Haircuts and "E's"— So they sorta goofed, let's brush it off for a spell...

OK, so he paid $200 for a haircut.

It was his money, wasn't it?

He has the right to spend his hard-earned money however he wants.

Just like we do!

What's that you say, it cost us also?

Well yeah, there was the cost for keeping all the security standing by, the crew of the Air Force One waited patiently some other landings and take-offs were messed up, and other such trivial expenses.

But, he did pay for his own haircut.

Hey, he only kept two runways closed for an hour, and there probably was no danger in keeping several planes circling in an already overcrowded airspace.

Certainly all the passengers in those circling planes and their loved ones patiently awaiting them in the crowded terminals on the ground understood that the President urgently needed his hair cut right away—it just couldn't wait until he got back to Washington.

Besides, "everyone" knows that you just can't find a good barber—on excuse me—hair stylist in Washington like we have here in California.

What do you mean, why can't he get a $10 haircut like "we" do?

Let's be honest. Look at his hair—can't you see why his haircut is worth $190 more than "ours"?

Oh, so you think Mr President needs to get his priorities straight before he can get our economy straight?

We heard that the total costs of "Hair Force One" was more than the combined monthly salary for a two-parent working family in L.A..

But now let's be fair to our new President. He said he wasn't told of the inconveniences it was causing, and he really had no idea of all the related problems and expenses that were incurred while he was making himself presentable.

Of course, he's only a "Rhodes scholar" and the Commander in-Chief of the worlds most powerful and influential country, and shouldn't be expected to know about such things.

Come on, let it go. After all it was just a "little" error in judgement.

He is "one" of our country's most important leaders and we should respect him and not make fun of him because he is only human.

We can't hold it against him forever.

After all, it's not like he committed the "unpardonable sin."

You know, like spelling potato with an "e."

Let's hear it for the new Presidents — and let's give 'em a fighting chance

Ever since Watergate, presidents are suspect. We somehow expect them to be saints.

Why...even Ghandi was stubborn, Churchill smoked awful cigars, and they served wine you-know-where....

Being president is not an easy job, be it for the entire college, or for the student body.

Judgment calls are part of the game. And if we don't get the results we want, we tend to throw misc. fits.

Tough job. (What have you done for me lately?)
Cerritos College has two new men in office. Dr. Fred Gaskin was appointed by the Board of Trustees to take over the college helm for four years. Aladdin Nabulsi was elected by his student peers to head up the ASCC for one full school year.

Don't pre-judge them. Start with a clean state. Mr. Nabulsi has been around a few semesters. Dr. Gaskin has been around a few days — his seat will be the hottest for a while, what with the present "flux."

They deserve our support to make Cerritos College work on every level for everybody.

And...perhaps we should all remember that, after all, they are the Presidents, with headaches thereunto....

'Totally aware' newspaper staff mascot gives studied bird's-eye view of myriad noteworthy campus matters...

- TRAM SCAM We don't have to walk from our cars to class anymore! There's a new tram service, but not a lot of us know about it, or how to take advantage of it. Thanks for the thought, guys, but we could' all probably use the exercise. What we really need is a where and when and how! CB
- READING, RHYMING Yes, reading! Not feeding or meeting. School? Yes, school.
- Not the pool, you fool! —CR
 WHISTLE(S) STOP—Then it's either lunchtime for the construction men, or you're a woman who happened to be walking by the hard-hat site and was, shall we say, being "admired" for your feminine ways and wiles.

We don't mind the dust for the "new and improved" $5 million library which like the whistling's probably not gonna stop till November when the job is completed.

Whistling while you work is one thing.. —CB

• SUMMER STUDIERS — Summer School attendance is down this semester, but with five weeks to go one slightly wonders how many of us disturbed and disciplined scholars will still be here when the last roll sheet is turned in and left to languish....

• GRABBIN' GRUB — Craving a ham n' cheese sandwich or Falcon Burger? We're gonna have to wait till middle of August to bite into those juicy goodies and fries and such. The Coffee Shop will re-open in the fall semester. Meanwhile, there's the Elbow Room and all the nice shiny vending machines, or there's McDonald's and Chinese just around the corner...

- PARKING PAINS—The color of the sticker changes, but everything else stays the same. Each semester parking in the correct space, fighting for the nearest spot, and making sure the sticker is showing to avoid receiving a ticket... speaking of tickets, they can empty your wallet from $25 to $200-plus. ... not to mention the pay-out if you get zotted and towed from a local store's hallowed parking paradise. Let's face it, it's been so for 500 million years and this is probably as good as it's gonna get.
- GOLFING SCRAMBLERS I sure know now why they call it a "scramble" format at Frank Mazzotta and the football gang's annual Golden Helmet Golf tourney fundraiser with a flock of celebrities.

Following the group that teed off on Hole No. 1, I saw all six players start the "scrambles" all over not only their fairways, but a few others....

The so-called "hitting" order was exprexy Dr. Wilford Michael, new president Dr. Fred Gaskin, Talon Marks adviser Tom Nelson, assemblyman and former trustee Bob Epple, former trustee Lou Banas, and ex-Cerritos mayor Don Knabe.

Yep, "scramble" was what it was.... (Only way they'd let me follow them around was to promise I'd not laugh. Teehee... chuckle...haw haw...aaaiighhhh.!!)

• MR. PRESIDENT — Speaking of the new President, it's sure nice to have a CEO who has a four-year, no-cut contract.

Although there's some understandable skepticism and wait-and-see reservations, things're actually looking pretty good with the impressive impression laid-back Dr. G has made while waiting to take over the big desk duties come July 1.

As this cool dude said in a recent movie, "He's cool." OK, mates, let's just do it!

Gaskin stresses focus on students, calls for VP of Student Services

By Paula Feres TM Staff Writer

We are a college and the essence of college is diverse opinions," said newly elected Cerritos president Fred Gaskin. "If we all thought the same way this would-n't be a college."

With the reorganization of the college, the accreditation business, and budget crisis, Gaskin has some tough roads ahead.
"I think there is a difference between stepping on toes and providing an envi-ronment in which all can be heard and all can be respected," said Gaskin.

"I'm really very positive about the attitude of the Board of Trustees towards the college, about the desires they have towards this institution, and the directions they would like to see the institution go," said Gaskin.

It's my strong sense that the members of the Board have a firm desire to make the necessary adjustments to see that this situation is remedied quickly," said Gaskin about the concerns about the accreditation report.

On Monday, June 7, Gaskin and Interim President Walter Magnuson will leave for San Francisco to speak about the accreditation report. They will be accompanied by the Board of Trustees President and Vice President, John Moore and Rick Sanchez, respectively.

Gaskin has been asked to "come aboard" six weeks early as a consultant. He sees this as a positive measure. "I can take the necessary time to study and learn the organization," he said.

Now, he will be able to make suggestions to the Board and Magnuson without having the burden of the "responsibilities of day-to-day operations of the college" that the new president will face on July 1 as the Chief Executive Officer.

Gaskin's main concern is that the college take on a "team approach." He stressed that we—as a whole—teachers, employees, and students, are "transient" here. Once we leave, the well being of this community will still be based on the

The fact of the matter is that it can not be chaotic," said Gaskin. "There has to be a point in time where decisions are reached that move the college forward in a collegial and collective manner," said Gaskin.

"We need to get the college settled down," said Gaskin about the current state of flux.

Interim Vice President of Student Services will be the first post filled and once the details are worked out the position will be made permanent.

"I think it's a very important move. I'm not ready to move on the rest of the reorganization, but I'm convinced that VP of Student Services is an extremely important position," said Gaskin.

He has also requested pictures of students to be placed on the wall of his of-fice so that "we never forget why we are here," quoted Gaskin from an associate.

Find food fast at SS 'Elbow Room'

If you get hungry around Cerritos College this summer, following is a list of where and what,

The main source of food is the Campus Cuisine in the patio area of the Social Science building, formerly the North Elbow room. You will find a wide variety of goodies ranging from the usual candy bars, cookies, and chips to sandwiches, pizza, and the likes of Snapple.

Monday through Thursday, Frantone's pizza is served, along with salads and pizza subs,

Tuesday features Subway subs and you can choose from a variety of sand-

If you're not looking for anything too heavy, there are many different vending machines all over campus. The menu consists of your basic candy bars, cookies and other sweet tooth satisfiers.

Don't worry about quality and freshness-the machines are restocked daily, according to Allan Beaulieu, director of Campus Enterprises .

Snacks and both canned and bottled soft drinks are available in the bookstore.

New student body president Nabulsi busy getting 'meaningful' agenda ready for fall

By Ben Villa TM Managing Editor

He is hard at work on the responsibility before him,

There are 22,000 students and he represents every one of them.

Their needs, wants, complaints, and problems are all his to worry about.

Aladdin M. Nabulsi, newly elected ASCC President is that man. Nabulsi and Daisy Mae Uy Kimpang, his Vice President will now undergo the task of leading the Associate Student Body through what might be one of the most difficult years to date.

There s the budget crisis, problems with the Board of Trustees, a new school president phones, we're trying to work with Chief to work with, and a host of other problems that go along with the job—parking, lighting, tuition, etc, etc, etc.

He makes no promises of greatness, but he will do his best.

Nabulsi is working vigorously to get things ready for the Fall.

"Right now I'm working on my cabinet. We have a lot of applications and Daisy and I want to build a strong cabinet," he said. He's encouraging people to run for Senate, stressing that good representation is needed.

Applications will be out the first week of the Fall semester.

'We're working on trying to save money—for instance with the problem of paper towels. The school spends $30,000 a year on towels alone, so were trying to work on it so we could save the school some money," said Nabulsi.

"Also, I'm working on more emergency Omohundro (Chief of Campus Police). Hopefully we'll see them in buildings this Summer and Fall."

Some of the things Nabulsi would like to see is a Vice President of Student Services, one who could work well with students and give them good representation.

One of Nabulsi's bigger projects might be fighting the budget proposal which could raise the cost of tuition anywhere from 11 to $30 a unit "I think it's going to be between $15 and $20. I think that because the last time the budget was raised it was originally set for $20 a unit, but it was raised to $10.

"I think the reason they do that, is by proposing to make it higher, people will complain, fight and argue, and Governor Wilson will say he's compromising by only lowering it to $10 or $15.

The reason for the increase is because of our deficit. It's one of the worst. I just wish if they cut something, it shouldn't be on education. If they want young Americans educated, don't cut down education," Nabulsi Nabulsi is currently planning a trip to the state capitol in Sacramento in July.

Down in the Caribbean, it's not a paradise you're seein'

• EDITOR'S NOTE — TM staff writer Adrienne Fakhre recently returned after a month in the fabled Caribbean...where she says all is not exactly paradise....

Mention paradise to most people and chances are that the Caribbean will flash through their minds.

Sunshine, endless white beaches, crystal clear water at a soothing bathtub temperature, romance, fun, parties, new friends, real-life fairytale setting, relaxation, care free, no worries — another person in another world — no limitations.

Sounds real familiar doesn't it?

Everyone wishes that their fantasies would turn into reality. And many people believe the Caribbean is the place to go to get as close to that wish as they cán. No storybook endings... there's always the islands where people dream of retiring to... the next best thing. The Caribbean heaven and peace (of mind) on earth.

Some of us believe it.

The Virgin Islands, Antillies, French West Indies, Jamaica, Cuba, Puerto Rico, Grenada, Barbados, Trinidad and Tobago. All and/or any of these islands give you the promise of your fantasies and more, much more than the travel brochures and tour guides tell you about They let you find out for yourself what else your paradise has to offer...no warnings...no signs...no hints...no nada.

Paradise has some rough edges, too. Some say the paradise god didn't file and sand down the jagged corners because 'The Big Guy" has a utopia...you get the idea. Only some of us say this and believe it anyway. The paradise god never did etch in stone that our paradise on Earth is perfect.

If ever a chance to visit these fun, envied islands is presented to you, go!

The point is to go prepared.

Things you'll need to prepare for include:

1. depending on the island, native tongue is a trouble area.

2. food items you've never even seen in the encyclopedia are of the most

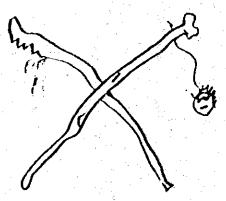

3. sun rays and heat. You say you never burn. Wait until you visit.

4. if you are a typical tourist there are a few recommended things you do before reaching your chosen isle.

5. money. Self explanatory, but easy to overlook, so there are a few pointers in this area.

6. creepy crawlies, not too big a deal.

7. and the most Taboo area—VOO-DOO.

8. and last, but surely not least, never go to paradise alone.

Unless you like feeling miserable and down in the dumps—like you are the only person in the world—that not even one single soul knows your first name, no if, ands or buts about the 'go it alone plan.'

True, these things can ruin your mood until forever, but with a few minor preparations you'll forget all about why you almost returned the plane tickets with no refund.

Perfume. Take out the bottle of Nordstroms, your new scent is regular or pine long-lasting OFF insect repetlent spray. Not even a chance of maybe using it—the heat will have you sweating so bad it will rinse the stuff from. Nordstroms right off your body. Leave it at home or put $130 in the toilet right now.

Food. Unless you are just so cool and got it like that, and your middle, first, or last name is Mikey, be ready to eat toast and jam for the majority of your stay.

Many don't risk trying these foreign food items with no directions to cook it or no description of the meal on the menu.

You might think you're going to die from starvation while you're there, but when you go back to the office a few pounds lighter and with a killer tan, you'll forget all about those hunger 'pains' you had.

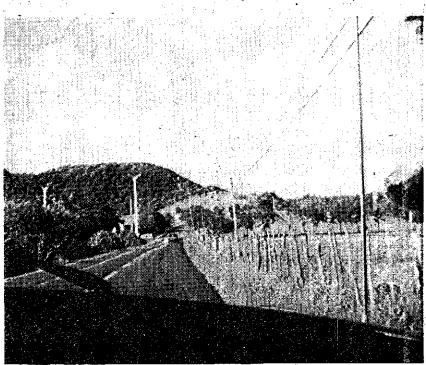

Money. Don't forget all your credit cards, preferably VISA and Mastercard, the only two words in the world that are the same in every language.

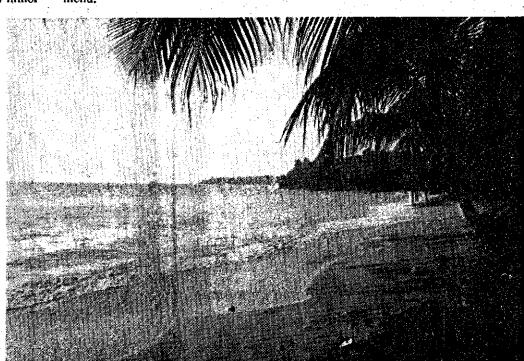

You'll need some big bucks.

ADRIENNE FAKHRE

A can of soda cost you $2-$4, a pack of gum (at a limited selection) $3, a roll of film $10-$15. So just imagine the T-shirt prices—and you since you already promised your entire neighborhood and Continued to Page 5

Faculty calls for any salary cut to be last hit in budget crunch

By CARRIE REDFOX Staff Writer

Let's do everything possible before cutting salaries.

That was the essential plea to the Board by the Chairperson of Faculty Salary Committee Wendell Hanks Tuesday night.

Before a packed room of faculty, Hanks outlined a number of proposals to cut coast by $1 million, the amount he said the Board had requested.

An across the board hiring freeze, faculty teaching an extra course per semester, and a cut back in release time were among the Committee's proposed actions.

Possible alternative financing was suggested by Hanks, which included a major swap meet project on campus.

Hanks called for "shared gover-nance" and "equitable sacrifice" involving all campus personnel ar-

Proposal copies which were distributed to the audience were also signed by Dr. Walter C. Magnuson, Interim President Superintendent, and Kenneth D. Lorenzen, Director of Personnel Services.

This proposal is expected to be on the next Board of Trustees agenda under action items.

Math Department hosts high school 'Field Day'; Downey, Warren win big Seventy students representing high schools from within the Cerritos College District competed at the Fifth Annual Cerritos College Math Field Day recently held on campus.

The competitions were divided into two paired and two individual competitors. Winners in the Dual Dig 1 were Dipak Brahmbatt and Sara Hood from Downey. Second place went to Lori Chan and Katie Foreman from Warren.

Dual Dig 2 winners were Hee Kim and Joseph Ou-Yang from Warren, Second place went to Nathan Hatch and Douglas Hendershot from Brethern Christian.

The Rapid Transit Competition first place went to Hee Kim of Warren and second place was gamered by Steve Berukoff of Downey.

Short Course competition saw both first and second places go to Douglas Hendershot and Nathan Hatch from Brethren Cristian.

The top two students from each school were also presented with an award.

Those tied for first were from Downey, Steve Berukoff, Sarah Hood and Dipak Brahmbhatt

Norwalk winners were Gabriel Borlean and Sophea Touch.

Pius X first place went to Ralph Varela and Pedro Cabrera.

Warren High first place takers were Hee Kim and Katie Foreman.

Second places from Artesia were Zen Chiu and Mike Heiberg; from Brethern Christian were Jack Lin, Douglas Hendershot and Nathan Hatch. - CYTHN: A ROBLES Venture in Paradise...

Continued from Page 4 everybody at the office a t-shirt, a credit card is a sure best friend.

A must is a base tan or #20 protection in sunscreen, fifteen minutes in the sun and sorry won't be good enough. Nothing will speak louder than those blisters if you don't protect yourself.

Don't forget the film. Especially those of you who have to snap shots of the hotel room from every angle. You can use more than a full roll on just the oom and its features.

Buy a useful pocket interpreter. If you can't talk to the islanders in their language, be prepared to buy something from them, and they'll speak any language you want.

VOODOO. One of the best tips is not to talk to people who only have one evebrow and a necklace made of ears or shrunken heads.

If you need directions back to your room, don't go to the group of four or five natives who have spears with hair at the ends and have that wild-eyed look—the creepier-than-creepy look.

Go to the guy ugly as a horse's backside and big as a sumu wrestler. VOODOOERS hang out together.

The next segment will remind you why you wanted to visit the Caribbean to begin with.

Viscot campus video ready for participants

Copies of Dr. David Viscott's video filmed on campus April 13 are being made available to participants.

The show will air nationally on Dr. Viscott's syndicated television program. Air time is yet to be announced.

Viscott expressed thanks to those who participated in the filming.

Dr. Todd Gaffaney of the psychology department and Annette Macias in the Community Education office helped to coordinate the on campus appearance.

Two Certificates added to list

Along with the AA Degree in a slate of disciplines, the college also offers Certificates of Achievement in a variety of professional fields, as can be noted in the recipient listings.

Officials emphasize that the coll- ege is committed to meeting the needs of the students, not only with a broad liberal arts education, but also with programs and credentials that better prepare students for the competitive job market place. For example, for the first time this year, new Certificates were awarded in both Journalism and Public Relations.
