Try for a Senate seat; elections set Sept. 7, 8

If you've ever thought about going into "politics," and would like to get involved and help "make a difference" on the Cerritos College campus, consider this:

Some 30 seats are up for grabs on the Student Senate in a big two-day voting on Sept. 7 and 8.

At least 10 spots are reserved for freshmen.

Petitions are available Monday, Aug. 15, at the Student Activities Office adjacent to the Bookstore on the east side of the main quad.

They must be turned in by Friday, Sept. 2 p.m. at 4 p.m. with 20 signatures of currently enrolled students.

ASCC president Jackie Barbera said there are several major issues on hand for this Fall's Senate to deal with.

She cited especially the newly approved food court, the expansion of volunteer opportunities for students, and active role in the shared governance process, and the continuation of input for the new Student Health Center project and services.

"Through the shared governance process," said Phil Houseman, Associate Dean of Student Activities, "the Senate makes recommendations to the College Council and the Board of Trustees regarding areas that are of a specific interest to the students."

To be a Senator, students must have a minimum of a 2.0 GPA (Grade Point Average) and be currently enrolled in 10 or more units. A failing grade in the previous semester will deem the student ineligible for candidacy.

Petitions for the ASCC Senate will be available Monday, Aug. 15, and must be turned in to the Student Activities Office, located next door to the Bookstore by Friday, Sept. 2 at 4 p.m.

Twenty signatures of currently enrolled students are required on the petitions.

One-third of the seats are required for freshmen. Said Houseman, "This is to insure that new students will have the opportunity to participate in student government."

Senate meetings will be held every Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in BK 111/112.

There are also other options in student government such as appointed positions in the ASCC President's Executive Cabinet, Student Court, and committees.

A resume list of student government experience, grade point average, and why the student would like the position is required, must be turned in to ASCC President Jackie Barbera.

Barbera will then consider and choose her cabinet members, court, and commissioners.

Said Barbera, "Al and myself would like to encourage as many students as possible, both freshmen and returning students, to drop by and talk to us about the unlimited number of opportunities for students, such as participation in Senate and other leadership development programs, that are available to all students."

Houseman also encourages students to be actively involved in student government.

Said Houseman, "Overall, I encourage students to participate and work with the current elected president and vice president, improving campus life for all students.... It's an excellent opportunity to develop leadership skills, represent fellow students, and promote academic excellence at Cerritos College." —By DEBRA ENGLAND

There's a lot beyond the classroom...Get involved From concerts to careers, Cerritos offers diversity

Beyond the formal classroom is a wide variety of co-curricular and instructionally related activities sponsored by the Associated Students of Cerritos College (ASCC) for students who want to further assure themselves of a well-rounded college experience.

Some of these participatory areas include forensics, student publications, radio station, plays, music, intramural sports, and of course, varsity athletics.

Special programs include concerts, films, assemblies, dances, and more.

Over 50 special interest, service, and social clubs and organizations provide ample opportunity for involvement and networking.

Especially active is the college honor society Alpha Gamma Sigma which meets at 11 a.m. each Thursday and offers academic recognition programs.

One of the outstanding Homecoming programs on any college level is staged each Fall, and a Spring Hoe Down Days rounds up a herd of authentic Western music, food, and festivities.

Careers and Job Information Days, Transfer Information Days, and other activities feature off-campus representatives.

Available is a comprehensive slate of counseling services, tutoring, reading, self-help and personal enhancement.

A broad spectrum of campus dynamics make for a stimulating and active environment for Cerritos students.

1st Day of 'School'

• Monday, Aug. 15, is the first day of classes this Fall. You can make changes and register late through the end of the first week, Aug. 20.

Welcome Day!

• An 11 a.m. concert will highlight the Aug. 18 "Welcome Day" which also features free food. A night session is Aug. 16 at 5:30.

Football kicks off

• A scrimmage here with Glendale Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. opens football action. Conference play begins by hosting Orange Coast Sept. 17.

Variety of clubs, organizations serve student interests

The campus clubs of Cerritos College can provide opportunities for you, if you are interested, in sharing extracurricular activities with students of similar interests.

There are a number of diverse clubs and events available for students.

Some clubs are based around academic interests. They may be scholastic, or focus on a particular field of interest, they are: Alpha Gamma Sigma (Honor Society), Anthropology Club, Art Club, Astronomy Club.

Beta Phi Gamma (Press Club), Cosmetology, Court Reporting Club, Dental Assisting, Dental Hygiene, Earth Science Club, Electronics Assoc., Floral Design Club, Future Teachers Club, KCEB Broadcasting, Lambda Alpha Epsilon (Law Enforcement).

Math Club, Mu Omega Alpha (Medical Assistance), Omega Eta (Horticulture), Phi Beta Data (Computers), Phi Beta Lambda (Business), Phi Rho Pi (Speech Team), Photography Club, Physical Therapist Assistant, Psi Beta (Psychology), SNAC (Nursing), Sociology Club, Theatre Arts Society, United Musicians of Cerritos College, and Woodworking Association.

Others allow students to see different points of view, but also insuring to promote their own.

These special interest organizations and clubs are — AHORA, Alcoholics Anonymous, Asian Indian Club, Big C (Pep Squad), Black Student Union, Cambodian Club.

Campus Crusade for Christ, Track Club, College Seals/Skin & Scuba Diving Club, EOPS, Filipino Club, GLBC, Indian Subcontinental.

International Christian Fellowship, KASA, KHMER, Korean Bible Study, Korean Club, LDSSA, Muslim Student Association, MEChA, Puente Club, United Students Association, Vietnamese Club, Water Polo Club.

In order to familiarize you with the plethora of campus clubs and organizations, booths will be set up in the Quad during Club Booth Days on September 1.

There are over 50 special interest, academic related, service, and social clubs and organizations to provide you with ample opportunity for involvement.

CHEERS — The Falcons have an award-winning pep and cheerleader squad as part of tradition of enthusiasm, support.

But if none of these organizations fit the bill, start a new one. Who knows? You may start something that other people are looking for.

Just stop by the Student activities office for a "Petition to start a new club."

Obtain 10 signatures of ASCC members with six units or more, then find a faculty member who is willing to be a club advisor and lastly obtain approval from the Inter-Club Council.

There are other special offerings throughout the year beyond the clubs and organizations.

Homecoming at Cerritos College is considered a guaranteed good time at any level.

Other activities include major film showings, concerts, noon assemblies, dances, forums, speakers, and much more.

There is a lot more to do than just study here. Go out and pique your interest, open-up your mind and see the world.

Well, at Cerritos College anyway.

Health and Wellness helps stay 'healthy'

Cerritos College not only provides education, it's also interested in helping students maintain a healthy state.

The Student Health and Wellness Center offers many services, including immunizations, lifestyle counseling, laboratory tests, and prescriptions.

The Center is located on the east side of the campus between the weight room and the P.E. office, near the swimming pool.

It is open Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m.-7:30 p.m., and Fridays from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

The Center is available to all students with a CCID card.

Disabled students get complete help focus

Enabling students is the goal of D.S.P.S. (Disabled Students Programs and Services).

Students with physical, speech, visual, hearing, and learning disabilities can receive assistance through the Resource Center located in BC41.

Some of the programs and services offered are the Resource Center, which provides in-class aides, disability management, textbooks on tape, and community agency resource information.

The Central Intake and Services (C.I.S.), located in the Santa Barbara Building, provides students with initial interviews, counseling, and referrals to determine eligibility for the various programs.

The High Tech Microcomputer Center offers microcomputers specifically adapted for the visually impaired and learning disabled.

Need a job? Thinking career? Like some re-entry info? Get 'assessed'

It's time to assess yourself.

The Assessment Center proposes services and programs for students to get into the classes they need.

Battery tests are used as an evaluation of the students' preparedness for the classes they want. Tests such as math, English, reading, writing and ESL are offered.

Counselors then go over the results of the battery tests and advise students of which classes they are most ready for.

• CAREER CENTER

The Career Center, located in the Assessment Center, offers the Eureka System, a computerized inventory for the students to research on their own possible occupations and what they include, such as outlook, pay, and the best suited four-year colleges and universities for their aimed career goals.

Career counselors are available to help students choose a particular career and gear them in the direction they need to get started.

• RE-ENTRY

The Re-Entry program is available to students 25 years or older who are re-entering college after an extended leave of absence, usually for three or more years in the college community.

The program, headed by former Re-Entry student Maureen May, offers opportunities for students such as counseling programs, enrollment assistance, financial aid information, and a variety of workshops aimed at helping re-entry students succeed in their return to college.

A local referral brochure is on hand for those students who need assistance services and programs including alcoholism and drug abuse programs, child care development programs, health care services, language services, emergency shelter and housing, and a variety of others.

• JOB PLACEMENT

The Job Placement Center, adjacent to the Assessment Center, gives students and graduates of Cerritos College the opportunity to find jobs while also attending school.

Services offered include workshops such as "Resume Writing," "Interview Skills," "Job Search Strategies," and "Labor Market Trends."

Jobs are posted daily on the bulletin board outside the job placement office and include full-time, part-time, temporary/summer jobs, on campus jobs, an internships.

To get started, students must fill out a Job Placement application and select at least two potential jobs at a time. The Job Placement Office will set up the student's interviewing appointment, and whether or not the student is hired, a notification of the results is required.

LRC new front to stacks

The Wilford Michael Learning Resource Center and Library (LRC) is more than just a traditional library.

It houses more than 60,000 books, 400 magazine subscriptions, and several newspapers. Older copies of magazines and newspapers are available on microfilm and microfiche.

An automated system which is expected to be in operation by summer of '95, but for now, the card catalog is still in use.

Several services are located in the LRC:

A Writing and English Skills Lab is available to students enrolled in either Developmental Writing or English as a Second Language.

The Computer Lab is equipped with mainframe terminals and personal computers which are available to students.

The Math Learning Center is available to students enrolled in elementary and intermediate algebra and trigonometry classes.

Audio visual services are available in the Instructional Media Services.

This department, primarily serving faculty and instructors, provides things such as videotape, overheads, projectors, and graphic arts productions.

The Independent Learning Center provides the opportunity for students to receive additional teacher instruction.

Typewriters are also available for student use in the LRC, along with a variety of related services.

For Fall the hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and on Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

No car, no bike...try the bus

From that brand new Vette and dilapidated Ford in the parking lot to Public Transportation, we all have to get to school somehow.

For those of us who are not lucky enough to have that Vette or even the Ford or to live close enough to walk or ride a bike, Public Transportation is the necessary answer.

You can get here from as far as the Valley to as close as Norwalk using MTA and/or one of the surrounding city buses.

MTA (Metropolitan Transportation Authority), formerly RTD, is the Los Angeles County bus system.

Fare for MTA is $1.10 base fare, $.25 for a transfer, and $25.00 for a student pass—applications for passes are available in the CC Admissions office.

The two MTA Buses that service the immediate streets of the College are line 270 on Studebaker Road—the last Northbound bus passes at 7:30 p.m. and Southbound at 8:59 p.m.—and line 128 on Alondra Blvd, with the last Westbound bus running at 7:22 and Eastbound at 7:30. Neither bus has service on weekends.

Connecting routes include line 462 on Pioneer Blvd, line 125 on Rosecrans Ave, line 130 on Artesia Blvd, and line 127 on Bellflower Blvd.

For MTA information on fares, times, how to get schedules, etc. call (800) 2LA-RIDE, (213) 626-4455, (310) 699-0954, or (818) 443-1307. For the Hearing Impaired call TTY (800) 252-9040.

There are also city buses that cover the College. They include the Norwalk Transit lines #1 (North/East) Rio Hondo, (South/West) Bellflower and #2 (East/North) Hoxie-Studebaker, (West/North) Studebaker-College.

Service begins at the Norwalk Square about 6:30 a.m. and runs approximately every half hour with service ending around 7 p.m.. The cost is $.60 base fare, $.05 for a transfer, and $.25 for an MTA transfer. Information is available by calling (310) 863-7077.

COW (Cerritos On Wheels) is the local Transit Van for the city of Cerritos. COW begins and ends at the City Hall and covers the Major stops in Cerritos, including the College. COW is just $.25 per trip and runs Monday through Friday 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.. The COW information line is (310) 427-5617.

Additional Transit Information numbers include: The Long Beach Transit (310) 591-2301, Bellflower "The Bus" (310) 804-4218, The Orange County Transportation Authority (714) 636-RIDE, and Cerritos Dial-A-Ride (310) 402-RIDE for senior and disabled residents.

There is a rack in the Library with an assortment of bus schedules for your convenience.

Remember that most buses stop servicing Cerritos College by 7:30 p.m. so if you must take a late class...plan ahead.

Be sure you read
the campus newspaper regularly...

The student weekly newspaper, the TALON MARKS, will keep you posted on the significant things happening around campus — and how they impact YOU.

Check it out — It's free.

If you or your group need some publicity, or know of anything newsworthy going on, come see us at AC 42.

Or, if you'd like to see about joining the staff — experience or no — it's where the action is.

College bookstore stocks lots

The College Bookstore has a variety of merchandise to satisfy a student's every need.

The store is located on the east side of the campus quad, adjacent to the Student Activities office, hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with extended hours starting August 15-26, Monday through Friday 7:30 a.m.-8 p.m..

If you are planning on making purchases using a check you will need a current Cerritos College ID, and a check guarantee card.

The store accepts Visa, Master Card, and Discover.

However, if cash is the method of payment, there is the ever so handy

ATM located near the Bookstore, by parking lot C-2.

The Bookstore policy in regards to refunds: a receipt is required for all refunds, each item must be in like new condition, with the exception for books purchased as used, and full refunds are given within the first 15 days of the semester.

However, books are not all the Bookstore has to offer. The store has everything, including greeting cards, art supplies, stationary, and even computer software.

KNOWLEDGE...KEY TO EDUCATION

We start learning inevitably, because we simply can't avoid it

You can't really avoid being educated to some degree. Man is a sensory animal. He continually absorbs knowledge via his senses. Very early in his life, his response to such knowledge gains him praise, affection, or other positive reinforcement.

A small child learns that knowledge buys acceptance and he wants more, so he learns more. Acceptance is proof of belonging. Belonging is heady stuff. It is a little like power, but better since it doesn't infer greed and selfishness.

Man, like other beasts, is territorial. He stakes a claim of where he belongs and defends it. He also expands it if he can. Knowledge stakes that claim and increased knowledge expands it.

In the beginning you smile in response to a tickle and get affection. You toilet train later and really feel you've measured up to a larger societal standard.

We start learning inevitably, because we can't avoid it. Our senses work in spite of us.

Later, we learn deliberately, to make life easier, to gain acceptance and a place in the greater fabric of society.

Finally, we choose to learn aggressively, because we think stasis in any process is bad and neutral is boring.

What joy there is to find a subject which fires our curiosity to know more. We suddenly look for books and magazines for more information.

Wonder of wonders! We meet one or two others in the library or bookstore who are interested in the same thing. Each of these other people suddenly has more credibility than anyone else we know. One of them mentions another topic, one not of general interest and we are led to investigate this new item, and later, others.

Like a pebble in a pool knowledge has a ripple effect. It causes ever widening circles in your life.

Knowledge expands, friendships expand, and interests expand. The direction your thoughts take changes as all these ripples widen.

You must educate yourself just to keep boredom at bay. Some of the beneficial side effects of education is the great joy of shared lore when you meet another person who knows what you know or cares about something you know.

You belong. There are at least two of you and the confidence of there being perhaps more.

Everything else we have can disappear. Knowledge and ideas are all we have to share.

If we can recognize that so much in life is fleeting, we can better appreciate education. It has a permanence that so much else we have lacks.

We can truly give it away and keep it at the same time unlike other treasures.

When we give it away, when we teach something to our children, or share knowledge with our friends, we add to our territory. We've imparted something of value and still increased the fabric of our own life.

In that capacity knowledge and education is like love. It only increases when you share it or give it away.

CDC open for student parents

Student parents.

If child care is a concern, check into the Child Development Center here at Cerritos College.

The Center is available for children two years, nine months through kindergarten age.

Enrollment is on a first-come, first-served basis.

An anti-bias, multi-cultural, and non-sexist curriculum is incorporated at the Center.

Subjects range from math and science to music and art and are presented in a non-structured form so the children learn self-discipline, positive direction, and independence through self-discovery.

A recent TB test, Immunization card, and Physical Exam record must be supplied at the time of enrollment.

An eight hour, per week, minimum is required and must be in four or eight hour time blocks.

The Center is open Monday through Friday 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and is located on campus at the north of parking lot C-8.

Know the parking rules or run risk of being cited...

You've survived registration, got your classes and were somehow able to live through the lines at the Bookstore.

Now you're ready for a true test of patience and endurance.

Try to find a good parking space during the first couple of weeks of a new semester. Tip: Arrive at least 20 minutes early.

Permits:

Permits must hang from the rear-view mirror, placed on the dashboard face up or on the outside of the sun visor so that it shows through the front windshield.

Daily permits are available for $1 using quarters only. They go face up on the dashboard.

Cosmetology patrons may obtain a special pink permit from the Cosme-tology Department.

The Parking Department suggests that you keep your old permit and just replace the sticker with each new semester.

Parking Stalls

Student parking stalls are clearly marked in white lines. (Head in only, due to the direction of incoming traffic). This is a ticketable offense.

The yellow stalls are staff parking, unless there is a sign posted.

The blue stalls are for the disabled. A student permit and disabled plate are required.

The green stalls are for visitor parking.

Metered parking is also available in certain parking lots.

Carpool stalls are also available to staff members; registration is required.

Motorcycles are to park in designated areas usually, located at the end of the rows and are clearly marked with horizontal stripes.

Penalties for parking violation:

Tickets are cited to students who park in a faculty stall, a no parking zone, or parking backwards will cost you $25.

A red curb ticket is $50 and parking in a handicap zone without a valid permit is $330.

Those who choose to park off campus lots, such as Luckys or Home Depot run the risk of being towed and facing fines of over $80 to get their cars back.

Dealing with the Ticket:

If you receive a ticket you can pay by check or money order to the parking service center in Torrance as indicated on the ticket.

There are three ways to contest a ticket.

The first step in the process is to fill out a review form. Here, a ticket may be dismissed for three reasons: 1) a mechanical, 2) an office, or 3) a department error.

The second step is a conference with campus parking officials.

If the ticket is not dismissed here you can take the third and final step, by filing a claim at the Downey Municipal Court.

Other Campus Police Help:

The campus police also offers various services, such as non-key entry (not including electric locks) and escort services.

The Lost and Found Department is also handled by the Campus Police Office and their direct telephone line is 924-3618.

Transfer Center open for questions

The Transfer Center in the Administration Building offers programs designed to assist students in preparing for transferring.

They assist with information linking students with campuses of the University of California, the California State Universities, and Independent as well as out-of-state colleges and universities.

There are free tours to other campuses and transportation is provided.

The Transfer Center hosts a College Fair in the Fall semester where representatives from many colleges come to Cerritos with literature and answer questions representative of their respective colleges.

There is also a mini-fair in the Spring semester.

The Counselor/Transfer Center Coordinator is Kathleen Shepherd who works closely with students to answer any questions and find out what they might be lacking or needing in order to transfer to the school of their choice.

A common problem the trained clerks at the Transfer Center face is students waiting too long to find out what they need to know to go to the particular school of their choice and waiting till the last minute to start the transfer process.

For tours, workshops, college fairs, and upcoming events see the monthly calendar located at the Transfer Center.

Counseling hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 8-4:30 p.m. on Friday. Staff are available to help you by appointment at (310) 860-2451, Ext. 2154.

SEVERAL SPORTS EXPECTED TO SHINE

It's Fall — and football is in the air

The college's dynamic glidders kick off the fall football season Sept. 9, at 7 p.m., in a scrimmage here with Glendale. The official conference opener is Saturday, Sept. 17, with always-tough Orange Coast College.

Coach Frank Mazzotta's squad is fresh from a post season bowl game, and things are looking even more promising than last year's strong showing.

Football wasn't the only team making headlines and racking up victories last season.

Fact is, the wrestling team, under Coach Jeff Smith, pinned down the state title in impressive fashion.

In addition to winning state and conference titles, the team's top 10 wrestlers advanced to the state finals.

Also again advancing to the state finals was the defending champion volleyball squad which was spiked in their bid for a second consecutive crown.

Both men's and women's basketball produced a lot of hoopla.

Not every team wins a championship every year, but they try — keeping Cerritos's reputation alive as one of the very strongest all-around athletic powers in the state.

Other teams to look out for include soccer, tennis, softball, and track.
