

Ax may cut one 6-week summer session

BY ANGEL GILBERT
TM Managing Editor

In a surprise announcement, the Board of Trustees is apparently seriously considering having only one six week summer school session as compared to the regular two sessions.

"We don't need two six week sessions; maybe one six week session will satisfy the faculty's need to teach and bring the transfer-prepared students to the campus," Vice President of Instruction Robert Silverman recently told the Faculty Senate.

Some of the options discussed included eliminating the second 15 week session.

These suggestions came out most plainly by Trustees in the last meeting.

Cutting classes, environmental awareness, and illegal repeaters have topped meeting agendas in the Faculty Senate meeting.

He made an appearance last week to discuss some of the Board's proposals for action, and what to do over the "growing" CAP problem.

Silverman soothed harried faculty members by promising a "no meat ax "

EDITORIAL

Coffee shop asks for caffeine-free activity

"Stop!"
"Stop!"

Recently some students found out that the campus coffee shop is not the best place to spend their "horsing-around time."

Shrieking, yelling, and twirling classmates around in chairs is not generally considered a legit way to let off the steam of academic pressures.

One coffee shop worker finally had to yell, "stop, stop!"

Another addressed: "If you kids wanna play...go find another play room. The coffee shop is not the place for your games."

Only then did the rowdy actions cease.

The coffee shop doesn't necessarily demand a sacred silence...nor is it the overly energized "happening hang-out."

We do have the Student Activities Center for some of that.

The coffee shop is mostly a place to stop and get a quick bite between, before or even after class.

We are not saying the coffee shop is not a place to chat with friends or hold a civilized conversation, but we also don't condone raucous behavior.

The "dos and don'ts" of campus etiquette may be relative, but there's a place for most things—including a "sane" snacking environment...

Some things are just a little too hard to swallow, even in a big league college Coffee Shop.

"Stop!"

"Stop!"

"Go find another play room..."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR:

Upon reading the September 19th issue of Talon Marks, I was appalled by the blatant sexism involved in the article of the Lady Falcons volleyball team.

Dennis Pangilinan's use of innuendo was crude with his reference to the volleyball players and waitresses.

What was he communicating? That women belong in the kitchen?

I should think not. Yet, with references to "spicy appetizer," "team's tummy," "can't beat that kind of 'service'" and the truly degrading "...strapped on their aprons..." he makes light of these women's competitive nature by trivializing the fact that these are athletes, period, not girls, ladies or women with nothing more to do than play games.

I truly find it hard to not find anything in a men's article like "after adjusting his jockstrap, Joe Stud, with a macho look on his face, slammed the ball down defiantly."

I find this article to be very detrimental and hope not to peruse such journalistic irresponsibility in future issues of this campus newspaper again.

Sincerely,
Jerel Gall

P.S.

Editor's Note: This column will be featured on a regular basis as a public service. Readers are encouraged to submit questions which will be answered by Dr. Allan Boodnick, head of Psychological Services.

Q. How often can you drink without being an alcoholic?

A. It's like asking, "Can you be a little bit pregnant?" Your question sounds as if you are concerned and probably suspect that you are an alcoholic -- go with your instinct. Drinking with some regularity and excessively means being drug dependent. Being a "social drinker" is so vague as to be unreliable as a guide.

Q. I keep losing relationships I'm in. What's wrong with guys, anyway?

A. This is not an easy subject; everyone struggles with it. You didn't say if you or the guys end the relationships. In either case, look to yourself first; many people look for someone to make their lives whole—no one can live up to that!

Here are some beginning questions to ask yourself:

- What role model did I have at home? (The single most important factor.)

- Why is having a relationship important to me?

- What do I want out of it?

- What can I give to it?

What characteristics/traits are important, and why?

GOBEC GONE

31-year vet
Omohundro
new Chief

"I'm looking forward to being here a long time to improve the image and morale of the campus police," says new Campus Chief of Police Elmer A. Omohundro.

Omohundro officially started work on the 24th as the second chief of campus police in the department's history, the first being Mike Gobec.

He comes to Cerritos after recently retiring from a 31 year career with the Los Angeles County Sheriffs Department.

He learned of the job opening by chance while attending a golf tournament held by the L.A. County Sheriffs Department.

There he met previous Chief of Campus Police Mike Gobec who informed Omohundro of his upcoming retirement and encouraged him to apply for the position.

The campus police department is four years old and was created from the former security department that existed on campus.

Omohundro commended Gobec at his success in the transformation from security to an actual police department.

The campus police department currently has ten sworn officers and a number of part-time reserve officers, and provides 24 hour services on campus.

approach to the unfunded ADA (average daily attendance) and CAP situation.

In recent weeks, the CAP (set amount of students the state will pay for, no matter how many pass) has garnered a lot of attention, and with good reason.

Enrollment was up this fall semester and all indications seem to point to no relief in sight.

With no funding from the state for as many as 5% of the students attending here, the Board and faculty are looking for ways to trim the budget without sacrificing the quality of education.

"What we need to come up with together—with the deans and everyone else—is some plan as proof that we are trying to reduce this doubling of the ADA each year," stated Silverman when asked how Cerritos College hopes to solve the situation.

While Cerritos is keeping company with other schools in trying to resolve the situation, Silverman assured faculty members that "we are in good shape and we just want to hold the line for three years."

"It's a real tough question on how to manage the schedule, so that we meet our needs and fiscal responsibility while providing every student with a quality education," Silverman added when Senators expressed concern that the two options the Board was considering did indeed seem like a meat ax approach.

Steve Navarro Interim head of new Health and Wellness office

BY CHARLIE WALDORF
TM Associate Editor

A program featuring a variety of health activities opens Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 10 a.m. in the Student Center Patio with the first installment of the special Monthly Outreach Programs.

Under the direction of new Health and Wellness Coordinator Steve Navarro, the initial event will offer free blood pressure testing, cholesterol screening, and other health related information to those attending the event.

One of the big issues on Navarro's agenda is improving the emergency first aid response on campus.

Navarro, who will be working with the campus police, will carry a beeper to help him react quicker to campus accidents.

A Health Fair for the spring semester is another way Navarro hopes to bring health services to the students.

Other goals of Navarro's include:

Actively participating in the Student Assistance Team program.

Assisting the Substance Abuse Committee with their programs and service.

Providing the Disabled students with support and aid.

Developing a newsletter for students and staff.

Re-establishing contacts with Local Community Health Agencies.

Monthly reports will be made on student Health Services for long-range planning and a final comprehensive report will be submitted by April of 1991.

Navarro, who replaces retired Nurse Shirley Jankowski, has taught Health Education for the past 12 years and he's also been a former football athletic trainer.

He has a Masters Degree with specializations in sports medicine and human performance.

Since the core of last year's team are gone, coaches Jeff Smith and Steve Glassey had to do some intensive recruiting.

The intensity paid off, big time. The new squad consists of high school state runner-up Lemans Wells, Junior National place winner Mike Brom and Alabama state champion Willie Bingham. 52-0 rout marks gridder's' return

What makes a coach very happy is when the offense, defense and special teams perform up to their capabilities.

This is what happened Saturday as the Cerritos Falcons routed San Diego City 52-0 improving their record to 3-1.

The defense, which hasn't allowed a touchdown in the last six quarters, held the Knights to 24 yards in the air leading the charge.

The Falcons face another team from San Diego, the 0-4 Olympians of San Diego Mesa Saturday, in San Diego at 7 p.m.

BY DAVID MEDINA
TM Sports Editor

An interception by linebacker Art Giovannini started the dismantling giving the Falcons the ball in excellent field position.

The drive was culminated by a Carwin Pinkney scamper of 13 yards giving Cerritos the early 7-0 edge.

Pinkney, who would later score another touchdown, rushed for 116 yards in 18 carries.

"I thought our team played with a lot of character," said coach Frank Mazzotta.

"The players could have started talking, but they didn't, we just played our game. We are starting to mature as a team."

The Falcons scored again late in the first quarter when Peter Montera, quarterback, connected with Reggie Kennedy for a 14 yard touchdown pass.

Two more Falcon touchdowns put the game away early in the second quarter.

A 42-yard field goal by D.J. Barker closed the door at halftime 31-0.

The first play of the second half, special teams kick-off returner Travis Carter returned the opening kickoff 82 yards, resulting in an insurmountable lead of 38-0.

They would later score a couple of touchdowns in the half to make the score 52-0.

Exceptional play on the defensive side of the ball included, three fumble recoveries, holding the Knights to 10 first downs and a measly 216 total yards.

"We did some nice things on defense. Guys that haven't had much playing time got an opportunity to show their talent tonight," replied Mazzotta.

Cross country eyes Irvine

The Falcons placed 12th out of 20 teams on the men's side while the women placed last out of 10 teams during the Bakerville Invitational last week.

The team is now preparing for the Irvine Invitational, scheduled for Friday at 2 p.m.

The men were headed by David Zavala, who ran a time of 21:15, 124th overall. Others include Fernando Chavez 22:28, 63rd; Chris Bilek 23:27, 91st; Eric Wilson 24:24, 111th; Mike Brown 24:26, 113th; Art Rodriguez 24:53, 120th; Fred Santos 24:58, 121st; and Danny Cuellar 25:44, 137th.

The women were led by Maria Roman who placed 17th with a time of 20:31. Following her were Leticia Flores 22:00, Natalie Ramirez 25:04, Janny Molina 25:08, and Alicia Orozco 26:38.

Versatile lady spikers show tenacity despite offensive injuries

Injuries can either make or, eh, break a team.

Despite several player injuries, the Lady Falcon volleyball team has managed to stay on top and bandage a 4-2 overall record this week.

During the Rancho Santiago tourney, co-team captain Nadene Valkoff suffered a jaw injury after diving for a ball and Rayna Vanderlip received head injuries after slipping in the locker room.

Both are part of the team's top offensive servers.

"Freshman Jennifer Lehner has come in to play the middle back position for Nadene and has done a real good job. Last weekend we've changed our line-up around and had a different offensive attack using our new setter Cindy Paulson. She's just come off a back injury and she's doing fine."

"We've become really balanced offensively, Teresa's (Velazquez) still our leading hitter but there are others. Diane Dang and Renee Bailey have become powerful offensive weapons for us," commented co-coach Jeanine Prindle.

Tonight, in their annual alumni game, the ladies will compete with former team members as far back as 1978 at 7:30 p.m.

Then they're back in another tourney this Friday and Saturday when Cerritos defends their championship title at the College of the Sequoias.

"We're kind of sore and beat-up but I think everyone's okay and ready to go," responded Prindle.

Saturday's elimination round of the College of Sequoias tournament features 35 teams, some of which are from Northern California.

Next week, the Falcons will begin conference play against East L.A. College and heavily rivaled Pasadena.

"Pasadena beat us two games in pre-season pool play, but neither of us have the team we have now. They're missing a player and we have a different line-up. They'll be at the tournament (Sequoias) and they'll be in our bracket. We'll see what happens."

Using true championship performance and versatility, the Falcons were able to amass a combined pool play record of 15-1 in tourneys at Rancho Santiago and San Diego Mesa. They finished in both finals, during the elimination round, with tough losses to DeAnza and Eastern Arizona.

Highlights of the San Diego Mesa tourney included a two week old, revenge-fulfilled loss to defending State Champions Grossmont. Cerritos, seeded number one, defeated the Griffins 15-11 and 15-8 to enter the finals.

Outnumbered, Soccer loses

The soccer team is seeing red.

Three soccer players were given red cards ejecting them from the 1-0 defeat at the hands of Mount San Antonio College last Friday.

Cerritos goes after their first South Coast Conference victory this Friday versus conference champ El Camino. Face-off is here at 3 p.m.

Results were unavailable from yesterday's SCC game against East L.A. at press time.

Twenty minutes into the game, the lone goal came on a kick that bounced over the head of Falcon goalie Mario Munoz and into the empty net.

"Let the players play the game, don't prevent them from playing a certain way. The referee called too many ticky-tac fouls and didn't let us play our game," said Nieto.

Although the kickers were overmatched in the second half 11-8, Nieto feels the players played their best offensively and defensively this season.

"We have to play with more discipline, we can't incite the refs. The red cards we got were because we retaliated against the other team after they fouled us, which cost us the ball."

In the SCC opener against Long Beach City, the Falcons gave up the game-winning goal in the final minutes, resulting in the 3-2 setback.

"IF YOU NEED TO WORK TO GET THROUGH SCHOOL, YOU NEED TO SEE UPS."

"I need two things to get through school: good grades and money. I can take care of the first all by myself, and UPS is helping me take care of the second. They gave me a part-time job that really pays."

"I make almost $10,000 a year for working about 4 hours a day, 5 days a week. But get this, UPS has student loans that let me borrow up to $25,000 a year for college. Compare that anywhere else. I also get my choice of schedules — mornings, afternoons or nights. My work hours fit around my class hours. Most students work in Operations. But you might get something in Accounting, Industrial Engineering, I.S. or Customer Service."
