Sci-fi writer Bradbury on campus twice

Famed author Ray Bradbury is coming to campus twice in one week this fall.

First, the film "Fahrenheit 451", based on his novel, will be shown in the Burnight Theatre on Monday, Nov. 27, at 7 p.m.

Second, the noted fantasy and science fiction writer will be speaking in the Student Center Wednesday, Nov. 29 at 7 p.m.

His visit is part of the library Author Lecture Series.

Bradbury, who first visited Cerritos College over 20 years ago, will be available to autograph books immediately following the lecture.

The original artwork from his books, created by artist and author Joseph Mugnaini, will be on display.

Born in Waukegan, Illinois, in 1922, Bradbury spent his teenage years in Los Angeles.

He educated himself by using the UCLA library as his classroom.

Bradbury is most noted for his books "Fahrenheit 451" and "The Martian Chronicles," as well as over 400 short stories and 17 novels.

He has been compared to Edgar Allen Poe, H.G. Wells, and Jules Verne.

Two days off for Thanks...

A two-day holiday is coming up.

In observance of Thanksgiving no classes will be held on Thursday, Nov. 23 and Friday, Nov. 24.

Classes will resume on Nov. 26.

College gets digital grant

The Digital Equipment Corporation has awarded Cerritos College a campus-wide Computer Software License Grant which makes available the use of 180 Digital software products at no cost.

The grant value represents more than $10.4 million of computer products now accessible to the College.

According to Dr. Norman Nicolson, director of computer services, Cerritos is the first community college in California, and possibly the nation, to be selected for this valuable grant.

The cost of owning technology is expensive for schools and

Board approves PERS benefits for employees

The Board of Trustees approved employee participation in a state-wide benefits program at their Nov. 7 meeting.

The Public Employees Retirement System offers a medical and hospital insurance program for public agency employees in California.

The Board approved participation in this program for all eligible employees.

This change in coverage is the result of the rapidly increasing costs in health benefit coverages for employees.

In other employee negotiation matters, the Board has agreed to pick up the additional costs of health and welfare benefits until negotiations have concluded. Talks with the faculty, the classified employees, management and confidential employees are still under way.

The Board has requested information on a proposal to provide two campus police officers for patrol duty around the clock.

They reviewed the current staffing formula and two proposed plans that would require additional staffing for the campus police.

Board members are expected to make a decision on the issue at the next meeting on Nov. 21.

Drop date dead ahead

The last day to withdraw from classes is Wednesday, Nov. 23.

After this date student's transcripts will reflect earned grades.

Cerritos automotive training plan named nation's best by voc group

By MARK HEUSTIS
TM Editor Emeritus

Cerritos' automotive training program has been selected as the best in the nation by the American Vocational Association (AVA).

According to Randy Peebles, dean of technology, some 14 states participated in the competition, with 20 post-secondary schools from California alone entering.

Peebles, President/Superintendent Ernest Martinez and Board of Trustees President Mark Durant will travel to the AVA's national convention in Orlando, Florida, on Nov. 30 to receive the award.

The award is being co-sponsored by the Industry Planning Council, made up of representatives of major automobile manufacturers and vocational educators.

This award marks not only the first such win but also the first time Cerritos has ever applied for the award.

"I see the award as being another tool for recruiting and manufacturing a quality program," said Peebles.

Among the accolades, Cerritos will receive a 1990 Acura Integra, from Honda of America, and various pieces of specialized automotive diagnostic from Ford and GM.

The application took Associate Dean of Technology Roger Beam two weeks to compile and included letters of recommendation from Community College Board of Governors member Dr. Arthur Margosian and several area automotive dealerships.

"We have the opportunity, through the administration and Board of Trustees, to excel in innovative programs," stated

Peebles.

While in Florida, Peebles will sit on a panel of experts at the Automotive Service Education Program convention, sponsored by GM.

ASCC to honor top students for service

By ANGIE VILLANUEVA
TM Opinion Editor

Gold, Silver and Bronze Falcons as well as several certificates and other awards will be presented at the 1989 Fall Awards Banquet.

Applications are available at the Student Activities and must be turned in Friday, Nov. 17.

Award selectees must be present to receive the award. Over 350 are expected at the event at which over 150 awards will be given.

Part-time and full-time students who show academic excellence, leadership skills, or who participate in clubs, organizations and service activities are eligible for

'Doll's House' opens Dec. 1

The Cerritos College Theatre Department production of Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll's House" will be presented on December 1, 2, 7, 8, and 9 at 8 p.m., and on Dec. 3 at 2:30 p.m. in the Burnight Theatre.

Kevin Hoggard will direct this production of Ibsen's classic tale.

The plot tells the tale of a Victorian wife who, living within the "woman's place" of social mores of the times, commits forgery to save her husband's standing, then liberates herself from him and the old traditions of their marriage.

The cast of "A Doll's House" includes: Stacy A. Brewer of La Mirada as Nora, Mike Garcia of Artesia as Torvald and Joseph Tum Harris of Downey as Dr. Rank.

Other cast members include Simona Potter of Bellflower as Mrs. Kristine Linde, James Kohatsu of Long Beach as Nils Krogstad, Vickie Resurrection of Cerritos as Anne-Marie, Jacquelyn Morgenthaler of Cerritos as Helene and Jeff Wightman of Huntington Park as Porter.

Tickets are $6 for general admission and $5 for senior citizens.

consideration.

Ten academic scholarships will be awarded. Applicants must be current ASCC members with 15 units completed with a minimum 3.0 GPA.

A recommendation by a faculty member is required.

These outstanding students will be honored by the Associated Students of Cerritos College (ASCC) at the Sequoia Club in Buena Park, Dec. 8 at 7 p.m.

Inter Club Council (ICC) awards will also be given, including the Homecoming court and committees, Food Drive Awards and ICC Scholarship winners.

Special awards include administration of Justice Awards, Journalism Awards and Recreation Night winner Awards.

Members of the awards committee include Manuel Rincon, ASCC President; Alicia Parks, ASCC Vice President; and Kevin Maudlin, ASCC Chief Justice.

Also on the committee are Michael Hitz; commissioner of ICC; Lissette Ramos, Commissioner of Student Activities; and Abe Semaan, ASCC Court Justice; Terry Rincon, Student Senate; and Stephen Patten of Phi Rho Pi.

Other members are Rita Cudimat of Iota Phi Omicron, William Sheu from Chinese Culture Club, and two students-at-large, Augie Ceballos and Heidi Wiersma.

Masters of Ceremonies are Heidi Wiersma and Gina Santilli.

The awards presenters are Denise Trapp and Jim Greenly.

Tickets for recipients are free. Others are $10 for students and $15 for non-students.

McCarthy to speak Dec. 2

Lieutenant Governor of California, Leo McCarthy will speak at the Second Annual Multicultural Women's Career Conference, "Workforce 2000" on Saturday, Dec. 2, at 9 a.m.

The registration fee is $12 which includes a continental breakfast lunch.

The conference is a day of workshops and speakers focusing on women's career opportunities and financial strategies.

Child care will be available. A sack lunch must be provided for each child.

EDITORIAL

On showing 'leadership'

The annual Cerritos College Student Leadership Conference, which is just around the corner (Jan. 9-11), gives participants the opportunity to acquire leadership skills and perspective in an informal setting through workshops, seminars, activities, and other interactions with peers.

The organizers of the conference are to be commended for their efforts to weed out those who might be disruptive, by only accepting six students per club or organization to participate.

It's a high-powered program, with outstanding professionals featured in the sessions.

Students who attend should conduct themselves responsibly in both scheduled and "free-time" activities.

It's not a "great escape" time away from parents, work, and everyday responsibilities.

Irresponsible behavior, such as drinking, all-out partying, being late or missing sessions, and otherwise not taking full advantage of the unique opportunities and experiences shows a tacky lack of real college "class."

The behavior of some few individuals in the past has not been in the spirit and intent of the highly acclaimed conference.

This new, accountable approach should get to the root of any problems, while still allowing the growth and flourishing of students who mean business.

Simply, don't go if you don't expect to go with the whole show...

The De LABY LOBBY

If you plan to drop a class,
it's best you don't let it pass

Many of us have a date not to be remembered next week.

Drop date, that is.

Next Wednesday, Nov. 22, is the last day to drop a class.

It is the last chance for all of us overzealous, ambitious types, who started the semester with 20 some units, to avoid detrimenenting our precious GPA's.

There are even wanna be 4.0'ers who drop classes in fear of C's - even B's.

However, Mom, Dad, etc. are only going to believe that W is a new grading term - which stands for wonderful - for a short time before they realize somebody hasn't been going to class.

Many of us have stopped attending the class(es) in question months ago, but still insist on procrastinating until the last possible day.

Why is this?

I personally think of it as a kind of social gathering where I can stand in line with the friends I met during last year's drop date.

But somehow it doesn't seem worth the hour-plus wait.

Worse than waiting until the last minute, though, is not dropping at all.

Community Colleges practically baby us when it comes to dropping.

There is no reason to end with a D or an F when we have three quarters of the semester to decide if we want to keep the class.

University life, which is only around the corner for many, does not make dropping a class so easy.

Many colleges allow only two weeks to drop and then charge $10-15 to do so.

There also won't be any instructors to do the dropping for you, as do so many kind-hearted Cerritos faculty.

Take advantage of the cushions and hand-holding services offered at the Community College level.

But, they are there not to help anybody skate through college - just preparation for bigger challenges to come.

If you really need to drop...

LISA SUGIMOTO DEPARTURE STUNNER

Transfer director moves up to Dean — at LBCC

By ANGIE VILLANUEVA
TM Opinion Editor

Lisa Sugimoto is leaving. She's the vibrant coordinator of the Cerritos College Transfer Center who takes over as Dean of Counseling and Student Support Services at Long Beach City College, Nov. 20.

Their gain is definitely our loss. Her new job will oversee counseling, Disabled Student Services Programs Services, Financial Aid, EOPS, Psychology Services, Health Services, Multicultural Services and the Aero Space Center.

"I'm very aware and concerned about some of the issues they have there, and I hope that I will be able to help," said Sugimoto.

Officially her last day at Cerritos is Nov. 17.

No decisions have yet been made on her replacement.

The screening process for the LBCC job was described as "lengthy."

She applied in July, and was called in September for the first interview.

Since 1985 Sugimoto has held the position of Coordinator/Director of Transfer Center Programs. She assisted in writing the Transfer Center funding proposal, and directed and implemented the programs, after serving as counselor and articulation officer.

Prior to coming to Cerritos, Sugimoto was a counselor and specialist in the Career Planning and Placement Office at Pasadena City College for seven years, where she also taught business math and accounting.

Transfer Center peers hold her in the highest esteem both professionally and on a personal level.

Most find the extremely popular Sugimoto easy to work with. Her intelligence and dedication seem to be part of all conversations about her.

"I have mixed emotions. I'm very happy for Lisa, but I'm also really sad for us. I will miss her, but I also wish her the very best at LBCC," said Transfer Center Counselor Dawn Reid.

"We're very fortunate that she was here. She understands and identifies with her students well," said Reid.

Typist/Clerk Jo Condon who started working with Sugimoto in 1985 when the Center first opened, adds, "Students come back all the time and tell us how helpful she has been in helping them transfer to the university and that without her help they couldn't have done it."

"I'll definitely be around to visit. There's too many good people on this campus that I will miss terribly, because a lot of people have become good friends, not just colleagues," Sugimoto said.

Sugimoto and her husband, Doug Brantley, who is a senior analyst at Cerritos College, reside in Rosemead.

Football has good shot at greatness

By JEFF OCHOA

The guts of the Cerritos College football program is at stake Saturday.

A conference championship is on the line, as are several grid records.

The 6-3-1 Falcon gridders are only one win away from the Pony Bowl.

All they have to do is upend the 9-0 El Camino Warriors, who are the No. 1 ranked team in the state and No. 3 ranked team in the country.

They have a darn good shot at it.

Cerritos is playing their best ball of the season and can earn an automatic trip to a bowl game with a victory.

The team has already been invited to two, but a birth to a JC bowl is inevitable with a win at El Camino.

Quarterback Sean McConnell is just three touchdowns away from breaking the all-time record of touchdown passes in a season. He has 16 TD tosses so far.

He is also just 59 yards from breaking the record for yards passing in a season with 1624.

Sean has shattered the record for passes completed in a season with 139. And he has a game to play.

Against Mt. SAC Sean threw three touchdowns in a span of three minutes.

One of the tosses was to his favorite target Avery Moore.

Moore caught his ninth TD of the year and is just one grab away from the all-time record.

A win will be a marked improvement over last year's 1-10 season.

Canned Food Drive under way for needy families in local college area

By ANGIE VILLANUEVA
TM Opinion Editor

The annual ASCC food Drive begins Monday, Nov. 20.

"Last year the turnout was excellent; we got tremendous support from students and faculty," of Student Activities.

Food items collected will be said Phil Houseman, associate dean given to the Norwalk Social Services for distribution to the needy families in the Cerritos College area.

Coordinator Lissette Ramos, commissioner of student Activities, urges staff and faculty and all students, club oriented or not, to participate on the Drive.

Contributions will be received in the Student Activities Office through Dec. 15.

Clubs vying for Club of the Year need to have their donations turned in by Dec. 1.

The top first, second and third canned-food collector will each be awarded a plaque at the Fall Awards Banquet.

Math workshop adds up to help with figures

Does math subtract from your learning pleasure rather than add to it?

"A Math Without Fear Workshop" may equal relief.

Sue Parsons, presenter of the upcoming workshop is a Cerritos College math instructor, and has conducted math anxiety classes and workshops at CSU Long Beach and UC Irvine.

Sue's main goal is to make her participants feel confident about their math abilities. She achieves this by her approach to math that "takes the fear out and allows learning to progress."

The "Math Without Fear Workshop" is sponsored by the Cerritos College Re-Entry Resource Center and will be held in the Assessment Center, Tuesday, Dec. 5, 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Seating is limited and reservations are recommended.

The Photo Invitational to be held in the Fine Arts Gallery will give students a chance to display their best photos.

The Photography Faculty Division will select the most outstanding photographs.

An exhibition of both students and Faculty will be held Nov. 28 through Dec. 14.

Also to be on display in the Showcase Gallery is a solo exhibition of large scale black and white, figurative photos by Joyce Neimanas.

An opening reception is scheduled for Nov. 28, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 6 to 9 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Gridders back on track with 42-13 victory

For the fourth consecutive week, the Falcon football team won.

Their latest victim—the Mount San Antonio College Mounties, 42-13.

It was the Falcons sixth win of the season and third in the Mission Conference without a loss.

Cerritos, 6-3-1 on the year, plays at El Camino Saturday in what is pited the most important game of the season for both teams.

The Warriors are 9-0 on the season and ranked number one in the state and third in the nation.

Against Mt. SAC the Falcons displayed an offensive attack that had the Mounties in a rut, especially the remaining three minutes of the first half.

During that fateful three minutes the Falcons erased a 13-7 deficit and scored three touchdowns.

The first of the three touchdowns came on a 63-yard scoring pass from starting quarterback Sean McConnell to tight end Gary Stick.

The touchdown, one of two on the night for Stick, put the Falcons ahead 14-13 with just over three minutes to play in the first half.

Two minutes later, the Falcons scored again on a 30-yard touchdown strike from McConnell to wide receiver Avery Moore.

The Catch was Moore's ninth touchdown catch of the season, which ties him for the all-time record set by Bain Brick in 1969.

The third touchdown in the last three minutes came after D.J. Barker's squib kick was recovered by Cerritos on Mt. SAC's 30-yard line on the ensuing kickoff.

Four plays and 30 yards later, the Falcons were in the end zone again on a McConnell 6-yard TD strike to Stick. With Barker's PAT good, the Falcons led at half time 28-13.

"That was one of the most explosive outputs I have ever seen out of a Cerritos team," said Head Coach Frank Mazzotta. "The players are starting to respond to each other. They are really playing together right now."

After 24 minutes of scoreless football in the second half, the Falcons struck again when Tyrone Vickers scurried 20 yards for the touchdown with just under six minutes to play in the game. With the PAT good, the Falcons held a commanding lead, 35-13.

One and a half minutes later the Falcons were in the end zone again on a 16-yard TD pass from backup QB Pete Montero to freshman tight end David McCoy.

It was McCoy's first touchdown in a Falcon uniform.

"I really like the way we are playing right now," said Mazzotta. "We are starting to peak one more time this year."

"We have gotten over a lot of our early season injuries, and now that just about everyone is back, we are becoming the type of team we had in the early part of the year," he said.

Cerritos has shown dramatic changes from last years 1-10 showing.

They've been invited to two bowl games, but a win at El Camino will mean a championship in the Mission Conference.

FALCONS VISIT FULLERTON TOURNEY

Men's basketball starts with back to back wins

After winning the state title a year ago the Falcon men's basketball team has set themselves up to be vulnerable for losses and mistakes.

So far this young season, Cerritos has come out on top in their two outings, defeating Grossmont, 84-74 and Palomar 81-57.

The Falcons open play at the Fullerton Tournament today with a game Saddleback.

Against Palomar on Friday, the Falcons, mainly an offense oriented team, was praised by Head Coach Jack Bogdanovich for their defense.

"We did as good a job defensively as I have ever seen from a Cerritos team," said Bogdanovich. "It was a total defensive effort against a team that played pretty good."

"But you couldn't tell by looking at the score," he said.

Against Palomar the Falcons were led by sophomore center Scott Roczey, who was seven out of 10 from the field and scored 21 points, while sophomore Wayne Gipson scored 15 and Clay Schwartz, who red-shirted last year because of injury tallied 12 points.

Against Grossmont, sophomore forward Mike Coffin scored 18 points and recorded eight steals, while Roczey led all scorers with 19 points and nine rebounds. Gipson added 14 points, five rebounds and four assists.

"I think we have the type of team that can expect contributions from all 14 players," said Bogdanovich.

Lady hoopsters open LBCC tourney play

The women's basketball team opened the new season with a 77-53 victory over San Diego Mesa.

Cerritos will face L.A. Pierce College tonight at 6 p.m. in the Long Beach City tournament.

Sophomore forward Rachel Daugherty recorded 16 points and four assists to lead the Falcons.

Every member of the 13-player team scored. Guard Lisa Pounds had 10, Patrice Hall put in eight points, and four others contributed six.

Although the team is relatively short they pulled down 41 boards, 25 of which were offensive.

On the night, Hall grabbed six boards, Daugherty, Pam Crampton, and Terrell Anderson captured three.

The scrappy Falcon defense showed their quickness and hustle by recording 20 steals and six blocked shots.

"I was very pleased with our execution on the offensive boards.

Spikers enter regional play; injured players to return

Despite losing their last two conference matches, the lady spikers are in the regional playoffs.

Yesterday, the Falcons played Mount San Antonio College with results not available at press time.

Cerritos will open playoff action Tuesday against a team yet to be announced.

Injuries have contributed to the two conference losses for Cerritos

We executed our half court offense well, but it was only the first game, and we have a long way to go," said Co-coach Karen Peterson.

against El Camino, and last week at Pasadena (11-15, 15-6, 11-15, 9-15).

"Teresa (Velazquez) and Jennifer (Kretschmar) played outstanding," said Co-coach Jeanine Prindle. "We have to keep healthy and get our confidence up for the playoffs."

Freshman sensation Tammi Johnson (ankle) and Melissa Lynch (flu) did not play against Pasadena, but should be ready for the playoffs.
