Publications No. 3 in state; Ochoa, Puch new editors

Full editors of the college's award-winning student publications, TALON MARKS and Wings magazine, are Jeff Ochoa and Lisa Puch, respectively.

Ochoa, a sophomore Journalism major from Warren High in Downey, is currently Executive Editor. Puch, a Bell High grad from Downey, is currently managing editor of the campus weekly.

Alternating formats weekly, the paper has been named No. 3 in the state for the large size and No. 3 for tabs in Southern California by the Journalism Association of Community Colleges.

The publications are produced on Macintosh desktop publishing and typesetting equipment by majors and minors in communications, journalism, public relations, English, and other students who want to learn to write features, columns, editorials, and specialty writing.

ASCC Spring Awards Banquet set for Friday

BY ANGEL GILBERT
TM Staff Writer

The annual ASCC Spring Awards banquet will be Friday, May 11, at Lakewood's Sycamore Plaza, starting at 7 p.m.

Outgoing ASCC President Manuel Rincon will give the opening remarks followed by a sit down dinner.

Over 400 guests are expected to attend, and at least 200 awards will be presented.

Students will be recognized for their outstanding academic excellence, participation, leadership and service.

President and Vice-President Elect Rocky Pavone and Angela Villanueva will be announced.

The Mistress of Ceremonies is Denise Lucker, a graduating registered nurse. Lucker is currently ASCC Commissioner of Vocational Education and President of the 1990 Spring Graduating Nursing Class.

Presentations Awards are for ASCC Academic Scholarships, Administration of Justice, Alpha Gamma Sigma, Journalism, Math League, Pep Squad, Phi Beta Lambda and others.

A man and woman of the year will be named. Qualifications for the

It was a real life case of Rocky and Angie II.

The initial underdogs romped. An inauguration ceremony will take place during today's Student Senate meeting at 2 p.m. when Rocky Pavone and Angie Villanueva are sworn in as President and Vice President of the Associated Students of Cerritos College.

The two won last week's runoff election when they captured 705 votes, out-tallying Samuel Osakue and Diana Schmitt who brought in 545 votes in one of the most exciting races in recent history.

Of 1,252 votes cast, only two were declared void.

The ultimate winners only missed a first round win by 26 votes shy with a majority count.

Pavone and Villanueva will officially take over their respective offices May 29. Pavone will become a Board of Trustee student member June 5.

A Cabinet with commissioners will be appointed by Pavone to help while, Villanueva will take over the Student Senate.

Pavone and Villanueva will begin work immediately on their agenda for the ensuing term.

Included on the agenda are working toward a positive interaction between the faculty and students, which will begin with a student/faculty luncheon introducing clubs and programs.

Famed pilot Rutan to speak during May 20 graduation

Renowned pilot Dick Rutan, famous for his flight around the world in the small fuel-efficient Voyager, will speak at the 33rd Annual Cerritos College Commencement Sunday, May 20, at 5:30 p.m.

Graduates must report to the gym, where complete ceremony instructions will be given, no later than 4:30 p.m.

There will be no prior rehearsals. Having led a distinguished career as an Air Force pilot, Rutan successfully completed 325 Vietnam combat missions.

Prior to his retirement from the Air Force in 1978, he was awarded the Silver Star, five Distinguished Flying Crosses, 16 Air medals and a Purple Heart.

Rutan has received two honorary doctorate degrees, is a strong supporter of education, and a top-notch choice to speak at the upcoming graduation ceremony, officials said.

Mid-year and summer school grads are encouraged to participate.

Graduation announcements, caps, gowns, and tassels are on sale in the Bookstore.

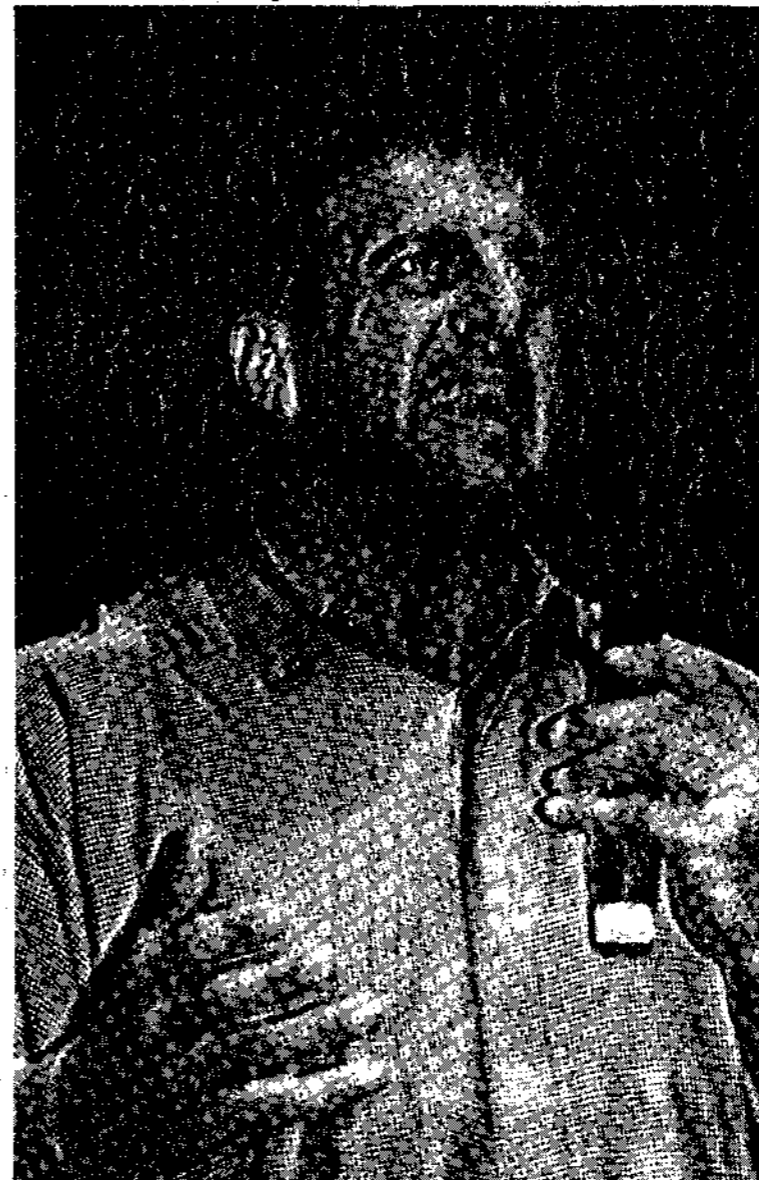

For last minute purchases, the Bookstore will be open May 20 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Rutan is not accepting a stipend for his appearance.

An interview with former Raider 'Bad boy' Alzado talks with spunk

Former NFL star Lyle Alzado spoke at the Cerritos College Mental Health Fair Saturday to a mostly female audience.

And they loved him.

Only someone with the charisma of Alzado could get away with using terms like "kick ass" in this setting.

Alzado is expected to announce that he is coming out of retirement to resume a career with the L.A. Raiders who he says will stay in L.A., not move.

He looks lean and fit, working out daily to keep in shape. He certainly looks like he wouldn't have any trouble putting on the pads to return to butting heads with opposing offensive players.

TM: So you think the Raiders have lost their old "Bad Boy" attitude and if so do you think they will get it back under Art Shell?

ALZADO: I think so. I think the attitude is being brought back. He's bringing in different players that have an edge to them, so to speak. I think it will come back. Very definitely. This year.

TM: That Raider mystique. Do you think it has been missing the last couple of years?

ALZADO: Yeah, I think so. I feel you need to be out there and beat people up (on the playing field) instead of being nice.

TM: The tragedy of John Matuzak? ALZADO: Well, unfortunately, John always lived on the edge and he made a mistake and paid dearly for it. It's unfortunate that people don't learn a lesson from that. Hopefully they will.

TM: You seem to be really having fun here today. Your audience seems to be mostly women. Is this normal?

ALZADO: Yeah, I'd rather speak to women than men. Men can be boring, women are a lot of fun...always!

TM: They seem to like you.

TM: Tell us about the rigors of sports on the body and the mind.

ALZADO: It's just a matter of being mentally tough. The mind can always tell you something, you've got to know inside yourself that you're able to do it. The physical part of it is always difficult but as long as your mind stays strong, your body stays strong.

TM: Danger of steroids?

ALZADO: No comment. I don't agree with using them. It's over blown. Most athletes don't use them.

TM: You mentioned that you are involved in special education. How did you get started in that?

ALZADO: Well, years ago I decided to go into special education courses and got a degree in special education and a minor in Physiology and Biology. I work with mentally handicapped children and monitor their skills. I've really enjoyed doing it. I haven't done much lately but I used to.

Campus PIO Wallace best in state; Helfgot nat'l winner

Community college public information officers have gone to Mark Wallace of Cerritos as the "best public information officer" in the state.

The award was presented by the National Association of Community College (NACCC) Commission on Public Relations.

Wallace, here since 1984, heads the campus office of Public Information and Publications.

"The public image of Cerritos College is everybody's responsibility," said Wallace, "and my office is here to assist in that effort."

He encourages anyone who needs help to drop by.

The Public Information office works with all the media and is in contact with media sources on a daily and weekly basis, Wallace said.

Active in several professional organizations, Wallace has a BA in Journalism from Fresno State.

While at West Hills Community College in Coalinga before coming to Cerritos, he developed an expertise in Disaster Preparedness, and speaks widely on earthquakes in particular.

...The Paragon Award which the college recently won was chosen from nearly 1,300 entries from across the country. Dr. Steven Helfgot, director of high school relations, is writer of the "Prospectus," a 12-page four-color book profiling the college.

Publications Office graphic artists Robin Frick and Rebecca Short assisted.

"Angie and I feel we ran a very positive campaign which in turn brought us success," said Pavone.

Pavone and Villanueva made a special point of thanking not only their supporters, but everybody who was a part of the big voter turnout.

Pavone and Villanueva sparked interest when they got 7UP and RC

"We concentrated on our own merits for the students. The most efficient and successful strategies were to speak in classrooms, have family and a lot of students helping with the campaign and give students a real incentive to vote," Pavone said.

Falcons begin playoffs today here vs. Pirates

Cerritos at (10-5 SCC, and 27-11 overall) and seeded No. 6, host the No. 11 Ventura Pirates today at 3 p.m. in the opening round of the Southern California Regionals. This young team, which has only two sophomores on the roster, has surprised everyone in the South Coast Conference. The league-leading Lady Falcons are paced by conference Most Valuable Player Vickie Davis. Freshman Davis, third baseman, batted .444, highest on the team. Falcon pitching was exceptional all through the SCC season. They are led on the mound by Freshman Denelle Drulis whose conference mark of 8-1 and a miniscule 0.83 ERA gave her a convincing 17-4 record. Down the stretch drive, the women won 10 out of their last 13, which includes nine victories in a row heading into the playoffs.

Baseball opens at home Friday at 2

Perfect record ruined 12-11 by El Camino in last game

With the All-Star game out of the way, it's time to get down to the business at hand. The Falcon baseballers are looking to win their first back-to-back State Championship since 1975. The first round of their journey starts Friday here versus the No. 13 seeded Roadrunners of Rio Hondo College. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

Game 2 of the 2 out of 3 series is Saturday at 11 a.m. Bringing a conference best (19-1 SCC and 34-5 overall) into action, the sluggers are looking to grab a fourth state title for Cerritos. It'll be the fourth in the past six years. The Falcons bring the conference Player of the Year and one of the top pitching staffs in the South Coast Conference into Friday's contest.

Third baseman Joe Arredondo is hitting at a blazing .452 in SCC and six home runs on the season. Outfielder Chris Powell's speed on the basepaths, resulted in his swiping of 20 bases in conference, and batting an astounding .354. Dan Naulty (9-2 overall, 6-0 in SCC) with a nice 2.33 will probably start the first game. Naulty pitched 86 innings and in those frames he struck out 79, while giving up only 59 hits, opponents hit only .192 against him. If the Falcons can run the Roadrunners out of town, they'll move on to the next step of the ladder, Round 2, next weekend.

Two swimmers finish on highs

Highlighting last weekend's State Championships, the Falcon men's swim team had two swimmers finish high in the state. Mike Reyes finished the 100 meter butterfly, sixth in the state, with a time of 51.97 breaking his school record set previously in the South Coast Conference Championships April 26-28. Reyes' comrade Rod Snyder finished in the sixth position in the 500 meter freestyle, while also recording a seventh place tally in the 200 freestyle. Overall, the Falcons placed 21st in the championships.

Track in finals Saturday here five qualify

The Cerritos College track and field team is off and running hosting the Southern California Finals Saturday at 2 p.m. Five athletes and a relay team qualified, with 100 meter hurdler Patrice Hall leading the way. Hall outdid the school record she set last week, running a 14.66 placing seventh in the event. Hall set the old record of 14.93 in the South Coast Conference finals last week. David Zavala, a last minute entry finished fourth overall with a time of 15:59.90 in the men's 5000, a personal best. John Anthony advanced to the finals after placing fifth overall in the long jump with a leap of 23' 6". Anthony set a school record last week jumping 24' 6 1/2". In the men's 400 intermediate hurdles Kirk Ayers bested himself with 53.02, placing him sixth overall with a shot at advancing to the State Championships. Men's coach Doug Wells commented, "I think Patrice, John and Kirk have a very good chance to reach state. If they continue to work hard, they should be in good shape." Tiffany South also advancing to the So Cal Finals, threw 116' 9" in the javelin throw, placing sixth overall. The men's 400 relay team qualified 7th and was clocked at 41.93 seconds.

Lady netters move to SoCal finals May 11 at Long Beach

Qualifying everyone for the second year in the Southern Cal Championships, the Lady tennis team swings into playoff action on May 11-13 at Long Beach City. With the Falcon's defeat of Conference leader El Camino in the South Coast Conference Championships, the girls took the title with 14 wins, edging out Mt. SAC by two games.

Janet Tamango qualified for singles play along with Janelle Ohm both of which qualified for first team doubles.

Qualifying for second team doubles were Vickie Montes and Terri Agopian while Delores Andelon and Nicole Blackmer qualified in as third team.

Andelon and Blackmer defeated El Camino's No. 2 team to make it into the championships.

Could you use an extra $18,000 for college?

Here's How To Get It.

The Army Reserve's Alternate Training Program can help you earn extra money for college. Here's how. One summer, you take Basic Training, and the next summer you take skill training at an Army school. You'll earn at least $1,200 for Basic and even more for skill training. You can train at an Army Reserve unit near your college, usually serving one weekend a month plus two weeks Annual Training. During a standard enlistment, you'll earn over $13,000. Add to this $5,040 for college if you qualify for the Montgomery GI Bill. Put it all together and you could have $18,000, and that could take a lot of the financial strain out of going to college. Think about it. Then give us a call:
