TALON MARKS

In these dynamic times of changing cultural, ethnic, and social demographics, let our perspective be diversity without isolation and fragmentation...unity with mutual tolerance and sensitivity...appreciation of multi-cultural backgrounds...commitment to the greater good while respecting each individual's rights...that we might endure a free press and a viable education agenda for all who would "gladly learn."

The First Amendment Student Newspaper of Record of Cerritos College committed to the calling that if the campus newspaper doesn't watch out for the students, who will?

Campus gets two new presidents Nabulsi for students; Gaskin for college

THE WINNERS — Aladdin Nabulsi, third from right, and Daisy Mae Uy Kimpang are surrounded by supporters as results come in for their runaway win as new student body President and VP. They defeated Enrique Aranda and Valerie Bryant 923-261. Swearing in was before the ASCC Senate yesterday.

Closely guarded choice revealed Tuesday night; ASCC 923-261 runaway

By Jimmy Baro
TM Editor in Chief

Friday, students Aladdin Nabulsi and Daisy Mae Uy Kimpang garnered the headlines when they both were voted the new Associated Student Body President/Vice President for next year.

Tuesday, in a surprising announcement, the Board of Trustees made what observers are calling a huge stride toward stability of the college, when 47 year old Dr. Fred Gaskin was introduced as the new campus President.

Gaskin, a former Executive Vice President of Ivy Tech College in Indiana will replace interim Walter Magnuson.

"I'm here for the students. I'm honored to be president of Cerritos College," stated Gaskin.

"All I ask is commitment from everyone, it's not a one man job."

Nabulsi and Kimpang said, "We will continue to fight increases in student fees, as well as improve campus safety."

Gaskin will start his four-year reign in July.

Durant blasts Board, resigns

Seven-year veteran Mark Durant resigned from the Board of Trustees Tuesday after refusing to be "a party to the demise of this institution."

Durant charged that "if you're not going to act, you're doomed to suffer the consequences."

The Board is expected to appoint a fill-in until the September election.

Faculty has 'urgent' meet Thursday

"Items of a...urgent nature" will be discussed at tomorrow's general faculty meeting Thursday, April 29 called by the Faculty Senate and the Faculty Association at 11 a.m. in the Burnight Center.

Topics of discussion will include the community college budget, salary concerns, the interim accreditation report, and the Presidential selection process.

The previous general faculty meeting relating to "curriculum reform," has been cancelled.

Under the gun from Governor Pete Wilson's proposed budget that would affect 107 junior colleges in the state, the fate of Cerritos College's own fiscal budget of $45 million is under consideration as to where cutbacks would be made.

The week that was no crime...

A car was stolen from Lot C-1 on Monday.

However, last week produced no reported thefts, assaults, break-ins, or other law enforcement activities, according to official campus records.

A TICKET WRITER COMPUTER was stolen from a campus police car Monday. Officers would like to have it back. Speculation is that the takers probably figured it to be a portable phone or something. It's of no value as is.

School's about out, but harsh reality still stalks the real world...

We see the light at the end of the tunnel. A couple weeks of regular classes, a week of finals, and the regular school year is over until fall.

It is time for some decisions.

Should we take summer classes or work? Should we take a vacation or should we just stay close to home and save the money, in case the fees go ballistic next semester.

Oh yeah, right about now is when you make the yearly promise not to wait until the night before to study for your finals.

When any season comes to an end, man tends to reflect on what has passed.

This year has left us much to reflect upon.

There was Wacko Waco and the burned up kids. Whose fault did they say that was?

We had the Rodney King case and the aftermath of riots to jar our complacency. Months later, we contemplated the possibility of riots yet again, when the federal case went into deliberation. How we learned to savor the peace in that short span of time.

Voters, in a runaway campus student body election, accentuated the positive....

We saw 18-21 year-olds vote in substantial numbers, really for the first time since obtaining the right to vote.

Clinton has somebody to blame for the first big round he lost....

Young people perceived an end to the days of steady and automatic improvement in the standard of living their parents enjoyed and which they expected to inherit.

MTV, the cable network which is the popular font for the rock music culture, was substantially responsible for getting this college-age group registered and voting. The younger generation got involved and became a real political force.

The economy is in trouble. There are no guarantees for the good life. We either get serious or get left behind.

Isn't it interesting. As fear of being left in the dust drives us into action, we feel less afraid and less disenfranchised.

We have faced the reality that the world does not owe us a living.

The world was here first.

Upon reflection, we know that it's time to either bite the bullet or

Women's weakly wares centerfolded causes small check-out consternation

Some may think I'm foolish, but I've always had the urge to peek in a women's magazine.

Call it gender curiosity or simple perversion, but the urge is there and it's as strong of a force as cheating on your diet.

Every time I'm by the magazine rack at my local supermarket, I've noticed that there seems to be many more interesting topics featured on the front covers of Cosmopolitan, Seventeen, and Sassy magazines than GQ, Muscle and Fitness, and Car and Driver.

I just know that if I happened to pick one up, though, I'll get one of those stares reserved for dirty old men browsing through Penthouse.

Like the revel without a pause that I am, though, I decidedly crossed the line yesterday.

Around midnight, I strolled towards the magazine rack and picked up a copy of Young Miss.

Biding my time until the three's a crowd signs were out, I ventured to a lone cashier and quietly paid him.

In the following three hours, my eyes feasted on sacred information that went beyond pumping iron, draining oil pans, and sensitive shaving cream ads.

I learned how to brush my lips with a toothbrush to prevent unwanted chaffing, how to cure body odor by bathing in tomato juice, and how to prepare Chicken Cacciatore.

To my chagrin, I actually found myself enjoying the topics covered in the magazine.

Everything I read about was as practical as learning how to charge your battery when it runs low.

After a while, I realized how such a social stigma as buying an opposite gender's magazine could in fact leave us wide open to ignorance.

But still...I think I'll wait on buying another mag until all the three's a crowd lights go off.

Cerritos College Retired Faculty Association meets April 29 in the Student Center at 11 a.m.

The Cerritos College Retired Faculty Association's (CCRFA) Spring luncheon and meeting is set for tomorrow at the Student Center Stage.

The meeting is scheduled for 11 a.m., with a luncheon following.

College President Walter Magnuson and Senate President Richard McGrath will address the association.

The CCRFA is organized to provide benefits and services to the Emeritus Faculty of Cerritos College and to handle relations between retirees and the college.

According to CCRFA President and Senate Representative Sherell Moses the association is presently working towards acquiring dental and vision care for retirees and medicare coverage for future retirees.

Horticulturist happy here

"Cerritos College is a great place to work," said Steven Dugas. "The people I work with are like a family."

Dugas, Lead Gardener/Groundskeeper, was the College's Employee of the Month last February.

"My first reaction was that of surprise and then excitement," he recalls. "It was nice to be recognized, and to have my name on the electronic board out front."

Born and raised in La Mirada, he attended Cal Poly and married his college sweetheart.

He received his AA in Horticulture, and then worked at the Irvine Company until he came to Cerritos College in '78.

Dugas lives with his wife Sheryl, daughters Christie 10, and Michelle 6, and two Shepherds.

Because of his expert assistance, outstanding knowledge, and his possession of a state license in the field, Dugas has been instrumental in developing and implementing a pesticide safety training program for the grounds department personnel.

Peter Caimi, Director of Operations, a friend and co-worker said "Steve is a hard worker, a very conscientious and competent man and well deserving of the award."

When asked if he would do anything different if he could, Dugas said "I would have stayed in College for the two more years it would have taken to get my BA. I think College is very important."

'Forever Young' film shows tonight in campus theater

"Forever Young," a wonderful film about love and life and a death situation is coming to Cerritos College tonight, April 29 at 7 and 9 p.m. in the Burnight Theatre.

Admission is free with your current CCID card.

In 1939, Daniel (Mel Gibson) an Air Force test pilot decides to scare his commander and friends by claiming he is going to crash the airplane.

But at the last second, Daniel pulls out of his stunt and lands the plane without a scratch.

Later he informs his girlfriend Helen (Isabel Glasser) about his friend the inventor (George Wendt) who is working on a secret experiment for the government on freezing people.

She didn't believe him.

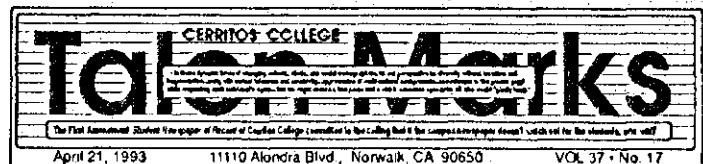

Daniel receives word that Helen was hit by a pick-up truck while crossing the street and isn't expected to live.

He then volunteers to be frozen for at least a year.

Later two boys, while snooping around an abandoned military warehouse, stumble upon the frozen chambers.

Daniel awakens. It is 50 years later.

Controversial call ends softball season for Falcon women's team

By Ben Villa

TM Associate/Sports Editor

"We got robbed," said Falcon shortstop Patty Powers after losing 3-2 to El Camino in Women's Softball in the season final on Tuesday.

The game ended in controversy as Cerritos had the bases loaded in the seventh, trailing El Camino 3-2. With two outs, up stepped Pitcher Brandy Romo who hit a shot at the shortstop. The ball took a strange bounce and went into center field, allowing what the Cerritos coaches and players thought was the tying and go ahead runs. As the Falcon players were celebrating the umpire ruled that Powers interfered with the shortstop's chances of getting the ball by getting in front of her, and Powers was ruled out and the game was over.

With two outs, the runners automatically take off on anything that's hit and it was a judgement call by the umpire.

"We couldn't believe it," said Assistant Coach Mark Lopez. "When the runners crossed the plate everybody was jumping up and down and suddenly the umpire starts waving his arms and calls Patty out. We all stood there in shock. Suddenly the game was over. Patty was nowhere near the shortstop."

Cerritos ends its season at 4-11 in conference and 12-21 overall. That record is misleading because of the many injuries Cerritos has had to deal with this year.

Over the weekend Cerritos hosted the Falcon Invitational Tournament at the Cerritos Sport's Complex.

The Tournament included Antelope Valley, E.L.A.C., Chaffey, USC, Rio Hondo, Fullerton, College of the Desert, and Cerritos.

Cerritos went 1-2 in the Tournament with losses to College of the Desert and Chaffey while they picked up their win against Rio Hondo on Saturday.

Highlights of the Tournament were Home runs by Stephanie Ourique and Brandy Romo. Also Romo threw a one hit shutout against Rio Hondo.

Antelope Valley went on to win the Tournament with a 4-3 decision over Fullerton in the Championship game.

Baseball trying for regionals

If you wanted to see good pitching and slick fielding, you'd probably left after the national anthem as the Cerritos baseball team lost a slug fest 15-10 to Mt. SAC at Tuesday's ballgame.

The loss drops the Falcons to 7-8-1 in the SCC and 15-17-2 on the season.

The setback drops Cerritos one and a half games behind Mt. SAC for third place. If Cerritos wants to qualify for the Southern California Regionals, they must finish in third place in the SCC.

Men's tennis ready for playoffs

The Cerritos Men's Tennis team continued to excel in what has already been a prosperous season.

The men came in second in the OJAI Tournament with College of the Desert coming in first.

They will now get ready for the SCC Championships, April 29-May 1.

Kim Tae reached the quarterfinals as did both doubles team of Tae/Min Song and Nikko Martelli/Eduardo Torres.

The Women's team was also in OJAI this weekend, but didn't fair as well as the men.

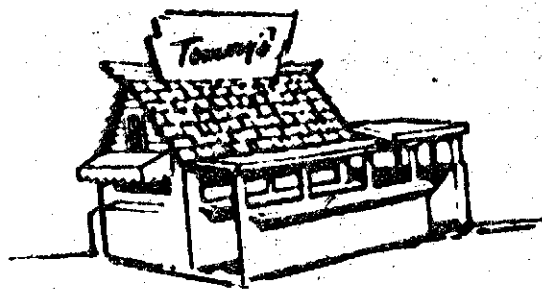

The Women went 4-4 in the Tournament and have a 11-2 record overall.

They, too, will now get ready for the SCC Championships at Cerritos, April 29-May 1.

At OJAI, Denise Wilson made it to the third round before losing to Fresno. Mirjam Van De Kar lost in the second round to Orange Coast.

The doubles team of Wendy Bryant/Rachel Borders lost in the second round to Allan Hancock College and the team of Van De Kar/Annabel Tajanlangit lost in the first round to Chaffey College.
