

Group reps now on presidential interview board

By MELISSA HERNANDEZ
TM Executive Editor

The faculty and every other concerned group is said to be "happy" over the Board's move to include six more persons in the interview process of the final five applicants for the president's office.

They will not have a vote, but they will provide input and be party to the discussion with the Board.

In an effort to head off further controversy over the selection process, the Trustees voted Sunday night to include a representative from each constituent group: the faculty, students, administration, classified staff, and community.

Each group will select its own representative.

An advisory committee had previously been set up to assist the Board with the search, working with the consultant firm hired to help find a chief executive.

The committee is made up of Cerritos College faculty members, students, administration, trustees, classified staff, and community members. Faculty members are James Peter (Chemistry), Gene Dermody (History), Jack Black (Business), and William Ketelle (Furniture Manufacturing).

Students are Supreme Court Justice David Carpenter, ASCC President Keith Estabrook, and Beverly Santana.

Administrators include Dr. Adolf Johnson (Dean of Academic Affairs), Barbara Randall (Administrative Assistant of Community Services), and Mary Pribble (Associate Dean of the Business Education Division).

Dr. Ada Steenhoek and Harold Tredway are the Trustee representatives.

Classified staff members include Mike O'Neil (CSEA Chapter President and Designer/Stage Technician), John Steele (Deliveryperson — Warehouse), and Jan Long (Instructional Media Production Artist).

Representing the community are Dr. Manuel Gallegos (former superintendent of the Downey Unified School District), Dr. Foster Bens (board member of Biola College), Don Knabe (Mayor of Cerritos), and Carol Moffett (Community Volunteer/Worker in Bellflower).

This committee conferred with several ACCT consultants including the Superintendent of Pasadena City College Dr. John W. Casey and Chairman of the Board of Crowder College James Tatum.

The conference personnel discussed qualities which they felt the new president should possess. The recommendations were brought to the Board for their review and revision.

FALL 2-DAY VOTING OPENS

Big turnout expected with 32 seats on line; booths open evenings

By VERNON MORROW
TM Associate Editor

Group interest in the fall senate election is evident as candidates from several special interest groups on campus have entered the running for 32 available seats.

A voice seldom heard in the political arena, the Theatre Arts Department, has three declared candidates and groups such as MEChA, Cosmetology/VICA, athletics and panhellenic groups are making a strong showing throughout the ballot.

Despite the number of so-called "slates" appearing on the ballot, ASCC Vice President Raine Dooner commented, "I don't think we're going to have the problems of the past."

She defended her position saying that new senate arrangements will assure everyone of playing an important part in governing student funds and activities.

Some observers are still worried that slate voting could hamper senate progress, citing Cosmetology as an example.

"I will do a good job supporting the Cosmetology department to make sure we get the things we need to keep up an excellent Cosmetology department," stated cosmetology student Tami Jenson on her candidate information form. This sentiment was echoed throughout the other cosmetology statements.

"On a personal note," continued Dooner, "I would like to encourage everyone to get out and vote and be involved."

Polling booths are open today and tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 6-9 p.m.

Booths are located at the Health Sciences Building, Student Center and the Social Sciences Building.

To be eligible to vote a student must be a member of the ASCC and present their card with sticker attached at the election booth.

Voters may choose ten candidates. The top 32 vote-getters will fill the senate seats this semester.

Pep Rally rahs season's opener

This season's first Pep Rally to support the 1986-87 football team is set for Thursday, Sept. 11 at 11 a.m. The rally will be held in the quad, in front of the Student Center.

Everyone on campus is encouraged to attend and support the Falcons as the season opens Sept. 13 when they travel to San Diego to meet the Mesa Olympians.

Free refreshments and spirit hats will be given to ASCC members.

To promote spirit among various clubs and organizations around campus, a spirit trophy will be awarded to the "loudest" group at the rally.

Students help campus police catch armed bike theft suspect

By NANCY BALLARD
TM Managing Editor

The decision of five Cerritos College students to get involved helped campus police capture an armed robbery suspect.

The incident took place following the theft at knifepoint of a bicycle from a young lady near the handball courts.

According to Chief of Campus Police Mike Gobec, the suspect approached the young lady and threatened to kill her if she did not turn over her bike.

As the suspect rode off on the bike, the victim screamed, attracting the attention of the students.

A chase ensued throughout the campus ending as the suspect ditched the bike and attempted to scale a fence. He was then captured by campus police.

Chief Gobec stated that the students' involvement was instrumental in capturing the suspect.

"The students should definitely be commended for what they did," said Gobec, adding that "The college really needs more students and staff to get involved. Everyone knows about Neighborhood Watch, what we need here is a Student Watch."

Gobec said the crime rate on campus can be cut if students and staff become more aware of what is happening.

Campus Police participating in the capture were Cary Jamison, Neal Mongan, Mike Bolden and Mike Cohen.

An ironic twist ends the tale of the capture—upon returning to the handball courts, one student found he was the victim of another crime—someone had stolen his racketball equipment.

EDITORIAL I

Disrespectful crowd puts damper on holiday weekend

Little can compare to the horrible aviation tragedy that occurred in Cerritos shortly before noon Aug. 31, but many of the people present in Huntington Beach watching the Op Pro Surfing Contest — and probably most of those participating in the confrontation with the police — had yet to hear of what had happened only a few hours before.

But the events that occurred at the Huntington Beach Pier still have importance.

Though many witnesses verified that the fracas was caused by a minority of the hundreds of people, there were still enough people to cause what the media has labeled a riot.

Who are these people?

Have the youth of today become so uncontrollable that they cannot enjoy a day at the beach?

According to eyewitnesses, the disturbance was caused by a bikini contest. The girls participating either stripped off their tops or had them removed by others, causing a rowdy crowd response.

What followed was a total disregard and lack of respect for police and fellow human beings.

Rocks were thrown at those trying to calm the crowd.

A man was trampled as he stopped to light his cigarette.

An attack on an official who was cornered in a room was averted only after he pulled his weapon and fired into the air. They turned and fled.

It's understandable that people want to enjoy themselves on the beach on what many consider the last weekend of summer. But this hardly justifies the uncivilized actions of many people.

Supposedly, the rioters were not involved in the surfing contest. According to Huntington Beach City Councilman Don McAllister, the people who started the riot were not there to watch the competition.

This particular Sunday was comparable to Easter in Palm Springs. Many of the same people may have been involved.

Therefore, solutions should be similar: no more large gatherings, better law enforcement, and a crack-down on alcohol.

Such ideas would be hard to enforce, but they offer a beginning.

The events of Palm Springs and Huntington Beach should never happen again.

But unless control is exercised, we face the prospect of a repeat performance — possibly in two weeks at the upcoming L.A. Street Scene.

EDITORIAL II

Beach scene fracas puts rebels back in fashion

Rioting is back in fashion.

Apparently,

Huntington Beach has brought in the latest style from the Palm Springs offerings.

Are these trips really necessary? Do "young" rebels so desperately need to challenge the establishment which is that bad?

In the 60's, college students demonstrated supposedly for moral and ethical statements.

It was the fashion to blame the provocation on the police.

What started out as a peaceful surfing contest, and a long get away weekend in Palm Springs, ended up with the drunken destruction of property, bodily injury and physical threat.

The police were needed.

Not because of a bunch of long haired hippies or anti-war mongers sitting in demonstration, but because violence, rowdyism and destruction stepped in.

The sponsors of the surf contest are no longer going to use Huntington Beach.

Palm Springs pulled in the welcome mat.

That too is the latest fashion.

Lets hope both are quickly passing fads.

By CARMEN PEDRAZA

Homecoming 1986 was discussed at last week's Interclub Council meeting.

"Movie Classics" was chosen as the theme for the festivities.

Also, Club Booth Days was christened a "great success". All clubs and panhellenic organizations participated with information booths. Students had an opportunity to mix in various activities, and campus radio K.C.E.B. gave away free records.

A special pep rally is slated to be held in the Student Center Sept. 11. Free Cerritos hats will be given away.

Rush parties started last weekend and will continue through the next few weeks. These parties provide potential members with a chance to meet the organization members in a more relaxed atmosphere.

L.C.C. scholarships and service awards, as well as gold, silver, and bronze falcons, are available to any student who has at least a 2.0 GPA and is involved in extra-curricular activities or service to the campus and community.

Co-Rec night is set for Sunday, Sept. 21 from 6-9 p.m. in the gym. Everyone is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

Memorial service for crash victims

By DIANE MARIL TM Staff Writer

Over a thousand relatives, friends, neighbors, and caring residents of the Cerritos area attended a memorial service Sunday in the Cerritos College gym for the victims of the plane crash tragedy a week earlier.

Twelve area churches were represented. Speakers included Rev. Timothy O'Connell of St. Linus Catholic Church, Cerritos; and Father Bellnap of Incarnation Episcopal Church, Norwalk; Rev. William Kinter Cerritos Methodist.

Speaking in Spanish was a priest representing Archbishop Roger Mahoney of the Los Angeles Archdiocese.

CANDIDATE STATEMENTS And if elected...

● Sylvia Rodriguez (MECha)

My goal is to encourage all minorities — Hispanics, Black, Asian, especially females — to become involved in higher education. Cerritos should be the first step towards success.

● Simon "Lebby" Semaan (Independent)

I feel that I am experienced to be a senator in a way that I can help the students of Cerritos College.

● Daria Spotts (Cosmetology)

I would like to make sure that the Cosmetology Department is well informed on activities and be able to represent our club in a mature manner.

● Sylvia Verdin (MECha)

Cerritos College furthers my education; Speech Team helped me overcome my shyness; MECha will help my chances as a latino student to enhance my bilingual abilities, and hopefully, senate will enhance my leadership abilities. I think that's what college life is really about.

● James Warino (Music Club)

I believe the role of humanities should play a greater role in our lives. Whether it is music, theatre, literature or philosophy, the amount we learn will provide harmony in our lives, no matter what course we take.

Proposed by Senator Dick McGrath, the resolution came as a result of faculty discussion of the method of advertising favored by the ACCT, the firm hired by the Board of Trustees to fill the vacancy.

The resolution was to be presented to the Trustees at a special Board meeting Sunday night.

Senate Chair John Boyle distributed an "unofficial job description" of the Cerritos College position and asked faculty to make recommendations as to the qualities they felt a community college president should possess.

A main concern of faculty participating in the discussion is that Dr. Wilford Michael's replacement be someone who "meets people easily, develops relationships (among faculty), and gets the morale going."

The new President needs to be an "extrovert," agreed the Senate.

Senate members addressed the issue, remarking that the two advertising publications to be drawn up by the ACCT would, in effect, do the first screening of all applicants for the position.

"My concerns are that this first filter is done by just two people," said Dr. John Bailey. "Imagine two people just like me — that ought to scare the hell out of you — now imagine 15 with my biases."

Senate member Wendell Hanks expressed dissatisfaction with current procedure which does not afford faculty members an opportunity to talk with applicants who visit the campus.

"What is the advantage of not having input from the faculty?" asked Hanks.

Marcelino Saucedo, the representative from the counseling division, reminded the Senate of Board President Dale Hardeman's comment of maintaining "open lines of communication."

"This process is doing just the opposite," said Saucedo. "We ought to hold him to that statement. This staff should have some input."

Footballers prep for opener Saturday at San Diego Mesa

BY JOHN WELSH TM Sports Editor

Football officially gets under way Saturday at San Diego Mesa as the Falcons put their weekend scrimmage performance against Glendale to the real test.

Coach Frank Mazzotta's troops, who went 6-2-1 last year, looked especially good on defense in the Falcon Stadium warm-up. The offensive machine will have to improve rapidly to match last year's thrust, in the eyes of most observers.

In last year's opener against the Mesa Olympians on Cerritos turf, the locals dominated 26-6 over a team which went 4-6 overall for the season.

Home opener for the Falcons is Saturday, Oct. 4, with powerful Taft coming to town.

Starting quarterback is La Mirada High's Stuart Betty, a sophomore. Leading the strong defense are returnees Rich Schoenberger and Scott Zwoda.

Game time at San Diego Mesa is 7:30 p.m.
