th spot with a time of 20:35.

Coach Hal Simonek, states, "We did an outstanding job this year, and I'm very proud of the team."

Orange Coast, Coach Robert Flores stated, "It's a case of an unskilled team against a skilled team. They don't even try to score. They just put all their guys in front of the goal. There's no way to score when they do that."

They did it enough times to keep the score close, as the Pirates' Curtis Walton answered Cerritos' Juan Juaregui's goal for the only scoring in the game.

Explaining the Orange Coast goal, Flores stated, "Our defense just got caught upfield — a mental breakdown. They just broke someone out and they scored on a breakaway."

Veterans Day —
A time to remember
...just in case

From Lexington and Concord to the steaming jungles of Vietnam, American servicemen have laid their lives on the line and paid the price for freedom.

They came from all walks of life; they came from the big cities, the small towns, the hills and valleys of America.

Some fought in "popular" wars, supported and glorified on the homefront, while others suffered the pain and humiliation of being spat upon after enduring 12 long months in a land whose name few could even pronounce at the outset.

Those who returned from Vietnam found a country more torn and divided than the one they had just left. They were greeted with jeers and protests.

Ten long years later, they received a homecoming.

Monday is Veterans Day. A day set aside to honor those who fought in the service of our country.

Those who trooped the colors through the mud and bombed-out ruins of the European fronts of World Wars I and II; those who carried Old Glory through the cold and bitter hills of Korea; those who endured so much for the Stars and Stripes in the rice paddies and jungles of Vietnam.

Veterans Day is a day to honor these brave men and women.

It is a day to pause and reflect upon the past and the sacrifices made by those who didn't return.

It is also a day to look to the future — the future of this country and the young men and women who will come from the hills and valleys, the small towns and big cities of America to fight for freedom in the outermost reaches of our world.

State basketball tournament to be played in Cerritos gymnasium

By JOHN VAN GASTON
TM Production Coordinator

Cerritos College has been chosen as the site of the 1986 State Men's Junior College Basketball Tournament to be held in March.

The decision was made by Walt Rilliet, Commissioner of Athletics for the state of California, who stated, "Cerritos has all the facilities we were looking for, and they are centrally located in the southland."

Last year, the women's state tournament was held at Cerritos, which Rilliet stated, "It had some bearing on choosing Cerritos. I feel the turnout will be more than we are anticipating."

The tourney had been held in Fresno the past two years, but Rilliet said, "We'd like to return to the southland for two years, and Cerritos has all the attributes we were looking for."

One problem with holding the tournament in Fresno, was the fact that the attendance was not very good, especially from the local people.

Richard Juliano, Cerritos College Athletic Director was pleased to hear that Cerritos was chosen, stating, "I think because of the tournament, people will realize that Cerritos is an excellent facility to hold more tournaments in the future."

Also on the minds of Rilliet was Long Beach City, but declined on the school, stating, "They will have a lot of competition drawing a crowd, considering the fact that Long Beach will also be hosting a men's and women's NCAA tournament at the same time."
