The Cerritos College baseball team is the No. 1 community college team in California — the third time in five years for the Falcon squad under Coach George Horton....

PORTRAIT OF WINNERS

The Falcon baseball team defeated defending state champ Sacramento 7-5 in the finale to take the title. Cerritos, 43-9 this season, has won nine state championships, more than any other community college team.

'Spellbound' opens summer theatre June 30

By LORRAINE FIMBRES
STM Staff Writer

The first of two winners of the 1989 Lee Korf Playwrighting Awards will open on campus Friday, June 30, to kick off the college's "The Original Theatre Works" fourth season.

Diane King's "Spellbound," first musical to receive the award named after the former Cerritos College drama professor, features a cast of some 27, with Theatre Department chair Georgia Well directing.

Slated for July is the second winner, "The Last Free Man on Earth," an original comedy by James N. Frey.

"Spellbound" will be staged June 30 and July 1 at 8 p.m. The show will also run July 7-8-9, 14-15, and 21-22. The Sunday, July 9, show will be at 2:30 p.m. All other curtain times are at 8 p.m.

Playwright King is the resident composer and musical director for the Tony Award-winning South Coast Repertoire Theatre. She wrote "Spellbound" for the Orange County Marine Institute which commissioned her to create a new musical to be performed aboard the replica of the legendary original ship Pilgrim in Dana Point Harbor.

Tickets are $5 for general admission, and $4 for students and seniors.

Sign-ups start June 21 for 8-week intrasession, 2nd 6 weeks July 5

By MARK HEUSTIS
STM Editorial Chair

Registration for the eight-week intrasession runs June 21 through 27. Classes are scheduled to begin June 26.

Enrollment for the first six- and eight-week sessions is up some 170 students over the summer of 1988. Total count for the first summer sessions is 6,072, according to Ruth Knobbs, director of admissions and records.

The second six-week session is slated to begin on July 10, with sign-ups running from July 5 through 11.

Fall registration starts June 19 for disabled and EOPS students and runs through Aug. 16 for appointment registrants.

Priority for registration card sign-ups is based on units completed and GPA.

Open registration for fall kicks off on Aug. 16, with classes scheduled to begin on Aug. 21.

Foundation honors DiCorpo, citizens of area cities

By SISI VAOKAKALA
STM Staff Writer

This year's Falcon Award presented by the Cerritos College Foundation went to one of the group's founders and strongest supporters Nello DiCorpo, Dean of Community Services.

Eight other awards were presented to outstanding citizens by City Councils in recognition of their community contributions. The event, held June 8 at the Sycamore Plaza in Lakewood, was the Foundation's eighth annual recognition dinner.

The Cerritos City Council recognized Pam Day, the college's Director of Development. Others honored were Charles Rorick, Artesia; Ned Young, Downey; William Croker, Hawaiian Gardens; Arby Haley, Lakewood, and Bob Camp, La Mirada.

The Bellflower honoree was Dr. Charlotte Stevenson. G. L. Belles was named for Norwalk.

The Foundation announced donation of a special $500 scholarship for nursing and health occupation students in honor of Dr. Jean Crum, former Falcon Award winner and Foundation chairman. He is presently at home recuperating from a stroke.

The Foundation's annual golf tournament fund-raiser is scheduled for Aug. 28

Tentative budget $42.9

By KARLA HUFENBACH
STM Chief Photographer

A tentative budget of $42.9 million for the 1989-90 school year has been approved by the Board of Trustees.

The budget will be submitted to the county and the final budget for the college is due for public review and Board adoption in August.

Income sources include $30.6 million from the state based on 11,438 average daily attendance, $2.9 million in lottery income, $2.4 million in local property tax income, $1.37 million in enrollment fees, and $1.17 million in community service fees.

C.C. FALCON

Quakes, shakes, bakes, rakes, takes...

● EARTH-SHAKING — Ever take a test in the middle of a 4.5 earth quake? And try to settle down to a 4.3 after-wards? It's enough to shake, rattle, and ruffle anybody's feathers. ● CHECK CHECK — You gotta have driver's license, credit card, AND a check guarantee card to purchase with a check in ye olde bookstore on campus. Isn't that a little much, especially when you can register with only a DL and one other form of ID to pay up when registering? Since when do "college age" students have all those fancy credit cards? ● LUNCH

● CRUNCH — We have a couple places on campus to eat snacky type stuff...but it sure would be appetizing if some kinda burger'n fries'n such were available. I mean, we summer birds deserve a better shake, so to speak.... ● STRAPPED — A curious Board member the other night requested the nature of the "field wearing apparel" budget item for track and field. An athletic supporter in the crowd suggested that "uniforms" might be a little better suited. ● PICKY PICKY — Board members also wanted to know why coffee pots and carts were budgeted.

College reps said they were needed to serve coffee at various and varying-distances. That sorta perked them up. ● LOANS GROANS — Hear we made the list of educ aid loan defaulters...hold-ups on the pay-ups can cost you, gang... ● BASEBALL BALL — Here's to the Falcon horsehidors for tearing up the diamond in a 7-5 stretch run for the state title. Can't help but note that if Coach Horton had left me on the roster, it mighta been even more than three out of the last five trophies.
